THE SAILOR'S DREAM. Our port we make, I jump ashore, For weeks to walk a watch no more, And home I push, and at the door I catch and kiss my Nancy;

How many a time by day, by night, I'd fancied this before my sight, All of us in this warm daylight; And it is real, my Nancy?

An Open Letter to Gen. Jas. W. Barnes. SIR.—Upon my return I find that you have been forged by the Coke organs of this city to come out in a letter sustaining Mr. Coke and denying the charges made in the Journal.

Such is the heading of an article in the Statesman of to-day, the 18th inst., in which the editor reiterates the statements made by J. W. Robertson in his speech before the Coke Hubbard club in relation to the State Lunatic Asylum.

Two little girls, aged 10 and 12 years, recently arrived at Green Wisconsin, having traveled all the way from Belgium, unaided and alone.

The Colorado farmers will hold a convention at Denver next week, the object of which will be to establish direct trade with the miners, thus excluding the middle men, who make a profit of fifty per cent.

A French gentleman who had heard rum called spirits, went into a hotel a few evenings ago, and for a glass of punch, requesting at the same time that it should be made with "ghosts from the West Indies."

EX SENATOR WM. A. RICHARDSON of Kentucky, has taken editorial charge of the Herald of that city. As "Old Dick," as his friends call him, is an original dyed-in-the-wool never-reconstructed Democrat, it may be imagined that he will make the Herald an oracle among the few Democrats who are left in the State.

General and Personal. Jeff Davis is looking "exceedingly wan." Hilarious crockery—"The cup that cheers." A slow match—Wedding, after a long courtship.

The late Lewis Gaylord Clark began life as a printer's devil. The present month has five Sundays and one day for thanksgiving. A Vallejo, California; boy, aged thirteen, weighs 218 pounds.

The diplomatic corps in Paris is well represented at the Bazarine trial. Disipated acquaintances should not be confined with fast friends. The profits of dealers in lard come to them in the shape of fat dividends.

The monument to Colonel E. Bissworth has been completed, and is now being set up, at Mechanicsville, N. Y. It is expected that the production of anthracite coal will this year reach 18,000,000 tons, or 750,000 more than last year.

The new City Council of Chicago is made up of seventeen Irishmen, nine Germans and fourteen Americans. What is the nationality of Chicago, anyhow?

It is a curious fact that deaf mutes are more numerous in mountainous regions than in low countries. The reason is thought to be because nature makes the mountains speak for them.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company sold, during the month of October, 1873, 19,331.33 acres of land, at an average price of $5.66 per acre, amounting to $109,740.66.

It is said that the hard times have had a depressing effect upon the fighters of Ploche, Nev., and the crack of the six-shooter is no longer heard. The coroner's health is gradually giving away under this depressing state of affairs, and his friends are becoming alarmed.

It is a significant fact in connection with life insurance that in 1873 more than fifteen times as many policies in life insurance companies were dropped by parties holding them, as expired by death or limitation.

A MAN at Princeton College believes in having "a place for everything and everything in its place." He nails his slippers on the wall, four feet up, and then all he has to do of an evening is to wheel up his easy chair in front of them.

ONE of the special results of the United States geological and geographical survey of the Territories during the past summer has been the discovery that Colorado Territory is the center of the greatest elevation of the Rocky Mountain chain.

THE number of congressmen who have died since the elections last fall is six, their names, politics and districts being as follows: Ambrose R. Wright, of the Eighth District of Georgia, who never took his seat; Samuel H. Peters, Republican, of the Fourth District of Louisiana; William Whiting, Republican, of the Third District of Massachusetts; Wilder D. Foster, Republican, of the Fifth District of Michigan; James Brooks, Democrat, of the Sixth District of New York; and Joseph G. Wilson, Republican, of Oregon.

An Ohio girl went to gather chestnuts the other day, and found herself "up a limb." She climbed so high that the hook and ladder men had to go out from town and rescue her. But wats a girl to do!—She can't throw and knock the nuts off.

After years of careful experiments, to meet a great and urgent demand, we now produce from our original Genuine Powders THE PREPARED, a liquid form of SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATORY, containing all its wonderful and valuable properties, and offering THE ONE DOLLAR BOTTLES.

JOHN DORRIN is a candidate before the PEOPLE of Bexar County, for the office of Sheriff, at the next election.

We are authorized to announce the name of LOUIS DUYAL as a candidate for the office of District Clerk at the next election.

TO THE VOTERS OF BEXAR CO. Having been solicited by a large number of voters, irrespective of party, I announce myself as a candidate for the office of Clerk of the District Court at the ensuing election, subject only to the will of the people, as the same may be expressed on the day of election at the ballot box. And accepted the position of Colonel in the army of the United States.—Herald.

Would it not be better in the cow counties to put "in the army of the so-called United States."

But when the war came on he raised his hand against the Lone Star.—Herald.

There is a great deal of moonshine in that.

Edmund J. Davis is a traitor to his State.—Herald.

So was Jack Hamilton, the Democratic candidate for Governor; but we hope Col. Dashiell's friends will persuade him to accept the situation until after the election.

He was a candidate for the Secession Convention, receiving only 9 votes.—Herald.

Which goes to show that he was not much of a traitor—to his country.

"ON TO CUBA," is the popular heading for newspaper articles on the shooting of upward a hundred filibusters. There is a great deal of unhealthy excitement on this question just now, and it is on the increase. There will be mass meetings, explosive speeches, the pictorials will abound with the details of the executions, there will be a great deal of loose talk,—and that will be the end of it.

We cannot help thinking the fact that Spain is considered to be a nation we could easily get the better of, has much to do with the cry for war that is going up all over the country.

We fail to perceive what good ground there is to complain of the action of the Spaniards, except perhaps that the executions were a little too prompt.

When Americans wage war with a country with which the United States is at peace, they must expect exactly what Ryan and his friends got. If they had lauded and succeeded in capturing a detachment of Spaniards, they would have shot them instantly. There is no doubt but that the government should demand that the lives and property of American citizens in Cuba shall be protected, and the Spanish government ought to be given distinctly to understand that the United States will take the matter in hand if they are not protected, but to plunge headlong into a war with Spain, without reflection, as many of our exchanges seem to wish, would be the height of folly.

It seems to us that the only question involved is, whether the Virginians at the time of her capture was within a marine league of Jamaica. If she was, then the quarrel belongs to England, and not the United States at all.

The following are the views of that great lawyer, Caleb Cushing on the question:

"Caleb Cushing, who at times is called in by the administration as counsel in diplomatic questions, expressed the opinion to-day that the present affair would blow over with our serious results.

He said no government ever yet went to war through the misconduct of subordinates, and that Spain would make satisfactory reparation for the conduct of the officials in Cuba.

The people of this country are running stark mad, because a few filibusters, who had forfeited their rights to the protection of the United States by their conduct, had been shot. It would be better for the country if other filibusters were served the same way.

A declaration of war now might be popular, but it did not follow that it would be either just or essential to vindicate our national honor.

Instead of trying to steal Cuba by countenancing filibustering expeditions, our government ought to act manly, if the island is wanted, and declare war and take it by force.

From all the information in his possession, Mr. Cushing said he did not believe our friendly relations with Spain would be severed by reason of the Virginian affair.

Kingley and Carlisle.

The historian of Frederick the Great and the author of "Hypatia" have many points of resemblance, but always with variation. They are cast in the same mould, but fashioned of different clays and animated by different spirits. Both are terribly in earnest, but Kingley's is the earnestness of a youthful vigor and a sanguine temper; Carlisle's is the profound cynicism of a bitter and gloomy spirit. He is, if not the saddest, assuredly the most saddening of writers—the very Apollo of Despair. Both seem penetrated to the very core of their nature with the sharpest sense of the wrongs and sufferings of humanity, but the one is thereby driven to preach a crusade of vengeance on their authors, the others a crusade of rescue and deliverance for their victims. Mr. Kingley's earnestness is a social philosopher and reformer develops itself mainly in the direction of action and sympathy; Mr. Carlisle's is a philosopher for the most part in a fierce contempt against folly and weakness, which is all unmeasured and sometimes unchristian. The earnestness of Carlisle, though savagely sincere, never transcends enough to detail or to knowledge to make him a practical reformer; that of Kingley is as restless as to allow him to repose, and sends him rushing into battles at every visible sign of abuse. The one has stirred thousands to bitterest discontent with existing evils and social wrongs, but scarcely erected a finger-post of supplied a motive; the other has roused numbers to buckle on their armor in a holy cause, but has often directed them astray, and has not always been careful either as to banner or watchword.

Telegraphic.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 16.—One yellow fever case yesterday. No new cases within the past four days.

MATAMOROS, Nov. 17.—The election of member of Congress for this district resulted in favor of Senor Valasco. His friends are celebrating the triumph to-day with a procession, music, fireworks and ringing of bells. Valasco has been the fast friend of Zona Libre. He was a member of the Mexican border commission, recently investigating the status of the frontier of Mexico for losses sustained on account of the depredations from Texas, and is an active opponent of Gen. Cortina. His reelection to Congress is therefore regarded by his party as of great importance to the frontier of Mexico.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—At the Navy Yard, for the past few days, some activity has been manifested. To-day 250 men were added to the force. The Junata is now ready for sea, and will anchor at the Battery to wait orders.

It is stated by an employee of the Navy Yard that work on the Spanish ironclad Arripedes was suspended this evening.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The President today, in conversation relative to Cuban matters, said the government had thus far acted on such facts as had reached it, and was now engaged in collecting from available sources, further information concerning the capture of the Virginians and the particulars attending the revolting execution which followed that event. It was desirable that all the information should be of such a character as would leave no doubt whatever as to its reliability. The policy of the centre was no evidence to require explanation, the government being careful in what it is doing and what it may hereafter do, and act upon facts and not upon unconfirmed reports. It was essential that we should be prepared to maintain our position. The President said he had changed none of the views expressed by him concerning the events of Cuba, but had more than ever been confirmed in them by the recent events.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—There is nothing new in official circles concerning the Virginians, no telegrams having been received from Havana by the Secretary of the State since those mentioned in yesterday evening's dispatches, and the telegrams from Gen. Sickles since that time merely acknowledge the receipts of the late instructions. The conference between Gen. Sickles and the Spanish Minister of Foreign Affairs will probably take place early this week, and the result will be promptly reported to Secretary Fish by cable.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The Postmaster General to-day issued an order reducing the registration fee on domestic letters and packages from fifteen cents to eight cents, commencing on the first of January next.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., November 16.—Joseph Farrady and friend, Chas. Dodge, to the theatre last night. They went out to take a drink between the acts, when Dodge became suddenly ill and died. Farrady seems to have thought he would be accused of poisoning his friend and blew his brains out.

BOSTON, Nov. 16.—The Franklin has been ordered to prepare for sea to-day.

NORFOLK, Nov. 16.—The United States steamer Worcester, flag ship of the North Atlantic Squadron, has dropped down from the navy yard to the naval anchorage, off Town Point. She will probably sail for Cuban waters early on Tuesday.

The cost of the Vienna Exposition has been 14,799,933 guilders, its income 2,686,056, leaving a deficit of 12,083,877 guilders, or some $5,000,000. Rather expensive for the great show, that was, after all, a complete failure. The managers of the National Centennial affair ought to study these figures.
