Sheriff Bill Green told of a survey to put stop signs over the city street intersections. Green said that "Yield Right-of-Way" signs would be best and fix the blame in case of accidents. He said stop signs would make law-breakers out of all of us. A total of 24 signs are needed at a cost of $5.20 each.

Seven Attend Democratic Dinner in San Angelo

Several local persons attended a Democratic Rally Banquet in San Angelo Tuesday night. The affair was a money raising dinner and was held in the Cotillion Room of the Town House Hotel. A total of 325 persons from the 25th Senatorial District were present at the $10 per plate affair.

U.S. Senator Russell Long, a 37-year-old Senator from Louisiana, was chief speaker of the evening. State Senator Dorsey Hardeman acted as master of ceremonies. Others appearing on the program were Mayor H. E. McCullough of San Angelo, Governor-Nominee Price Daniel and around the special guest table were Miss Grace Tully, former secretary to the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Hal Woodward of Coleman, district committeeman; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gurley of Del Rio; C. T. McLaughlin of Snyder, chief of the finance drive for the Texas campaign this year; Jim Lindsay, speaker of the Texas House of Representatives and the executive chairman of the State Democratic Committee; Mrs. Price Daniel, Mrs. Dorsey Hardeman and U.S. Representative O. C. Fisher.

Eagles Trim Garden City in 58-31 Victory

BARBECUE JUST BEFORE BALL GAME TONIGHT For Benefit of Livestock Barn

There will be a barbecue at the football field tonight just before the football game with Water Valley. Serving will start at 6 p.m. said Fred Igo. Plates will be a minimum of $1.00 or any larger donation to the FFA.

Money raised will go toward installing permanent pens in the boys livestock barn, said Igo.

The barbecue is being sponsored by the Sterling County Livestock Association for benefit of the boys livestock barn.

On the menu will be barbecue goat, beans, potatoes, onions, pickles, bread and coffee.

Coach W. L. Young's Sterling City High School Eagles marched ahead in their season's victorious campaign with a 58-31 victory over the Garden City Bearkats last Friday night there. The Eagles squad all saw service during the evening's playing.

Early in the game McWhorter for the Eagles chalked up a touchdown and Gaston added the extra point. But quickly thereafter, the Bearkats picked up six on a run by Lloyd Jones with Lorin McDowell adding the extra point. The game promised to be a good one, but before the first quarter was over, the Sterling boys racked up 19 points to the Glasscock boys 7.

Bill Young accounted for 6 points and Melvin Foster 6 before the 1st quarter closed. At the quarter the score was 19-7.

In the second quarter Young got a TD on a long broken field run; Wilbur Stone picked up 6; Melvin Foster 6; McWhorter 6 and Lynn Glass 1. Garden City was idle, however, as Bobby Fisher and Bill Childress each racked up 6 each. The half ended with the score 38-19.

During the third quarter Melvin Foster added six points to the Sterling's total and Garden City drew a blank. In the fourth quarter Lynn Glass got two touchdowns and Bill Young got a two point extra with a kicked goal. For the opposition, Jimmy Davee and Bobby Fisher got 6 each. The score ended 58-31.

Bill Young did some outstanding ball playing—especially shining in broken field running. Little Nathan Morris shone at tackling, even showing no trouble in bringing down the Garden City behemoth, Melvin Mow. Robert Quintana did a fine job at nailing the Glasscock boys, throwing them for losses frequently. In fact, the whole team turned in an excellent job.

This was the first conference game for the Eagles, but they have a record for the season of six wins and no losses or ties. District victory is in sight, with only Forsan providing a stumbling block.

Doleful Senators Due Shock When Ike Wins, Fears Doc

One of the strongest Eisenhower men in our town is Doc Brown. Doc says he just can't put up with Stevenson's socialized medicine program; there are a lot of other things he doesn't like about Adlai, but that one is enough for him, he says. Doc is a pretty outspoken cuss, but he's a good doctor. At least, he's the best one in town, being the only one, and our people always call him when they get sick whether they like his politics or not.

The other day several of us were standing around in front of the post office, talking politics—some Eisenhower men and some Stevenson—when Doc walked up looking glum. One of the Stevenson men said: "Hey, Doc, what's the trouble, did Ike just call you in some bad news?"

Doc Brown said no, he hadn't heard from Ike this week, but he was worried.

"Not about Ike, you understand," he told the Stevenson fellow. "Ike has got it made. Even the Stevenson people are beginning to admit that. Poor old Adlai isn't going to get any farther in this race than he could throw Kefauver's coonskin cap with the tail cut off."

"The ones I am worried about are these out-of-state senators who are coming down here to Texas to tell us how to vote. I sure feel sorry for those boys. It must be tough to face life with their attitude."

"To hear them tell it, this country is in a terrible shape. All the farmers are starving, all the businessmen are going broke, and all the working people are just barely making enough to keep body and soul together. The only reason some little country doesn't step in and whip us tomorrow is that they know they can just wait a few days and the United States will fold up of its own accord. That's what I understand from listening to the visiting senators.

"Of course, they know how to correct the situation overnight. Elect Adlai, and let him abolish the H-bomb, and let Estes establish the Atlantic Union which he has made speeches about all over the country, and everything will be all right."

"These things are too important, of course, for these senators to waste time telling us Texans why they voted against the Texas tidelands bill."

"As a medical man, I am worried about the great shock these senators are going to get, after the election is over and Ike is re-elected and this country keeps on being peaceful, prosperous and progressive. It's liable to put them all in bed."

And Doc Brown walked on off, shaking his head. Of course, the Stevenson man caught on that Doc was hurrahing him, and he didn't like it much, but he'll still have to call him the next time one of the kids gets the croup, because like I said he's the only doctor in town.

Yours Truly,
Jex

Industrial Fires Hurt U.S.

A landmark in American industry went up when this Springfield, Ohio, plant was destroyed by fire earlier this year. This, reportedly, was the first sawtooth-constructed industrial building in the world. Although exploding drums of flammable liquids and insufficient hydrants hampered fire fighting, these were not the principal reasons that the building was totally destroyed at a loss of $250,000. The fire chief on the scene explained it this way: "A one-story frame metal clad building without a watchman, sprinkler system or automatic fire alarm system—what can you expect?" The National Fire Protection Association, sponsor of Fire Prevention Week this October 7-13, estimates that there were 37,600 manufacturing fires of all kinds last year that cost this country $188,674,000.

Farm Fire A Tragic Waste

Fire is bad business anytime and for everybody . . . but it's particularly bad on the farm where a family's livelihood and home are both at stake. When the barn above was totally destroyed by fire last year, the direct dollar loss to this Midwestern farm family was estimated to be $50,000. The real loss in terms of crippled earning power and one family's well-being can never be estimated. Total direct cost of fires to American farmers last year was estimated by the United States Department of Agriculture to be more than $150,000,000. The USDA and the National Fire Protection Association are co-sponsors of Fire Prevention Week, October 7-13.

Bees, Cheese and A Purse - Tales Of Strange Fires

Fire is seldom a laughing matter. However, it may give rise to an occasional smile as in the case of these recent fire-connected incidents from the files of the National Fire Protection Association.

A swarm of bees invaded an anti-aircraft battery in Milton, Massachusetts. The smudge fire set to drive the bees off flared and spread in the direction of piles of ammunition stored nearby. The men were busy as bees themselves moving 700 rounds of ammunition to safety while one member summoned the fire department. The bees, incidentally, retired to a nearby sycamore tree.

A man in New Mexico pulled a modern version of the mountain coming to Mohammed. He spotted a fire in the carport and utility room of a neighboring farm house. He raced to his bulldozer, drove it to the burning structure, hitched up, jerked the carport completely free and saved the home.

Little Miss Muffet liked curds and whey. What's why? It's the watery liquid left over when milk is made into cheese. And firemen in Menominee, Michigan, found it most helpful to have around. When their water supply ran out while fighting a cheese factory fire they promptly connected their pumper to a tank full of whey and extinguished the blaze.

Here's another Fire Prevention Week "don't": don't stand on top of manholes while lighting cigarettes. A man in Tulsa, Oklahoma, did and was blown 10 feet in the air. Apparently an accumulation of gas around the manhole was set off when he lit the match. He was not seriously hurt.

The secrets of a woman's purse were revealed in detail when it caught fire in a plane just before take off. Contents: several handkerchiefs, sheaves of tissues, can of hair spray, six packages of matches, baby's diapers, baby's bottles, automatic combination cigarette case and lighter, and $350 in cash. The lighter, which opened and lit at the touch of a button, caused the blaze. The purse was thrown from the plane and many of the articles including the money was recovered later, scorched but usable.

Of the nearly 1 million firemen in this country 900,000 are volunteers estimates the National Fire Protection Association.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Barnyard "WHOOdonit"

The Barn Owl Controversy still rages in our town. One group claims owls should be protected because they eat vermin. The other faction holds that those little howlers also eat chickens... and should be shot.

Now Pops Parker claims both parties are right. All owls clean up vermin. Some owls also clean out an occasional hen yard.

The way to spot a bad owl, according to Pops, is to put up a 10-foot pole in the chicken run with a No. 2 trap on it. A marauding bird generally perches to look over the situation before he strikes, giving you your evidence, and the culprit!

From where I sit, I doubt if this will end the owl argument. People have different opinions on the subject—just as they have different opinions about whether beer, tea or what-have-you makes the best thirst quencher. Examine the facts and make up your own mind, I say... and be thankful we live where that's possible.

An announcement of decisive importance to anyone about to buy a new automobile

The most exhaustive endurance test ever given an automobile has just been completed by two stock '57 Fords—identical in every respect with cars now being offered by Ford Dealers.

Under the supervision of the United States Auto Club and the Federation Internationale de Automobile, each of these two '57 Fords traveled 50,000 miles in less than 20 days. Ford No. 1 averaged 108.16 mph for the entire run... Ford No. 2, over 107 mph. These averages include time for all pit stops.

In all, the '57 Ford smashed 458 national and international records.

This test was run on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah... it was the longest left turn in history.

A car, like a man, is known by its deeds, not words.

That is why, we at Ford, despite our confidence in our '57 cars, let their deeds of accomplishment speak for themselves.

Therefore, we engaged an independent engineering organization to test our '57 cars more thoroughly than any other cars have ever been tested before—in this country or abroad.

We provided them with '57 Fords—cars identical with those now offered by Ford Dealers. The rest we left up to them.

Here is what they did:

They took these cars to the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah.

Here, twelve of the world's greatest drivers took over.

In relays they drove these cars night and day for a distance greater than twice around the world... a distance equal to 5 years of normal driving.

Not in all history has a man-built machine traveled so far in so short a time—by land or sea!

But this was not a test of speed—but of endurance of the "Inner Ford." A trial to take the measure of Thunderbird Y-block V-8 power without qualification of any kind. A test of running gear—of brakes, of materials in body and chassis. Of steering and roadability, yes, and comfort, too!

A test, indeed, such as no other cars have ever undergone, let alone successfully concluded.

Surely they have told you, in decisive terms, that they are worth more when you buy... and when you sell!

Your Ford Dealer will gladly place at your disposal the new kind of Ford that means a new kind of value for your car-buying dollar—the greatest the world has ever seen.
