ANOTHER RAILROAD HORROR.

Men, Women and Children Terribly Scalded.

Philadelphia, Pa., August 12.—Last evening the second section of an excursion train west left Atlantic City at six c'clock, and ran into the first section, telescoping the rear car, killing one and injuring over forty. The train was filled with Catholic excursionists. Sixteen cars left the city at six c'clock, and the second section, ten cars, soon followed. All went well until the first section reached May's Landing, when the ongineer slowed up and started to run on the siding, to allow the passage of the 5.30 express from Cam

All went well until the first section reached May's Landing, when the engineer slowed up and started to run on the siding, to allow the passage of the 5.30 express from Cambda, All the cars had passed the switch except ixo, when the second section came thundering on behind. Of the persons on the rear platform of the first train, some jumped to the ground and then rushed panicepticken back into the cars. The locomotive came bounding on and orashed finto the rear car, still standing upon the birdge. So terrible was the force of the collision that the engine fairly plewed a furrow half way into the car, the roof of the little to being lifted over the sunckestack of the locemotive. The Freitise Cossen Crop

The Expaise was presented yesterday by Mr. D. B. Lay, who resides near Lavernia, Wilson county, with a stalk of cotton, bearing two hundred and ninety-four bulls and squares. Mr. Lay says he has sixty acres in cotton, and that the stalk brought to this office is not far above a fair average. Many of the plants are so heavily ladon with bolis that their branches are bonding to the ground and breaking off from the weight. The worm has not yet appeared in his section, Mr. Lay says, and there is no further fear of the enemy.

A BUSINESS BOOM.

SAN ANTONIO THE RISING STAR OF THE WEST-PROSPECTS IN THE IMMEDIATE FUTURE,

And Other Movements that Will Redound to Our Benefit,

It has been remarked, however, that business in San Antonio was about to be confined to special lines. In proof of this, it may be remarked that five new houses,

Increasing Popularity of the Mimic Stage.

At this season, when many young persona are preparing for summer vacations, the work of laying in a store of materials for private theatricals begins. The pleasures of the mimic stage have become so widely popular that there is now no difficulty in fitting out a company of any size with a play of almost any kind and at almost any eigen price.

There are three distinct classes of amateor performers. There are the very young beginners, who live a long way from the railroad, and, perhaps, never saw s play. They cannot afford the expense of stage scenery and costumes. They can be suited with plays written for precisely such an emergency. All they need to do is to write to an agency, giving the number of their performers and telling what sort of characters they would like, and they are suited by return mail. Their entire outlay is for the books of the play. Another class of amaformers and telling what sort or the they would like, and they are suited by return mail. Their entire outlay is for the books of the play. Another class of amateur theatrical performers are a little more advanced. They are generally in large lowns. They aspire to scenery and cootumes more appropriate than they can them turns more appropriate than they can them takes prepare. At tached to the trigger of the gun was a piece of wire arranged so that no stranger could enter the premises in the dark without running into it and causing the gun to explode. The gun was loaded with buckshot, and the night-worker who dared enter the premises was certain to secure a taste of the contents, barring the most wonderful kind of an accident.
