The present condition of security. or rather inscentity, of life and property in Texas is calculated to awaken apprehensions of the livliest character in the breast of every good citizen of the State. It is in possible to glauce over the columns of a lexas newspaper without notic ing the account of some dastardly murder or daring robbery, the like of which has seldom been heard ex cept during the darkest days of the history of Texas. That the courts of the country are powerless, in most instances, to enforce the law taching these to the plants by copis evident from the constant sugges tions and threats of a portion of the press to establish vigilance commit tees and lyach law,

Whether are we drifting? In some instances Judge Lynch has already been invoked, with the result of establishing an Italian ven dette among the people where such mob assassination has been perpetrated. The peace officers are literally obliged to keep their peace, it lik has any charms for them; ling with the barn, destroyed it. and the State, whose consitution guaranties to every citizen protec tion to life and property, has fallen into the hands of madmen, who give the people protection in words enly, while they entertain the most enimical sentiments to everything that savors of police. But perchance, they have their good reasane for this.

As long as the grand jury system is kept up, and as long as there is an element in this state that exerts great influence, in spite of its opposition to the law, just so long this state of things will continue.

This system is an exploded relic of the times of the middle ages, that in this state at least seems, as a general thing, to be gotten up and run in the special interest of the greatest rascals in the community. The best proof of this is that there are more unhung murderers in the state than in any other country, admitted to be civilized, that we know of.

This state of affairs will, ex necesitate rei, continue to grow worse as long as the Democracy continues in power. Freie Presse.

That blessed City Charter,

As we understand it, an act making valid the new City Charter, the one passed by the 13th Legislature, passed the Senate the other day and would have become the law of the land had it not been vetord by Gov. Coke.

The history of San Antonio and its charter would be the most valuable contribution to the comic literature of the day since Mark

Twain's "Innocents Abroad." Who does not remember the indiguation meetings that followed the adoption of the former charter ! It was laid to the charge of the Republican Party as the unpardonable sin, yet two Democratic legislatures have virtually endorsed it. Vox Populi &c.

A "Soffar" Forest.

Dr. Sweinfurth, who has written the last book about Africa, tells of a forest acacia trees he passed through. These are called by the natives "softar," a sword signifying a flute. The name is given because the acacia trees are pierced with cirgular holes by a small insect, and the wind as it plays the openings, produces flute like sounds. In the winter when the trees are stripped of their feaves, and boughs white as ration. chalk stretch out like ghosts, the wind, sighing through insect-made flates, fills the whole air with soft, melaucholy times. One who has traversed these "softer" forests on a breezy moonlight night can never forget the strange and weird effect produced upon the imagination.

Miscellaneous.

Cremation makes light of a grave subject.

It is said that if castor oil is mixed with glycerine, and a few drops of ail of cinnamon added, the taste of the easter oil can scarcely be recognized.

The sailors who saved the L'Ame ique propose to change the name of the vessel to the "Prodigal Son" because it had been lost and was found again.

The St. Louis Republican tells us that the strongest glass will sustain 2,000 pounds to the square inch. It also has been known to twist a man's legs so that he couldn't walk.

LATTLE ROCK, May 2 .- Troops are still between the contestants. General Fagan, formerly Confederate major general, assamed command of the Brookites through out the state. . He called on his old comrades to rally. Both parties are waiting for something from Washington. A cartel for the exchange of prisoners was agreed upon and all were released.

New York, May 2 -A special dispatch from Little Rock says three of Baxter's troops were killed in the battle of New Gascony. Capt. Van Zandt, one of the leaders on the side of Brooks, was slangerously wounded. He had been a colonel in the Federal army.

THE Paris 'Figaro' has recently been installed in new and sumptuous quarters on the Rue Drouot. The facade of the new office is very handsome, and is decorated with statues and a large clock as well, which chimes the hours and quarter hours in mellifluous tones. The printing presess were solemnly blessed by the clergy, with permission of the Archbishop of Paris, and the clock bells were baptized by the names of Valentine and Plenette, the young son and daughter of one of the editors acting as godfather and godinother on the occasion. Considering the fact that the Figaro, though a very good journal, is undeniably a naughty one, this plenitude of religion was hardly appropriate. Perhaps, however, it is going to "try to

To ALL, particularly invalids, spring is astrying season. Indications of sickness should at once be attended to. Fatal diseases may be caused by allowing the bowels to become constipated, and the system to remain in a disordered condition, until the disorder has time to develop itself, An onuce of prevention is worth a poure of cure, is an old and truthful saying. Therefore, we advise all who are troubled with the complaints now very prevalentheadache, indigestion, disordered liver. want of appetite, nausea, or feverish skin, to take, without delay Scheuck's Mandrake Pills. We know of no remedy s harmless and decisive in its action. It at once strikes at the root of the disease and produces a healthy tone to the system People never need suffer from any discase arising from a disordered condition of the liver if they would take this excellent medicine when they feel the first indica tions of the malady. Families leaving home for the sammer months smould take them. Main Plan

LUCAL AFFAIRS.

SEVERAL large trains have arrived and others have left for the frontier.

THE District Court will not be in session until the 26th or May.

THE ever-happy Turners are returning from New Braunfels, where they have had a jolly time of it.

THE farmers complain that the cold-winds have dried up the soil so much that rain is needed:

READY made clothing in style and make not to be surpassed, just received by PAN-COAST & SON. 14-3-1tf

THE Legislature adjourned yesterday. It came in like a roaring lion and goes out as softly as if the members really understand what a failure it has been.

DETECTIVE LYONS informs us that a man named Randle, who eloped from here with a wagon load of sewing machines has been arrested at Corpus Christi.

ATTENTION -Let everybody read and heed the suggestions contained in the card of Mr. Brackenridge, in reference to the meeting of the Agricultural Association to night at the Alamo Literary Hall.

PANCOAST & SON have now received a full assortment of cloths, cassimeres and lineus to make up to order. 14 3-dtf

THE Kicsapooh Indians either have not been removed effectually, or else they have been unable to stand the climate of the Reservation, as they are all back again. So people direct from Santa Rosa report.

For all the styles of spring and summer hats go to PANCOAST & SON. 14-3-dtf

A BRISK norther blew up Saturday evening, and now you can tell people that left off their underwear by their having a flannel badge tied around their throat, and by the smell of camphor.

GENTLEMEN'S furn'shing goods of the rery best quality always to be found at PANCOAST & SON. 14-3-dtf

A GENTLEMAN, (whose name we suppress with reluctance, as he promised to cave our head in if we mentioned it), made a miserable failure the other night of doceiving his better half on the question of his sobriety. He was one of a knot of choice spirits that were spending the evening in hilarious mirth, and about the hour of midnight it occurred to him to go

He was not under the influence of the ardent, but the trip home had its difficulties. His boots would'nt stand up straight and like gold, he fluctuated semewhat. On arriving at his domicil the last trace of levity was sapped from him by observing a light burning. How to deceive that faithful wife was the next question. There was a large clock in the hall, the winding of which in broad day light was an undertaking that required steadiness. Now our friend thought that if he could place one chair on the top of the officer and wind up that clock, it would be proof positive that he was sober, no matter how strong he smelt of wine, and what the condition of his clothing was.

With the recklessness peculiar to persons in that condition he proposed to wind that clock, descend from the chairs, steady himself on the wall, and in a careless sort of a way saunter into that bed room, seat himself at the table, make some remark of how long the lodge kept open these evenings, and how tired he was &c. and thus cruelly deceive his tearful wife. He opened the door as carefully as if he were going to steal something, then be removed a dab of mud that was climning affectionately to each knee, and tied his cravat carefully until it looked like a bunch of grasshoppers, straightened out his hat, while his features assumed an over-worked appearance. He placed one chair on the other and mounted up successfully and Began to wind up that clock with a great deal of ostentation and noise, chuckling to himself with counterfeited glee. All at once his knees began to wabble, the strain on his nerves was too intense. He setzed hold of the clock to steady himself. He grasped at time but nearly caught eternity, as the whole edifice come down, clock and all, with a crash that woke up a policeman 300 yards off. There was a shrick of terror from the room, the door was opened and a bright light was thrown on the singular spectacle of a perfectly sober man, with his head stuck through the bottom of a case chair, hugging a mutilated eight-day clock, while his legs were waving about with convulsive energy, but productive of a highly Indicrous general effect. But we draw the curtain, before the lecture be-

This morning he limped down town and deposited the clock with a watchmaker, with some remarks about a defective nail.
