DRYLAND COTTON LOOKING GOOD--Mr. and Mrs. I.L. Kitchens have farmed in Bailey County since 1937, and are in the Longview Community in southern Bailey County. This year, the dryland cotton on their farm, currently being farmed by Ben Roming, is loaded with cotton from the bottom of the stalk to the top of the tall plants. Kitchens said the crop should produce from one-half to three quarters of a bale on most of the land, and up to a bale on some of the acreage. This is in case there is not an early freeze, stopping the cotton from maturing.

Despite a seige of lingering extremely hot temperatures, coupled with a lack of moisture, dryland crops in Bailey County continue to grow. In southern Bailey County, dryland crops, especially cotton, is expected to produce a good crop this year. Throughout the summer, moisture has been lacking, and going into the traditional fall months, extremely hot weather has continued. Again this week, the daily high temperature has been at least 100 degrees, a trend expected to continue throughout the coming weekend. However, a bright cloud hovers over the horizon, as clouds descended over the area, with a hint of a promise of showers to come, ending a summer's drought and producing some rain. Since July 27, at least 20 days of temperatures of at least 100 degrees have been recorded at the official weather station at Radio Station KMUL. Showers on Sunday night failed to produce much in the way of moisture, despite heavy lightning, and a lot of thunder. In the southwest part of the county, Maxine Ragsdale said that area received only "sprinkles." Although clouds were in the area on Tuesday afternoon, only more sprinkles were recorded. However, in that area, crops are growing and producing in the traditionally dryland crop area. Cotton is putting on bolls, and, if the weather cooperates, if there is not an early freeze, the cotton crops should be good, as well as feed crops in this county. Mrs. Billy Williams, who lives some five miles southwest of Muleshoe, said the Sunday night shower amounted to only .2 and at the Robert Hunt home on FM1760, the rainfall was even lighter at .1. Five miles northwest of Lazbuddie, at the Fred Burch farm, about .25 was recorded for one of the larger amounts in this area. Some twenty miles northwest the Coyote Lake Feed-yard received .2 with the southeastern part of this county only receiving sprinkles on Sunday. Around Progress, rainfall recorded on the Davis Guley farm was .1 and the official rainfall for Muleshoe was .08. National Weather Service predicted Tuesday night that the high pressure ridge that has been dominating the southwest is beginning to show signs of weakening, and pushing out of the area. Levelland Lobos Invade Mule Territory On Friday

"They're big -- and they're fast -- and they're strong," says Muleshoe Mules' Head Coach Windy Williams. "And when they come to Muleshoe Friday night, they will be coming to play."

Coach Williams was referring to the Levelland Lobos, who are expected to come howling for blood when they arrive in Muleshoe before the 8 p.m. Friday night gametime.

Stubborn Mules will meet the Lobos and expect to give them a real "good run for their money," and eliminate a lot of the mistakes that plagued them in their season opener against the Portales Rams.

The Muleshoe coach says the Lobos have good speed in their backfield and an outstanding defense -- two things that will have to be overcome by the Mules if they expect to add their second game to the plus column this week.

"We can't make the mistakes we made last week and expect to play with them (the Lobos)," according to Coach Williams. "The Lobos this year look better than they have during the past five years, and our coaching staff watched them in scrimmages for two weeks before their first game. They're tough, and we can expect a tough game, but we'll be right there with them when it's over."

the Muleshoe-Portales game cost the Mules points, even though the Mules downed the Rams by an impressive score of 33-14. Missed assignments, mental mistakes and fumbling all combined to cost the Mules penalties and yardage before they settled down during the second half and proved to the Rams that they had traveled to Greyhound Stadium

According to the MHS student, he visited the Gettysburg Battleground, Arlington Cemetery, Smithsonian Institute, a tour of Washington, D.C., and the most important of all, the United Nations in New York, which was the main purpose of the trip.

Jeff Smith gave a report on the Bailey County West Plains Fair, scheduled for September 22-24, at the Coliseum. The Rotary Club is handling booth rentals for the fair.

First Week's Contest Gerald Shanks Wins

This year, the Muleshoe Merchant's annual Back The Mules football contest got off to a flying start with a longtime contestant winning the first contest in fine fashion.

Gerald Shanks, who has entered the contest faithfully for the past several years, was the first place winner by virtue of missing only two games in the contest that opened this season. He was the only person to miss only two games, so starts off with a check for $6 and 10 points toward the grand prize of $100 at the end of the season.

Sitting alone in second place, missing only three games, was Art Murillo, who won a check for $3 and six points toward the grand prize.

It was really tiebreaker time to determine who was third place winner from among the whole "flock of folks" who missed four games in the first contest for this year. By the time the ink stopped marking, it was determined that

Raymond Villalobos, who missed four games, was only eight points off on the tiebreaker score with his prediction of a 27-12 win for Muleshoe. He received a check for $2 and four points toward the grand prize at the end of the contest.

Auto Insurance Program For Senior Military Members

The long awaited breakthrough for an automobile insurance company, owned and operated exclusively for senior enlisted military members, is now a reality, according to NCOAA Management Company President, William L. Foley, Jr.

At a news conference held at the Greater San Antonio Chambers' Briefing facilities, Foley addressed the particulars of the program.

"The establishment of NCOAA, an automobile insurance company for our senior active and retired military enlisted members, is another outstanding example of why we in San Antonio can take great pride in being known as Military City, USA," said Walter Bielstein, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Greater San Antonio Chamber of Commerce.

According to Foley, the new company, to be known as the NON COMMISSIONED OFFICERS AUTOMOBILE ASSOCIATION (NCOAA), will incorporate the same concepts which made the Commissioned Officers Program (USAA) so successful.

International Barter Plan For Agriculture

Barter has always been a part of agriculture, and today the president of the Independent Cattlemen's Association of Texas suggested bringing back this old-fashioned custom on an international scale by swapping Texas beef, corn, beans, rice and other agricultural products for Mexican petroleum.

"The idea of bartering food for oil has interested us for a long time," said

"Our aim," Foley said, "in establishing NCOAA, which is long overdue, is to provide the mature responsible senior career and retired non commissioned and petty officers with an automobile insurance plan which truly reflects their status as preferred drivers through lower premiums and dividends as earned." "As a select group," he continued, "they have proven to be a stable force, not only in the military, but in the communities in which they reside." It was further pointed out that the members of the NCOAA will own the company and participate in the profits of the company.

Rev. G. Wheeler, ICA president. "With the hunger and currency problems that are plaguing our southern neighbor, and with the huge amounts of oil that the United States imports thousands of miles from the Middle East, we would like to work out a trading system that would benefit both the U.S. and Mexico.

"If two neighbors have something each other needs, and they live right across the fence from one another, they should do everything they can to work out a fair trade," said Wheeler.

The board of directors of the Independent Cattlemen's Association has unanimously endorsed the barter idea, and Wheeler said he will strongly pursue the plan with all interested parties, including Texas business leaders, the state's congressional delegation, and government officials. The emphasis will be on private enterprise, however.

He added that petroleum gained in the deal could be used to replenish this country's strategic petroleum reserves, or to decrease the amount of oil imported from unstable Middle Eastern countries. Several refineries in South Texas are now specially equipped to handle Mexican crude, he pointed out. "It's impossible for the United States, and especially Texas, to ignore the problems that exist across our southern border," Wheeler said. "Maybe a little good old Texas horse-trading could help feed a hungry country, and also push more of our farm and ranch products onto the international market."

The members will actually mandate company policy through their own Board of Directors. "Initially," Foley said, "membership eligibility will be limited to E-9, E-8, and E-7 active and retired non-commissioned and petty officers stationed or residing in the State of Texas." "However," Foley further states, "expansion to additional states could begin as early as one year from our initial start-up date in Texas."

Formal approval of the NCOAA Charter was granted by the State Insurance Board of Texas on August 18, 1983. According to Foley, NCOAA will commence operations in September 1983.

Frank Lister, President and Chief Executive Officer for the Non Commissioned Officers Association (NCOA) said, "we are most excited about this program."

It's something we have been striving to achieve for our senior military enlisted force for many years."

Sooners Expected To Take Revenge

The last Stanford-Oklahoma meeting resulted in a reverberation that shook college football. The Sooners had just completed a highly successful season in 1979, capped by 24-7 win over Florida State in the Orange Bowl. They were ranked third in the awed. They war-danced into Norman in 1980 and came away with a 31-14 scalping of the mighty Sooners. Although this one will be played at Stanford, we think Oklahoma will take its revenge.

Ex-New York Giant coach Ray Perkins opens the 1983 season as the new prexy of Alabama Football. Georgia Tech is opponent #1, and though the Tide romped over the Yellow Jackets 45-7 in its first game last September, times may be changed. However, Alabama is still the choice.

Tulsa had an outstanding season last fall. And, though finishing ten and one, it was overlooked by all the post-season bowls. One of the reason may have been the 38-0 landslide loss the Golden Hurricane took from Arkansas. Tulsa goes to Little Rock again this week. The Razorback will probably win, but it should be anything but a repeat of last year.

In our final ratings for the 1982 season, L.S.U. was ranked 11th, Florida State, 12th. They'll slug it out in Baton Rouge Saturday night in what also should not be a re-run of last year's 55-21 route by L.S.U. The Tigers don't loose many at home, and this should follow the pattern.. but it'll be close.

Purdue hosts Notre Dame, two teams that were not at all happy with the 1982 season. The Boiler-makers had one of their poorest seasons, finishing 3 and 8, while the Irish lost the final three games of the season to-close with a 6-4-1 record. It's a new season.. Notre Dame.

Residents Welcomed To Muleshoe Nursing Home

Three new residents, Rosie McKillip, O.Z. Franks and Emmitt Dean, were welcomed to the Muleshoe Nursing Home with a "Welcoming Tea".

Rosie McKillip was born Dec. 5, 1893 to Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Anderson. She was in the middle of three daughters. She stated that she quit school to marry Luther McKillip in Washita County, Okla. Her husband was a farmer.

good farmers do, he had a "love" for the land. He had a dog named Blackie he was very fond of.

Demel Appointed Cystic Fibrosis Campaign Chairman

The Lone Star Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation announces the appointment of Mrs. Marcy Demel as Chairman of its 1983 Campaign in Bula & Pep.

The Campaign will be held to provide the community with information about cystic fibrosis, and to raise funds to support research, education, and care programs.

The number 1 genetic killer of children, CF is difficult to diagnose and impossible to cure. Each day five babies are born with the tragic disease that will clog and choke their lungs and inhibit their digestive processes and their growth, the disease that will eventually take their lives as it takes the lives of three people each and every day.

For information about cystic fibrosis and how you can help in the fight to find a cure, please contact Mrs. Demel.

ROSIE MCKILLIP

O.Z. FRANKS EMMITT DEAN

They raised six children, one daughter (oldest) and five sons. Mrs. McKillip has many grandchildren, great grandchildren and three great great grandchildren.

She raised flowers, was a seamstress and crocheted, for a hobby, prior to entering the nursing home.

O.Z. Franks was born Sept. 20, 1920 east of Dallas to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Franks. They had eight children of whom O.Z. is the youngest. His dad was a farmer. They moved to west Texas when O.Z. was seven years of age.

He worked on a farm the majority of his life. His home was at Progress prior to entering the nursing home. He had a little dog named Bob, who was a lot of company to him.

His hobbies are playing 42, Dominoes and Checkers. He used to like to draw, but is no longer able to.

Emmitt Dean was born in Oklahoma on July 6, 1906. He moved to West Texas with his family when he was a young boy. He and his family were pioneers to West Texas where they were among the first to have dug a pit well to irrigate out of.

He and his family lived five miles south of Lariat, where they walked for groceries and supplies.

The Dean family moved their house to Muleshoe in the 1940's. It is now standing in the original location west of the ball park on Main Street.

Dean spent his life farming and buying land. He owned land in New Mexico as well as Texas. As most

Opinions On Clothing Expenditures Vary

If you think you're paying more but getting less when shopping for clothes lately, you fit the current profile of the American shopper, says Nancy Brown, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Recent surveys give interesting results about opinions of shoppers, some of which are:

More than half of the men and women surveyed believed the quality of apparel in stores today is inferior to that of five years ago.

Only 10 percent thought that prices for clothes were increasing less than prices of non-apparel items, and 44 percent thought they were increasing more.

60 percent preferred to shop in self-service stores rather than in stores where a salesperson assists them.

Almost 75 percent believed American-made apparel is a better value than imported apparel.

Opinions don't always agree with fact and figures, however, Brown points out. The actual dollars may have gone up, but since 1960 the percentage of our incomes spent on clothes has actually gone down.

"This means prices for clothes have increased at a lower rate than for other items, and comparatively speaking, clothes cost less," she explains.

But even at "lower" prices, it's hard in these times to get enough dollars to cover all the expenses, she says.

"Perhaps it is an attempt to increase the buying power of the clothing dollar which has brought about the move to self-service shopping. But this requires a better-informed consumer, because when there is no salesperson to help, you have to make the decisions alone," Brown says.

She suggests that if you want to get the most for your clothing dollar, you should always read the labels on the clothes you are considering.

"The Care Labeling Law provides for a permanently-affixed label on all apparel which gives appropriate care instructions. In addition, other valuable information is available on labels, such as fiber content, fabric finishes, and the country in which the garment was made."

"These will give you some facts to consider before making your purchase," says the specialist.

The term estate planning has been used and misused so often that the average person must wonder what it really means.

Of prime concern in estate planning, which by the way should more properly be called family financial planning, are the dollar considerations for income tax, gift tax, and estate tax.

A family financial plan should provide for maximizing the return on your investments, splitting the income among family members for the optimum income tax savings, planning family transfers during life to reduce the size of your taxable estate, and drafting your will to minimize estate taxes and administration problems. These dollar considerations should all be planned to suit your personal wishes.

Equally important to any family planning is reducing the mental burden on survivors. Locating documents, identifying assets and debts, dealing with attorneys, accountants, bankers, insurance companies, etc. can be very uncomfortable for a grief-stricken spouse. The burden seems to be especially hard on older people.

If the business manager in the household dies leaving a survivor to straighten out muddled affairs, the grief the survivor is experiencing will be greater.

It seems appropriate that a list of your assets and debts, your insurance policies and the whereabouts of various documents should be prepared and reviewed annually with your next of kin. Review your will to determine that changes in assets and changes in status of family members are properly presented.

Involve your accountant and attorney in all major transactions and provide them with a summary of your annual review.

Chicken in apple juice... a tangy difference.

Apples taste good. They are good for us. Even better, they're probably one of the most versatile fruits around. Apple juice adds a tangy difference to this chicken dish. It's a recipe from the International Apple Institute, that's ideal for warm weather, since preparation is minimal and results are dee-licious!

CHICKEN WITH APPLE JUICE

- 2 whole chicken breasts, boned, skinned, split and pounded thin
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 2 tablespoons oil
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 1/2 cups apple juice
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 1/2 teaspoon crushed marjoram

Dredge chicken breasts in flour, shaking off excess. Heat oil and butter in skillet. Add chicken breasts and brown on both sides. Add apple juice, parsley and marjoram. Simmer over medium heat for 10 to 12 minutes, or until chicken is tender when pierced with a fork. Remove chicken and keep warm. Increase heat and boil sauce until slightly thickened (about three minutes). Serve sauce over chicken. Two servings.

Old Interior Building Photos Needed For History

Interest in preserving and restoring historic buildings has reached every corner of Texas. However, it is still difficult for people who care about Texas' heritage to find photographic documentation on buildings because material is scattered over the state. But now the largest collection of interior photographs of Texas homes and public buildings to date is being compiled. Already more than 200 views have been located and more are being sought both in public and in private photographic collections. Area residents have a chance to use their old photographs to help this effort.

This project, "Images of Victorian Texas: 1860-1920," which has the support of many preservationist groups throughout the state, aims to locate photographs of the interiors of Texas buildings, especially houses, taken before 1920.

These interior views show what kinds of furniture, draperies, carpets and accessories were in use at a point in time in a specific place. They document characteristic room arrangements, seasonal changes, special efforts to accommodate the climate as well as ethnic and regional variations in interiors. Such a comprehensive survey of photographs of Texas interiors will enrich preservation and restoration efforts.

As many people know, interior photographs are rare when compared with the number of surviving portrait photographs and exterior building views. Some interior photos survive in library and archival collections but many interior views are in individual collections and in family photograph albums. Dr. Cynthia Brandimarte, director of the project, is eager to hear from individuals or institutions that have interior photographs taken between 1860 and 1920.

If you have, or know someone who has, such photographs, please write to Dr. Cynthia Brandimarte, Images of Victorian Texas: 1860-1920, 1010 Winsted Lane, Austin, Texas 78703 or call (512) 472-1833.

Major Crimes Decreased In Texas For First 6 Months

The Texas crime rate for the first half of 1983 declined three percent compared to the same period last year, according to statistics released by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"Figures compiled by the Department's Uniform Crime Reporting Bureau showed a rate of 2,989.7 major crimes reported for each hundred thousand of population for the first half of this year," said Colonel Jim Adams, DPS director. "The rate for the comparable 1982 period was 3,083.1."

"Although the specific reasons behind this decrease would be difficult to determine, I'd like to think that widespread citizen participation in police crime prevention programs continues to be a factor," Adams said. "We hope this decrease in the crime rate will carry through the rest of the year."

A total of 456,840 major criminal offenses were reported by Texas law enforcement agencies from January through June of this year, reflecting a slight increase of 0.4 per cent in the actual number of crimes.

"Every major crime category except theft registered a decrease in the first half of 1983," Adams pointed out.

The number of murders decreased by 7.9 per cent, while rape declined by 7.1 per cent. Robberies and aggravated assaults were down by 5.7 per cent and 5.2 per cent respectively.

Motor vehicle thefts dropped 8 per cent. Burglaries decreased by 5.2 per cent. The number of thefts increased by 6.4 per cent.

"DWI arrests were up almost 42 per cent in the first half of this year compared to the same 1982 period," Adams said. "This indicates that Texas police agencies are keeping the pressure on the potential DWI offenders and removing increasing numbers of these violators from the roads."

Statewide arrests for criminal offenses totaled 458,926 in the first six months of 1983, posting a 4.1 per cent increase over the 1982 period.

Three Texas law enforcement officers were killed in the line of duty by criminal action during the period. Four other peace officers died as a result of job-related accidents. A total of 1,833 officers were assaulted while on duty.

DWI arrests for the first half of 1983 totaled 71,972 compared to 50,786 in the first half of 1982.

Five Month Saving Bonds In Texas Up 36 Percent

Sales of U.S. Savings Bonds in Texas for the period January-May 1983 were $113,012,014, up 36.2% over the same period a year ago, John W. Dixon, Chairman of the Board & CEO of E-Systems, Inc. in Dallas and Volunteer State Chairman for Texas, announced today. These sales represent 50.2% of the state's 1983 assigned dollar goal of $224,700,000.

Sales of Series EE Bonds were $1,884 in May 1983, for a total of $10,068.00 for the first five months of 1983 in Bailey County, Mrs. Dean Gunstream, Volunteer County Chairman, said. These sales result in 29 percent of the County's assigned dollar quota.

Nationally, sales for May amounted to $418 million, up almost 73% over May 1982, making a year-to-date total of $1,781 million, a 38% increase.

Since November 1, 1982 new issues of Series EE Savings Bonds, held five years or longer, earn 85% of the average return on five-year Treasury marketable securities during the holding period, with a minimum guaranteed return of 7.5% for Bonds held at least five years. Outstanding Series E and EE Bonds and Savings Notes that are still outstanding and earning interest on and after November 1, 1987 will earn market-based interest effective November 1, 1982. The average rate for the first two six-months market-based periods is 9.87%.

Mike Synar, Rep. (D-Okla) on defense department hazardous waste disposal: "The Pentagon seems to care little about what happens to the waste once they leave a military installation..."

Mules VS Lobos

Coach Williams said all the Mules are healthy and this week are working out to 'fine tune' the offense -- and see if they can put up the points while the defense holds the Lobos away from the goal line.

Tuesday morning, Leveland Head Football Coach Gene Mayfield said "We have a chance to be a pretty good football team this year, although I don't think we are such a good team right now."

He cited as the Lobos major weakness their inexperience on defense, especially, and with just four returning starters, an overall inexperience for the team.

Only two starters are back on the defense and Coach Mayfield, who is one of the most highly respected coaches in this part of the country, believes his team will be starting off real tough at the beginning of the season.

His four starters include Rodney Caddell, Joe Shakespeare, Grant Washington and Paul Isaacs.

Last Friday night, the Lobos downed Lamesa 20-6, but Coach Mayfield says that is not a true indicator of Lobo strength, as Lamesa finished at the bottom of the rung last year. "We were just behind them," said the coach, "so it was a case of two weak teams playing each other. Also, 147 yards in penalties hurt our team, and we will have to cut out a lot of our mistakes if we expect this to be a winning season."

Barring practice injuries during the rest of the week, the Lobos will be coming to Muleshoe healthy and ready to play, added the coach.

Gametime is 8 p.m. at Benny Douglass Stadium in Muleshoe! Be there!!

Clouds...

Clouds reaching to the west late Tuesday were expected to drop measurable amounts of moisture on the South Plains, although no measurable amounts were reported by late Tuesday night.

However, NWS said that Tuesday's storms, which eventually crossed through New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma, developed from the relatively high humidity, high afternoon temperatures and the stationary cool front colliding with a low pressure system over New Mexico.

The high pressure system has stayed in this part of the country for at least six weeks, perhaps longer, moving from west to east and from east to west, and sometimes weakening, then building up, according to a spokesman for the NWS.

For the rest of this week, a slight chance for rain has been placed back into the forecast, with slightly cooler temperatures, back to a more seasonal normal of low to mid-90's.

"LABOR IS LIFE"

Let's talk about labor—work, if you please, for that is what labor is. Labor has come a long, long way since ancient times when work was closely related to slavery. Aristotle described a slave as "a tool with life in it." In the Middle Ages, labor gained dignity and respect as slavery declined and Christianity spread. Then, later in the 1700's and 1800's the industrial revolution created conditions that led to the modern labor movements. Today labor has gained respect, wages and working conditions hitherto unknown before.

Labor is life. Work is satisfying. Through his work a man accomplishes, and creates, and provides for himself and his family. When deprived of the opportunity or ability to work, man often becomes depressed, even ill.

I Corinthians 3:9 tells us that "We are laborers together with God." We are His hands, feet, voice, and compassionate heart here on earth to spread the gospel, lift up the poor, eradicate ignorance and destroy disease.

Honor God and Labor this week by attending church.

Proposal To Curb Cable TV Regulatory Power Planned

More than 160 Texas cities have united in an effort to defeat federal legislation proposing to curb the cable TV regulatory powers of municipal governments. The coalition's target is S.66, the Federal Telecommunications Act of 1983, which city officials say would establish "A boon for the cable television industry" and "an economic headache" for CATV consumers. Representatives of the 167 cities participating in the effort met in Austin recently, formed an organization known as "Cities For Responsible Cable Policy," and appointed a steering committee to map out a strategy for defeating the measure, which passed the U.S. Senate in mid-June and is now pending in the House. Members of the steering committee include city officials from Austin, Big Spring, College Station, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Grand Prairie, Lubbock, McAllen, Temple, Tyler, and Vernon. In addition, the committee retained Sid Stahl, a Dallas attorney and former Dallas City County member, as counsel.

According to information provided by the coalition, passage of S.66 would lead virtually automatic hikes in the monthly subscriber fees paid by cable customers in cities across the nation. Under the bill, cable operators in most communities would be free to increase subscriber rates each year by the same percentage as the Consumer Price Index, and the current rate regulatory powers of cities would be abolished. Additionally, the measure would grant cable operators what amounts to an absolute veto over the city council's power to hold rates to reasonable levels and to remedy service abuses. But if S.66 passes, most local protections will evaporate, and subscribers will be left at the mercy of the industry. Wetherby said the coalition of Texas cities will link up with consumer groups and hundreds of other cities throughout the U.S. that are actively opposing attempts by the CATV lobby to gain passage of S.66. An immediate goal of the coalition is to alert the general public to the negative aspects of the measure. "As we step up our public information efforts, more and more consumers will become aware of what this detrimental legislation really does," Wetherby said. "Once that is accomplished, it will only be a matter of time before the protests become so loud that Congress will respond by leaving the responsibility for cable regulation where it belongs—at the local level."

Wetherby said that Texas cities also are concerned because the measure would inject the federal government into matters of purely local concern. "It is ironic that the cable issue is surfacing at a time when President Reagan is advocating turning back to state and local governments more control over their own affairs," Wetherby said. Wetherby said that advocates of S.66 were promoting the erroneous idea that CATV deregulation at the local level is justified because cable companies are not monopolistic and therefore should be allowed to operate in a free competitive environment where consumer rates seek their natural marketplace levels. "The argument that the cable industry should be immunized from local government regulation because it is not monopolistic is totally false," Wetherby said. "The cost of installing a cable system is so enormous that sheer economics prevent the provision of service by more than one company. Cable customers therefore are limited to choosing between the service of a single CATV company or no service at all—but at least now they can rely on the city council to hold rates to reasonable levels and to remedy service abuses. But if S.66 passes, most local protections will evaporate, and subscribers will be left at the mercy of the industry."

Ranchers Roundup Meeting Proceedings Available

Ranchers who were unable to attend the recent International Ranchers Roundup (IRR) in San Angelo can still benefit from the mass of information and technology presented during the five-day conference in early August.

A limited number of the IRR proceedings—a 440 page bound book containing 72 of more than 100 talks presented—are being offered for sale at cost, according to the IRR coordinators.

"We realize that many ranchers and landowners could not attend the IRR for a variety of reasons," said LeRoy Hoermann, Robert H. Kensing, and Larry White of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service who coordinated the entire event. "Because of all the good practical information relative to innovative ranch management and alternative income-producing opportunities that was made available during the conference, we are pleased to make the proceedings available."

The book contains the latest practical information on beef cattle, grazing system management, sheep and goats, wildlife, ranch family business management, marketing and computerized ranching, plus stimulating general session

Ruidosa Mule Races September 16-18

September 16, 17 and 18 are the dates for this year's mule events. More than 300 mules are expected, with the record $60,000 in estimated purse money a tempting lure for mule skinnners from all across the country.

In addition to the races—which include specialty events like the Mule Pony Express Race, Balloon Bust, Gold Cup Race and All Distance Championship Race—fast-action arena roping events are featured all three days. Roping competition will get under way each of the three days at 9:30 a.m.

Post time for each day's racing is 1:30 p.m. Besides standard races at one-eighth of a mile to five-and-a-half furlongs, featured attractions at the meet include a bloomer race (teams of riders change into and out of bloomers!) and a mini mule race.

After Saturday's races, a select mule auction will be conducted at the All-American Sales Arena at the racetrack.

One thing race fans have come to understand about the mule races is that ANYTHING is bound to happen. Mules have been known to decide in the middle of a race that they'd rather be back at their stall, so they take off for the barn area.

But one thing is for sure. A good time is had by all at the Ruidosa Downs Mule Skinnners annual mule events. ****

A good joke will turn up in a variety of forms for many years. ****

talks from industry leaders," the coordinators emphasized.

The 1983 IRR proceedings is available by sending a check for $22 payable to IRR, P.O. Box 1849, Uvalde, Tx 78801. Copies of the 1982 IRR proceedings are also available at a cost of $25 per copy. Both books can be obtained for $47. All prices cover shipping and handling costs.

"If last year's orders are any indication of the book's usefulness, we expect ranchers will also take advantage of the opportunity this year, too," the coordinators said. "Very seldom is so much practical information and expertise from so many noted ranching experts made available in these publications for the price. Those who participated in the conference have found the books extremely valuable in the actual application of cost-cutting and income-producing ideas. The material in both publications is useful for years to come."

Included in the 1983 proceedings book are such topics as Selecting Cattle for Functional Efficiency, Strategies for Genetic Improvement of Beef Cattle, Livestock Handling Made Easier and How to Work Cattle, Integrated Reproduction Management, C.P.A.'s View of Holistic Ranch Management, Savory Grazing Method for Registered and Commercial Operations, Marketing Non-traditional Ranch Resources, Use of Financial Statements in the Ranch Business, Sharing Responsibilities for Family Businesses, and Changing Trends for Women in Agriculture.

Also, Reducing Abortion in Angora Goats, Shed Lambing to Increase Lambing Percentage, Increasing Lamb and Kid Crops, What to Look for in a Working Dog and How to Find a Good One, Importance of Marketing in a Wildlife Enterprise, Producing Quality White-Tail Deer, Predator Control in Game Management, What a Computer Can and Cannot Do for the Rancher, and What Ranchers Need from a Computer.

The 1982 480-page proceedings book contains talks on different topics within the ranching framework. Over 100 ranching experts and industry leaders from 12 states and South Africa shared their expertise with 732 participants who represented several states at the third annual ranching conference dedicated to innovative ranch management.
