Of all the business houses in San Antonio we find none possessing that amount of energy displayed by Messre. Hase & Oppenhelmer. Their thorough knowledge of the dry goods business and the wants of the people of western Texas has enabled them this season to bring on a stock of dry goods and clothing of which any larger city of the morth count be proud of. Their assortment and styles are certainly the handsomest ever brought to San Antonio, and we would call special attention to their advertisement in this issue, where can be found an enumeration of a few of the goods they keep in store, and which will be found to come fully up to their claims. They are continually enlarging and improving their business, and sow, having increased their force of alasmen, they are prepared to give better attention than ever to business, and we may are representation.

THE EXPERSE MON yesterday received a most appreciative gift, in the shape of a full barrel of Benuct's packed Michigan apples. Mr. Walter A. Bennet has just reactived a carload of this fruit, the finest ever imported to our city. The Michigan apple is known all over America as the largest and the best for general eating purposes. These apples are wonderfully large, the smallest of them exceeding in size the finest apples herectofore retailed on our streets, and they are perfectly delicious. Those received have been stored at Labatt's warehouse, on Market street, where they can be seen by all dealers and private parties wishing to purchase. Mr. Bennet offers their low, and will certainly make a quick disposal of the lot received.
