AROUND THE COUNTY

ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

Six of the twelve Sterling County 4-H Club lambs entered in the Fort Worth Show last week placed in the singles classes there. Three other lambs were used in group classes along with FFA lambs and placed there; these were also sold in the sale Saturday morning.

Lenard Horwood's finewool lamb placed 24th in a class of about 200 lambs. The lamb, bred by Dayton Barrett, was the lamb that was reserve champion at our county show.

Lenard's Southdown lamb was thirtieth, Lisa Horwood had the thirty-fourth place Southdown, and Larry the thirty-seventh place Southdown.

Larry had one crossbred in the group of fifteen crossbred lambs while Melinda Terry had two medium wool lambs in that group of fifteen.

Twelve 4-H Club members will be showing livestock in the San Antonio Livestock Show which opens today—February 9.

Club members who are showing lambs are Patti Bynum, Amy Hodges, Becky Hodges, Wesley Hodges, Melanie McEntire, Delmer Radde, Melinda Terry and Fred Thompson.

Larry Horwood, Lenard Horwood and Lisa Horwood have steers entered. The steers, like the lambs, show this weekend.

Amy, Becky and Wesley Hodges have Rambouillets entered. Amy and Wesley have theirs entered in the Open Show while Becky has hers entered in the Junior Show. All Rambouillets show Tuesday.

Charles Blank has two Charolais heifers that he will show at San Antonio. The heifers will show on Thursday, February 15.

The 1973 FARMERS' TAX GUIDE is now available at the county extension office. The guide gives information on filing farm and ranch income tax returns. Also included in the guide are a number of examples of completed returns.

The guide contains a new section on investment credit which explains what property qualifies, the amount of credit available along with limitations, and how to complete credit on used property and recapture information. One chapter deals with credit for gasoline and fuels used for farming purposes and another deals with self-employment taxes and social security.

Whether you have your return filed by a tax practitioner or do it yourself, the new publication will be useful. Call or come by the county agent's office for your copy.

There's still time left to spray your pecan or fruit trees for the control of scale. The scale insect is a tiny one which saps the tree's vitality and will eventually cause its death.

The insect can be detected by inspecting the tree's limbs and trunk. If scale is present, there will be tiny, grayish appearing hard shells that appear as scales on a fish.

Control measures consist of the application of three and one-half gallons of a 97 percent oil emulsion in one hundred gallons of water. This must be applied during the dormant period of the tree as the oil will damage the buds and young leaves. The trunk and entire scaffolding of the tree should be covered with the spray.

Behind the 8-Ball

By the editor.

A norther blew in Wednesday night, bringing more cold weather to the area.

Cold, blowing snow started before Thursday morning and temperatures got down in the low twenties. Slow rain fell most of Wednesday.

So, winter isn't over yet.

8-BALL

A group from the Lions Club is getting up a chartered bus trip to El Paso, sometimes next month — perhaps about the middle of the month. It is open for non-members and families, too, in case you are interested.

Tentative plans call for the leaving here about six o'clock on a Saturday morning and arriving in El Paso at the motel about 11 a. m. (their time). Those who want to, at one o'clock could catch or get the Sunland Park bus— as it made the rounds by the motel and go to the horse races there. Back on the bus by five or five-thirty and take bus to Juarez to the dog race track for the night races— or go over to eat and shop, or whatever.

Then on Sunday morning, take the Juarez bus to the Mexican side again for shopping or looking and back to the motel by one.

The bus would leave there by two o'clock and get back to Sterling City about ten.

The bus fare (round trip) per person would be under $20, it is estimated. The motel room would be approximately $12 per night for a couple. It is all to be worked out on the cost before going. Reservations will have to be made and such.

If you want to be included on the trip, drop a card to the Lions Club and say how many. Around thirty persons can go on the bus.

8-BALL

In the past the Lions Club has sponsored chartered bus trips to the Astrodome in Houston to see the Astros play baseball and to the Texas Stadium in Irving to see the Dallas Cowboys play.

8-BALL

The Sterling City Basketball Eagles (boys) played Bronte here last Friday night in a game that Bronte thought they were supposed to win. And, they got fooled.

The Sterling boys took out or off with a bang and never were threatened by Bronte. Leading most of the game by two to one, the final score was 62 to 51.

The Sterling girls lost to Bronte 52 to 36. Then on Tuesday night of this week the boys won easily over Greenwood.

If Bronte gets beaten by Forsan and Sterling does not lose another game, the two teams could be tied for first place, so we heard.

RANDY HORD HAS Champion Finewool Lamb AT FORT WORTH

Randy Hord, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rance Hord, exhibited a 110 pound finewool lamb, bred by Dayton Barrett, to the champion finewool lamb honors at the Fort Worth Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show last Friday.

Ten FFA members showed 49 lambs and placed 47 of them in the premium sale. Exhibitors included Tommy Bynum, Jeff Cantrell, Sheri Foster, Steven Foster, Randy Hord, Ronny Hord, Carl Igo, Lee Igo, Jim Terry, Darow Atkins, and Benny Radde. Four of the top eleven finewool lambs in the show were bred by Dayton Barrett. In the finewool class, Randy Hord was first, and champion finewool of the show, Carl Igo, 6th and 43rd, Lee Igo 7th and 42nd, Ronny Hord 11th and Tommy Bynum 1th.

Jim Terry placed 13th in the finewool crossbred class, Darow Atkins 28th, Sheri Foster 31st, Randy Hord 32nd, and Darow Atkins 40th. The crossbred lambs were bred by I.W. Terry, Forrest Foster and Jim Atkins and Reynolds Foster. The local exhibitors placed fourth in the pen of 15 finewool-crossbred lambs.

Jim Terry exhibited a 41st place medium wool lamb. Sterling FFA placed fourth in the pen of 15 medium wool lambs. Twelve of the medium wool lambs were bred by I. W. Terry.

Ronny Hord placed 13th in the Southdown class and Lee Igo placed 25th in that class.

Randy's lamb won champion in the junior lamb show and then Randy went on to compete against the open finewool lamb winner, to win the overall champion finewool lamb of the entire show. Randy sold his lamb for $500 in the premium sale held Saturday afternoon. He also had numerous pictures made and was on channel 11 TV in the Fort Worth area.

Lee and Carl Igo exhibited the champion Rambouillet ram, the reserve champion Rambouillet ewe, reserve champion Rambouillet ewe, and then won first in the exhibitors flock, which consists of two ewe lambs, two yearling ewes and one ram either yearling or lamb age.

The Sterling City FFA exhibitors wish to express their appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Foster for their support, both manual and moral during the Fort Worth Show. Also Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Foster and Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Terry for their help in transporting students during the show.

NEWS OF ECOLOGY

ALUMINUM STRETCHES ENERGY RESOURCES

Now that pollution clean-up is underway, environmental concern seems to be shifting to energy supply. Some ecologists worry about America's accelerating use of fuels — coal, oil, gas and uranium.

These basic sources of energy, burned directly or transformed into electricity, propel all vehicles, heat and cool our homes, run appliances, cook and refrigerate foods and power our industries.

The use of aluminum, an environmentally thrifty metal, stretches fuels and energy, the people at Reynolds Aluminum point out.

"Aluminum does not deteriorate and is easily recycled with little expenditure of energy," said Dr. Robert F. Testin, director of environmental planning for Reynolds. "That makes it an energy bank that can be drawn upon again and again. When long-lasting aluminum products are finally discarded, melting them down for refashioning into new products takes less than 5 per cent of the energy used to make the aluminum originally."

Because it is so light — only one-third the weight of steel, copper or brass — aluminum provides a greater quantity of material per ton. "This phenomenon stretches the energy used in making aluminum products, as a ton of aluminum yields two to three times more items than are obtained from a ton of other materials," according to Dr. Earl E. Patterson, who heads up Reynolds metallurgical research.

An example of Dr. Patterson's point is beer and soft drink containers. A ton of steel produces 15,400 steel cans, and a ton of glass makes 5,000 bottles, but a ton of aluminum results in 32,680 all-aluminum cans.

An article in the Reynolds magazine reveals many other ways aluminum conserves energy.

Transportation of all kinds consumes 30 per cent of America's energy supply. The light metal cuts fuel consumption in all kinds of vehicles — aluminum highway trucks, automobiles with their aluminum parts, aluminum railroad cars, aluminum boats and ships with aluminum superstructures. The 1973 autos average about 78 pounds of aluminum per car.

In heating and air conditioning, which take 27 per cent of the energy supply, aluminum insulation and ducts, because of their high heat reflectivity, cut fuel consumption.

Durable aluminum siding, windows and other construction items greatly reduce use of resources and energy in maintenance, repair and replacement. The article points out that aluminum will not rot or warp, and is immune to red rust, mildew and termites.

In cooking, the rapid heat conductivity of aluminum pots and pans — six times faster than steel, for example — conserves electricity and gas. In the refrigerator, foods in aluminum foil chill or freeze quicker than when wrapped in paper or plastic film, saving electricity.

The public depends on aluminum electrical cable for low-cost delivery of electricity to the home. Replacing expensive copper, aluminum cable has lowered everybody's electrical bills.

Spotlight on HEALTH

PROFILE OF A COLD VICTIM

What are your chances of catching cold? According to a booklet on the subject, they're especially good if you're female, live in a large city in the western or north-eastern part of the U.S., and are the mother of a child under 6 years of age. Young children are the greatest cold-spreaders. Your chances are further enhanced if you're going through a period of stress and strain. "Contentment preserves one even from catching a cold," the great philosopher, Nietzsche once said.

The booklet, which discusses the common cold, is distributed by Winthrop Laboratories, the makers of Neo-Synephrine nose drops and nasal spray that are widely used in the U.S. and abroad.

Keeping up one's resistance helps to avoid the common cold, according to the publication, which advises getting sufficient fresh air and exercise, well-balanced meals, and as much sleep as possible in a well-ventilated bedroom. In cold weather areas, an extra hour a night is recommended.

Early stages of the common cold are the most contagious. Every sneeze fills the air with thousands of virus-laden droplets. To help prevent spreading a cold to the rest of the family, to friends and to co-workers, everyone should have his own glass, cup, silverware and towels. Hands should be washed thoroughly and often, preferably with a liquid antibacterial skin cleanser. pHisoHex is the one that is used in most U.S. hospitals to help prevent spread of infections. Particularly during the cold season, it is wise to keep a handwashing preparation in the kitchen, as well as in the bathroom.

Your chances of catching a cold will be reduced if precautions are taken. However, the Winthrop booklet also states that it is not completely possible to avoid a cold. Just breathing the air that someone with a cold has merely talked into offers the possibility of infecting a healthy person.

Social Security Tips

Worried about proving your age? J. M. Talbot, social security manager, said the people at your social security office may be able to help you make your claim. There are some things you can do ahead of time. If you were born in a state that kept birth records when you were born, write for your birth certificate. If the state where you were born wasn't keeping birth records at the time, the next best thing is a baptismal record.

If you were baptized before age 5, you'll be asked to find out if there is a record. If there is, it is all the proof of your age you'll need.

If you have no birth or baptismal record, the people working in the social security office will be happy to suggest some other possibilities. Some examples are an old family Bible, school records, and federal census records.

You may not recall now, but when you bought your marriage license you gave your age. You may also have some old insurance policies about the house. The list of proofs to try is quite long. When you file your claim, it helps if you have already fund the oldest thing you can that shows your age. Usually, the older the record the better it is for proving your age. It will help the people at the social security office pay your benefits sooner if you think ahead on your age.

Many times a telephone call before you visit the social security office will help. You may be able to file your claim by phone. Contact the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris Avenue (P. O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area. Persons who are unable to meet with him are encouraged to call the office in San Angelo at 949-4608.

"If I apply for disability benefits, do I have to be examined by a social security doctor before I can get any checks?" This is a question frequently asked when disabled workers claim social security disability insurance benefits.

J. M. Talbot, social security manager, says the social security law requires the applicant to supply the medical records on his condition. When you apply for benefits, you must provide a report from your attending doctor or hospital.

Information from the attending doctor and the hospital is generally all that is needed. However, in some instances, a specialist's report may be necessary to clarify a question or resolve a borderline situation. You may then be asked to go for a special examination to help provide the extra information.

When you apply for disability benefits, be ready to give the names and addresses of all your sources of medical treatment for your disabling condition.

Each calendar quarter, the Social Security Administration receives employer reports of earnings showing incorrect social security numbers of employees, according to J.M. Talbot, social security manager. These incorrect reports, in many cases, happen when a girl has married but does not have her name changed on social security records.

Mr. Talbot stated that when a girl marries, she should complete a 'Request for Change in Social Security Record' form. After completing the form and returning it to the social security office with her old card, she will be issued a new social security card with the same number but showing the new name.

STATE HOTEL for sale or lease. H. L. Hildebrand.

How to make your home more comfortable while you lower your energy costs.

Like to enjoy barefoot comfort in your home all year long?

Like to cut heating costs as much as a third?

Like to cut air conditioning costs as much as half?

The secret is through insulation.

Your home probably has some insulation already. But, thorough insulation includes an adequate amount in the ceiling, in the walls and under the floor. It also includes weather stripping, storm doors and storm windows or double glazed windows.

Once you have good insulation, you can forget about cold floors, cold walls and chilly corners. You'll be more comfortable and enjoy your home more.

The cost will vary, depending on the style of home and amount of insulation already in it. But, one important fact to keep in mind is that insulation is the only comfort improvement you can make in your home which requires no maintenance, yet pays for itself through lower energy bills.

Ask an insulation dealer for advice and a free estimate, or call WTU for more information.

WHAT COSTS LESS NOW THAN IN 1952?

The average cost of a kilowatt hour of electricity used by a residential customer served by WTU cost 29% less than it did twenty years ago... (1952 - 1972) and... in 1972 the average customer used over three and a half times as much electricity as he did in '52."

LIONS CRIPPLED CHILDRENS' CAMP

Members of Lions Clubs throughout Texas this month are pausing to pay recognition to their camp for crippled children which has given over 12 thousand handicapped youngsters a new dimension since it was opened in 1953.

The camp, located at Kerrville in the Hill Country of Central Texas, is free to crippled, blind, deaf or mute children from the ages of seven through sixteen. The 17 permanent buildings and other improvements dotting the 504-hill-side acres represent an investment of more than $700,000.

At the camp, these youngsters who have been denied a normal childhood through no fault of their own learn to shed their shyness imposed by their handicaps. By mutual association with other handicapped children and by skillful and gentle counseling, these youngsters have found the freedom to grow, mentally and spiritually, into useful citizens of tomorrow.

While the Lions are paying tribute to their camp, we would like to pay tribute to the Lions and their friends who have supported this great venture of the heart. We know a man never stands so straight as when he stoops to help a crippled child.

HELP WANTED

HOMEMAKERS . . . Earn extra spending money without leaving home. Occasional telephone interviewing. Experience not necessary. No selling. Must have private telephone. BOARD OF EDUCATION

Even in their shoelessness, these Bombay kindergarten youngsters are luckier than most of their peers. Through American generosity, they are otherwise neatly clothed.

As recipients of gifts collected during the Catholic Relief Services Thanksgiving Clothing Campaign, they can attend school without suffering the humiliation of raggedness. Many parents in underdeveloped countries are too proud despite grinding poverty to send their children to school in tatters. Such youngsters' deprivation is compounded. They are robbed of the bodily protection and dignity that decent clothing gives . . . of even an elementary education . . . and of the chance in adulthood to make an adequate living — an opportunity linked directly to education.

By taking your usable surplus clothing to the nearest Catholic church in November, you can help to break this vicious circle that is closing in on millions of the world's poor.

NEWS OF ECOLOGY

SCOUTS GIVE TRASH THE SACK

Three billion dollars! That's the estimated annual bill Americans are paying for public collection and disposal of garbage and solid waste — the third most expensive community service in the land. . . . which is exceeded only by spending for highways and schools.

Concerned citizens, of course, can make significant contributions to cleaning up this national mess. As in Watertown, N. Y., where the initiative of the Environmental Systems Division of St. Regis Paper Company and a local Boy Scout Council is currently leading the way.

Recently, the more than 500 Boy Scouts of Jefferson and Lewis County launched an intensive environmental cleanup campaign to make their community a better place in which to live.

Soliciting the aid of the 30,000 homeowners in their area, the Scouts began their drive with the sale of St. Regis disposable refuse sacks. In addition to their 30-gallon capacity and convenience, these sacks were selected because — unlike plastic sacks — they will break down in sanitary land fill without adding to our ecological problems.

Watertown homeowners who purchase these sacks separate paper, cans, rags, metal, returnable bottles and miscellaneous glass. Then, free of charge, the Scouts pick up the differentiated sacks and dispose of them in ways compatible to our ecology. Glass bottles, for example, are sold for recycling; bio-degradable trash is sent to land fill sites. Provisions have even been made to tow away abandoned automobiles.

The best part about the program is that everyone profits. The community gets a cleaner environment; the Scouts get the credit for a job well done — and the modest proceeds from selling the sacks and whatever trash they can . . . for the support of other worthwhile Scouting programs.

Now — what are you doing in your community?

THE LANGUAGE OF FOREIGN MARKETS

Called "dincero" in Spanish, "argent" in French, and "gelt" in German, money is luring increasing numbers of American executives to visit distant lands in search of business.

Progressive companies are realizing that the demand for the bilingual executive is growing. They have, therefore, begun adopting language training programs for their personnel.

Previously, training of employees was done in classroom groups. But most companies have found that the busy businessman couldn't be tied down to a 10:30 class twice a week—and preferred an individualized approach to learning.

Employees of Control Data Corporation had an even more troublesome "time" problem. Twenty-five employees of this computer company were being sent to Germany to set up a system for Volkswagen. They wanted to learn German but couldn't be pinned down to a schedule, since they were needed whenever computer time was available.

The Sullivan Language Schools, a nationwide network of centers with headquarters in Palo Alto, Calif., solved their problem by setting up an individualized "school" on their premises. The unique Sullivan method was developed under a Carnegie Foundation Grant by the noted linguist Dr. M. W.

Sullivan. It uses programmed texts and coordinated cassette tapes and the student can work whenever he wants to and at his own pace. With this set up, the Control Data personnel fit their lessons in between projects, when computer time is not available.

The Sullivan Language Schools have also helped Sears, Roebuck and Co. fashion buyers to learn French and the Latin American Section of A.B. Dick Co. to learn Spanish. The ambitious Japanese of Mitsui Corp. who already speak English are moving on to French, German and Spanish.

Even if their employees are not assigned to overseas duty, some large firms are offering language lessons as a fringe benefit. Companies with plants in Spanish-American districts sponsor courses in Spanish so that their people can better relate to the community.

All in all, the executive who says, "I don't need a second language—there's always someone who speaks English" may become obsolete.

NEWS OF EDUCATION

College Students: Bored of Education?

To many concerned parents, today's college students seem much less impressed with the importance of their education than were students of years ago. Sometimes, the students even seem bored.

But educators and psychologists point out—seriously, yet sometimes with a smile—that many college students today are learning far more at school than their parents ever did.

Today education is different. Not only do new teaching methods make learning easier and lots more effective, but also college is seen as a place for social—as well as academic—instruction.

Which is as it should be, when you consider that college is a mini-model of the tough outside world students will soon enough have to cope with and function in. And adjusting properly to that world is just as important and just as difficult as any course a school has to offer.

That's why so many students are getting involved with the running of their schools. The actuality of practical campus politics is a good deal more enlightening and instructive than classroom theories.

That's also why students seem to take their competitive sports more seriously than ever before. Trying to do one's best is very much a part of the outside world and these kids are very much aware of it. They play hard and work hard at keeping themselves fit with effective medications like Tinctin cream; solution and powder, which fight most fungus to kill and help prevent athlete's foot, that old college locker room nemesis.

Unfortunately, these kids—the good kids who make up the majority of this nation's student body—rarely make news on radio or TV. But their abilities and straight thinking have not gone unnoticed.

Each year, more and more of these grade-A students are being recruited by business and industry before graduation.

Which would indicate that they were far from bored with their college education.
