He was an innocent, guileless looking person. Walking up Broadway, with spectacles on his nose, and a large, rusty looking carpet has in his hand, his very serious and fixed gaze upon much that was new to him would have attracted attention anywhere. He moved slowly and with strides that suggested agricultural pursuits during the week, with rigid attention to church duty on Sunday. He might have been a deacon.

At the corner of Canal street his hand was suddenly seized by a very synatous, wall-dressed man, who exclaimed...

"Well, I desired This is a surprise. Who would have thought of meeting you in New York!"

There are only 535 full-blooded Chinese women in the kingdem, and these are all wives. Chinese prostitation is unknown. Several high bidders from this city undertook to introduce it, but the better part of the Chinese merebants protested and produced such a commotion as to cause the abandonment of the system. In the slums of "Cape Horn," "Pensacola Bay," "The Black Sea," and other disreputable quarters of Honolulu, all of which, by the way, have been named by sailors, no Celestial siren is seen; the women found there are natives without exception. Another carse of the Chinese people—opium—is also abant. A strict law prohibits its importation in any form, and wee betide the man who is caught smuggling it. No fine will be accepted. A santence of imprisonment in "the prison on the reef" is the only course which follows conviction. The law is followed strictly and justly dealt out impartially.
