ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

Tommy Bynum was one of the forty 4-H Club members from Extension Service District Seven who received the Gold Star Award at the district luncheon Wednesday. The luncheon is sponsored by the West Texas Utilities Company for the award winners, their adult leaders and Extension Agents. Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ralph Bynum attended the luncheon in the Crystal Room of the Hotel Cactus as adult leaders from Sterling County.

Christmas is near but there's still time to make the colorful logs of newspaper that will brighten the fireplace during the holiday season.

The logs can be made of loosely rolled newspapers tied with a heavy twine. Soak the logs for several days in a solution of four pounds of copper sulfate and three pounds of rock salt in a gallon of water. After the logs have soaked for several days in the solution, remove them and allow them to dry. This will also take several days. Once dry, one log will burn all evening and produce a rainbow of colors.

One precaution: Mix the solution and do the soaking in a plastic or rubber pail. We heard of one instance where the soaking was started in a galvanized wash tub. In about two days, the solution had eaten the bottom out of the tub.

To keep your Christmas tree fresh throughout the holiday season, start with a good fresh tree and then take one more step that will help maintain freshness. After the tree has been purchased, make a diagonal cut at the base removing one to two inches of the base. The diagonal cut gives more exposure of the trunk of the tree and helps take up water. Stand the tree in water until ready to decorate. Use some type of stand or container that will hold water in the house. The tree will absorb this water and remain safe from fire from such point sources as a match for at least three weeks. Check the water daily and replace water as needed. A five or six foot tree may use as much water as a gallon a day.

If you prefer one of the "synthetic" trees made of some of the plastics, check to see that the tree is fireproof before putting on lights. Many of the more expensive trees have been fireproofed but the cheaper ones have not. There is a new type of cool burning lights available for use on the plastic trees and you might want to investigate the use of those.

Congress has passed a new law that will limit the user's liability for lost or stolen credit cards; the law will be effective January 23, reports Doris Myers, Extension Home Management Specialist. This will be helpful in our land of credit cards where each year one million cards are lost and three hundred thousand stolen.

Most companies will cancel a card once they have been notified of its loss. The new law will limit liability to no more than $50 before notification. The $50 liability will apply separately to each card lost. If a purse containing five cards is lost, the liability will be limited to a potential $250. If a husband and wife lose

Social Security

DISABLED WIDOWS BENEFITS

"Two years have passed and many persons are still not aware of the change in the social security law which provides monthly benefits for disabled widows at age 50," said J. M. Talbot, social security manager.

Since the law became effective in February, 1968, more than 32,000 disabled widows have qualified for monthly payments, Mr. Talbot estimated however that another 30,000 widows who might qualify for these benefits have never applied.

"The requirements for disabled widows' benefits are apparently not as well known as those for the more familiar widows' benefits at age 62, or reduced widows' benefits at age 60," Mr. Talbot continued.

To qualify for benefits a widow, age 50 to 60, must have an impairment so severe that it keeps her from engaging in any work. The condition must also be expected to last for at least twelve months.

The widow's disability must have begun before her husband's death or not later than seven years after his death. A widow who has previously been entitled to benefits if she becomes disabled before payments to the children end or within seven years after they end.

Mr. Talbot encourages those who may qualify to call the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue (P. O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas or see the representative when he is in your area.

Football-Pep Squad Banquet Held

The annual Sterling City Football-Pep Squad Banquet was held in the community center here Tuesday evening. Grant Teaff, football coach at Angelo State University, was the featured speaker. Teaff stressed to the young people that they should set immediate and intermediate, as well as long range goals for themselves, and live self-motivated lives; and he stressed that the God-centered life was best.

Bobby Barton, acted as the master of ceremonies. Rev. Harold Orr, gave the invocation. President of the mothers' club Mrs. Reynolds Foster, welcomed the gathering and responses were made by Susan Terry and Allen Price.

Coach Danny Slaughter introduced the speaker. Mrs. Bobby Myrick, pep squad sponsor, spoke about the pep squad's activities and coach Slaughter gave the coach's viewpoint.

Gifts were presented to the football sweetheart Susan Terry, the football hero Bobby Barton; and to coach Danny Slaughter, to Mrs. Myrick, to superintendent James Thompson, to principal Bobby Dodds and to Dr. W.J. Swann.

LIONS CRIPPLED CHILDRENS' CAMP

Members of Lions Clubs throughout Texas this month are pausing to pay recognition to their camp for crippled children which has given over 12 thousand handicapped youngsters a new dimension since it was opened in 1953.

The camp, located at Kerrville in the Hill Country of Central Texas, is free to crippled, blind, deaf or mute children from the ages of seven through sixteen. The 17 permanent buildings and other improvements dotting the 504-hill-side acres represent an investment of more than $700,000.

At the camp, these youngsters who have been denied a normal childhood through no fault of their own learn to shed their shyness imposed by their handicaps. By mutual association with other handicapped children and by skillful and gentle counseling, these youngsters have found the freedom to grow, mentally and spiritually, into useful citizens of tomorrow.

While the Lions are paying tribute to their camp, we would like to pay tribute to the Lions and their friends who have supported this great venture of the heart. We know a man never stands so straight as when he stoops to help a crippled child.

Andrew Coronado, operator of the City Barber Shop in Sterling City, says he is going to let everyone who gets a haircut between now and December 23 sign a slip and on that day, he will draw and let the name drawn get a free turkey for Christmas.

Steve Currie Killed By Robber

Steve Currie, well known and prominent rancher of Glasscock County, was shot to death at his ranch home near Garden City early Wednesday evening. The robber (or robbers) shot Currie in the head and tied up Mrs. Currie in making the robbery.

Lions Hear Musical Program Wednesday

The musical pupils of Mrs. Dick Mitchell — kindergarten and first graders—sang some Thanksgiving and Christmas songs at the Lions Club luncheon Wednesday. The children were brought to the community center by the school bus.

It was announced that the club was raffling off an automatic .22 rifle, an all transistor radio and a Samsonite set of table and four chairs. The drawing for such prizes will be held at a bingo party later this month. Money raised will go toward a colored TV for the new nursing home here, it was said.

President Dan Glass named a committee to set up the bingo party, and he named Skiepr Lively, Leon Bailey and Kirk Hopkins.

It was reported that the club netted $73 on the turkey shoot held here on November 21.

The prize went to W. W. Durham.
Mrs. Mitchell's second grade music pupils will sing for the club next Wednesday.

KNOW THAT:

Each year, for the past 5 years, over 2,000 fires occurred annually in the pine-hardwood area of East Texas, burning 47,000 acres of valuable timberlands. In addition, improvements such as homes, barns, fencing, and improved pastures were destroyed. These fires were man caused, for the most part, and could have been prevented if someone had used care with firebrands out of doors. Your Texas Forest Service urges you to take every precaution when doing any outdoor burning.

U.S. Border Patrol Seeks Applicants

The U.S. Border Patrol of the Immigration and Naturalization Service has an urgent need for physically fit young men desiring a career in Federal law enforcement work. This is a career opportunity for those who like action and outdoor work.

The Border Patrol is the mobile, uniformed enforcement branch of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Its principle purpose is to prevent the smuggling and illegal entry of aliens into the United States. The border patrolmen, called Immigration Patrol Inspectors, work along international boundaries, although their duties are not necessarily confined to these areas. They work in jeeps, cars, on foot, in boats and even in airplanes. Officers investigate violations of the immigration laws and frequently make arrests. They are often required to work irregular hours, under all weather conditions. These duties demand mental alertness as well as exceptional physical vigor and stamina.

The entrance salary of an Immigration Patrol Inspector is $7,639 a year (Grade GS-7). There are promotional opportunities up to executive levels in the Immigration and Naturalization Service. On-the-job training offers splendid opportunities for promotion to positions of greater responsibility.

No experience is required for these positions. To qualify, applicants must pass a written test of verbal abilities, judgment, and aptitude for learning a foreign language. Candidates who pass the written test are called for oral interviews in the order of their standing on the list. The oral interview is designed to determine if the candidate has the personal qualities needed for the work. Applicants must also pass a rigid physical examination. Candidates who are selected for appointment are assigned to the Border Patrol Academy for a period of intensive training in such subjects as immigration laws, Spanish, physical training and marksmanship. Trainees receive full pay while in the academy.

Applications are now being accepted for the civil service examination for Immigration Patrol Inspector which will be held on Saturday, January 24, 1970. An additional examination is scheduled for April, 1970. However, those wishing to be tested in January must submit their applications before December 19, 1969. Full information is given in Announcement No. WAM-911 which may be secured from Interagency Boards of Examiners and from many post offices as well as any office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Applications should be submitted on the tearout application form on the announcement or CSC Form 50000AB and forwarded to the Interagency Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners for Washington, D.C. 1900 E St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20415.

Information concerning the patrol inspector position and this announcement may be obtained from the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, P. O. Box 2539, San Antonio, Texas 78206, or by calling 512-225-5511, Extension 214.

NEWS OF ECOLOGY

PROGRESS REPORT: GIVING POLLUTION THE AIR

In the summer of 1928, thousands of weekenders and vacationers flocking to Lake Erie's sandy beaches found a strange and disturbing sight. Large areas of the lake, seemingly overnight, had become covered with a thick, green, evil-smelling carpet of scum.

Lake Erie, 42 years ago, had become one of the earliest victims of man-accelerated eutrophication—the stimulation of excessive algal growth. This is how it happened, and is still happening all over America:

Waste materials dumped into the water stimulate algal growth by supplying an overabundance of the essential nutrients on which algae feed. When the algae die, they decay and form large masses on the surface of the water (called "mats" or "blooms"), which are vile-smelling and which foul the surface of the lakes and inundate the shore. The decay process uses up much of the oxygen dissolved in the water, making it unsuitable for many forms of aquatic life, like game and commercial fish.

Though eutrophication is a normal, and very slow, occurrence in nature, it is greatly accelerated by the unchecked introduction of the raw waste products of our society into our waters.

Though the long-term solution to this problem is a nationwide commitment to proper and complete sewage treatment, there exists today an effective intermediary means of improving water quality. Formerly polluted lakes have already been successfully reclaimed by aeration.

Mechanical aeration purifies waters and controls accelerated eutrophication the way nature does—by mixing water with air. It also stimulates a return of game fish and other forms of desirable aquatic life.

This man-made nature's aid has proven itself in bodies of water ranging in size from one-acre ponds to a 3½ mile long, 140-foot deep reservoir and has been employed on portions of major U.S. rivers such as the Passaic and Delaware.

In the past, it was widely believed that by limiting the supply of the 15 to 20 different nutrient elements that algae feed on, effective eutrophication controls could be established. Phosphorus, in particular, was the element thought to be the easiest to control. It was even suggested that phosphates be removed from household detergents, in an effort to minimize algal growth.

It was later discovered, however, that even if it were possible to completely eliminate phosphorus input into Lake Erie, phosphates already deposited in the bottom sediments could still support algal growth for at least another 100 years. Therefore, the removal of phosphates from detergents as a "first step" would be no step at all in solving the eutrophication problem.

The American people need and deserve action—effective action—in the protection and restoration of water purity, and the key fact about aeration is an immediate answer is that it works.

Social Security News

"Processing time can be cut in half if people are prepared when the time comes to apply for social security benefits," says J. M. Talbot, social security manager.

Being prepared is not as difficult as many people believe. Remember to take along your social security card or the card of the person on whose record you are filing. For a widow, this would be the social security card of her late husband. This may sound hard to believe, but many people do come in to file their application and leave their number at home.

The next most important document to take with you is your birth certificate, if available. Proof of age is needed to qualify for nearly all social security benefits. If your birth was recorded when you were born or if you were baptized before age five, you will need one of these documents. If you don't have a copy, make arrangements now to get one, Mr. Talbot advises.

If your birth was not recorded and you were not baptized before age five, there are other documents you can use. In most cases, the earlier the record was made the better it is for helping to establish your date of birth.

The third thing that is needed in all claims is evidence of the worker's last year's earnings and an estimate of this year's earnings. Your W-2 Form or tax return for last year will give the information for last year. Be sure to bring these with you.

For further information, contact the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue, (P. O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas or see the representative when he is in your area.

CHECK YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY RECORD

"How do I know my work under social security is being credited to my record, and how do I find out about it? This is one of the questions most frequently asked," says J. M. Talbot, social security manager.

In explaining the process involved in reporting social security, Mr. Talbot said, "When you work for wages, your employer deducts social security tax from your paycheck each pay day. At the end of each calendar quarter, he submits your name and number with payment for these taxes to Internal Revenue. Internal Revenue forwards copies to social security's main office in Baltimore, Maryland. Your wages are then posted to your record. The same process is followed for a self-employed person except that his earnings are recorded yearly."

Mr. Talbot states that the possibility of an error being made in the process does exist. He recommends that you request a statement of your earnings at least every three years.

All you have to do to secure the statement is to send a post card request available at your social security office to Baltimore, Maryland. EARLY DETECTION HELPS CURE CANCER

Breast cancer is so common—over 60,000 American women contract it every year—that physicians agree every woman should examine her breasts every month for signs of it. At least 85% of all breast cancers are curable if caught early enough, but over half are now fatal because of needless delay.

The intelligent woman who examines her breasts monthly, and in a systematic manner, stands an excellent chance of detecting cancer early—before it can endanger her life. The case of Mrs. A. T., of Chicago, Ill., is fairly typical. Having carefully read the American Cancer Society's booklet on breast self-examination (available free from all local ACS offices), she knew that the odds were pretty good that the lump that she detected in her breast one morning wasn't cancerous. She also knew that only her doctor could tell her for sure.

Mrs. T. was unlucky—but not too unlucky. The lump was cancerous, but it was still very small and had not spread very far. A mastectomy was required, but Mrs. T. is alive and well today—years later—and still caring for her family. Her sensible precautions may well have saved her life.

Mastectomy is not only a medical problem, however. It is a traumatic emotional experience for the woman partly because she knows that the fit of her clothes may well be affected, and she dreads the thought of making others feel awkward or self-conscious in her presence.

Back in the 1920's, a hospital x-ray technician named Ella Bernhardt became aware that the woman who underwent breast surgery frequently suffered from a depression which seemed to have more to do with worry about personal appearance than about health. This worry was quite justified, since very little attention had been paid to the problem by science or industry up to this time. Deeply concerned over this neglected need, Ella Bernhardt taught herself the difficult arts of industrial design, developed a fluid breast form so natural she named it Identical Form and founded a company with the same name to manufacture it.

Since then Identical Forms have insured peace of mind for over a million women. Identical Forms duplicate the weight and constantly changing contours and positions of the natural breast. Identical Forms are filled with a slow-moving, creamy fluid and covered by a double wall of soft, skinlike plastic. It is almost impossible to overestimate the part that a carefully fitted, carefully designed breast form can play in the emotional recovery of mastectomy patients.

Remember, breast cancer is usually curable if caught early. If you are not sure how to go about examining yourself, ask your local Cancer Society office or your family physician. See him once every six months in any case, for a general all-around check-up. Make full use of your best weapon against cancer—early detection.
