The Penalty of Efficiency

AROUND THE COUNTY

ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

Colorful Colorado isn't so colorful today—Monday with the clouds hanging right down to the ground. It has been misting rain all day and part of Sunday night too. It's the first rain that has fallen since we've been in Fort Collins although it has rained in the mountains several times.

Speaking of the mountains, here's one that will help to cool things off a little. Two couples in school here decided to drive up in the mountains Saturday and take the drive over Trail Ridge Road in the Rocky Mountain National Park. They got part way up the road and got caught in a snow storm. Before they got to the top they found a place to turn around and did so. As soon as they started back down, the highway department closed the road to all traffic. Three mountain passes within 50 miles of Fort Collins were closed Saturday evening.

Congratulations to L. F. Hodges on having the high selling ram at the Rambouillet Ram Sale last Thursday. Also to David Durham for purchasing this excellent ram.

Last Tuesday the summer school group here took a tour of the Wyoming Hereford Ranch at Cheyenne, Wyoming. Cheyenne is just 40 miles from here. On the way up to WHR a name it is known by, the group made a short stop at the Warren Livestock Company located on the Wyoming—Colorado state line. They have 350,000 acres on which they run cattle and sheep.

At WHR we saw part of the cowherd and some of the bulls they are using as well as their show strings—two of them—and the bulls they are getting ready for their annual sale this fall. The ranch normally runs about 2700 head of cattle, all registered. The ranch itself comprises about 60,000 acres. The headquarters of the ranch is very nice with excellent facilities.

One of the bulls we saw was one they bought in England a few years ago for $45,000. The bull, Vern Diamond, was brought over by plane at a cost of $15,000. His weight at present is 2055 pounds.

Another of their herd sires

we saw was Target 43rd. He is another ton-plus bull, weighing 2165 at present. The ranch has a number of bulls they are performance testing also. One of the young bulls we saw is presently gaining just a little over 4 pounds a day.

The area around Longmont, Colorado, is dotted with feedlots. This area is about 20 miles from Fort Collins and last Thursday afternoon the group of 291 took a tour of several of the lots and an alfalfa dehydrating plant. The first feedlot we visited was one of about average size for the area. They were feeding 2000 head of heifers, nearly all of Texas breeding. Heifers are fed because the people running the lot have a demand for this type animal. They are brought in at around 400 pounds and got out in 6 to 7 months at 800 pounds.

The other feedlot is one of the biggest, if not the biggest, in operation in this country today. It was the Montfort lots located near Greeley. They presently have 32,000 head of cattle on feed now. In the feedlots there, they feed either heifers or steers. Again, the majority of the cattle they feed are Texas cattle. Their reason, and the first lot stated the same thing, is the fact that they can get excellent cattle in Texas any time of the year. The Montfort lots feed between 65,000 and 100,000 cattle annually.

Both lots feed cracked shelled corn, barley, linseed or flax meal along with green chopped alfalfa or chopped grass hay when it is available. When green chop is not available, silage is fed. The Montfort lot silo has a capacity of 50,000 tons, enough to last them about 7 months.

Both tours were very interesting. Of course all the Texas agents were happy to hear Texas cattle favored so much and made sure that some of our eastern and midwestern cohorts knew it.

Visiting in the Forrest Foster home this week was Ruth Giddens of Rio Vista. Melvin Foster had been visiting Miss Giddens and family there over last week-end, and she returned home with him for a visit.

LIONS OFFICERS INSTALLED HERE TUESDAY NIGHT

Installation of officers for new officers of the Sterling City Lions Club was held at a ladies night program Tuesday night. Alvie Cole was installed as president, succeeding Fred Igo, outgoing president.

Chesley McDonald Speaker

Chesley McDonald was the speaker for the installation and program. Ranging from humorous to serious, McDonald kept the crowd amused and pleased with his remarks. On the serious side, he gave a dissertation on "MY HOME TOWN" which read as follows:

"My home town is the place where my home is situated, where my vote is cast, where my children are educated, where my neighbors dwell, and where my life is chiefly lived. It is my home—My town has a right to my civic loyalty. It supports me and I should support it. My town wants my citizenship and not my partisanship; my friendliness, not my dissension; my sympathy, not my criticism; my intelligence, not my indifference. My town supplies me with protection, trade, friends, education, schools, churches, and the right to a free moral citizenship. It has done some things that are better than others; the best things I should seek to make better; the worst things I should help to suppress. Take it all in all, it is my town, and it is entitled to the best there is in me."

Fifty-four persons were at the dinner and program. A number of guests were present, being brought by members for the program.

Out-going president Fred Igo presided at the meeting. Leroy Butler acted as tail-twister for the evening.

Officers were installed as follows:

Alvie Cole—president
Leslie Payne—1st vice-pres.
Darrell Flynt—2nd vice-president
Arthur Barlemann—3rd vice-president
Bill Crews—secretary
Lewis Petmecky—Lion tamer
Henry Bauer—tail twister
Directors—Earl A. Biley, Dr. W. J. Swann, Jeff Davis, Roland Lowe and Fred Igo.

Calf Roping Here July 11th

There will be a calf roping at the Sterling City Rodeo Pens on the night of July 11, said Alvie Cole, president.

A two calf average roping calls for a $17 entrance fee, said Cole, who is president of the Sterling City Rodeo Association. There will also be a jackpot roping.

Fresh calves will be used in the July 11 roping, ropers are assured.

Beginning at 8 p.m. that night, admission will be 50c for adults and 25c for children.

Good Rains This Week in Sterling

HOSPITAL NOTES

Patients in the Sterling County Hospital on Thursday morning of this week were—D. P. Glass, W. H. Spraggins, Sam Duncan, Mrs. Bill J. Cole. Dismissals since Thursday morning of last week include—Mrs. Charles Probandt and infant son, Victor Roy; Mrs. Don Martin and infant son, Marvin Louis; Bobby Cuninghame; Damon Etheridge; Ray Carr; Mrs. W. B. Atkinson; Luis Bernal, deceased; Neill Munn, deceased.

LAST WEEK the House approved a conference report, previously also cleared by the Senate, on a mammoth housing bill, described by observers as a real budget-buster. It may be vetoed.

The $5.1 billion measure (erroneously reported in the press to cost only $1.3 billion) was more than three times the size of the President's recommendation. It okayes 190,000 additional public housing units. These units cost the taxpayers $40 each per month for 40 years in subsidy. The federal subsidy for this public housing will total $3.7 billion. We already have a half million units.

For good measure the bill removes the present ceiling on what a public housing occupant can make and still be eligible to enjoy the subsidized rentals each month—that is, having part of the rent bills paid by the taxpayers each month even though the tenants may, under this new philosophy, make $10,000 a year or even more.

This new policy gets away from the principle of housing for the needy, and would put Uncle Sam further and further into the field of housing which when not related to need is a form of state socialism. And if it becomes law will put the government deeper and deeper in the red.

A RECENT Report by Congress condemns the Secretary of Labor for proposed regulations under the Wagner-Peyser Act, which would require farmers with respect to agricultural employment to submit to regulation and control by the department over farm housing, transportation, wages and hours, and related matters. This action, contained in an appropriation bill report, directs that no funds be used to carry out any such proposal by the Secretary. This is a victory for farmers and ranchers, if the Secretary abides by the wording of the report. It is believed he will hesitate to do otherwise.

AMONG Visitors in Washington last week were Emzy Swaim of Eden and District Attorney and Mrs. Douglas Newton and Cecil Adams of Del Rio. Swaim was here to receive a certificate emblematic of his service as an Honorary Member of the Lincoln Sesquicentennial Commission. Newton attended to business in the Nation's capitol.

Most of the week has seen rainfall over the county and it has eventually hit all parts of the county. The most general fall was Wednesday and Wednesday night (or rather early Thursday morning) leaving from an inch to two or more. Coupled with the showers that have cooled the section the first part of the week, a lot of good has been done.

Although not enough rain has fallen here yet, things are looking up all time for summer grass and grazing prospects. The city itself did not get any decent amount of rain until early Thursday morning, but showers have fallen over a several day period.

Best rains have been reported to the south and southeast sections of the county. Up to three and one-half inches have fallen in favored spots.

Ranchers are facing the summer in the best condition in many a year with plenty of grazing feed on the ground.

Fruit salads are such satisfactory foods—they're pretty, nutritious, good to eat and easy to prepare. So—serve them often! Even a salad as simple as this one—which combines cheese and coconut with peaches or apricots—can substitute for a main dish when served with a hearty soup, hot breads and dessert. NOTE: For a delicious and exotic touch, try flaked coconut, toasted, on a mixed vegetable salad, too.

Coconut Peach Salad
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese
Dash of salt
2 tablespoons canned peach juice
1 teaspoon lemon juice
8 canned cling peach halves, drained
½ cup Angel Flake Coconut
Mash cream cheese with fork until softened. Add salt, and stir in fruit juices gradually; then beat until cheese is light and fluffy. Fold half of coconut into mixture. Fill center of each peach half with about a tablespoon of cheese. Sprinkle with remaining coconut and decorate with a bit of maraschino cherry. Serve on lettuce, if desired. Makes 4 servings.

Variation: Fill canned unpeeled apricot halves with mixture of cream cheese beaten with a little apricot juice spiked with lemon juice. Sprinkle with flaked coconut.

Mr. Tax-payer:

Which of these pipes will your city use?

The use of cheap substitutes, such as foreign-made cement-asbestos pipe, is wasteful and means probable replacement in a very few years. (This pipe was taken from a Texas city's water system. Photo is unretouched.)

Texas-made Lone Star cast iron pressure pipe will last over a hundred years!

Officials of most Texas municipalities know that when they buy and install cast iron pipe they are helping to support the American economy and the high standard of living we all enjoy. They are buying products made in America for use by Americans. They are not fooled by the slightly lower initial cost of foreign goods because they realize that this "paper savings" will be more than offset by the cost of excessive maintenance.

Domestic cast iron pressure pipe is time-honored, centuries-proved, and is backed by strong, resourceful American companies that will be in business for years on end to guarantee their product.

Really, who backs foreign-made pipe? Who answers for it when it fails? To whom will the few ill-advised pipe-buyers look for the answers to these questions when trouble develops? Were they penny wise and pound foolish?

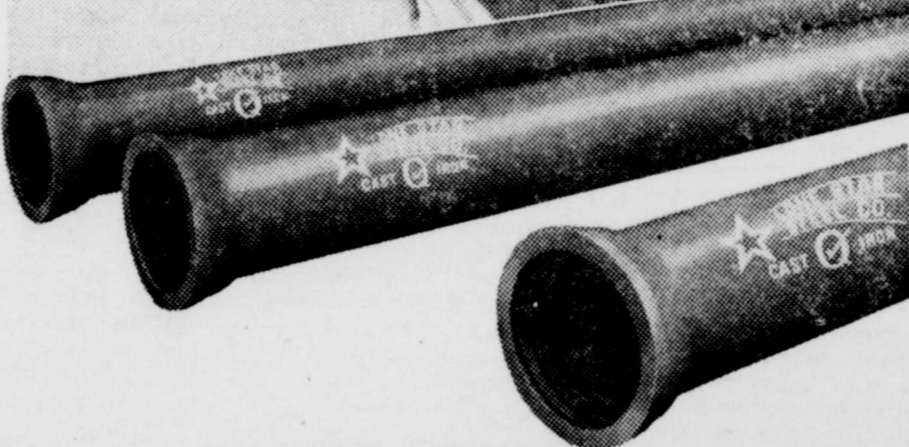

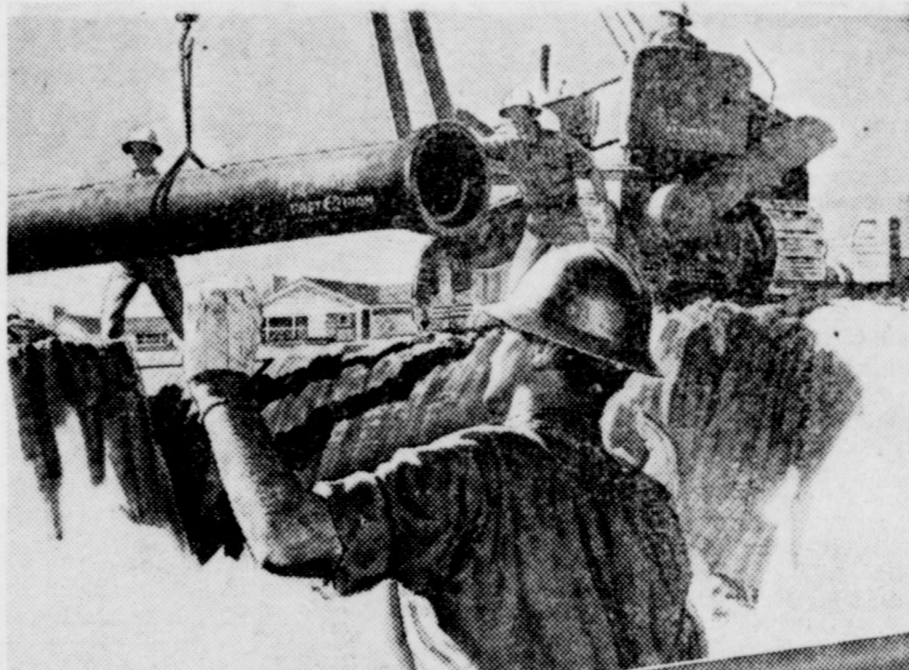

Take a look at some of these important factors back of the initial price tag, then pick up the telephone and call the first city official you think of and tell him you appreciate his good judgment in buying American-made cast iron pipe with your tax dollars. If he has been buying Lone Star pipe, tell him that we, too, appreciate the business!

VACATION TIME IS FRIED CHICKEN TIME

By JANE ASHLEY

Has fried chicken become the national summer vacation dish? Many Americans will tell you so, and you'll find many ways to fry chicken in case you want to make a survey. Whether you coat the chicken in batter, crumbs, or flour most cooks agree that a refined vegetable oil such as Mazola corn oil is essential for perfectly fried chicken. The chicken should be crisp, golden brown in color, bland in flavor, well cooked inside and the surface free from excess fat.

Home Style Fried Chicken

Cut broiler fryer chicken (2 1/2 to 3 lbs.) into serving pieces. Season flour for coating with salt and pepper. Coat chicken pieces lightly and evenly with seasoned flour. Pour corn oil to a depth of 1/4 inch in fry pan. As a guide use about 1/2 cup in a 10-inch fry pan and 1/2 cup in a 12-inch skillet. Preheat oil over medium heat before adding chicken. Correct frying temperature is 375°F. and it takes about 8 to 10 minutes to preheat in the average weight fry pan. Fry chicken to a golden brown on the bottom side before turning. Use more corn oil if needed for the larger chicken. Turn and continue cooking, turning occasionally until chicken pieces are tender and browned, 15 to 30 minutes.

Remove chicken and drain on absorbent paper. If chicken is large, cover after browning and cook slowly until tender.

Chicken Gravy

Adjust amount of corn oil in the fry pan to make about 1/2 cup. Add about 1/4 cup of the seasoned flour from the coating for the chicken. Blend well with browned particles in fry pan. Add 3 cups milk slowly, stirring constantly. Bring to a boil and boil about 2 minutes. Add more salt and pepper, if needed. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

Solution to Breakfast Problem

Having a problem getting the family up for breakfast? In this age of electronic miracles, the gadget shown above is suggested as a logical solution.

It will arouse the sleeper, in more ways than one, but once up, he can help establish good eating habits for the family.

Strong measures (maybe not to the extent shown above) are necessary, according to leading doctors and nutritionists who have studied the subject, to insure that breakfast will not be the day's most neglected meal.

Breakfast, according to those diet authorities, should supply about one-fourth to one-third of the daily food requirements. They point out that the "let's skip breakfast" people prove to be less alert, less efficient and more susceptible to fatigue than those who eat a good morning meal.

The human body is so constructed that for maximum health it requires fairly even intakes of food at regular intervals. You can't make up for the lack of a good breakfast.

People who are troubled in holding the right weight should eat a good breakfast. If they neglect breakfast they may eat too hearty a lunch or dinner. And they just might have a snack or two between meals.

What constitutes a good breakfast? The foods essential to the day's first meal include fruit or fruit juice, cereal, milk or other beverage, and several slices of toast. Eggs and breakfast meat frequently should be included.

These foods are necessary both for children and adults. They supply the nutrients essential for the physical and mental stimulus for work—and play.
