AROUND THE COUNTY

ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

Congratulations to Lisa Horwood on her election as Texas Hereford Queen. She succeeds Mary Grote of Llano.

Lisa has been active in the Texas Junior Hereford Association for several years. Last year, she was state winner in the Public Speaking contest sponsored by the association and represented Texas at the national contest. She has attended a number of the Field days sponsored by the association in the state as well as the national events of the national association.

Amy Hodges and Lisa Horwood attended the second Annual Texas 4-H Congress in Dallas last week. They were warmly welcomed in the big city where temperatures reached 105 and the vicinity during their stay there. The air conditioning system in the hotel was strained trying to keep the delegates cool during their stay.

The second confirmed case of screwworms in Sterling County was recorded on July 3 at the eradication program laboratory. It was sent in by Curtis Wilson on the Claude Collins' Jr. ranch southwest of Sterling City and was taken from marking wounds in cattle. Earlier, a case was confirmed on the portion of the ranch in the Tom Green County panhandle.

It was reported as positive over the weekend and charged to Tom Green County. Samples taken Saturday by Curtis in some calves were confirmed Tuesday and charged to Sterling County.

Flies were released on the J. Q. Counts—Claude Collins, Jr. ranch, also southwest of Sterling City. A case was confirmed positive there on July 12.

Presently, as far as is known, the flies are being trucked to the location of confirmed cases and released on the ground. This was started this year to insure getting the sterile flies to the location of the cases. The air drops had resulted in flies being blown over a wide area by the prevailing winds.

All livestock producers are urged to maintain their watch for any suspected cases. Take a sample, treat the wound. Mailing tubes and collection vials are available in the county agent's office as well as the feed store.

Several changes have been made in the indemnity program for brucellosis reactors. The original indemnity program allowed payments on cattle found in official herd tests only. The change also allows payment for reactors found at auction markets.

The change resulted in lowered indemnity payments. Payment on grade cows is $40 and $80 on registered cows and bulls. No payment is authorized on grade bulls, steers, or spayed heifers.

Only about one per cent of the nation's cattle is infected with brucellosis. Many of these are in the southern and southwestern states.

Aphids on pecan trees are making a nuisance of themselves as usual with their honey dew. These little pests rarely cause damage to trees, but the sticky, dripping secretion is more of an aggravation. This is particularly so if the trees overhang a sidewalk, porch or cars. The secre-

Everyone Invited

The Annual Sterling Volunteer Fire Department Barbecue will be held here Saturday, August 3, in the city park. Serving is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m.

All citizens of Sterling County are invited to come and enjoy the barbecue and trimmings provided by the fire department. Wives of those attending are asked to bring a pie for dessert. Goats for the barbecue are being provided by local ranchers and John Blair is in charge of the cooking.

Entertainment will consist of water polo contests between teams from the department. Gary Maricle and Cecil Craig will report on the Firemen's School they attended at Texas A&M University.

Fire department equipment and members responded to two grass fire alarms last week. The fires were on the Danny Stewart and Jackie Durham ranches. Both occurred at the same time and were started by lightning accompanying a thunderstorm. The fire on the Stewart ranch threatened to get out of control for a while due to winds behind it and sheriff Jim Cantrell called for help. A number of ranchers and livestock sprayers were called in to help but a wind change blew the fire back into the burned out area. This, and a road helped to contain the fire. It is reported to have burned about half a section; the fire on the Durham ranch burned about forty acres.

LET YOUR CHILD TAKE YOU THROUGH DENMARK

One of the questions you hear over and over again when tourists plan their vacation is: "Where do we find a place where all members of the family can have fun and where prices fit our family budgets?"

The answer is easy. For tots and teenagers, for 20-year-olds to senior citizens, Denmark offers a variety of fun that can't be found anywhere else.

Your children will be completely captivated by a visit to a real fairy-tale park with its Renaissance castle Egeskov, erected in a lake, on the island of Funen. In the barn there is a museum filled with vintage aeroplanes, cars and motorcycles.

Denmark is truly a children's wonderland. Of course there are summer camps, riding schools and sailing schools. But what about the real children's traffic school at Legoland? The miniature village in Jutland is virtually a children's paradise.

From June through September, you can ride the Veteran Railway every Sunday from legendary Elsinore (site of Hamlet's castle) to the resort of Gilleleje, and there's a parade every Friday by the Elsinore Girl Guards.

For the adventurous, there is Givskud Lions Park, where you'll see African Lions, enormous elephants and gentle giraffes in natural surroundings. Driving your car among these exotic animals is comparable to enjoying a mini-safari.

At the Circus Building, Benneveis, Scandinavia's biggest circus, presents world artists in the ring every night, from mid-April to September 30. Tivoli, Denmark's world-famous fairy-tale garden in the heart of the city, is filled with amusements for children and adults, restaurants and dancing from May 1 to September 16. It features a fascinating playground, Children's Holiday Shows, the Pantomine Theater, The Open-Air Stage, the Tivoli Boy Guards, parades and fireworks. And every Tuesday throughout the summer, there is a very lively children's circus in the Odense Zoo.

Denmark even has its very special Hans Christian Andersen Festival held in the Funen Village, in his native town Odense, from July 6 to August 5, where children enact Andersen fairytales on an open-air stage, that will delight the whole family.

For more information on events for children in Denmark this year, write to: Danish National Tourist Office, Scandinavia House, 505 Fifth Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017.

Directions for Packing and Shipping Heads from Suspected Rabid Animals to the Laboratory

Increasing difficulty to confirm a diagnosis of rabies is being experienced with the submission of animal heads for rabies examination when shipment by air takes as long as four days between shipping date and receipt. If at all possible, we recommend to those who use the State Department of Health laboratory service in Austin, that they USE THE VARIOUS BUS COMPANIES. Pack the animal head in a leakproof plastic bag. Enclose a second leak-proof plastic bag filled with ice or use water frozen in plastic bottles. An outside container of sturdy construction (styrofoam serves nicely and is inexpensive) must be used. Also, use packing material to absorb water in the event of leakage. The box should be securely taped down and marked, KEEP UPRIGHT—PLEASE. A note to telephone the Health Department Laboratory (454-3781 Ext. 313) on arrival, should be prominently displayed.

SOD HOUSE SURVEY

Have You A Sod House Heritage?

Did you ever live in a sod house a dugout, or an adobe building; or were you born in one? Did you ever teach school, attend school or church services in such a building, or help build one? Or are you a child or perhaps a grandchild of a former pioneer sod house dweller or builder?

If you can answer yes to any of these questions, the Sod House Society of America, with headquarters at Colby, Kansas, would like to hear from you. The unique society is making an effort to compile a census of people who have had any kind of personal experience with sod houses, including dugouts, part sod, and adobe buildings, which were once common in the United States, Canada and Mexico; also the descendants of such persons.

If you are a former sod dweller or a direct descendant of a family that can claim a part of the sod house heritage during the pioneer settlement era of North America, or in more recent times, the society wishes to have the information to include in a permanent historical record of sod, dugout, and adobe dwellers and their families.

To make this survey a success, information is needed from people in all parts of North America. Sod buildings in some form were used in well over half the North American continent. If you have any information concerning present or former sod dwellers, your report of this will be most welcome. Please tell where the buildings were located, and give family names, as well as your own. Reports should be sent to:

NEWS OF ECOLOGY

ALUMINUM STRETCHES ENERGY RESOURCES

Now that pollution clean-up is underway, environmental concern seems to be shifting to energy supply. Some ecologists worry about America's accelerating use of fuels — coal, oil, gas and uranium.

These basic sources of energy, burned directly or transformed into electricity, propel all vehicles, heat and cool our homes, run appliances, cook and refrigerate foods and power our industries.

The use of aluminum, an environmentally thrifty metal, stretches fuels and energy, the people at Reynolds Aluminum point out.

"Aluminum does not deteriorate and is easily recycled with little expenditure of energy," said Dr. Robert F. Testin, director of environmental planning for Reynolds. "That makes it an energy bank that can be drawn upon again and again. When long-lasting aluminum products are finally discarded, melting them down for refashioning into new products takes less than 5 per cent of the energy used to make the aluminum originally."

Because it is so light — only one-third the weight of steel, copper or brass — aluminum provides a greater quantity of material per ton. "This phenomenon stretches the energy used in making aluminum products, as a ton of aluminum yields two to three times more items than are obtained from a ton of other materials," according to Dr. Earl E. Patterson, who heads up Reynolds metallurgical research.

An example of Dr. Patterson's point is beer and soft drink containers. A ton of steel produces 15,400 steel cans, and a ton of glass makes 5,000 bottles, but a ton of aluminum results in 32,680 all-aluminum cans.

An article in the Reynolds magazine reveals many other ways aluminum conserves energy.

Transportation of all kinds consumes 30 per cent of America's energy supply. The light metal cuts fuel consumption in all kinds of vehicles — aluminum highway trucks, automobiles with their aluminum parts, aluminum railroad cars, aluminum boats and ships with aluminum superstructures. The 1973 autos average about 78 pounds of aluminum per car.

In heating and air conditioning, which take 27 per cent of the energy supply, aluminum insulation and ducts, because of their high heat reflectivity, cut fuel consumption.

Durable aluminum siding, windows and other construction items greatly reduce use of resources and energy in maintenance, repair and replacement. The article points out that aluminum will not rot or warp, and is immune to red rust, mildew and termites.

In cooking, the rapid heat conductivity of aluminum pots and pans — six times faster than steel, for example — conserves electricity and gas. In the refrigerator, foods in aluminum foil chill or freeze quicker than when wrapped in paper or plastic film, saving electricity.

The public depends on aluminum electrical cable for low-cost delivery of electricity to the home. Replacing expensive copper, aluminum cable has lowered everybody's electrical bills.

NEWS OF EDUCATION

College Students: Bored of Education?

To many concerned parents, today's college students seem much less impressed with the importance of their education than were students of years ago. Sometimes, the students even seem bored.

But educators and psychologists point out—seriously, yet sometimes with a smile—that many college students today are learning far more at school than their parents ever did.

Today education is different. Not only do new teaching methods make learning easier and lots more effective, but also college is seen as a place for social—as well as academic—instruction.

Which is as it should be, when you consider that college is a mini-model of the tough outside world students will soon enough have to cope with and function in. And adjusting properly to that world is just as important and just as difficult as any course a school has to offer.

That's why so many students are getting involved with the running of their schools. The actuality of practical campus politics is a good deal more enlightening and instructive than classroom theories.

That's also why students seem to take their competitive sports more seriously than ever before. Trying to do one's best is very much a part of the outside world and these kids are very much aware of it. They play hard and work hard at keeping themselves fit with effective medications like Tinactin cream, solution and powder, which fight most fungus to kill and help prevent athlete's foot, that old college locker room nemesis.

Unfortunately, these kids—the good kids who make up the majority of this nation's student body—rarely make news on radio or TV. But their abilities and straight thinking have not gone unnoticed.

Each year, more and more of these grade-A students are being recruited by business and industry before graduation.

Which would indicate that they were far from bored with their college education.
