Tolk Operates On Coal 1st Time Tuesday

Checking Process On 24-Hour Basis

Commissioners Approve Housing Corporation

In a specially called session, Bailey County Commissioner's Court passed an order Monday, August 2 to approve a resolution approving the creation of "South Plains Housing Finance Corporation." They also approved the articles of incorporation and appointed the initial directors thereof; and containing other provisions relating to that subject.

Board of Incorporators which were appointed for Bailey County include E. T. Ford, George Neiman and Darrell Turner. Ford was also selected to serve as director on the Regional Council which will supervise the program and set policies.

The bottom line of this corporation according to Judge Glen Williams is an effort to try to generate the means of providing financing, building, or the purchase or sale of homes at a lower rate of interest. The plan is a public non-profit housing plan and is administered by SPAG. According to the basic plans, financing arrangements will be made through the issuance of tax exempt bonds for the purchase of or building or sale of houses. The bonds will be issued at 13 percent tax exempt interest, and will be underwritten by major insurance companies, so that they will be guaranteed loans.

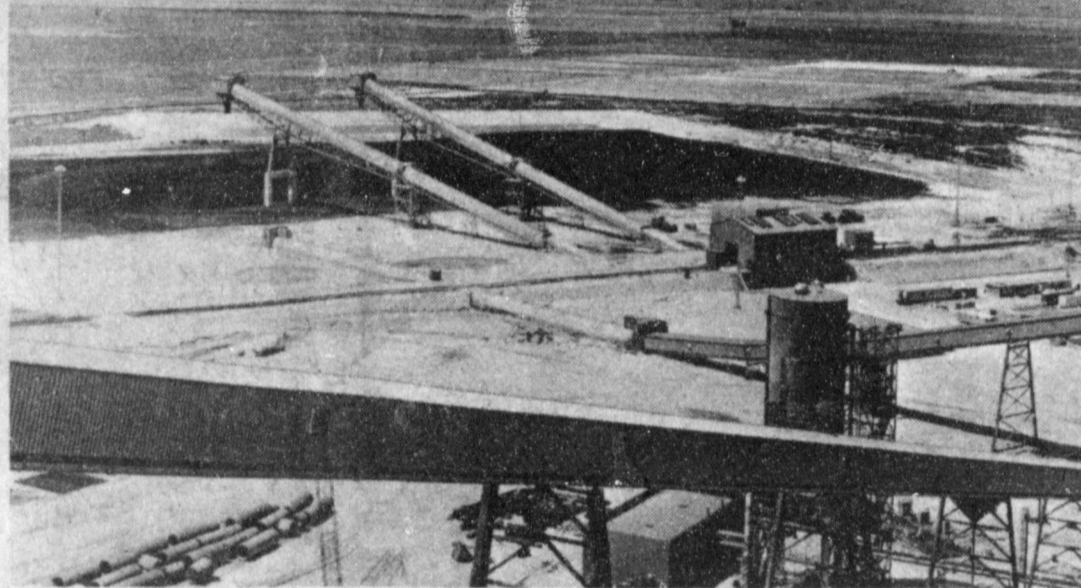

This plan is made possible because of the old economic development act, which made federal funds available to revitalize and stimulate county growth.

Bailey County is eligible for these new funds due to the fact that they were qualified under the old EDA act, and the same actual act helped the county to get the $500,000 which was needed to build the hospital in Bailey County.

The seller of the property will be responsible for finding a buyer and then the process will be taken to the county and then to regional directors.

There are many aspects of the plan that are still in the working and will be finalized as soon as all information is made available. According to Judge Williams, the applied for funding program will go before the board on the county level and then before the regional board. If the loan process is approved, the loans will be handled on a 15 year basis at 13 percent tax free interest.

The South Plains Housing Finance Corporation is made up of the 15 counties in the SPAG region, being: Bailey, Cochran, Crosby, Dickens, Floyd, Garza, Cont. Page 6, Col. 1

17TH STORY VIEW--This photo which was taken from the 17th story of the Tolk Unit #1, shows the area where coal is unloaded from the trains and moved by the two conveyor belts to the stockpile area. The temperatures atop the unit at that altitude was about 110 degrees.

The Tolk Plant, 10 miles east of Muleshoe, made history Tuesday when they generated electricity with their coal burning facility for the first time ever. Ben Green, manager of the Tolk Station said they would continue to burn coal later into the evening and through the night. The coal will be burned now on a day to day basis; however, there at times will be a mixture of gas and coal for awhile.

The fly ash emission that was mentioned some time ago began on Wednesday, and shortly thereafter the environmental control of the fly ash will be put into operation.

"There is no reason to be concerned about the "Smoke" which will be seen coming from the plant's 400 foot boiler stack said Green. The emissions will be harmless fly ash and will puff from the stack for only a short time, said Green. Fly ash is the unburnable mineral content of coal. Green said. It is material that will be collected with greater than 99 percent efficiency by our environmental containment equipment, under routine operating conditions, Green said.

This is the culmination of four long hard years of work said Green. Not for just any one entity, but for the Missouri Valley, who are the mechanical contractors, Budwine Electrical Contractors, Young Insulators, Gulf Coast Cooling Towers and a lot of other smaller contractors and design and construction operations people.

Green stated that several more months of work remain to be done in order for the plant to be fully operational. The plant does now, however generate the electricity for it's own operations and also puts some into the main lines. "We have finalized four years of construction with about an average amount of problems. When we go fully operational with coal, no gas will be used except that which is used in the start-ups and shut-down operations of the plant. The final construction of Tolk Unit #1 will be in excess of $200 million dollars when completed and the projected cost of the two units should surpass $500 million upon completion.

Carlton Jobert, who is the operations trainer at the Plant told the Journal that the six bunkers (or coal storages) hold approximately 900 tons of coal which is fed onto a conveyor belt and has to be the consistency of fine powder in order to be used in the ignition of the boiler. This is where the coal is ignited with gas and then as the heat load is stabilized, the coal is implemented and the gas shut down. The heat in the boiler or furnace reaches a maximum of 3500 to 4000 degrees Fahrenheit. The boiler walls are lined with water filled covering which generates the steam.

Jobert says that the plant is now running on a 24 hour basis with some management, maintenance, engineers, electricians, etc., working around the clock to get the plant into final operational stages.

State Mixed Drink Tax Rebates Up 18% From 81

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Monday said collection of the state's 10 percent mixed drink tax during the second quarter of 1982 was up 18 percent over the same period last year.

Bullock said the state received $35.9 million in taxes on the sale of mixed drinks during the second quarter of this year.

He said his office is sending checks totaling $10.4 million to 215 counties and 407 cities as their share of the gross receipts tax on mixed drinks for the second quarter.

The state's general revenue fund will receive the balance, $25.5 million, of the tax money collected.

The 15 percent mixed drink tax remittance for Bailey County for the second quarter of 1982 amounted to $544.17 with total county tax revenue reaching $3,627.79. The figures were the same for the City of Muleshoe.

In Cochran County, total county revenue for mixed drinks was $5,635.63 with the 15 percent county remittance being $845.34. Total city revenue for Dimmitt was $4,183.32 with the city's 15 percent remittance being $627.50. In Nazareth, also in Castro County, total city tax revenue was $529,41. Total city remittance of 15 percent for Nazareth was $79.41.

Cochran County had only a county tax revenue and that was in the amount of $813.40 with the county's 15 percent remittance being $122.01.

Total county tax revenue for the County of Deaf Smith was $13,629.49 with the county's remittance of 15 percent being $2,044.42. The same figures applied for the city of Hereford.

In Lubbock County total mixed drink tax revenue for the second quarter on mixed drinks was $607,220.69 and the county's 15 percent remittance amounted to $91,083.10. Total city revenue for Lubbock was $596,512.81 and the 15 percent mixed drink tax rebate for the city of Lubbock was $89,476.92. In Slaton, also in Lubbock County, the total city tax revenue for mixed drinks was $6,915.73 and the city of Slaton's 15 percent remittance was $1,037.36.

In Parmer County, mixed drink tax remittances for the second quarter were $226.40 with the county's 15 percent share being $33.96.

Texas cities and counties each receive a 15 percent rebate of the tax collected Cont. Page 6, Col. 7

Biggest Budget Surplus In Texas History Noted

State Comptroller Bob Bullock unveiled the biggest budget surplus in Texas history Thursday, but warned "there are thorns among the roses."

The record $1.3 billion budget surplus will mean the Legislature will have $5.1 billion available for spending in January 1983, over and above what was available in January 1981. "This surplus is the result of the good times we have had," Bullock said in a capitol press conference. But the Comptroller cautioned Texans that "the growth we are predicting today is substantially less than we have seen in the past 10 years."

Although Texas is the "flagship of the United States economy," and has fed the nation in the creation of new jobs, Bullock said, "The recession has come to Texas. Our economy has begun to slow down. We are beginning to see significant drops in some major revenue sources."

High School Teachers Attend Writers Workshop

Jamey J. Thrasher and Pat M. Black, two local high school teachers, attended the Panhandle - Plains Writers' Workshop on July 29 and 30. It was sponsored by Wayland Baptist University in Plainview, Texas.

As encouragement for workshop participants, contests were held in the areas of fiction, non-fiction, and poetry with first and second prizes awarded in each division. In the poetry contest second place and $10 went to Jamey J. Thrasher of Muleshoe for her poem, "18," and Pat M. Black received honorable mention for her poem, "Sandstozin."

The workshop featured such leaders as Elmer Kelton, author of 25 western historical novels, including "The Time It Never Rained" and "The Day The Cowboys Quit;" Katharyn Duff, former "Page One" columnist for the Abilene Reporter-News and author of several books and numerous articles; Jerry Craven, professor at West Texas State University, poet, playwright, author and editor of Separate Doors, a journal of contemporary poetry; and Linda Craven, a freelance writer - photographer who is on the editorial staff and writes a regular column for Stepfamily Bulletin and whose latest book, "Stepfamilies: New Patterns for Harmony," will appear in October.

Other area writers leading workshop sessions were Bee Zeeck, Kathy Strawn, Don Cook, Juanice Myers, Audrey Boles and Roy Kornegay.

Mimms Makes '82 Spring Dean's List

Quentin Mimms, a sophomore accounting major at Lubbock Christian College, was among 146 students named to the Dean's List for the spring 1982 semester.

It took at least a 3.50 grade point average to make the Dean's List and Mimms compiled a 4.00 grade point average for 16 hours.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Mimms of Muleshoe has a composite 4.00 grade point average for 79 hours Cont. Page 6, Col. 6

Rotary Hears Austrian Exchange Student

The Muleshoe Rotary Club met Tuesday with their special guest being the Rotary Exchange student from Austria, Katharina Heldwein. The young lady presented a program which told of her travels in the U.S. She has been to North Carolina, Denver, Colorado and will next go to Seattle, Washington to spend about ten days. From there she will go to San Francisco and New York and then back to her homeland. Katharina spoke on the differences of the lands and commented on the flatness of Texas. She stated that Vienna had six Rotary Clubs and that Austria had 55. Ms. Heldwein also told the Rotary that German is the language of Austria. She also spoke on the cities, products and festivals in Austria and the government. She stated that since October, 1955, Austria was no longer occupied. Cont. Page 6, Col. 4

Hance Applauds Legislation Aid For Wheat, Grain Growers

U. S. Rep. Kent Hance, D-Texas, today applauded the action of the House Agriculture Committee in passing legislation aiding wheat and feed grain growers.

The committee approved a package to revise federal grain, dairy, rice, cotton, and food programs, and to cut federal spending by $4.6 billion over the next three years. The committee was required, under the First Congressional Budget Resolution passed earlier this year, to trim $3.79 billion from its programs.

"Under the circumstances, the committee did a super job," said Hance. "The programs for wheat and feed grains show that the committee recognizes the problems plaguing the agriculture community. The problem comes down to price and this legislation will reward farmers for setting acreage aside and at the same time raise price supports.

"I would have preferred a much stronger cotton program," continued Hance. "Today, the Agriculture Committee gave the Administration the program they said they wanted. It's now up to the USDA and the Administration to make any changes. I would have preferred the changes to be mandated by the law rather than to be left to the discretion of the USDA."

Under the legislation passed out of committee today, cotton is covered under a program which would be activated only if the Secretary of Agriculture decided than an acreage re-

Around Muleshoe

Bob Graves, manager of the Muleshoe City Swimming Pool has announced that the pool will close on Thursday, August 19 at 7 p.m. for the year. So all you gals and guys who haven't made to the water this year need to get on the ball, before the time is too late.

The Muleshoe Athletic Boosters are asking that any ex-varsity Mule player who does not want to keep their "yard signs" bring them to the High School Gym and turn them in or bring them by Tom Bratcher's house at 614 East Austin Street. This is an effort on the Booster's part to save on funds for the coming year.

The Muleshoe Young Homemakers will sponsor youth skating on Friday, August 6 from 7 to 10 p.m. in the Bailey County Coliseum. Admission will be $1.

The conference was held at the Hilton Palacio Del Rio Hotel in San Antonio. The four day event was co-sponsored by the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association.

Theft investigators from thirty-six western states were in attendance. The school was held to acquaint Cont. Page 6, Col. 7

UNIT #2 STRUCTURAL SKELETON--The structural steel on the Unit 2 at Tolk is about 100 percent complete; however, only about 1 to 2 percent of the actual construction has been done. Projected completion date for Unit #2 is July, 1985.

CONTROL ROOM OPERATIONS--On Tuesday, the big control room at the Tolk Station was filled with officials and workmen, checking out the process of the first coal fired electricity which was done on that day. A battery of controls tells the workers what is or is not working and has auto-natic shut-downs in the event of any mishap.

Cambridge Diet Not Affected By FDA

Cambridge Plan International announced on July 22 that the Cambridge Diet will not be affected by recent FDA Low Calorie Diet Regulations.

The FDA Proposal, under consideration for nearly five years was made public on Friday, June 18, 1982. Designed to protect the public from certain high protein reducing diets, the regulations stem from the "liquid protein" experience of 1977-1978. Unlike "liquid protein" the Cambridge Diet is not a high protein diet. It is a balance of carbohydrates, fat and protein.

Cambridge Plan officials are gratified by the FDA decision not to include the Cambridge Diet in its new labeling regulations. The FDA has recently reviewed the safety record of the Cambridge Diet.

Service Award Recipients Sought

In April of this year KAMC-TV awarded the first Golden Service Award to John and Porferio DeLeon. These two off duty Lubbock police officers rescued several victims from a burning car crash.

The Golden Service Award is presented by KAMC-TV, Channel 28, to persons or organizations which perform outstanding service to a community, group or a person.

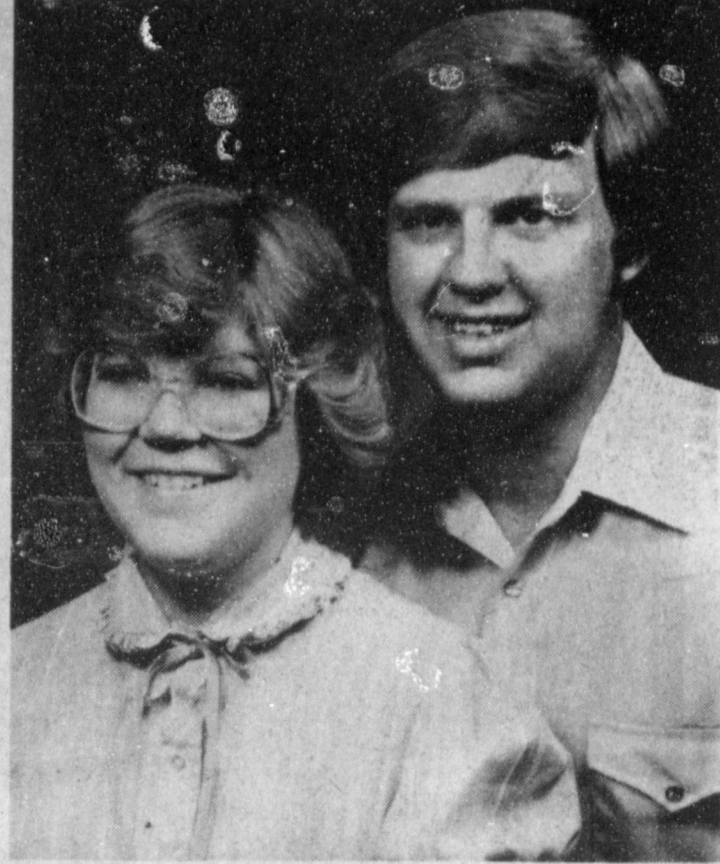

Bill McAlister, who is the President and owner of KAMC, said "to often groups or individuals who perform outstanding acts towards communities or his fellow man, never receive the recognition they deserve. Our station will seek out and publicly honor these groups and persons," McAlister said, "and that's where the general public can help."

KAMC is asking for nominations from anyone, anywhere in the South Plains area. Those selected will be publicly honored and will receive an engraved plaque. "The Golden Service Award," McAlister said, "is simply to honor those organizations or persons who perform acts of kindness without a thought of who gets the credit."

Nominations, in writing, may be sent to KAMC-TV, Box 2805, Lubbock, Texas 79408.

Mrs. Chester had left the keys in the auto and when she returned, the auto was gone. The stolen vehicle was later located in Lubbock and recovered by Lubbock Police. Prints were taken from the auto before it was returned to the owner, however, there are no suspects in this case.

duction program would be needed for the 1983 crop. If such a program is proclaimed by the Secretary, 25 percent of the required reduction would be covered by acreage diversion payments based on a rate of 25 cents for each pound which would normally be produced on a retired acreage.

"Chairman Kika de la Garza and committee member Charles Stenholm are to be applauded," added Hance referring to the two Texas Democrats who sit on the Agriculture Committee. "Cutting programs represents a tough, yet necessary, task."

The legislative package, which now goes before the House for consideration, also includes a program for the 1983 wheat crop under which growers who agree to put 25 percent of their base acreage into conservation would receive acreage

First Coal Electricity

As far as the construction of the second unit, the structural steel is about 100 percent complete; however, the entire unit is about one or two percent complete and a target date for completion of the second unit has been set for July, 1985. "Right now, only the skeleton of the second unit is standing," says Jobert. We have just received the steam drum for the second unit (which acts like a tea-kettle) and it should be put into place soon."

Low sulfur coal is still coming in in rail cars each week to add to the stockpile of 1,296,000 tons that it will take to give the Tolk Plant the 90 day stockpile that they will require to be able to run fully on coal. Water and gas are supplied to the Tolk plant from Pant to the Tolk plant from Plant X which is a SPS plant near the Tolk Station.

Tolk Station is the second coal fired plant designed and built by SPS. The first was built in Amarillo some six years ago. Each unit should have the capacity to provide electricity for the Texas Panhandle and as far north as the Texas-Oklahoma border. It has the capacity of supplying electricity to a city of 450,000 people. However, officials explain that all of the electricity generated will be fed into a general transmission systems and will be used as necessary to supply various parts of this country with the electricity needed.

"Right now, we are still in the process of making sure that every part of the plant, each piece of the equipment we are using meets the standards that we need and that the manufacturers say it will," says Jobert. So far, Tolk Station has had a minimum of trouble and looks for an early date for full coal powered electricity.

The mixed drink tax is collected by the Alcoholic Beverage Commission and out Texans do not pay corporate or personal income taxes and have not had a tax increase since 1971. "Last year alone," Bullock said, "31 other states burdened their citizens with higher taxes."

Bullock announced the surplus with an official revenue estimate, which the Texas constitution directs him to make for each session of the Legislature and "at other times as may be necessary to show probable changes."

Bullock noted an expected drop in federal funds coming into the Texas Treasury will make other revenue sources more important to the state budget in years to come. He cautioned those involved with the investing of state funds and leasing of state lands to "be looking closer than ever to make sure these important revenue sources reap the greatest possible benefits for the state."

Hospitals To Intervene In Rate Increase Request

In an effort to keep hospital cost increases to a minimum, the Texas Hospital Association has joined with some 30 groups in intervening in Southwestern Bell's request for a major rate increase.

Bell is requesting approval from the Public Utility Commission for an increase of $471.5 million. It is anticipated that the majority of those increases will fall on the shoulders of businesses within the state, and particularly on hospitals which make up one of the largest industries and are some of the largest users of telephone service in the state.

"Hospitals have an obligation to take whatever measures necessary to reduce expenses, in an overall effort to reduce health care costs to all Texans," THA President O. Ray Hurst, CAE, said.

"Hospitals in the state and across the nation are being closely scrutinized to cut health care costs," Hurst said, "and they cannot be expected to cut cost without reducing their own operating expenses.

Hearings on the proposed increases will begin on September 1, and THA is expected to present its case before the Public Utility Commission in the latter part of September or early October.

THA is the Austin-based trade association for hospitals in Texas with over 800 institutional and 4,500 personal members.

Research shows salary secrecy may limit sales

COLLEGE STATION — A marketing professor whose research suggests lifting salary secrecy improves the performance of salespeople says the problem now is finding firms with enough guts to try it.

"If firms eliminate salary secrecy, they'll probably find out that it increases sales," said Dr. Charles Futrell of Texas A&M's College of Business Administration. "But if it does, then they probably wouldn't tell anybody."

In a study involving the measurement of job satisfaction and work performance among 508 salesmen at a pharmaceutical firm, Futrell found salesmen's performances were improved when they could compare their salaries with that of their colleagues.

The experimental pay plan allowed 152 of the company's sales representatives to know high and low merit raise amounts and overall averages. In addition, the salesmen could go to their supervisor and learn specifically who got how much.

In a follow-up study a year later, Texas A&M researchers learned salesmen within the experimental group increased their work performance, had higher salary satisfaction, were more satisfied with promotion policies and their work and they expressed more satisfaction with their co-workers.

The Last Straw

The enraged tenant called his landlord and shouted: "The walls of the house are bulging more each day. Just what are you going to do about it?"

"Hm-m-m," came from the landlord. "As I see it you're getting more cubic feet for the same rent. I'll have to raise you accordingly."

LP-Gas Tanks Need Maintenance

If you are one of the one million Texans who depend on lp-gas for heating, air conditioning or cooking, long summer days are a good time to think about routine maintenance of your lp-gas tank.

"Few people realize that an lp-gas container needs proper care to last," said Hugh Keepers, director of the Liquefied Petroleum Gas Division of the Railroad Commission. "They are very costly and a few simple maintenance steps can save consumers the cost of replacing their tanks."

Start your summer maintenance by giving your tank a coat of good quality, white metal paint. Aluminum tanks don't have to be painted. The reflective surface helps reduce the temperature in the tank, keeping pressure from building up. Painting also protects the container from rust and corrosion.

Make sure your container is mounted correctly. Lp-gas tanks should always be level, above ground and mounted on a masonry foundation. Never allow weeds or sand to collect in the area between the tank and the ground. Proper ventilation keeps moisture from collecting and helps avoid corrosion.

Never place a tank inside or next to a building. State law requires that tanks be placed a minimum of 10 feet from a building. A licensed lp-gas dealer can't fill a container that doesn't meet this requirement.

The manufacturer's name plate on an lp-gas container is very important. It assures the consumer that the container was designed to meet safety rules. A licensed dealer can't fill a container that doesn't have this nameplate, and the information on it, visible. To protect it from rust and corrosion, put a heavy coat of grease or a clear, acrylic sealant over the plate.

These simple steps will insure the safe operation of your lp-gas tank and add years to its life.

The doors of "BurSinger Fashions" opened for business August, 1976 with Latrell Hysinger and Elaine Burgess in partnership. This partnership was dissolved in March 1977, changing the name to "Latrell's Fashions."
Kanetha Hysinger Foster has been working with her mother since Latrell became sole owner of the business. First as a DECA student and continuing on full-time after her graduation and marriage.
The store was enlarged in August of 1978 to accommodate the expansion of the infant, infant gift, children's, pre-teen and junior departments.
August 13, 1980, Latrell purchased the Merle Norman Cosmetic Studio and moved it from downtown to the present location (1519 W. American Blvd.) Latrell and her daughter, Kanetha, attended the official Home Office Training of Merle Norman Cosmetics in Los Angeles, California. They attended regular seminars on the latest cosmetic fashions and skin care sponsored by the company. The Grand Opening for "Latrell's Merle Norman Studio" and the addition of ladies fashions was held April 23-25, 1981. Latrell felt that the clothing and cosmetics would work well together and make shopping more convenient for her customers.

Irrigation Pumps & Power

Irrigation Pump and Power opened their doors for business on West Highway 84 on March 1, 1977, with Don McElroy as manager.

The manager says they doo all types of pump work, as well as sales and service.

"We do all phases of pump and turbine pump work with emphasis on proper pump application which will lower the energy cost of pumping water," said McElroy.

McElroy added that he spends a lot of time checking production capability and draw down levels on wells. Providing this information allows proper selection of turbine pump bowl assemblies and eliminates guess work which is one of the more common causes of inefficient pumps, he explains.

In the fall of 1980, the company became active in parts and service on center pivot irrigation equipment and in September, 1981, they became the dealer for Lindsey Zimmatic Center Pivot. They have a complete line of parts and are capable of full service on all center pivots. They have the best inventory of Gifford Hill Center Pivot Parts within 70 miles.

Following is a complete list of parts and service:

- Pump Sales & Service
- Bailing
- Drilling
- Electric Motors & COntrols
- Flow Meters
- Center Pivot Parts & Service
- Shop & Field Welding
- Electrical Contracting
- Complete line of irrigation accessories.

The Texas Consumer Association Education Fund's Report from Austin

By Rebecca Lightsey, Director

He was mad -- and frustrated.

He'd been ripped off and there was not a thing in the world he could do about it. The District Attorney told him it wasn't a criminal matter they could handle anytime soon. All the attorneys he talked to told him it would cost more and take longer than he could afford. The legal system just couldn't help him. He'd simply have to swallow his anger.

Naturally, this made him madder. Added to his anger about being ripped off, now he's mad at the District Attorney, the courts and the attorneys who won't help, and all his friends who tell him he's just overreacting. That's a lot of anger and frustration to ignore. So what started out as a minor problem now has made him pretty hot and bothered -- with no place to turn.

That scenario could be touched off by hundreds of situations many of us have faced:

*the car wash broke your antenna and won't pay to have it fixed;

*the neighbors' kids keep raiding your garden;

*your old roommate won't give your stereo back to you.

The legal system is too expensive and time consuming to handle these "minor" problems. But we all agree, to the people who are in those situations, the problems aren't minor. They are valid, pressing problems that deserve attention, before they get out of hand.

That's why Houston and Dallas have started the Neighborhood Justice Centers. There, you aren't asked to suppress your anger; you're given a way to solve the problem.

The relatively simple, inexpensive, efficient set-up is producing impressive results. Here's how the centers, which are nothing more than an informal alternative to settling "minor" disputes out of the courtroom, work: the person with the problem contacts the center. The center then contacts the other party and schedules a hearing. At the hearing, a trained mediator listens to both sides of the story and then asks the parties how they think the dispute should be resolved. Amazingly, with the guidance of the mediator, the parties almost always discover a way to settle the problem that they both think is fair. The mediator doesn't come up with a solution; the agreement comes from the parties themselves.

The centers handle a variety of disputes -- consumer/merchant, landlord/tenant, domestic relations, employee/employer, neighbors etc. -- with a phenomenal success rate. It's easy to see why they are successful when you look at their advantages.

First, the process is informal (you don't have to go into a courtroom) and quick (usually the mediation takes place within a couple of weeks). And, unlike going to court, the parties have a way to sit down and discuss the problem without a win/lose dilemma; they get to solve their own problem. Then because they've worked out a solution they both think is just, both sides live up to their part of the bargain. And it's free to the participants with a bonus to taxpayers. The cost to the centers averages $20 a dispute, compared to $250 which it would have cost taxpayers for a typical court case.

At present, Houston and Dallas are the only two Texas cities with centers in operation. But Austin, San Antonio and several other cities are working on setting them up. If you'd like more information on how the centers work, or on how to get one started in your community, write the Committee on Alternative Methods of Dispute Resolution, State Bar of Texas, P. O. Box 12487, Austin, Tx. 79711.

SBA Called On For West Texas

U. S. Senator John Tower (R-Texas) today called upon the Small Business Administration to assist businesses in West Texas communities bearing the economic impact of disastrous agriculture losses this year.

"The survival of West Texas communities is largely dependent on agriculture and in light of the catastrophic damage to the cotton, wheat, corn, barley and grain sorghum crops, many small businesses in the affected communities face tremendous economic hardships," Tower said in a letter to SBA Administrator James C. Sanders.

Tower asked Sanders to activate the Economic Injury Disaster Loan Program authorized in 1981 legislation, and to extend and restructure current outstand-## did you know?

We at Southwestern Public Service Company are forecasting now how much electricity you'll use today, tomorrow, next week, next month, next year, even 5 and 10 and 15 years from now. We take the forecasting job seriously. It tells us how much electricity to generate for you in the next few hours or few days. It helps us decide how much fuel to buy. And forecasting helps us decide when, where, or if we should build new power plants.

Grafton Clarke, Fuel Planning Senior Engineer, Amarillo.

School is out, and youngsters are out and about. Their safety concerns us, as it does you. We recommend this important warning about power line danger: Never climb a tree which is near electric power lines. There may be power lines among the branches. If the lines were touched, tree-climbing fun would turn into tragedy.

Mike Costello, Safety and Claims Specialist, Roswell.

Bob Whipps, District Manager, Seminole.

Everyone, including SPS, is affected by high money costs. When we borrow money at today's high interest rates, or sell stock, people are actually letting us use their savings to build new power plants and lines and to buy equipment. If we do not pay the going "wage" for their savings, people will stop letting us use their money, and our ability to deliver the electricity you need will be limited.

Knowing what electricity is worth is worth knowing. For answers to your questions, call or write your SPS manager.

Equal Opportunities Available At Schools

Title IX is a term that's not likely to spring to mind when talk turns to opportunities for women, but it should. This particular legislation, passed ten years ago, has done much to change what schools offer women students and what women may expect from schools.

Title IX became law in June 1972. It prohibits sex discrimination at schools and colleges receiving federal funds. The act is one of the major moves to improve the status and opportunities for women.

Since Congress passed the law, the number of women studying medicine, law, dentistry and other subjects awarding graduate degrees, has risen dramatically.

Title IX guarantees similar counseling and testing for students of both sexes. It also encourages students to choose careers which at one time might have been termed "non-traditional" for a man or woman.

Because of Title IX, schools and colleges offer more girls and young women the chance to take part in all sports programs. Through sports, girls develop an appreciation for hard work, learn self-respect, teamwork and leadership skills. More than 10,000 young women are now attending college on athletic scholarships, including many who could not afford to go without this assistance.

For more information on Title IX, please write to the Project on Equal Education Rights, 1112 13th Street NW, Washington, DC 20005.

Insurance Requirements Set For Bus Companies

The Railroad Commission has approved for public comment proposed new minimum insurance requirements for motor bus companies.

The proposed amendment to current regulations contains a $500,000 combined single limit for bodily injuries to or death of all persons in any accident, and for loss or damage in any one accident to property of others.

The proposed changes would have no effect on the minimum coverage for cargoes, which is $5,000.

The current minimum insurance requirements for persons injured or killed in any one accident varied between $100,000 and $300,000, depending on the seating capacity of the insured vehicle. The minimum for bodily injuries to or death of one person is now $25,000, and the property damage limit, excluding cargoes, is now $5,000.

Rory McGinty, assistant director of the RRC's Transportation Division, recommended publication of the proposed rules in the Texas Register at a public conference on Transportation Division matters.

He said that the insurance coverage needs to be increased to offset increased costs for medical care and repairs or replacement for damaged property.

Comments on the proposed changes should be submitted to Walter Wendlandt, Acting Director, Transportation Division, Railroad Commission of Texas, P. O. Drawer 12967, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas, 78711. Comments will be accepted for 30 days after publication in the Texas Register.

Highway Department Gets New District Manager

Ben A. Alley, assistant district engineer of the Austin district, has been named district engineer for the 17-county Lubbock district. Mark Goode, engineer director, State Highways of Director, State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, Austin, announced the appointment today. Mr. Alley will assume his new position on August 1, 1982.

Alley, a 29-year veteran with the department, will replace the late C. W. Nall, Jr., who suffered a fatal heart attack on July 9.

A native of Brady, Texas, Alley began his highway department career in 1954. He progressed in his career through several responsible engineering positions with the Austin district and was named assistant district engineer in December 1973. He has served in that position until his appointment to the Lubbock district this week.

A veteran of U. S. Navy service during World War II, Alley attended Tarleton State College and in 1950 graduated from the University of Texas at Austin with a B.S. degree in civil engineering. He was named Engineer of the Year by the Travis Chapter of the American Society of Professional Engineers in 1979 and in 1980 was awarded the Gibb Gilchrist Award for excellence in highway engineering.

Alley and his wife, Peggy, have two children: Ben

PROGRESS IN MEDICINE

Many of America's 10-12 million diabetics can now lead freer lives. Pregnant diabetics can now carry their babies safely to full term.

That's because of a revolution in the way diabetes is handled. Doctors are now teaching their patients how to check their own blood sugar levels and then how to make the necessary adjustments to diet, insulin and exercise.

The patient must first prick a finger and obtain a drop of blood (it's virtually painless). The blood is then put on a chemically-treated strip called Chem-strip B.G. which was developed and produced by Bio-Dynamics, a Boehringer Mannheim company. After 60 seconds, the excess blood is wiped off. After another minute, the colors on the strip are matched to a chart on the test kit's container.

The color remains fixed for as long as seven days. A diabetic can do several days of testing and then bring the strips to the doctor for review of the necessary changes in lifestyle.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Dear Editor:
You can't believe everything you hear from Washington—if you did you'd lose your mind—so I don't know what to make over the trouble with Congressional pages, the youngsters who run errands for Congressmen and Senators and make $8,000 a year for the part-time work.

Some say the fault lies in the fact the pages don't have a government-financed dormitory, where they can be better supervised. But I say the blame goes further back than that.

It starts in the home. Any parents who'd turn a 14-year-old child loose in the midst of Congressional politicians is just not thinking straight. Don't they know that a kid's environment, his associates, in his formative years has a lot to do with the development of his moral character?

Why, there are grown men who can't maintain much character in Congress. How do you expect a kid to do it?

I have never understood the need for pages in Congress. I understand they run errands for members, like bringing them newspapers or going after an absent-minded member's bifocals or a glass of water or carrying messages like where the poker game is tonight, etc.

I have seen Congressmen on television and a lot of them look like they ought to be running their own errands just to get the exercise. When you can buy meals at half-price in the Congressional restaurant the temptation to over-eat is hard to resist, although members have established a safety valve. They can go to a government-financed hospital at greatly reduced prices. Congress has whipped the high cost of food and medical care. For Congressmen.

I have a notion that Congress will attack the pages moral problems by voting to house them in a multi-million-dollar dormitory, with strict supervision. If it works, you reckon a supervised dormitory for Congressmen would be worth a try?

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Education—Our Money's Worth?

In my travels over Texas, it has become clear that Texans rate crime, the economy, and the education of their children among their principal concerns.

This week I would like to discuss education. As the father of six children, this has long been one of my principal concerns also.

We currently spend over half our tax revenue on education, and many people raise the question to me: "Are we getting our money's worth?" The questions put to me indicate some think we are spending too much; others, not enough.

I too am concerned about the amount of money we spend on education, but I am more concerned about the quality of that education. I believe the quality of education our children receive can be improved by making some fundamental changes in the way we pay and treat our teachers.

I believe in merit pay for teachers. Frankly, I think good teachers ought to be paid more than poor teachers. A good, conscientious teacher cannot help but become discouraged and disillusioned when he or she ends the month with the same pay as one whom they know to be indifferent. The result is apt to be that they leave the teaching profession altogether.

I also think we ought to enter a system of competency testing not only for new teachers, but for those who are currently teaching. We test our kids, why not also test those who teach them?

In short, I think we ought to bear down on the basics, relieve our teachers of burdensome paper work now placed upon them, and recognize and reward our better teachers with better pay, for the sake of our children, and our future.

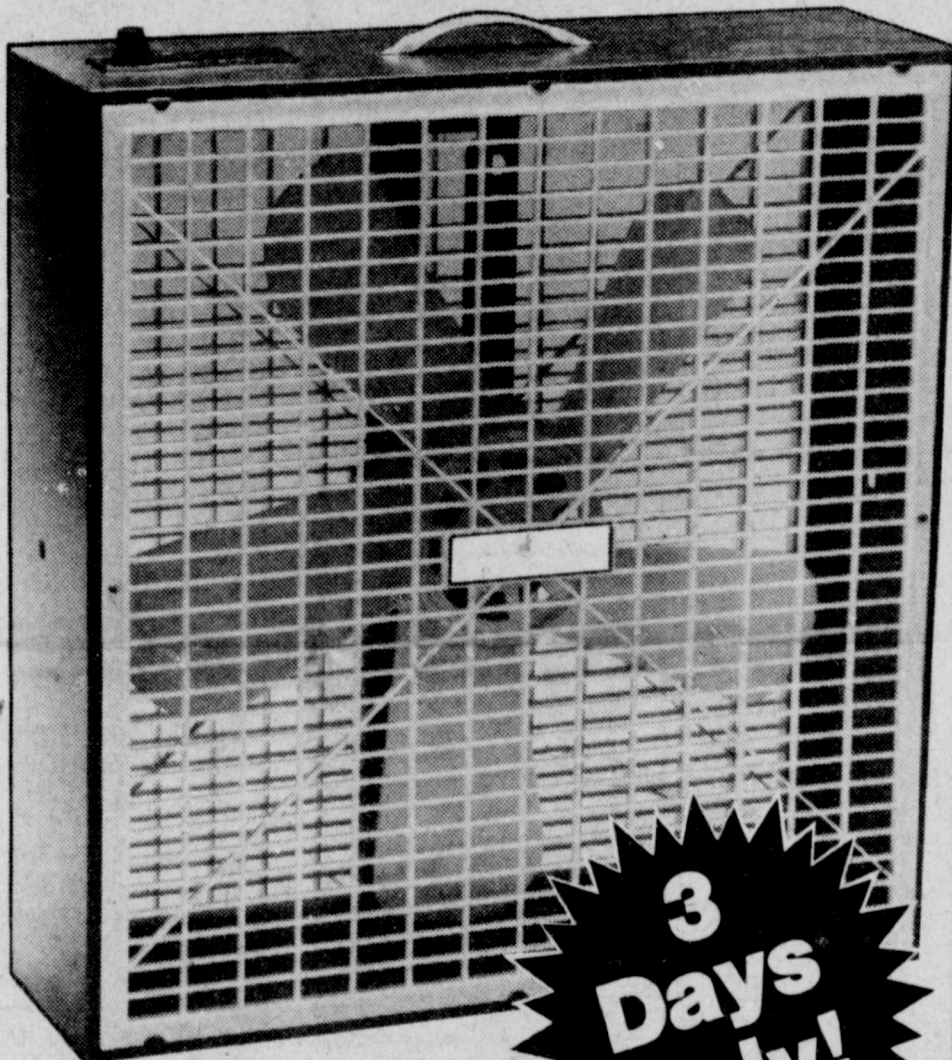

If you have thoughts on this subject, I would welcome them. Just write to me at 1213 W. 34th in Austin, 78705.
