

Sterling Eagles Tie Coahoma 13-13

Play Forsan Tonight at 8:00

The Sterling Eagles battled the Coahoma football champs to a 13-13 tie here last Friday afternoon. The Sterling boys turned in a good game and now everyone has high hopes for the season.

Passes from Tweedle to Bobby King accounted for both of the Eagles' touchdowns. Tweedle plunged over for the extra point. Coahoma returned a punt for a touchdown right in the last few minutes of the game and ran the ball over for the extra point.

With two minutes left in the game Sterling received the kick-off. Tweedle passed to Davis, then hit King over the middle, then one to Brown deep and hit King in the end zone for the score. A try for the extra point failed, and the game ended 13-13.

EAGLES PLAY FORSAN TONIGHT IN FORSAN

The Forsan Buffaloes are the Eagles next opponents—the game being played tonight at Forsan under lights at 8 p. m.

Evaluating 'Morale'

We have been looking into army and navy "E" awards. . . . Even if all the thousands of them were meritorious — which is an absurd hypothesis—this system adds up to a $100,000,000 scandal. Based on a theory that such hooey boosted the workers' morale, it cost probably 50,000,000 man hours in war-plants, 25,000 lost days for officers, diversion of transportation facilities and waste of gas, plus some of the highest-powered hangovers ever experienced by men in uniform.

Army-navy urged these plants to throw celebrations. Some turned into week-long drunks, with whiskey and champagne suppers, imported entertainers and party girls, arriving in private cars and chartered planes. All this was legally deductible for income tax purposes, chargeable against production costs and valid accounting in contract renegotiation.

Officers were assigned, often traveling hundreds and thousands of miles, taking several weeks on a job, all on government pay and travel and subsistence expenses. One public relations officer was always sent on ahead, to whip up the show. Higher ones came on later, to make stuffy speeches, ride in parades and souse up with the happy executives and their ladies.

There was usually a shutdown. All hands were guests at shows and blowouts, in hotels, country clubs, local theatres taken over. Besides, there were more exclusive to-dos for officers and corporation officials, "guardian angels" and other politicians, with costly souvenirs handed out — everything charged as legitimate expense.

PROs were briefed by higher officers to encourage as much hoopla as the plants could swing. Some of them did practically no other work. The signal corps, with only about a half-dozen HQ posts in the country, traveled its advance agents countless miles. Often the plants paid these men's expenses and those of higher officers, although the army did, too, doubling the cost to the taxpayer.

It was one of the sweetest rack-ets of the conflict to exterminate the enemy by good old Yankee horse-sense and can-do. A triumph of E-bombs!

Santa Fe Skyway is carrying specialized cargoes, including perishables. . . . No schedules will be made. . . . Flying personnel will be mostly veterans, 11 of whom have signed on. . . . One plane has refrigeration equipment, which weighs only 1 per cent of the gross tonnage and can register 120 degrees below zero.

Marie Windsor, Utah beauty, who took over Broadway via stage and radio, is an outstander in Hollywood. . . . Ben Bogeaus and Case Robinson, who bought Hemingway's "Short and Happy Life of Francis Macomber" for peanuts ($85,000 worth) are aiming at an Oscar. . . . Pat O'Brien is trying to interest movie money in a screen biography of his pal, Mayor Bill O'Dwyer, Pat to play him. . . . ## Your Home

By Frances Ainsworth SC

There are times when your furnace probably acts sluggish, as though it were lying down on the job. You might blame it on the weather or on the type of fuel you are burning, but actually it more than likely would be because of your furnace having a cold in its head. In other words, its breathing channel becomes clogged up.

In the process of combustion, soot and fly ash are given off. They settle in the "head," or radiator, of your furnace, thereby obstructing the flow of air that the fire needs for efficient burning. The furnace is then in distress, but not being human it cannot tell you so.

That is why it is necessary to give your furnace a thorough clean-out every so often, at least once a year. The only way to relieve the clogged-up condition is to draw the soot and ash out by suction, the same as you draw the dirt out of your fur with a vacuum cleaner. There are heating firms that have special equipment for this purpose.

Of course, the ideal solution is to have a furnace that has no concealed radiator in which to collect the soot and ash. Your next furnace can be of that kind, for there is one now on the market. But until you make the change, remember that a clogged head in your furnace costs you both grief and money. Keep it in good working condition by giving it a good cleaning-out before you have need for its heat this winter.

Grain Goes Up; Cost Comes Down When Power Elevators Are Used

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Far removed from the grime and noise of big city factories, an ever increasing number of farmers with electrical service are, to some extent, putting grain handling operations on almost a production line basis.

Elevators, blowers and bins, connected by chutes or conveyors to corn shellers, grinders and mixers—and often to feed lots as well—save labor and put extra farm dollars in the bank. As Dr. J. B. Davidson, agricultural authority, said: "The only conditions under which the handling of grain by hand can be justified is when the quantity moved is so small as not to justify the overhead expense of machinery . . . elevating machinery will increase the labor of one man two to ten times."

Handling grain "the electric motor way" isn't the exclusive property of the big farmer; the small operator can do it too.

When a farmer has an electrically-equipped, drive-in, crib-granary, grain handling can be practically automatic. The front end of the wagon or truck is hoisted off the floor and grain slides into a floor dump to be elevated into overhead bins or side cribs. Small grain flows from bins to the grinder to be blown or re-elevated into bins over the mixer. Ear corn can be dropped or carried by floor conveyor to a grinder or sheller; shelled corn can be returned to overhead bins for later use.

The farmer who doesn't have a crib-granary can get virtually the same automatic results with an electrically-powered portable elevator and overhead bins connected by chutes to grinding, shelling or mixing equipment, or to wagons to be hauled to centrally-located granary equipment. One Ohio farmer, who didn't feel he could afford a crib-granary, used less than one kilowatt hour of electricity, costing only a few pennies, to raise 200 bushels of corn into the loft of an old building with a portable elevator equipped with a one-third horsepower motor.

Motors, ranging in size from 1/4 to 3 horsepower, are used to operate crib-granary stationary elevators and wagon hoists, with the size of the motor depending on the amount of grain to be elevated and the speed required. Most farm authorities, however, recommend motors of 1 or, preferably, 2 horsepower for this operation.

And—speaking of the money and

time saved elevating grain electrically: An Iowa farmer says he saves $370 per season in direct labor costs with his elevator. Another farmer states that his stationary crib-granary elevator enables one man to unload 40 loads of corn per day or a load of grain in from two to three minutes. This latter elevator is equipped with a 3 horsepower motor.

Soapless Soaps Ease Household Chores

AN INCREASING number of farm women are using soapless soaps or wetting agents to help them in a variety of household tasks, an article in nationally circulated Capper's Farmer points out.

These wetting agents usually come in very granular form and are proving superior to ordinary soaps because they actually do double duty—soften water and cleanse—the magazine declares. Formulation of scum by soap in hard water is a characteristic common to all soaps, but not to wetting agents. The substance in these synthetic detergents combines minerals in hard water to make salts dissolve, instead of making the curd-like substance or scum which is an insoluble salt, the article explains.

Giving better contact between the washing solution and surface to be cleaned, these wetting agents get a material or surface wetter and do it quickly. Near neutral in reaction, instead of alkaline, the wetting agents are most effective for cleansing milk utensils and separators.

Soapless soaps cut separator cleaning time.

Among numerous uses in which these wetting agents are being employed, says the magazine read by 1,300,000 farm families, are: dish-washing, fabric-washing, including woollens, blankets and sweaters, window-washing, family car washing, washing fabrics on furniture, washing milk buckets and separators.

Added window brightness obtained with wetting agents.

Home Water Treatment

A phosphate compound, Micromet, and a feeder to add the compound in right amounts to water will prevent scale and control corrosion in a household water system, writes the Rural Home editor of nationally-circulated Capper's Farmer. It also helps prevent "rusty water" caused by iron. The feeder device is installed in a vertical position on cold water intake line of water heater. After the initial charge of one pound of Micromet, only one fourth pound needs to be poured into feeder each month, says the magazine read by 1,300,000 farm families.

Pudding Ice Cream Keeps Family Happy

It's easy to keep the family happy with plenty of ice cream, what with a modern refrigerator and a supply of fruit and cream, honey or sirup on hand, according to the Country Cooking editor of nationally circulated Capper's Farmer.

The recipe for Pudding Ice Cream below, won first prize in the recent Capper's Farmer Refrigerator Dessert contest for Mrs. Bertha Oltman, Bay County, Michigan.

PUDDING ICE CREAM

- 1 tsp. unflavored gelatin
- 1/4 cup milk
- 1 1/4 c. milk
- 1 pkg. vanilla pudding mix
- 1/2 c. white corn sirup
- 1 1/2 c. cream
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1/4 c. black walnuts

Soften gelatin in the 1/4 cup of milk. Add remaining milk to pudding mix; place over low heat and stir until it boils and thickens. Stir softened gelatin into pudding to dissolve it. Remove at once from heat. Add sirup, cream and vanilla. Pour into refrigerator trays; freeze until slightly firm. Then scrape from tray into bowl; beat with rotary beater till smooth but not melted. Stir in chopped nuts. Return to tray and freeze. Serves 6.

STERLING CITY, TEXAS

NEW YORK — Wide shoulders forming caps over full sleeves and a softly gathered skirt give a waistline whittling effect to this Etta Gaynes design. The unbroken monotone color is continued in huge discs of self buttons. Masterfully tailored in wool, this dressmaker coat is a versatile career and college girl go-everywhere coat. Designer Etta Gaynes is the outstanding stylist in the country for the college girl.

The Hollywood gin rummy swindle was turned up by a cub reporter (Los Angeles Examiner) on his first assignment. The paper had a tip that Michael MacDougall, the sleuth who specializes in such things, was in town. . . . Baker Conrad was sent on this thin tip. . . . He ran into some members of a club he thought might be involved. They were talking out loud—spilling names and all—on the story the youngster wasn't even sure was cooking. . . . He got an earful and ran to a phone. . . . The first newsbreak said only that three sharpers had taken Hollywood big boys—no names mentioned. . . . An hour after the edition hit the street, three heavy winners had engaged a high-priced lawyer to "protect their interests."

The prisoner in the dark Gestapo dungeon in Berlin was tall, gaunt Rudolf Diels, founder of the Gestapo in the first turbulent days of the Nazi regime. Diels had said "no" to Adolf when the fuhrer ordered him to liquidate an old pal who had outlived his usefulness to the swastika-gang. Now, Rudolf sat in his cell, awaiting the hangman—by order of Hitler, who did not like people who dared to say "no."

Standing before Diels was medical-dripping Hermann Goering. "I order you to divorce my sister," growled Goering. "Get out of her life. We cannot have a man in our family hung!"

Diels, a cool character, shrugged his shoulders, told Goering where to go. Circumstances—too long and involved to relate here—saved Diels from the hangman. Today, sitting in a villa in Nuernberg, he supplies the prosecution with valuable information against the major war criminals. Among his frequent visitors was Capt. Harry N. Sperber, chief German interpreter at the trials.

"Strange," mused Diels to Harry, a sardonic smile on his sallow, sabre-slashed face. "It looks as if—after all—dear Hermann will have a man in the family hung! . . . Himself!"

"Dark of the Moon" has gone home, to the Smoky mountains, where it was written, about its own people, by Howard Richardson and William Barney. . . . It was staged at the Community theatre, in Asheville, N. C. . . . That is 15 miles from where the authors found the ballad of Barbara Allen, theme of their play. . . . Viscount Lascelles, nephew of King George VI of England, has a play he wrote making the Broadway office rounds.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Going Fishing? Here's How!

To hear Willie Wells and Basil Strube arguing about trout fishing, you'd think it was more important than the atom bomb.

Willie favors dry flies, Basil pooh-poohs anything but wet flies. Willie swears by a Royal Coachman; Basil won't hear of anything but a Silver Doctor. And by the time it comes to steel rods versus bamboo rods . . . #!X&*!?!!

But on Saturday, each got back from Seward's creek with a catch that couldn't have differed by more than several ounces!

Each had used his favorite kind of fly, his favorite rod and his favorite place to cast. So over a friendly glass of beer, they allowed as how maybe they were both right . . . which is how so many arguments should end.

From where I sit, if we all respected one another's different opinions—whether about trout flies, or drinking beer, or voting, life would be a whole lot pleasanter.

"Doggone, Mrs. Spaniel, you've got a fortune there!"

"Wonder how much, friend Foxhound?"
"I'd say a hundred bucks apiece, charming lady!"
"Flatterer! Why, when my grandpa was a pup, he brought only $25. That was 20 years ago, of course, but he became a Champion!"
"My good woman, don't you realize how much prices have gone up since then? Look at hamburger, for instance . . ."
"Oh, Mister, how I'd love to look at hamburger!"

Stop it—please! My point is that the price of nearly everything has gone way up in the last 20 years. Except electricity. And us dogs don't use electricity. That's unfair. I'm going to raise a howl about it!"

"But we do use electricity in lots of ways. It cooks our food and warms our baths and whisks our spare hairs off the furniture."

"H-m—guess you're right, gorgeous gal. . . . And it'll please you to know that the average family gets twice as much electricity for its money today as it did 20 years ago!"

"Twenty years ago—when Grandpa was a pup—and hamburger was . . . how much did you say hamburger was?"

"I'll have to scratch up the exact figure for you. But now I must run along and pick up a scent. Electricity and I—forgive me—do a great deal of work for a cent. Yip, yip! Good day, Mrs. Spaniel."

Though this story's all fun, its facts are all true. Many things are scarce and expensive these days, but electricity is plentiful and cheap. One reason it's so cheap is because of your wider use—but another big reason is because America's business-managed electric companies constantly seek and find new ways to keep it so.

SET YOUR SIGHTS

It takes planning to achieve a goal

Some young men know what they want and plan for it. Others are still looking for their niche. The new Regular Army can help both.

Perhaps you want to go to college but can't afford it. If you enlist in the Army, you'll get your chance. Honorably discharged after a three-year enlistment, you are eligible for 48 months of education at any college, trade, or business school for which you can qualify. The Government will pay your tuition, laboratory fees, etc., up to $500 per ordinary school year, plus $65 a month living allowance—$90 a month if you have dependents.

If you haven't found your spot, an Army enlistment offers you training in any of 200 trades and skills. You leave the service eligible for further training at the best civilian schools.

You can assure yourself of the benefits of the GI Bill of Rights if you enter the Army on or before October 5, 1946. See your nearest Army Recruiting Station for details.

HIGHLIGHTS OF REGULAR ARMY ENLISTMENT

1. Enlistments for 1½, 2 or 3 years. (1-year enlistments permitted for men now in the Army with 6 or more months of service.)
2. Enlistment age from 18 to 34 years inclusive (17 with parents' consent) except for men now in Army, who may reenlist at any age, and former service men depending on length of service.
3. A reenlistment bonus of $50 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service, provided reenlistment is within 3 months after last honorable discharge.
4. A furlough for men who reenlist within 20 days. Full details of other furlough privileges can be obtained from Recruiting Officers.
5. Mustering-out pay (based upon length of service) to all men who are discharged to enlist or reenlist.
6. Option to retire at half pay for the rest of your life after 20 years' service—increasing to three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. All previous active federal military service counts toward retirement.
7. Choice of branch of service and overseas theater (of those still open) on 3-year enlistments.
