African Drumbeats Accompany Rotary Visitor

muleshoe

Jim Young, president of the Muleshoe Athletic Booster Club, announces there will be a meeting on Thursday, July 23, at 8 p.m. at the Hungry Mule Restaurant.

Plans will be made for the upcoming football season and "Meet The Mules" night. All persons interested in the Muleshoe High School athletic program are urged to attend.

"The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture has a limited quantity of Map/Posters of Texas and the United States," said CofC manager, Toni Eagle.

"These posters are 30" x 38", very colorful, as well as informative. You and your child could learn important facts about the nation and the Lone Star State, and each poster is only $3.

"To see these posters, come by the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture at 215 South First Street," she concluded.

Airman 1st Class Christy L. Brandstatt, daughter of Marilyn and Glynn Brandstatt of Amherst, has graduated from Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

During the six weeks of training, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs, and received special training in human relations.

ASC Disbursing

Latest Checks

To Farmers

After being out of funds to disburse checks for some time, the Bailey County office of the ASCS received funding again this week.

Clerks are busy mailing out checks for advance deficiency payments; as well as checks for the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) cost share for establishing cover crops on the 100,000 acres in the program in this county.

Checks are being mailed as soon as they can be processed, according to a spokesperson for the local ASCS office.

TOGO, AFRICA VISITS MULESHOE ROTARY CLUB--Lauri Burgess, who recently returned from a two year 'Journeyman' program as a teacher in Togo, Africa, was a special guest at the Muleshoe Rotary Club Tuesday at noon. Wearing a colorful African dress, Lauri had a slide/talk presentation that kept the room full of people very quiet and attentive. She also had on display numerous African handcarved items and artifacts. After attending a seminary, Lauri says she definitely plans to return to Africa.

It was the throbbing beat of African drums, a dry, brisk rattle of gourd rattles, and the soft, sing-song African melodies that accompanied a discussion and slide presentation of Lauri Burgess' two years in West Africa.

Dressed in a bright red African print dress, Lauri, the daughter of Jim and Elaine Burgess, presented slides of life in Africa, at least as she saw it for two years as a teacher in Togo, West Africa.

Introduced by Ed Cox, who was in charge of the program for the day, Lauri was well prepared to speak about her experiences in becoming indoctrinated to African customs and lifestyles.

City Council

Meet Short;

Included Tour

It was a formal meeting that lasted just a few minutes Tuesday morning for the members of the Muleshoe City Council.

Other than reading the minutes and approving minutes of the prior meeting on Tuesday, June 23, the agenda included inspection of city facilities and a For Your Information.

Bypassing the inspection, City Manager Dave Marr reported to council members that the attempt to create the Muleshoe Hospital District was apparently unsuccessful, unless the governor calls another special session of the Legislature. This was on the heels of an announcement out of Austin that the proposed tax bill, to bring more money into the state's coffers, had failed to pass.

Marr said Earl Cook was expected to be in Muleshoe during this week to look at the proposed airport site, and tie down some loose ends.

He also reported that with the change in two 'key' personnel in recent months, both Cleve Bland, director of public works and new city police chief, Wayne Holmes, were doing a very good job.

Following this, city council members were to tour the water treatment plant and other city facilities.

Southern Baptist Churches, Lauri applied for the program while a student at West Texas State University, Canyon. In Africa, she was known as an M.K. teacher (Missionary Kid); and taught three children in a small hut next to the grass covered hut where she resided for two years.

School for Lauri and her students started at 7:30 a.m., and they studied hard and fast to get school over with for the day by 12:30 before the heat got too bad.

She quickly became accustomed to African food, and smilingly told the Rotarians, "It's really a good thing I like Mexican food. The Africans grow small peppers, very hot small peppers, and put a lot in their food."

"They also serve a lot of sauce over the food. The sauce is made of peppers, with a lot of tomatoes. It is served over fu-fu, which is a derivative of the African's staple food, yam-yam, after it has been cooked and pounded in huge wooden pots."

According to Lauri, the African people do not eat much meat, mostly smoked fish, as they keep their animals for sacrifices to their idols, or fetishes. You see a lot of chickens, pigs and cattle, she said, but the people who believe very strongly in their idols or fetishes, use them to sacrifice to appease their idols when they are angry.

Water is critical problem for the African people, said Lauri. The natives have to walk long distances, up to 15 miles, balancing huge pots on their heads that they fill with water from ponds or mudholes.

The Southern Baptists from North Carolina, along with the Togo Baptists, are working to drill wells, and install pumps in the African villages.

Water is also one of the biggest health hazards in Africa, explained Lauri. The mudholes has contaminated water, and although the water is vital, the Africans die often from diseases obtained from the tainted water supplies.

Togo, Africa is said to have one of the highest birth rates in the world, but at the same time, at least 50 percent of the babies born die before the age of five.

Specialty Crop Tours Set For New Mexico; Local Area

As only one-third as many farmers today as there were at the turn of the century, only the most efficient are capable of surviving declining water tables and declining net-farm income. Nowhere is this more evident than on the High Plains of New Mexico and Texas. Many farmers are looking at specialty crop production as an answer to their problems.

On July 28-30, the New Mexico and Texas Cooperation Extension Services will host a High Plains Specialty Crop tour from Clovis, N.M. The three day tour will include stops at farms, packing sheds and other marketing operations involved in specialty crop production in the Clovis, Portales, Melrose, Hereford, Easter and Muleshoe areas of New Mexico and Texas.

"We have oriented our tour around production, marketing and variety," says tour organizer George Dickerson, NMSU Extension horticulturist. "We are trying to expose our clientele to a variety of ideas. Some farmers like the challenge of developing their own markets. Others prefer working with commercial sheds."

Each daily tour will originate from the parking lot of the Clovis Holiday Inn.

Participants will drive their

Twister Menaces City; Takes Tops From Trees

It has been a wild and wooly weather week for the Muleshoe area, with menacing tornadoes both on last Thursday afternoon, and again on Saturday night.

Shortly before 3 p.m. on Thursday, R.L. Clark and Joe Dan Prather, superintendent and assistant superintendent for the Texas Highway Department, spotted a funnel approximately three miles east of Muleshoe.

Clark, who was on highway 70 near the New Covenant Church east of Muleshoe, first spotted the funnel to the south of his location. Then, Prather, who was near the old Protein Processors approximately three miles southeast of Muleshoe on highway 84, spotted the funnel, just to the south of his location.

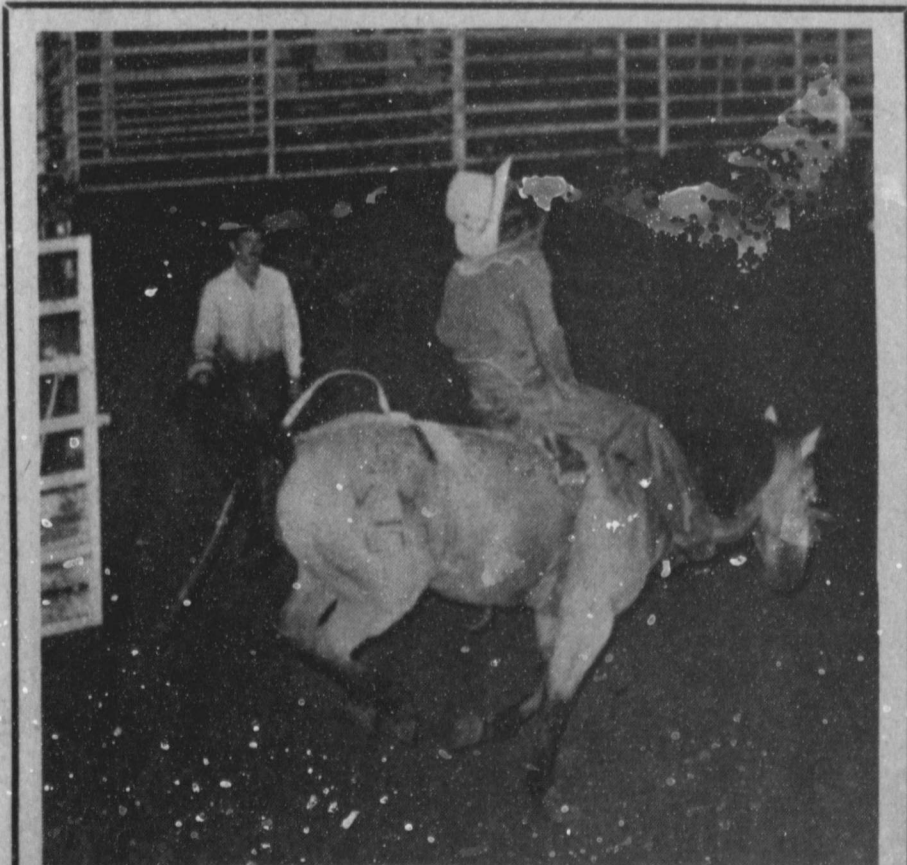

Both the men, communicating by radio, notified the Muleshoe Police Department as the funnel cloud came down once near the ground, then went back into the clouds. Then the funnel dipped down again as the duo watched. It dangled, a thin, rope-type funnel, for a few minutes before beginning to dissipate into wispy clouds.

At the time of the funnel, light rain fell in Muleshoe.

Muleshoe's next 'knock-out' round of severe weather came between eight and nine p.m. on Saturday night, when twisting clouds formed almost directly over Muleshoe, depositing .44 in rain, accompanied by some

FIRST TIME OUT--This young cowboy from Dimmitt, found almost more than he could handle on his first time out on a bareback bronc at the Earls Rodeo last Saturday night. He held on, but unfortunately, rode for naught, as he failed to 'mark' his animal. Applause was all he won for his furious ride.

APPARENT TWISTER TEARS UP TREES--Last Saturday night, between 8:30-9 p.m., an apparent twister settled down briefly among trees lining the highway on either side of Highway 70 approximately two miles east of Muleshoe. This broken, twisted tree is representative of the fierce damage inflicted. The highway was littered almost solidly with large, broken limbs and debris.

WAITING FOR THE ACTION—Last Saturday evening, while waiting for rodeo action to get underway at the Earth Roping Arena, just west of Earth, this group of young girls had donned their make-up, under the watchful eyes of a group of teenage girls perched on a fence, then settled down to wait for the action to start. They provided fun, along with a more serious function, to divert the bulls' attention from a downed rider. They were successful in both ventures.

Springlake-Earth Class Of '47 Holds Memorable 40th Anniversary

By: Aurelia Sanders
The Atrium and Brazos Room of the Lubbock Plaza rang with laughter and greetings as classmates of the Springlake High School Class of '47 gathered on July 11, 1987 to celebrate their 40th reunion. For some graduates this event marked the first reunion with classmates since graduation in May, 1947!
The day began with registration and coffee in the Brazos Room at 10 o'clock. High School candid snaps and photograph albums arranged on the tables encouraged visiting and nostalgia as alumni arrived. Individual pictures of the class members were taken by Tom Alair and Jo Eddy Riley, Springlake, to be used to assemble a "Class of '47 in '87" plaque, and flash bulbs were popping as candid moments were shot to preserve special moments.
Waymon Lewis, Lubbock, welcomed the class members, spouses, and teachers by recalling interesting happenings during their school days at Springlake School. He recognized Bonnie (Cupp) Reid, Mill Valley, California, as the grad who traveled the greatest distance, Carlette (Seymour) Fox, Roswell, New Mexico, for special effort to attend, and Louise (Elsea) Alair, Springlake, Texas, as coordinator of the reunion. Original wood carvings of Ozark mountain people were presented to these class members by La Juana (Kelley) O'Hair, Shell Knob, Missouri. A delicious buffet luncheon was served in the Atrium to 26 class members, their spouses and four very special teachers of the group.

After lunch, class members and guests gathered in the Brazos Room for a program conducted by La Moyne (Bulls) Matlock, Earth, Texas, Mistress of Ceremonies. After opening remarks about our "School Daze", La Moyne introduced Billye Gwynn (Smith) Davis, Dimmitt, Texas, who read "PERSONAL NOTES ABOUT THE SENIOR CLASS" which she had written for THE EARTH ECHO in 1947 as Class Reporter. After she had read her predictions from the newspaper, each class member recounted highlights of their lives during the past forty years. Humorous excerpts from THE TATTLER, a gossip column written especially for the reunion by Louise Alair, revealed additional information about the participants and concluded the sharing session.

A special feature of the afternoon was the memories shared by our teachers who attended the celebration. Mrs. Mabel Newman, Tucumcari, New Mexico had coached both boys and girls basketball, taught History, was acting Principal and Senior Class sponsor. Mrs. Eloise (Clark) McDougal, Hereford, Texas was our fourth grade teacher and recalled many revealing facts about class members, some we had forgotten! Johnnie (Kelley) Nix, Lubbock, taught most of the attending class in first grade, and what a wonderful teacher she was! Edd Haley, Earth, Texas was coach and P.E. teacher, W.G. Sanderson, Earth, Texas taught Agriculture. Many of his "Ag" boys are still farming in the community.

We owe a special "Thank You" to Dale Winders, Dimmitt, Texas, and the FLATLAND BLUE GRASS for presenting musical selections in their usual inimitable style. Dale plays bass with the band. It was a perfect ending for a very enjoyable day.

Class members attending from out of state were: Marie (Alair) Wellmon & Bill, Lawndale, North Carolina; Carlette (Seymour) Fox, Harold & David, Roswell, New Mexico; Eldon Hestand & Jean, Huntsville, Arkansas; La Juana (Kelley) O'Hair & Alvin (Pete) O'Hair, Shell Knob, Missouri; Bonnie (Cupp) Reid, Mill Valley, California, and Jonisue (Hudson) Cearley & Mervyn, Lovington, N.M.

Also attending were Adrew Behrends & Kitten, San Antonio; Eugene Higgins, Austin; Waymon Lewis & Joy, Lubbock; Joyce "Toots" (Wendborn) Morgan & Bill, Lubbock; Bitsy (Sigman) Downing & Scott, Canyon; Mary (O'Hair) Jones, Plainview; T.J. Kittrell & Ysleta, Farwell; Leon "Tuffy" Dent and Neleen, Muleshoe; Dale Winders & Marie, Dimmitt; Billye Gwynn (Smith) Davis, Dimmitt; Thurman Lewis & Pat; Melvin Bock & Fern; Harold Miller & Faye; La Moyne (Bulls) Matlock; Jeanette (Doughty) O'Hair; Cecelia (Wood) Goodwin, Jane (Gooch), Kelley and Guy all of Earth.

K.B. Parish & Dot; Bobie (Padon) Banks; Louise (Elsea) Alair & Tom; Orville Cleavinger & Rowena of Springlake, Texas. Special teachers attending were Mrs. Mabel Newman, Tucumcari, New Mexico; Johnnie (Kelley) Nix, Lubbock; Mrs. Eloise McDougal, Hereford, Texas; Edd Haley & Mildred; and W.G. Sanderson & Connie of Earth, Texas.

Class Members who did not attend: Joyce (Coker) Nix, Sudan; Jerry Kelley, Earth, Texas; Bill Lee, Dimmitt, Texas; Dannie (Nix) Taylor, Bayfield, Colorado; Almeda (Minyard) Varnell, Batesville, Arkansas; Betty Jean (Wages) McAlpine, Brownwood, Texas; and Leroy Packard, deceased.

Continuing the special year for the 1947 graduates will be recognition at HOMECOMING at Springlake-Earth School on October 2, 1987, and a get together in the community on Saturday, Oct. 3, 1987. In addition, plans are being made for a "Picture Party" to be held in early August.

TAMUG offers students personal attention, unlimited computer access

GALVESTON — Like the Marine Corps, marine-oriented Texas A&M University at Galveston (TAMUG) is looking for a few good men — and women.

TAMUG officials note that the school offers small classes, essentially unlimited access to computers and other academic enticements that have the ring of an expensive private school. It is relatively inexpensive (costs are about the same as for other public universities in Texas), and there's no extra charge for the ocean breeze or nearby beach. Also, it guarantees each student a dormitory room.

The average class size at TAMUG is about 20, meaning faculty members there can often provide more personal attention than is possible at large universities, officials there point out. The biggest class that anyone on the Galveston campus can remember totaled about 50 students.

Another area in which TAMUG offers a learning advantage is in the availability of computers — both personal computers and the larger varieties. The PC-to-student ratio is one-to-eight, and student time allocations on the campus mainframe computer are considered exceedingly generous.

TAMUG offers bachelor of science degree programs in marine biology, marine sciences, marine engineering, marine transportation, marine fisheries, marine systems engineering and maritime administration. In conjunction with their studies, students enrolled in any of the first four fields have the option of participating in the U.S. Maritime Service Program that includes membership in the TAMUG Corps of Cadets and the opportunity to earn a license as a merchant marine officer. Participation in the Corps of Cadets is open on a voluntary basis to both men and women.

Conservation Tillage Grains Accepted By Most Texans

Conservation tillage is gaining gradual acceptance by Texas farmers, with about 14 percent of the state's cultivated land now under this practice, according to Dr. Billy Harris.

Harris, a soils specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said that the trend toward conservation tillage in Texas "is up."

He addressed about 165 producers, researchers, Extension specialists and soil conservationists attending the 10th annual Southern Regional No-till Conference here July 1-2. Participants registered from 11 states.

There are approximately 30 million acres under cultivation in Texas this year and about 86 percent of that is under conventional tillage methods, he noted.

In 1974, only a little over a million acres were farmed with conservation tillage, but that amount has risen to four million acres, Harris said.

Conservation tillage has great potential for areas in Texas with wind and water erosion problems, he pointed out.

Researchers and farmers have been experimenting with the practice and found that it does work well in grain sorghum, corn, cotton, soybeans and even peanuts. Some vegetable production in the state's Rio Grande Valley region is under conservation tillage, Harris said.

There are, however, some drawbacks to the practice, he said. Specialized planting equipment is required and some crops don't grow well under this practice, since timing is important.

Weed control is another problem that researchers are having to tackle, Harris said. Weeds can multiply easily in some fields under conservation tillage and herbicide effectiveness varies with the region of the state and weather conditions, he said.

Attitudes toward this fairly new practice also will have to change before it finds acceptance, Harris added. Landowners may not want to see their leased land under conservation tillage and bankers are cautious about a practice they feel is not "proven."

Additionally, it is "almost a religion" with farmers to have rows clean and free of stubble in fields, he noted.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station along with the Extension Service and various soil and water conservation agencies and organizations cooperated in hosting the conference.

ABOUT YOUR HOME

Grocery bags make good containers for storing various vegetables in your chest freezer. Bags can be labeled and dated. No more searching for beans, corn, etc.

You can paint and use your stairway by painting every other step. Let these dry before painting the other steps.

In order to get the most from your vacation—whether it be a month long stay at a luxurious hotel or a weekend at a friend's fishing camp—it is a good idea to go about the first fundamental step of getting ready in an efficient manner.

Know Your Chamber Of Commerce
Toni Eagle, Mgr.

By: Toni Eagle
Chamber Manager

Some of the most common phrases that I hear are: "There isn't anything to do in Muleshoe." "We have to drive so far to have something to do." "There isn't anything for young people in Muleshoe."

There isn't a week that goes by that I don't hear this in one form or another. I periodically receive calls from individuals and groups asking the Chamber, or someone, to schedule events for the public's entertainment.

Well, I would like to know

W.H. Jones Funeral Services Held Sunday

Funeral services for W.H. "Bud" Jones, 75, of Earth were held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, July 19 in the Earth First Baptist Church with the Rev. David Hartman, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church of Lubbock, officiating.

Burial was in Earth Memorial Cemetery under the direction of Parsons-Ellis Funeral Home of Earth. Jones died at 6:20 a.m. Saturday in South Plains Hospital at Amherst.

Born April 7, 1912, in Vinson, Okla., he moved to Earth in 1930, from Vinson, Okla. He married Jo Kellar on July 12, 1934, in Clovis, N.M. He was a farmer and a member of the Earth First Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Jo; three daughters, Janis Phillips of Brownfield, Kay Kelley of Earth and Julia Latham of Roff, Okla.; four sisters, Mrs. Naomi Burgess and Mrs. Ruby Jones, both of Earth, Mrs. Lessie Messamore and Mrs. Alma Moore, both of Amherst; two brothers, Joel Jones and W.O. Jones, both of Earth; nine grandchildren; and five great grandchildren.

Mrs. Steinbock Services Held At Lazbuddie

Services for Myrtle Marie Steinbock, 81, of Lazbuddie were held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday, July 21 in the Lazbuddie Church of Christ with Andy Rogers, Church of Christ minister of Antlers, Okla. officiating.

Interment was in Lazbuddie Cemetery under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home of Muleshoe. Mrs. Steinbock died at 9:25 p.m. Sunday in the Muleshoe Nursing Home.

A native of Red Bird, Missouri, she was born on Dec. 1, 1905, and moved to the Lazbuddie community in 1925, from Frederick, Okla. She was a homemaker and a member of the Lazbuddie Church of Christ. She married William F. Steinbock on Dec. 24, 1923, in Frederick, Okla. He died July 27, 1982.

Survivors include two sons, Max Steinbock and Rex Steinbock, both of Lazbuddie; three sisters, Mrs. Eunice Shuping of Kress, Mrs. Nola Treider of Lazbuddie, and Mrs. Tomalene Hutchinson of Visi, Okla.; three brothers, Walter Vaughn and Edgar Vaughn, both of Frederick, Okla. and T.O. Vaughn of Lazbuddie; five grandchildren; and six great grandchildren.

just what is it that the town wants! Several things have been tried and the turn out from the public has been disappointing. It stands to reason that Muleshoe is not going to be the site of a pro football game, or a Bon Jovi concert, or the RCA Rodeo Finals, or the Texas State Fair, or even an Opera. We are limited as to the events that we can handle.

Muleshoe CAN handle a free concert in the park with the Country Caravan from South Plains College, or arrange a Community trip to see the Dallas Cowboys play, or a Family entertainment night with dance lessons, or set up miniature golf tournaments.

Yet these things have been tried without too much success. Time and time again the clubs and organizations plan activities and are disappointed with the attendance of the Muleshoe people. There are different events to appeal to everyone, but people stay away in droves. It can't be the price either because all of the activities named have been planned with low or no cost in mind.

Next I hear: "I didn't know anything about it!" "I never listen to the radio or read the newspapers." Where are these people? How do they find out what is going on in other towns? If you are willing to invest a little time and effort you can find all kinds of things to do right here in Muleshoe.

Yes, there is something to be said for gathering the family around and spending a night at home. The entire family could benefit from more of this type activities. But so many times the television is the center of attention and there isn't any real exchange between family members.

The next time you begin to say "There isn't anything to do in Muleshoe!" PLEASE THINK AGAIN.

Have you made use of the facilities that Muleshoe offers? Have you checked the local media to see what is going on? Are you in clubs or organizations that plan activities?

Muleshoe will never be able to handle big events without the support of the entire town. When small activities or events fail, larger ones are never planned. If you are having to sit at home bored or go out of town to enjoy yourself, maybe your expectations are too high. You can have fun and enjoy yourself visiting with neighbors at a local drive in, or playing a round of golf, or teaching your children dance steps or learning new ones yourself, or spending time in the city park listening to music and visiting with friends.

I am willing to bet you can have more to do than you really wish if you will just look around and enjoy the small pleasures in life.

Dear Editor:
The attached NEWS RELEASE announces the FCC's consideration of a Petition for Rulemaking. This petition could result in Morton, TX being assigned a new FM Frequency. What is needed is for someone to file what are known as "Comments" indicating their interest in having this new FM Frequency in Morton, TX.

If you have a reader in your area interested in this broadcasting opportunity, it is almost certain that there is no one locally who can assist them in filing these "Comments" before the FCC. You are the ONLY local source available to tell them where to go for assistance.

Regarding where to turn for assistance, your reader has few options. They can contact the FCC direct, or a Washington, DC law firm, both of which will suggest they contact a professional Communications Consultant. We know of less than fifty consultants nationwide.

We are one of those consulting firms and probably the only one to take the time to inform you of the new broadcasting station for Morton, TX.

Our commitment is "to put local people" into this broadcasting opportunity. If you will share our name with your readers in this NEWS RELEASE so that they can receive more information and become involved.

Thank you for your consideration.
Sincerely yours,

Harper Family Reunion Held at Sudan

The annual reunion of the Jeff and Nancy Harper family was held recently in the REA Ready Room in Littlefield.

It was reported that basket lunches were enjoyed by everyone.

Anita Chambers Martin of Slaton presented a hand stitched poster of the Harper family three which bore 12 main branches.

"An auction of elaborate hand crafts was the fun for the crowd which brought in a substantial fund for next year's gathering," said Edith Williams.

New officers were appointed to serve for the upcoming year. Edwin Harper was appointed president and Laquita Weaver of Amherst was appointed secretary with Billie Duncan of Quanah as her assistant.

Della Harper of Sudan received the honor of being the oldest member present. The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Harper of Albuquerque, N.M. was the youngest.

Beth Harper and family of Illinois was the members who traveled the most miles to attend, 865 miles.

Mr. and Mrs. Cody Crittenden of Moody are the proud parents of a son born July 8. The young man weighed seven pounds and 2 ounces and has been named Jacob Matt.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Raegan Cox and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Crittenden of Muleshoe.

Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Cox of Amherst and Mr. and Mrs. Matt Nix of Sudan, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Crittenden and Hazel Ward of Muleshoe.

Creative Living

By Sheryl Borden

Three interesting topics will be presented on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, July 28 at 12 noon and repeated on Saturday, August 1 at 2:00 pm on KENW-TV. (All times are Mountain).

If you haven't tried using oven cooking bags yet, you're missing an opportunity for convenience, easy preparation, delicious meals and no-scrub clean-up. Cathy Voit, Home Economist with the Reynolds Metals Co. from Dallas, TX will demonstrate how complete meals cook and baste themselves without constant checking.

Have you ever thought about the role an interior designer plays in ensuring the public's health, safety and welfare? Janet Schirn, president of the American Society of Interior Designers, New York, will discuss this and other important topics that relate to interior design.

The show will begin with a demonstration by Abby Mandel on a fast method for preparing ingredients for a stir-fry recipe. She uses a food processor and then cooks the recipe in a conventional skillet -- not a wok.

On Tuesday, July 28 at 9:30 pm Carol Koenig, owner of a business called "Celebrations" in Mesilla Park, NM will go over the step-by-step process of creating your own batik garment or home decor item. The word "batik" is Indonesia and means wax writing.

B.J. Doerfling, consumer spokesperson for Sunkist Growers, Inc. in Van Nuys, CA will share some orange ideas -- using fresh oranges, of course. She'll explain the differences between Navel and Valencia oranges, and talk about the nutritional value of citrus fruits.

Interesting information on garments available for rental and successful weight control tips will be presented on "Creative Living" on Thursday, July 30 at 12:00 noon.

Gloria Bailey is a fashion designer who only rents her garments--they're not for sale. She designs pageant gowns for contestants in such pageants as Miss America, Miss Universe and even children's pageants, like the Cinderella pageant.

Emily Franklin, Miss New Mexico 1986 will model some of Gloria's pageant gowns. Ms. Bailey's business is called Gloria's Fashions, and she's from Baton Rouge, LA.

Another guest will be Betty Wedman, spokesperson for Uncle Ben's rice. She will discuss some keys to successful weight control and has some very effective visuals to illustrate her points. Ms. Wedman is from Columbia, MO.

"Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show airs on more than 95 PBS stations in the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico and is distributed by Pacific Mountain Network, Denver, CO. Viewers can request copies of printed materials offered on the show by calling on KENW-TV's toll-free telephone lines between 8 am and 5 pm, Monday through Friday. In New Mexico, the number is 1-800-432-2361, out-of-state: 1-800-545-2359 and Portales and Roosevelt County: 562-2112.

PICK O' THE CROP-- ORANGE RECIPES

FRESH ORANGE AND BANANA AMBROSIA

4 navel oranges, 2 large bananas, sliced, 1 container (4 oz.) frozen whipped topping, thawed, 1 Tbsp. honey, Grated peel of 1/2 orange, 1/4 cup shredded coconut, toasted

With knife, peel oranges over bowl to reserve juice. Cut oranges in half-cartwheel slices. To reserved juice, add banana and orange slices; stir gently. Combine whipped topping, honey and orange peel. Serve over fruit; sprinkle with coconut. Makes 6 servings (about 4 cups).

MAKING ANNUAL DONATION--Max Crittenden, vice president of the Muleshoe Kiwanis Club, presented Kandy McWorther, Bailey County Home Extension Agent, with a $150 check, for the Bailey County 4-H Club. Each year the Kiwanis Club makes a donation to the Bailey County 4-H.

Sudan NEWS

by Evelyn Ritchie

The Sudan Little League All-Stars defeated Earth 6-4 Friday night when Tim Williams was on the mound for Sudan. He also hit a double for the local team as did Andy Roberts while Gabe Narramore hit a triple.

Scoring for Sudan were Everst Williams, Rudy Valenzuela, Tim Williams, Gabe Narramore, Grant Gatewood, and Andy Roberts all one each. Other team members are Jason Bellar, Josh Keeney, Joe Smith, Jerald Weaver, Britton Roberts and Chad King.

Our apologies to the players in last week's edition--It was stated Ken Williams was pitcher and it should have been Tim Williams. Also it should have read Jerald Weaver instead of

Caprock Girl Scout Council Names Executive Director

The Board of Directors of Caprock Girl Scout Council has announced that Myra G. Burris has assumed the position of Executive Director of the Council.

"Ms. Burris was formerly Program Director of Hornets' Nest Girl Scout Council, Charlotte, North Carolina, and has fourteen years experience as a professional staff person with Girl Scouting. She has established her residence in Lubbock and has already begun to play many exciting programs and activities for Caprock Council" said Sheila Butterfield, Director of Public Relations.

"As a girl in the program for ten years she earned the coveted Curved Bar, the highest girl-award available before the introduction of the present Gold Award. In 1959, she was selected to attend Girl Scout Senior Roundup in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

"Promoting application to National and International Wider Opportunities is one of Ms. Burris' major interests for junior and senior high girls in Caprock Council."

"Girl Scouting taught me courage," said Ms. Burris. "The exposure to new places and new faces through Wider Opportunities like Senior Roundup proved to me that I had the courage to try and that it's OK to have different ideas and feelings."

When she is asked about why Girl Scouting serves the five year old girl, she is quick to note that even these very young children must learn to live in the real world where everyone is in a hurry. Children must be able to care for themselves and for others; Girl Scouting helps them develop good, strong values in the midst of it all, according to Ms. Burris.

Young people today from kindergarten age through high school have support from their families, schools and religious community but Ms. Burris believes Girl Scouting provides an additional role model that is so important to their development. "The Girl Scout leader shows a girl that it is OK not to have all of the answers, that what is important is that you are willing to give of yourself and your time as a caring volunteer" she said.

Ms. Burris says she's enjoyed getting to know the people and the stark beauty of the Caprock Council area. She emphasized, "The quality of volunteers here is wonderful and they can call us anytime. I really want to reach out to all 19 counties."

Caprock Girl Scout Council encompasses the counties of Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Hockley, Crosby, Dickens, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza and Lubbock.

Cowboy Camp Meeting Set In New Mexico

The Tenth Annual Mesa Redondo Cowboy Camp Meeting is scheduled for Thursday, July 23 through Sunday noon, July 26, 1987. Final plans are being made by the various committees under the leadership of Darrell Farmer, President of Tucumcari.

The campsite is located on the Bove-Farmer Ranch near Tucumcari, New Mexico. From Tucumcari, go eleven miles south on Highway 18, or from Ragland, go fourteen miles north on Highway 18. Turn east at the big sign and travel 2 1/2 miles southeast to the camp. It sets at the foot of the historic and majestic Mesa Redondo in a secluded canyon.

Camp Pastors for this year are Bill Sessom and Wayne Stockstill. Music Minister is Paul Biggs and Youth Minister will be Jonathan Stockstill. Bible studies are taught twice daily, and there are worship services both morning and night.

Bill Sessom will preach at Mesa Redondo for the first time this year, although he has attended regularly in past years. Bill was born in Little River, Texas, received his B.A. in religion at Wayland Baptist University and is currently working on his Master of Ministry Degree...he served as pastor in Aiken, TX for nine years before accepting the call to serve at First Baptist Church in Fort Sumner in 1979. Bill served in the U.S. Army, he and wife, Sandra are parents of a son and daughter. Sessom is a certified leader in Masterlife as well as in Prayer for Spiritual Awakening. His revival and crusade experience include those held in Oregon, West Texas & New Mexico, Plymouth, England and Lomas de Arena in Old Mexico.

Wayne Stockstill will be returning to Mesa Redondo for the fourth time over the previous nine years. Wayne is president of the Wayne Stockstill Evangelistic Association and has led an extensive crusade ministry for over twenty years. These crusades have been held in many areas of the United States and in several foreign countries, including Korea. Wayne and wife, Gloria are the parents of a son and a daughter. Their son, Jonathan, is associated with the Stockstill ministry and will be serving as camp youth minister this year. Johathan will be preaching at a special youth service on Saturday night during the Sixth Annual Youth Roundup.

Paul Biggs of Bartlesville, Oklahoma, will return for his ninth consecutive year to lead the music. "Brother Paul" as he is affectionately known, holds the distinction of directing music in the camp meetings for 35 years. This dates back to legendary "Cowboy Joe" Evans, who started Brother Paul on the Camp-Meeting 'trail'. Biggs and wife, Maxine, are active in the field of music evangelism in many areas. In addition to this, through his vocation as former Corporate Coordinator of Phillips Petroleum Company's Employee Rehabilitation Program, he has and still works with youth and adults whose lives are adversely affected through alcohol and other drugs and related problems. Regardless of where he is (including Campmeetings), he is on call 24 hours per day to help others when possible.

All Camp Ministers are on the camp grounds and will be available for ministering in counseling, as well as preaching and teaching.

Bible classes are taught and activities planned for the various age groups. Mary Ann Cortese of Fort Sumner is Youth Coordinator. In addition to the Youth Roundup on Saturday, activities are planned during the entire camp. Field and Sharon Irwin of Fort Sumner will lead the 6th through 8th grades; Linda Teakell of Clovis, and Harold and Blanche Hill of Fort Sumner, will lead the 1st through 5th grades; Mitzi Brace of Conchas Dam will lead the 3 and 4 year olds. A nursery will be available during the worship services.

The first activities of the camp will begin at 5:00 PM on Thursday, July 23 with prayer meeting. Men and boys meet under the prayer tree, women and girls met in the 'story-telling' corral. Supper will be served at 6:30 and the evening worship service will begin at 8:00 PM. A campfire fellowship under the leadership of Allen Edwards of Clovis, will follow the evening services each night. Three meals a day are served 'chuckwagon style' on Friday and Saturday, and breakfast and dinner on Sunday.

Mesa Redondo is a member of the Ranchmen's Camp Meeting Association in the Southwest. The association now has nine camps in five states during the summer circuit. It is an interdenominational outreach and provides "A Christian Camping Experience For All Ages".

Some fifty families from the committee of Tucumcari, San Jon, Quay, Melrose, Grady, Fort Sumner, and Clovis, serve on committees. They are involved in planning and working each year for the annual camp. In 1986, some 786 persons from the surrounding area attended the four-day camp. Camp Manager is Rick Steele of Aledo, Illinois. Rick annually takes leave from his pastorate to return to the southwest and provide leadership for the camp circuit.

Everyone is welcome to attend the camp activities. For those who camp, there is ample space. For those who drive out for any of the services and meals, they will find this a unique experience and well worth the drive.

For further information, you may contact any of the following: Darrell Farmer, President of Tucumcari, ph. 505-458-6205; Wesley Grau, Vice-President, of Grady, ph. 505-35-8265; Lou Ann Cortese of Fort Sumner, ph. 505-355-2254; and Wilma Fulgham, Secretary, of Clovis, ph. 505-763-6262.

Aeration Critical For Stored Grain

Aeration is a key practice for maintaining the quality of clean, dry stored grain and must be properly understood, says an agricultural engineer.

Aeration is the practice of forcing small amounts of atmospheric air with desirable temperature and moisture conditions through stored grain to cool and equalize temperatures, explains Richard Withers with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

The air delivery system to handle this task should be well-engineered and properly installed and managed, Withers emphasizes. This requires an understanding of the aeration process.

When atmospheric air moves through stored grain, both heat and moisture are exchanged until air and grain have comparable temperatures and moisture contents, explains the engineer. Once this equilibrium condition exists, the moisture content of stored grain is known as the equilibrium moisture content (EMC). The relative humidity of the atmospheric air in equilibrium with the grain is called the equilibrium relative humidity (ERH).

For any given set of temperature and relative humidity conditions of the atmospheric air, there is a corresponding EMC for stored grain. Withers points out. From a practical standpoint, this known relationship can be used to determine if stored grain will gain or lose moisture when it contacts atmospheric air.

When the air's relative humidity is below that of the ERH, moisture will be evaporated from the grain during the aeration process, and the grain temperature will decrease due to the evaporative cooling effect, say Withers. The amount of cooling resulting from evaporation may be as much as 50 percent or more of the total heat removed.

In some cases the air's relative humidity is higher than the ERH but decreased as heat is transferred from hotter, stored grain to cooler, aeration air. Where initial grain temperatures approach 100 degrees F., evaporative cooling can reduce the temperature 10-15 degrees in about half the time required for the same reduction in grain with a temperature of 50 degrees F.

Tech Releases Survey Results On State Budget

As legislators battle the budget in special session starting Monday, they may want to consider that a majority of Texans think that balancing the state budget is important, but not by cutting higher education funds or by taking money directly from taxpayers' own pockets.

Nearly 94 percent of the 400 Texans polled by the Institute for Communications Research at Texas Tech University said that balancing the budget is important, very important or extremely important.

Although about 69 percent of the sample said the state should cut overall spending to balance the budget, respondents do not want the cuts to come from the state's colleges and universities.

Grain placed in storage during warm months loses heat slowly as the weather gets cooler. Under these conditions, air in the grain near the surface and next to the bin walls cools first, while that in the center of the bin remains warm, explains the engineer. This temperature differential creates slowly moving air currents, with the cool, dense air near the walls moving downward and forcing upward the warm, lighter air in the center.

When warm air reaches cold grain near the surface, condensation may occur. If this continues, accumulated moisture may promote insect activity, mold growth and spoilage in upper layers of the stored grain, Withers points out. This problem can be controlled by using aeration to equalize temperature throughout the grain mass.
