YCC Members Renovating Muleshoe Wildlife Refuge

This year, as for the past several years, several teenagers are as "busy as beavers" at the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge. In years past, up to 30 young people have spent several weeks on the Refuge, painting, building and repairing.

Teenagers were busy at the Refuge Monday morning, digging foundations at two different locations. They had already spent a couple of weeks of painting and repairing around the refuge, and have now settled down to the serious business of building.

The foundations they were constructing Monday morning were to be used to run a concrete loading ramp and for a retaining wall around the outside wall of the Refuge office.

Last year, money was available to have only two YCC workers at the Refuge, but more money was released this year to do additional work, so the ten young people are very busy.

Phil Bellows, YCC Camp Director and Work Leader commented, "This is a good opportunity for kids to get this type of work experience."

"They are learning carpentry, masonry, fence building, painting and repairing as well as biological facts and safety."

According to Bellows, who is an Industrial Arts instructor with the Sudar School system, the young people also receive training and instruction in first aid and nature awareness.

With six more weeks to go in the summer program, by the time it ends, the ten will have torn down fences, and erected fences, put in a cactus garden at the office, painted several buildings, replaced two cattle guards and help construct two information buildings.

They will also be moving a cattle guard to the Paul's Lake area, east of Highway 214. The Pauls Lake area will be opened to the public in the fall. The formerly closed lake area is the nesting place for 200,000 (plus) sandhill cranes through the winter months. Rodney Krey, manager of the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge, said he hoped that by opening the Paul's Lake part of the Refuge to the general public, they will be able to see and hear the thousands of cranes, in their own nesting area.

Krey said the nesting area would remain open as long as persons did not start harassing the birds, who for many years, have flocked to the lake to winter.

Referring to the young people spending eight weeks on the Refuge as they work diligently fixing up the surroundings, Krey commented, "We have a very good crew this year. They are doing a super job and getting a lot done."

The manager of the Refuge is a strong advocate of using the local and area youth in the eight week program each summer, and said they save "in the thousands" of dollars by performing work chores each year.

He proudly displayed some of the work already done by the ten young men and women this year, including painting, constructing rock racks, repairing fences, installing posts and a multitude of other jobs to keep the Muleshoe

Annual CofC Garage Sale Set Saturday

Do you have a silver tourbillon in your garage? Don't worry about calling in an exterminator, because a silver tourbillon isn't a new pest. It's just one of 87 different varieties of fireworks that have been ordered for the Fourth of July.

The reason that you may have one in your garage is that the Chamber Garage Sale to help finance the fireworks display is this Saturday, June 25. If you have something that is in good condition and is no longer of any use to you in your garage, you are urged to make a donation of some such items to the garage sale.

On that day, Saturday, June 25, the garage sale will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and the sale will be held in the old Western Auto building on Main Street.

Items to be donated may be brought to the Western Auto building between the hours of 5 and 7 p.m. on Thursday, June 23. The only restriction on donations is that contributors are asked to bring items other than clothing. Items that are especially desirable are bicycles and lawn mowers and other yard implements.

CofC manager John Gulley said all area residents are urged and invited to come looking for bargains and to support this effort to raise money for the July 4th Celebration.

The 21st workshop was the 4th Celebration.

Jesko was a top student in the "Electric Controls" course at a three-day farm electrification workshop sponsored by SPS in Amarillo, June 13-15. Eighty-four FFA boys and five FFA girls from Texas and New Mexico attended.

Vocational agriculture teachers who made up the workshop faculty selected the five trip winners on the basis of test scores and class performance.

Rebate Check Hints Economic Recovery

Sixty-Five, Over Club Established

In an effort to involve the "Older Citizen" in activities of the Muleshoe Schools, the MISD Board of Trustees established the "Sixty-Five or Over Club" during their board meeting last week.

John Fuller, superintendent of the Muleshoe ISD said "Muleshoe ISD's Sixty-Five or Over Club is designed to involve the older citizen of our community in the activities and functions of the school.

"The role older citizens play in a community is an important role," he emphasized.

"Statistically, their numbers are increasing while the overall number of school-age children is declining. In fact, the United States Census Bureau projects that by the year 2000, the number of older citizens will increase by 36 percent and will include more than 33 million people.

"In our school district, older citizens are usually long-term residents of the community. These older citizens can become steering advocates of today's educational program."

"According to plans drawn up for the new 'club' the program will be initiated by distributing a 'Sixty-Five or Over Club' card to all residents 65 years or older upon request. These cards entitle the holder to 'free tickets' for all school programs, activities, and sports events.

"By participating in these school functions," added Fuller, "older citizens will be able to stay better informed about school programs and the youth in the community."

He also said that a variety of other activities will be planned by the administration to include other involvements of the older citizens. This will include special recognition weeks and/or days, receptions, parties, and other activities as the program progresses.

Periodic reports will be reviewed to gauge the success of the program for older citizens, concluded the superintendent.

City Sales Tax Rebate Up 6½ Percent From 1982

After a long, dry spell, the distinct promise of an economic turnaround and area recovery is hinted with the receipt of the latest sales tax rebate check by the City of Muleshoe.

Bailey County is one of only five counties who are staying ahead of last year's figures for the sales tax rebate check. The other counties are Crosby, Deaf Smith, Motley and Swisher.

More than half the counties (16) listed on the area rebates showed increases for the month of June, with Bailey County being one of the counties reflecting the rebate increase.

This is the second straight month for Bailey County to show a good increase in sales tax rebate figures. Last month, Bailey was one of eight counties reflecting the increase.

The other counties with increases were Andrews, Childress, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hall, Hockley, Lubbock, Mitchell, Motley, Parmer and Scurry.

State Comptroller Bob Bullock today sent checks totaling $43.8 million in local sales tax payments to 974 cities that levy the one-percent sales tax.

"The cities who lean most heavily on oil and gas for their local receipts are still suffering, but the rest of the state is beginning to make up for the drops in revenue we saw earlier this year," Bullock said. So far this year, local sales tax cities have received $353.5 million, less than one percent behind the $354 million total paid by this time last year.

State sales tax rebate for the period ending June 7 shows Muleshoe-Bailey County to be 6.52 percent to the good from the same time last year. In 1982, payments were $8,108.90, but went up to $8,232.17 for the same time period in 1983. Total 1983 payments to Bailey County to date have reached $101,962.55 in comparison with $95,720.18 of the same time in 1982.

In Castro County, sales tax payments lag in each town, with the entire county being down from last year by a minus 7.58 percent. Dimmitt, the largest reporting city, received a net payment this period of $5,381.00, down considerably from the $7,569.16 at the same time last year. Payments to date for Dimmitt in 1983 are totaled at $62,832.62, down by minus 8.54 percent from the from the $68,702.34 of 1982.

Net sales tax payments to Cochran (Morton) County for the period just ended were $1,604.83, down from $1,642.68 comparable payment in 1982. Total 1983 payments to date for Cochran are $1,604.83.

Hot Weather Lag Slows Area Crime

The hot and lazy days of summer are here — and with them — a definite slowdown in police activity.

During the past week, the record log at the Muleshoe City Police Department reflects the slower activity.

On June 12, Max Garcia was arrested on a charge of public intoxication and jailed in the Bailey County Sheriff's office jail.

Dewey Lynn Cook, Jr. was arrested by city officer Rich Bonham on a charge of speeding and failure to appear on DPS citations. He was picked up on June 14.

On June 10, Alma Burton backed into a parked car, with no injuries and slight damage to the vehicles involved. The investigating officers determined that the parked car was illegally parked.

Cashway filed two reports alleging issuance of bad checks against former Muleshoe residents. Warrants were issued for the man and his wife for five allegedly bad checks.

Michael Lewis, 22, was arrested after Maggie Lewis complained of criminal mischief at her home exceeding $900 in damage to a television, windows, coffee table and hole in her wall. He remains in jail at present-time awaiting trial on the charges.

On June 19, Bratcher Motor Supply reported a burglary, where someone had broken a window and removed an assortment of tools.

Activity was equally light at the Bailey County Sheriff's Office with arrests as follows:

Joe David Johnson, charged with driving while intoxicated.

Girls' Softball All-Stars Named

The 1983 Girls Softball players were treated to a swimming party and cookout hosted by the league officials and coaches, Friday, June 17, 1983.

After swimming and enjoying a meal of hamburgers and cokes the presentation of awards was held.

Winning first place this year were the Lady Bugs. Their coach is Donna Thompson. They were undefeated for the season. Carolyn Harris, president of the league, presented a first place ribbon to each of the following: Shawna Shaw, Connie Flores, Jennifer Tredway, Anita Perez, Michele Flores, Lisa Triana, Elizabeth Garcia, Misty Tredway and Kim Glover.

Going into the final game the Golden Eagles and the Tornados were tied for second place. The Golden Eagles were the victors over the Tornados with a final score of 16 to 14.

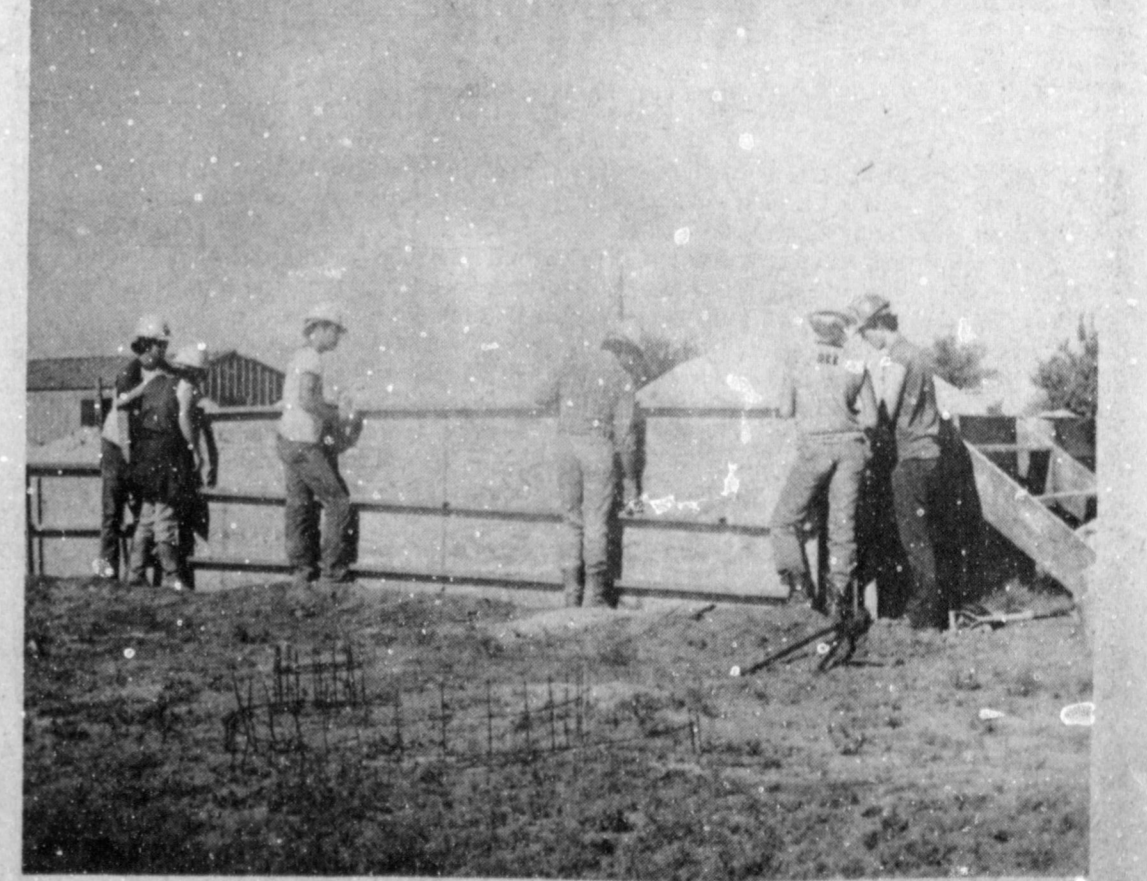

Golden Eagle coaches are Beverly Sisemore, James Brown, and Rex Harris. Players receiving ribbons were: Stephanie Francis, Natalie Stout, Stacie Harris, Mary Ann Castorena, Michele Sisemore, Monica Swint, Christie Mcxwell, Kimberly Harris, Debbie Brown, Tonya Sisemore, Mychele Stout, and Justine Hanes.

The Blue Jeans won fourth place. They were coached by John and Sandra Williams. Team members receiving ribbons were: Rhonda Scott, Kathryn Blevins, Ernice Williams, Angela Burris, Audrey Williams, Michelle Williams, Tami Randall, Noel Vourazeris, Lupita Pineda, Sheila Garner, Julie Critchfield.

New DWI Bill Signed Into Law Last Friday

Texas' tough new driving while intoxicated legislation, sponsored by Senator Bill Sarpalus, was signed into law today by Governor Mark White. According to Senator Sarpalus, "The new law represents a significant step toward reducing the number of drunken drivers on Texas roads and highways."

In its final form, the measure toughens fines and sentences for those convicted of driving while intoxicated, the new law eliminates deferred adjudication, and it includes a new state definition of intoxication.

Governor White signed the bill saying, "Senator Sarpalus deserves an enormous amount of credit for the passage of this law. It's one which I'm sure every lawbreaker will be proud of."

State Representative Terral Smith, who sponsored Sarpalus' bill in the House said, "I've never before seen a senator who was willing to work as hard on a bill as Senator Sarpalus did on the DWI legislation."

Senator Sarpalus says, "our goal is to save lives. We heard many from families who had lost loved ones as a result of drunk drivers. This law was spurred by those outcries, and I'm proud the legislature stood together and passed a bill which will act as a deterrent to driving while intoxicated."

Under the new law, a first-time offender will face a maximum punishment of two years in jail and a $2000 fine. A first-time offender can receive probation without going to jail by participating in an alcohol or drug dependency evaluation, and completing the other necessary conditions or probation.

Jail time will be mandatory for repeat offenders. Second time offenders will face jail time of from 15 days to two years and a fine of from $300 to $2000. On a second DWI conviction, a person will have to serve at least three days in jail as a condition of probation.

A third-time offender will face from 30 days to two years in the county jail or from 60 days to five years in the Texas Department of Corrections and a fine of from $500 to $2000. On a third conviction, a person will have to serve at least ten days as a condition of probation.

Penalties will be further enhanced in DWI cases involving death or serious injury. Under the new law, a drunken driver who injures another person in an accident will receive a minimum of 30 days in jail, even if they receive probation for the rest of their sentence.

Killing someone while driving drunk carries the same two to ten year penalty the offense now carries. But, the new law would require that such defendants spend at least four months in prison, even if they are granted probation.

Juveniles who are arrested for drunken driving will face the same penalties defined currently by the juvenile court. However, under the new law, a drunken driver who injures another person in an accident will receive a minimum of 30 days in jail, even if they receive probation for the rest of their sentence.

Killing someone while driving drunk carries the same two to ten year penalty the offense now carries. But, the new law would require that such defendants spend at least four months in prison, even if they are granted probation.

Juveniles who are arrested for drunken driving will face the same penalties defined currently by the juvenile court. However, under the new law, a first-time juvenile offender must take the DWI educational course to avoid mandatory license suspension. After a second DWI conviction, a juvenile will lose his or her license for a year or until he or she reaches the legal drinking age, whichever is longer.

The new law also includes a new state definition of intoxication. Under the new law, a person would be legally drunk if a test for alcohol in the blood showed a concentration of 0.10 percent or more. Previously, the blood-alcohol level was considered only "evidence" of intoxication. "Studies show that people with a 0.10 percent blood-alcohol level are too drunk to be driving," according to Senator Sarpalus.

The new law also eliminates deferred adjudication for any DWI offender, meaning that any person convicted of drunken driving will be unable to have the offense removed from his or her record after completing probation.

The new provides tougher penalties which are designed to encourage repeat offenders to seek treatment for alcohol problems. Those willing to enter alcohol treatment programs will face more lenient jail terms than those who refuse. The new law requires the director of a treatment facility to notify the court should the person not make a good faith effort to participate in treatment. The new law also allows the court to order the defendant to pay for all or part of the cost of such a rehabilitation program.

"The new law is designed to keep the repeat DWI offender off the street and get him or her into an alcohol treatment program. We realize that just locking up drivers won't accomplish very much," Senator Sarpalus says. "Senator Sarpalus believes the new law is one Texas can be proud of. The law goes into effect January 1, 1984."

ATTENTION: Mr. Irrigation Farmer

A new concept in furrow irrigation called "Surge Flow Irrigation" has shown water savings of 20% to 50%. This concept could mean the difference between profit and bankruptcy for today's irrigation farmer.

Surge Flow Irrigation is a concept of applying water for a short time to several furrows, then switch to other furrows for the same length of time. The alternating of surges in furrows continues until the irrigation is complete.

According to Jerry Walker, Irrigation Engineer with USDA, SCS at Amarillo, Surge Flow Irrigation reduces the intake rate of the soil by depositing consecutive layers of silt and/or air entrapment. On a test on the Melvin Betzen Farm north of Hereford, the Surge Flow concept watered 40 rows in 14 hours and 24 minutes where he had been watering 18 rows in 12 hours. By controlling deep percolation and run off he effectively doubled his irrigated acreage with the same amount of water.

Pivot Products Distributors of Muleshoe has concluded an agreement with the Mfg of the Surge Flow equipment and is offering it to area growers. Anyone interested in either obtaining this equipment or would like to run a trial irrigation with it please come by or call Pivot Products Distributors at 272-5536 or 272-5134.

Charlie Daniel's Band In Live Concert

On Friday, July 15, UC Activities and Skool will present the Charlie Daniels Band live in concert at the Lubbock Civic Center Exhibit Hall. The concert begins at 8:00 p.m. Tickets are $9.00 for Texas Tech students and $10.00 for others. All tickets on the day of the show are $10.00 and may be purchased at the UC Ticket Booth and the usual outlets.

In March, 1982, the Charlie Daniels Band presented their fourteenth album, Windows, preceded by the single "Still in Saigon," a tribute to Vietnam veterans written by Dan Daley. "The emotional words and touching melody, sensitively done by Charlie, could turn the anthem into one of his biggest selling tunes so far," wrote Village Voice columnist Howard Smith and Lin Harris. Indeed, the shade is up and Windows is breaking.

Billboard reviewed the album in the March 20,

1982, issue and chose "Still in Saigon," "The Lady in Red," "Ragin' Cajun," and "We Had It All One Time" as best cuts. Windows, a reflection of the unpredictable and diverse nature of the CDB, was recorded at Nashville's Woodland Sound with producer John Boylan, who also produced the band's Million Mile Reflections, and Full Moon albums.

The CDB's ever increasing popularity is evidenced by their record sales. Before signing with Epic, the band first hit paydirt with the 900,000-plus-selling single "Uneasy Rider" from the Honey in the Rock album. The group's early Fire on the Mountain long player achieved gold status when it was first released on Buddah records. It has sold more than one million units since it was released on Epic a short time later. Saddle Tramp, another album from this era, is now gold. A total of three CDB albums have now been certified gold, and two of them, Fire on the Mountain, and Full Moon, have exceeded the million sales mark. Million Mile Reflections is double platinum.

In the past few years, the CDB has walked away with dozens of contemporary music awards, including: A Grammy Award for "The Devil Went Down to Georgia;" four Country Music Association Awards; and two Academy of Country Music Awards.

The readers of Playboy magazine voted the CDB "Country Group of the Year" in 1982. In February, Charlie Daniels was honored before a joint session of the Tennessee Legislature.

On the American "Windows" tour the CDB will play 75 cities including Lubbock during a five month series of concerts. The Lubbock community will now have the chance to join the over one million fans who have experienced the excitement that is the Charlie Daniels Band.

Pyrethroids Effective Against Flies

Horse owners have a relatively new weapon available to them in the constant battle against house flies.

Synthetic pyrethroids do a good job in controlling house flies in barns when used in conjunction with a total management system. Dr. Cliff Hoelscher told some 400 participants at a recent Horse Short Course at Texas A&M University.

"Synthetic pyrethroids offer considerable potential in pest control because they have a low level of toxicity and can be used in low volume and low concentration," Hoelscher, an entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, pointed out. "The key thing is that they be used correctly so that insects won't develop resistance to them. This means following label directions for the insecticide and using management strategies to keep fly populations to a minimum."

Two chemicals used in synthetic pyrethroids for fly control are fenvalerate and permethrin. A number of commercial products are on the market and contain these insecticides, Hoelscher noted.

"Although pyrethroids are relatively expensive, they are effective and are used at low rates, so a little goes a long way," said the entomologist.

Hoelscher advocated an automatic spraying or fogging system for effective control of adult house flies in a horse barn. Such a system would cost about $1,000 to install, depending on the size of the horse operation, and would cost about $600 a year to operate—cost of the pyrethroid insecticide.

"Such a system would effectively control all house flies and other flying pests in the barn," Hoelscher said. "Of course, house fly control must be a constant practice, so it's also important to use residual or space sprays to control incoming flies."

In addition to using residual or space sprays, the entomologist emphasized the importance of good sanitation in the barn area, use of physical barriers such as screens to keep flies out, and bait stations where flies can be killed with various types of bait formulations.

Hoelscher also told short course participants that the future looks good for continued improvements in insecticides, including insect growth regulators which are just coming on the market.

The annual Horse Short Course was sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas A&M's Department of Animal Science.

The Internal Revenue Service has always charged interest on underpayment of tax. The IRS must also pay interest to taxpayers on overpayments.

The IRS currently charges and pays 16% interest. Under the 1982 Tax Act, the Internal Revenue Service is required to change their rate each January 1 and July 1. The rate effective July 1, 1983, will be based on the average adjusted prime rate charged by commercial banks during the six month period ending March 31, 1983. The average for that six month period was 11.4% and the Tax Act requires that figure to be rounded to the nearest full percentage figure. Therefore, the effective rate for July 1, 1983, to December 31, 1983, will be 11%. This is the rate the Internal Revenue Service has to charge for delinquent payments and the rate they have to pay on overpayments by taxpayers. The IRS does not pay interest on overpayments for current year tax refunds. If you have a refund on your 1982 tax return and the IRS issues a check within 45 days after April 15, you are not entitled to interest. If you file later than April 15, the IRS has 45 days to issue your refund without interest. Overpayments which result from certain adjustments to prior year returns will bear interest.

Good cash management indicates that there are times when it is appropriate to use the Internal Revenue Service as a banker. Consult with your tax advisor to determine whether the 11% interest rate and other timing considerations make it worthwhile to owe money to the Internal Revenue Service as opposed to borrowing from your banker or disturbing your higher yielding investments.

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,

I am a girl twenty one years of age and I live with my parents. I finished college this past year and am teaching school in this town.

I am thinking of leaving home and getting an apartment with two other teachers and this is the reason. My mother has to know everywhere I go, who I am going with and what time I will be back home. She also expects me to help with the house work although I pay board. She still thinks of me as a teenager.

What do you think about this?

Grown-up—Tenn.

Answer:

It seems to me that any woman who has finished college and is making her own living should be old enough to have some freedom.

As for the housework, if you pay enough board I should think she could hire help if she needs it and let you confine your duties to that of keeping your own room.

There is nothing wrong in having an apartment with two other young women but you may find that such an arrangement will also have its drawbacks.

—Louisa

Claudine's Country Club Comments By Claudine Elliot

Can you believe Muleshoe with lakes of water? That is how we ladies feel about our bigger, wider water hazards being built at our Muleshoe Country Club. We are all real excited over making our golf course different to play. In fact someone told Neats Foster to use all the Club she had to get over No. 9 water hazard, so she did just that and her ball ended up in the parking lot! We are in for a lot of lost balls with four bigger water hazards now.

The Ladies Association met for their monthly meeting, Wednesday, June 15. Jeanetta Precure, our president, presided over the meeting. All business was discussed and all committees made their report. Plans are complete for the ladies to have some scrambles this year and the first one will be on our next luncheon date.

July 20 is for our Ladies Association members only, so we wish to encourage more ladies to join our association so they can enter these ladies scrambles. They will be played with teams consisting of A.B.C.D. players. Sounds like a lot of good times ahead.

Neats, our Hi Plains Association Director, reported on the Playday in Tulia this month. Seven ladies went from here and had a beautiful day to play. Analita Haley won low net and low putts in the championship flight. Congratulations to Analita.

Neats gave out awards for the month to the following: May 25-Lucky 13-Best score on No. 13 was Claudine, Jeanetta and Neats; June 1-3 Blind Mice-Dorothy; June 15-Low and High on all 3 pars-Analita, Melzine, Ruby, Dixie, Jeanetta, Shirley and Helan; Dixie chipped in on No. 4 for a birdie.

This is really golf weather and our ladies are playing a lot of golf. The course is really going to be beautiful so come on out and join us!

See you next month.

Out To Lunch Bunch

Glenda Duncan, of Duncan Ceramics, announced that she has moved her ceramic shop to 1114 American Blvd. Classes for beginner students will be announced shortly and those interested should call Glenda at the shop.

Pat Mudford will be giving a class on cake decorating at her home. Those interested should attend next weeks luncheon and let her know how many are interested. The classes are free, but you will have to furnish your own supplies. A list of supplies will be available at the luncheon.

Those attending the meeting included: Kay Moncrief, Glenda Duncan, Dolores Scott, Donna Noriega, Randy and Shelly Pickering, Patricia Mata, Rose Crosswhite, Pam Acklin, Jo Ann Flannery, Gail Jones, Rhonda Hugg and Pam Zwickley.

DPS Asking For Safety In Travel

The Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety called on drivers to use extreme caution in traveling the streets and highways in Texas during the July 4th holiday weekend.

Major Vernon Cawthon said, "We realize the added dangers of traveling by motor vehicle during holiday periods and want to help motorists avoid the tragedy and suffering which could mar this otherwise happy occasion."

He pointed out that the DPS will be conducting its holiday "Operation Motorcade." He said, "We will continue to work with the news media to keep motorists posted on unusual traffic conditions and to advise them on where and why serious holiday accidents are occurring."

Cawthon said, "Excessive speed and driving while intoxicated continue as the primary law violations contributing to fatal accidents," and he warned, "DPS troopers have been directed to be especially watchful for motorists exceeding speed limits or under the influence of alcohol."

Cawthon also reminds motorists that many lives could be saved and serious injuries could be reduced during the crowded driving time through greater utilization of seat belts.

He added, "The DPS will place all available troopers on the state's highways during the holiday, and we urge every Texas driver to join in an all-out effort to make the July 4th holiday as safe as possible."

Rarely does anyone take the trouble to thank anyone for anything.

Tortilla Salad Makes A Meal-In-One

This whole meal Mexican style salad offers contrasts of soft and crisp, spicy and mild. It is colorful with fresh vegetables and glossy ripe olives. Vinaigrette dressing spiked with chile powder awakens the taste buds, while a sour cream garnish adds refreshing coolness. Best of all, the salad goes together in practically no time at all. The ingredients are readily available and easy to keep on hand for super salad-making at any time.

Preparing the salad is simply a matter of layering on the ingredients. Start with a bed of tortilla chips. Then pile on shredded lettuce, red kidney beans, sliced tomato, green onion, jack cheese and sliced ripe olives. Next drizzle on the vinaigrette dressing. The finishing touch is a dollop of sour cream.

Tortilla Salad

- 1 quart tortilla chips (4 ounces)
- 1 quart shredded lettuce
- 1 (8-3/4 ounce) can red kidney beans, drained
- 2 medium tomatoes, diced
- 1/2 cup chopped green onion
- 1 cup grated Monterey Jack cheese

- 1-1/2 cups pitted California ripe olives, halved
 - Vinaigrette Dressing (recipe follows)
 - 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
- Divide chips equally among 4 serving plates, about 1 cup

An order restoring the two-cent local rate on first class postage on July 1 was signed last Monday by the Postmaster General.

The reduction from the present three-cent rate is being made under a recently enacted law and it is hoped that the volume of business will be increased to a point where work will be provided for thousands of postal employees who otherwise might be furloughed without pay.

Effective last Saturday gasoline retail prices advanced 1 1/2 cents or to 12 1/2 cents.

One cent of the raise comes from the refinery, while the one-half cent was added Federal tax, making a total of 5 1/2 cents per gallon now paid by auto users in Texas.

Each year a vote is taken to pick one girl from each team that was the Sparkplug of the team. This is not necessarily the best player but the girl the others look to for spirit and leadership. The girls vote by secret ballot to choose the girl for their team only. Chosen for the Tornados was Jo Ann Gutierrez. The Blue Jeans chose Julie Crittenden. Lady Bugs Sparkplug was Kim Glover and the Golden Eagles had a tie between Tonya Sisemore and Debbie Brown. Each of these girls was presented a trophy by Carolyn Harris.

Another special award that is presented each year is the "Good Sportsmanship Team". All the girls work hard to win this award. This is decided by vote from the other teams. This year by unanimous vote the award went to the Tornados. This team was selected as having as a whole shown the best attitude and sportsmanship during all ball games.

Something new this year was the naming of the All Star team. These girls were selected by the coaches and Carolyn Harris. 1983 All Stars are: Debbie Brown, Michelle Stout, Tonya Sisemore, Kim Glover, Elizabeth Garcia, Connie Flores, Julie Crittenden, Audrey Williams, Lupita Pineda, Amy Harrison, Jo Ann Gutierrez and Kelly Conklin. Alternates are Lisa Triana, Justin Hanes, Shelly Berty and Michelle Gutierrez. Head coach for the All Stars will be Donna Thompson. she will be assisted by the other coaches. Plans are being made at this time to have a tournament with teams from area towns. Two teams from the Clovis League have agreed to play and plans are in the works for other towns.

reflected an overall increase of 1.35 percent over 1982 sales tax rebates.

Net payments for Friona this period amounted to $4,342.02, up from the $3,701.65 from 1982. Payments to date for 1983 for Friona have reached $46,383.37, leaving them down by minus 6.21 percent from the $49,454.57 of 1982.

Houston received the largest check, $8.4 million, a 12.5 percent increase from the city's June 1982 payment, but year to date payments for Houston are still about 8.3 percent behind last year. Dallas' check for $5.2 million brought that city's 1983 total to $41.7 million, 8.5 percent ahead of last year.

San Antonio received $2.9 million, boosting that city's increase over 1982 to 10.7 percent. Austin's check for $1.7 million equals a 16.7 percent rise above last year. Fort Worth's check of $1.7 million represents a 10 percent increase for 1983.

Midland and Odessa payments still lag behind last year. Odessa's $456,000 June payment leaves 1983 year to date payments to that city 32.1 percent behind last year. Midland received $376,000, leaving that city 25.5 percent behind 1982.

Bullock also sent June rebates to the state's two Metropolitan Transit Authorities. The Houston MYA received $9.3 million, up from last June's $8.7 million check. The San Antonio MTA got $1.3 million, up from last June's $976,000.

The City and MTA sales taxes are collected along with the state sales tax by merchants and rebated monthly to the cities in which they are collected by the Comptroller.

The June checks were for taxes collected on sales made in April and reported to the Comptroller by the end of May.

Actually, he is checking on some of the fabric "cooking" in a pressure jet dryer. Their research helps U.S. cotton producers get markets for their fiber.

Blossom-End Rot Common

It's virtually impossible to grow a crop of tomatoes without having to deal with blossom-end rot.

Blossom-end rot, which also affects a few other crops such as peppers and watermelons, is associated with a deficiency of calcium as well as excessive water loss, says Spencer Tanksley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Although blossom-end rot may occur anywhere on the fruit, it generally appears at the blossom end or bottom. It can occur at almost any time during the development of the fruit.

Blossom-end rot generally begins with the appearance of small, irregularly shaped, water soaked areas near the base of the fruit. The area darkens and eventually can become leathery, wrinkled and deteriorated.

Visual symptoms associated with blossom-end rot are often the result of a condition which may have occurred several days or even weeks prior to the symptoms, Tanksley says. The disorder must be prevented, not just treated after it appears.

Blossom-end rot often occurs when plants suffer from water stress - either too much or not enough - or when drying winds increase water loss from the foliage.

Whenever these conditions occur, plants will lose more water to the atmosphere than they can absorb through the roots. This results in water loss from the plant and the fruit, resulting in a slight drying of the blossom end or the bottom of the fruit. As these cells die, a blackened area appears.

Maintaining uniform soil moisture will help prevent blossom-end rot, notes Tanksley. Well-drained soil and a good mulching program will help keep the soil from becoming water-logged while reducing loss of water available to the plant during dry periods. A uniform and consistent watering program is also important.

It's best to remove fruit damaged by blossom-end rot so top quality fruit can develop, adds Tanksley.

The future farmers learned how to wire buildings, build and use electric controls, or how to build electric motors. They also were taught how electricity is made, and first aid and safety steps.

Five area vocational agriculture teachers paid by SPS taught the three courses. They were assisted by 10 adult FFA sponsors and by SPS personnel.

The "Farm Wiring" course emphasized safe and efficient wiring of two and three-way switches, proper wire splicing, and how to make a meter loop. The skills were said to be for homes, barns, sheds, or other places electricity is needed.

Students in the "Electric Controls" course learned how to tie in three- and four-way switches, how to set up photoelectric cells for automatic lighting, and how to set up two- and three-pole relays.

The "Farm Motors" course taught students how to operate, repair and build small electric motors.

On the second day of the workshop, the students toured SPS' Harrington Station, the coal-fueled power plant northeast of Amarillo. The station has a generating capacity of 1,122,000 kilowatts.

Southwestern Public Service Company primarily provides electric utility service to a population of more than one million in a nearly 70,000 square mile area of the Panhandle and south plains of Texas, eastern and southeastern New Mexico, the Oklahoma Panhandle and southwestern Kansas.

Lieutenant Governor's Report

By Bill Hobby

AUSTIN - A year and a half ago, after the defeat of Proposition Four, we began a process of reconsidering this state's water resource policies.

For various reasons, voters statewide have rejected the last three water plans. In this latest effort, we tried to involve a number of different groups with opposing views.

Our goal is a water agenda that is acceptable to a majority of our citizens. Primary emphasis is on dealing with problems we can solve, not problems fifty years down the road which we can only anticipate.

Working with Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower and several senators, I believe we have a package of bills and resolutions that provides a fiscally responsible water resources agenda. It is a five point program:

* A proposed constitutional amendment sponsored by Senators Ray Farabee, John Montford, and Ed Howard - would authorize the sale of an additional $300 million in water development bonds. These funds could be used by cities with hardships to develop water supplies and water quality programs.

* Senators Howard and Carl Parker are sponsoring a constitutional amendment which would allow the state to underwrite $250 million in water development projects for local governments. It also would allow the Legislature to appropriate money for a loan program for major projects.

* Senators Montford and Bill Sarpalus are sponsoring another constitutional amendment to establish a bond program that would help farmers improve water conservation techniques.

* Senator John Sharp is sponsoring a bill strengthening the Texas Water Commission's authority. In issuing water permits, the commission would assess the impact and ensure that the productivity of the state's bays and estuaries are maintained.

* Senator Tati Santiesteban is sponsoring a conservation bill that requires any political subdivision to have a water conservation plan before it is eligible for state financial aid on water projects.

The people of Texas have asked for a different and comprehensive water plan. I think we can provide a starting place with this package.

Little Difference Shown In Feedlot, Show Steers

When the smoke cleared from a recent study comparing feedlot and show steers at Texas A&M University, only minor differences were apparent.

Results of the study were aired at a Steer Production and Evaluation Symposium at Texas A&M May 20-21 attended by more than 700 cattlemen, feedlot operators, packers, stock show officials, livestock judges, and 4-H and FFA members.

The study compared 46 steers that were put on a performance test last October in the same location and fed the same ration. The only difference was that some were hal-broken and handled as show steers while others were treated as feedlot steers.

Objectives of the study were to evaluate the performance of both feedlot and show steers and to relate this performance to the end-product of the beef cattle industry--the practical production of beef. The symposium featured these steers as live animals, frozen animals and carcasses along with comments and opinions from a host of experts representing all phases of the cattle business.

Both groups of steers in the study compared favorably in growth and average daily gain during the 168-day feeding period. The show managed steers had a faster total growth rate--5.25 inches (measured at the hip) compared to 4.69 inches--while the feedlot steers averaged 2.25 pounds of gain a day compared to 2.19 for the show steers.

From a carcass standpoint the steers again compared favorably. However, several of the steers that were placed lower by judges during a live evaluation actually graded better from a carcass standpoint than the higher placed steers.

The end-result of the steer study showed that there actually were only minor differences in feedlot and show steers. In addition, the study provided symposium participants with a better perspective of what the ideal steer should be like.

"The ideal steer is one with enough finish to grade Good to Low Choice and with adequate muscle, frame size, volume and skeletal correctness to produce an acceptable carcass in an efficient manner," said Dr. Harlan D. Ritchie of Michigan State University, the featured speaker.

"Basically, the ideal steer is one that will produce a 675 to 750-pound carcass (1125 to 1250 pounds live weight) with .3 to .6-inch fat cover and good muscling," Ritchie said. "The carcass should have a 50-50 chance of making the Choice grade."

Ritchie emphasized that the "right" kind of feeder steer is the one that "looks" right and produces the "right" carcass. And to produce this "right" kind of steer, cattlemen need to consider the following:

1. Feed resources.
2. Climate or environment.
3. Management and labor resources.
4. Market requirements -- carcass size, quality grade and yield grade.

"We must match cattle to existing conditions when we consider a beef production system," said Ritchie. "Optimum size of animals and the size of our production unit should fit into the conditions we have to deal with."

In a commercial beef cattle operation, cow efficiency is of critical importance, Ritchie emphasized. "Since the cow is the factory that produces the calf, we must be sure it's functioning efficiently. Cow efficiency should be measured in pounds of calf weaned per cow exposed and involves both biological efficiency as well as economical efficiency. In other words, for any given set of environmental and economic conditions, there is an optimum cow size and milk level," he said.

According to symposium officials, steers fall into the same mold, with a host of variables involved in determining the "best" type of steer to produce, whether for show or for the feedlot.

The Steer Production and Evaluation Symposium was sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas A&M University Department of Animal Science, and a host of livestock shows and breed associations.

Study Committee Looks At UIL Restrictions

A blue-ribbon Special Study Committee will recommend to the UIL rulemaking bodies that summer basketball camp and league restrictions as well as non-school soccer restraints be reviewed and possibly relaxed. But while the panel will suggest loosening rules in some areas, it will recommend that rules governing loss of school time and academic standards be toughened.

The study committee, created by the UIL Legislative Council last fall, held public meetings in Austin, Lubbock, Houston, San Antonio and the Dallas-Fort Worth metropolplex to collect input on a number of controversial items. The committee met May 17 in Austin to iron out final recommendations, which will be presented to the UIL's Legislative Council subcommittee this summer and to the full Council in October.

Internal Revenue Gives Extension For Some Taxes

The Internal Revenue Service today said that it is granting to all payors of interest and dividend income an automatic 1-month extension of the requirement to withhold tax scheduled to begin July 1, 1983. The automatic 1-month extension is being granted to alleviate any undue hardship to payors.

Today's action is being taken in light of the June 16, 1983, Senate action to repeal the withholding provisions which were enacted by the Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982. The IRS noted that there has been no final action concerning repeal. The Congress continues to consider expanded backup withholding and other compliance measures.

Electronic Phones Are Popular Consumer Choice

Five million consumers purchased their own telephones in 1982, and another 10 million are expected to do so in 1983.

Electronic telephones are becoming an increasingly popular choice for those who buy phones, says Bonnie Piernot, a family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Electronic phones differ slightly from standard push-button phones because they send out pulses instead of electronic beeps. Although phone companies will often charge extra to handle the electronic beeps of push-button dialing, there is no extra charge with electronic phones, says Piernot.

Another advantage of electronic phones is that they can be programmed to perform special functions, such as dialing frequently called numbers, canceling incoming calls from people who don't use a special code, and preventing the person on the line from hearing while you talk to someone in the room with you.

"People with physical disabilities could really benefit from some of the options such as automatic dialers, amplifiers, large dials and number pads that electronic phones make available," says the specialist.

"But electronic phones have their disadvantages too," warns Piernot. For example, current electronic phones cannot be used for the cut-rate long-distance services, or for push-button bill paying.

Because electronic phones are still in the developmental stages, they are also more likely to break down than standard phones, explains Piernot.

"Electronic phones are definitely more sensitive and need a little more care than others." Some people may find it helpful to have a standard phone as a back-up for their electronic phone, she adds.

Service of electronic phones can present another problem. Some stores will not service electronic phones and the consumer must pay to ship it to a central or regional service center.

The cordless telephone is popular because it allows phone use indoors and out with a range of up to 1000 feet. The portability is convenient, yet can also result in a consumer misplacing or even losing a phone out-doors.

Due to rapidly developing technology, the quality of electronic phones will probably get better, while the price may actually decrease in the future, states Piernot.

possible use of odd numbers of districts (e.g. 19 districts in AAAA and 29 in AAAAA, etc.) for reclassification purposes. In addition, the committee suggested that the UIL staff seek input on the process from outside consultants.

Other proposals, include moving the literary/academic state meet earlier in the year, to avoid conflicts with track and field, golf and tennis activities, and to change the awards rule for major awards for $40 to $50. Also, to place gymnastics on the referendum ballot, to examine the possibility of penalizing the person (coach or administrator) responsible for rule violations, and to expand the study committee concept throughout the state to allow for regular public input.

"The League has been unfairly criticized for operating behind closed doors," Dr. Bailey Marshall said. "The purpose of the Special Study Committee was to go to the public to gather input from those in favor of and those opposed to League rules. In the past the legislative meetings in Austin have been open to the public but few non-school people have attended."

He said plans are to expand the concept to include more public hearing sites in the future.

Protection For Buyers And Sellers

Whether you're buying or selling a home, it's probably going to be the biggest and most important financial transaction you'll ever make. That's why it's important to know everything you can that will make the process easier and faster.

One thing that makes homes more attractive to buyers is a special plan that protects buyers from many costly unexpected repairs for up to three years after the sale. The plan even works to your advantage if you're a seller, because it's a strong incentive for interested prospects to purchase your home.

Under the Buyer Protection Plan, one of two warranty programs developed by Electronic Realty Associates (ERA Real Estate), buyers are protected against major costs for repairing or replacing nine major components. Items covered include the central heating system, electric air conditioning, built-in appliances, water heaters, water softeners, interior plumbing and plumbing fixtures, interior electrical systems and accessible duct work.

A similar warranty program—ERA Real Estate's Seller Protection Plan—offers the same kind of coverage and protects you from 15 days after you decide to sell your home until it's sold (180 days maximum) if you list it with an ERA broker. It covers the same components as the Buyer Protection Plan and prevents costly last-minute repairs just as you're preparing to move.

... a famous and well known quotation, and a good rule to follow. Any doctor will agree that eating some fruit every day is beneficial to health. Eating fruit is an aid to health and also gives us great pleasure, for instance how about one of mother's delicious apple pies, or what joy comes from biting into a nice juicy apple, or orange.

Spiritually, attending church is of great benefit to us. The soul needs the nourishment provided by a good sermon or the encouragement of fellow worshippers. Not only do we need the things that the church offers, but there are many pleasures to be derived there.

THE CHURCH IS GOD'S appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and all His demands for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Creek looks at the public school problem this week, then looks away.

Dear editor: Washington politicians, who are usually the last to hear about something, are now in full cry about the public school system that parents have been complaining about for a long time.

The complaints are that while most athletic programs seem to be in good shape, more records broken than ever before, subject matters like reading, writing and arithmetic aren't getting enough attention. You can get a high school diploma for showing up for class and looking out the window for 11 years.

The solution, some say, is to pay good teachers more than mediocre ones, under a plan called Merit Pay for Master Teachers. This, they say, will cause more bright minds to choose teaching instead of law or medicine or such other more profitable lines.

Teachers' associations object, saying all teachers with the same degrees and experience ought to be paid the same. After all, it might be pointed out, all U.S. Presidents get the same salary, the inferior and the superior ones alike. All Congressmen do, willy-nilly.

Supporters of the Master Teacher idea point out that in other professions superior people get superior salaries, so why not in the teaching profession.

I have thought this over, and it's a good idea, but there is some problems.

In order to identify a Master Teacher, one who is truly educated with a cultivated mind, who is dedicated to the profession and not just teaching til her husband gets through law school, you'd have to have a Master Superintendent and Master Principals with the same attainments. You see what the problem is right away.

And to get Master Superintendents identified and hired, you'd have to have Master School Board Trustees.

And to get Master Trustees...The program is getting out of hand.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Special Lease Payment Discounts Give You Big Savings On New John Deere Equipment

If you prefer to lease new equipment, save with special lease payment discounts...or if you buy, take advantage of finance waivers

Now is an excellent time to lease a new piece of John Deere equipment. Here's why: If you qualify and decide to lease any new piece of John Deere equipment currently eligible for a finance waiver, your lease payments will be discounted. The discount will reduce the amount of each lease payment you make. The amount of the discount will depend upon the number of months of waiver remaining on that particular piece of equipment.

This program enhances the cash flow advantage of leasing by further reducing your lease payments on eligible equipment. Save big—just like you will if you purchase the equipment and receive the finance waiver.

Whatever your decision—to lease or to buy—you'll get big savings from lease payment discounts or finance waivers. And, you'll get the quality John Deere equipment that you need. Stop in for details.
