TEXAS CO. OFFICIALS HERE IN AN AIRPLANE

F. W. Freeman, vice president, Fred Manley, A. B. Patterson, B. E. Hull, all of Denver, Colorado, and D. J. Moran, of New York City, all officials of the Texas Oil company, are here this week looking over the properties of that company. Messrs. Moran, Manley and Patterson coming in an airplane. The party have been making an inspection tour of the company's oil holding in the southwest, arriving in Artesia Wednesday, coming here from Carlsbad, where the party went through the caverns the day before. They left today for Odessa, Texas, where they will look over Texas Co. properties at that place.

We were unable to see either Mr. Fancher or Mr. York, local Texas company officials, so are unable to give a more detailed report.

EDITOR ON VACATION MORE NEWS NEXT WEEK

The Advocate editor, W. C. Martin, his wife and small daughter left last Thursday morning for points of interest in Colorado, on a ten-day trip. During the editor's absence his desk is being looked after by an understudy, who hasn't had much time to study lately, due to the fact he is kept somewhat busy setting ads, running presses, sweeping out, etc., and trying to figure how the Advocate can do a twenty-six dollar job of printing for some customer at $4.75. Anyway the editor will be back on the job next week and we ask the subscriber's indulgence in any shortcoming of The Advocate this week. Next week with our editor in charge and assistance of the "devil," who lately returned from the Boy Scout camp in the Sacramentos, we promise to come up to the standard again. Thank you.

This Week's News Told in Brief From Press Reports

Sacco and Vanzetti To Die In Chair; Protests Come From All Over World—Hannett-Holloman Case On Final Lap.

Boston, Aug. 9.—Finis will be written to the famous Sacco-Vanzetti case shortly after midnight tomorrow night.

The warden of the Charlestown state prison announced today that the condemned men would go to their death sometime between midnight and 12:30 Thursday morning.

And they will pass through the little door into the death room in this order:

First: Celestino Madeiros (another figure in the South Braintree slayings for which Sacco and Vanzetti were convicted.)

Second: Nicola Sacco.

Third: Bartolomeo Vanzetti.

If any of them show weakness, however, the warden declared, the weakest will go to the chair first.

Only one newspaper man will be permitted to witness the executions. Other correspondents will be located in the prison press room about 50 yards from the death house. The lone press representative who will be allowed in the death house will be connected with the press room by telephone.

The official observers of the executions will include Dr. George Burgess Magrath, medical examiner of Suffolk county; Surgeon General Frank Williams, of the national guard, and Sheriff Charles Capen, of Norfolk county, where the crimes were committed.

Chicago, Aug 10.—Led by a 16 year old girl, a mob numbering 4,000 men and women, alternately roaring the "Third Internationale," battle song of the world radicals, and shouting "Mob the Police," marched toward the Loop District early today. It was dispersed only after a clash with police reserves who resorted to tear bombs and revolver shots.

Sixty seven men and four women including the girl leader—Aurora D'Angela, pretty bobbed haired high school girl—were arrested. Several persons were reported injured as the mob broke and fled before the stubborn police resistance.

The meeting at the Auditorium had passed quietly enough, the 3,000 who attended passing resolutions of protest against the Sacco-Vanzetti executions and then moving out in orderly fashion to the street there they congregated being joined by others, with a few leaders calling for a protest parade into the Loop.

The girl was among them and at once took command.

"I'm an anarchist," she cried, "and my father was an anarchist. Follow me!"

The street was soon filled for three blocks with men and women, massed from curb to curb and moving toward the Loop.

Protests came from nearly all over the civilized world to save Sacco and Vanzetti on this last scheduled day of their lives. The protests were mostly peaceful.

In Buenos Aires a bomb damaged the Palace of Justice slightly, and in Montevideo an unexploded bomb was found.

France, Ireland and Canada reported meetings marked by good order.

In Havana and Santo Domingo the American legations were guarded.

A bomb exploding in the mining town of Pitcher, Oklahoma, was regarded with suspicion as possibly protest inspired.

The industrial eastern section of the United States was tranquil in the forenoon.

Sacco and Vanzetti began their last day refusing breakfast, apparently apathetic.

Governor Fuller's reply to their request for delay of execution was not expected until late in the day.

Their counsel was promoter consideration at midday by the state supreme court of consideration of a plea of error.

Boston, Aug. 10.—Nicola Sacco today refused to sign a petition for a writ of habeas corpus which Alfonso Gagliolo, an attorney associated with the Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee, submitted to him at the state (Continued on last page, column 2)

MAJ. GEN. WOOD DIED SUDDENLY SUNDAY A M AFTER AN OPERATION

Wife Was At Bedside—Burial Was Made In Rough Riders Plot At Arlington Cemetery Tuesday With Military Honors.

Boston, Aug. 7.—Major General Leonard Wood, governor-general of the Philippines, died at the Peter Bent Brigham hospital here at 1:20 a. m. today following an operation.

General Wood was admitted to the hospital two days ago for observation and yesterday underwent a "serious operation," according to a bulletin issued late last night by Doctor Alexander Lambert of New York.

Dr. Lambert's bulletin, although failing to state the exact nature of the operation, indicated it was for a recurrence of a tumor which was revealed by Dr. Harvey Cushing, 17 years ago. The growth at the time of the first operation was found to have involved the bone of the skull the statement said, and "recurrence of the trouble was anticipated."

General Wood was operated on for a hernia in Manila last January and came east for treatment as soon as he felt conditions in the islands justified his absence, Dr. Lambert added.

Mrs. Wood accompanied her husband to the city, but went into seclusion as soon as General Wood went to the hospital.

Beyond the bare announcement of the general's death and the time, hospital authorities declined further announcements.

Mrs. Wood was with her husband when he died.

The spectacular rise of Major General Leonard Wood from an obscure post in the medicinal corps to a commanding rank in the combatant branch of the United States army was one of the outstanding features of American military annals. Appointed an assistant surgeon several years prior to the Spanish-American war, Wood rose to the foremost rank of American generals, his active duty culminating in the governor generalship of the Philippine islands after he had served four years as chief of the general staff of the army, the topmost military command.

Washington, Aug. 9.—(AP)—Major General Leonard Wood today joined the long list of the nation's notable figures who have made the journey down the Pennsylvania Avenue, over the Potomac to Arlington National Cemetery, and a final resting place.

Full military honors and participation of high government officials in the funeral procession bespoke the country's tribute to the famous old soldier who died Sunday in Boston.

Arriving in the early morning, the general's body was moved from the train to the President's room at Union station for a time before being entrusted to a regiment of troops waiting to escort it to a grave in the Rough Riders' section of the hero's burial ground at Arlington.

THE ARTESIA SCOUTS RETURN FROM CAMP IN THE SACRAMENTO MTS.

The Artesia contingent of the Boy Scouts returned last Thursday from their ten days outing at the Scout Camp in the Sacramentos, west of Weed. They had a wonderful time and freely took advantage of all the activities provided there including the swimming pool, which they dubbed, "The Plunge," because they plunged in and plunged right out, the water was so cold. Next year it is planned to have provision for warming the water, which in that high altitude, above 8500 feet, is usually a little cool for swimming.

$5000 has been expended to date in constructing the splendid equipment for the camp. After ten days in the cool invigorating atmosphere of the camp the boys return physically fit for anything. Mr. E. B. Bullock, Chairman Local Scout Council and Tom Edward Bullock, scout master of Troop 8, were with the Artesia boys. Prof Moorhead, Scout master of Troop 29, has been assisting in managing the camp all through the season. The scouts who took advantage of the Camp were: Troop 8, Dorris Ransbarger, Jack Cunningham, Mark Hardin, Charley Bullock, Bill Bullock, Jas. Welsh, Arthur Paton, and Orland Syferd, Russel Spivey and Herman Jones.

Troop 29: Gordon Kishbaugh, Robert Bandy, Noble Littlejohn, Russel Simmons, Cecil Blair, Delbert Jones, and Johnnie Bill Collins.

STANDARD TRAINING SCHOOL TO BE HELD AT LOCAL M. E. CHURCH

Begins August 21; Faculty From El Paso and Las Cruces; For Benefit of Sunday School Workers Primarily.

A session of what is known as a "Standard Training School" will be held at the Artesia Methodist Church from the twenty-first to twenty-sixth of this month. While this course is intended primarily for Sunday School workers, it is intensely helpful for all who have to do with children.

The faculty consists of Prof. M. C. Davis, Mesdames J. C. Ballard and Tom Watson, of El Paso, Texas; and Mrs. H. M. Barton, of Las Cruces, N. Mex. These people are specialists in their line and have been obliged to meet high requirements as to scholastic preparation and actual experience.

The courses offered are: "Methods for Primary Teachers" pedagogy for children from six to eight; "Training Juniors in Worship"—psychology for boys and girls nine to twelve; "A study of Adult Life"—psychology for men and women twenty-five and up; "The Worker and his Bible"—New Testament division.

While this school is sponsored by the Artesia Methodist Church and the Sunday School Board of the New Mexico Conference, it is purely educational and Biblical in nature and a cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to equip themselves to do better work among children to improve by this opportunity.

The "Set-up" or "get-ready" meeting will be Sunday evening, the 21st. Recitations will be held from 7:00 to 9:00 each evening of Monday to and including Friday, Aug. 22-26th. There will be no expense to the student-body except the cost of textbook, which runs from sixty cents to one dollar.

This is the first school of this type to come to Artesia and it is hoped that people of the community will take advantage of the training offered. A minimum of fifty pupils is required to meet the requirements of a Standard School and it will be a kindness to the promoters to enroll you in a class.

FROM LAS VEGAS

Albert Richards, Frank Widney, H. C. McDade Painter returned home from the Legion Auxiliary in Las Vegas. They will entertain the convention of its members chosen last positions. Mrs. E. B. Fancher, president of the local auxiliary, and Mrs. Richards, of the delegates, to the Department of New Mexico convention to be held in September.

Call and see samples by—Advocate.

SMALLPOX

It is only three or four weeks until the schools open. Parents are advised to have their children vaccinated against smallpox now, so that their arms will not be sore and so liable to get hurt in playing with other children.

As we had two cases of smallpox in the County last year, we are anxious that all children be vaccinated early this year.

ARM DISLOCATED

Jesse Carol Paris fell from a burro, which he was riding last Friday and suffered a dislocation of the right arm at the elbow. The accident occurred at the Merchant ranch in the Capitan mountains, where the family had accompanied Mr. Paris on a business trip. After a delay of some hours the services of the army doctor at Ft. Stanton, were finally secured. He set the bones and the family returned home late that night. The injured arm is progressing as nicely as could be expected.

HOPE RODEO DATES BEGIN AUGUST 31

Announcement has been made by W. M. Coates, manager of the Hope Rodeo that the date this year will be August 31, September 1 and 2. The Hope event this year is to be on a much larger scale than ever before, with purses that should attract some excellent riders and ropers.

Bucking horses, bulldogging, steer riding, wild mare race, auto racing, horse racing, relay races are all on the schedule, as well as a free barbecue, on September 1st, dancing at Walnut grove and ten rounds of boxing each day. Generous purses are topped by the calf roping contests, which carry $250 money.

SENATOR REED UNABLE TO ATTEND BAR MEET

Senator James A. Reed of Missouri not being able to speak before the New Mexico Bar association as arranged. Last-minute knowledge that Sen. Reed was not to be present caused a change in program, his place being ably filled by Stephen B. Davis, Jr., formerly a member of the state supreme court and recently connected with the department of commerce.

CARLSBAD CHURCH OPENING

On Sunday, August 14th the new M. E. Church will have its formal opening. Services will be held in this structure for the first time. This church was erected at a great cost of money and labor by the pastor and congregation. It now stands a monument to the faith and works of this band of faithful workers.

The services next Sunday will be a union service. All of the churches of the city will attend and participate in the services. Many will be present from other valley towns. The Methodists are justly proud of their new temple. Carlsbad and the whole valley are proud of the achievements of this congregation.

BACK FROM MARKET

J. W. Nicholson manager of Our Store returned from the St. Louis wholesale markets Monday morning. While in St. Louis Mr. Nicholson visited the wholesale houses making his selections for ready-to-wear, shoes, dry goods, etc., for his store here and says that the goods are beginning to arrive for the fall trade.

INSTALLS FRIGIDAIRE AND SHOW CASE

Geo. Welton is this week installing a Hussman show case with a frigidaire cooling unit. George says that he is going to sell fresh vegetables while they are fresh and by the installation of this new equipment will be able to keep all perishables in first class condition.

A THOUGHT

Build for yourself a strong-box,
Fashion each part with care,
Fit it with hinge and padlock
Put all your trouble there.
Hide there-in all your failures
As each bitter cup you quaff
Lock all your heartaches within it
Then sit on the old lid and laugh.

"Advertising is the education of the public as to who you are, where you are, and what you have to offer
in the way of skill, talent, or commodity. The only man who should not advertise is the one who has nothing
to offer the world in the way of commodity or service."—Elbert Hubbard.

When the times are hard and
people are not buying, is the very time that advertising should be the heaviest. You want to get the people in to see what you have to sell, and you must advertise to do that. When the times are good they will come of their own accord. But I believe in advertising all the time.
I never stop advertising.—John Wanamaker.

In glancing through the list of warrants issued and allowed by the board of county commissioners August first, we notice among others
one of the Carlsbad Women's Club Welfare Dept. for March and April charity. It seems to us that the Artesia Club would get in on this charity fund from the county. We believe, should the matter be taken up, Mr. Brainard the commissioner from this district, would do all in his power to get the money for the Artesia club and do not think that the club would have to work overtime to find a place where the money
is needed, as the Artesia business men are called upon for donations
for charity a good many times in the course of a year. Six hundred dollars a year would certainly help out and especially when we have to pay our part of it in taxes any way.
How about it ladies?

IT DON'T PAY—HE TRIED IT

A week ago a local merchant told Free Press editor, that "advertising does not pay." He said in part, "I have watched it when I was clerk
at a grocery store in town and the money spent for advertising was just thrown away," or words to that effect.

To which the editor replies, yes
that grocery store he referred to
may not have found its advertising profitable. That grocer buys not more than one small ad in three months—one add in twelve weeks—
and the balance of the eleven weeks
people are supposed to REMEMBER that he's in business without being reminded, are supposed to know that he carries "staple and fancy groceries, produce, etc." Yes, people are supposed to remember what his telephone number is. And any fool ought to know that he wants their patronage. What's the use of keeping on, and keeping on, inviting
people to trade with you anyway?
What's the use of saying "thank you for your patronage?" Folks know I'm grateful and of an appreciative nature, without my telling them.

Little stores can continue business without advertising—absolutely
they can. But no "little store"
ever became a big store that had for its motto: "Advertising does not pay."—DeLeon Free Press.

MAKING AIMEE

Aimee Semple McPherson is again
in the headlines of the dailies because of an insurrection in her church. Getting into the headlines is old stuff with Mrs. McPherson
but the public, which is interested

principally as is the spectator in an amusement, stops occasionally to ponder what great contribution to the advancement of religious service
is being made by the versatile evangelist while she is getting all of this front page notoriety.

Some of her church followers are not any more fully convinced than the bulk of the reading public that Mrs. McPherson and her mother told the truth about the kidnapping after the evangelist had supposedly disappeared in the surf of the Pacific ocean. These followers asked Mrs.
McPherson to make a clean breast
of the whole story which Aimee declines to do saying in effect that the investigating juries acquitted
her of any misrepresentation although the fact of the matter is that no investigation was ever concluded.

As long as the public craves
amusement it is now getting in watching Aimee's maneuvers just so long will she stay on the front page
of the newspapers and harvest millions of dollars worth of free advertising. Once secure in the knowledge that such interest exists Aimee
has lost no opportunity to get all
she could while it was obtainable
and when the news seemed to drag
promptly injected some new angle
which revived the whole affair.

UP THE LONG, LONG TRAIL.

From the far southwestern plains
of Texas the government is moving
a pitiful little herd of 15 longhorn
cattle to the Wichita national forest
reserve in Oklahoma, for preservation as a living monument of the old West to future generations.

Fifteen longhorns—it took a month to muster the "herd." And this in the heart of the empire from which the teeming millions one time
poured out and blazed their deep trampled trails from the Rio Grand
to the Arctic.

It was the longhorn that was the making of Texas. Up the old Chisholm trail, from the far southern and western breeding grounds, first
into Kansas and then later farther and farther north until at last the great, spreading horns spilled over the border into Canada the trail
drivers pushed their herds of Texas
cattle.

The great cattle business they created by dauntlessly marching across the boundless, savage land to markets then inconceivably far away.
Out of this great traffic the state
grew from frontier land to civilization—and the carrier of the load
was the longhorn.

Composed as the old-time cowboys affirmed, of one-fifth cow and four-fifths cussedness, capable of living anywhere, on anything and thriving on it, wearing an astonishing
pair of horns that would have killed
the ordinary cow critter to bear for half an hour, much less romp gaily
under for day after day, the longhorn was an appropriate and absolutely citizen of his day and generation.

Fittingly he gave his name to stand with the Lone Star as the sobriquet of the greatest state.

But unfortunately he made the great mistake of devoting his attention exclusively to development of horns and more horns. And the great American public, saxophone players notwithstanding, has very little use for horns, particularly in animals that are supposed to supply
steaks, roasts, stews and other essentially un-horny edibles.

Progress ran over the longhorn.
Up the long, long trail that never turns back he has followed the buffalo and the wild Indians—and now
the government is preserving a tiny remnant of the vanished myriads
that the future may see how the West began.

A valiant citizen, the longhorn.
May his living "monument" see
many generations.—Western World.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By E. R. Waite

Spending a few days at the Hotel
McAlpin, one of the world's best known hostleries, I was impressed with the number of famous aviation
people living there.

Commander Richard E. Byrd and his gallant crew of the America had just arrived and a stirring welcome
awaited them as they strode into the flag-decorated lobby. The hotel orchestra playing in the main dining room on the Mezzanine floor,
stopped short its Beethoven sonata
and swung into the American anthem music. Crowds cheered and the modest Commaner and his associates
were whisked up twenty-four floors
in the elevators, leaving behind the din and tumult of admiring throngs.

Here too, I found Captain Anton
Heinen, builder of the dirigible
Shenendoah; Captain Homer Beery,
intrepid war ace; Clarence Chamberlain, who flew over the Atlantic with Levine; Commander Charles Klein, Navy digible navigator, and a host of others.

The McAlpin, I also learned, was
the only institution of its kind having its own airplane service. Guests
may make reservations for any point of air travel in the United States in McAlpin planes. A daily flying service from New York to Boston is another feature, with Mc-Alpin food served by a steward on these winged passenger carrying machines.

Verily, the McAlpin is the latest in progress and comfort rendering to guests. The world stops there with two thousand guests from all four corners of the world registering there daily.

When in New York, see the skyline of New York from the McAlpin roof, four hundred feet above Broadway and the white lights. A searchlight plays from its roof nightly and field glasses are furnished patrons
by the hotel.

COLLEGE EXPERIMENTS WITH COTTON BAGGING

Why does American cotton reach foreign markets in a worse condition
than any other cotton in the world?
In order to solve this problem an experiment is being conducted at the
New Mexico A. & M. College, says
J. C. Overbeck of that institution, on the bagging used for shipping
the bales. This experiment, in charge of Dr. Youngblood of the United States Department of Agriculture, is being conducted in New Mexico, in various other parts of the United States and in Germany.

The American farmer insists on a cheaper grade of bagging for his cotton, but the question has been raised as to whether this bagging is really cheaper in the long run.

One of the chief reasons for conducting the experiment here in the southwest is because of our intense sunlight which is thought to be very severe on the bagging. Sunlight is perhaps more injurious to the bagging than weather conditions.

As to the experiment itself, which has just started and will be continued for six months, there are three bales of cotton covered with ordinary bagging; three covered with No.
1 cotton bagging weighing 4½ pounds to the bale; three of No. 2
bagging weighing 6 pounds to the bale; three of No. 3 weighing 7½
pounds to the bale; three No. 4 weighing 9 pounds to the bale. One bale of each is laid on the ground
on edge in the open; one bale of each is laid in the open but on skids; and one of each is placed in a dark room shut out from the sunlight. There are also two bales
each of No. 2 and No. 3 cotton bagging which have been dyed the same
brown color as the jute bagging.
After six months a check will be made to see how the bagging has stood up under various conditions.

OFFICIAL SENDS SAN MIGUEL CAR OWNERS FOR LICENSE PLATES

Las Vegas.—Sixty two owners of automobiles in San Miguel county and part of Mora county, who have been operating their machines without license are now in good standing as a result of a series of arrests
by E. R. Baca, field deputy for the Motor Vehicle department of the office of the State Comptroller.

Mr. Baca has been active in the two counties during the past ten-
days and in making arrests, imposing penalties and collecting taxes
has received nearly $400 for the state and counties.

Notable among the arrests made
in East Las Vegas was that of George H. Hunker whose payment represents graphically the system
followed by the field deputies in enforcing the motor vehicle law. Mr.
Hunker, according to information
given the field deputy, purchased a Dodge touring car of local agents
on August 24, 1926 and had operated the automobile since, without the required license. In imposing the fines and penalties, Mr. Baca secured $10.50 for the 1927 license
with a penalty of $1.50; a fine of $25 for non-observance of the law
was also imposed bringing the total
for license and penalties to $44.38.
In addition the 1927 taxes amounting to $15.46 were collected.

The deputy, however, failed to exact the taxes for 1926 which will be collected by the county treasurer.

Mr. Baca said that the department is making every effort to secure payment of licenses and taxes on all automobiles operated in the state
and that he had thus far succeeded in bringing considerable amounts into the treasuries of counties as well as of the state. The co-operation of local officials, notably the deputies in the county treasurer's office was
of great assistance to him in apprehending those evading payment of license, Mr. Baca stated.

SKIPPING ABOUT (Here, There and Everywhere)

Tobias Gum, philosopher and candle dipper from the cow's neck
neighborhood was in town, as usual,
this morning waiting for his wife to finish all the chores before he went home, and while ruminating before that Chief Francis D. Bowhan of

EXPERIMENT O. K. SO 1925 WEDDING IS MADE PUBLIC

Pueblo, Colo.—For two years it was a secret, but now it can be told. The following advertisement, published in a Pueblo newspaper today, tells it:

WISE CRACKS

And when you come to think of it, in the good old days "court" meant what took place before marriage—not afterward.

Ever stop to think that Detroit is in an unique position. She can boast of a body of water that is wet on one side and dry on the other.

See Congress is going to meet in October, and that's all right, too, for it's cooler then and the hot air won't add any to the oppressiveness.

There are some things I can understand and then there are some things that are never understood by any man, and one of them is why in the heck a woman puts lace on a bath towel.

Fellow was bragging to me about his ancestors the other day, and you know, after I left him it occurred to me that even if a dog does have a pedigree he can have fleas just the same.

See where some guy has discovered what a camel's hump is good for. Seems as if it holds a reserve food supply—fat—which the animal draws on when hungry, and here I always thought it contained water. But who want's to be a camel.

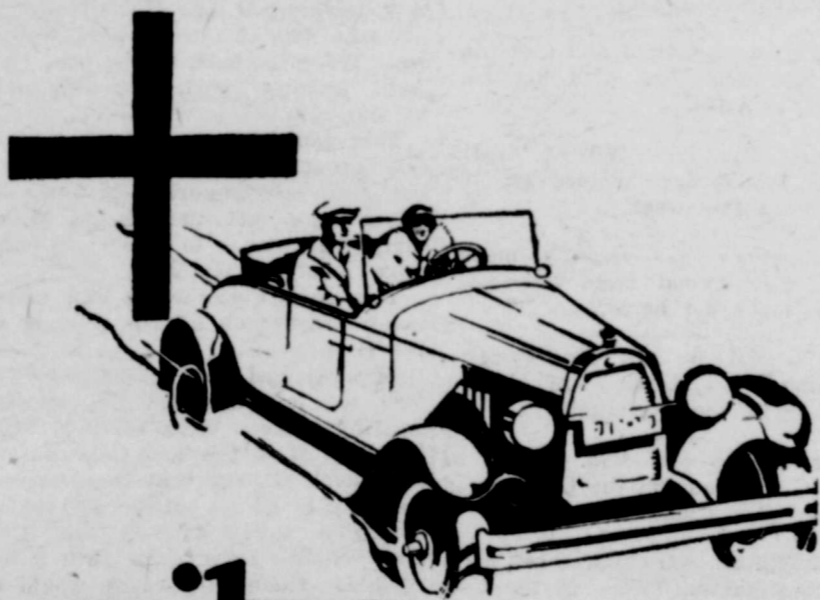

A scientist claims to have discovered something that can be seen through more clearly than glass. I know what that is, and so does a lot of Artesia married men—it's the flimsy excuse given the better half on arriving home about 3 a. m.

Seen and heard this 'un the other day: One Artesia lady, with her arms full of canned goods, meeting another lady, decided an excuse was necessary, so she sez: "My husband just adores canned goods." The other sez: "I'm not a good cook, either."

LONG-RICE

Mr. Clifford J. Long and Miss Reba May Rice were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents in Catawauqua, Pennsylvania, Friday, July 30th. They will make their home in Catawauqua, where, Mr. Long is electrician for the Atlas Cement co.

The groom is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Long. It was while he was in the navy that he met, in California, the lady, who was destined to become his bride. The family returned to Pennsylvania and some time later Mr. Long located there also. Artesia friends extend congratulations and best wishes.

HONORING MISS STEVENSON

Miss "Jack" Hightower entertained at a bridge luncheon from half past nine until twelve o'clock on Saturday morning complimentary to her guest, Miss Blanche Lanewood Stevenson of Clovis. A delicious four course luncheon was served after several rounds of bridge. Present in addition to the honor guest were, the Misses Esther Morgan, Ruth Morgan, Glenda Gray, Vesta Frisch, Vella Spivey, Aline Rowan, Katherine Clarke, Helen Mann, Helen Green, Hazel Bynum, and Mozelle Gable, and Mesdames John Lanning, McRae and Joe Haman. Mrs. E. T. Jernigan and little daughter Elsie, were present at the luncheon.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Little Carolyn Seale was eight years old yesterday and a host of her little friends joined her in celebrating the happy event, a birthday party at her home. The afternoon was crowded with pastimes interesting to children, but probably the most thrilling was the drawing of favors from a beautiful basket and lighting the tiny candles on the birthday cake. Mrs. Seale was assisted in serving by little Miss Lillie Miller. The little friends who enjoyed the afternoon were: Mary Ann Miller, Elsie Jernigan, Helan Huchoon, Dorothy Steelsmith, Welma Paton, Betty Braun, Ella May Eaton, Josephine Paine, Jessie Lee Cunningham, Helen Madis Yates, Elnora Gage, and Bobbie and Homer Dee McRay.

FAMILY RE-UNION

The Richards family had a re-union the past week, a number of the family from Texas and New Mexico coming to visit the three brothers, Joe, John and Albert, and other relatives, here. They are Mr. and Mrs. Haynes and daughter, of Eden, Texas and another daughter, Mrs. Baker of Niles, Texas, a sister-in-law, Mrs. Hattie Richards of Richards Springs, Texas, and J. C. Richards, son and daughter of Corona, New Mexico. On last Thursday at twelve o'clock there was a splendid family dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Richards, and Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Joe Richards served another family dinner.

HAMON-GRAY

The announcement of the marriage of Mr. Joe Hamon and Miss Nellie Esther Gray Sunday, June 19, came as a great surprise to their many friends.

The young couple accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Howell Gage drove to Peecos, where the nuptial knot was tied. The marriage was kept a secret, however, until last week.

The bride, who is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gray, is a charming young lady and has been a successful teacher in the city schools for the past three years. The groom is a popular employee of the Palace Drug store. They have gone to house keeping in an apartment at the J. M. tSory residence, where they are receiving the congratulations and best wishes of their numerous friends.

DINNER FOR MISS STEVENSON

Mrs. E. T. Jernigan entertained at six o'clock dinner Friday evening, complimentary to Miss Blanche Lanewood Stevenson of Clovis. Covers were laid for Misses Stevenson, "Jack" Hightower and Hazen Bynum, the hostess and the Jernigan young people.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The business meeting of the Methodist Missionary society was held at the parsonage last Thursday afternoon. Light refreshments were served by the hostess.

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS

Mrs. E. N. Bigler entertained the Second Bridge Club, in which she has been substituting this summer, on Tuesday afternoon. There were three substitutes, Mrs. J. H. Jackson, Mrs. Sidwell, and Mrs. Sowler of Montana, who is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Kneale. Delicious refreshments were served.

The club will meet with Mrs. Harvey Muncy next Thursday evening, the 18th.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Mrs. John Lanning entertained at a miscellaneous shower and bridge party yesterday afternoon in honor of her cousin, Mrs. Joe Haman, who is a recent bride. It was an orange and black party, the improved sunflowers with the native variety being used effectively in the decorations. The "shower" was effected by means of a small express wagon, decorated in the color scheme, and drawn by the small daughter of the hostess, Bettynelle Lanning, charmingly dressed in orange, garnished with black. Many beautiful and useful gifts were presented to the bride. After four rounds of bridge delicious refreshments were served in two courses. Present besides the honor guest were her mother, Mrs. W. C. Gray, Mesdames Ealen Gage, Floy Hartzfield, Landis Feather, Albert Richards, and Price Gittinger, and the Misses Alma Norton, Glenda Gray, Katherine Clarke, Vesta Frisch, Moselle Gable, Aline Rowan, Maxine Rowan, "Jack" Hightower and Blanche Lanewood Stevenson of Clovis.

HOUSE PARTY ON RUIDOSO

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Brainard are planning to entertain their Friday Evening Bridge club at a house party at their cabin on the Ruidoso for the week-end. Mr. Brainard went up to the mountains to-day taking Mrs. E. J. Brooks with him. They will be followed tomorrow by other members of the club and some members of the families, those going up tomorrow being Messrs. Albert Richards, and Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Joe Richards served another family dinner.

FIRST BRIDGE CLUB

The regular meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Ferree next week on Wednesday, instead of the regular meeting day, Tuesday.

STAR INITIATION

Two members were initiated into the Easttern Star at the meeting on Tuesday evening. They were Mrs. Nina Dunn and Miss Helen Green. Refreshments were served and a social hour followed.

TACKY PARTY

The True Blue Class, of the Methodist Sunday school enjoyed a tacky party at the home of Lilla Jackson last Monday night. All of the class were dressed specially for the occasion, some affecting Greek types of costume, but most were simply "tacky." Watermelon was served for refreshment. There were a few friends present, besides the teacher, Mrs. Allinger, and the following members of the class: Catherine Cogdell, Lillian Heflin, Lilla Jackson, Katherine Filbert, Nina Gray, Margaret Frisch, Elizabeth Gage, Fay Cass and Violet Ohnemus.

Election of officers resulted in Violet Ohnemus being chosen president, Fay Cass, vice president, Elizabeth Gage, secretary, and Margaret Frisch treasurer.

LEAH MC CLAY WRITES INTERESTINGLY OF HER VISIT TO HONOLULU

Miss Leah McClay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen McClay of Artesia, who has recently visited the Hawaiian Islands, writes of the many places of attraction. Of particular interest was her visit to the volcano, Kilauea, located on the largest of the Hawaiian Islands. Her letter describing this visit follows:

S. S. City of Honolulu, Wednesday night.

Dear mother and dad:

Have had a pretty hard day sight seeing, but will write a little as I want it to go out on this boat.

We are on the boat going back to Honolulu from Hilo. We landed at Hilo about eight o'clock yesterday morning. Hilo is the largest city on the island of Hawaii, which is much more fertile and tropical than the island of Oahu where Honolulu is located.

We left about ten o'clock for volcano Kilauea. It is about thirty-five miles from Hilo. Part of the road is paved, but part of it is terrible. We got there about noon. They took us to see a lava tube which is a huge tunnel made by lava. We went about 100 yards through it, but that is just the beginning. They also took us to see—tree molds. These were holes down in the earth where the lava had flowed around trees and later the trees died leaving this cylinder like hole in the ground. Some of the trees must have been immense. They also showed us pictures of different eruptions.

Then they took us to see the volcano. It made me think a little of Grand Canyon as the volcano is at the bottom of a huge hole or cavern which is several miles across and about 1350 feet deep. In the day time you can't see the lava flow so very much as a cave has formed over the head and it runs out at one side. The lava cools and looks black.

We went back to the volcano house for dinner and then about eight o'clock they took us again to get a night view which was perfectly wonderful. You could see the red hot lava just pour out, both over and under that which had cooled. When it went under you could see big veins of this red lava against the black. Sometimes it would spurt out on top and then it was indeed a sight. It was cold up there (4000 feet elevation), but there were about 500 people standing around looking at it. It rather holds you for it changes all the time. We enjoyed also listening to the Hawaiian drivers, who sang while we were watching. We came back to the boat that night awfully tired, but well paid for our trip.

This morning we went on a train ride around this island. Most we saw was just hundreds of acres of sugar cane and the flumes which carry the cane to the mill—also some lovely water falls.

Has been quite warm and sultry today which took all the pep out of every one.

We changed our reservations before we left Honolulu so we are starting home a week early or leaving July 23 on the boat Calawau. It is a much smaller boat than the one we were to go on but we decided we could see everything by that time and wouldn't be in quite such a bad condition financially as we would be otherwise.

I got some more sunburn today. This tropical sun sure is dealing me a lot of misery. Helen and the two girls from Long Beach are all lots fairer than I but none have the sunburn I have. I wouldn't mind the looks so much (tho I do look like a boiled lobster) but it hurts so much.

We land at Los Angeles July 30th.

Heaps of love,

LEAH.

TO DISTRIBUTE SCHOOL FUNDS OF NEW MEXICO SOON SAYS W. GRAHAM

Santa Fe, Aug 8—Attorney General Robert C. Dow's opinion on several questions pertaining to the distribution of the state current school fund, apportionment of which will be begun within the next few days by State Treasurer Warren R. Graham, has been asked, it was indicated today although no definite rumor that an attempt would be made to halt the distribution could be obtained.
In accordance with a policy of Mr. Graham's all banks in the state were warned last June that withdrawals might be expected this month to carry out the distribution of the fund which amounts to $1,029,596.26. This will be made in four installments, Graham said today.
The claim of August, 1926, upon which the appointment is based, was inaccurate in that in some instances non-residents have been included in the census for certain districts where there were parochial or Indian school. A recent bulletin from the Department of Education called attention to this fact.
State Educational Budget Auditor Carl Comstock said today that as the apportionment had already been approved by himself and State School Superintendent, Lois Ran-

RANGERS SCHOOL TEACHES ALL BUT HOW TO GET A JOB

"How to Be a Forest Ranger," a ten dollar mail order course is a good way to spend useless money and never get anywhere.
So found a man from Brooksmith, Texas, who made application at the forest service for a ranger's job.
It was pointed out by the district forest office that he was forty-eight years old, thirteen years over the limit, despite the advice given by the "school" that rangers were acceptable up to 50 years of age.
It's a lucky man that gets a ranger's job these days. College education and etique seem to be essential, altho ambition and willingness for hard labor are likewise required.

BERNALILLO COUNTY NETS BIG BOOZE HAUL SECOND ONE IN A WEEK

Albuquerque, Aug. 8.—One of the largest breweries ever located in this county was put out of business Saturday afternoon when Prohibition Agent Homer Henley, assisting the sheriff's office, raided the premises of Maria Vallino, at Bernalillo.
Five hundred and seventy-five pint bottles full of home brew, several cases of empties, twelve gallons of beer mash, five and twelve-gallon jars, strainers, bottle brushes, twenty packages of hops, a large sack of bottle caps, a capper, four cans malt, and a number of jugs and kegs were confiscated.
Early in the summer the same place was raided, and a large haul was made. The remark was made by one of the partners at that time that "we were only making this beer for our own use."
"Albuquerque officers are glad to see this play house and the one at 305 North Broadway put out of running," Mr. Henley said. "We feel that these two raids will put a decided crimp in the local supply of hard drinks.

STATE BRIEFS

71 SUITS FILED IN LINCOLN COUNTY DELINQUENT TAXES

Santa Fe.—Seventyone law suits
were filed in Lincoln county alone
last week as the inauguration of a campaign to collect delinquent taxes
throughout the state, J. Frank Curns, special tax attorney, announced today. The claims in the suits filed last week amount to $45,- 000 exclusive of costs, Curns said.
In each instance, these suits are for small amounts, some of them claiming personal judgment where the basis for the tax was personal property and the property is not now in existence.

Literally thousands of suits are promised throughout the state within the next sixty days, Curns said.

ROMERO AND DEPUTIES TO BE GIVEN FEDERAL COURT TRIAL LATE NEXT MONTH

Albuquerque, N. M., Aug. 8.— (AP).—Hearing of the cases against Secundino Romero, former United States marshal, and his deputies, Lee
Wilkerson, Celso Lopez, and Miguel Romero, under bond to the federal court on indictments charging padding expense accounts while they were in office, has been set for trial in federal court here on September 22, 23, 24, and 26.

MAN CHARGED WITH MURDER RECOVERS FROM GUN WOUNDS

Roswell.—J. C. Dean, who is recovering in the Chaves county jail
from self-inflicted gunshot wounds,
is to be removed soon to Lovington,
where he will be placed in the Lea
county jail, according to officers
here. Dean is charged with first degree murder in connection with the death of his wife, Emma Dean,
the tragedy occurring at the Dean home in Lea county. Following his removal to this city Dean told officers that he had shot himself after his wife had turned a gun on herself.

ALFALFA SEED CROP AT CARLSBAD GOOD

The farmers on the government's irrigation project who left the second cutting of alfalfa for seed crop,
are threshing better than 500 pounds
of seed an acre. The yield promises
one of the largest seed crops ever produced here.
Reclamation officials report 12,- 000 acre feet of water in storage in the two reservoirs and the flow of Pecos river continues strong from recent rains on the upper watershed.

CLUB TO BUILD

The Carlsbad Woman's club has under consideration as a feature of its fall program the construction of a new home on the property now occupied by the temporary frame library building. A committee of women visited Roswell during the week to inspect the Carnegie library
with the view of planning the Carlsbad building. They also attended a meeting of the state federation,
which was held at Hotel Gilkerson
with Mrs. Grace T. Bear, general federation director, presiding.

ONLY TWO CASES NOW

There are only two cases of infantile paralysis in Chaves county
under quarantine today, according to a report this morning from the Chaves county health department.
One of these cases under quarantine
is located near Lake Arthur and the other at Roswell. There have been no new cases reported from any section of the county for the past two weeks.—Roswell Record.

GEORGE CURRY LEAVES

Former governor George Curry
left this morning for his headquarters at El Paso after a visit of several days with friends in this city, Artesia and Hope. Mr. Curry, who has recently served as Rio Grande boundary commissioner, will be in Roswell again within two weeks to attend to business matters.—Roswell Record.

Despite the frequent showers that have fallen around Roswell, especially to the west and east, the immediate Roswell section is dry. One can go ten or twelve miles west and find green range, with grass growing nicely, while closer in to Roswell it is brown and burned. The same thing applies to the north and would apply to the east and south
were it not for the farm lands under cultivation in the latter two direction. The records of the local weather show a lack of 4.6 inches of rain in Roswell since the first of the year, the loss being more than has been received by almost an inch and a half.—Roswell Record 9th.

EL PASO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ANNOUNCE WHOLESALERS EVENT

El Paso, August 5.—The Merchants and Manufacturers committee
of the El Paso Chamber of Commerce today announced the annual wholesale trade event to be held August 15 to August 31.

Merchants from the El Paso trade
are being invited to the wholesale market here to view the largegest assortment of merchandise the jobbers and manufacturers in El Paso have ever offered the southwestern buyers.

"El Paso has a complete market
to offer the buyer," declared George Ryan, chairman of the trade committee. "This year the White House
and The Popular Dry Goods company have arranged to wholesale
from their vast stocks merchandise
in ready to wear and millinery."

"This we feel, is a distinct advantage to the southwestern buyer.
Here he will be able to choose the very latest in style merchandise
that has been carefully selected from the fashion centers of the world," Mr. Ryan continued. All out of town buyers who register at the Chamber of Commerce will be given tickets to the shows during their stay in El Paso it was stated by D.
A. Banded, general manager of that organization. The refund of railroad fare which is in effect in the El Paso wholesale market every day
in the year will of course apply
during the fall buying season.

S. H. Haynes and wife and three daughters of Eden, Texas, and Mrs.
Frank Richards, of Richland Springs,
Texas, arrived last week for a visit with the Richards boys and their families. Mrs. Frank Richards, Mr.
Haynes and daughter and Albert
Richards visited the Carlsbad Caverns last Friday and report about two hundred fifty going through the caves on that day.

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE OF CHATTEL MORTGAGE

WHEREAS on the 1st day of October, 1926, Alex G. Sarad and Gus Thomas, of Artesia, Eddy County, New Mexico, made and executed their ten promissory notes for the sum of $50.00 each, with interest at the rate of 10% per annum until paid, together with 10% attorney's fees on the amount thereof if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, in favor of Frank E. Miller, of Artesia, New Mexico, said notes being numbered from one to ten inclusive, and to secure the payment of said promissory notes, the said Alex G. Sarad and Gus Thomas made and executed a certain chattel mortgage conveying to the said Frank E. Miller all that certain restaurant located on the first floor of what is known as the Bromelsic Building situated on lot 7, block 9, of the original town of Artesia, Eddy County, New Mexico, consisting of cook stoves, ranges, coffee urns, dishes, counters, shelving, stools, silverware, cooking utensils, and all other personal property and accessories belonging to said restaurant, and—

WHEREAS said chattel mortgage provides that in case default should be made in the payment of said notes, or the interest thereon mentioned, according to their tenor, then and in that event it may be lawful for the said Frank E. Miller to take immediate and full possession of the whole of said goods and chattels to his own use and to sell the same in manner and form as now prescribed by law, and out of the money arising from said sale to pay said notes, interest and attorney's fee and all charges touching the same, rendering and paying surplus, if any, to said mortgagors or their legal representatives, and—

WHEREAS the said Alex G. Sarad and Gus Thomas have failed and refused to pay five of said series of notes, same being notes numbered 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10 and the interest thereon which will amount in the aggregate to $299.17 on the 22nd day of August, 1927, same being the date of sale hereinafter mentioned, and—

WHEREAS the said Frank E. Miller has taken possession of said goods and chattels, and—

WHEREAS it has become necessary to foreclose said mortgage, and that said notes and mortgage have been placed in the hands of an attorney for collection—

NOW THEREFORE notice is hereby given that on the 22nd day of August, 1927, in accordance with the provisions and conditions of said mortgage as therein expressed, and by virtue thereof, and the law in such cases made and provided, I will offer for sale and sell to the highest bidder for cash all of said property mentioned and in said chattel mortgage hereinafter described, said sale to take place at the hour of ten o'clock a. m., on the 22nd day of August, 1927, at the front door of that certain building situated on lot 10, in block 8, of the Clayton and Stegman addition to the Town of Artesia, New Mexico, on the north side of the Main Street of said town, and will apply the proceeds of the sale of said goods and chattels to the payment of said promissory notes and the interest due thereon, 10% attorney's fee on the amount of said notes, and all costs of said sale.

SIGNED AND DATED this 19th day of July, 1927.
31-4t FRANK E. MILLER

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE SALE

In the District Court of Eddy County, State of New Mexico.

NATIONAL SUPPLY COMPANY, MID-WEST, a corporation, Plaintiff.

vs.
HENRY H. DILS, SAM M. DILS, R. M. DUNNETT, G. E. QUILAN, C. A. STEELSMITH, R. D. COMPTON and O. W. COMPTON, Defendants.
No. 4289.

WHEREAS by virtue of a judgment and decree rendered and entered by the District Court of Eddy County, New Mexico, in the above titled and numbered cause on the 7th day of June, 1927, the above named defendants were found and adjudged to be indebted to the above named plaintiff in the sum of $1060.40, together with 6% interest thereon from the 1st day of July, 1926, until paid, and $100.00 attorney's fee to draw and bear interest at the rate 6% per annum from the 7th day of June, 1927, until paid, in addition to all cost of suit accrued and cost of sale, and—

WHEREAS, said indebtedness was on account of oil well supplies, machinery and materials purchased by defendants from the plaintiff herein, and that said supplies, machinery and materials were used in digging, drilling and operating and repairing a well located near the northwest corner of the SE $\frac{1}{4}$ of SE $\frac{1}{4}$ of Section 27, T. 18 S., R. 28 E., N. M. P. M., New Mexico, and—

WHEREAS, plaintiff filed its claim of lien within the time and in the manner required by law, and—

WHEREAS the court found that plaintiff has a valid and subsisting first lien against the above described property, and—

WHEREAS, the Court ordered, adjudged and decreed that plaintiff's said lien be foreclosed, and the above described property sold by the Sheriff of Eddy County, New Mexico, as provided by law, and according to the rules and practice of the court, and that the proceeds of the sale of said property be applied to the satisfaction of plaintiff's judgment, costs, attorney's fee, and cost of sale, said property to be sold to the highest bidder for cash.

NOW THEREFORE, I, Joe Johns, Sheriff of Eddy County, New Mexico, hereby give public notice that on the 31st day of August, 1927, at the hour of 2 o'clock p. m., of that day, I will proceed to sell at public auction

TRUCHAS PEAK IS DISPLACED AS THE HIGHEST MOUNTAIN

Wheeler Peak, in the Carson forest, is the highest spot in New Mexico, forest officials have discovered, after believing for years that North Truchas Peak has held that honor. Wheeler Peak is 294 ft. higher than Truchas, and reaches 13,600 feet above sea level exact government tests reveal.

For years government records have estimated Wheeler Peak to be only 13,058 feet high, but the discovery of its exact height moves it up 13 places in the list of highest altitudes in the world. In the United States it holds seventh place.

New Mexico holds greater honors in other fields. It is second in highest low elevations in the United States. Wyoming's lowest elevation is 3,100 feet. New Mexico's lowest elevation is 2,876 feet at Red Bluff Eddy County.

NOTICE OF THE TIME AND PLACE OF HEARING A PETITION FOR THE CREATION OF A HERD LAW DISTRICT.

Notice is hereby given that under the provisions of an Act of the Legislature of the State of New Mexico, being Chapter 68 of the Session Laws of 1923, a written petition was filed with the Board of County Commissioners of Eddy County, New Mexico, on the 21st day of July, 1927, by persons who are the owners of or hold under lease or contract of purchase a majority of the acres of contiguous tracts of land aggregating more than 3840 acres of land in Eddy County, New Mexico and being a part of Township 17 South, Range 26 East, N. M. P. M., requesting said Board of County Commissioners to declare all of said tracts of land embraced within said proposed district a Herd Law District within the meaning of said Act; that said Board of County Commissioners at a meeting held on the 21st day of July, 1927, entered an order fixing the 16th day of August, 1927 at ten o'clock A. M., as the time, and the office of the said Board of County Commissioners in the Court house at Carlsbad, New Mexico, as the place for a hearing on said petition; that at the time and place fixed for said hearing said Board of County Commissioners shall hear said petition, and if it finds the same is duly signed and acknowledged as provided by said Act, by persons who are owners, lessees or contract holders of a majority of the acres of land within said proposed district, and otherwise complies with the provisions of said Act, it shall enter an Order declaring all of said tracts of land embraced in said proposed district from and after thirty days from the date of said Order to be a Herd Law District within the meaning of said Act. That said petition is now on file and may be seen and examined by interested persons in the office of the Clerk of said Board of County Commissioners of Eddy County, New Mexico.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and seal on this 21st day of July, 1927.

THELMA T. LUSK, County Clerk and Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners of Eddy County New Mexico.

NOTICE

In the Probate Court of Eddy County, New Mexico.

IN THE MATTER OF THE LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF GEORGE M. WILLIAMSON, DECEASED.
No. 556.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned was on the 3rd day of August, 1927, appointed Executrix of the estate of George M. Williamson, Deceased, by Hon. D. G. Grantham, Probate Judge of Eddy County, New Mexico.

THEREFORE all persons having claims against said estate are hereby notified to file the same with the County Clerk of Eddy County, New Mexico, within one year from date of said appointment as provided by law, or the same will be barred.

FLORENCE WILLIAMSON Executrix.

NEW MEXICO RANGE AND LIVESTOCK REPORT FOR MONTH OF JULY

STATE SUMMARY - Comments from over 100 stockmen on July conditions are summarized below. Range has been very dry and rains local, but latest reports indicate good rains in most sections. Good calf and lamb crops, and both will probably be marketed heavier than usual. Most ewe lambs will be held; old ewes and weather lambs only, will be marketed, as in 1926. Indications are that ranges will be good and the feed supply plentiful.

NORTHWEST-Aztec: Plenty of moisture. Stock fat. Summer and fall ranges good.

NORTHCENTRAL - Raton: good rains and prospects favorable for rough feed. Taylor Springs: July rains. Grass better than in years. Outlook good for winter and fall range, but late. Espanola: Feed prospects good. Need more rain. Dulce: Sufficient rain to keep grass growing, but all water holes are not full. Chama: Range in fine condition. Good calf crop. Plenty moisture. Grass fine. Plenty of winter feed.

NORTHEAST-Roy: Range and feed prospects good. Large wheat acreage under favorable conditions. Albert: Feed late. Wagon Mound: Local showers only, but good prospects for winter range. Late crops good. General rains last three days. Gascon: Ground soaked last few days. Good prospects for fall range. Crops look fine. Optimo: Range looking good, but rains spotted. Des Moines: Moisture and grass good. Plenty grass for winter unless too much rain causes it to winter rot. Guy: Grass started fine, but better in some localities than others. Some cattle light. Pasamonte: Grass good. Prospects for fall and winter feed and range good. Corn "slow."

WESTCENTRAL - Datil: Some rain, but spotted and light. Breece: Plenty of rain for our section. Range good. Lots of hay. Late frost caused small alfalfa crop. Gallup: Abundant feed and water. Sheep condition splendid. Winter range is assured. Black Rock: Good rains. Grass will ripen. Good forage crops. Socorro: Ranges need rain. Winter feed short. Magdalena: Stock in better shape than usual. Too early to tell about winter feed. San Marcial: Ranges very dry. Need rain for summer and winter feed. (Rains reported later.)

CENTRAL - Albuquerque: All the State North of Lincoln County and East of the Rio Grande very dry, but rains last few days insure good range and crops. Range is spotted; 30 per cent will be only fair. Moisture late. Heavy lamb crop and conditions are favorable for saving them. Our Catron County range fair. Fairly good moisture on most of Southern Pueblo Agency. Regina: Lots of rain insures good range and crops, if frost is late. Santa Fe: Prospects for winter feed poor. Dry.

EASTCENTRAL - Clovis: Local showers improved conditions, but need more rain. La Lande: Lots of rain. Winter grass assured. Alfalfa, $10. Santa Rosa: Sufficient moisture. Good rains. Pastura: Feed crops scarce due to dry spring. Good moisture now. Duoro: Good moisture and grass, but feed late. Nara Visa: Plenty of moisture. Crops late. Fat calves $30 to $35. Plenty of buyers. Wool all sold. Light lamb crop. Logan: Since rains of June 7th crops and ranges late, but look fine. Crop acreage normal. Prospects never better. Kenna: Rains local. Most ranges are dry. Prospects poor. Elida: Crop prospects poor. Only local showers until 22th. Planting cane and higeria. E. Las Vegas: Recent rains make grass and feed prospects good. Cattle and sheep fine. Hilario: Rains every day since July 15. Crops, range and stock looking good. Tremintina: Good rains past month. Good calf crop in prospect. Estancia: Lots of rain. Ranges and stock in good shape. Lambs and calves heavy.

SOUTHWEST, Buckthorn: Been very dry, but recent general rains in mountains and showers in valleys. Silver City: Lots of rain. Lordsburg: Rains not general, but if they continue will be lots of grass. Cattle in excellent shape. Prospects for good demand and price this fall. Duncan: Enough rain to start grass. Need more for winter feed. Deming: Only local rains. Cattle shrinking some, but above ordinary for season. Mesquite beans and sage brush principal forage now. Feed crops 70 per cent of normal. Fairview: Rains since 23rd put range in good shape. Good rain in next ten days will insure winter feed. Chloride: Rains just started. Water scarce. Cattle holding up well. Good calf chop. Cutter: Rains over district last few days.

SOUTHERN, Las Cruces: No rain for several months until last week. Everything improving. Stock in fair shape and calves good. Salem: Been very dry, but recent rains followed by more will insure good range. Picacho: Plenty of rain for winter grass. Coyotes bad. Glencoe: Good rains, winter feed assured. Stock excellent. Corona: Prospects fine. Ancho: Winter grass prospects good. Little trading.

SOUTHEAST, Roswell: Lots of local showers, but parts of county dry. Stock are doing fine. Season very dry, but copious rains over most of Pecos Valley recently. Lambs will weigh 65 lbs. by Oct. 25. Ewe lambs will be held; weather lambs and old ewes will be moved as in 1926. Lamb crop 90 per cent. Good late rains. 3,000,000 lbs wool shorn; about half sold averaging 30 cents. Many cattle to be sold; some few contracts made. Hagerman: Been very dry, but general rains 22nd, prospects excellent. Elkins: Fine rains; four inches last 48 hours. Stock fine. Good calf crop. Hope: Showers local, but no general rains. Lambs shrinking some. Carlsbad: About half this section has had rain; rest very dry. Cows with calves $50 to $55. Good steer calves $30 to $35. Caprock: Some ranges in fine shape; others no rain since December.

SOME POSTMASTER

Although it is not generally acting postmaster, promised before many witnesses that during his regime no monthly bill would be allowed to pass through the mails. The fact that the statement was made after he had received the appointment and was not in any manner a campaign pledge would lead one to believe that he intended to deliver the goods—but not the bills.

Father: "You really want to marry him, eh? What are the young man's prospects?"

Daughter: "Well, Dad, he has a very rich uncle who lives in Chicago."—Judge.

MAN CHOSEN REGION HEAD AND JONES FOR AUX.

Vegas.—Joseph Lieberman, was elected department commander of the American Legion for the year in the final session of the ninth annual state convention which closed shortly after 1 o'clock Saturday. The convention in progress for the past two weeks, was held at the El Paso Hotel.

Commander won by a vote of 51 1/2 over Capt. C. Jones, Santa Fe. The split vote from an equal division of the delegates allowed the commander to win.

Carlsbad, was unanimously elected national committeeman for the year. Santa Fe, also elected national committeeman.

The usual noon recess, was observed. The convention worked straight through in completing the elections for the 1928 convention. Santa Fe polled 75 of the 100 votes cast for the next year's bids entered by Portales, Santa Fe, and Clovis. A vote higher than the stipulation that the majority of votes should be the result of the meeting place.

The next meeting place, was chosen by the vice-commander, M. G. Benavidez, Santa Fe, and W. H. McCullough, Santa Fe, and W. H. McCullough, Santa Fe, and W. H. McCullough, Santa Fe.

As we journeyed farther we saw a shiny bird of rather bluish slate color above and a patch of white on its back. I was surprised, after the bird had flown away, to see that it had been feasting on the body of a dead rabbit; but Lucille explained that this was one of the chief foods of the marsh hawks, but also that they worried her uncle a great deal by eating the chickens on his sheep ranch. "Yet" she continued, "they help a lot in ridding the land of pests."

As we wandered back toward the road, a quail flew from some tall grass near the fence and began eating the seeds from a weed. When we reached the grass, we found a nest which looked as though it had been woven of leaves, straw, weeds,

WESTERN BIRDS

Miss Loraine Gable of Artesia was recently awarded first prize on a story entitled "Western Birds," submitted to the Holland's Magazine. The story which appeared in the August number of Holland's is as follows:

"Of course it would be lovely to hike through the shady woods down a narrow, winding path with fragrant flowers blooming on either side; to listen to bright-colored birds singing high in the green tree tops; but as our town boasts no such lovely scenery as this within walking distance, Lucille and I donned our knickerbockers and Mexican sombreros and started out over the wide open prairie.

Here and there a prairie dog eyed us suspiciously, then scampered back into his hole; or a fleet-footed jack rabbit darted across the prairie. Suddenly a strange cry broke the stillness, and from behind a clump of cactus we saw little clouds of dust flying. Hurrying to the spot we found two little burrowing owls of grayish color, fighting savagely at each other, and such harsh, angry cries I never before heard. The smaller owl seemed to be the champion, for no sooner was the other up than he had him again tumbling in the dust. So absorbed were the two in their quarreling that they had not heard us come up. As the larger owl ruffled up his feathers preparing for another attack, he made such a funny sight that I could no longer keep from laughing; then each uttered a frightened cry, and half flying, half walking, disappeared down a prairie-dog hole.

"Lucille," I exclaimed, "do you suppose those birds have gone nuts?" "Of course not," she said. "Those owls have to have some place to shade their eyes, and as there are no trees around here, I suppose a prairie-dog hole is as good place as any. Some call them prairie-dog owls."

As we journeyed farther we saw a shiny bird of rather bluish slate color above and a patch of white on its back. I was surprised, after the bird had flown away, to see that it had been feasting on the body of a dead rabbit; but Lucille explained that this was one of the chief foods of the marsh hawks, but also that they worried her uncle a great deal by eating the chickens on his sheep ranch. "Yet" she continued, "they help a lot in ridding the land of pests."

As we wandered back toward the road, a quail flew from some tall grass near the fence and began eating the seeds from a weed. When we reached the grass, we found a nest which looked as though it had been woven of leaves, straw, weeds, and grass. In it were ten white eggs. On a fence post near by sat a bald eagle, but as we neared her, she flew to a nest high in the branches of one of the cottonwood trees surrounding Mr. James's farm. Lucille said that the eagles were really not bald, but as they grew older, the top of their heads and necks turned white.

We decided to eat our lunch in Mr. James's orchard in the shade of apple and pear trees. As we crawled under the fence, a bird with a black back and patches of yellow on its tail and wings flew from a tree and disappeared in the distance.

"What a pretty oriole!" exclaimed Lucille. We climbed the tree and found a nest of dried grass, and inside were four white eggs spotted with brown. As we ate our lunch, the sparrows above us chattered noisily and somewhere in the distance we heard the faint cooing of a mourning dove.

Farther up the road a drove of shiny black crows flew from a telephone wire at our approach. Again silence, and we walked along the dusty road until at last we reached Mr. Rice's alfalfa field.

As we neared the gate on the opposite side, we saw a bird about the size of a robin. His back was made up of varying shades of brown and black. Underneath he was yellow and had a black crescent on his breast. His tail was streaked with white. Yes, this was the meadow lark. Often I heard their clear notes calling as I sat out on the lawn.

I was so tired when we reached the house that I lay down on the bed to rest; but before I could even close my eyes, I caught a glimpse of dark gray and yellow as a bee martin flew past the window; and even after I had closed my eyes, I could hear the mocking birds and sparrows chattering in the locust trees.

EGGSACTLY

Bride: "Those eggs are too small."
Grocer: "They are just fresh from the country."

Bride: That's the trouble. Those farmers pick the eggs before they get full size."

A woman came into a street car with five children, and was kept very busy looking after them. A benevolent old gentleman arose and gave her his seat.

"Are these all your children, madam," he asked, "or is it a picnic?" "They're all mine," snapped the woman, "and it's no picnic."

YOUNG CLERK OF LONDON CONQUERS ENGLISH CHANNEL

Dover, England.—The prestige of the tricky English Channel, shaken when five swimmers conquered it last season, received another severe jolt today, when E. H. Temme, A 22-year-old clerk in a London insurance office, opened the 1927 season by swimming it again.

Starting from Cape Gris Nez, France, at 1:10 o'clock this morning Temme came ashore in England at Lyddenspout, between Dover and Folkestone, at 3:39 o'clock this afternoon, having swum the channel in 14 hours, 29 minutes.

Temme's feat makes him the eleventh successful channel swimmer. His time was two minutes faster than that made by Gertrude Ederle when she set a new record just a year ago tomorrow, but since that time Ernst Vierkotter, Georges Michel and Norman Leslie Durham have swum the channel in faster time than Temme's.

Come to El Paso!

The Wholesale Market of West Texas, New Mexico and Arizona.

THE FALL SEASON will be a profitable one to the merchant who keeps his stock complete—but not overstocked—who uses the nearby El Paso market consistently—keeping his stock fresh and seasonable as the needs of his customers require—for example, the opening of the school trade. El Paso affords overnight merchandise service to a vast territory—with great reserve stocks from which southwestern retailers may draw. Use this nearby market—such a policy insures safety and profit.

YOUR RAILROAD FARE REFUNDED

1. To all wholesale buyers residing within a radius of 300 miles from El Paso, whose purchases amount to $1000 or more, railroad fare both ways will be refunded.
 2. To all wholesale buyers residing within a radius of 300 miles from El Paso, whose purchases amount to more than $500 and less than $1000, one way railroad fare will be refunded.
 3. To all wholesale buyers within a radius of 500 miles from El Paso, whose purchases amount to $2000 or more, railroad fare both ways will be refunded.
 4. To all wholesale purchasers residing within a radius of 500 miles from El Paso, whose purchases amount to more than $1000 and less than $2000, railroad fare one way will be refunded.
 5. To all wholesale purchasers residing more than 500 miles from El Paso, refunds of railway fare will be given in proportion, using the 500-mile schedule as a basis.
- It is not necessary to buy all of your goods from one El Paso jobber or manufacturer in order to take advantage of this offer. If your total orders placed here, with firms participating in the refund plan, come within the amount specified you will receive your refund.

ARTESIA COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

The Council of churches met in the Methodist Church last Friday evening. Rev. Huffman new pastor of the Nazarene Church was welcomed to the Council and community. It was decided that the churches arrange a suitable reception to the School Faculty. A campaign to get every child in Artesia linked up with some Sunday School was inaugurated, and a committee consisting of the Chairman and secretary was delegated to gather information. The Council faced the problem of bridging the gap which exists in every church service. Each church was urged to study the possibility of having a unified morning service such as has been tried with great success in other places. Both School and morning services are shortened and one good service takes the place of two unsatisfactory ones. A number of proprietors of Gas Filling Stations in the city have petitioned the Church Council to circulate a petition agreeing to close all the filling stations on Sunday and thus giving a day of rest to all therein employed. The ministers were appointed a committee to interview the parties concerned. On Tuesday of this week all the Filling Stations were visited by the Committee. Eleven signed as willing, one was undecided and the committee was unable to get replies from three, owing to proprietors being away from place of business. It is hoped to have the petition completed this week, and its acceptance by all, will put into operation a much needed Sunday rest plan.

Signed
JOHN P. SINCLAIR
Secretary of Council

COTTON PRICE JUMPS $10 BALE ON U S REP'T.

New York, Aug. 8.—Excited bidding on the New York Cotton exchange, which today followed the publication of the department of agriculture report, indicating a cotton yield about 1,000,000 bales short of expectations, and 69.5 per cent of normal, sent prices soaring 200 points, or $10 a bale, the full one-day limit permitted under the rules of the exchange. After the limit was reached, trading quieted down.

The government announcement, totally unexpected, caught the market also devoid of cotton news. A 20-minute recess had been called to receive the report, and when trading was resumed an uproar broke out as traders shouted their buying orders. On the frantic rise, October cotton leaped to 18.84c from 16.84c, while December spurted from 17.17c to above 19.10c.

Even at the day's top price, many traders were unable to execute buying orders received from their customers, as little cotton was offered for sale. This was due to recent heavy liquidation, which had practically eliminated speculative long lines.

The government report, estimating the condition of the cotton crop as of August 1 at 69.5 per cent, and the indicated crop at only 13,492,000 bales was far below expectations.

county school district case, a charge that Judge Holloman threatened and attempted to intimidate the Journal and several individual cases of undue political activity.

There still remain to be heard Mr. Hannett's charges of misconduct in connection with the receivership of the Gallup Steam laundry and the New Mexico Fire Brick company of Gallup; his allegations that the jurist has been intoxicated on the bench; published statements alleging that Holloman intimidated a federal employee and was instrumental in securing the discharge of a county health officer for political ends; and undue participation in securing a pardon for a convict.

The most sensation if the ex-governors allegations, that Judge Holloman accepted $500 from William J. Barker, Santa Fe attorney, to attempt to influence the city commission of Santa Fe to award a utility franchise to a client of Barker's, who put up the money, will come up Thursday morning and a record breaking crowd is expected to be present in the hall of representatives to hear the testimony on that phase of the Hannett-Holloman controversy. At that time, Barker, who disappeared a short time before the opening of the hearing and who was finally located in Long Beach, California, is expected to appear and testify to his transactions with the judge.

At the close of the presentation of evidence, attorneys for both sides will sum up their cases and the entire subject will be taken under consideration by the nine members of the bar commission, representing the nine judicial districts of the state. It is believed that the members of the bar commission will take several days in perusing the record of the case before announcing their decision. In the event the commission judges think that Mr. Hannett has substantiated his charges, the ex-governor will be released from the likelihood of being disciplined by the commission. In such a case, it is not known whether the board would have authority to take any action whatever against Holloman although it is believed the limit of its authority would be a reprimand to the jurist as the power of impeachment rests solely with the state legislature. If the commission rules against Governor Hannett, it is within the power of the board to disbar the former executive or to take some action of less severity.

It is believed likely that whichever way the board decided, an appeal will be taken to the state supreme court, the body which reviews the action of the state bar commission.
