Mr. Brook contendes that the prosecution was conducted for public clamor and not for the purpose of convicting or having held for trial the detendant, who, he claimed, had waived an examination and demanded a speedy trial, which the prosecution would not allow. He was ready and anxious to disprove the charge of faisity
of the letter, and demanded a shis right, an opportunity of farnishing such proofs without aljournment.

Ladics of San Autonio propose "giving a fair next year, and devote the proceeds to creeting a monument to the memory of Crockets, Bowle, Travis, Milam and other heroes of the Alamo. This is a landable-movement, and will meet with hearty approval in all sections of Texas. If the ladies will make it a state affair they can attract visitors from many towns, and realize everal thousand d flars, which will cable them to rear a monument that shall be worthy of the dead and a credit to san Antonio. Waco would send a few car-loads of excursionis's to a fair given for such a purpose, and ag yould all other leading Texas cities. The Express and the San Antonio ladies ought to be able to put the movement on loot and engineer it to successful accomplishment. Waco Telephone.

THE PAVORITES.

It is soldom as large an andience is gathered to witness a play in this city as that assembled at the Canno last night, and, if we are to believe record, it was about the first pleasant thing. The Favories, have witnessed for near a west. Since leaving blanch and the same as west. Since leaving blanch and the same as west. Since leaving blanch and the same as west. Since leaving blanch and record and the same as west. Since leaving blanch and record and were from the wite of colock Thursday night until five o'clock yesterday on the road from Austin, with nothing in the way of sustemance save a New Brannfels lunch, and were for len mortal hours packet, like sardines, in a stage coach, arriving here, as they say in a terribly used up condition—but it is safe to say few noticed that there was any lack of I for spirit in the entertainment last night.

'Long Branch' is entitled a musical comedy. It is a vlay without a plot, a combination of fundand frishe with musical interfudes—a group's of secure for the introduction of a variety of specialties. Alice Ostes is a "lash of musical vivacity" who never falls to win applause, and notwithstanding the "dina ivantage of last night, kept the anticence in a state of pleasace exclusion of the company cent admirable assistance. The music was excellent, some of the order members of the company cent described a fund of anusce of the whole presented a fund of anusce of the anticence of the surface provides of the anticence of the same and the whole presented a fund of anusce of the anticence of the anticence of the anticence of the same to heartly enjoy. The play to night promises to be even better than last night, as the company will have secured a good rest.

The Austia fair seems to have been anything but a success.
