New Orleans, November 21.—Thirty-five packages of clothing were received today by the Faculty Association, and turned over to the Young Men's Christian Association by consent of all parties for distribution. This association, through its large visiting committee, has been well informed as to the needs throughout the city, and in future, distribute all the clothing contributed for the benefit of the yellow fever sufferers, and in the same manner as the relief work was conducted during the epidemic, without regard to race or color.

"OLD TEXAS" will please consider the Express all smiles and blushes.

The Dallas Herald wants to quarrel against Fort Worth on the ground that the latter place has the edge.

The reference of the committee to reorganize the army concerning their actions leaves some doubt as to whether they have accomplished anything.

QUEER that no one thought of it before, but it is as plain as plain can be now, that Stewart's remains have come to meet Charley Ross.

UNCLE SAM heard to John Bull the amount of the fishery award—$5,500,000. It was a bitter pill, but under the circumstances had to be swallowed.

This predicted a big winter and severe weather in Texas for the month of the 23rd of this month. It is not likely it along he will get left on his calculations.

We told you so! The Dallas Commercial says: "If there had been more Schleicher in the North the Democratic party would not have been so happy."

We trust the man who finds Charley Ross or Stewart's body, will also discover whether the Texas Pacific is to be completed to Weatherford, as it is a difficult matter to keep up with the reports. One day it's one thing, and the next day it is something else.

When our commission read the report of the yellow fever investigating committee, stating that disinfectants are useless agents to arrest yellow fever, they will look themselves into a fury over the recollection of those four barrels of lime scattered about the city last summer.

It having been heralded that President Hayes will inaugurate a new Southern policy, everybody is on tip-toe to know what it is to be. From the tone of his exhortatory, agricultural speeches, we thought he was very well pleased with the manner in which affairs were getting on.

In advocating a change in the manner of publishing legal notices, the Jeffersonian Advocate gives a case of sixty-two acres of valuable land lying in Camp county for $2.75 because nobody knew about the sale but those interested. The Waco Examiner says cases similar can be given by thousands if it be necessary.

TELEGRAPH does not appear to be forming much, just now, in the Presidential candidate connection. If he had any chance before the recent election, the fact that his State went Republican would not pull up his prospects in any great extent. Thurman and Tilden having traversed the grand board, Hendricks is again quiet prominent.

The Harrison county election is being contested as far as it refers to the whole county ticket, the Democrats being the contestants. The contest is made on the ground that the votes of one precinct in the county were received at a rate fixed in the corporate limits of the town, which was directly contrary to law. An injunction has been sworn out and granted by Judge Root.

POVERTY as well as misery (if the two are not identical) makes strange bed fellows. The St. Louis Times, a radical Democratic paper, has been consolidated with the St. Louis Journal, a radical Republican paper. The bitterness of one may neutralize that of the other, and permit the publication of a very respectable and sensible paper. The people are getting tired of political fanaticism, and the readers of both the journals named will doubtless appreciate the change.

The Corpus Christi Gazette says at a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the C. O. S. D. and R. G. N. G. R. Co., it was resolved to extend the present termini of the road a distance of fifteen miles. This extension of the road would carry it through to the town of San Diego, and it was decided to make that place the next terminus, provided the citizens of San Diego would hold out to the railroad company sufficient inducements in the way of a bonus. The bonus, we understand, is $12,000.

Great interest is now centered in the proceedings of the Public Health Association at Richmond, and every man in the nation liable to a visitation from yellow fever has his mind fixed to obey to the very letter every recommendation of that body regarding the preservation of the public health hereafter. And every man will diligently to that result for probably three months after the convention adjourns, when he will doubtless relax into his old habits of carelessness and inattention. Unless the convention can influence Congress to enact a general law compelling certain observances for the protection of the public health in every city and town, we fear but little general good will be accomplished by the learned gentlemen.

WHAT are our leading men doing to secure a visit from the ex-courtesy party of business men who will soon be in Galveston en route to Mexico? Either going or coming they should be switched off to this land of promise, and we believe it can be accomplished.

We want men of capital here, and to secure them we must make an effort in this direction. We have many inducements for the investor, in most of capital that would attract the attention of any intelligent business man, and the fact needs to be advertised among that class of men. Those who compose the courtesy party referred to may not make investments here, but if they do not, they will certainly tell of the opportunities to others who will come. San Antonio should let no opportunity pass to secure the presence of this class of people.

The dispatch published elsewhere relating how a Mexican officer in a circus at Freling Negro, in an outbreak of enthusiasm yelled out, in the presence of several Americans, "Death to the Gringos," did not come from Washington, and was not revived by a Mexican agent at our national capital. It shows that while Zanezco and his agents are all powerful at Washington, they have not yet secured control of this end of the telegraph wire. However, the Mexican government will have no difficulty in convincing the authorities at Washington that the language used was only an expression of endorsement of a style peculiar to Mexicans, and that there cannot possibly be a doubt of the cordial and affectionate relations existing between the troops of the two countries on the Rio Grande. However, we don't care what they say to let us alone.

GOV. NICHOLS AND THE LEGISLATURE

It is true, as reported by the dispatch of yesterday, that Gov. Nichols of Louisiana has been invited to visit in person the position in which election returns have been alleged, there can be no question as to the merits of his cause. He might content himself with demanding of the board a thorough investigation and the punishment of the guilty parties—if any are found, and in thus leaving the duty to be performed wholly by the regular and usual agencies which would be in the line of custom and precedent. But in taking the matter in hand himself he is not only within the scope of his authority and duty as chief magistrate, which requires of him to see that the laws are faithfully executed, but under all the circumstances he will be doing just the thing that should be done. The Legislature has already acted on the subject of the election of 1877, and the Legislature of 1878 will be equal political rights and privileges to all, based upon the allegation that the negroes were deprived of those at the late election. The leading Republican papers—such as the Times and Tribune of New York, and the leaders of that party—such as Thurman, Chandler and Connelley, have already declared that the "South South" is the result of balloting, and that the country shall not be ruled by the power thus established, in alliance with the Democracy of the North. It is the same old tune of the bloody shirt with new variations, and every Republican organ from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from the great metropolitan dailies down to the little village weekly, are beginning to strain away and peddle on it for the good cheer of 1878. It is the old story of the election of 1877, and the Legislature of 1878 will be equal political rights and privileges to all, based upon the allegation that the negroes were deprived of those at the late election.

The question of the duty of the next Legislature in relation to the election of 1877, is a question of the highest importance, and one of the most advanced and proper in being applicable in each one of its present and valuable suggestions to our own city.

Cost of Bread from Corn and Wheat.

The subject of the cost of bread from corn and wheat was brought before the Farmers' Club Tuesday afternoon by messages made by Mrs. Colwell Wilson. There were generally present and approved of by the large number of those who were present, and the subject was discussed for the purpose of ascertaining what would be the cost of bread, with wheat and corn, at the present rate, and to see what could be done to reduce it.

When good sound corn is properly prepared and made into bread by the best method, it is found that the gain in weight of the bread above the meal from which it is made is over 100 per cent. In other words, a pound of corn bread is the product of less than half a pound of corn meal, and consequently a bushel of corn weighing 56 pounds and taken at 30 points net over the mill will yield 100 pounds of bread. But when wheat flour is blended with the meal, which is very usual, the ratio of bread to grain is slightly diminished by the loss of weight.

Assuming the cost of corn to be 30 cents a bushel on a general average, this would bring the cost of the bread for the lowest price, which is more than the cost of a cent a pound for the meal, making a total, when other ingredients are included, which is about 2 cents. For wheat bread the figures are different.

A bushel of wheat weighing 60 pounds, and taken at 30 points net over the mill will yield 100 pounds of bread. But when wheat flour is blended with the meal, which is very usual, the ratio of bread to grain is slightly diminished by the loss of weight.

Assuming the cost of wheat to be 75 cents a bushel on a general average, this would bring the cost of the bread for the lowest price, which is more than the cost of a cent a pound for the meal, making a total, when other ingredients are included, which is about 2 cents. For wheat bread the figures are different.
