AROUND THE COUNTY
by

ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

All mohair producers who received ballots for the referendum are urged to return those ballots to the local REAP office either in person or by mail not later than April 30. The referendum is to determine if they, the producers, wish to authorize the deduction of 1½ cents per pound from mohair sales for the period 1971 through 1973. The funds derived by the deduction are used for promotional purposes such as the advertisement of mohair and mohair products.

Mrs. Roxy Brock, local clerk in the REAP office, says that ballots were mailed to all known mohair producers who had goats in 1970. You should have received your ballot about a week ago.

Mrs. Brock also says that they will have the sign-up for all conservation practices to be carried out soon. They will start taking applications on May 3 for these practices which include aerial spraying of mesquite, if conditions improve enough to make this practice possible. After the sign-up is complete, the county committee will determine those practices to be carried out this year on the basis of priorities established under the REAP—Rural Environmental Assistance Program.

Shearing is in full swing now with some already hrough in this county. In view of the present wool market situation this is a good time to take a few extra steps at shearing time. First, talk to your warehouseman. Several have put forth some different ideas on preparation in hopes that it will help move wools that are a little better prepared. Then, at shearing time, follow his advice. Keep the shearing boards as clean as possible, pack the wool in the best possible manner, and transport it to the warehouse in clean trucks or trailers.

According to figures from the local REAP office, Sterling County's wool that sold averaged $0.3976 per pound. The national average received for wool was $0.355 per pound. Payments made to 72 local producers under the wool incentive program and unshorn lamb program totaled $351,762.91 in 1971. Total pounds of wool sold in the county last year was 741,000.

The widespread use of feed additives in livestock feeds is under real pressure and the swine producers are the first to feel the pressure. Other segments of the livestock industry may be similarly affected in the future.

At the present time, the Food and Drug Administration has increased its surveillance of drug residue in meat, with emphasis on residue in pork. The producer is liable in this case and there are some suits pending in the state already according to information from the pork-producing areas.

All feeds containing additives or antibiotics must be labeled, showing the number of days the material must be withdrawn before the hogs are sold for slaughter. Producers are urged to read the warnings on the attached tags and follow the recommendations closely. These withdrawal times allow ample time for excretion of the materials to the point that the meat will not contain residues

Attending Bank Conference

Mrs. Nan E. Davis, assistant cashier of The First National Bank of Sterling City of Sterling City, Texas, is attending the Southwestern Regional Conference of the National Association of Bank-Women, Inc. in Lubbock Texas, April 22-24.

"The Challenge of Change" is the theme selected to run through the various sessions designed to suit the interests of the women executives.

Jean E. Spencer, who is assistant to Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, will be one of the nationally-known speakers featured on the program. NAWB Vice President Ruth D. Harrison, assistant vice president and director of public relations and advertising, Irwin Union Bank and Trust Company, Columbus, Indiana, will also be on hand to present a workshop on programming done by the organization's National Office.

The National Association of Bank-Women Inc. has a membership of more than 8,000 women executive in banks, savings banks and trust companies in the United States, Canada and overseas. WILL YOUR INCOME GROW TOO?

In five years, the United States will celebrate its bicentennial. Preparations to mark this historic event are already under way in communities big and small from coast to coast. No country has ever had more to celebrate.

These 200 years have seen the fastest development of any nation in the history of the world. In population alone, it has grown from less than four million to the latest census total of 204.8 million. But other advances have been more dramatic.

The United States has shown the world how to land men on the moon. And at the same time it has made great strides toward wiping out poverty and illiteracy. Americans, too, have created the world's first trillion dollar economy. We have earned a reputation throughout the world for our industry and enterprise and for our unrivaled ability to think and plan in terms of the future.

Consider this: By 1980, according to present economic forecasts, the U.S. economy will be twice its present size and strength. While it took 200 years to reach the first trillion dollars, the second trillion will be achieved in only ten short years.

As the Gross National Product and the national wealth has grown, so has individual wealth. By 1980, more than half the families in the nation will be making $15,000 or more.

Today more than 30 million Americans have a direct stake in the nation's economy through securities investments. Nowhere in the world is the ownership of securities so widespread. And through mutual funds, millions of investors are making an especially important contribution to the strength and growth of the economy.

This is because mutual funds pool the individual investments of many people, creating new capital which is then invested in a broad cross-section of American industry. This infusion of new money benefits the economy by providing the capital for new products and services. And the investor in mutual funds has a variety of advantages in investing in this manner. When he buys shares in a mutual fund the risk inherent in any investment is spread over the 50 or 100 or more stocks in the fund's portfolio.

Full-time professional management of your money is provided when you buy mutual funds, a service that once was available only to the very wealthy.

For many people, mutual funds have made investing relatively simple.

In recent years the funds have grown faster than any other major financial institution. Today, about six million Americans own more than 10 million mutual fund accounts.

As the economy speeds ahead at the healthy pace predicted for the seventies, the investments of these millions of individual Americans can be expected to grow, too.

By making sound personal preparations now, mutual fund owners are making sure they will have something extra to celebrate by 1976 as well as by 1980, too.

If you are interested in mutual funds to help in your own plans for the future, you may get free explanatory material from a mutual fund or its representative, a securities dealer, or by writing to the Investment Company Institute, 1775 K Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20006.

We announce with deep sorrow
the death of our Vice President and Treasurer
GEORGE PARKER
after a long illness.

ROBERTS, O'DONNELL & KOPELMAN, INC.

We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime.

Can you ever read these notices without a pang? There, you think, goes someone's husband and father. Someone's friend and associate. There, but for the grace of God, go I.

And besides the enormous human tragedy, there is the huge cost to business. Over 90% of cancer deaths occur after 40. That's when most people in business and the professions reach the peak of their careers.

At the American Cancer Society we're working feverishly to change all that. We're close to some very exciting developments. One is a routine blood test which, if it's proven effective, will save thousands of people from cancer of the colon and rectum. And colon-rectum cancer is the second biggest cancer killer, right after lung cancer.

We're so close. It could be your firm's contribution that will put us over the top.

We're making progress in dozens of other cancer research areas, too, and they all cost money. Please be generous. We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime.

LIONS CRIPPLED CHILDRENS' CAMP

Members of Lions Clubs throughout Texas this month are pausing to pay recognition to their camp for crippled children which has given over 12 thousand handicapped youngsters a new dimension since it was opened in 1953.

The camp, located at Kerrville in the Hill Country of Central Texas, is free to crippled, blind, deaf or mute children from the ages of seven through sixteen. The 17 permanent buildings and other improvements dotting the 504-hill-side acres represent an investment of more than $700,000.

At the camp, these youngsters who have been denied a normal childhood through no fault of their own learn to shed their shyness imposed by their handicaps. By mutual association with other handicapped children and by skillful and gentle counseling, these youngsters have found the freedom to grow, mentally and spiritually, into useful citizens of tomorrow.

While the Lions are paying tribute to their camp, we would like to pay tribute to the Lions and their friends who have supported this great venture of the heart. We know a man never stands so straight as when he stoops to help a crippled child.

Behind the 8-Ball

By the editor.

All right folks, turn your clocks and watches up an hour this Saturday night. Then on Sunday, you'll be o.k.

Or, in thinking like the new math or something, just don't do it and always add one hour to what your watches or clocks say.

You can call it base one. Just add 1 to each reading or numeral on your clock. And there you have it.

8-BALL

A fire caused $215,000 damage to the First United Methodist Church in Burleson recently. That is the church where the Jack Asbills (formerly of Sterling) attend. Mrs. Tom Asbill said just about everything but the sanctuary was burned in the disastrous fire.

LIVING WALLS BY NANCY BRADY

DINING ROOMS AND AREAS

Dining rooms—like old-fashioned parlors—give much pleasure. They enhance the ceremony of eating; their decoration, likewise, partakes of ritual: the centered table, the sideboard, the chandelier or wall sconces.

In a small apartment the "dining room" may consist of nothing but a table and some chairs. Should you attempt to enclose them by screens or curtains? If you do, you may make an already small room seem smaller. Rather than cut up your floor space it might be wise to define the different areas by means of well-chosen wallcoverings. It would be sad not to point up a dining room in some way. The evening meal in particular should be heightened by romantic lighting and a colorful background.

For further information on wallpaper and wallcovering, send $1.00 for a 208-page book to "Living Walls," Wallcovering Industry Bureau, 969 Third Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10022.

My biggest fight wasn't in pictures.

It happened in real life. I was just finishing my 99th ridin', jumpin', fightin', picture. Never felt better in my life.

But my family nagged me into getting a medical checkup. And it turned out I had lung cancer. If I'd waited a few more weeks, I'd be kicking up daisies now.

So, friend, I know what I'm talking about when I tell you, get a checkup. Talk someone you like into getting a checkup. Nag someone you love into getting a checkup.

And when the lady from the American Cancer Society rings your doorbell, dig deep in your pocket. They're working to rid this world of cancer once and for all.
