Bailey County Will Sell CCC Disaster Corn

Around Muleshoe

School will dismiss at 2:05 on Thursday, December 8 to allow faculty members to attend a workshop on the Texas Assessment of Basic Skills tests. Buses will leave the high school at 2:15. The teachers will begin their meeting at 2:40.

The Journal will resume printing of the Muleshoe High School's MULES TALE on Thursday, January 12, after Christmas vacation. This will allow time for re-organization of the staff, according to high school principal, Wayland Ethridge. From that date, the Mules Tale will appear in the Thursday edition rather than in Sunday's.

Coach and Mrs. Windy Williams, (Muleshoe High School Athletic Director) according to some have begun to form their own personal football team. Rumor has it that Mrs. Williams presented the Coach with a brand new baby boy early Monday, December 5th. Congratulations are in order.

Organization Seeking Landowners

During a meeting last Friday night, a group of Bailey County landowners acquired the services of an Amarillo law firm to protect their interests with a proposed CO-2 pipeline to cross Bailey County. Ernest Ramm said the law firm is well-versed in right-of-way acquisitions and he is asking that landowners along the proposed pipeline route join the newly formed group.

Ramm explained that Bravo Pipeline Co. will be crossing the county northwest to Southeast with the pipeline, which will eventually carry CO-2 to the oil fields in the Levelland area. "Everyone affected by the proposed pipeline is asked and encouraged to join the group to be represented by the law firm," said Ramm. "We have a deadline of Thursday, December 15, for interested individuals to join the group."

He stressed that the newly formed organization will not be limited to Bailey County landowners, as all

Area Cotton Harvest Reaching Final Days

An estimated 10 to 15 percent of the High Plains cotton crop remains to be harvested, according to Mack Bennett, Area Director at USDA's Marketing Services office in Lubbock. Much cotton is field stored in modules.

Ginning is estimated over the 60 percent mark and classing has passed 45 percent of the estimated season's total, Bennett continued.

The three shifts at Lubbock and one at Lamesa (dedicated to classing cotton ginned in the Lubbock Marketing Services office territory) turned out 156,000 samples during the week ended Thursday, December 1. This brought the season's total for Lubbock to 406,000 and compares with 295,000 classed by the same date last year.

Predominant grades during the week were grade 42 at 15 percent, grade 52

'83 Varsity Mule Cagers Getting Down To Business

Four returning starters, including all-district Post John Isaac, give Muleshoe's new boys' coach Scott Murray lots of room for optimism for the coming basketball season. "The Mules hope to become consistent shooters and rebounders, so that their running game will be effective," explains Murray. "They also mean business and intend to play good, solid defense to make a strong bid for a play-off spot," the coach said.

Murray strongly contends that the Mule's number one strength lies in the team's attitude. He points out that the 1983 Mules are positive, hustlers and hard workers... in other words-winners. The Mules will be tall inside this season with 6'6" John Isaac and 6'8" Rob Donaldson on the board. Trent Hysinger, at about 6'2" has good leaping ability inside also. Outside, the Mules' quickness and leadership are the big plus points.

Returning starters, Mark Moton and Darin Shaw are quick, while Jeff Hamilton is a consistent, steady performer. Hamilton is also one of the four returning veterans. Murray will look to John Agee, Ronald Briggs Preston Langford and Hector Flores for good quickness also.

Individually, Coach Murray has a lot of good things to say about the 1983 edition of the varsity basketball team. Darin Shaw, who is a senior, has good quickness and speed; he's a fine shot and puts forth a lot of hustle. His experience as a guard will benefit the Mules.

Jeff Hamilton, also a senior, is a good shot and has the fewest turnovers. He can play guard or inside. Hamilton has a strong leadership ability and is coming back as the most experienced player on the team with two years as a starter.

John Isaac, a junior, is a big asset with his rebounding ability and leadership. He has experience inside and was the leading rebounder last year, as well as one of the best in the area.

Junior Mark Moton is the quickest of the Mules and the second in speed. He has a lot of hustle and puts on some great moves. Moton is an experienced guard with a good shot. He has a record of the most steals.

The tallest - 6'8" - of the Mules is Rob Donaldson. Murray says that Donaldson is a good shot, but needs a little experience to become a great rebounder. He is a good free-throw shooter for a "big man."

Quickness and hustle are senior John Agee's strong points. Agee stands out as a good defensive player for the Mules. Ronald Briggs is another senior who is quick. He is a good outside shooter

Mules Start Season Play With Mustangs

The Muleshoe Mules Boy's Varsity basketball team opened their 1983 season play on Friday, December 2 against the Denver City Mustangs, coming out with a 73-58 loss. However, Coach Scott Murray says that the score was not indicative of the game. "The Mules ran the ball good, but the turnovers were the key. Denver City pulled away from us at the last, but the Mules made a good run for it in the fourth quarter," explained

Murray. This was the Mules first game - it was Denver City's third. Murray was pleased with the Mules overall effort and praised them for their good hustle and defense. He stated that by the time District play gets here, the Mules should give other district teams a run for their money.

Leading the Mules in scoring in the Friday game was Darin Shaw with 16 points. John Isaac had 11 points and Mark Moton and Jeff Hamilton tied with nine each. Rob Donaldson shot for six points, Trent Hysinger for three and Preston Langford for two.

Tied-up for rebounding was Isaac and Hamilton, both with nine rebounds

A motion was also passed by the Court to amend the fiscal year 1984 budget to allow for the following: under County Health Services - $597 for ambulance insurance and under non-departmental expenses, $750 was allowed for indigent funerals.

Annual Bowl Contest Entries Due Friday

Alright, football contest buffs, you have one more chance this year to try your skills at picking the best teams. On December 8, (Thursday) the annual Bowl Game Contest appears in the Journal. Entries must be turned in by 5:30 p.m. Friday, December 9 to the Journal or be postmarked by that date, if mailed in.

There will be one grand prize of $50 to the winner of the bowl contest. Rules for the contest are much the same as the original football weekly contest.

First, pick the winner of each of the games contained in the squares on the contest page. Write the name of the team you think will win opposite the game number in the blanks provided on the official contest blank. Be sure to match up the correct numbers and use an official entry.

Contestants must be 12 years of age or older. If you mail your entry in, be sure to write "Football Contest" on the entry and mail it to P.O. Box 449 Muleshoe.

Regarding the tie-breaker game, you must pick the scores of the tie breaker and write them in where it is designated. This score will be used to break ties, and will be counted overall. Of course, decisions of the Journal's scoring judges will be final. So come on people, let's give it another try and get those entries in. Somebody's going to win - it might as well be you.

Rotarians Plan Annual Dinner

Muleshoe Rotary Club met Tuesday in the Civic Center for their regular meeting. Guests were Mark Williams, Ronald Byrd, Jerry Monk, John Gully and Peggy Dent. John Gully, Manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce gave an impromptu talk on the forthcoming Christmas season and of the efforts of local merchants to attract business to shop Muleshoe first. Gully also expressed his appreciation to all who participated in the Christmas parade. Rotarians were reminded that December 20th is the annual Rotary Ann dinner and program.

Area Students Named To 1983 'Who's Who'

A total of twenty-five students from this area have been included in the 17th annual edition of WHO'S WHO AMONG AMERICAN HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS, 1982-83.

WHO'S WHO, published by Educational Communications, Inc., Lake Forest, Illinois, is the largest high school recognition publication in the country. Students are selected by high school principals and guidance counselors, national youth groups, churches or by the publishing company based upon students' performance in scholarship award contests or extracurricular activities.

Final selection is determined on the basis of criteria which include high achievement in academics and leadership in school activities, athletics or community service. Traditionally, 99% of WHO'S WHO students have a grade point average of "B" or better

County Designation Is Expected Soon

Bailey County ASCS Executive Director, Danny Noble told the Journal Tuesday that although Bailey County is not presently included in the 42 Texas Counties already approved for FmHA disaster designation, it is one of the nine counties in Texas designated to make disbursements of the stored CCC (Commodity Credit Corporation) lower grade corn to drought and weather affected farmers and ranchers. Bailey County should be designated at any time now, since it did meet the requirements of eligibility.

The sign-up period for the Emergency Feed Assistance Program (EFAP) is December 6-14. Producers who are located in disaster designated counties, and who are eligible to purchase the low grade corn to feed their livestock or poultry must make application during this period.

According to Noble, the corn is priced at approximately 75 percent of the 1983 basic county loan rate in the county where it is stored. However, prices will vary slightly from county to county. In Bailey County, the corn will be sold at a price of $2.06 per bushel for the 24,832 bushels of #4, 5 and sample grade corn stored in local elevators. Producers who purchase the corn will be responsible for transporting it to their farms, but the CCC will pay load out charges.

Other counties in Texas which have corn available to eligible producers and the amount and prices available in that county are as follows: Castro - 54,053 bushels at $1.84 per bushel; Hale - 10,095,069 at $2.05 per bushel; Lubbock - 291,334 bushels at $2.07 per bushel; Parmer - 20,604 bushels at $2.05 per bushel; Swisher - 124,498 bushels at $2.09 per bushel. All of the above named counties are located in the same District as Bailey.

Three other Texas counties will also be releasing the EFAP corn. They are: Harris - 3,825 at $2.12 per bushel; Neuces - 6,543 bushels at $1.93 per bushel and Terry County with 97,389 bushels at $1.92 per bushel. The reason for the varying prices can be attributed to the amounts of lower grades of corn available.

A total of 27 million bushels of corn will be available to qualified producers, overall. A total of 10,718,147 bushels will be released in the nine Texas counties designated. Hale County alone has about 1/3 of the total corn available nationally. Cochran County is the only county in District 3 (Bailey's district) that has been designated as a disaster county, Noble said. "This all ties in with the disaster reports filed earlier this year."

Noble said that in addition to being located in a USDA-designated disaster county, a farmer or rancher's losses on pasture, feed grains, (excluding wheat) and roughage will be computed on an individual basis. "What is designated as normal production will be compared to actual production, to establish a producer's eligibility," Noble explained. He further stated that any corn or sorghum obtained by producers under the recent PIK will be considered to be "feed on hand or feed available" and will be one of the factors considered for eligibility.

Producers must have had their cattle or livestock at least six months prior to the day of application to be eligible. A farmer or rancher must have insufficient feed on hand to maintain foundation livestock and poultry through the end of a 90 day feeding period. The period begins when a producer

PHEASANT HUNTING PLENTIFUL

Pheasant Hunts and breakfasts are being planned by a number of area communities and towns. In Muleshoe the Muleshoe Lions will sponsor a Pheasant Hunt Breakfast on December 10 at the Bailey County Civic Center. The meal will be from 5 to 7 a.m. and will feature a drawing for a new 1983 Ford pickup.

Lazbuddie's Volunteer Fire Department is also sponsoring a Pheasant Hunt Breakfast on opening day, December 10 in the High School Cafeteria. Permits, license and maps will be available there for either a week

Three Way Fighting Eagles Live Up To Their Name

The Three Way Eagles just never learned to say "calf rope" - and they never quit fighting; thus living up to and earning their logo of the "Fighting Eagles."

The Eagles closed out 1983 with a 4-6 season and a 1-5 in district plays. However, from Coach Brent Fountain's viewpoint, the season was successful in many ways. "The Eagles started up this year with an attitude problem," says Fountain, "but, it takes six players in our game and every attempt was made to instill pride in those players."

"As a team, we're proud of our accomplishments in 1983. We won, lost, laughed and cried - but most important, we did it all together," Fountain explained.

When the team finished up their 1983 football season, they had compiled some fairly impressive statistics as individuals and as a team.

The Eagles in their 1983 season compiled a total of 1,815 yards rushing, and 1,668 passing. Steve Roberts led in total scoring with 21 touchdowns. Elbert Zapata had 12 TD's, Brad Stegall had 17 TD's and Steven Zapata and Leo Rubalcava had one touchdown each.

Although 1983 was Fountain's first year with six man football, you can lay odds that it's not going to be his last. "I don't know if I could ever go back to eleven man play after the fast-paced action of a six man game," the young coach states.

With May, 1984 graduation, the Eagles will lose a trio of seniors; Brad Stegall - one half of the Stegall Brothers combination; Steve Roberts - an outstanding rusher and pass receiver. Fountain is not disheartened though because he has a "real good crop of freshmen coming up next year."

Outstanding sophomore quarterback, Bret Stegall headed up the Eagles'

offensive efforts this year, completing 101 passes out of 221 attempts for a total of 1604 total yards and 24

History Museum Grants Now Available In Texas

The state legislature has appropriated $24,500 to the Texas Historical Commission (THC) to assist history museums with the preservation, conservation, and interpretation of their collections. Museums have until Jan. 2 to apply for the funding, which will be awarded and administered by the THC. $15,000 will be expended in 1984; $9,500 in 1985. Grants to individual institutions will not exceed $1,000.

This is the first time that state grant funds have been made available through the THC to support museums in the preservation of important historic collections. Funding may be applied to special projects including, but not limited to, the following: developing conservation methods; obtaining technical assistance; staff training; and developing educational programs. Applications may be submitted for up to 50% of a project's cost, providing the request does not exceed $1,000. Applicant institutions must provide the remaining 50% of the cost of the project, either in matching funds or a combination of funds and in-kind services. In-kind services may not exceed one-half of a museum's contribution. The THC will favor applications that indicate strong community support by the raising of matching funds on the local level.

Deadline for receipt of fiscal year 1984 grant requests at the THC is 5 p.m., Jan. 2, 1984. For application and further information, contact the Museum and Field Services Dept., Texas Historical Commission, P.O. Box 12276, Austin, Tx 78711, 512/475-3092.

Sarpalius Is Recipient Of Humanitarian Award

State Senator Bill Sarpalius (D-Canyon) has been named recipient of the "Texas Humanitarian of the Year" award by the Texas Humane Federation and the Texas Humane Information Network (THIN).

Federation president John Davenport of Austin, made the announcement at a Wednesday news conference at the State Capitol.

"Senator Sarpalius has been the leader for all of our humane legislation since our organizations have had a legislative program. His work on behalf of the dog fight bill, which was passed in 1983, was outstanding. Without his effective efforts we would have had an extremely difficult time in passing this legislation, which will be a protection for animals."

"The presentation of this 'Humanitarian of the Year' award is from every humane society throughout the state of Texas. It is our way of recognizing him as a leader in the legislature in helping to protect our animals," Davenport said.

The presentation marked the first time the statewide organizations have presented a "Humanitarian of the Year" award.

Doyle Nordyke, representing THIN, said that the dog fight bill, which went into effect September 1, 1983, is already having an effect on reports of dog fights.

"We haven't had a report of any promoted dog fights in the last three months. Prior to that, it was becoming a real problem. It has eliminated many, many cruelties to animals," Nordyke said.

He added that since all states bordering Texas had previously enacted stiff legislation, Texas had been a "dogfight haven."

The new law makes it a third degree felony to promote dog fight or to own a dog which is fighting.

The law is strengthened in that it provides for seizure of the animal, all promotional and training devices and vehicles used to haul the dogs.

Nordyke said it was not true that the new law will stop the breeding programs of pit bulldogs.

"There is nothing in the legislation which prohibits the ownership of pit bulldogs. It just mandates that they not be used for fighting."

Nordyke added that his organization is convinced that the new law will also cut down on the steaming of animals for the purpose of training fighting dogs.

The two organizations said they were successful in passing two of five bills which they promoted during the session.

In addition to the dog fight bill, also passed was an amendment to legislation that gives the Texas Department of Health the authority to act in protecting circus and carnival animals.

Legislation they will be urging during the 1985 legislative session, includes a minimum standard licensing bill for stables and kennels, making cruelty to animals a third degree felony for repeat offenders, and extending the animal shelter bill to all cities below the current 75,000 population mark.

"Our efforts are directed at trying to prevent cruelty to animals and educating the public," Davenport said of the two organizations.

The Federation is composed of the more than 80 humane societies throughout the state and the members of those individual organizations. The Network is a volunteer organization composed of individuals from throughout Texas. It is a group of informed humanitarians who make their views heard in the Legislature by contacting their legislators after automatic dissemination of "Alerts."

HUMANITARIAN AWARD...Austin. State Sen. Bill Sarpalius, center, was presented the "Texas Humanitarian of the Year" award by the two state organizations which promote protection of animals. John Davenport, right, and Doyle Nordyke, left, represented the Texas Humane Federation and the Texas Humane Information Network at the presentation ceremony in the State Capitol. The award was for Sarpalius' efforts to put legislation on the books to stop dog fighting as a sport.

Many people believe that odd numbers provide more good luck than even numbers.

Another Way
Another way to economize would be to quit paying salaries to the unemployed who occupy posts in public office.

Pre-Columbian Indians believed that earthquakes were caused by the creator shaking the earth to see if his handiwork was still around. The Indians would shout "Here I am," to reassure him.

Creative Woman

By Sheryl Borden

Three topics will be presented on "The Creative Woman" show on December 13 and 17. One guest will be Vickie Willis, home economist with Southwestern Public Service Co. in Roswell, and she will share some special suggestions for ways to express our appreciation with jams and jellies. She suggests giving these homemade gifts to that special hostess, to respond to a party invitation, or to anyone you want to say "thank you" to and do it in a special way.

What's more exciting around the holiday season than fashions. Janice Gardner, co-owner of the Blue Room in Clovis will narrate a holiday fashion show featuring some of the prettiest fashions for daytime, for partytime and also for nighttime.

Concluding the show will be a demonstration on making a Christmas wreath from corn husks. This is the tamale bundle technique, and it will be shown by Mary Johnson from Portales.

On December 15 and 18, the topics will include an edible parsley wreath, last minute gifts to make, and strip-pieced ornaments. Connie Moyers, home economist with SPS in Clovis will show an unusual

Where The Customer Comes First. Always.

Year-End Tax Strategies Suggested For Farmers

With 1983 winding down, farmers and ranchers need to look at their income tax situations and to consider certain strategies for reducing tax dollars. "In a year which brought the government's PIK (payment-in-kind) program and severe drought conditions in some areas, farmers and ranchers have much to ponder from an income tax viewpoint," says Dr. James Ahrenholz, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"A general recommendation for tax planning is to try to level out taxable income from year to year to avoid jumping through several tax brackets from one year to the next," says Ahrenholz. "Leveling your income from year to year will almost always save tax dollars over the long run."

For finding out where one stands on 1983 taxable income, tax tables and schedules reflect a 10 percent reduction from the 1982 tax rate. Subtract investment credits and other credits after making the calculations. For planning purposes, 1984 tax rates will be only 5 percent less than '83 rates.

Producers who took part in PIK must decide when to receive their entitlements, if they haven't already done so. Those who have received their entitlements may have to report them as 1983 income even though they don't plan to sell their commodities until after the first of next year. It all depends on whether the PIK a producer receives is from his own loan or reserve commodity and whether he has assigned his PIK entitlement to someone else, Ahrenholz explains.

Many PIK participants are facing prospects of higher than usual income and lower than usual expenses. Producers in this situation can take certain steps to reduce their 1983 tax burden: delay additional sales of commodities until 1984 or sell now and take payment next year on a deferred payment contract, and buy supplies ahead before the end of the year.

In addition, income averaging might be a means for lowering the 1983 tax burden, especially if income this year is considerably higher than the past few years.

"Producers should also realize that crop insurance proceeds need not be included in income until 1984 if the lost crop would normally have been sold then," the economist points out. "This also holds true for profits from forced livestock sales (except breeding and dairy animals) if in an area designated eligible for federal assistance. Proceeds from forced sales of breeding and dairy animals due to drought are not counted as income if they are reinvested in like animals within a two-year period."

Some farmers who received advance deficiency payment on crops in the acreage reduction program will have to repay those before the end of the year or they will count as income, notes Ahrenholz.

A farmer can also reduce his 1983 taxable income by contributing to an Individual Retirement Account or Keogh plan.

"To increase deductible expenses for 1983, a cash basis producer might buy supplies for next year's needs and buy capital items that qualify for a full year's depreciation and investment credit," Ahrenholz says.

However, if a producer is faced with a low profit or loss situation, he needs to take measures to boost income just to take advantage of personal exemptions and deductions. A single taxpayer under 65 with no dependents pays no tax on the first $3,300 of income while a married couple with two dependent children can earn up to $7,400 without owing tax.

"The best way to boost income before the year's end is to sell crops and livestock, even if delivery is delayed into 1984," the economist points out. "Keeping advance diversion payments, taking PIK entitlements and selling machinery that has been depreciated out can all generate immediate income."

To keep expenses down, defer payments until after the first of next year if possible. Buy on an installment contract where practical. Also, shifting assets bought before 1981 from a rapid method of depreciation to the straight line method will reduce deductions.

The "Farmer's Tax Guide" from the IRS is the best reference for farmers and ranchers who may want to check on tax points relating to their particular situations.

Ahrenholz also advises producers to check with their tax advisors or consultants now for further information on year-end tax planning strategies.

Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson Grass farm on Sandy Acres brags on newspapers a little this week.

Dear editor:

There has been a lot of letters-to-the editor in newspapers and magazines lately about the refusal of the government to let reporters and photographers cover the war, if that's what it was, in Grenada.

Some say the government was right, some say it was wrong. Some were outraged; others laughed, saying it's about time the media had its horns clipped. I haven't asked, but I don't suppose the Journal had planned on sending a reporter there anyway.

Television people were especially miffed, saying the government was showing only what it wanted to show, while the government says television shows only what it wants to show.

There are two sides to every issue, unless you're a crusading non-smoker, but the press should spend some time pointing out what it does, rather than what it didn't get a chance to do.

For example, if it hadn't been for newspapers reporting it, the Pentagon would have gone on, as it has for years, paying unbelievably outrageous prices for things it buys. Now, for instance, the Navy pays $60 for a two-foot fiberglass cover it had been paying $1,800. Moreover, it no longer pays $780 for a screwdriver.

On having these gross over-charges pointed out, the Secretary of the Navy said "We have not found any criminal intent, but the companies should have known the prices were unreasonable."

Well I'll tell you, if a store tried to charge me $780 for a screwdriver, I wouldn't have found any criminal intent either, but I sure would have looked for another store.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

THE RULE OF 78

Interest Computations
The Rule of 78 should be of interest to those who intend to prepay a loan if their loan agreement calls for the interest to be computed by this technique.

The Rule of 78 gets its name from a twelve month loan. The 78 is arrived at by totalling the twelve months of the loan, 1 plus 2 plus 3 on up through 12. The interest charged for the first month will be 12/78's of the total interest to be paid over the life of the loan. The twelfth month of the loan bears 1/78 of the total interest charge.

The total interest expense to borrow $10,000 at 18% interest, to be paid back in 12 monthly payments, is 1,002. Under the Rule of 78, your first month's interest is $154 and the last month's interest is $13. As you can see, the interest expense is heaviest in the early part of the loan.

Although the computations change, the Rule of 78 is often applied to longer term loans such as four-year auto loans and ### 25-year real estate loans.

If a four-year 16% loan were paid off at the end of the first year, the actual interest rate would be 17%. If the loan runs full term, the rate for the final year would be only 13.7%.

On a 25-year 14% real estate loan, you get a substantial difference between first and last year interest rates. If you paid the loan off after the first year, you would have paid 19.9% while the interest for the last year of the loan period is a mere 5.9%. In the first four years, the cash payoff for this loan is greater than the amount actually borrowed; the payoff on a $50,000 loan at the end of the third year is $51,115.

If loans written under the Rule of 78 run their full term, your interest cost will be as stated on the loan agreement. If you plan to prepay a loan of this type through refinancing, compare the interest rate on a new loan with the actual interest rate on the remaining portion of the old loan.

Many Veteran's Benefits Remain Unclaimed

Many veterans of the U.S. armed forces are missing out on benefits for which they don't realize they are eligible. A 72-page book "A Complete Guide to Government Benefits for Veterans, Their Families and Survivors," lists hundreds of areas in which eligible veterans and others may receive financial and other benefits from the Federal government. The book is a complete reference, listing and explaining all benefits and eligibility requirements as of 1983.

Education loans, medical care, employment assistance from Agent Orange to insurance to wheel-chair homes.

Some of the less publicized benefits include:

A veteran (or dependent) can receive up to $837 (40 percent in advance) in addition to other GI educational benefits, if he will assist in a work-study program.

Veterans over 65 with a disability can collect benefits up to $9,474 per year even if the disability had nothing to do with their service. The amount increases $840 for each dependent child.

Correspondence courses - eligible veterans are reimbursed for most of the cost.

Tutorial assistance - veterans enrolled in higher education on a half-time or more basis who need assistance can receive reimbursement for tutorial costs.

Survivors and dependents education - survivors and spouses and children of deceased or disabled veterans are entitled to an array of educational benefits. And a surviving spouse who marries again may again become eligible if the remarriage ends in divorce.

Many persons who were not formally married to veterans are considered spouses for the purpose of government payments and benefits.

Home loans - not only are veterans eligible for home loans, so are the surviving spouses of veterans whose deaths were service-connected.

Dependent parents - parents of deceased veterans who need physical or financial eligibility requirements are granted special allowances and compensations.

Certain members of the armed forces of allied forces in WW I and WW II, who were in combat against enemies of the United States and who have been U.S. citizens for 10 years are entitled to the same medical benefits as U.S. veterans.

The book also contains a state by state listing of Veterans Administration installations, including regional offices, insurance centers, hospitals, clinics and nursing homes - along with addresses and telephone numbers.

The manual explains in detail about G.I. insurance and how to borrow against policies.

A copy of this manual, "Complete Guide to Government Benefits for Veterans, Their Families and Survivors" is available for $5 (including postage) from CERC-Veterans Project, P.O. Box 336, South Orange, N.J. 07079.

As much as the Veterans Administration is anxious to assist former service people, the Center's director Mr. Robert L. Berko Tells Us, "unless the veteran or his dependents know they are eligible and apply they will not collect anything."

ALPHA ZETA PI FLOAT...Winning second place in the annual Christmas Parade in Muleshoe last weekend was the float by Alpha Zeta Pi. They received prize money in the amount of $50.

Get A Texas Grown Christmas Tree

For a real Texas Christmas this year, be sure your Christmas tree is a genuine Texas product.

"Several hundred thousand Texas-grown Christmas trees should be available this year in retail lots and on a 'choose-and-cut' basis," says Dr. Mike Walterscheid, forester with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "Sales of these trees should total about $3 million to growers. Texas currently boasts about 3,200 acres of Christmas trees, mainly in eastern areas, with some 1,000 trees per acre.

"Texas-grown Christmas trees offer a number of advantages," notes Walterscheid. "They are fresher, more fragrant and usually less expensive than those shipped in from other states."

More than four million Christmas trees are sold in Texas each year, imported mainly from northern and western states. So the growth potential of the Texas Christmas tree industry looks good, notes the forester.

Texas growers have planted about a million seedlings each of the past several years. Most of these are Virginia pines native to the Appalachian area of the southwestern U.S. Another species, the Afghan or Elders pine, is now being grown in central, western and southern areas of Texas. The trees are generally ready to harvest in about four years.

"While the availability of Texas-grown trees continues to increase, most shoppers will likely have to go to the larger cities in Texas or to smaller communities in eastern areas where most of them are grown," says Walterscheid.

Texas boasts almost 50 "choose-and-cut" operations in which the shopper selects the tree, cuts it and takes it home. These are popular, says the forester, because they restore the old-fashioned idea of making the selection of a Christmas tree an outing the entire family can enjoy.

Anyone interested in a Texas-grown Christmas tree can contact their county Extension agent for a listing of tree farms, adds the forester.

November Oil Gas Production Hearing Held

The Railroad Commission has continued the Texas oil production rate for December 1983 at 100 percent of market demand.

Chairman Mack Wallace and Commissioners Buddy Temple and Jim Nugent directed the continuance of the top production allowable after reviewing oil companies' nominations to buy a total of 2,381,804 barrels of Texas oil per day. The December nomination total, a decrease of 5,074 barrels daily when compared to October purchaser nominations, indicates market demand.

Although next month's state total for the permissible rate of reduction is calculated to average 2,857,249 barrels per day, actual production is estimated to reach 2.3 million barrels per day. Actual production in December 1982 was 2,351,610 barrels of oil per day. December 1982 nominations totaled 2,463,231 barrels daily.

The Commission first went to the ceiling level for oil production in April 1972, and December marks the 82nd month in a row for the maximum allowable. It applies to fields in the state except those that are assigned lower legal rates of production so that reservoir pressures will not be depleted before the maximum amount of oil has been recovered.

Wallace also reported that December 1983 nominations for the purchase of Texas gas totaled 21,281,050 Mcf/d (thousand cubic feet of gas per day). November gas nominations totaled 20,530,672 Mcf/d. December 1982 gas nominations amounted to 22,382,896 Mcf/d.

Andy Williams Speaks Out For Christmas Seals

Singer Andy Williams vowing to lead "the most successful Christmas Seal Campaign in history" has embarked on his duties as the 1983 Christmas Seal Chairman for the American Lung Association.

Williams, who began singing with his brothers in Wall Lake, Iowa and made his debut with them in the forties on radio and in Las Vegas, got his solo career break in 1953, when he began appearing regularly on Steve Allen's "Tonight" show.

Since then, Williams has had his own long-running television variety series and has aired so many popular family Christmas Specials that he is sometimes known as "Mr. Christmas."

Also, Williams is famous for his recordings of songs which go on to become classics. Since he began working with Cadence Records in 1955, and during his on-going 21-year-old association with Columbia Records, Williams has recorded such hits as "Lips of Wine," "Hawaiian Wedding Song," "Moon River,"

"Can't Get Used To Losing You," "The Shadow of Your Smile" and the "Love Theme from 'The Godfather.'"

Long known for his charitable work and for his concern about lung disease, particularly children's asthma, Williams is excited to be able to share, nationwide, the American Lung Association's message of clean air and lung health.

"As a singer," Williams said recently, "I can tell you I am sensitive to what's in the air, and I have great concern for the condition of my lungs. As a dancer might say 'my feet are my fortune,' I might say 'my lungs are mine.'"

The American Lung Association's Christmas Seals, which were originally sold to combat tuberculosis, are now 76 years old. They arrive each year and are sent to 60 million American homes to help fight air pollution and a wide variety of lung diseases, including emphysema, asthma, chronic bronchitis and lung cancer.

Andy Williams says "Take care of your lungs.

They're only human. Fight lung disease with Christmas Seals."

For information about ways to take care of your lungs contact: the American Lung Association of Texas, 7701 N. Lamar, Suite 104, Austin, Texas 78752-1088.

The United States as a nation is undertaxed, political columnist George Will said during a recent visit sponsored by Texas Christian University's M.J. Neeley School of Business.

Will, speaking to some 500 people in the Americana Hotel's Ballroom as part of TCU's American Enterprise Forum Series, said that the American people want the kind of government they have, but they don't want to pay for it. The journalist said the government knows what its bills are and what it can expect to spend each year.

"You cannot have a vibrant capitalism when the government borrows all of the savings of its citizens," he said, referring to the trillion-dollar national debt.

One of the reasons that more taxes are not levied, Will noted, is that the country is growing more conservative. Politicians used to claim that they could balance the budget by eliminating waste, fraud and abuse, he said, but now they know that is no longer possible. He pointed out that none of the seven presidential candidates are running on that kind of platform.

He also said it is difficult to cut social programs that affect the middle class.

"When you cut a welfare mother's benefits, she doesn't turn to her secretary and say, 'take a letter,'" he said. "When you touch the middle and upper-middle class, you tend to get very articulate letters typed on very impressive letterheads. Government listens to that."

The Republican agenda for social programs costs more, Will said. When President Regan came into office, he had to accept 98 percent of the Democratic ideas because they were laws. To add Republican ideas to that agenda would have pushed the cost up very high, he continued.

Will said he favors a change in the indexing of entitlement programs such as Social Security. A bill is in Congress now to do just that. The bill proposes that entitlements rise only when the consumer price index rises more than 3 percent.

Will is a columnist for Newsweek and a regular member of the television panel "Abronsky & Company." He also appears each week on ABC's "This

Gold can be beaten so thin that a gram will cover 56 square inches.

The Lord's Calling Card

The Light shining through a stained glass window beckons one to enter the house of the Lord. It is an invitation to friendship, sympathy, joy, and worship. Let this be your invitation to church this Sunday.

"Enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
