Those cured by it are left as healthy as if they had never had the disease.

Fever and Ague is not alone the consequence of the missmatic poison. A great variety of disorders arise from its irritation, among which are Neuralgic Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Cattarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hysteries, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Paralysis, and derangement of the Stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause, put on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This "Cure" expels the poison from the blood, and consequently cures them all alike. AID FROM SAN FRANCISCO.-Among the attached friends of Galveston, who once recided there, none are warmer and nobler than the enterprising men who were drawn away by the attractions of the gold region some quarter of a century since. A dispatch to Messrs. George Ball and N. B. Yard announces the remittance of the first installment from the relief committoe of San Francisco for the sufferers by the storm in Texas. The amount is $1508, and the Relief Committee who send it are all old Galvestonians, to-wit: Gen. H. A. Cobb, Simon L. Joffes, Esq., and Dr. G. Holland.

Texas Shamed by Mexico. Mexico is to join in celebrating and contributing to the Centennial of American Texas takes no official part in the grand honors paid by all the world to the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of the Nation, of which she formean integral and an important part.

Texas was wrested from Mexico by olution; and Mexico afterwards lost California, New Mexico, and Arizona in a war with the United States. Texas then being a part of the United States. Troubles have since arisen between Mexico and the United States, and they are not settled yet. War between the two countries has en predicted in consequence of these troubles. And yet Mexico, forgetting or laying saids the prejudices and bitterness of feeling engendered by those strifes and losses, joins with the rest of enlight ened and Christian mankind in celebrating the centennial anniversary of the earth. Texas, one of the forty odd great States and Territories constituting our Empire-Republic, and made independent of Mexico, and afterward supported against Mexice, by the blood and treasure of nearly all the States, officially ignores the approach of the Nation's centennial jubilee.

Mexico is regarded by Texas as far behind ber in civilization, in material and mental development, in political and civil and social progress. And yet Mexico, admitting her difficulties in the development of republican institutions and order. and striving to follow our higher political example, comes up to the great feetival of liberty prepared at our American Jerusalem with the other political Gentiles mes up with the other queens of Shebs from afar, attracted by our glorious fame freedom and progress-and lays her tribute upon the altar dedicated to the welfare of all mankind. When Mexico comes up to see the pros purity and glory of all the great tribes constituting our grand national Israel, she will naturally look around to examine the progress made by Texas, the one which once belonged to her, and which she is best accquainted with. And Texas, so far as her official State representation is ownserned, will not be there! She will say, Why, this Texas has never been satisfied with anything. She was not satisfied to be a State of the Mexican Republic, and

It has appeared to threaten for some time past that both the old parties were in danger of being broken up by this all-important and vital issue, and that the inflationists of both parties would soalesce, while the hard money men of both parties would do likewise. The Chicago Times, a Democratic journal, seems to the soming event whose forecast shadow is now plainly discernable, is the breaking up and rearrangement of party formations upon the transcendent finance question." The Times assumes that the greenback policy, represented by Governor William Allen, has captured the mass of Democrate in the West and in Pennsylvania, and that it will triumph at the appreaching Ohio election and force itself upon the next National Demogratic Conution. The Times also infers that from significant expressions of the Brooklyn Eagle and the New York World, reputed organs of Gov. The matter of interest here is the overshadowing and breaking up of existing party combinations, or imagined combinations, and a termation of new party combinations around this one transcendent quertion of the time. Should the repudiationist democracy prevail in Ohio, of which there is every appearance of probability, of equal rights and privileges to all men, the break-up foreshadowed will be inevitable. And thus it may happen that the triumph of the repudiation party in Ohio

But we confess that we are not sagacious enough to discover from the language of the News what that question is. Nor do we believe that either the political thinkers, the statesmen, the politicians or the voters of the country will be able to find any other more vital issue in the approaching Presidential canvass. That issue will swallow up everything else. Whether or not it will disrupt existing parties, we cannot foresee. We do not believe it will.

There is no subject of a local characte o which more important interests attach, than that of our city schools. And the announcement that the corps of teachers should be selected by competitive examination, gave us hope, as you justly say, "that the appointment of teacher would be in accordance with the fair principles of competitive examinations, and would be due alone to merit, as teachers, and not to any extraneous circumbe used or of interest to the pupils, as having any bearing upon their future course of life. Such as the placing in their order the names of the rulers, or giving correctly the boundaries of some petty kingdom or State, long since merged into some more powerful political organization, or something else far less practical even, such as the peculiar method of inparting abstract ideas, or impressing fixof George Paschal, Esq., on our streets this ed or patent facts in the teacher's view upon the minds of the pupils. And all this, without having any regard to the STRANGERS are coming in ; a great many bringing their families, and coming to previous experience of the applicants, or their fixedness of purpose, as to the pursuit of teaching as a business of life, their likes or dislikes of it, as an occupation, their adaptability as to temperament and disposition, and various and sundry other qualifications which go to make up the successful teacher.

Whilst we may not, in every instance be looking for a Mary Lyons, who repeatedly rejected eligible offers of domestic settlement in life, to pursue the one purpose formed of founding an institution for the benefit of those needy "sisters" who should come after her, and which she so successfully accomplished, and which now, and through coming ages, shall stand as a mount to her memory in the village of Holyoke, Mass., yet, we should select those whose purposes, like her's, are to stain the highest standard of perfection of the art, as teachers, and who.pursue the calling for the love of it, when such car be had, rather than those who make it astepping stone to some oth pose of contributing to their physical wants, or catering to their sensual deaires, regardles of equivalent paid in the knowledge imparted to the pupils.

Upon reaching the grounds we agreeably surprised in finding the work progressing so rapidly; and, judging from the force of carpenters and workmen engaged, and from the energy they seemed to manifest in teair labors, every thing will be fully ready by the end of the week. The entrance has been moved a few rods north of the old gate, and a sub stantial board fence and ticket office has been erected and bandsomely painted. Near the entrance are thirty stalls, for horses to be entered for premiums; the high plank fence commencing near the gate, extending north to the stalls.

The old buildings are being painted and whitewashed, and will be used as a general exhibition hall, aftording ample room for this purpose.

The old judges' stand opposite the ex ibition hall, has been repaired and brightened by a coat of whitewash, so that presents quite a respectable appear nce; while the new and commodious stand being erected in the centre of the three-acre exhibition enclosure, already attracts the attention and admiration of visitors. It is substantially built, and is three stories high. One floor is to be used by the judges, one by distinguished visitors, and the third is reserved for a music phitheatre which the Association intend erecting. This section is 160 feet long, seats is a ten foot which will come well in play during the aces; and in fact, at almost any time Mr. Crider has had the contract for the amphitheatre, and has made things rush right along, until now his work is about nished. The booths and refreshment stalls are under the main amphitheatre, and are conveniently located, easy of ac ess, and just in the right place.

in garbling my letter, as well as in changing the date. If the whole of the letter had appeared it would have shown just the state of facts I have here detailed. It the whole had been given, it would have been shown that the letter did not relate to soldiers at all, or to the physical condition of those who were sent. Whether the change of dates was accidental or purposed, I cannot say. It would hardly be uncharitable to assert, in view of the use to able to assert, in view of the use to which the letter has been put, that it was the latter. If it had borne its true date, it would have shown on its face that it could have no reference to Andersonville, or the prisoners there confined. For, as I have before stated, Andersonville had not been established as a prison depot when the letter was written, "S." in his communication quotes Col. Chandler's report, and strives to show that it was seen by Mr. Davis. And yet Col. Chandler, in his testimony in th Wriz trial, withwhich "S." seems (amiliar, swore that "he had eve y reason to know that Mr. Davis had not seen that report." Why did "S." keep back report." Why did "S. Chandler's testimony !

You can make any use you think roper of this letter, or any parts thereof -especially so much of it as relates to the communication of "S," Yours truly, R. OULD.
