It has been suggested to us, by a gentleman of much experience in farming in wester terms, that the farmers of this section should break up their lands for cats as early as Ottober. Oats sown in the early days of November have always proven a successful erop in this vicinity. Surely there is no more certain crop than this one, and, after affording fine winter grazing, returns a handsome profit in the spring. We hope to see a heavy acreage of this crop put in this fall in our county.

A lady in the neighborhood of Memphis, who had long suffered with a fearful cancer of the breast, after inaving been treated by numerous physicians, was induced to try a poultice of sheep sorrel. —The telegraph brings information that a nother storm prevails at Gaiveston. Yesterday afternoon, all telegraphic communication with that city was destroyed by the storm, but a wire was soon again righted, enabling intercourse to some extent. The meteorological indications in this city of an approaching storm were nover better than last evening, the barometer being several tenths lower, even, than during the recent heavy rains. In fact, the observer reports that it had not been so low for many months, considering the temperature of the atmosphere:

—In the county court, yesterday, David Davis and Clifford Morris, negro thieves, were arraigned for tealing a watch, pocket, knife, etc., from the residence of Mr. T.-C. Connor. Davis, when arrested, was endeavoring to pawn the witch at McAnille's, and the stellor knife was found upon the person of Morris. The former was tried by jury, and justly given nine months in the county all, while the latter, whose punishment was imposed by the bourt, received but one day. Friday night last the town was enlivened with music. The 24th infantry band serenaged the citizens until the "wee smal hours." This band has very nucle improved under the loadership and training of Prof. Gungl, until it surpasses that of the 4th cavalry. The same vening the Frederickaburg band soothed the savage breast of the native, and in the intervals the soft strains of the Mexican military band at Fiedras Negrascame across the river, and the two towns went to sleep amid mingled strains of historical and the same across the river, and the two towns went to sleep amid mingled strains of historical with friends on the main plaza of Piedras Negraschile the Mexican military band discoursed some of the finest music we have issend to in the west. Alfornately the offizing band played a Mexican air, and the visiting Fredericksburgers vied with the other two bands in flooding the air with melody, while semi-occasionally the loud notes from the 24th boys at Duncan would float over the Rio Grande and add variety to the sounds that already were harmonious enough to cause one to think they had been carried army to some enchanted spot. The plaza was well filled with promenaders, and the many lights and lanterns from the surrounding buildings, the balmy evening—breeze and bright stars, made up a scene at once pictures que and delightful.

What for An Edifice the Trinity Meth

It is very gratifying to any person who looks about our city and notes the various points of improvement, to see the steady progress of work on the house of worship new being meeted by the Trinity Methodist Episcopel church, on the corner of avenue O and recen street, and we are informed that the stone work will be completed on or before September 10th. This church edifice will certainly exceed all the expectations of the public in point of style and attractiveness of exterior, and promises to be one of the finest buildings of our city. The lot whereas this church is being built, has 94 feet front on avenue O and 175 feet on Pecan street. The bend in avenue O at this point makes it he church appear to stand at the head of this magnificent avenue, and the most conspicious object for miles around. The building has a front on avenue C of 76 feet relieved by a tower near the corner in which is the main entreame. The Pecan street front is 66 feet and has also a broad contrance. Died While Asteep.

A north Flores street gardener by the name at Sharer has for some time had living with his family a girl named Eliza Tegerd. It also was about fifteen years of age, and her home was at Dhanis, Medina county. The day before yesterday, her mother came to the city to see her, and stopped at Sharer's. Night before last, she and her mother went to bed together, and soon fell asteep. Towards midnight, however, the mother was aroused by single houses proceeding from the child, and turning, shook her, asking what was the matter, But all was quet usus, sad Mrs. Tegerd sgain fell asleep. About 3 a. m., Mr. Sharer arose to go to market, and his wife also awoke, dressed, Died While Asleep. We are requested to state the reported liness of a daughter of Mr. thristian Baer, if the confectionary from of Harvish & Baer, is without the least foundation.
