LITTLE LEAGUE GIANTS WIN

The Sterling City Giants Little League team has won 8 and lost 3 games this season—and thereby seem to have won the Colorado River Little League pennant. Manager S. K. Horwood said this week that they had one more make up game tonight with Robert Lee Cardinals. Last week the Giants beat Bronte Yankees 9 to 6 and beat the Sterling City Astros 24 to 9.

Mike Bowen was winning pitcher. Tonight Johnny Bauista will pitch.

PONY LEAGUE

Sterling City won over St. Lawrence last Friday night 20 to 10. Jesse Lujan was the winning pitcher, said manager Jack Peel. Ken Peel led the hitting with 4 for 4 and home runs were hit by Ken Peel and Tony Munoz.

The locals have a game on schedule for next week.

Social Security DISABLED WORKER NEWS

In most instances, disability claims take a longer period to process than other social security claims. The extra processing time is due to additional documentation, such as medical reports and different procedures in the claims process.

By applying as early as possible, the complete processing of the claim can be finished before the six months waiting period has expired. If the claim for benefits is approved, you get a check at the earliest possible time.

File Early For Disability

What do you do if you get so sick or injured you can't work? One of the things you should do is see if you are eligible for disability payments under the social security law. Although there are no benefits payable during the first 6 months of a disability, J.M. Talbot, social security manager, urges everyone who believes he may be entitled to monthly benefits to apply for them as soon as possible after becoming disabled.

AROUND THE COUNTY by

ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

There are large numbers of salt marsh caterpillars in this area as well as in many other areas. These are the caterpillars that you are seeing crawling around in the lawns and practically everywhere at the present time. They are brownish in color with a great many stiff hairs on their bodies; the head is black.

Thus far, the insects have confined most of their activity to weeds but they will attack other plants also. The purple thistles and other weeds have been the main plants we have seen damaged thus far.

The salt marsh caterpillar can be controlled with a spray containing Sevin, malathion, or chlordane. One of the safest to use is Sevin. The 50% wettable Sevin should be used at the rate of 1½ tablespoons in three gallons of water.

The same rate is effective when used against grasshoppers which have made their appearance also. Certain areas of the county have heavier infestations of the grasshoppers than other areas. If they are causing damage to gardens, ornamentals, or other plants the Sevin will help control them.

Some have said that they used the Sevin for the caterpillars but have not been able to get rid of them. The problem is that they are present in such large numbers that they move in again when one bunch has been killed out. Spraying plants you wish to protect will keep down the caterpillars for five to seven days. Sevin has a fairly long residual effect unless washed off by heavy rains, something that has not been a problem here up to this writing.

There have been losses to poisonous plants in cattle in this area recently. Veterinarians called to treat the animals diagnosed it as some type of poisonous plant but were not certain of the plant. It has been reported that losses have been quite heavy in some nearby counties.

Stan Horwood lost two cows

last week on the Santa Fe Ranch, one in each of two adjoining pastures. In going over the pastures with Stan and Nolan Stewart, the only plant that could be found that showed any evidence of grazing was the plant known as small-head sneezeweed.

Smallhead sneezeweed is quite poisonous to cattle and sheep. When in flower, the consumption of as little as 0.25% of their body weight will produce death in both cattle and sheep. This is 2.5 pounds for a thousand pound cow.

The plant is found in all areas of the county at this time. It is an erect plant with an angled stem—that is, the stem will be triangular or nearly square in shape. The leaves grow directly off the stem with no branches. Flowers of the plant are yellow in color with small petals beneath a globe-shaped center. It usually grows around dry holes in the creeks that may hold water after a rain, around overflow areas from water troughs, or around earth tanks.

Animals affected stagger, become weak, grind their teeth, groan, and retract their lips in many cases. In some cases they will die quite quickly while in others they will linger for a time.

There are other plants which may be causing trouble also. Among them are silverleaf nightshade, broadleaf milkweed, and buffalobur. Ordinarily, livestock will not graze on these plants but in their search for something green they may take these plants. It may also be a combination of plants as the veterinarian said. Many plants that ordinarily are not poisonous undergo chemical changes and become poisonous under the stress of drought conditions such as exist now. One plant affected in such a manner is the common careless weed. Drought conditions cause the nitrates in the plant to change to potassium nitrate in high amounts and cause death to livestock.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

By Omar Burleson, Member of Congress, 17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C. -- In the early part of the War Between the States counterfeiting was virtually limitless. There were estimates that as much as one-half of the currency in circulation was counterfeit.

At that time there were about 1,600 State banks throughout the Nation, printing currency with each designating its notes differently. To add to the confusion, each bill denomination carried a different design making it difficult to detect one of the 4,000 varieties of illegal notes from the 7,000 legal bills.

In 1863 a National currency was adopted and the Government thought its problems were over. Soon thereafter the national currency and counterfeit money circulated so extensively that the Government had to take protective measures.

On July 5, 1865, the Secret Service was created within the Treasury Department as the first general Federal Law Enforcement Agency.

In the following ten years, counterfeiting was greatly reduced and crime brought under control.

Thereafter the Secret Service had its jurisdiction increased as an investigative agency and handled such matters as the Teapot Dome Oil Scandal, the Ku Klux Klan, Government mail frauds and even espionage activities during the Spanish-American War and World War I.

President McKinly was assassinated in 1901. The Secret Service was thereafter designated to protect the President, Theodore Roosevelt being the first. In 1906, Congress passed an Act authorizing the Secret Service to guard the President and in 1907 the authorization was extended to include the President and Vice President-elect, the President's immediate family and former Presidents, their wives, widows and minor children.

The Secret Service also protects irreplaceable historical documents of the United States and other valuables ordinarily known as personal property but owned by the Government.

Measures for protecting the President of the United States are intricate and detailed. The Secret Service has this responsibility and can even override the President's wishes, to insure, as far as humanly possible, his safety.

There have always been "Nuts" loose in the Country but in recent years there appear to be more and more. Remarks made in fun or in bragging have been known to investigate the most thorough investigation of such individuals with the idea that it isn't funny or wise to threaten the life of the President or others the Secret Service is charged with protecting.

The President and his family are under constant surveillance as is the White House

ALUMNI GROUP PROGRAM HELD SATURDAY

There were 132 persons attending the Sterling Alumni Association banquet here in the park last Saturday night.

Elected president for next year was Danny Stewart; vice president—Lynn Glass; secretary-treasurer Sharon Curington; historian—Larry Glass; and dance committee—Ricky Hopkins, Jimmy Cole and Mike Foster.

Mrs. Mud Allen and Vern Davis were recognized as the two members from the first class of the school. R. T. Smith came from the farthest away—Missouri. An honorary alumni certificate was presented to O. T. Jones, retiring superintendent.

This year's meal was catered by McGowans of San Angelo. A large crowd attended the dance that followed the business meeting.

This year's president, Mrs. Charlie Davis, expressed her thanks to all who helped make this year's program a success.

Attend District Cancer Meet

and its environs. Nothing is left to chance. Many times investigations prove that threats made by some individuals are false and not intended seriously but every such case must be thoroughly and expertly inquired into.

Counterfeit money still turns up at frequent intervals. Secret Service Agents are constantly on the watch. Many people are still victims of counterfeiters because they pay little attention to the currency which comes into their hands. It is an unusual person who stops to consider that the bills in his pocket may be counterfeit. In a way it is a tribute to confidence but it is also an assist to the counterfeiter. Improved methods of photographing and printing have made it easier to manufacture fake bills but a few can operate very long without being arrested. In the vast majority of cases, it requires a number of individuals as an organization to counterfeit and pass fake money. Someone usually makes a mistake. In the meantime, however, innocent people can be bilked out of their legitimate money—some innocently, others thinking they're making a bargain but actually cooperating in a criminal venture. Often times an individual approached with the idea of purchasing counterfeit bills reports the matter and the suspect is apprehended. Not many survive long enough to enjoy the fruits of their illegitimate activity.

In recent years forged Government checks has become a big business. This is true simply because there are more Government checks going to more people than ever before. During the past year almost 43,000 cases were investigated involving $4.5 million, with over 2000 arrests. Most of these were checks stolen from mail boxes of private homes.

Government checks are also an asset to the forger. Many people will accept a check or bond without asking for proper identification. Subject to change, counterfeit money itself will be discussed in the next article.

Agricultural Workers Covered by SS

"Did you know that if you operate any type of agricultural business, the hired workers you have in that business may be covered by social security?" J. M. Talbot, social security manager, asks.

Any employee who works and earns $150 or more for one employer during any year or works at least 20 days on a time basis for an agriculture business, is covered by social security. Even part-time employees could meet the earnings or work test. You, as their employer, would be liable to withhold social security tax from the employee's check, match that tax yourself, and report the earnings at the end of the year.

The report of agricultural employees must be filed with the Internal Revenue Service by January 31 of the following year. Reports should be on Internal Revenue Service Form 943—showing each employee's name, social security number, and amount paid. The report should be accompanied by tax withheld from employee's pay and matched by employer.

To be sure which employees to report, Mr. Talbot recommends keeping records on anyone working for you in your agricultural business.

"If you have any questions about farm wages," Mr. Talbot said, "please inquire at the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue (P. O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area."

Social Security Tips

LOST MEDICARE CARD

Have you lost your Medicare card?

Your Medicare card should be in your possession at all times. J. M. Talbot, social security manager, said today. It is your proof to your doctor and to the hospital that Medicare will help pay your medical bills. The doctor or hospital can tell at what point you became entitled to Medicare benefits, and whether you are entitled to payment for both your hospital and your doctor bills—if you show him the Medicare card.

Perhaps the most important function of your Medicare card is that it furnishes your own claim number to the doctor and to the hospital. Any claims for payment on your behalf must contain this complete number in order for Medicare to assist with the payment of the bills.

If you do lose your card, call or visit your nearest social security office, and a free duplicate card will be obtained for you. However, it will take about three weeks to get this duplicate, so make your request as soon as you realize that you have lost your original. The hospital can, if necessary, admit you without your Medicare card; but you can avoid considerable difficulty if you secure a new card before you become ill and need it.

For further information, contact the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Ave. (P. O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area.

What's right about America?

Today, the surest means of a book becoming a best seller is for the author to highlight and denounce bitterly the faults of this country. The same can be said of television and the movies, which prefer in these modern days to depict the seamier side of life in America.

But there's hope. As I have moved across this state, I have sensed that our people are growing weary of gloom. It's becoming easier to strike up a conversation on what's right about America.

I always suggest that there are a lot more level heads in this country than we are sometimes led to believe. There are a lot more decent, law-abiding citizens than there are criminals and cheats and sharks. There are a lot more young people in the "now" generation who want to improve America than the handful of radicals who want to burn it to ashes and start all over.

I can understand why the "majority" has broken its "silence." There's a growing impatience with agitation and controversy. But I feel we should continue to approach our nation's problems with a cool head and an open mind.

I've listened to the voices of dissent. I think I know what they're asking of their government.

One thing they want is confidence. They want the assurance that their public officials have the courage to meet the issues of the 1970s with imagination and integrity, and not with some form of "old politics" that thrashes around with problems but never quite locates the workable solutions.

It was my desire to answer this urgent need that prompted me in January to seek the office of United States Senator.

Medicare Premiums Up on July 1

Premiums for the supplementary part of Medicare go up July 1, 1970. According to J. M. Talbot, social security manager, the new premium for most people will be $5.30 monthly, an increase of $1.30 over the current premium.

Mr. Talbot explained that the supplementary part of Medicare is the part which helps pay doctors bills. The program is financed by the premiums beneficiaries pay, matched dollar for dollar by the Federal Government.

Mr. Talbot said the premium increase is necessary because of rising medical costs. Each year, the financing is evaluated by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare.

The law requires that premiums be raised each year the cost of the program indicates a need. The last premium increase was in January, 1968, when premiums were raised to $4 monthly.

Social Security beneficiaries receiving cash payments will have the additional premiums held out of their checks beginning with the check delivered about July 3, 1970. Those who pay premiums directly will be billed $5.30 a month or $15.90 per quarter. The relatively small group of people who now pay more than $4.00 per month, because they were late enrolling will pay proportionately higher under the new schedule.

More detailed information can be secured by contacting the Social Security Office at 3000 W. Harris Avenue, P. O. Box 3808 in San Angelo, Texas or see the representative when he is in your area.

Lose 10 Lbs. in 10 Days on New Grapefruit Diet

This is the revolutionary new grapefruit diet that everyone is suddenly talking about. Literally thousands upon thousands of copies have been passed from hand to hand in factories, plants and offices throughout the U.S. There will be no weight loss in the first four days, but you will suddenly drop 5 pounds on the 5th day. Thereafter you will lose one pound a day until the 10th day. Then you will lose 1 1/2 pounds every two days until you get down to your proper weight. Best of all there should be no hunger pangs. Now revised and enlarged, this new diet plan lets you stuff yourself with foods that were formerly 'forbidden' . . . Such as big steaks, trimmed with fat, Southern fried chicken, rich gravies, mayonnaise, lobsters, swimming in butter, bacon, fats, sausages and scrambled eggs. You can eat until you are full, until you cannot possibly eat any more. And still you should lose 10 pounds in the first ten days, plus 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter until your weight is down to normal. The secret behind this new "Quick weight loss" is not generally known. Stuff yourself on the permitted foods listed in the diet plan, and still lose unsightly fat and excess body fluids. When the fat and bloat are gone you will cease to lose weight, and your weight will remain controlled. A copy of this new and startlingly successful diet plan can be obtained by sending $2 to

U.S. Border Patrol Seeks Applicants

The U.S. Border Patrol of the Immigration and Naturalization Service has an urgent need for physically fit young men desiring a career in Federal law enforcement work. This is a career opportunity for those who like action and outdoor work.

The Border Patrol is the mobile, uniformed enforcement branch of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Its principle purpose is to prevent the smuggling and illegal entry of aliens into the United States. The border patrolmen, called Immigration Patrol Inspectors, work along international boundaries, although their duties are not necessarily confined to these areas. They work in jeeps, cars, on foot, in boats and even in airplanes. Officers investigate violations of the immigration laws and frequently make arrests. They are often required to work irregular hours, under all weather conditions. These duties demand mental alertness as well as exceptional physical vigor and stamina.

The entrance salary of an Immigration Patrol Inspector is $7,639 a year (Grade GS-7). There are promotional opportunities up to executive levels in the Immigration and Naturalization Service. On-the-job training offers splendid opportunities for promotion to positions of greater responsibility.

No experience is required for these positions. To qualify, applicants must pass a written test of verbal abilities, judgment, and aptitude for learning a foreign language. Candidates who pass the written test are called for oral interviews in the order of their standing on the list. The oral interview is designed to determine if the candidate has the personal qualities needed for the work. Applicants must also pass a rigid physical examination. Candidates who are selected for appointment are assigned to the Border Patrol Academy for a period of intensive training in such subjects as immigration laws, Spanish, physical training and marksmanship. Trainees receive full pay while in the academy.

Applications are now being accepted for the civil service examination for Immigration Patrol Inspector which will be held on Saturday, January 24, 1970. An additional examination is scheduled for April, 1970. However, those wishing to be tested in January must submit their applications before December 19, 1969. Full information is given in Announcement No. WAM-911 which may be secured from Interagency Boards of Examiners and from many post offices as well as any office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Applications should be submitted on the tearout application form on the announcement or CSC Form 50000AB and forwarded to the Interagency Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners for Washington, D.C. 1900 E St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20415. Information concerning the patrol inspector position and this announcement may be obtained from the U. S. Paper to Print Old Time News

Publication of a new monthly newspaper has been announced by the publishers, Western Horizons, Inc., Box 3508, San Angelo, Tex. 76901

Called the Pioneer News-Observer, it is designed to recreate the heritage and struggles, the humor and excitement of our western ancestry say the publishers.

Editor and one of four co-owners of the monthly is Elmer Kelton, well-known writer of western and historical fiction and associate editor of the West Texas Livestock Weekly, headquartered in San Angelo. Kelton has written many novels, one of which was named best western novel of 1957.

Managing editor Jerry Lackey, present editor and publisher of the Sheep and Goat Raiser Magazine, is also co-owner along with Kelton, E. R. Talley of San Angelo, president of Western Horizons and Forrest Salter of Kerrville, vice-president. Lackey is author of two books. Salter is publisher of the Kerrville Mountain Sun.

The new publication will concern itself with news stories taken from old newspapers and periodicals written in the period of 1801 to 1901.

"In a tabloid format, our newspaper voice is aimed at events which shaped the west," said Lackey.

"There are many magazines published to give readers stories of the old west," he went on, "but as far as we could find out, ours is the only paper devoted solely to reporting news events of the old west in newspaper style."

Not mentioned in the list of workers or contributors to the joint Methodist-Presbyterian VBS last week was John Brock, who contributed the ice for the refreshments.

Space & Aeronautics MOON ARTIFACTS

WASHINGTON — There's an old saying, "What goes up must come down." But this does not necessarily apply in the space program. They've launched items from Cape Kennedy that are never coming down, and that hardware left on the moon is not about to make its way back to Mother Earth unless someone carries it back.

And that's exactly what NASA has in mind.

We've learned recently that one of the truly exciting quests for future moon explorers will be the search for artifacts left by the earlier lunar explorers, and perhaps bringing some of them back to earth.

These range from a minute silicon disc microscopically etched with goodwill messages from 73 world leaders, which future lunar explorers may study but not remove, to the wreckage of a Saturn V rocket which cannot be carried back but some of its smaller fragments might be.

The tiny, coin-size disc was left by pioneer Moonwalkers Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin of Apollo 11. Jim Lovell and Fred Haise of Apollo 13 didn't make it to the moon, but the third stage of their Saturn V did.

Intentionally aimed to crash into the Moon as a scientific experiment, it hit with the force of 11 1/2 tons of TNT, 85 miles from a moonquake recorder left last November by Pete Conrad and Alan Bean of Apollo 12.

The impact set the Moon to vibrating for four hours, and measurements of the shock waves radioed to Earth gave scientists new information on the lunar structure. The outer shell seems to be a rubble of crystalline rock to depth of at least 12 to 25 miles.

There can't be much left of the rocket itself.

Conrad and Bean were the

When two or more defendants are involved in a single crime, the total reward is limited to $500.00, but the conviction of one defendant, even though the other defendants are acquitted, will entitle the claimant or claimants to said sum of $500.00. first to retrieve man-made items from the Moon: a TV camera, two pieces of tubing, a length of cable, and a soil scoop from robot spacecraft Surveyor 3, which softlanded in the Ocean of Storms in April 1967. These are now being examined for the effects of exposure to the lunar climate.

Still awaiting possible inspection or recovery by future expeditions are the remains of two dozen other spacecraft, U.S. and Soviet, that have soft-landed, crashed on the Moon, or presumably been drawn from lunar orbits by the moon's magnetism.

Also, two U.S. flags and ceremonial items left by Apollo 11 and 12 and more than 100 pieces of discarded equipment: seven film cameras and a TV camera; scientific instruments; four pairs of lunar boots; four spacecraft backpacks; tools; lunar landing maps, to name just a few.

As in orbiting the first Earth satellite and putting the first man in space, the Soviets were first to leave their mark on the Moon—the wreckage of Lunik 2, which impacted there Sept. 12, 1959.

The total weight left is about 61,000 pounds. Brought back: 18 pounds of Surveyor parts and 123 pounds of lunar rocks and dust.

For Social Security COUNTY BENEFIT

Social security benefits paid to residents of Sterling County totaled $11,000 a month as 1969 ended, J.M. Talbot, social security manager, reported today.

A benefit increase, signed into law by President Nixon on December 30, 1969, has since raised the monthly rate of payment by 15 percent for the 153 social security beneficiaries in Sterling County, Mr. Talbot noted.

Of the social security beneficiaries living in this area, 109 are retired workers and their dependents. Another 36 are receiving benefits as the survivors of workers who have died, and 4 are getting benefits as disabled workers or the dependents of disabled workers.

Mr. Talbot pointed out that although the majority of social security beneficiaries are older people, about one out of every four is under age 60.

In the state of Texas, 321,147 people under age 60 are collecting social security payments each month. The 186,739 who are under 18 are receiving payments because a working father or mother has died or is getting social security disability or retirements benefits.

Or the 30,272 who are 18 through 21 years of age, most are getting students' benefits under a provision which permits the continuation of a child's benefits past his or her 18th birthday, and up to age 22 if he or she is attending school full time.

But in this 18 to 22 group, Mr. Talbot said, are some other types of beneficiaries, illustrating the broad family protection that is provided working people of all ages under the social security program.

A number are the children of retired, disabled, or deceased workers who became disabled before they reached 18 and who will probably never be able to work and become self-supporting. The benefits of these young people severely handicapped by physical or mental disabilities, will continue indefinitely and benefits are also payable to their mothers if the disabled son or daughter is in the mother's care.

Another small but significant group of youthful social security beneficiaries are those who are receiving social security benefits as disabled workers. Under a 1967 change in the law, disability benefits can be paid to a person who becomes disabled for work even if he has less than five years of work under social security. As little as a year and a half is required in the case of a worker who becomes disabled before age 24.

For further information, contact the Social Security Office at 2000 West Harris Avenue (P. O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area.

The Texas Department of Public Safety is offering immediate career employment to qualified young men. Contact your nearest DPS office or patrolman for more information.
