ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

The Lamb With a Future Show, a national meat-type lamb show, will be held in San Angelo again this year. However, there are some changes in the rules and procedures of the show which are quite different than in past shows.

This year, all lambs will be fed together in the Midwest Feed Yards rather than on the owner's ranch or feedlots as in the past. The feeding period will begin May 1, 2, or 3 according to the announcement and will last up to 45 days. Lambs must weigh between 60 and 80 pounds at the beginning of the feeding period. They will be fed in sire groups of five with three lambs of the owner's choice competing in the carcass contest at the end of the contest. Either ewe lambs or wether lambs will be accepted. The entry fee is five dollars per group of five with no single lambs being accepted. Exhibitors will pay for the feed, feeding, shearing, drenching, vaccinating, and killing.

A committee will evaluate the lambs on foot and will also determine the slaughter date—either June 4 or June 18. Lambs will be purchased on a chilled, dressed weight basis. Correctly finished, meaty lambs will receive a premium while overfat, meatless lambs will receive a lower price.

Deadline for entries is April 26. Entry blanks are available in the county agent's office or the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association office. The Association's Lamb Committee is again sponsoring the show which is designed to assist sheepmen produce a more acceptable lamb for the market. This lamb is one that must have an acceptable dressed yield of salable retail meat and reach market weight with a minimum of feed. It must be capable of doing these things economically and return a profit to the producer.

The San Antonio Livestock Show announced in a newsletter this week that it is discontinuing the open class steer show effective with the 1972 show. Open class exhibitors will still have a carcass show but that is all.

According to the newsletter, several of the breed associations have already expressed a desire to use the money they have been spending in the past in the open steer show to increase the premium and places in the junior steer show.

Drylot sheep feeders with a lot capacity of 2,000 head of more had 119,000 sheep and lambs on feed for slaughter April 1 according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This is 28 percent above the number in March and more than four times the number on feed on April 1 last year.

Marketings during March totaled 46,000 head. Current intentions are to market 42,000 head in April, 47,000 in May, and 27,000 in June with May and June being incomplete at this time.

Prospects for brush control during 1971 are pretty poor at the present time. Range specialists and the government assistance programs specify that there should be twelve inches of moisture present before chaining. The drought conditions now prevailing eliminate chaining until we receive that moisture.

Estes-Barrett Wedding Held

Miss Lelah Faye Estes and Bill Barrett Jr. were married in a ceremony here at the First United Methodist Church last Friday evening at 7:30. The pastor, Rev. Harold Orr, officiated.

Members of the immediate families and a few close friends attended the ceremony. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Estes of Sterling City and Mr. Barrett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Barrett, Sr. of Midland.

The bride wore an ivory satin gown with a train in back. The bodice was of shallow lace, and long tapering sleeves came to a point at the wrists. The low neckline was set off with tiny seeded pearls as was the long lace train that hung from the shoulders. Her shoulder-length veil was caught with a tiara of small pearls.

The bride wore an old pin that belonged to her great grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Jeffers. For something new, she wore a pendant given her by the bridegroom. And she wore a blue garter and had a penny in her shoe.

The bridal corsage was white carnations tied with blue ribbon streamers.

Her matron of honor, Mrs. Margaret Ann Bearden, wore a blue silk brocade full-length dress, and her headpiece was a white veil of hair length held with a white carnation. She also carried a bouquet of long-stemmed white carnations.

The bride's sister, Miss Linda Estes, played the wedding music. Clinton Hodges acted as best man. Janie Barrett of Midland, sister of the bridegroom, was at the bride's book.

A reception was held in the State Hotel lobby. Serving were Miss Linda Estes and Mrs. Ann Bearden.

Among those present at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Barrett and Janie of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Winters of Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Maxey of Miles, Mr. and Mrs. Junior Crawford of Rankin, Mrs. Edith Jeffers of Tarpley grandmother of the bride; and Rev. and Mrs. Harold Orr, Glen and Mary, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Hodges, Amy, Becky and Wesley, Mrs. Roy Holler and children, Ann and Charles, and Mrs. Edyth Hudson, all of Sterling City.

The couple will make their home here in Sterling City.

Mrs. Clyde Estes' mother, Mrs. Edith Jeffers of Tarpley, Texas is here visiting the Estes.

feel that the area should get at least three to four inches of good rain during April. This is still possible but the long range weather forecasters are not forecasting this type moisture.

The only practice that can be carried out now is basal treatment of individual trees. Here, the specifications state that basal treatment can be done best when the soil is dry and not fused to the tree trunk—conditions that we can meet, unfortunately. The basal method is a good one but it is limited to scattered stands of trees, not a large scale application. When enough oil is poured around the base to reach the bud zones, kills are good.

WHO MUST FILE SOCIAL SECURITY EARNINGS REPORT

Most social security beneficiaries who earned over $1630 in 1970 are required to file a report of their earnings with the Social Security Administration by April 15, 1971. This report is in addition to any Federal or State tax return, and it must be filed with the Social Security Administration, according to J. M. Talbot, social security manager.

Beneficiaries who were 72 years old in all months of last year are not required to file the annual report of earnings. Disabled beneficiaries should report immediately if they become self-employed or take a job. All other beneficiaries, including families of disabled persons, are under the retirement test and must report their earnings annually.

The purpose of social security benefits is to replace earnings lost due to retirement, death, or disability. If an in-

Lions to Recognize Outstanding Family Everyone Asked to Vote

The Sterling City Lions Club will recognize the outstanding family of Sterling County when they hold the annual ladies night program soon. The idea is to recognize the work for community improvement and betterment, as well as unselfish public service here. A family can work on fund drives, hold civic or public service type club positions, can do more for their community and fellow citizens—and such family is to be recognized with a plaque from the club honoring them for their efforts.

Anyone who lives in Sterling County may vote. Just fill in your choice on the ballot below—and mail it to P.O. Box 435, Sterling City, Texas. Just think who you believe has done enough during the year to get your vote—then fill out this ballot and mail it to the club's committee for the tallying.

Outstanding Family Ballot

I vote for outstanding family of Sterling County:

You do not have to sign your name. The committee will count the votes at the proper time. Committee members are D. Kirk Hopkins, A. C. Lively and Ross Foster.

CANCER DRIVE UNDERWAY

The 1971 Cancer Crusade is underway here and volunteer workers are hoping to be through with solicitation of names by the 15th, said Mrs. Henry Bauer, Crusade Chairman.

dividual continues to earn a substantial amount — $1630 or more — some adjustment is made in the amount of his benefits. One dollar for every two dollars earned between $1630 and $2880 is withheld. If an individual earns over $2880, he gives up a dollar for each dollar earned over $2880 regardless of the amount of yearly earnings. A beneficiary is entitled to his full social security check for any month in which he does not earn over $140 and is not self-employed. The annual report will allow us to determine whether or not additional benefits are payable.

For more information, contact the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue (P.O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in our area. Persons who are unable to meet with him are encouraged to call the office in San Angelo. The telephone number is 949-4608.

Highway Department Burglars Caught

Harold Dean Cooksey and Joe Ed Paul of San Angelo have been charged with the burglary of approximately $6,000 worth of calculators, typewriters, office machines, transits, tools, tires, etc. here of both the State Highway Engineers and Maintenance Barn on November 16, 1969.

Sheriff Jim Cantrell, who charged the pair with the burglary, said Cooksey is in the state pen and Paul is out on $5,000 bail set by E. R. Edwards, local justice of the peace.

Cantrell said the two unloaded some of the stolen goods in Midland and Odessa, and the rest in Old Mexico. The sheriff said the law officials were also trying to get charges against the fences who bought the stolen goods.

Cooksey was out on an appeal from an earlier burglary when the job here was done.

Water Valley and Sterling to Vote

Voters in the Sterling and Water Valley Independent School Districts will go to the polls tomorrow, Saturday, April 10, to vote on the consolidation of the two school districts. Both districts must approve the merger or it falls through.

Water Valley is dangerously low in scholastics at this time, and they are afraid they will be absorbed by a larger school district or the common school district of Tom Green County.

Their bonded indebtedness is $55,000.00 which would have to be assumed by the Sterling School. But the state would (by a formula) over a period of ten years, pay into the consolidated district $300,000 to be used for new construction and for paying off the bonded indebtedness of the takeover school.

Water Valley pupils would (if the issue passes) all come to the Sterling school next year in buses. Water Valley has about 50 scholastics.

If the districts do vote to merge or consolidate, another vote for a bond issue would be called here to pay off that bonded indebtedness, it was said.

The state would pay (in average daily attendance) about $4,800 a year on the newly annexed or merged pupils and the taxes from that district would run about $42,000 each year.

Vote your choice on the school merger Saturday in the courthouse. Mrs. Lee Augustine will act as election judge.

City Councilmen Reelected

Ross Foster, Neal J. Reed and A. C. Skipper Lively were renamed to the city council here in Tuesday's city election. Just over 20 people bothered to vote in the uncontested election.

The other members of the council are Mayor Lee Reed, Roland Lowe and Foster S. Price.

P.T.A. April 19

The Sterling City P.T.A. will meet at 7 p.m. on Monday, April 19 in the school auditorium for the final program of the year. New officers are to be installed.

The freshman class has the devotional, and pupils of the sixth grade will present a special feature program.

A reception will follow the business meeting.

There will be open house at the school and parents are invited to visit and go through the home rooms of their children.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

By Omar Burleson, Member of Congress, 17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Happenings in Washington last week were without precedent. First, on Wednesday were actions by the Democratic Caucus of the House of Representatives on proposals to withdraw our troops from Southeast Asia. The following day the conviction of Lt. Calley was announced in the midst of the debate to extend the draft for another two years.

All these taken together created strong positions, mixed sentiments and emotions. The original proposal in the Democratic caucus presented a reasonable approach to expressing a sentiment and intent in the withdrawal of our forces from the Vietnam conflict. It simply said, "RESOLVED, That it is the sense of the Democratic Caucus of the House of Representatives that in the 92nd Congress the House of Representatives should work to end the United States military involvement in Indochina and to bring about the release of all prisoners in a time certain; and RESOLVED, Further, that in pursuit of these objectives, the Democratic Caucus urges full support wherever possible by both House Democrats and Republicans of the initiatives of the President, the House Committees and Members, and the Senate, which may be pertinent to these ends."

In the course of debate on the above resolution, the following was offered as a substitute: "RESOLVED, that it is the sense of the Democratic Caucus of the House of Representatives that in the 92nd Congress the House of Representatives should work to bring about the withdrawal of all United States armed forces in Indochina and the release of all prisoners of war by December 31, 1971; and be it further RESOLVED, that the Democratic Caucus of the House hereby urges the appropriate House Committees to take prompt legislative action on such legislation as might contribute to the accomplishment of the aforementioned purposes."

After long and heated discussion, the date of December 31, 1971, was deleted by another amendment in its stead which provided that the Democrats of the House of Representatives should speed withdrawal of all U.S. Armed Forces in Indochina and the release of all prisoners of war during the 92nd Congress.

In other words, withdrawal and the release of prisoners should be accomplished by December 31, 1972.

The latter proposal was adopted by the Democratic Caucus. This action does not have the force and effect of law by directing the President to withdraw all American forces at a specified date but simply gives notice of the prevailing sentiment that such should be accomplished. Unfortunately, it also gives notice to the enemy of our intents. It gives the enemy notice that he need only wait and conserve his strength until a better time for full-scale invasion throughout Indochina. There is not the least indication that he is willing to release our prisoners of war on conditions of withdrawal. He need not negotiate peace terms in Paris but just wait, anticipating that we will pull out before the so-called Vietnamization is achieved. If the enemy knows exactly what is to happen there is no reason for concessions of any kind on his part.

There is a timetable for the withdrawal of our forces from Vietnam and, of course, the enemy knows it. It is another thing, however, to fix dates and tell him exactly about our plans and intents.

There is not the slightest reason to trust the communists that they would release our prisoners of war if we had every soldier out of South Vietnam tomorrow. There is no obvious solution to this terrible problem. Our Government has made the release of prisoners a matter of the highest and most urgent priority and yet no progress has been made. Complete Vietnamization of the war is no guarantee that Hanoi will relent in its determination to use American prisoners as political pawns. It seems reasonable to believe that the glimmering hope the Congress will speed the release of prisoners could be extinguished if it tries to use the ordeal of the captives and their families as a political issue here at home.

The hope now is that the South Vietnamese, at some time in 1972, will be strong enough to defend themselves without U.S. combat ground forces and, in the meantime, hopefully, the message should be conveyed to the American prisoners held by the communists and to their families that we have not forgotten and forsaken you—that we have not and will not, until your ordeal is ended, cease any possible effort for your release.

All these things done last week charged with high emotion caused difficulties for applying cool, hard judgments on issues which had to be decided.

Driver Education Van at School

Sterling City driver education students will be training in a multi-media driver education van for the next three weeks to complete the classroom phase of that course.

Loaned from the Education Center, Region 15 the Drivocator coordinates 16 millimeter movies, magnetic sound tapes and 35 millimeter film strips to assist the instructor in teaching up to 36 students at once.

Driver education teacher Bobby Dodds will be instructing the class.

The Texas Education Agency purchased 31 mobile vans for contract use by the 20 Education Service Centers in the State. Two vans were designated for use in the Region 15 service area, which covers 18 counties.

The 12 by 60 foot van comes equipped with 18 film lessons dealing with habits, attitudes, emotions physical capabilities, natural and man-made laws, driving procedures and weather and road problems. Curriculum is correlated with state approved driver education textbooks.

Students will go through 32 hours of instruction in the van to complete the classroom phase of driver education.

The vans are outfitted with an instructor console which provides immediate and cumulative records of individual student and class responses. Responses are automatically recorded on instant-reading meters in a central console, giving the instructor a continuing progress report.

The multi-media system encourages active class participation by requiring students to respond to programmed filmed questions and situations. Student responders retain each individual's selected answer until another alternative is chosen. This allows the student to re-evaluate his original choice. The student is able to respond to a driving situation, evaluate his progress and exercise judgment making.

The van is carpeted, panelled air-conditioned and heated.

We're close to a cure for leukemia.

It's almost too good to believe. A whole crop of kids who are alive and well 5 years or more after getting a new kind of drug treatment for leukemia. And after 5 years, cancer researchers begin to hesitatingly, hopefully, talk of a permanent "cure."

Work has been going on feverishly ever since this kind of therapy was started in 1964. And each year, the children who get leukemia have a far better chance of cure than those of the year before.

The American Cancer Society plays a vital part in this exciting work. So, when our volunteer comes to your door this month, be generous. Especially if you have children. Or grandchildren.

REPORT from Austin

By GEORGE BAKER
State Representative of 66th District

Crank calls which relay bomb threats have become a real problem, and an extremely expensive proceeding in lost time and confusion.

Wednesday another such rumor was received in the Capitol shortly after noon. The building was partially emptied, already, and routine search would have been completed for return to activity shortly after 1, but about the time for resumption of work, a second call came through emphasizing the first message, and stating that it was for real. Then a further delay until 2:30 p.m. resulted.

Fortunately, it was another of the beautiful spring days with which Austin has been blessed—or cursed, depending on the point of view. People went on various errands and waited out the clock in an enjoyable setting. Fortunately, also, it was a false alarm.

The alarm Wednesday was a reminder of one received during the special session two years ago when we were debating a tax bill. The call then however, came at the time of a heavy afternoon thunderstorm, and many people were drenched before they could get inside cars, or reach shelter surrounding the Capitol grounds. Many man-hours of productive effort were lost in each incident.

There has been limited floor action this week in the House of Representatives. Almost the entire Monday session was spent in debating the two resolutions providing for an investigation of charges against state officials linked to the Sharpstown State Bank loan policies and its subsequent collapse, and to the receivership of National Bankers Life Insurance Co.

Speaker Gus Mutchter, one of those who gave a statement to the federal agency (Securities Exchange Commission) told members Monday that he wanted a thorough investigation, that would be neither a whitewash nor a witch hunt.

After lengthy debate—based primarily on efforts of some members to amend the basic resolution creating the House Investigating Committee—the resolution was adopted, and the Speaker said then that the committee would be appointed before adjournment for Easter week-end. There had been the comments that appointment could be delayed until session's end.

The second resolution provides for a special committee, made up of House members, plus designated public officials and officers of responsible state professional associations, as reported in the news media. It is charged with the special responsibility of investigating the Sharpstown, NBC and related matters.

The steps taken were not as strong as some wanted, but mingled with all of the oratory on the subject there always are tinges of political opportunism and demagogery. I voted with the majority for appointment of committees to conduct an investigation to obtain facts, rather than to crucify or whitewash. And there are those who will view the final results either as one or the other, no matter how hard the body tries.

Thursday was a busy day in the House, prior to adjournment for the week-end. It was the first day of the current session with a local and consent calendar—for hearing of bills of strictly local nature, or for those with little or no controversy. The parliamentary procedure for such bills is rather complicated, but it saves time and money.

On days before local and consent calendar is scheduled, the House merely recesses, and the next morning resumes work on the same calendar day. The local and consent bills are heard, and a few minutes later meets in the new session for the new calendar day. The bills heard earlier in the morning, but on the preceding "calendar day", then come through again, and are voted on, one at a time, on third reading and final passage. That work out of the way, the body then begins on a regular calendar of new bills, many of which are debated, and some at great length.

A great many bills have been introduced in this session on both House and Senate, and many have gone through committee. They now are coming up on the calendars in increasing volume—especially with beginning of the consent and local calendars.

We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime.

Can you ever read these notices without a pang? There, you think, goes someone's husband and father. Someone's friend and associate. There, but for the grace of God, go I.

And besides the enormous human tragedy, there is the huge cost to business. Over 90% of cancer deaths occur after 40. That's when most people in business and the professions reach the peak of their careers.

At the American Cancer Society we're working feverishly to change all that. We're close to some very exciting developments. One is a routine blood test which, if it's proven effective, will save thousands of people from cancer of the colon and rectum. And colon-rectum cancer is the second biggest cancer killer, right after lung cancer.

We're so close. It could be your firm's contribution that will put us over the top.

We're making progress in dozens of other cancer research areas, too, and they all cost money. Please be generous. We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime.

"a little child shall lead them"

How can a child learn to find his place in the world, and make it a better place to live? We would answer, by having the great treasures of the Bible opened up to him, and learning its lessons of love and spiritual power. That's what goes on every Sunday at the Christian Science Sunday School.
