She was unable to make an outery, because a hand-kerchief had been tied over her mouth. Thomas, being a married man and the brother-in law of Lowery, did not take part in the heavel. in the assault upon the woman any more than to help tie her for the infamous design than to help the her for the infamous design of Lowery. Mrs. Massie, badly bruised and weakened, managed to go to a neighbor's house, and told the tale of her wrongs. She described Lowery as having a bruise over his left eye. Yesterday the two men were arrested. They were taken before a justice who committed them to jail. During the camination a large number of armed men bad gotten about the place muttering ven-geance upon the ravishers. When the jailer had proceeded a few hundred yards in the woods with the prisoners he was over-powered and the two men taken away from him. They begreaf for more, but the monhim. Almost in Flames.

About six o'clock last evening, while an EFFRESE reporter, with Mr. Charles Nash and Capt. John Oothaut, stood opposite Mr. Gas Duerler's confectionery establishment, a strange light was observed in Half's stable over the way. In a few seconds, it was discovered that a fire had broken out, and an arm was given. The fire proved to have criginated in a hay pile in the stable, but was easily extinguished as the flames rolled upward seeking to seize hold of the building. smith for re-election.

It is calculated that Fred Cocke, democratic nomines for county attorney, will receive about one-half of the German vote, over L C. Grothaus, republican. There is said to be a strong party in the laborers' association, a strictly German organization, which supports Mr. Cocke. This organization is said to be down on what is termed by some of its members "the Casino clique.

August Biesenbach will make the race for the county collectorship against Frank Newton, democratic nominee. August is working hard, and expects to get the help of the Mexican faction disaffected under the name of "La Reforma Nueva."

It is said the Mexican disaffectionists will seratch Felix Smith, Sam S. Smith, J. B. Lacoste and N. O. Green, while August Blesenbach, republican, will get some of their votes. The object of these self-styled "reformers" is to break the courthouse clique. Some of them are for voting the straight republican ticket, with two exceptions, though they all defy impeachment of their democracy.

Emgrish Club Last Evening.

The central Hancock and English club met last evening at Krisch's hall, a large mumber of persons being present, Col. Walthall in the chair.

The following resolutions were presented by the committee and discussed at length. The argument against the adoption of the platform was that it would split the party, on account of section five, which was deemed in relevant to the positive organization of a Hancock and English club.

The resolutions adopted were as follows: Besolved 1. That we hereby adopt and fully endorse the platform of principles adopted by the national democratic convention which assembled at Cincinnation the 2 day of June, 1880.

Resided 2. That we also adopt and fully endorse the platform of principles adopted by the democratic party of Texas at its late convention, held at Dallas on the 12th day of August, 1880.

Political Incidents, Prospects and Events.

An Express reporter met Martin Muench a day or two ago, or, was rather stopped by that gentleman, who said he wanted to publish a card and pay for it.

Mr. Meunch's spirit aroused a bit of curiosity with the reporter, who, knowing that Martin had been a candidate for the office of assessor, onquired, "Mr. Meunch of oyou still intend to contest for the county assessorship?" Mr. Meunch replied, "I will make therace, even if I don't get tut four votes." There are therefore three candidates for assessor in the field, Jose Garcia, democrat; L. M. Gregory, republican; Martin Muence, independent democrat.

According to George Lockmar, who styles himself the "me, heap big chief," etc., a new party has been formed to be styled "La Reforma Nueva," or the New Reform. George says that he is an adherant of this faction, and that it will wield a wonderful influence at the forthcomming county election. When Craessus invaled Sileias, the ruler of that country told him that hair would grow in the palms of his hands before he would see the capital city. Just so, a great many people think, it will be with rantankerous George and his followers. They will never see "the milk in the coacoanut" under such a quise as the New Reform. The laws of nature cannot be overcome.

The chances of F. G. Smith, democratic candidate for the office of county judge, seem to be looming up. The reporter is informed by Mr. Fritz Russithat about two hundred colored men-have endorsed and will support him. M. G. and T. G. Anderson, and other prominent republicans, aere ported to be carnestly supporting Judge Smith for re-election. LAVERNIA, October 11, 1880. of one week old to the adult. a row in a cotton field in which two Senegambians were engaged. It seems that a moke named A. L. Bennett ran away with the wife of another moke named H. Dosedo and took her to San Antonio. The latter, like a true Benedict, sought his truent spouse and prevailed upon her to return to his humble calon. The gay Lothario also returned. They worked in the same field with only a turn-row between them. The colored Lothair pursued his daily avocation with a huge six-shooter as an ornament to his personal adornment, as also did the injured bubbly who he calcule. They mot by chance, Lothair blazed away twice at Dosedo, who rolled into a furrow uninjured, and when the smoke of battle cleared away, he arose with his pistol and plugged the festive deceiver with oue of Colt's pills, who turned his toes up. Dosedo gave bimsolf up to the minions of the law and was acquitted. Bennett was planted and will act as a fertilizer for next year's cotton crop. Despite the busy cotton season and the sickness.—Capid puts in his work without regard to either. On last Thursday Mr. M. McCoy was married to Miss Lou McAllister, at the residence of the bride's father. May their lives be one of joy.

To-night I witnessed an old-time scene, one in which I was wont to participate myself when I was a wee kid and ran around with the dusky pickaninnies. An aged darkey drove up in front of the store while I was sitting there on a dry goods bux with a load of "water-millions." The "nigs" had just returned from the cotton fields with their wealth, and ye a. d. vended the precions fruit at only a nickel a piece, and the way those meions disappeared in the ivory portals of those selfsame "nigs" was a creation. There is an affinity between a negro and a watermeion. They were made for one another—destroy the latter, and the former pines away. All the chills that a moion is helr to will not phaze a negro. There are only three things that will make him turn up his toos, and they are a rope, a bullet and old age. His secret is proof against all else.

Of all the business houses in San Antonio we find none possessing that amount of energy displayed by Messrs. Hass & Oppenheimer. Their thorough knowledge of the dry goods business and the wants of the people of western Texas has enabled them this season to bring on a stock of dry goods and clothing of which any larger city of the north could be proud of. Their assortment and styles are certainly the handsomest ever brought to San Antonio, and we would call special attention to their advertisement in this issue, where can be found an enumeration of a few of the goods they keep in store, and which will be found to come fully up to their claims. They are continually enlarging and improving their business, and now, having increased their force of salesmen, they are prepared to give better attention than ever to business, and we can assure you politic and satisfactory attention when visition/their establishment.
