Lions, U-Bars Lead League In First Half

In the Major League in Little League Baseball, at midway in the current season, the Lions won the first half at 7-0. Second was the Savers with a 5-2, followed by the Lazbuddie Longhorns at 4-3 and the Cardinals tied with the K-Bars at 3-4. Veterans had a season record of 1-5 in the first half and the Mustangs ended the first half at 1-6.

Sammy Gonzales, president of the Muleshoe Little League, reported that the Cardinals and Veterans will have one make-up game that was cancelled in bad weather.

Minor League Little League Baseball has also reached the mid-point in this season with the K-Bars winning the first half at 7-0. For second place, the Lazbuddie Shorthorns and Fireballs are tied at 5-2 each and the Lazbuddie Lions and Dollar Bills are tied for third at 4-3. Sluggers have a first half record of 2-5; Gingers, 1-6 and Bears, 0-7.

Gonzales said the season will end on July 7, with no games scheduled from July 1 through 5th due to the holidays at that time.

ROADWORK CONTINUES--With a major paving project underway in different portions of Muleshoe, work continues. This week, caliche is being leveled on a street at the east edge of Muleshoe. The roadgrader is blading the piles of caliche into the street where it will be packed, oiled and surfaced. This street meets Highway 84 from the Country Club Addition in East Muleshoe.

Feeding Symptoms Sound Bug Alert

One of the best ways to protect your vegetables from insect injury is to recognize symptoms of early feeding, says Spencer Tanksley, Bailey County Extension Agent.

The tender, succulent leaves of young vegetable plants are very attractive to insects, Tanksley said. Insect feeding on seedlings and transplants can severely stunt early growth.

"Recognition of early signs of such feeding will help the gardener determine what insects to look for and once the insect is identified, to take prompt and correct control measures," the Extension agent added.

Tanksley noted that some insects, either through coloration or size, can hide from the keenest eye. "The tomato hornworm, for example, may chew one or two leaves from a tomato plant before it is noticed," he said. Left undetected, it can consume half a young plant overnight.

Another example is thrips, which are difficult to see without a magnifying glass. Early feeding by thrips is usually signaled by stunting and distortion of new leaves emerging from the center of the plant. Early detection and control of thrips is vital to assure optimum growth and productivity of the plant.

The ability to diagnose feeding patterns of various vegetable insects is important, especially to new gardeners who may not have learned to identify the various insects that will feed on their vegetables, the county agent said. Being able to identify early damage provides clues as to what insects gardeners should be looking for.

When the stem of a newly emerged bean seedling or recently transplanted tomato has been cut off about on half to one inch above the ground, the gardener knows that a cutworm is lurking in the soil near the base of the plant. Cutworms are chewing insects which hide in the soil near the surface.

Small pinholes in the leaves of young seedlings are usually caused by beetles, added Tanksley. Fleabeetles chew small holes in radish foliage and the leaves of newly transplanted tomatoes, peppers and eggplants. If allowed to go uncontrolled, they can severely sap the strength of these young plants by destroying the leaf area. The imported cabbageworm, the cabbage looper and other worms signal their activity by chewing small to large single holes in the outer leaves of cabbage, broccoli and other related crops.

Senior Babe Ruth Widens Win Record

With a victory over Sudan, Sunday, the Muleshoe Number Two Senior Babe Ruth Baseball team widened their season record to 5-4. They defeated Sudan 18-7 playing at Sudan.

Winning pitcher for Muleshoe was Perez and Sudan's losing pitcher was Edgar, home runs were logged by Sanchez, who had two, and one each for Ware and Perez. Perez had one hit; Garcia, two hits; Agundis and Henry each three hits and Madrid, one hit.

On June 9, Muleshoe's Number Two team defeated Littlefield 4-2 with the winning pitcher throwing a no-hit game. Hits were recorded by Garcia, Parker, Vandiver and Sanchez.

The previous day, Sudan fell to Muleshoe in Muleshoe by a score of 4-0. Perez, Garcia, Parker, and Sanchez all had hits with the winning pitcher throwing a one hit game.

Perez was the pitcher when the team lost to Dimmitt on June 4 at 7-4. Playing in Dimmitt, hits were recorded by Perez, Silguero, Garcia, Henry and Ontiveroz.

Another loss marred the record of the Muleshoe Senior Babe Ruth team on May 30, when they fell to Friona in action in Muleshoe, 10-0. Sanchez and Parker had hits and Perez was the losing pitcher.

Muleshoe won against Anton in action in Muleshoe on May 28. The score was 11-9 with hits by Vandiver, Parker, Sanchez, Ontiveroz, Silguero, Perez and Ware.

Olton fell before the Muleshoe Number Two Team on May 23 by 10-2 in action in Muleshoe. Perez was the winning pitcher and recording hits were Sanchez, Ontiveroz, Henry, Perez, White and Villa.

He said it is advisable to initiate control measures when this injury is first seen. These worms will move toward the center growth of the developing cabbage head where they will be protected from insecticides by the cupped head leaves.

Abnormal dwarfing of tomato plants and stunting of the terminal growth, accompanied by curling of leaves and purple coloration of leaf veins indicate the presence of curly top virus disease. This virus is transmitted to young tomato plants by a leafhopper.

It is always a good idea in this area to plant more tomatoes than are needed so that the few that are lost early from virus will not wipe out the entire production, Tanksley concluded. He advised that insecticide controls for this leafhopper which transmit viruses are not usually effective because the leafhopper injects the virus into the plants before they are killed by the insecticide.

Commissioners Discuss New Civic Center

A major part of the Monday meeting of the Bailey County Commissioners Court was centered around a discussion with Frank Donahue, architect, on the status of the construction of the new Civic Center.

Although Donahue expressed the opinion that it would be perfectly alright to have the formal dedication of the Civic Center in conjunction with July 4th activities, he did not think the building would be ready for use at that time.

The architect outlined several areas of deficiencies and corrections to be made and suggested that safeguards be placed at the building in event the dedication ceremonies are conducted.

Also meeting with commissioners was a representative from Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA), who gave the present status of the program in this county. Several local persons in the schools, and especially the county government, are working under the act.

Dwain Johnston with Lien Sanitizing Co., Lubbock, met with commissioners to ask them to continue the present sanitizing of the courthouse and law enforcement center bathroom facilities. Commissioners elected to conclude the contract and use the present janitress to clean and sanitize the rooms.

They also paid bills during the day.

Board Accepts 5 Resignations

During a regular monthly meeting Monday night, the Muleshoe Independent District School Board accepted five resignations. Resigning were: Mrs. Sue Beene, special education teacher, junior high. She has accepted a diagnostician position at Friona in the Parmer County Special Education Co-op; Mrs. Lily Goodin, English teacher, high school; Mrs. Frances Kirkland, secretary, junior high and Mrs. Suzanne Murphy, fifth grade teacher, Mary DeShazo Elementary, all to move to Hereford with their husbands. Also resigning is Joe Brock, teacher and assistant coach, high school, to go into private business at Portales.

One vacant position was filled. Mrs. LaNelle Skaggs, special education teacher, junior high. She is an honor graduate of Muleshoe High School and earned her B.A. degree at Wayland Baptist College with fields in English and Spanish. Mrs. Skaggs completed certification in Special Education with West Texas State University and has nine years teaching experience. She has taught special education at Lazbuddie I.S.D. last year.

In other action, board members reviewed the summer maintenance projects which include re-finishing the gym and cafeteria floors; cleaning and waxing of classroom floors and corridors; floors in all schools; and general repair and cleaning of buildings and grounds at the schools.

Although board members reviewed and discussed the tentative estimated budget for 1978-79, no action was taken until more definite information could be received on state and federal programs.

Audit Shows City Records In Good Shape

According to a report given by Creston Faver of Williams, Adair, Faver, Sudduth and Co. to the Muleshoe City Council Tuesday morning, the city finances are in good, sound shape at this time.

He said the city assets are presently at $4,004,003 and said the city is now 'big business'.

"Muleshoe is in excellent current condition," he reported to the city council.

Faver also called attention to a 'Certificate of Compliance' awarded by the Municipal Finance Officers Association attesting to the excellent financial report for the city in the past year.

No major difficulties were encountered in city operations, added the accountant. Council members also approved a resolution suspending the operation of proposed rate schedules filed by Southwestern Public Service Company for a period of 120 days beyond the date on which the schedules were to go into effect.

Claude A. (Buddy) Black, who has resigned as Chief of Police, effective June 17, was presented a plaque for his service to Muleshoe and the City Police since 1970.

In presenting the plaque, Mayor Ken Henry said he appreciated the good relations between the citizens and the police department during the time he was chief and the retiring chief reciprocated by expressing his appreciation to the city and to the citizens of Muleshoe.

City Manager Dave Marr said four applications have been received from persons seeking a position as Chief of Police, including three from within the present police department and one from a Littlefield law enforcement officer. He added that no decision will be reached for up to 30 days as to who the new chief will be.

While in high school, he has participated in FFA and is currently an Area 1 Vice President. He also was selected to attend the National Institute of Cooperative Education in 1977.

Kirk, who plans to major in animal science at Texas A&M University, was one of 50 recipients of Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo scholarships presented at the State 4-H Roundup.

The Show, which will also present 50 four-year, $6,000 scholarships to FFA members during their state convention in July, this year became the largest donor of agricultural scholarships in the United States. During the coming school year, the show will have 245 students, representing a commitment of $1.24 million, on scholarships in Texas Colleges and Universities.

The winners, carefully selected from hundreds of applicants, are the best in the state from the standpoints of academics and leadership. The only requirements made of the students are that they major in some form of agriculture at a college or university within the confines of the state.

Up To 5,000 Acres Lost Monday Night

Weather unleashed a double-whammy against a narrow band in the Needmore community late Monday night. As dark clouds, with continual lightning and rolling thunder moved into the area and slammed into an area approximately two miles wide and approximately five miles long, delivering more than two inches of rain, accompanied by high wind and golf ball size hail.

Up to 5,000 acres may have been severely damaged enough to not be able to recover in an area from one mile south of Needmore to one mile north of Needmore and west of Needmore to Baileyboro.

Heavy washing of young cotton was noted on the Lester Howard farm a mile south and a mile north of Needmore. The more than two inches of rain caused crops to wash out, and high wind and hail inflicted more damage to the young cotton.

West of Needmore, on the Baileyboro road, more damage was found to the cotton, which included leaves beaten off the three to four inch cotton plants, along with heavy washing of the fields and wind damage.

North of Needmore, at one of Loyd Davenport's farms, other heavy damage was noted. Loyd Davenport's farm south and west of Needmore, roofers had removed all the shingles from the farmhouse Monday afternoon preceding the rain. More than two inches of rain flooded the interior of the house during the night, soaking the furniture and interior of the farmhouse. A lot of furniture in the home was considered to be a total loss in the storm.

Bailey County Agent Spencer Tanksley drove around the storm area Tuesday afternoon and said the biggest thing affecting the crops was that heavy rains washed the fields out. "Crops are in a critical situation due to the need to plow the land," said Tanksley. "The producers need to sandfill and really need some good, hot sunshine to put good leaves on that can hold."

The county agent noted that a lot of the area cotton is still affected by cotton blight, and said producers should try to get into the fields and try to plow to allow aeration to get to the crops.

On the brighter side, much of the area that received the heaviest rains Monday night was grassland, with the moisture proving to be highly beneficial to those areas, he added.

He added that it will take three to five days to be able to assess the damage in the Monday night storm and said that if as many as two good plants per foot are left standing, an average to better yield may be found at harvesttime. He said that one producer told him that on June 1, his moisture was very marginal as for planting cotton. However, during the first 12 days of the month, he has received six and a half inches of rain. Another area recording heavy rain during the first two weeks of the month is in the West Camp area where more than seven inches have

Farm Bureau Policy Meet Slated Tonight

Bailey County Farm Bureau plans a county-wide policy development meeting tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. in the Muleshoe High School cafeteria.

The meeting is scheduled to formulate local, state and national policies. Guest speakers at the meeting will be Bill Wedemeyer, director of Research and Education and Don Petty, associate director of Commodities, both of the state office.

All members of the Bailey County Farm Bureau have been urged to attend and speak at the meeting.

City Planning Group Named New Chairman

Curtis Walker was elected chairman of the newly formed City Planning Commission. His election was made during a meeting Monday night at the Muleshoe City Council Chambers.

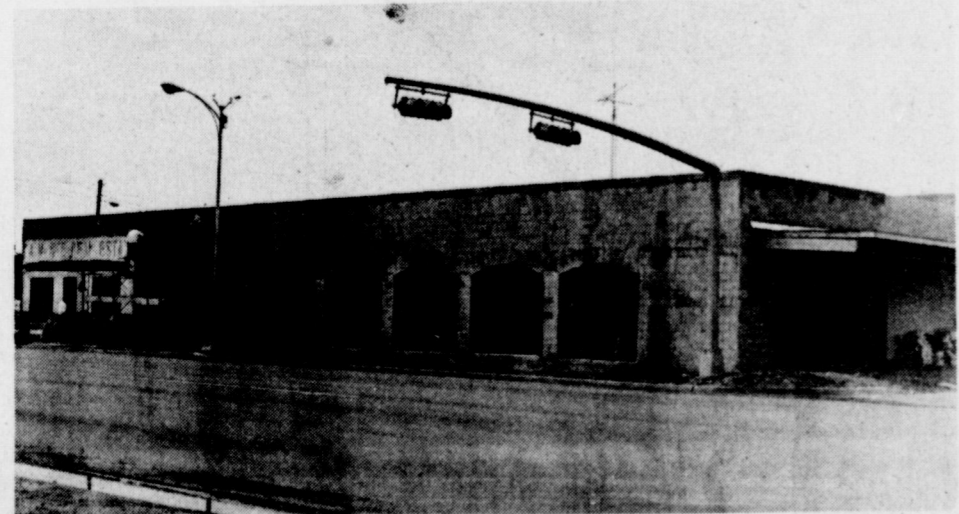

Commission members approved a draft regulating wrecking yards and junked cars, and discussed additional items to be added to a park grant application and a future ordinance regulating mobile home parks and locations.

Police Report

Three reports were made during the weekend concerning vandalism and theft in this area.

Erwin Nieman reported the vandalism of mailboxes in the Y-L area; George Vela and Lupe Rosales both reported stolen bicycles.

Three persons were jailed during the weekend. One for driving without a license and speeding; one for driving while intoxicated and one for driving while license expired.

GARDEN CENTER--Construction is well underway on a new garden center, being constructed by White's Stores at the north end of Main Street, immediately adjacent to the north of their present building. Completion is not expected on the new addition until sometime in August. Various yard and garden supplies will be incorporated into the new portion of the store.

STORM DAMAGES HOUSE--A mile south and just over a mile west of Needmore, roofers attempt to get a roof back onto a house on the Loyd Davenport farm. Prior to Monday night's more than two inches of rain, the shingles had been removed for a new roof. The inside of the house was inundated, damaging everything in the interior of the home.

Nursing Homes Ask Legislators For Eligibility

The Texas Nursing Home Association today called for introduction of federal legislation to tighten eligibility requirements for Supplemental Security Income recipients.

In letters to Senators John Tower and Lloyd Bentsen and the entire Texas Congressional Delegation, association president Sidney D. Rich said it appears that a person might "be able to liquidate resources in the morning and become financially eligible for SSI benefits in the afternoon." Rich said the program, as amended, is far better than its original form, but questioned whether the relaxed rules for eligibility may be a "loophole" created through inadvertent oversight.

"When those who could afford to pay for their own care fail to do so, the entire public health program is weakened," he explained. "Loopholes allowing such free rides should be eliminated."

Rich urged the introduction of legislation along the lines of the former State provision that persons would be ineligible for SSI if they had liquidated their assets within five years prior to application for SSI benefits. Supplemental Security Income is money paid to aged, blind, or disabled persons whose total income from all other sources falls below $209.40 per month.

Other matters of concern to the association specified by Rich to the lawmakers included: separating the state/federal formula for matching funds from the state median per capita income; eliminating a mandatory three day hospital stay prior to admitting a patient to a skilled nursing home; and removal of the restricting of provider contracts to the non-proprietary sector in the Home Health Care program.

Bentsen Urges Pest Control New Funding

Senator Lloyd Bentsen on Tuesday urged funding for research into a promising new approach to agriculture pest control.

Bentsen asked Senator William Proxmire, Chairman of the Appropriations Subcommittee on HUD and Independent Agencies, to include $5 million in the Environmental Protection Agency appropriation for development of an integrated pest management program for major crops.

"Texas A&M has been at the forefront of research into this new approach to pest control, which includes the development of pest resistant plants, biological control, cropping systems and the judicious use of chemical pesticides," Bentsen said.

"Using integrated pest management on short season cotton in the lower Rio Grande Valley, A&M found that insecticide use was reduced from 8 to 3 pounds of active ingredient per acre, while farmer profit was increased from $12 an acre to between $95 and $160 an acre."

"Because of these savings the use of an integrated pest management system has expanded rapidly among cotton growers. It is estimated that over 30 percent of all cotton is now produced using integrated pest management," Bentsen said.

Under the program backed by Bentsen 15 U.S. land grant universities, including Texas A&M, would investigate integrated pest management in four major crops: cotton, soybeans, apples and alfalfa.

The grant was not included in the current budget because it was received too late by the Environmental Protection Agency.

"The research and development to be carried out under this program is needed to further our understanding of this very promising concept," Bentsen said.

"It will expose a great number of farmers to integrated pest management and this, in turn, will lead to greater use of this economically and environmentally promising approach to controlling pests," Senator Bentsen said.

been received during the first two weeks of the month.

Producers are frustrated, added Tanksley, as many of them have been over their cotton four to six times in an effort to combat the more than usual rainfalls.

He said the rain and damage patterns are checkerboarded across the county, with one section or area receiving wash-out and damage, and the adjacent section only a mile away, receiving adequate moisture without any damage.

He said that some 50 percent of the current cotton crop has been replanted at sometime since planting started. More than 100,000 acres have been planted in cotton this year. One worry for producers is that trellis treated land will not be able to be planted to cotton in the very near future as it will be getting too late to produce a crop. The only alternatives will be beans or sunflowers.

At this time, said Tanksley, yield potential for cotton is dropping as the rains continue.

Corn is progressing well, he said, grain sorghum is doing good and producers are through the first 'nightmare' of alfalfa cutting, with the rain catching many acres in the fields, on the ground.

Muleshoe received .50 moisture in the Monday night storm, and in the Coyote Lake area, only a trace was received. Little moisture was recorded Monday night in the West Camp and Lariat areas, and none in the Lazbuddie area.

Around Bula, more than an inch was recorded and Pleasant Valley received up to an inch and a half.

More showers were predicted in the area at presstime Wednesday.

Youth Conservation Begins Program

Twenty area high school students are enrolled in a unique summer experience—the Youth Conservation Corps at the Muleshoe Wildlife Refuge. This is the second year for the non-residential camp.

The YCC program stresses the following objectives: 1. to provide gainful employment for 15-18 year old males and females from all social, economic, ethnic and racial classifications; 2. to accomplish needed conservation work on public lands; and

3. to develop an understanding and appreciation in participating youths of the nation's natural environment and heritage.

Acquiring varied work experience is considered important. Building cattle guards, stock tanks, culverts and fences, rip-rapping a dike, constructing a partition, cabins and blinds are some of the planned work projects.

The camp is not all work since environmental awareness is an integral part of YCC.

Catching and branding mourning doves, collecting insect specimens, conducting a small mammal survey, identifying plant life and studying basic ecological concepts form the basis of the environmental education program. Related field trips may be taken.

YCC enrollees from Muleshoe are Marlin Bynum, Joey Carpenter, Juan Duran and Mike Northcutt. From Three Way and Bula, enrollees are: Jackie Carlisle, Renee Cooley, Lisha Pierce and Daniel Rodriguez.

YCC members are Margaret Masten, of Morton, Camp Director; Eddie Benefield, of Morton, Environmental Awareness Instructor; and group leaders, Randy Crook, of Muleshoe; Wesley Hennigh, of Amherst, and Mack Lowe, of Sudan.

The YCC is operated under the Department of Interior, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The Muleshoe Refuge Manager, Allen Jones, is Project Manager.

RECIPE

By Sarah Ann Sheridan

Fresh vegetables perk up the appetite and there are many ways to serve them.

Onion Casserole

6-8 average size white onions
1 generous cup grated Velveeta cheese
1 c crushed potato chips few dots of butter

Peel and slice onions. Drop into pan of unsalted water and boil until fork tender, about 5 minutes; drain. In greased baking dish, place 1 layer of onions, sprinkle with 1/2 of the cheese and 1/2 of the potato chip crumbs. Dot with butter, sparingly. Use remaining ingredients in same order for second layer. Sprinkle with black pepper and paprika. Bake in 350 degree oven, 25-30 minutes. Very good served with ham.

Hint to swimmers: Don't try to show the crowd how far you can swim--you might not swim back.

Cattlemen To Meet In Austin

The Independent Cattlemen's Association of Texas will hold its fourth annual state convention in Austin June 22-June 25.

The headliners will be Texas Attorney General John Hill, U.S. Representative Bob Krueger, U.S. Senator John Tower and Texas A & M Livestock Marketing Specialist, Dr. Ernie Davis.

Hill, who will address concerns voiced by agriculture producers about the future of their industry in Texas, is scheduled to speak at 11 a.m. Friday, June 23, in the main ballroom of the Hilton Inn.

Tower, Republican member of the Senate since 1961 when he won a special election for Lyndon B. Johnson's seat, will speak at 11 a.m. Saturday, June 24. His Democratic challenger for the Senate, Krueger, will follow at 11:30 a.m., also in the main ballroom.

Davis, well-known throughout academic and agriculture circles, will give conventioners an update of current research now underway at the university. His session will begin at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, June 24.

Austin Mayor Carole McClellan will give the welcome address.

"Our purpose is to keep our membership and the public informed about the new advances in the livestock industry and government programs and legislation which may affect the daily lives of our producers," said T.A. Cunningham, ICA president. "Due to our agenda of top leaders from state and national government, we expect a capacity crowd at the Hilton."

4-Her's Clothing Workshop Begins

"Ready-Set-Go With Clothing" is the 4-H clothing workshop seven Lazbuddie 4-H members are busy with this month under the leadership of Mrs. Pete Jesko and Mrs. John McGehee. Workshop is being conducted in the Homemaking Room of the Lazbuddie School.

Before beginning to sew, Wendy Jarman, Maureen Jesko, Lisa McGehee, Vandi Tarter, Lezie Smith, Sue Collins and Frank Jesko scored themselves on appearance and clothing care habits and how they could improve.

With samples of fabric, Mrs. Jesko and Mrs. McGehee showed the group how to become familiar with fabrics that are solid, prints, plaids and stripes. They learned to distinguish between balanced and unbalanced stripes and even and uneven plaids and how these fabric designs effect the design of garments.

Colors make a difference in how they affect or reflect our mood and our appearance. Warm colors are red, yellows, oranges, red-violets, and yellow greens. Cool colors are blues, blue greens, greens and blue-violets. Neutral colors make you feel cool or warm, depending on how they are used. Neutral colors are black, white, gray, navyblue, brown, and beige.

Fabric grain and its effect on Clothing was shown. In fabric, grain is the direction yarns are woven or placed to form the fabric. Grainlines must be placed straight on the body for better fit, for more comfortable wear, to be a more attractive garment and to be more serviceable and longer lasting.

A tour of Muleshoe fabric shops and department stores was made to study labels of fabrics and their care. Vandi, Lezie, Wendy, Lisa, Maureen and Frank became aware of the importance of reading labels before buying clothing or fabrics. Labels should tell the consumer the fiber content of the fabric or garment and percentage of the fibers, the manufacturer's name or number, washing or dry cleaning care and shrinkage to expect. Care labels are available from the store when purchasing fabric. Be sure to sew the label into the garment to help you remember when you are caring for your home sewn clothing. Most of the labels were coded by numbers as to the care of the fabric.

Popover skirts are being made by the girls and jogging pants by the boys to apply their sewing skills being taught in the clothing workshop.

Following the completion of the workshop these 4-Hers will model their garments for judging in the Farmer County 4-H Dress Revue, Thursday, June 29 at 1:30 p.m. in the United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall in Farwell. A public viewing of the Dress Revue will be at 3 p.m. following the judging.

Best judged garments in the Junior I, Junior II and Senior Divisions will be judged and modeled in the District 2, 4-H Dress Revue in Lubbock, July 7.

The Yetter Tool Bar Rotary Hoe

New Load Of Red Hot Yetters Fresh Off The Press!

The Yetter 3400 Series Rotary Hoe is the most flexible, and one of the most versatile rotary hoes on the market today. If you're looking for a durable piece of equipment that can take the hard knocks of field use, then this is it. Yetter's Rotary hoe features arms made of high strength ductile iron. Each spoon-billed tooth is hardened, drop-forged, and self-sharpening. All bolts are zinc plated and hardened. Other features of this new Yetter Rotary Hoe include independently spring-cushioned arms. This feature permits the 3400 Series Rotary Hoe to follow the contour of any field and it insures rock protection. Yetter engineers built this hoe so there is only one wheel per arm, rather than two or more. They are riveted for durability and turn on sealed ball bearings. There are 16 rugged teeth per wheel.

Texas Tech Football History Book Ready

The first "real effort" to chronicle in book form the events and accomplishments of the Texas Tech football program will be completed in July of this year.

A 416-page volume, "The Red Raiders-The History of Texas Tech Football," written by Ralph L. Sellmeyer and James E. Davidson, will be released by Strode Publishers of Huntsville, Alabama.

Sellmeyer is a professor of journalism in Texas Tech's Mass Communications Department, and Davidson formerly was director of the National School Yearbook and Newspaper Association with offices in the Mass Communications Department. He now is director of student publications at Lake Highlands High School, Richardson.

"It is pleasing to know that someone has taken the time and effort needed to research and put on paper this colorful era," wrote former Sports Information Director Ralph Carpenter who is now at University of Miss.

"The authors have made every effort to provide an authentic account of the players, coaches and other athletic officials who have had a part in making Texas Tech a football power recognized throughout the nation. The book is filled with names and pictures of the greats of Texas Tech's football past and their opponents."

The history of the Texas Tech football team from the first game in the fall of 1925, the first year of the institution's operation, through the 1977 Tangerine Bowl game with Florida State University is included, Sellmeyer pointed out.

"There is some commentary about every game," he said, "and Texas Tech has played more than 500 games."

There are stories on all of Texas Tech's All-Americans and other outstanding individuals. The history is divided according to the eras of coaches, Pete Cawthon, Dell Morgan, Morley Jennings, DeWitt Weaver, J.T. King, Jim Carlen, Steve Sloan and finally the beginning of the era of J. Rex Dockery, present head coach.

Sellmeyer said more than 100 photos are included. The jacket features a color photo of All-American Donny Anderson, the famous number 44.

The authors also cover the long history of Dr. J. William Davis as chairman of the Athletic Committee and the development by Davis of the letter of intent, which has been adopted by the National Collegiate Athletic Association. There are statistics on players and teams from the beginning of the Matadors, later to become the Red Raiders.
