"A."—Roster of troops, indicating posts, sub-posts, &c., and their garrisons.

Of the thirteen sub-posts, or camps, eight have been established in the district of the Pecos, by the district commander, under instructions from thous headquarters, of April 30, 1878, with a view of making safe the mail routes and serilements in its vicinity, by forcing the Indians from that region and keeping them out of it. The introduction result has, practically, been accomplished. All Indians penefrating the country have been so hotly, pressed by the troops as to prevent their doing much damage,—only three mirclers, by marsuders, during the year. Last year there were seventeen in the region referred to.

"B."—Movement of troops.

The good order in Mexico, and the committion of raids from that country, has unabled a considerable portion of the troops, held in reserve to carry out the order of the president, dated Jupe I, 1877, to crows the border in pursuit of raiders, to be diverted for use in exploring our own wild country, and occupying the water holes frequented by raiding bands from our own Indian reservations. Out off from water, the Judians cannot traverse the country.

The latter has led to instructions, dated september 9, 1879, from the department of the september 1879, from the septemb

During the year 1871, a Scotch colony was started in Atsacoso county by John C. and W. F. M. Boss, the distance from Sen Antonio being about twenty-eight miles. The little village was called Rossville by its founders, who set energetically to work to found a colony. As to whether they have been successful or not, it may be simply remarked that the village now contains fifteen heads of families, all Scotch people, and it is as industricus a little community as there is in the state. The common pur sults are farming and stock raising combined, though other industries outside of these have been undertaken and are being successfully pursued. One of the most important of these is the curing of beef by Meser. Waddell and McCall, who find a ready sale for the meat in this market at a hold exects of every description.

The consignments must positively be closed out on the day of sale. Everybody attending the sale may therefore expect rare of sinces of investing money profitably, nov18-2t
