Stamp Abuse Penalties Stiffer

Beginning April 1, people who abuse the food stamp program will face stiffer penalties, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Mary C. Jarratt said today.

"Under this new policy, individuals found guilty of a third food stamp offense will be permanently barred from the program," Jarratt said.

Those found guilty of two offenses will be barred from the program for one year and those who abuse the program a first time will not receive food stamps for six months.

Jarratt said, "We are determined to safeguard the food stamp program by going after the people who are abusing the program. States in the Southwest Region of USDA's Food and Nutrition Service have taken several measures to intensify enforcement of Food Stamp regulations, Jarratt said. These states, Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas, have beefed up investigative staffs, put the computer to work searching out cheaters and channeled increased federal funding to local jurisdictions to encourage enforcement.

The penalties will apply to all individuals regardless of whether they are determined guilty of food stamp abuse at state or local administrative disqualification hearings or in courts of law, Jarratt said. They also apply to individuals who make false or misleading statements, conceal or withhold facts, make other misrepresentations or commit any act that violates a state food stamp law.

The new rule will make it easier for states to collect overpayments from households. Currently, only the disqualified individual is responsible for repaying fraudulent overissuances. Under the new rule, the household will have the option of repaying the overissuance in cash, with food stamp coupons or through a reduction in its monthly food stamp allotment.

States may keep 50 percent of the amount collected or recipient fraud claims and 25 percent of the amount collected on inadvertent recipient error claims. These provisions are part of the 1981 Omnibus Reconciliation Act and the 1982 Food Stamp Amendments.

The best reducing exercise that we know of is pushing away from the table soon enough.

Courtesy is too cheap for some people to be interested in it.

Firefighters Report

Training session for Wed. 23 consisted of a training film on Automatic sprinkler systems for fire fighting and prevention. Owen Jones gave summation of film, bringing to our attention the proper inspection, use and function of each type of sprinkler system. We know of three such sprinkler systems in our community. If you have one at your place of business make sure it is operational and checked on regular bases.

On another subject, gasoline and gas heaters just don't mix. Visualize a fire accidentally started when a boy pours gasoline into the tank of a lawn mower in the garage of his home. The gas can slips from his hands and invisible vapors flow across to the gas water heater where they are ignited by the pilot light. The resulting flames rolled back to the liquid gasoline on the floor and can. This as you can imagine is not the end of this story.

This type of error is made many times in our town and a lot of us are very lucky we haven't already been hurt. We hope you all will think safety before working on, or using a closed space to work with vaporous gases.

For those of you that may have tried to read last week's fire news but couldn't make heads from tails of it don't feel by yourself. I inadvertently left out the Jarvis of Life as being used in the extraction of the truck drivers in the accident east of town.

By the way the Recessa-Ann is paid for and has managed to remain at the station, but word on the street has it, Smoky may be behind the disappearance of Earl Ladd's Watch rooster. This rooster may be considered dangerous when tail feathers start dropping out, so you might return him before this happens.

Still Time To Soil Test Cultivated Land

Heavy snows, wet soils and cold weather has delayed soil sampling for High and South Plains producers. Soil sampling and fertilizing was also delayed by the government finally establishing the PIK program. Do not let these delays raise your 1983 production cost this year, cautioned Spencer Tanksley, county Extension agent in Bailey County.

"Our farm economics is such that producers can not afford to blindly add fertilizer for the 1983 crop," Tanksley said. "There is still time and the laboratories have computerized their reporting systems for faster sample turn around."

The best time for sampling is just before the field is dry enough to handle tractor traffic. Later everyone will be in a dead run to get their land prepared, so be ready to start your PIK production acres on the right foot, he cautioned.

To get a good soil test, a good soil sample is essential. Obtain 10 to 15 samples taken from the surface down to six inches deep. Mix these samples in a plastic bucket. Then take about two-thirds to three-fourths of a pint of the sample soil and mail to the soil testing laboratory for testing.

Be sure to complete a crop information sheet on each soil sample, notes Tanksley. This aids the soil chemist to generate a better fertilizer recommendation for your farm.

Information sheets, sample bags for mailing and additional information on soil testing is available at the county Extension office.

Few people study to discover the truth; most of us seek to confirm our errors and perpetuate our prejudices.

Emergency Simulation Exercise Planned Soon

An emergency operations simulation will be conducted April 14, 1983, in Disaster District 5A. The exercise will focus on severe winter storm preparedness.

District 5A consists of Lubbock, Hockley, Lynn, Crosby, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Bailey, Cochran, Yoakum, Terry, Garza, Kent, Stone-wall, Haskell, Throckmorton, Young, Baylor, Knox, King and Dickens Counties. Each of the county EOCs is requested to "activate" and communicate with the Lubbock EOC.

Planning for the simulation will begin April 5, with the actual exercise taking place from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. on the 14th. The simulation will be critiqued at the DPS EOC in Lubbock following the exercise.

Appearance Affects Job Interview

"Women applying for jobs need to recognize the importance of proper dress," says Nancy Brown, clothing specialist. Brown is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

This is particularly true for women applying for jobs as secretaries, salespersons or other positions requiring contact with the public, adds Brown. Recent research shows that the more contact with clients is required by the job, the more emphasis is placed on appearance in the hiring decision.

"As more people enter the job market, appearance will become increasingly important, not only in hiring, but in job retention and promotion among equally skilled candidates as well," comments Brown.

Real success in life is not measured by how many individuals you excel, but by how many people you befriend.

Happy 50th

"A study of hiring agents shows they judge appearance primarily by neatness, ornamentation or jewelry, and the design, cut and color of clothing," says Brown. Most say that grooming is equal to or more important than the clothing worn.

If a hiring agent believes an applicant looks sloppy, he might think that's the way she does her work. An applicant wearing "wild" style clothing might be considered immature. In general, hiring agents look for people who can represent the firm and project a good image, notes Brown.

"Both employers and employees emphasize that appearance is only one factor in the hiring decision," says Brown. Other criteria include skills, personality, promptness, attendance, cooperativeness, and the ability to handle problems.

Hiring agents also rank attitudes very high, but when forming first impressions, information about attitudes is typically not available. Clothing and appearance is one thing that the job applicant has control over in the hiring enable him to go over 20 foot this spring.

Placing in the 60 yard dash at the LCC meet were Thurman Coleman - 5th - 6.84; Darin Shaw with 6.9 and Smiley Orozco with 7.3. Coleman, who is a junior, showed real promise last year and looks even better in '83 says his coach. He ranked as second best sprinter in the 100 and 200 as well as running on the 400 meter relay. Darin Shaw is a newcomer this year, and will be called upon to provide some needed strength in the 100, 200 and sprint relay. "He has great leaping ability and should also score in the high and long jumps," says Wiseman.

In the 200 meter dash last Friday, Eddie Alvarado placed sixth with 25.58; Darin Shaw, with a 25.8 and Thurman Coleman with 25.6 did not get on the board. Alvarado will challenge for spots on the relay teams, as well as run anywhere from 100 to the 400. His form has undergone a vast change from last year, with many improvements.

In the 1600 meter run, Tony Luna wrapped up a first place win with a time of 5:05.8, Tony Rojas came in fourth with 5:24.8 and Allen Beasley sixth with a time of 5:27.7.

In the pole vault event, for the Mules Ricky Rasco placed third with jump of 10'3" and Raul Garcia placed fourth with 9'6". Garcia soared to beat the school record in the pole vault last year with a leap of 12'10". Only an injury kept him from going even higher. Wiseman feels that if Garcia can stay healthy, he will top the 13 foot mark this year.

In the high jump competition at LCC, Mark Moton placed fourth with 5'8"; John Isaac placed sixth with 5'6" and Steve Griswold with 5'4". All three members of the track team are relatively new to the action and will be proving themselves this year.

In the long jump contests on Friday, Darin Shaw placed second with a jump of 19 3/4 inches; Moton placed third with 19 1/8 and Wuerflein placed fifth with 17.7.

In the discus throw in the Mule's first meet, Chris Hernandez placed with 95 feet, Noe Mora with 88 feet and Joe Ambriz 80 feet. In the shot put, Chris Hernandez placed sixth with 35' 9 1/2"; Jaime Torres with 34 feet and Noe Mora with 34 feet.

The Mules did well in the relays Friday, taking a third place with a time of 48.7 in the 400 meter. Team members were Eddie Alvarado, Thurman Coleman, Smiley Orozco and Michael Del Toro. Del Toro was injured most of last season and is anxious to make up for lost time. Wiseman says he will run the 200 and 400 as well as on the relays. "If he can stay healthy, he could really drop his times down," Wiseman relates.

A new event, and a novelty one was held which was called the "Fat Man's Relay." The Mules placed third in this with a total time of 54.8. Team members included Chris Hernandez, Hector Flores, Rene Reyes and Jaime Torres. This type event is open to anyone in the field events. Reyes is another newcomer to the tracksters this year and he will be trying his skills in the shot and discus. Wiseman commended him for his strength and quickness and expects his skill to come along to match them.

Taking the first place win in the Miles Relay on Friday, the Mules racked up a time of 3:39 for this honor. Team members included Mark Moton, Ronnie Logsdon, Martin Mendoza and Aldo Almanza. The Mules were behind by ten points at the half, but came back, saving the day with the mile relay.

Several other members of the Mules track squad will be running this year, but did not see action on Friday. Henry Carrion - returning letterman of a district championship team in 1982. Carrion will run the 1600 and 3200 and was also a member of the two mile relay team that holds the school record.

Perry Flowers according to Wiseman, will be back for his final year in '83. Perry is an all around athlete and will be called upon to score in the shot and discus where he could well top 45' and 130' respectively.

Hector Garcia has run the hurdles and pole vaulted in past years, but will tend to specialize in the shot put and discus. Wiseman feels that if his technique can match his strength and quickness, he will be a real surprise.

Cheyenne Bickle has returned to the ring in 1983 and has hopes of improving quickly. He has a quick arm to match his size and should be one of the leaders in those events.

Johnny Zapata is a transfer student from Levelland where he placed in the state cross country meet this past fall. He has also been to regionals in the mile and two mile, running a 4:36 and sub 10:00 3200 meter.

Sophomore Eddie Perez will be an intermediate hurdler for the Mules this season. He has run 42.5 over the lows as a freshman and long jumped for over 18 feet. Might possibly challenge for a spot on the relay teams.

Ray Vinson lettered as a freshman pole vaulter. He placed third in the district meet and just missed a trip to regional. Wiseman expects him to reach over 11 foot as a sophomore.

There may be a few more young men who will join the ranks of the MHS track squad, or perhaps one or two we have missed. At any rate, we have a top flight track team and coaches, who have really put Muleshoe on the map in track and field events once more. Coaches for varsity include Kevin Wiseman, Leslie Soto and Wirydy Williams; Junior varsity coaches is Leslie Soto, junior high coaches are Leslie Soto, Paul Hammer and Kent Hargis.

In the Jennyslipper's story in Sunday's paper, the prizes were listed as coming from various merchants in Muleshoe. The prizes for the Skatathon, are, in fact, being purchased by the Jennyslippers. The prizes may be seen at the various businesses mentioned, however.

Wednesday, March 2 at 5 p.m. was the final time and day for filing for a position for election to the Muleshoe Independent School Board. April 2, Saturday is election day for both school board and city council. March 3 is the last day to register to vote in the school board elections, according to Paulette Crawford at the School Business Administration office.

Police Activity

Officers arrested Charles Yancy Brown on a charge of DWI and possession of marijuana, after patrolmen chased him down in an auto on East American Boulevard. He was booked into the county jail.

On March 1, Sammy Cates was arrested on multiple charges of driving with license suspended, possession of narcotic paraphernalia and no liability insurance. Cates was first stopped on a minor infraction of traffic laws, but upon checking his license, police found it to be suspended and further checking uncovered the narcotic paraphernalia. He was placed in jail pending bond and the vehicle he was driving impounded.

Arturo R. Mendez was arrested on February 27 on charges of unlawfully carrying a weapon and possession of narcotic paraphernalia. Mendez was stopped a traffic violation regarding a turn signal, when officers discovered the paraphernalia stashed under the floorboard of the auto.

On February 27, Modesto Garcia was arrested on charges of DWI and driving with license suspended. A check with departmental records revealed the suspension. He was booked and placed in county jail pending bond.

On February 25, Noe's Used Cars Sales reported missing - hubcaps, fender skirts from a Cadillac auto on their lot. The reported value of articles taken was $180.

On February 27, Lionel

Moreno was arrested on a charge of simple assault, stemming from a family disturbance. Officers jailed Moreno due to the nature of the disturbance. On this same date, Araceli Moreno was arrested on a charge of assault, stemming from the one accident as the one with Lionel Moreno.

Alberto Mendoza was arrested on a charge of public intoxication on February 27. He was a passenger in an auto stopped by local officers. He failed to pass the field sobriety test and was booked into the County Jail.

Total value of the loss was estimated at $173. No suspects were named in the burglary.

cattle management portion of the meeting, along with the methods of grazing wheat. Dr. Gary Condra will discuss the wheat economic outlook for the farmer in the 1982 farm program are out with this commodity.

The meeting is free and open to the public, according to the County Agent.

In other news as regards the county wheat situation, underground moisture is good, said Tanksley. "Probably the best we have had at this time of the year in several years," he stated. He also added that with the good moisture and if the spring season brings some rains, many producers will not have to pre water their fields. Tanksley cautions Bailey County farmers to check their wheat fields carefully for greenbugs at this time. "While we have no evidence of large numbers of the insects, there are some in the fields and when they begin to multiply, will cause problems fast for producers," Tanksley says. Check any suspect yellow spots in your fields to make sure whether it is greenbugs.

The agent also cautions corn producers to rid their fields of last year's corn stubble now. "It needs to be totally destroyed, since the dreaded Southwestern Cornborer winters-over in these stalks lying on the ground in the fields. If left, that same stubble could cause producers a multitude of problems by harvest time. "This is when we begin to see stalks and ears falling to the ground in the fields due to the infestation of the pest.

You have to do a great deal of reading and some thinking to discover the truth about anything.

Tips Offered On Marketing Payment In Kind Cotton

Most area producers will be interested in knowing that in a recent United States Department of Agriculture release, the marketing of PIK or Payment in Kind cotton was discussed by USDA officials. Out of that discussion came several answers indicating that cotton growers who participate in PIK face a different situation than in past years. According to PIK program plans, producers who remove an additional 10-30 percent of their base acreage from production under PIK provisions will receive an amount of raw cotton equal to 80 percent of their program yield. The affect this has on marketing and traditional methods of sale is of concern to many growers across the Cotton Belt.

The following information is offered from the USDA in order to help farmers with their marketing problems.

All in all, however marketing options for PIK cotton may not be much different than those normally considered. The decision to sell at harvest or to store in anticipation of future price increases still involve the same basic considerations by each grower -- immediate sale of PIK cotton when obtained, forward crop contracting of PIK bales, futures markets, and cooperative marketing pools all remain viable options. One option, the CCC loan is not available for the PIK cotton received under entitlement, according to officials.

Rut, certain provisions of the PIK program should work to the advantage of program participants and aid in crop marketing activities. For example, PIK cotton will be available on date, which correspond to the normal harvesting patterns in a given area. So, the established flows of new crop cotton into marketing channels should not be disrupted. This will enable producers to better time the disposition of their crop since they will have exact knowledge of when their PIK cotton is available for sale.

Producers who have cotton under CCC loan and not redeemed by March 11 must allow the CCC to use this loan as collateral for their PIK payment. The quantity, quality, and location of the cotton to be received will be known well in advance of normal harvesting dates. This should enhance their flexibility in marketing PIK cotton because the terms of sale can be more strictly specified by producers without the risks of quantity and quality discounts.

Producers with no outstanding CCC loans will receive their PIK cotton from an approved warehouse where stored. Warehouse Receipts covering the quantity to satisfy each producer's PIK quantity will be surrendered by CCC and be available to producers at his/her local county ASCS office on the PIK entitlement date. The producer may keep the commodity at the warehouse location or dispose of it in any manner. Local buyers, FOB merchants, and cotton shippers are active in these areas and are accustomed in buying and selling cotton represented by Warehouse Receipts.

Producers who are active members of cotton cooperative associations may receive their PIK cotton through the cooperative. The co-op will permit CCC to use loan collateral for PIK purposes. The principles and strengths of cooperative marketing strategies can be maintained, freeing the individual cotton grower from having to make direct marketing decisions.

Finally, two traditional cotton marketing options which may provide increased attractiveness under the PIK program are forward crop contracting and the use of futures contracts. Producers should evaluate these alternatives in light of current program provisions. A major risk associated with crop contracting or futures market transactions has been the uncertainty surrounding final volumes produced to meet contract specifications, and risks associated with changes in the basis. However, under PIK the quantity of cotton to be received is known at the time of sign-up, enabling cotton producers to more effectively forward contract with shippers or mills, and establish delivery terms and conditions. Moreover, with the CCC paying the up to 5 months storage after the availability date, cotton producers have additional time to consider marketing options without the risk of storage charges offsetting any increases in cotton prices during the five month period.
