Final Certification Scheduled March 11

According to the Bailey County ASCS Director, Rusty Williamson, March 11, 1983 is the Last Day to sign intentions into all ASCS programs. This sign-up date includes the 80 percent program (regular farm program), the regular PIK (Payment-In-Kind) program or the whole base PIK contracts. Williamson says that no exceptions will be made regarding this date. "Many producers have to obtain landlord's signatures, and these are a part of the contract and also have to be in our office by March 11. Those producers who fail to acquire these signatures and submit them to the county office on all regular PIK contracts will not have a valid nor acceptable contract."

The deadline of March 11 is specified in the PIK contract and is a government regulation. There will be no extensions on this program sign-up. The ASCS office will close that day at its regular time of 5 p.m. Williamson says that no changes have been made in the PIK contract that affect the farmer or producer; however, at any rate, there is a clause in the PIK contract that allows for change in it if it affects a farmer detrimentally.

Williamson stressed the importance of early sign-ups due to the fact that "you don't just come in and sign your name, it will take you a while to get everything figured and done that needs to be done." "If we processed forty applications per day from now until March 11, we would have a chance of processing all of Bailey County." He strongly advises area producers to get in early and not wait until the last minute to get this business taken care of. A producer who waits could end up holding the bag - not being in any type program at all for 1983.

Williamson has issued some other reminders to local and area producers regarding dates of importance in their farm operations. These dates are final, and if a farmer mis-

New State Officials Support Farmers, Rural Programs

More than 500 Texas Farmers Union members and friends attending Texas Farmers Union's annual convention in Austin January 20-22 heard the state's newly-elected top officials pledge their support for farmers and rural programs, including the TFU Green Thumb employment program for older workers.

TFU Green Thumb employes more than 1,000 rural, low-income elderly persons in schools, senior centers, libraries, and museums in 111 counties across the state.

New Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower said Texas farmers are "innovative, productive--and they are broke. Thousands are staring bankruptcy in the face. We can't have an economic recovery in this country until the farmers recover."

Hightower promised to work with farmers and farm communities to bring about some changes. "We worked with you to save the Green Thumb program," he said, referring to successful efforts to maintain Green Thumb funding in the face of proposed budget cuts. "That's one battle we won."

Hightower recognized that the larger problems facing farmers would require immediate and concerted action. "It's time to raise less corn and more hell," he said.

Governor Mark White, in his first major address on farm policy since taking office, expressed his solid support for family farmers, the "Biggest and most efficient producers in the United State."

"One thing we do better in Texas than anywhere else on earth is produce food and fiber," White told the farm group. "We just can't let you go out of business." The governor said he was planning to work closely with Hightower and other officials to advance the farmer's cause.

Also addressing the convention were Congressman J.J. (Jake) Pickle of Austin; Texas House Speaker Gib Lewis; Attorney General Jim Mattox; State Treasurer Ann Richards; and Texas Farmers Union President Mike Moeller.

Moeller, elected to a second two-year term by convention delegates, said Green Thumb had been a vital part of the Older Americans Act for years.

Laney Named To Assembly On Legislature

State Rep. James E. "Pete" Laney, D-Hale Center, has been appointed to the Assembly on the Legislature for the National Conference of State Legislatures committee by House Speaker Gib Lewis.

The Assembly on the Legislature is a principal forum for the exchange of ideas and information among state legislatures. The Assembly is composed of six committees, and each committee is comprised of one member and one alternate from the Senate and House of all fifty state legislatures.

"I am asking Rep. Laney to bring his knowledge -- both as a State Representative and as the Chairman of the State Affairs Committee -- to the Assembly on the Legislature's State Government Issues and Organization," Lewis said.

Laney has served five terms in the House, and he serves on the House Administration Committee. "He will be a valuable influence as an appointee to the Assembly on the Legislature," Speaker Lewis added.

"People came together as never before to fight the fight to save Green Thumb," Moeller said, "and the main reason we won is the Green Thumb workers themselves."

Pickle told the farmers that "Green Thumb is a great program and you (Farmers Union) ought to be proud to sponsor it."

SAVERS WARNING

NEXT, THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT IS GOING TO WITHHOLD TAXES FROM YOUR SAVINGS INTEREST AND DIVIDENDS. . . .

The recently passed tax bill will require us to withhold and forward to the Internal Revenue Service 10% of the interest you earn on depository accounts, certificates, and dividends. It will require unnecessary paperwork, and your personal loss of these funds during a critical time in our economy.

A vigorous campaign to convince Congress to repeal this 10% withholding tax is urgently needed. To be successful, this campaign will require the help of each and every one of our valued customers.

Our bank, along with financial institutions across the United States, is working to change the law. We feel that it is unnecessary, unfair, and unjust. The federal government is already receiving all the information it needs to curtail tax cheating.

We urge you to join our efforts by writing letters to your representative in Congress and to the two senators from this state. Tell them you want the 10% withholding tax repealed, because it would impose an unfair penalty on savers like yourself.

For assistance in contacting your representative and senators please ask any of our bankers. If we all act now, Congress will get a clear message from the voters back home, and they will work to repeal this needless law.

Arthritis Cost Billions Each Year

A disease with 31.6 million victims is stalking America. All those victims are in pain. A quarter of a million of them are children.

This disease costs Americans 26.6 million days lost from work each year and has a total impact of $14 billion on the economy. It affects one family in three. It cannot be cured.

Besides causing the pain and the inability in many victims to perform even the simplest tasks, this is a disease that attracts quacks of all kinds who prey on the unsuspecting with flashy claims and assurances of "cures." Worthless treatments cost sufferers over $1 billion a year.

Despite all this, however, most Americans who are not affected think of this disease as a syndrome of -- as the TV commercial puts it -- "minor aches and pains." Those who are affected know better. This is a chronic, incurable, frequently crippling, always painful disease which claims a million new victims a year. Its name: Arthritis.

There are several types of Rheumatoid arthritis, the most severe type, is also the most painful and the most potentially crippling. Primarily it attacks the joints, but it can also cause disease in the lungs, skin, blood vessels, heart or eyes. A physician can perform several blood tests to assist in diagnosis. Treatment is tailored to each patient's individual need.

The most common of all forms of arthritis is osteo-

Prizes To Be Awarded In Poetry Contest

Poems are now being accepted for the sixth annual poetry contest sponsored by CSS Publications. The top 150 poems will be published in a book of poetry to be released this coming fall.

The theme of the contest is "human emotions" and is open to all ages. Cash prizes totaling $100 will be awarded for the best poems.

Poets should submit their poems to CSS Publications, P.O. Box 23-Q, Iowa Falls, Iowa 50126. A nominal entry fee of $3 per poem is required. The deadline is March 15.

CSS Publications' fifth volume resulting from the annual poetry contests, The Whisper of Dreams, was released in 1982 and contains 200 poems by 160 poets from 26 states across the nation. Last year, CSS Publications also published The Rhyme & Reason of Curt Systma.

arthritis which does not affect the whole body, but attacks the joints, most particularly those that bear weight: the hip, the knee, and the spine. Also frequently involved are the end joints of the fingers, the base of the thumb and the big toe. With osteoarthritis the cartilage coating the bone ends disintegrates. The number one symptom is pain. The next most common symptom is loss of mobility in the joint.

Patients are treated with aspirin and/or other drugs, physical therapy, heat and other aids. In extreme cases surgery may be indicated to replace joints. Sometimes braces, splints or crutches are necessary to provide support and help relieve pain.

A third form of arthritis is systemic lupus erythematosus, commonly called lupus or SLE. This disease, which affects five times as many women as men, attacks the connective tissues of the body. It causes a variety of symptoms such as fatigue, weakness, loss of appetite and anemia. A facial rash is frequently one of the first signs of the disease. Later there are inflammation and pain in the joints.

Because lupus is a disease in which a person's immune system appears to be fooled into attacking his/her own body, it is a potentially a very serious disease. Early diagnosis and treatment are very important.

Although victims will have the disease all their lives, sometimes symptoms will temporarily disappear in what is known as a remission. Remissions may last from weeks to years.

The kind of arthritis affecting children is called juvenile rheumatoid arthritis or JRA. Although the disease usually strikes at about age seven, it occasionally occurs in the first year of life. Children have to deal with the same problems associated with the disease as adults do: pain, stiffness, swelling and deformities of the joints. They require the same kinds of treatment including medication, heat and exercise therapy and sometimes braces, splints and crutches, or even surgery.

Fortunately about 70 percent of childhood arthritis patients outgrow their disease and reach adulthood without major joint damage or physical disability. Relatively few suffer severe aftereffects.

There are a number of other arthritis-type diseases which cause pain and restrict activity. In spite of treatment and medication, essentially the life of the arthritis victim is one of coping with the limitations imposed by the disease.

There are numerous devices and gadgets available to make such activities as buttoning a blouse or tying a shoe easier. Strategies for opening a door when the finger joints won't work well enough to grip a door-knob have to be thought out. Several excellent books and pamphlets on self-help are available through The Arthritis Foundation, 1962 34th Street in Lubbock.

Study Club

The Muleshoe Study Club met Thursday, Jan. 27 at the First Christian Church, with Mrs. Joe Costen as hostess. Mrs. T.R. White gave the program on Federation. The following are some of the things she discussed.

How did Federation begin? In 1890, as reported by the New York Times, 67 delegates from womens clubs in 18 states convened in New York and adopted a constitution for General Federation of Womens Clubs, which now numbers approximately ten million members in 46 countries.

A long journey begins with a simple step and each step there after increases the momentum that carries one closer and closer to its destination. A building begins with a single brick and with subsequent addition of others, bound with a cohesive ingredient, rises to become a magnificent structure. Historically, this is a nation of volunteers. We were founded by volunteers. Volunteers wrote the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. A volunteer made the first American flag.

As members of G.F.W.C. we have within our grasp a unique vehicle through which we can improve the life of our communities.

Did you know that 80 years ago there were fewer than 2,500 public libraries in the United States? G.F.W.C. volunteer clubwomen throughout the country are responsible for the establishment of 75 percent of over 14,000 public libraries in the United States.

In 1906 they threw themselves behind the fight for the passage of the Pure Food and Drug Act. From 1952 to 1954 G.F.W.C. Clubwomen raised over $200,000 from their own fund raising activities for the restoration of the ground floor of Independence Hall to its exact appearance in 1776.

Mrs. Costen adjourned the meeting and served refreshments to: Mrs. Betty Jo Carpenter, Mrs. A.C. Neely, Mrs. Charles Shain and Mrs. White.

The next club meeting will be Feb. 10 with husbands and friends as guests for a Valentine covered dish dinner.

WID YOU KNOW?

You don't have to be a writer to enjoy these facts about signatures:

The highest price ever paid for a signature on the open market was $100,000 for a brief receipt signed by Button Gwinnett (1732-77), one of the 56 signatories to the Declaration of Independence.

An expense account by Paul Revere, dated Jan. 3, 1774 and signed by John Hancock, was auctioned for $70,000 at Sotheby Park Bernet in New York City.

Mercedes dealers are taking part in a unique new program, called Signature Service, using signatures to convey a personal commitment to customer satisfaction. They believe that a mechanic who signs for work done will want that work to be of the highest quality.

The greatest feat of autographing was performed by L.E. Chittenden who, in 48 hours in March of 1863, signed 12,500 bonds worth $10 million.

Education should be considered an endless affair.

Color In The Home Key To Successful Decorating

Color is the key to successful decorating, and the most effective and least expensive decorating tool.

Color can make a small room look larger, a narrow room look wider and an uninteresting room appear exciting. You should choose colors that both you and your family like," suggests Dr. Peggy S. Owens, housing and home furnishing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Hue, value and intensity all describe color. "Hue is the color itself. Hues are warm (reds and yellows) and cool (blues and green). Value indicates lightness or darkness of a color. Intensity refers to brightness or dullness. Color schemes should have a combination of warm and cool colors, dull and bright and dark and light. Warm colors give a feeling of coziness while cool colors are more formal," Owens says.

Work toward a color plan for the whole house—even when decorating just one area. Decide on a color scheme, stick to it, and use it throughout the house, letting one color dominate. Use no more than two or three colors in your plan, she recommends.

"When assembling a color scheme, begin with the walls, since they are the largest area in the room. Soft, neutral colors are best here. Dark values are appropriate for floors and rugs. They give stability. Draperies and large upholstered pieces can be brighter in color," Owens says.

Pattern or design should be used carefully, with one dominant pattern recommended for a room. Scale of design also should be in keeping with the size of the room, she adds.

Accent colors are usually the brightest, she emphasizes, and are used in accessories and for interest.

"For each room to be decorated, consider how the room is to be used. Avoid clutter in color and furnishings. Collect and study samples of fabrics, color chips and carpeting. Let your color scheme reflect your personality and lifestyle," Owens suggests.

that operators or owners were not negatively affected by the announcement of the PIK program.

"We just cannot stress enough, the need for producers to get signed up in these programs this year," Williamson stated. "We have been notified that there will be no extensions, nor exceptions made for any farmer."

Another of the dates to remember is that of February 15, 1983. On that date, a base or proven yield appeal along with the submission of production evidence may be filed. February 15 is also the last day to submit a change in farming operations (combining farms or splitting farms) if it is to be effective for the 1983 crop year. Neither base or proven yield appeals nor farming operation changes will be acceptable after February 15, 1983.

According to the ASCS Director, not too many program sign-ups have been completed as yet. "A lot of farmers are asking questions and have come in to talk about them, but have not yet signed-up," Williamson said. He mentioned that most farmers should be able to put a pencil to their PIK plans by now, since the majority of 1983 cotton yield notices have been received. Also, producers are reminded to turn in cotton production as soon as possible if they want a 1983 cotton yield.

All crop rent changes that occur for 1983 will need to be reviewed by the COC in order to determine the DPS. He paid a $200 cash bond and was released. Mariano Perez was arrested on February 6 on charges of DWI and possession by DPS officers and was later released to authorities.

Windbreak Seedlings Available

Some species have been sold out, but it is not too late for West Texans to purchase several varieties of windbreak tree seedlings for the 1982-83 planting season, which ends in late March.

The Service's West Tex-

Friena Falls

To Mullettes'

Attack

The Varsity Mullettes trounced the Friena women here in Muleshoe on Friday night to the tune of 48-35, and will end up their season of play this coming Friday, February 11 in Muleshoe against the Tullia Varsity Girls.

Coach Robert Brandon says that the keys to the girl's win against Friena was an extra strong quarter in the third on defense, wherein they allowed only four points against them. The Mullettes were strong also on rebounds-as strong in fact as they have been all season-with a record high of 39 rebounds. The squad had good free throw shooting making fourteen out of sixteen tries for 88 percent overall.

The Mullettes led the game all the way, taking an early lead in the first quarter and ending it at 14-8 with the half ending at 24-17. In the third quarter the Mullettes pulled out in front a little more with 38-21 and in the fourth and final, they held their own while Friena rallied a little.

Marilyn Lewis was high pointer with 16 points and 15 rebounds; Denise Wilson totaled 14 points and six rebounds; Sherry Ellis had ten points and eight assists; Kelly Hamblen had eight points and ten rebounds and Kiesha Johnson snagged six rebounds.

The Mullettes season record stands at 6-15 and 2-6 overall in the District. The first half of district play ended with the Mullettes 2-1.

as Nursery in Lubbock still has three varieties of conifers and five types of hardwood seedlings available for the 1982-83 planting season, which ends in late March.

According to Bob Fewin, silviculturist at Lubbock, the conifer species still available are Austrian pine, ponderosa pine and red cedar. These 6 to 12-inch pine and cedar seedlings are grown in individual cells, 30 cells to the Styrofoam container. A minimum order is 30, or in multiples of 30, for $30 per 30 trees plus sales tax. The containers are 12 inches wide by 14 inches long, by 8 inches deep, and several containers can be easily transported in the back seat of a car or pickup cab.

The hardwood seedling species still available include: green ash, honeylocust (thornless), native plum, Russian olive and mulberry. The hardwoods are sold in minimum lots of 100 for $25 (plus sales tax and shipping costs).

The West Texas Nursery grows windbreak seedlings for a 60-county High Plains and Panhandle area, north of Big Spring and west of Wichita Falls.

Fewin said the hardwoods may be shipped, but the containers in which the conifer seedlings are grown are not designed for shipping and these should be picked up at one of four distribution points, each of which will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on day of distribution.

Planters in a 12-county area surrounding Knox County may pick up their orders at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES) Vegetable Research Center at Munday, Texas on March 1.

Residents of a 16-county South Plains area around

Big Spring can pick up their seedlings at the USDA Experiment Station on Interstate 20 at Big Spring on March 3.

On March 8, planters in a 20-county Panhandle area around Amarillo can pick up their seedlings at the Soil Conservation Service office at 1416 West 8th Street in Amarillo, and on March 10, resident applicants from the 24 counties surrounding Lubbock can receive their conifer seedlings at the TAES Experiment Station on FM Road 1294 in Lubbock.

The hardwood species are bare root seedlings, Fewin said, and can be shipped by normal freight methods.

West Texans interested in planting trees for homes, feedlot, field or wildlife windbreaks, should write for seedling applications: West Texas Nursery, Texas Forest Service, Rt. 3, Box 216, Lubbock, TX 79401, or call 806/746-5801.

Windbreak planters may not use these seedlings for landscaping or ornamental purposes.

Fewin said the seedlings would be sold on a first-come basis until the end of the current planting season, or until the supply is exhausted.

Three Current Cattle Problems

Nitrate poisoning, grass tetany and bloat are three major problems in cattle grazing on small grain pastures this time of the year, says a beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Nitrate poisoning occurs from high levels of nitrate in plants and is mainly a problem with cloudy, overcast conditions, points out Dr. Dennis Herd. Under these conditions, common during the winter season, nitrates accumulate in plants instead of being converted into protein. Nitrate levels are higher in stems of plants than leaves, so nitrate poisoning is more of a problem on heavily grazed pastures, notes the specialist.

To protect animals, remove calves from pastures until plants resume normal growth, recommends Herd. Cattle on hay or grain supplements can tolerate higher levels of nitrate than those on pasture only.

The specialist also suggests giving proper attention to nitrogen fertilization to avoid producing forage with excessive nitrogen content. Splitting nitrogen fertilizer applications may be helpful in preventing nitrate poisoning problems on small grain pastures.

Grass tetany or hypomagnesemia is more of a problem in older cows during early stages of lactation, Herd points out. The condition is associated with low blood magnesium caused by a deficiency of magnesium or by extremely high levels of other nutrients in forage. High levels of protein and potassium common in small grain pastures may either depress an animal's digestion of magnesium or may increase its excretion of magnesium, resulting in inadequate blood magnesium levels.

According to the specialist, grass tetany occurs more frequently on heavy, high potassium soils, so producers should avoid applying excessive amounts of nitrogen and potassium fertilizer. Fertilizing with magnesium to increase the magnesium content in plants is not practical, notes the specialist, while spraying magnesium on pastures is expensive and is effective for only a short time.

A practical step to preventing grass tetany is to supply a palatable mineral containing 8 to 14 percent magnesium, says Herd. The mineral mix should contain equal parts of magnesium oxide, salt, bone meal and cottonseed meal. Each animal needs to eat about one ounce of actual magnesium daily since blood levels decline rapidly with a lack of magnesium intake.

The third problem, bloat, occurs when an animal cannot rid itself of gas produced in the rumen during normal digestive processes, explains the beef cattle specialist. This usually occurs when an animal can't belch because the gas is entrapped in thick, frothy foam. Normally bloat is not as much of a problem on grass pastures as it is on legume forages such as alfalfa. However, young, fast growing grasses high in protein and low in fiber can cause bloat.

The chemical agent poloxalene provides effective control of bloat if animals eat it in adequate amounts -- 1.5 to 2 grams per 100 pounds of body weight. Poloxalene can be added to liquid molasses supplements, molasses blocks and mineral or grain supplements, but getting animals to eat the proper amount is often a problem, explains Herd. Whatever supplement is used should contain no nonprotein nitrogen (NPN) such as urea and little natural protein, he cautions, because supplemental nitrogen will only aggravate the bloat problem.

One effective way to deal with bloat is to remove cattle from bloat producing pastures and to feed hay or a combination of hay and grain until pastures can grow and become more mature. Cattle pulled off bloat producing pastures should not be returned hungry or the bloat problem will actually be increased, cautions Herd.

Letters To The Editor

We would like to add our thoughts on the proposed salary increases to our newly elected officials to those which have appeared in this column recently.

For six years Betty was a state employee. When she was hired she knew what the salary would be. She knew she would work through a time during which she would be under scrutiny to determine if her performance was satisfactory to fulfill the responsibilities entrusted to her and paid for by taxpayers. There was no question of presuming to name her own salary. She also understood that any future salary increases would be based on proven performances.

To say that we are disappointed in these officials is a gross understatement! We are angry.

We are aware they function under a different set of guidelines, but most of them have businesses or professions to which they devote most of their time and from which they derive most of their income. We know many heads of families whose income for full time jobs is no greater than the proposed increased salaries for these part time duties, not including the retirement, insurance as discount fringe benefits accompanying these jobs.

Everyone knows not one of them would permit their newly hired, part time employees to name their own salaries. We, too, cannot support those who have chosen this irresponsible course in the face of the present local and national economic difficulties.

Yours truly,
D.O. and Betty Burelsmith

Total 1983 Cotton Planting Estimate 8.5 Million Acres

A producer survey taken by the National Cotton Council in mid-January points to total cotton plantings of about 8.5 million acres this year. Included in the total are 68,000 acres of American Pima cotton.

If the survey results prove to be reasonably indicative of actual plantings, Staff Economist Joseph T. Wyrick said this would mean a 27 percent cutback from last year's 11,499,000 planted acres and a 44 percent reduction from the national cotton acreage base. The survey results were included in a committee report here this afternoon in advance of the Council's annual meeting which opens Feb. 6 at the Hyatt Regency.

The mail questionnaire showed growers in both the Southeast and the Mid-South planned to decrease their plantings from 1982 by 28 percent. This would put cotton acreage at just under half a million acres in Alabama, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, and Virginia combined, and at 1.8 million in Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, and Tennessee.

In the Southwest states of Oklahoma and Texas, the survey pointed to planting probabilities of 4.5 million acres, a drop of 29 percent. In the West, grower intentions in Arizona, California, Nevada, and New Mexico suggested cotton plantings at 1.6 million acres, a 20 percent decline.

Wyrick said the survey was taken immediately after the Administration's announcement of a payment-in-kind program and included questions regarding participation in government programs.

Survey forms with cotton bases indicated 96 percent of their acres would be enrolled in the 20 percent acreage reduction program. This same group of farms said 80 percent of their base acreage would also be signed in the PIK program.

"Not surprisingly, a great many producers revealed they did not yet have a full understanding of the program alternatives available to them," the agricultural economist said. "In addition, this year -- as compared with last year -- a much larger number of respondents indicated they had just not decided yet how much to plant."

Wyrick said these responses reflect the uncertainty that exists in the minds of many producers. As program options for cotton and other crops become better understood, he added, it's quite possible that growers will modify their actual plantings from what the January survey suggests.

The economist said this year's extensive acreage reduction should result in only the best cotton land being planted, and in producers working the land more intensively than they would be able to with a larger acreage. With lower-than-normal acreage abandonment and above-average yields thus indicated, Wyrick said a reasonable estimate for 1983 U.S. cotton production at this time would be about 9.5 million bales.

This year's survey was the second taken by the Council since USDA discontinued its January planting intentions survey. Last year's Council survey missed actual 1982 plantings by only 2 percent.

The free trees, which are part of the Foundation's efforts to promote tree planting throughout America, will be shipped at the appropriate time for planting this spring.

Tower Named Chairman Housing, Urban Affairs

U.S. Senator John Tower (R-Texas) has been named chairman of the Housing and Urban Affairs Subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs. Having served on the committee since 1961, Senator Tower most recently chaired the Financial Institutions Subcommittee, on which he will continue to serve.
"The Housing and Urban Affairs Subcommittee is charged with issues of vital importance to Texas, particularly to our state's fast-growing urban areas such as Houston, Dallas, San Antonio and Austin," Tower said. "Among others, these issues include finding new solutions to the continuing challenges of urban development, transportation, and adequate housing for all Americans."

Housing and Urban Affairs Subcommittee, I believe that I can bring an understanding of, and compassion for, the problems and needs of our nation's cities and surrounding suburbs. This is a critical time—a time when we on the federal level must look ahead, beyond the 1980's and even the 1990's, to lay the groundwork now so that our cities can enter the 21st century with a firm foundation for their mass transportation, housing, and other needs," Tower continued.
"Our cities in Texas continue to lead the nation in building permits and new housing starts. Texas is growing, and I am pleased to have this opportunity to take this new role in developing solutions to our cities' changing needs," Tower concluded.

DON'T DRIVE DRUNK—DON'T LET A DRUNK DRIVE

Drunk driving in the U.S. has been called an epidemic out of control, a national outrage and our country's only socially acceptable violent crime.
Yet, unless our lives are touched directly by the tragedy of drunk driving, we tend not to get involved in the issue. We leave the search for solutions to others...to our legislators, police and victims.
But indirectly, everyone is affected. Drunk driving strains valuable law enforcement resources that could be used to help control other violent crime. And it costs Americans nearly $25 billion each year.
The chances of being in a drunk driving accident are greater than most people realize. Studies have shown that one out of every two people in the U.S. will be involved in an alcohol-related auto crash sometime in his or her lifetime.
Other statistics associated with drinking and driving are equally alarming:
• In the past decade, four times as many Americans died in drunk driving crashes as were killed in Vietnam. Seventy are killed every day. An nearly a million more are maimed or seriously injured each year.
• One out of every 100 babies born today will die in a crash with a drunk driver.
• Drunk driving is the leading cause of death for teenagers.
For young people, drinking and driving is an even deadlier mix. Most teenagers between the ages of 16 and 18 have yet to develop the driving skills and Association of Professional cannot effectively anticipate dangerous driving situations. Washington St., Alexandria, At the same time, their Va., 22314.

bodies have yet to develop a tolerance for alcohol.
This combination is claiming more than 8,000 teenagers annually. Yet kids continue to drink, drive and buy alcohol even when they are under the legal drinking age.
Police estimate that as many as one in ten drivers on the road each weekend is legally intoxicated.
While some states are passing tougher laws, and police are enforcing present laws more vigorously, much more needs to be done to curtail drunk driving.
The problem drinker must be removed permanently from our highways. And social drinkers—many of whom likely include members of our own family, friends and co-workers—must be convinced that driving under the influence is not only socially unacceptable, but dangerous. They must learn that if they drive drunk, they will get caught and be punished.
Help regain sober control of our highways:
• Know your drinking limits.
• Discourage friends from taking the wheel when they've had "one too many."
• Support strong legislation.
For more information on deterring drinking and driving, write to the National Association of Professional Insurance Agents, 400 N. dangerous driving situations. Washington St., Alexandria, At the same time, their Va., 22314.

Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Acres has a few financial questions this week, out no answers.

Dear editor:

According to news stories in the papers recently, the OPEC countries can't stick together on the price of their oil. They meet to set production quotas and a price, then go home and open the valves and out the price in order to stay in business. Instead of $34 a barrel, they'll take $32 or $30 or whatever they can get. Acting just like farmers.

This, some financial experts say, is going to wreck the oil business and maybe bring financial ruin on the economies of the world. If the price goes below $28 a barrel, look out.

As I understand this, if the price of oil keeps dropping, then the price of gasoline will fall, and we'll all face financial ruin. Makes a man shudder to pull into a filling station.

I've read that it costs 25 cents a barrel to pump OPEC oil out of the ground. It didn't cost anything to put it there.

I have been trying my best to work up some sympathy for an outfit that has that sort of a mark-up, but I just can't seem to swing it.

Another thing I'd like more information on is the plight of big American banks who have loaned billions of dollars to the undeveloped or backward countries and now can't get it back.

In fact, it's argued that if the banks foreclosed, the world money market would collapse.

I don't know anything about that, but what I'd like to know is how did those backward countries con the banks into lending them the money in the first place? That's the kind of backwardness I'd like to learn more about. It'd sure be some handy information to have. I know lots of farmers I could sell it to, and maybe some car makers.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Brownfield CofC Banquet To Have "Capia Huma"

The annual Brownfield Chamber of Commerce Banquet will be held Saturday, February 19, at 7:00 p.m., in the Brownfield High School Dining Commons located at 701 North Fir.

The theme is "Cajun Humor." Guest speaker will be distinguished Cajun raconteur Justin Wilson, widely acclaimed as one of America's foremost humorists. His droll comments on the origin of the Cajuns, those compassionate, fun-loving folk who settled in South Louisiana, do not paralyze his subjects. He literally steps into their shoes and minds and thinks, speaks and acts as they do. People laugh with Cajuns, not at them!

The "Outstanding Citizen for 1982" will be recognized. Also new officers and directors will be introduced. They are:

President - John Duggan, Executive Vice President of First National Bank. Vice President - Larry McVay, District Superintendent of Amoco Production Co.
