FORT SUMNER, N. M. June 24, 1880.

For several months past there has bee For several months past there has been throughout Mexico a certain excitement over a new mining camp known as White Oaks. The camp is situated in the hills to the south of the Sierra Lapitana, a lofty peak in the northern part of Lincoln county and some thirty-five miles from Fort Stanton. The sensation created by the discoveries of precious metals at White Oaks appears to have decided to proceed with the hearing. It thus leaves the question of jurisdiction to go through the question of jurisdiction to go through the ordinary tedious stage, and for the process of the process

The condition of the latter when aid reached them is described as pitiful in the extreme. A higro, who was one of those who returned with water, in telling the circumstances said: "My Gawd, white man, de men looked jiss like skelepins, and de hosses dey looked like skelepins teo." The hosses dey looked like skelepins too." The women and children must have suffered

Arrived at the mining camp, the weary, tortured gold-hunters found that all their conceptions of the state of affairs aroused the camp were illusions. They had expected to find mines already in operation and mills and smelters at work. They had expected to get from two to four follars a day per head for their labor, and to experience no trouble in getting employment. Instead of this they found a camp of prospectors nearly all of whom were no more competent pecuniarily to push mining development to any considerable extent than the new comers themselves. After several days of fruitless endeavor to obtain work, even at wages that would bagely pay for board, a number of the party took the back trabk for Texas. They passed by Fort Sumner two or three days ago, and researched that the contral following and Fueble, Colorado; Toronto, Ontario, Nigar Falls, Chattanooga, Knoxville and Prieble, Chattanooga, Knoxville and Priebl the back track for Texas. His very body would have been credited with the Savior's healing touch. Even a hundred person are in England it was held as houseless.

with legislation, and yet when congressment are gathered together it is getting to be not uncommon thing te find a few bables in their midst. The congressional explanation is that they belong to the tribe of booksheeth hunters; but all explanations ande, they are gradually becoming more prevalent at Washington. As they are an affliction to which the people's representatives are especially liable, it is strange that enterprising persons at the capital have never thought of making provision for their possible appearance. An insurance company, which would take risks our congressmen against the appearance of the mother and child annoyance, would fursish complete protection and prove's profitable investment to its stockholders.

A Compliment to Col. Upsen.
A picnic-was yesterday tendered Colonel Upson, by a number of his friends of this city. The party consisted of our congressmap, Gen. M-son, Col. E. D. Baker, N. O.
Green, Escl., Gen Ham P. Bee, Capt. W.
G. Tobin, P. G. Bowman, N. J. Cosgrove; Maj. J. F. Minter, A. A. Muncey, Geo. S.
Williamson, Maj. Washington, Hon. A. W.
Heuston; Col. J. T. Thernton, Judge Boone, W. W. Showalter and others. The party took a parlor car at an early hour and ran down to the Geronimo, Guadalupe county, where they spent the day very agreeably fishing and sociably. They were met on the Geronimo by Judge White, Judge Good.
Trich and Major Burgess of Segain, who formed pleasant members of the social circle.
The event was without exception a happy one.

Mrs. Winslow's Scothing Syrup.

-Rev. Sylvanus Cobb thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman; e would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good-particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Scothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge. In our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giviffg an infant troubled with colic pains quiet sleep, and its parents unbroken reat at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as 'bright as a button.' And during the-process of teething, its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say they would not be without it from the birth of the child till & had finished with the teething sleeg, on any consideration whatever. Sold by all druggists, 25 cents a bottle.
