An Important Discovery in New Rev. Washingtoni (Nov. 3) dispatch to the Roston Herald.

James Stephenson, of the United States geological survey, district of New Mexico, arrived here last night, bringing news of an important discovery he has made recently in the course of his labors. While near Santa Fe, N. M., recently, he was informed by indians that there were withing few miles some accient caves that he would find interesting. Guided by them, he found, 46 miles from Santa Fe, 19 miles from the Rio Grande river, a claff lown composed of caves in the rocky side of a canon 39 miles long, never before visited by a white man. He was so much impressed with the greatn 3 of his discovery that for a moment he 20uid scarcely speak. When he did, it was in terms of wonder and admiration. This town or succession of excavations in the folid rock for thirty miles, is one of the largest, if not the largest, ever discovered. The hours are dug out of the rock side to a depth of from fifteen to twenty feel.
