Star-Encircled.

FANNIE ISABELLE SHERRICK. Once a star fell far from heaven.
Proud and full of light;
Once a soul fell from its kingdom.
Pure and glad and bright. On the earth the star lay darkened Sombre as the night; Pale and sad the soul lay dying Escished far from light.

As the star the soul had wandered From its path of right; As the star the soul was punished, Dying in the night. But a voice came down from heaven Noft and silver clear, Though the star is lost forever, Yet the soul is dear.

Around the throne, still angel-guar led, la the kingdom of the star, Let the sour complete the circle Bringing beauty from afar.

Upward through the mystic circle Wafted was the soul; And another name was written On the pure unsullied sero ! hus the star die 1 rich in glory, Proud and full of light; Died to save an erring spirit, Pure and giad and bright.

And the angels smiled in heaven. Hathed in starry light: Smiled-yet wept to think the star-king Perished in the night.

The bark crossed out in the log book; The name dropped out in our prayer Jn many a household a vacant place. From many a life a vanished grace; We know our cast in the life-long rat But only God knows theirs.

OF IN THE PLAT CHEER QUARTED De morkin'-bird is workin' hard.
He's got no time to res'.
For he's totin' timber up de tree
An' lay in' orf a nee';
He don't want any cyp'us loge,
An' don't want any bricks,
For he's gwine to make a little house'
Wid nuffin' 'tail but silcks!

He's de cutes' little carpenter
Dat eber dribed a nail.
Au' when you see him on a job
He's neber gwine to fall;
Cause he gets his attick t spedder
An' he lays 'een mighty fas';
An' when he fluish or de house,
He knows 'tis gwine to las';

He was gettin' michty lones inc When he led a single life; So he paid a visit' cross de creek An vicked him out a wife; Now he's dixia' up à place to stay An' gwine to l'b' in style. An' he'ill hab a little family To show you arter while.

Hides are firm and in good demand. We would not be surprised to see an advance in prices owing to least causes.

Skins are firm and in demand with the receipts conclude: skins are frm and in demand with the receipts very light.

Cotton has been quite active to-favans some parties report the market about an eighth of seent p-r pound better. We continue our qu. tatives uncharged.

Fuel is in better demand than supply, and prices are yet very high. During the past three days as high as the dilars per load gloout a cord, has been paid for wood. Eight dollars was asked for a fair sized load this marsher, containing about a cord. This price cannot be maintained after the weather moderates.

Corn fodder is in v. ry active demand, but there here no receipts worth mentioning and the prores prices remain very high.

Northere produce is in good receipt by rail ad prices are unchanged since our last report.

The receipts of freight by rail it-day included seventeen exclusion, one of mixed northern produce, and five of government freight.

The cost freight by rail it-day included one carloud of mutions, 6,000 pounds of pecaus, and one carload of eutton seed.
