GTE Files For 24 Percent Intrastate Rate Increase

General Telephone President E. L. (Buddy) Langley has announced the company needs $110 million in additional revenue which is an approximate 24 percent increase in intrastate revenues. A critical need for increased revenue required to meet customer pressure for a better quality of service as well as new services were cited by Langley as the primary reasons for the request filed today with the Public Utility Commission of Texas in Austin.

"To continue our service improvement and expansion programs, we must have new revenues to have earnings adequate to obtain investors on reasonable terms," Langley said.

The company president explained rates being charged customers today are based on the company's average intrastate investment of $1,031 per customer line in service at Sept. 30, 1980.

"When you take all the new equipment and facilities added statewide between Sept. 30, 1980 and 1981, the average cost for each new customer line added to the network is about $2,497," Langley said. "The difference between this figure and the $1,031 on which we are charging rates, multiplied by over 51,000 customer lines added in Texas during the same period, results in a $75 million investment on which we are not earning the return allowed in our last rate case."

Friena Basketball Teams Fall To Mules, Mullettes

The Muleshoe Mullettes picked off a district win against the Friena Squaws varsity by one point here last Friday night. For the first two quarters, it was back and forth with the lead, with Friena coming out one point ahead at the end of the first half. The Mullettes began to widen the lead in the third quarter by six points only to have the Friena team come back tough in the fourth. The Mullettes reigned victorious however, at the end of the final quarter with a one point lead for a score of 32 to 31.

Sherry Ellis took top scoring honors with ten points, with Denise Wilson with eight and Kristi Henry with six, although close behind were Jill Turner, Lavona Rhodes and Delia Shaw, who also added points to the scoreboard. Tori Hunt, Rhonda Dunham and Marilyn Lewis also saw action. Fouls caught up with Jill Turner and she sat out some of the game.

The Varsity Mules also whipped out a 52-44 win over the Friena Chieftains Friday, January 29, here in Mule territory.

Friena started out with a two point lead going into the second quarter of play, which the Mules quickly disposed of and came out of the first half four points in front with a 24-20 score. This seemed to gain some momentum as the game progressed with the Mules maintaining the lead throughout the second half. Cont. Page 6, Col. 3

Proposal Meets With General Skepticism

In the President's State of the Union address last week, the majority of city and county officials in Muleshoe felt that he dealt only in generalities, and side-stepped the specifics of his proposal to turn over the more than 40 social programs to state and local governments. City Manager Dave Marr said that the funds to operate these programs would have to come from taxes. "The generalizations he spoke of sound good, but they will not work when put to the test." States and counties would have no alternative but to increase taxes if the proposed transfers are made. One city councilman stated that the President carefully evaded any specifics as to what programs he was speaking of.

Gordon Green, Democratic candidate for County Judge, was a little more specific in his commentary.

"The return of these programs to the state and county levels is long overdue; but, there will have to be a different means of financing other than the ad valorem taxes. While people want to regain control of the programs on the local level, it is just not realistic at this time. Cities will not be affected in the same ways that counties are." The federal government is not able to finance these programs even now and Green suspects that a "wait and see" attitude will be prevalent since opposition to this proposal in Congress will likely result in an extensively modified plan.

A statement made by Alton Brazell, county commissioner in Lubbock, pointed out that any transfer of projects to local governments from federal agencies should be accompanied by funds to cover the added duties. Brazell also said that he had not had time to analyze the situation where the county might be involved, but the government needs to be aware that the county's only source of income is ad valorem taxes and the taxpayer cannot be looked to further for any additional Cont. Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

Being a Christin, I feel I have my say on the illegitimate issue.

True, all children are created equal in the sight of God.

To call a child illegitimate means nothen less than its parents aren't married.

Its true the child isn't to blame, all it means is the baby is disqualified because the parents weren't legally married at the time of birth.

All people are governed by ruel and laws. I support the merchants for having such rules.

A school teacher can't teach without a license.

A doctor can't practice med without a license.

A school teacher can't teach without a degree.

A man and woman can't be legally married without a license.

Maybe the edetor could say the parents must be legally married for baby to clame prizes.

The basic ideals and values stressed in Scouting are the Christian foundations needed by youth.

All Catholic clergy and lay readers from each parish are urged to participate in the Bishop's dinner.

FACTS & FIGURES

When it comes to teeth, apparently Americans are brushing more now than ever before. In the past ten years, unit growth in the sales of toothpaste (based on sales of 60-ounce cases), has risen 53 percent. In 1981, more than 74 million 60-ounce cases of toothpaste were sold in the U.S.

The gel segment of the toothpaste market has shown an even more dramatic growth than the overall sale of toothpaste, up 300 percent in sales since 1970. One gel that's paving the way is Colgate's Winterfresh Gel.

While several local and county leaders agreed that the President's presentation was a good one, it lacked in content and dealt only with suppositions, not fact. "Talking a good game is one thing," said one official, "playing it is another."

Many local officials were reticent to voice an opinion, since they felt that the President had said nothing that could be construed as something to "sink their teeth into." Too many why's and wherefores remain unanswered, at this point, for any opinion to be formed. Many do not believe that the proposed changeovers will work, and are reserving opinions until such time as what programs will be considered, along with funding will be sent to states with the programs.

Despite the supposition that Reaganomics will turn this country around, the President very neatly side-stepped the farm problem and the fact that many farmers are facing foreclosure and bankruptcy due to the farm credit crunch. Many farmers are voicing concern that this one problem in itself is enough to destroy the nation's economy. Marvin Meeks, president of the American Agriculture Movement, made such a statement to the recent local AAM meeting here in Muleshoe.

The general consensus among farmers is that the general public is not coming to grips with the effect that the devastation of the family farm will have in terms of long-reaching results.

While Charles Smith, Democratic County Chairman of Bailey County, made a statement to the Avalanche-Journal to the effect that "the President did not say anything that was very objectionable to the people in this area and that federalism will be accepted here," there are those who would challenge that statement.

"The fact remains," said one noted county official, "that the funding is going to have to come from somewhere, and people are beginning to ask 'Where?'. The total effect is just beginning to seep through and the end result remains to be seen.

Lazbuddie School Board Elections Set April 3

The board of trustees of Lazbuddie I.S.D. in their regular monthly meeting, held January 12, 1982, called for an election to be held for the purpose of electing (3) three trustees for a full three year term.

The terms of Jerry Don Glover, Marvin Mimms and Darrel Mason expire on April 3, 1982.

The board appointed the following officers for the election. Alfred Hicks, judge; Fred Burch and Susan Lasater, clerks; Ray Luera, interpreter and Dennis Owen, absentee clerk.

Application for place on the ballot may be made at the Superintendent's office and the last day for signing up will be March 3, 1982. Absentee voting will be in the school tax office, from March 15 through March 30, 1982, from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

The board voted unanimously to extend the contract of Superintendent Sam Barnes through the 1982-83 school year.

The following substitute teacher policy was adopted to be implemented beginning with the 1982 - 83 school year.

Substitute teachers are always employed and paid by the school system, never by the teacher who is absent. Substitutes are paid one half the state minimum salary schedule per day for beginning teachers, for each day of substitute teaching. After ten (10) consecutive days of substituting for any one teacher the substitute pay will be increased to three-fourths (3/4) of the daily minimum pay rate for a beginning teacher. After twenty (20) consecutive days of substituting, qualified (certified) substitutes would be paid according to a beginning teacher's salary, a non-degree substitute would remain at the three-fourths (3/4) of the minimum daily pay rate for a beginning teacher.

Windbreak Seedlings Still Available

LUBBOCK--Some species have been sold out, but it is not too late for West Texans to purchase several varieties of windbreak tree seedlings from the Texas Forest Service.

The Service's West Texas Nursery in Lubbock still has two varieties of conifers and five types of hardwood seedlings available for the 1981-82 planting season, which ends in late March.

According to Bob Fewin, silviculturist at Lubbock, the conifer species still available are Austrian pine and ponderosa pine. These 6 to 12-inch pine seedlings are grown in individual dual cells, 30 cells to the Styrofoam container. A minimum order is 30, priced at $30 per container (plus sales tax). They are sold by the container, or in multiples of 30. The containers are 12 inches wide by 14 inches long, by 8 inches deep, and several containers can easily be transported in the back seat of a car or pickup cab.

The hardwood seedling species still available include: green ash, honeylocust, bur oak, mulberry and Russian Olive. The hardwoods are sold in minimum lots of 100 for $20 (plus sales tax and shipping costs).

The West Texas Nursery grows windbreak seedlings for a 60-county High Plains and Panhandle area, north of Big Spring and west of Wichita Falls.

Fewin said the hardwoods may be shipped, but the containers in which the conifer seedlings are grown are not designed for

The hardwood species are bare root seedlings, Fewin said, and can be shipped by normal freight methods.

West Texans interested in planting trees for homestead, field, feedlot or wildlife windbreaks, should write for seedling applications: West Texas Nursery, Texas Forest Service, Rt. 3, Box 216, Lubbock, TX 79401, or call (806) 746-5801.

Fewin said the seedlings would be sold on a first-come basis until the end of the current planting season, or until the supply is exhausted.

MJHS Spotlights Science Department

Spotlighted this week at MJHS is the science department, under the leadership of Mrs. Mary Scoggin and Mrs. Pat Gunter.

Sixth grade science is a study of general science, which includes twelve weeks of health. Some new areas are introduced and there is a more in-depth study of those areas studied in previous years.

The main objectives are to give a basic background in science and develop an understanding that science is a part of everyday life. A knowledge of scientific terms and their use is stressed.

Reinforcement of scientific principles is achieved through demonstrations, experiments, films, study questions and class discussions. All students are encouraged to participate in class discussions and solve problems using basic facts they have studied.

The big event of the year is the Science Fair in the spring. This offers each student the opportunity to select a project of special interest to him. A great deal of planning and preparation goes into each project, but the rewards are well worth the work. Seeing their projects exhibited gives them a real sense of accomplishment.

Life science is taught in the 7th grade. It is a practical study of the features and functions of living things. Current, meaningful knowledge is emphasized. This science develops an awareness of living things, the processes which keep organisms alive and the ecological relationships among organisms. Necessary life science principles are introduced through student involvement, and this study gives a relevant introduction to life, stresses both likenesses and differences, and then relates these to the human body. It stresses the organs and systems of different forms of living things and then relates these to human life. The study of Life Science deals with behavior of living things such as reflex acts, tropic instincts and training. Also touched on are types and structure of plant life, photosynthesis, bacteria and viruses, and algae and fungi.

From the science book, students also study various diseases, their spread or prevention, their cure, and the body's defenses against disease. They identify the kinds of nutrients needed by the body and their breakdown by the digestive system. A study is also conducted on the principles of heredity in both plants and animals. There is a chapter on tobacco, alcohol and narcotics.

Seventh grade health deals with physiological and psychological aspects of growing up, "The person I am and the person I want to become."

Various teaching strategies include slides, film loops, film, filmstrips, overheads, micro projector, microscopes, and dissection to reinforce the learning.

The projects that really put all science principles into use are the science fair projects that are done by the students for the annual Science Fairs.

In the 8th grade, MJHS offers 1/2 year of Earth Science and 1/2 year of health. Earth Science is a study of earth, its matter, features, processes and place in the universe. The text emphasizes the constant changes of the earth, and the responsibility of humans in our environment, as well as our use of earth's resources. Using the skills gained from a study of earth science, students will be better prepared to make decisions in these important areas.

A new program

The scarcity of trained persons who grasp the scientific and public policy sides of strategic metals and minerals - many of which the U.S. imports for industry - has prompted The University of Texas to start a master's degree program in energy and mineral resources.

Divided between science/engineering and social science/economics/policy courses, the program is one of only a few in the country.

Students will come to understand one of the most critical problems facing the U.S.: the need for metals such as manganese, chrome, cobalt and the platinum group, which are vital for making items from jet engines to computers but the bulk of which are located in southern Africa and Siberia.

Earth Baptist Schedule Revival

David Ray, evangelist from Abilene and former pastor of the First Baptist Church of Lubbock, along with Fritz Smith, music evangelist from Tyler, will be conducting revival services at the First Baptist Church of Earth, Sunday morning February 7, through Friday, February 12.

Sunday services will be at 11:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. while week night services will begin at 7:30. Mike Stafford, the pastor at Earth, urges all to come and hear how these men of God present His message in song and sermon.

Inflation affects the electric company just as it affects you. The cost of borrowing money for new power plants and the construction of those plants to assure a dependable supply of electricity for the future, also affects your electric bill.

Area and industrial development is a high priority at SPS. Southwestern can provide the electric power needed by new and expanding industries that locate in our part of the "Sunbelt." SPS area development consultants assist community leaders in our service territory with the growth of existing businesses and in attracting new industry. Planned, sensible growth means more jobs, more retail sales and a healthier economy.

Title Survey Shows Mortgage Payments Rose To 15.8%

As high interest rates choked home sales, the average monthly mortgage payment for persons buying a home in 1981 rose 15.8 percent, to $694 in 1981 from $599 in 1980, reports the Family Housing

Bureau, a public information service of Chicago Title Insurance Co.

In its sixth annual survey of new home buyers the Family Housing Bureau observes that monthly mortgage payments, which include principal, interest, taxes and insurance, have risen steadily since the survey was initiated in 1976.

The largest jump in any year was in 1980 when average mortgage payments increased 33 percent, from $449 to $599.

Between 1976 and 1981 median home prices increased 80.4 percent while monthly mortgage payments were up 110.9 percent over the same period. In 1976 the median price of a home was $43,340 and the average monthly mortgage payment was $329.

The Chicago Title survey includes both first-time and repeat buyers. Repeat buyers made up 60.6 percent of the market in 1981.

This percentage is lower than in 1980, when 67.1 percent were repeat buyers.

First-time buyers, who represented an increased share of the market, paid a median price of $63,180 for a home in 1981, up from $61,450 in 1980. For repeat buyers the median price rose from $75,750 in 1980 to $82,220 in 1981.

For first-time buyers, the average monthly mortgage payment was $665 in 1981, up from $558 in 1980. For repeat buyers it was $725, compared with $660 in 1980.

When the annual income earned by the head of household was under $15,000, the average monthly mortgage payment was $492. Between $15,000 and $20,000 annual income, the monthly mortgage payments rose to $658, and between $20,000 and $30,000, the average monthly payment was $632.

The percent of average down payment dropped for both first-time and repeat buyers. In 1981, first-time buyers paid an average 19.4 percent, vs. 20.3 percent in 1980. The down payment for repeat buyers averaged 27.1 percent in 1981 compared to 32.7 percent in 1980.

Most of the buyers in the 1981 survey -- 60.7 percent -- made down payments of 20 percent or less, compared with 56.1 percent of those surveyed a year earlier. But the proportion of those making down payments of 50 percent or more dropped dramatically from 18.5 percent in 1980 to 10.3 percent in 1981. The 1981 figure is the lowest since 1976.

Persons making down payments of 10 percent or less rose from 23.4 percent in 1980 to 29.2 percent in 1981, a rise from 26.9 percent in 1976.

The Chicago Title survey was made as a part of the company's continuing program to foster interest in home ownership. The company issues real estate title insurance, which insures the existence or non-existence of rights to property for lenders and home owners. The insurance pays the policy holder for any losses if the title insurer is found to be wrong in its determination.

Brucellosis Regulations Proposed

Regulations to require calfhood vaccination for brucellosis control under certain conditions are being proposed by the Texas Animal Health Commission.

"This does not mean a 100 percent mandatory or compulsory vaccination program for all heifer calves," Dr. John W. Holcombe, executive director, TAHC, said.

Amendments to the Texas brucellosis program now proposed by Commissioners of the TAHC would require official calfhood vaccination of all heifers born after Jan. 1, 1982 which fit into these categories:

1. Heifers being moved into the state;
2. Heifers changing ownership.

The following exceptions are:

Heifers consigned to slaughter, to a quarantined feedlot, to a quarantined pasture, or those S branded and consigned to a special regulated pasture. "Heifers fitting into these situations would not have to be vaccinated," Dr. Holcombe explained. Several benefits may be

Interior Design Seminar Scheduled February 4 & 5

Many professionals from the design and decorating field including representatives from the American Society of Interior Designers will convene at TSTI-Amarillo for the 5th Annual Interior Design Seminar. This year's theme is "Design Innovations Today and Tomorrow." The seminar is sponsored by Interior Design Technology and Amarillo ASID (American Society of Interior Design) Association.

The purpose of the yearly activity is to introduce TSTI Interior Design Students to professionals in their future vocation. Design and decorating specialists from many parts of the state, such as Bruce Yarnell, a Specialty Designer from Dallas, who will be demonstrating special lighting effects, to

They include: An increase in vaccination will result in greater immunity in cattle herds against brucellosis; Vaccinated heifers will have more freedom of movement in market and breeding channels; Vaccinated heifers have more value than non-vaccinated heifers. Commissioners are requesting public comment on the proposals. Additional hearings will be held on the matter before final action is taken. Comments on the proposals should be submitted to the Texas Animal Health Commission, Box 12966, Austin, Tx. 78711.

Firefighters In Action

The Muleshoe Volunteer Fire Department answered and logged eleven fires in the first 28 days of 1982. Approximately 120-man hours were expended on these calls. With the exception of two, all were outside the city limits. Two of these calls were to assist the Sudan Fire Department at the Fairview Gin, located nine miles southeast of Muleshoe. This is a good neighbor policy which would prove to be helpful, should Muleshoe find itself in trouble.

The nature of the fires were 6 cotton burr and lint, a dwelling, a well house, a farm shed, a gin barn and three pickups.

Twenty-five firemen attended the first yearly training session. Sprinkler fire systems were discussed, and on site training and inspections were conducted at Central Compress and Warehouse in Sudan.

On January 27, 24 firemen viewed a training film dealing with ground ladders. This was provided by the New York State division of fire safety training. Other procedures were reviewed. Four firemen demonstrated the correct use and functions of the new Scott Air Packs recently received by the Law Enforcement Center.

WRECKED SUBURBAN-Kelli Overman, driver of the vehicle shown, was involved in an accident Sunday afternoon with another vehicle at an intersection. Elaine Russell, in the other vehicle, was transferred to a Lubbock Hospital.
