To build a sound democratic edifice, we must use sound materials; otherwise men of prudence and judgment will not risk themselves within its walls. The masses of the democratic party are tired of this triging with their cause, and a call to council is demanded. That this spirit is manifesting itself is evidenced by the utterances of the more fearless and independent democratic papers of the country. The fact that there was such an immense majority in favor of Robinson is sufficient guarantee, to outsiders at least, that he is the man for the place. Although the Tammany delegates nominally represent near one hundred thousand democratic voters, in reality they express the views of John Kelly and a dozen or so of his henchmen, and to secare that vote it is only necessary to secure Kelly and his gang. They had not power to buil-doze the convention, but they doubtless have the convention, but they doubtless have the fact and fluctuations in the lat of Reptember. Why? Because it is time.

THE NEW YORK DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The New York convention has met and adjourned, and the result was just what was mapped out two weeks or more ago. We have not paid sufficiently close attention to the local politics of New York to fully understand the difference between the two factions, but as noar as we can make out the situation Tammany's grievance consists mainly in the refusal of Governor Robinson to allow the leaders of that political organization to manipulate his administration. The fact that there was such an immense majority in vote it is only necessary to secure Kelly and his gang. They had not power to bull-doze the convention, but they doubtless have the power to deteat its candidate, and that they will leave no stone unturned to do. They care nothing for the success of democracy; all they want is that Tammany—which means the Kelly gang—shall rule, and if it cannot rule it will rule. The synopsis of the platform telegraphed is too brief to admit of intelligent criticism, but the points presented seem generally good. The full text will be received in a few days, apd we will then give our readers a better idea of what the New York democrats think of the national questions at issue.

Senator A. W. Houston, in connection with the Sunday law. Referring to the statement of the senator, as published in the Express, that the law in question was legally passed by the legislature, the Age says:

Earl, for all that, in this particular instance, we think that the sonator from the San Antonio district is mistaken. If he is not mistaken he will probably be kind enough to mention upon what day the bill jeased, and upon what page of the senate journal its passage is recorded. As an inducement to the honorable senator to so it in the matter, the Age now offers, whenever he names the day of the passage of the bill in question, and points out in the Journal of the sonate the record of its passage, to send this in stoney to any charity, in his district that the honorable senator will name.

We know a small farmer who is in pretty close circumstances—having a family of the children, one boy and four girls. He has a small, farm sixty to seventy acres—hot enough to hire a man and yet rather too much for a green hand to put into fruit; in fact we would not advise him to plant so fargely with the spices of fruits as they are in this section or neighborhoed. Sitraw berries and raspberries six to eight cents on an average. This farmer, at this season of the year especially, has hard work to get bold of enough money to meet his daily expenses, and but three to five dollars per day for a few weeks at this season of the year would add he has horses, wagons, cultivators, hose etc., sufficient so that he has to go to no expense on them, and two to three acres et out in strawberries, raspberries and blackberries would make but little form work for his horses that if plant in the market of the plant is marketed, and a slight advance may be expected from present figures from horses that if plant work for his horses that if the plant work for his horses that if the plant work for his horses that if plant work for his horses that if the plant work for his horses that if the present prices will unfer no decline before the plant work for his horses that if the plant work for his horses that if the plant work for his hoes etc., sufficient so that he has to go to no expense on them, and two to three acres set out in strawberries, raspberries and blackberries would make but little more work for his horses than it planted in porn or potatoes. Liverpool, September 12, 12'2 p.m. Catton, an hour and a half, penciure the top of the cans to allow the escape of gauses. Then seed them immediately while they are still hot. Continue to bell them for two hours and a half.

In packing the norm in the can, the liberated milk and juices surround the kernels, form in a liquid in which they are cooked. This process, patented by Mr. Winslow, is by far the best one for preserving the natural flavor of Green corn.

Says the Prairie Farmer: The faster and more gentle a cow is milked, the greater will be the amount given. Slow milkers always gradually dry up a cow, and for the reason that if the milk be not drawn about as fast as it is given down it will subsequently be withheld, and that withheld is as a matter of course what is known as the strippings, in fact, the upper surface of milk in the udder. Many milkers draw the milk with a strong downward pull, in fact, with a jock. This should never be allowed, it irritates the cow, and often in jures the bag. Fill the feat and with a firm pressure of the last three fingers empty it, drawing slightly on the test and udder at the same time; so proceed alternatively with each hand until the milk supply is exhausted.

The elderborer crows wild in this part of the Liverpool of the Liv Parlor cars on day train and Sleeping cars on night trains, thoroughly refisted and repainted. West-inghouse Air Siraka and Milled's Millor Equipments stached to all Trains. Benths in Tileping Circ re-duced to $1.50. Any further information will be cheerfully furnished on appliestion to P. B. Liverpool and until the milk supply is exhausted.

The elderberry grows wild in this part of the country and should be cultivated on every farm. The berry when dried makes a wholesome pie, and jelly and wine made from the fresh berry are very medicinal. Jelly made of this fruit should be in every family where it can be made, not only for table use but for stopping a cough. A teas spoonful of this jelly dissolved in a glass of pretty warm water, and drank just before retiring at night will give a passeful rest often, when otherwise coughing greater part of the night would have followed instead. For wine, crush the berries, and to every two gallons of berries add one gallon of water in which have discolved two pounds of mood signs. Let all ferment fogether for a couple of days, then draw off elear, put in a barrel leaving the bung out until formentation ceases altogether, then shut up tight. By midwinter it will be fit to drink.

A Chicagoan Killed at Fort Sill

Special Telegram to the universe at a young man named Frank Mourse, supposed to be from Chicago, was killed in an affray near the teamsters' mess, at this place, September 8. Mourse was an employe of the hay contractor. A board of officers appointed to investigate the advantage finds the killing of

The English courts have just decided an interesting question in joint stock management. A man of property had subscribed for 1,000 shares of stock in a new railway, and had paid all salls upon it due up to the time to the suit. Becoming sick of his bargais; and not caring to send any more good pounds after the bad ones, he paid a poor irresponsible acquaintance $25 to accept the shares, and then he transferred them for him. The company refused to make this transfer, taking the ground that the new shareholder would not he able to pay the calls. That carried the case to court, where it was ordered that the transfer must be made, and that, so long as all back does were paid, the company had no discretion in the matter.
