AROUND
THE COUNTY

ARTHUR BARLEMANN, JR. COUNTY AGENT

A sample of worms sent in last Saturday by Curtis Wilson has been reported as screwworms by the Mission Laboratory of the eradication program. This is the fourth confirmed case of screwworms on the ranch operated by Claude Collins, Jr. and Curtis. Two of the cases are charged to Sterling County and two to Tom Green County because of the location of the particular cases. The ranch lies in the panhandle of Tom Green County and also partially in Sterling and Reagan Counties.

The latest sample was taken from a dehorning wound. Earlier samples were from other marking wounds. Curtis said the animals were marked and doctored at the time. The confirmed cases began to show up about three weeks after the surgery.

All producers are urged to maintain a careful watch of their livestock for possible cases. The scattered showers are creating an environment which is to the liking of these pests. Mailing tubes and collection vials are available in the county extension office and the feed store if needed.

The State meeting of the Texas County Agricultural Agents Association in Irving, Texas Sunday through Tuesday of this week was marked by rain. Intermittent showers fell there all day Tuesday after starting Monday night. The agents from dry West Texas and the Panhandle area joked about it with many saying that they were glad the children along were getting to see rain. Many wives and children were present for the meeting as usual; special programs are always planned for the women and the youth as the meeting is a family affair. This year the youngsters spent a day at Six Flags, the first time many of them had an opportunity to do so.

Curly Hays, well-known agricultural representative of the West Texas Utilities Company in Abilene, was honored at the banquet Tuesday night. Each year, seven men who have rendered outstanding service to agriculture are recognized for their service and awarded plaques as a Man of the Year in Agriculture in Texas. This year, the agents in Extension District 7 had selected Curly as the honoree from this area. He is well-known for his assistance to the 4-H Club program, to the Extension program, and to agriculture in general in the wide area served by West Texas Utilities, and is deserving of the recognition.

The skies were dark and cloudy when we left Irving early Wednesday morning and rain began falling in intermittent showers just west of Fort Worth. This continued through Brownwood and by the time we reached Ballinger blue sky was visible; more and more became visible as we traveled west and HOME was marked by blue sky and very thin scattered clouds. A general rain is needed in practically all areas of the state according to agents present for the meeting with some areas in fair condition in the east and south.

Bro. and Mrs. Marion Hays of Rocksprings visited Virgie Garrett here Tuesday night. Marion is minister of the Church of Christ at Rocksprings.

NEWS OF ECOLOGY

ALUMINUM STRETCHES ENERGY RESOURCES

Now that pollution cleanup is underway, environmental concern seems to be shifting to energy supply. Some ecologists worry about America's accelerating use of fuels — coal, oil, gas and uranium.

These basic sources of energy, burned directly or transformed into electricity, propel all vehicles, heat and cool our homes, run appliances, cook and refrigerate foods and power our industries.

The use of aluminum, an environmentally thrifty metal, stretches fuels and energy, the people at Reynolds Aluminum point out.

"Aluminum does not deteriorate and is easily recycled with little expenditure of energy," said Dr. Robert F. Testin, director of environmental planning for Reynolds. "That makes it an energy bank that can be drawn upon again and again. When long-lasting aluminum products are finally discarded, melting them down for refashioning into new products takes less than 5 per cent of the energy used to make the aluminum originally."

Because it is so light — only one-third the weight of steel, copper or brass — aluminum provides a greater quantity of material per ton. "This phenomenon stretches the energy used in making aluminum products, as a ton of aluminum yields two to three times more items than are obtained from a ton of other materials," according to Dr. Earl E. Patterson, who heads up Reynolds metallurgical research.

An example of Dr. Patterson's point is beer and soft drink containers. A ton of steel produces 15,400 steel cans, and a ton of glass makes 5,000 bottles, but a ton of aluminum results in 32,680 all-aluminum cans.

An article in the Reynolds magazine reveals many other ways aluminum conserves energy.

Transportation of all kinds consumes 30 per cent of America's energy supply. The light metal cuts fuel consumption in all kinds of vehicles — aluminum highway trucks, automobiles with their aluminum parts, aluminum railroad cars, aluminum boats and ships with aluminum superstructures. The 1973 autos average about 78 pounds of aluminum per car.

In heating and air conditioning, which take 27 per cent of the energy supply, aluminum insulation and ducts, because of their high heat reflectivity, cut fuel consumption.

Durable aluminum siding, windows and other construction items greatly reduce use of resources and energy in maintenance, repair and replacement. The article points out that aluminum will not rot or warp, and is immune to red rust, mildew and termites.

In cooking, the rapid heat conductivity of aluminum pots and pans — six times faster than steel, for example — conserves electricity and gas. In the refrigerator, foods in aluminum foil chill or freeze quicker than when wrapped in paper or plastic film, saving electricity.

The public depends on aluminum electrical cable for low-cost delivery of electricity to the home. Replacing expensive copper, aluminum cable has lowered everybody's electrical bills.

Behind the 8-Ball

By the editor.

Now that it has started raining around here, maybe it will keep it up. For a month or two. Or more. Hopefully.

Last weekend saw around an inch and a half fall here in the town and more or less amounts in the area. It rained out the golf tournament—at least for the morning. (It was held that afternoon.)

It dampened things for the firemen's barbecue and has been nice. Much more rain is needed all over, but a start has been made—and maybe it will rain all fall here.

8-BALL

Nixon Will Resign?

As things now look to me as a far off observer. I guess that Nixon will resign the office of presidency. (This is being set in to type Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock). I don't believe anybody would try to hang on to that job in the same circumstances. He's had about all he can take.

A body can take just so much. He's caught in a trap of his or his White House confidants own making and weaving. It's too bad—he'll be the first president to be impeached in this century. It is bad for the country, the presidency, the Congress, the world, and think of all those people (in and around him) that have been going down the drain—with prison sentences, loss of right to practice law, loss of the standing in the country and the loss of face.

Anyway, he will not finish out his term in office, one way or the other—resignation, impeachment or death (or very poor health).

Something will get him out. God bless America and the federal courts. (I used to attend federal court just to hear the court crier holler out, God save the United States and the federal courts.)

I think, as I look back on all the mess, that the part that had me scared the worst was that the bunch was using he FBI, the IRS and the CIA and 1 more supersecret organization, to make people come around. They had things going their way—or so it seemed—to them. And almost did. They could raise campaign money that way, could influence court trials and decisions, expose things that were in secret files (true or not) and ruin the campaigns of such people as Muskie and Humphrey and Wallace.

They ruined Muskie with their underhanded tricks (he won't even talk about it now) (He may still be scared to.)

They pushed $5 million to George McGovern to get the Dento nomination and worked poor old George Wallace over.

The cause of the downfall—or the reason their house of cards collapsed was—money. They had too much cash money lying all around. That did it—in my book. No telling what became of that $75 million they admitted to raising—not counting the untold sums of cash and other loose money.

Things will turn out all right. They always do. The country has been hurt, but it is big enough to recover from the inflation, recession and unemployment deal that has been creeping over our country and economy.

PLAN AHEAD

If you're under 45 years of age these questions are for you.
(1) In addition to Social Security do you have a retirement program?
(2) Will your present retirement plan be sufficient when you're 65 or... are there things you and your family will go without?

Remember, no one plans to fail—Some just fail to plan.

For the retirement program you want, contact: THURSTON McCUTCHEN — Sterling-Coke Farm Bureau, ph. 453-2812, Robert Lee, Texas or 453-2403.

PLEASE dump from both sides of the pit at the dump ground. No car bodies or wire allowed.

Social Security Tips

Social security checks should be cashed within a reasonable time to prevent loss or theft, even though there's no time limit on cashing them, according to social security officials here.

'If your check is lost or stolen, get in touch with your nearest social security office at once,' a spokesman said. 'The check can be replaced, but it takes time. Handle your check carefully when you get it and you won't have to wait while it's being replaced.'

Social security pays over $4 billion a month in benefit checks to almost 29 million people—eligible retired and disabled workers and their families and families of deceased workers who worked long enough under social security.

For further information contact the Social Security office at 3000 W. Harris Avenue, San Angelo, Texas 76901 or call 949-4608.

Directions for Packing and Shipping Heads from Suspected Rabid Animals to the Laboratory

Increasing difficulty to confirm a diagnosis of rabies is being experienced with the submission of animal heads for rabies examination when shipment by air takes as long as four days between shipping date and receipt. If at all possible, we recommend to those who use the State Department of Health laboratory service in Austin, that they USE THE VARIOUS BUS COMPANIES. Pack the animal head in a leakproof plastic bag. Enclose a second leak-proof plastic bag filled with ice or use water frozen in plastic bottles. An outside container of sturdy construction (styrofoam serves nicely and is inexpensive) must be used. Also, use packing material to absorb water in the event of leakage. The box should be securely taped down and marked, KEEP UPRIGHT—PLEASE. A note to telephone the Health Department Laboratory (454-3781 Ext. 313) on arrival, should be prominently displayed.

A golden opportunity in law enforcement awaits qualified young men. Get in touch with your Texas Department of Public Safety office or patrolman.

THE LANGUAGE OF FOREIGN MARKETS

Called "dinero" in Spanish, "argent" in French, and "gelt" in German, money is luring increasing numbers of American executives to visit distant lands in search of business.

Progressive companies are realizing that the demand for the bilingual executive is growing. They have, therefore, begun adopting language training programs for their personnel.

Previously, training of employees was done in classroom groups. But most companies have found that the busy businessman couldn't be tied down to a 10:30 class twice a week—and preferred an individualized approach to learning.

Employees of Control Data Corporation had an even more troublesome "time" problem. Twenty-five employees of this computer company were being sent to Germany to set up a system for Volkswagen. They wanted to learn German but couldn't be pinned down to a schedule, since they were needed whenever computer time was available.

The Sullivan Language Schools, a nationwide network of centers with headquarters in Palo Alto, Calif., solved their problem by setting up an individualized "school" on their premises. The unique Sullivan method was developed under a Carnegie Foundation Grant by the noted linguist Dr. M. W.

Sullivan. It uses programmed texts and coordinated cassette tapes and the student can work whenever he wants to and at his own pace. With this set up, the Control Data personnel fit their lessons in between projects, when computer time is not available.

The Sullivan Language Schools have also helped Sears, Roebuck and Co. fashion buyers to learn French and the Latin American Section of A.B. Dick Co. to learn Spanish. The ambitious Japanese of Mitsui Corp. who already speak English are moving on to French, German and Spanish.

Even if their employees are not assigned to overseas duty, some large firms are offering language lessons as a fringe benefit. Companies with plants in Spanish-American districts sponsor courses in Spanish so that their people can better relate to the community. All in all, the executive who says, "I don't need a second language—there's always someone who speaks English" may become obsolete.

PROFILE OF A COLD VICTIM

What are your chances of catching cold? According to a booklet on the subject, they're especially good if you're female, live in a large city in the western or north-eastern part of the U.S., and are the mother of a child under 6 years of age. Young children are the greatest cold-spreaders. Your chances are further enhanced if you're going through a period of stress and strain. "Contentment preserves one even from catching a cold," the great philosopher, Nietzsche once said.

The booklet, which discusses the common cold, is distributed by Winthrop Laboratories, the makers of Neo-Synephrine nose drops and nasal spray that are widely used in the U.S. and abroad.

Keeping up one's resistance helps to avoid the common cold, according to the publication, which advises getting sufficient fresh air and exercise, well-balanced meals, and as much sleep as possible in a well-ventilated bedroom. In cold weather areas, an extra hour a night is recommended.

Early stages of the common cold are the most contagious. Every sneeze fills the air with thousands of virus-laden drops. To help prevent spreading a cold to the rest of the family, to friends and to co-workers, everyone should have his own glass, cup, silverware and towels. Hands should be washed thoroughly and often, preferably with a liquid antibacterial skin cleanser. phisoHex is the one that is used in most U.S. hospitals to help prevent spread of infections. Particularly during the cold season, it is wise to keep a handwashing preparation in the kitchen, as well as in the bathroom.

Your chances of catching a cold will be reduced if precautions are taken. However, the Winthrop booklet also states that it is not completely possible to avoid a cold. Just breathing the air that someone with a cold has merely talked into offers the possibility of infecting a healthy person.
