Bodie, (Cal.,) News.

George Finney, driver of the Virginia and Bodie stage, says that makes of several species, including hoops and rattlers, are getting to be so pientiful along the road at this end of the route that it is dangerous to leave the coach, and it is a great wonder he haself lost his team before this. In coming in the other day, he drove into a lot of sukes that literally covered the road for about 500 yards. He couldn't turn out, so he sent the silk into the horses and dashed through on a dead rau. How the team rescaped injury puzzles him. One big hoopmake, about ten feet long, that was lying in the centre of the road, as soon as it heard the coach coming uncoiled itself just as the team was passing over it, and made a victors and that the tail was driven into the heard wood some three inches. The make being unable to withfraw it, was dragged along for about.
