Near Liano recently an old man named Wiley Frazer was watching a watering place for deer when he was attached by three large and ferocious panthers. He discharged the contents of his well loaded gun through the body of the foremost panther. At this the others checked and set up such cries that they alarmed the dogs of the neighborhood, and fitteen gathered to the spot. The fight lasted for a considerable time, but the polls of the dogs and encouraging shouts of Wiley awoke the citizens, who areas masses and gathered with guns in their hands and frightened the wearled panthers, causing them to fice.

As soon as the ears of corn are gleaned. As soon as the ears of corn are gleaned, cut-the corn as it may be needed, and go to fattening the hogs. Have a small lot, thro' which a stream of water runs, if possible, so as to supply fresh water. Haul a wagon load of corn, slaiks and all, into the lot, and feed it out as needed, and then haul another load and a continue. leed it out as needed, and then half another load and so continue. It is a good idea to start early to fatten the awine. We predict the early sales of pork will be the best sales this year. Big corn crops make hig hog crops. There is less hog cholers this year than usual. Fatten well and sell early, is the advice of the Rural World.

out on the prarie where he has so neighbors, it will pay to keep a few Guinea heus. They lay more eggs than the common fowl. It is also claimed that one of them will keep one half an acre of potatoes clear of beetles, etc., and at the same time answer the purpose of a barometer in predicting the changes in the weather. If their merits balance their music, get some eggs and hatch out some; they are good eating and very pretty. Don't buy old birds unless you want to hunt the neighborhood high and low for them every evening. They can run.

Unlike most of our feathered stock, geese use neignforhood high and low for them every evening. They can run.

Unlike most of our feathered stock, geose are wont to mate, usually, with only one of the opposite sex. Each gander is ready and willing to bestow all of his attentions upon one goose, and she in return seeks no conquests among others. But this rule has just exceptions enough to prove its strength, and now and then a case is found where a gander divides his time between two goese, or a goose secures attention from two genders. This is all true where there is a flock of even pairs, but if you keep only one gander and two or three geese they will make a virtue of necessity and band together.

The powers of memory of a horse were illustrated at Bochester. N. Y., the other day, when the driver of a hook and ladder truck tried an experiment to test them. Three and a half years ago the city sold a team of horses that had been used for drawing this truck, and since that they have been employed in different work. The other day the driver took the horse into the truck house and turned them loose, whereupon each went directly to his own stall and when

The case of a deaf-mute cow is reported by a Russian veterinary surgeon. A cow, twelve years old, of Algava broed, belonging to a Russian nobleman, never showed signs of bearing or bellowed. Seeing the other cattle bellow she tried to imitate them by stretching out her neck and head, and opening her mouth, but she could not produce any sound. The sense of vision of this new way found to be mornally dead.

There is now local choices this year than usual. Fatten well and sell early, is the advice of the Rural World.

Young goalingst, like young docks, require but very little food until they are a week or ten days old, and then you need not be sparing of the corn-meal dough, which may be mixed like that for chickens with perhaps a listle salt in it. Whon they get old enough to pick grass they require very little feeding. Turn them out to pasture, giving them shelter feathers are grown. Very early goolings may be picked over in the fall before fattening for christmas. Those kept over winter should not be stinted, but fed grain regularly.

The Western Farmers' Journal says that "there are over 20,000 car-loads of live and dressed poulty carried to New York eity every year, and 25,00,000 ear-loads of live and dressed poulty carried to New York eity every year, and 25,00,000 ear-loads of live and dressed poulty carried to New York eity every year, and 25,00,000 ear-loads of live and marked. According to the best suitnastes, the United States produces nine thousand millions of eggs annually." This is a nice little item for the consideration of those whe-call the chicken business a small thing. BEST ROUTE

NORTH and EAST

From all points in Southern and Southwestern Texas, it is over one hundred and fifty miles-shorter, and many hours quicker, to Louisville than by way of St. Louis.

It is also shorter and quicker, and has the most felicitious arrangement of Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars that can be offered, to Cincinnati and all points beyond. It is the only route by which we can take in the Grest Mammoth Cave of Kentucky. The seemery is lovely, the equipment unsurpassed, the speed unrivailed.

More definite information may be obtained by addressing C. P. Atmore, G. P. A., Louisville, Ky., or J. F. Thompson, Prassenger Agost, Dalias, Texas. Tickels by this route can be had of
