Belmont was a great firt, making love promiseuously to many young indices of the city, who regarded him as a good catch. He became engaged to a Miss Grace Watts and a Miss Brack-cit, both prominent young ladies.

This duil engagement ied to trouble, which ended in the arrest of the supposed young man and the discovery of her sex. It is said that Miss Brackett had before expressed a doubt of Belmont's masculinity, but was hushed into atlence by her lover.

Other and more serious charges will probably be preferred against the young lady, whose real name is not known. She is supposed to have stolen various sums of moncy in the Watts House, where she boarded, and never paid her Board bill in over a year.

AN EQUINE EPIDEMIC

Some time since, Mrs. Gen. Byrne, wife of Gen. Byrne, who was killed by Iudians in the west some time ago, sent a man west to obtain the body of her husband. Mrs. Byrne also asked Gen. Ord to instruct Gen. Grierson to fursish an ecort to accompany the man she had sent to recover the remains. Her request was compiled with by Gen. Ord. But from letters scentily received in this city from Mrs. Byrne it appears that the escort asked for and griered by the furnished was not obtained, and the man sent after the remains has as yet failed to get them. The proporter understands that a peremptory order to furnish the escort has been issued. Gen. Byrne bad, before his assassination, written a feet, which was published, in which he reflected rather strongly on the saidlerly qualities of Gen. Grierson in his campaign against it is the impression of Aira. Byrne that the can be a before a sent a feet of the contempt. Several very strong letters from Mrs. Byrne have been received in this city. The lady is now restiting at Fort Worth.
