City To Get Water From Jeff Davis Well

The City of Sterling plans to get water from the Jeff Davis well just west of town. The well was tested two years ago for strength, hardness and purity. It tested softer by two times that of the park well at that time, it was said. The well was tested for strength and was found to be strong enough for a city water supply, according to acting city engineer Hugh Dickson.

Three tests were put down in the town last week, and all were no good. One was put on the lot donated by J. T. Davis; one was put on a dead end street closer to the river; and both of them had salty water. Then the rig was moved on to a lot behind Jake Crossno's and the third test put down. It was not strong enough. Then the city council met with Davis and worked out a trade with him for the well on his place. The location of the well is one mile west of the city limits.

Work on the pump installation, etc. will start next week, said Mayor John Walraven. The Lane Texas Co. is doing the work.

Bid of the Moore Pipe-Line Construction Co. of Lubbock was accepted for the installation of the waterworks lines, etc. over the city. Moore had the low bid, which was $73, 139.35. Yet to be let is the elevated tank tower contract.

The Gene Alleys To Tell of Saudi Arabia and Show Films First PTA Meeting Next Thursday Night

The first meeting of the Sterling City Parent-Teacher Association will be held at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday at the school auditorium. A reception will be held following the meeting, announced Mrs. Dayton Barrett, publicity chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Alley will tell of their life in Saudi Arabia and will show films of that country and of other near East countries, it was said.

Rev. C. B. Stovall is scheduled to give the devotional. President Mrs. Alvie Cole will welcome the group on behalf of the PTA.

The theme for this year's programs is "New Ventures in Partnerships."

Officers this year include Mrs. Cole as president, Mrs. Ross Foster, 1st Vice-President; Mrs. R. T. Caperton, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. John Copeland, Jr., 3rd vice president; Mrs. Joe Emery, secretary; Mrs. G. C. Murrell, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Speck, historian; Mrs. Frank Milligan, parliamentarian; Mrs. O. T. Jones, music; Mrs. Dayton Barrett, publicity, and Mrs. C. L. King, publications chairman.

The year books will be presented and members enrolled at the next Thursday night meeting. Everyone is cordially invited and it is hoped a large crowd will attend to hear of the Alley's life in the near East.

Jodie Emery Elected Senior Class President

The senior class met Tuesday morning to elect officers and the class sponsor. Named were—Jodie Emery—President; Wilbur Stone—Vice-President; Karen Young—Secretary; W. G. Fincher—Treasurer; Jim Davis—Reporter. Sponsor—E. B. Hosea.

The class members would like to thank Mrs. Milligan, play sponsor, and those who turned out for the senior play. It was a success for us. Members of the senior class are selling magazine subscriptions and if you need one of your old ones renewed or a new subscription, get in touch with one of the seniors. The class netted $106.50 on the play Tuesday night.

SHOW TIME NOW 7:30 P.M.

The Palace Theater is beginning the nightly shows at 7:30 p.m., said Horace Donalson, owner. Time was changed from 8:00 to 7:30 P.M. on September 1, he said.

Showing this week is "Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison." It is a story of a shipwrecked Marine on an island occupied by Japs during the war. A nun has been left of the island and she and the Marine have a rough time hiding out from the Japs until the U.S. Forces land and take over the island.

THE YEAR'S ECONOMY TIDE, which flowed high at the beginning but ebbed somewhat as the session progressed, finally achieved a net out of nearly 10% below the President's budget estimates at the beginning of the session. A total of $6 billion was whacked from requests.

Some of this is paper saving. Some of it will be rubbed out by later supplemental appropriations. But all-in-all, the economy record of the session is worthy of some praise. At the same time, some unnecessary commitments for future spending were voted, and some old expensive and non-essential programs were continued.

For example, I led a drive to cut out the annual $50 million grants to the local communities to help them with their sewer systems. Spread over the remaining 9 years of the program, if stopped now and discontinued, the amendment would have halted a non-essential outlay which will total $450 million.

But that economy effort was a case where local pressures prevailed. Initially successful by a substantial vote margin, my amendment was voted down in final action two days later after an avalanche of telegrams flooded Capitol Hill from City Managers, Mayors, etc., whose appetites longed for more Federal checks.

But that is the way the ball bounces. The mammoth foreign aid request was cut by $1 billion—a half billion below the Senate's figure and the full billion under the Administration request.

Even though this trimming looks good, fiscal headaches continue. Bob Anderson, Secretary of the Treasury, has made it known to House leaders, that the present debt limit is being pressed severely.

The Sterling Public School opened here Tuesday, September 3 with a general assembly of students, teachers and patrons in the school auditorium at 9 a.m.

Enrollment Down a Little
With 158 enrolled in grade school and 53 in high school, enrollment is down a little from last year, said Jones. Late reporting students may soon make up the difference.

Superintendent O. T. Jones was in charge of the assembly and he gave the schedule, made all the required announcements and introduced the new teacher—Mrs. Lillian Werb, homemaking teacher. She will also handle the pep squad this year, it was said.

Marion Hays, Church of Christ minister, gave the invocation. Over 300 people were present for the assembly.

Members of the senior class gave some skits from the senior play—which was presented that night in the school auditorium.

Librarian From Kerrville
Mrs. Olga Seth of Kerrville is the new librarian at the school. She reported Wednesday of this week, said superintendent Jones. With Mrs. Seth's arrival, the faculty is now complete, said Jones.

SHOWER WET AREA

Sunday afternoon .35 inch rain wet down the county in favored spots, with some areas getting over an inch. Monday afternoon a light shower cooled things off in the middle of the afternoon. Early Tuesday morning (3:20 a.m.) about a quarter of an inch fell here in town and was heavier to the west.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Knight, Jr. of Lubbock were visitors at the H.M. Knights here over the week-end.

Wanda Williams, daughter of the C. T. Williamses, will re-enter Texas Tech when the fall term opens.

the action by the House in killing the multi-billion dollar school construction aid bill.

OVERSHADOWING THE picture was the passage of a so-called Civil Rights bill—the first of its type in 82 years. A hodge-podge which makes a farce of traditional right to trial by jury, the measure is recognized by all concerned as a political effort to corral certain minority votes—with both sides now claiming credit for the bill. And it's anybody's guess as to who will get the most credit—or blame. Senator Johnson deserves much credit for improving the bill in the Senate.

First Football Game Here Tonight

Coach Diddle Young's Sterling Eagles, regional champs of last year, open the season tonight with a game on the local field with the Ackerly Eagles. Game time is 8:00 p.m. and a large crowd of local fans is expected to watch the opening game.

Coach Young has twenty boys out for the squad, which is a large number in comparison with former years. Squadders include Lewis Petmecky, end; Wilbur Stone, back; Kenneth Fincher, end-center; Pat Murray, end; Bill Davis, back; Jimmy McCarty, center; Calvin Gaston, back; Jody Green, end; Robert Quintana, back; Melvin Foster, back; Jim Davis, end-back; Wayland Drenann, end-center; Tony Allen, end; Marvin Foster, back; Wayne Drennan, end-center; Danny Gonzales, back; Alfred Chapple, end; Don McDonald, back; David Drennan, center and Nathan Morris, end-back.

Football-Pep Squad Barbecue and Rally Held

Last Friday night the football-pep squad mothers club sponsored a barbecue rally for the boys and girls at the Nick Reed river park west of town. A large crowd of the football boys, pep squad girls, parents and interested fans attended the rally.

Barbecued goat, beans, salads, cake, tea and coffee composed the menu.

The Rev. Lewis Petmecky gave the invocation. Coach W. L. Young talked on football prospects for the season. Worth Durham, president of the school board talked to the assembled group, and school superintendent O. T. Jones acted as master of ceremonies.

Kent Jones, son of the O.T. Joneses, is keeping books for the CapRock Stone Co. in Lubbock. He will resume his studies at Texas Tech there when the fall term opens.

Fish Sticks Top A Casserole

By Betty Barclay

THERE are only four ingredients in this tasty, time-saving casserole—two come from the freezer, one from the pantry shelf, one from the refrigerator. Combine them for a delicious supper or lunch-eon dish.

Fish Stick Topped Casserole

1 package (10 ounces) Birds Eye Mixed Garden Vegetables; 1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup; 1 cup milk; 1 package (8 ounces) quick-frozen pre-cooked fish sticks.

Cook mixed garden vegetables as directed on package. Drain. Add soup and milk and mix. Pour into shallow casserole or baking dish. Cover and heat in a hot oven (425° F.) 10 minutes. Remove from oven, and place fish sticks in a single layer on top of vegetables. Then continue to heat, uncovered, about 12 minutes longer, or until fish sticks are browned and thoroughly heated. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

Local Business

No matter how good it is, a new product is rarely accepted readily by the public.

None of us rust out to buy a new mousetrap just because a better one has been invented. We buy only after advertising convinces us that the new mousetrap is superior to the old model.

The products of American industry—undreamed of luxuries a century ago—could not be distributed until advertising created new demands.

Many of us can remember when housewives claimed that automatic washers could not get laundry really clean. Advertising changed that notion and relieved the homemaker of hours of drudgery each week.

The television manufacturers could not sell TV sets until newspaper advertising sold the American public on the idea of listening to television.

Any woman or man, for that matter—who has washed a stack of greasy dishes is familiar with the virtues of modern detergents. Yet, remember, it took several years of consistent advertising after World War II to convince women that detergents would work.

The early communist government in Russia considered advertising to be an economic waste. However, the Russians found that people accustomed to doing without would not buy even necessities once they became available without advertising. Today, consumer advertising is common in Russia.

Advertising truly has a place in the creation of wealth. For the products which add to our wealth are not bought and used until they have been advertised. Even the Salk polio vaccine had to be widely advertised before it was consumed. Indeed, it would be difficult to name a major step in human progress that did not require selling through advertising.

Cyrus K. Holliday Recalls Pioneer Days of Railroading

Famous Antique Train To Be Shown In Dallas At State Fair of Texas

An antique train reminiscent of the pioneering days of railroading will be exhibited by the Santa Fe Railway at the 1957 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 5-20.

The famous old Cyrus K. Holliday locomotive, a replica of the original engine which hauled the first freight and passengers over the Santa Fe line in Kansas in 1869, will be brought to Dallas along with its two ancient wooden coaches.

The diminutive locomotive has the famous "diamond stack" with a brass eagle figurehead gracing the engine head, a big oil-burning headlight, brass fittings and other paraphernalia of the early days of railroading.

Although the locomotive is but a replica of the original, the present Cyrus K. Holliday ranks as a museum piece in its own right. Built in 1880, the old engine was subsequently downgraded to a switch locomotive and finally withdrawn after 60 years of active service.

Restored to its original appearance, the train has been used many times in movies of the old West. The engine still operates under its own power.

With the Cyrus K. Holliday, the State Fair will have on exhibition trains spanning nearly 90 years of rail progress. The Texas & Pacific Railway Company will exhibit its old retired steam locomotive No. 909 and one of its crack modern Texas Eagle streamliners. In addition, the Fair's Monorail line, only such system operating in the U. S., offers a sample of yet another type of rail transportation said to hold great promise for the future.

AROUND THE COUNTY by

ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

Four-H Club members are getting their lambs started on feed this month as fast as the lambs are found. This year it has been quite hard to find lambs to put on feed. The lambs are heavy and are big which is good for the rancher but it does make it hard to find show lambs. However, the lambs are in a good, thrifty condition and should make good feeders, which is good for the club members. It's much better that they be big, thrifty lambs than the drought stricken little fellows that the rancher has been plagued with for the last few years.

Club members at present who have at least one or two lambs are Reynolds Lee and David Foster, Cecelia and Jean McDonald, LeRuth Reed, Mitsy Davis, Clayton and Larry Stewart, Barbara Clark, Carolyn and Jerry Payne and possibly some who have found some lambs in the last few days.

Cross bred lambs are especially scarce this year and there is little hope for finding them anymore. Most of the blackface lambs all over West Texas were moved out in June at good weights which is good for the rancher. He needs that for the payment on the feed bill.

Slowly but surely we are finding finewool lambs. Maybe if we stay at it long enough, we'll find enough of them by getting one here, two there, and so forth. The fathers of the 4-H club members have done a good job of finding prospects and if they hold out, we'll make it.

Just about all the shows have released their show dates for the coming year. The Dallas Fair is first of course with the fat lamb show there scheduled for October 14 to 19. Odessa is next on the schedule starting on December 31 and ending January 4. Abilene follows with their dates set for January 13 to 17; Fort Worth opens on January 24th and closes on February 7. On February 3 El Paso opens its doors and closes on February 9. San Antonio opens on February 7 and closes on February 16. At present, we have not had any notice of the dates of the Houston show but according to custom, they should open the week after the San Antonio show closes.

Actually, first on the fall fair circuit belongs to the West Texas Fair at Abilene which opens on September 9 and closes on the 14th.

It is strictly a show for breeding animals however.

Reynolds Foster is putting up some good feed for the winter months this week. He is making silage of about 25 acres of irrigated feed that he has. Some of the feed, Sorgho, is making a tremendous tonnage per acre. On a weight test we made with him on some of the Sorgho a month ago, we weighed out 28 tons to the acre. This was made by cutting a small plot which was average for the Sorgho and then weighing it and multiplying the result by what per cent of an acre the plot was. There is room for error in such calculations of course, but the way it is cutting out this week it is making well over 20 tons to the acre. Some of the other feed, Hegari, is not making near as much, but it is making good feed also.

Reynolds, Ross and Rufus have had their hands full with the job since last Thursday. Making silage is quite a bit of work when it's ready to go into the pit as several men are needed for such jobs as driving the tractors and wagons hauling to the pit, packing the silage with a tractor, and of course one man on the cutter. Length of haul determines just how many people are needed and in this case Reynolds is fortunate as he has a very short haul.

Cucumber, cantaloupe, and watermelon vines are being attacked by heavy infestations of plant lice or aphids. The little creatures suck the sap from the vines and cause the honey dew which so often is the downfall of these vine plants.

Aphids can be controlled by spraying or dusting with malathion. Malathion however should not be used if anything is going to be harvested from the plants in ten days. Another control measure is a nicotine spray which can be used to control aphids. Fruit or vegetables can be harvested and used within three days of the time nicotine is used.
