Postal Laws Regarding Lottery

Washington, October 4,—The assistant attorney general for the postoffice department, upon the case recently submitted to him, has given his opinion that under the two hundred and twenty-sixth section of the regulation, which is section 3,894 of the revised statutes as amended by the act of July 12th, 1876, letters addressed to their agents for such companies, are unmained, and that postmastes should refuse to register orders when so addressed. A circular has been issued in accordance with its conclusions, instructing all postmasters to refuse to mail or register letters or circulars of schemes against which the postmaster general has issued orders under the provisions of sections 873 and 1,045 of the postal laws and regulations of 1879. OUR MUSICAL INTERESTS.

SAN ANTONIO, October 4, 1879.

which will follow through the season. may not be mappropriate.

The concerte lately given showed in the choral parts a great lack of adequate preparation in many features, for many of the singers seemed to be really ignorant of their parts, so far as a definite knowledge of the score was concerned, and therefore were singing along "with the crowd" and without keeping the time accurately, and it was also noticeable that some of the singers, who seemed to have a correct knowledge of the accracidid not follow the motion of the baton seemed to have a correct knowledge of the score, did not follow the motion of the baton of the musical director, and therefore confusion necessarily ensued. In some of our clubs the chorus seem to give very little beed to the characters or words that indicate the expression of the music, but push along with a piano where a forte expression is indicated, and in one chorus it was observable that some of the members were hotly pursuing an allegro movement, when a rollastando was indicated with the score. If the members of our clubs would accurately learn the score, and at every rehearsal faithfully heed the motions of the director's baton, and observe with a vigiliant iddelity the expression, the motions of the director's baton, and observe with a vigilant fidelity the expression, then the audiences, that so well patronize every musical entertainment offered that has a shadow of merit, would rejoice, and manifest their appreciation of a well sung chorus. It is to be hoped that some of our solo singers will not come before the public again till they have correctly learned their pieces, which shall not be beyond their gramp, and rehearsed them often enough with due regard to expression and correct taste as to ensure a performance that shall redound to their credit and reflect honor upon the organizations to which they belong. redound to their credit and reflect honor upon the organizations to which they belong. In our city there are an unusually large number of fine voices, that with proper care and training could come before an audience with an assurance of giving a meritorious performance. We trust that our musical clubs will settle down to a thorough course of reheareal and training at the beginning of the season, so that when the public shall be favored with the privilege of attending their concerts during the coming winter. It shall be a source of great pleasure and reflect credit upon our city, which claims the musical prominence of the southwest.

Mr. Fred Morse Taylor gave a bass solo, but he mast give more attention to correctness of tone and distinctness of expression before he can command a warm approbation of musical judgment.

Miss Kate Layer gave a solo with piano and cello accompainment, and sung with great fulthess of voice but not as correctly or tastfully as heretofore at other concerts.

"The Storm," a piano solo, was given by Fred Morse Taylor with a very good expression, which warranted much better attention than was given to it by the audience. This year is not first knowledge of his quite creditable execution upon the piano.

The club gave a chorus with solo, the same given at the concert in Turner half the Saturday evening previous, but the piece was not sung as well as on that occasion.

Miss Core Ogden & Prof. Exhapterger gave a piano dust but not with that precision of acceptions we expected, owing to the faulty condition of the piano.

Miss Mina, Frank sang a heautiful solo with much greater fullness and sweetness of tone and self-possession than at the concert of the opera club as and sweetness of tone and self-possession than at the concert of the opera club as and sweetness of tone and self-possession than at the concert of the opera club as and sweetness of tone and self-possession than at the concert of the opera club as and sweetness of tone and self-possession than at the concert of the opera club as the wednesday evening. The piece was well adapted to her voice. This young lady possesses a voice of good quality, and if properly cultivated and not overtaxed, will stand among the best of our local talent.

Mesers, Langstroth and McAllister sang a comical duet, with much life. Langstroth has a good voice; let him give strict attention to practice and we will soon have another good bass singer in our midst.

A gentleman, whose name we could not ascertain, gave a very sweet and brilliant selection upon a large harp, having great purity of tone. His performance was heartly encoyed.

This was followed by a sweet chorus given by the club. The only fault we could find by the club. The only fault we could find with it was its brevity.

A great drawback to the concert was the absence of a pro-ramme, or even an announcement of the pieces from the stage. A good audience was in attendance and the consert, taken as a whole; and considering the degree of proficiency claimed for the club, may be considered a success. A merry dance closed the entertainment.

The sentence of DeBorde, for the shooting and killing of Edward Treadwell, has caused the greatest of consternation; the citizens are naturally very indignant, and their cries for justice were load. The defendant was ably regimented by Frank Wilkes, but for the poor tellow that has been laid low no one seemed to be present that would procecute the case as it should be. Any man who wishes to kill another in cold blood should come to McKavett town, and he can do it at a low figure—a $50 dollar bond is about all that is required, at least it was so in the case of DeBorde. The best thing that citizens can do in the future is to form a vigilance committee and deal justice out as it should be. However, when the case comes up for trial in the district court, no doubt there will be other witnesses to be called and the opinion of the court may coincide with the jury at the coroner's inquest.

HE NEVER DRANK.

A few days after this the officer who de-clined to drink received a note from General-Grant to report at headquarters. He obeyed the order, and was soon in the presence of the general. Grant says to lim: "You are the officer, I believe," for their acquaintance was slight, "who re-marked the other day that you never drank."

The trouble on the border between Texas and Mexico, along the Rio Grande, attracted the attention of congress, and a commission was ordered to ascertain the facts and reports. Again President Grant remembered the man who "never drank," and appointed him chairman of the board. The place was accepted, and he entered faithfully upon his work; the report submitted shows the thoroughness with which the duty was discharged."

While engaged in this work he made the acquaintance of a gentleman who owned an extensive cattle ranch in southern Texas. That acquaintance inspired coufidence, and years after, when the Texan gentleman decided to sell his ranch he placed it in the hands of the man who "never drank," and during the last mouth he has effected a sale to an English company of the ranch of 200, 000 acres of land and several thousand head of cattle for an even million dollars, out of this he gets a commission that will be a snug fortune in these hard times. The company that bought will enter largely upon packing beef for foreign markets, shaughtering their meet on their ranch from their own herds. The superintendence of their business has been tendered and accepted by the man who "never drank," and he goes in a few days to his new field of labor.
