Rew Lousien, Conn., Movember, 24,—A collision between a freight and passenger train on the New London North railroad occurred this morning between Palmer and Three Rivere, Mass. The engineers of both trains and two or three persons were wounded. Seven persons were injured more or less severely, a majority of them being track men of the road, who were riding in the baggage car of the passenger train. Homewilliams, engineer of the freight train, has both legs broken. His fireman was severely injured in the back. The collision was due to the stoppage of the freight engineer's watch, through which he was twelve minutes behind the schedule time.
