Now is the time to check your stockings Colors faded? A run here, a run

there? Unsightly snags? These are stocking tragedies (and personality indications!) you'll be interested in preventing moment of purchase. Even before wearing, give those brand new stockings a good sudsing. You'll need only the fragrant bluing that comes in bead form and is detergent-based. The United States De-partment of Agriculture clothing specialists say that sudsing before wearing insures a closer, neater fit the first time the stockings are worn. In addition, this first sudsing removes the finish applied during manufacture and helps stockings wear longer.

For complete color protection. make this bluing wash a routine step after every wearing. Put about a quarter cup of bead bluing in a washbowl of warm water. Squeeze the sky-blue suds through and through the stockings . . . rinse twice and hang by the toes to dry. You can help prevent many snags and runs by removing your rings, and filing rough nails before laundering.

You'll be delighted with colorsaving results when you use just these blue beads in the daily rinsing of other underwear ... yes, you can solve many another laundry problem with this dramatic method
