Snow, Wind, Sand Surprise For Springtime

ANYONE FOR AN INSTANT DRIVE IN?—Muleshoe State Bank was rather surprisingly, turned into an 'instant drive in' early Tuesday morning, when an unknown individual or individuals, drove a vehicle through the first set of doors on the west side of the bank. They then deposited the doors nearly a block south in an intersection and left. Muleshoe City Police Department officers were investigating the criminal mischief at presstime. No one had been taken into custody.

Muleshoe State Adds Drive-In Early On Tuesday

Sometime early Tuesday morning, Muleshoe State Bank was turned into an 'instant drive-in bank' when an unknown vehicle climbed the steps of the bank, slammed into the outer glass doors on the west side, and ripped them out. Shortly after 7 a.m. Tuesday, Sgt. Julian Dominguez found the remains of doors 'from a business' in the middle of the street at West Second St. and Ave. B. Sgt. Dominguez dragged the doors out of the street so they wouldn't be run over, and then planned to check on where they came from. As he was dragging the doors out the street, Troy Stegemoeller arrived at the bank to begin a day's work. He found the west doors missing, and glass and torn metal all around where the door had been located. Stegemoeller called the police department to report the damage. Officers tracked broken glass, but at presstime, were still investigating the early incident that left hundreds and hundreds of dollars of damage to the bank.

Look what 'Mother Nature' has done! She bared her teeth early in the week, and has continued to defy all attempts to make it a genuine, bona-fide spring. After a Sunday of high wind and sand, snow started falling early Monday morning in this area, as an Arctic cold front really whistled through the entire area. Even with the snow melting as soon as it hit the ground, it still created very cold walking and driving conditions as visibility was sharply cut. But, to the north of Muleshoe, as near as Friona, traffic ground to a standstill, or slid to a standstill as blizzard conditions forced all vehicular traffic to halt. Snow snarled traffic, forced the closing of schools and in some instances, the closing of businesses from Hereford to the north. Canyon was paralyzed as all traffic was halted and stranded vehicles in the hundreds were common. Snow also caused as many as 25 vehicles to be involved in a single accident in more than one area, and even officers and paramedics became victims as out-of-control vehicles slid into them on rescue attempts. At Pampa, the roof of a drug store collapsed under the weight of very wet snow. Only one injury was recorded in that incident. Schools in Muleshoe were not affected by the snowstorm that blew on through the area on high winds, and by early afternoon, no vestiges of the white stuff remained. Very light sprinkles were then recorded on Tuesday afternoon, amid predictions by the National Weather Service that wintry conditions would be returning to the area by Thursday. Tuesday morning, a low temperature of 21 degrees was expected to have 'wiped out' most of the apricot and peach crops throughout the area, with other fruits not having bloomed

Softball Tournament Successful

Despite a major March sandstorm, the Third Annual Rocky Flores Softball Tournament wound up on Sunday with defending champions Hereford A's retaining their championship. Sam Gonzales said the Hereford A's defeated the Hereford Merchants to take the championship for the second time in consecutive years. Ricky Castaneda is manager of the Hereford A's, while Ron Cagle is manager of the Hereford Merchants.

In third place was Clovis Excel, managed by Leo Leal, while the fourth place winner was Clovis Budweiser, managed by Frank Sandoval and Raymond Delgado.

Gonzales said invaluable assistance was provided by the Muleshoe Fire Department as they watered down the playing field. Larry Rasco took a truck to the field six times during the afternoon to try to knock down some of the sand.

Most valuable player was Roy Martinez of the Hereford A's, while the Sportsmanship Award went to the Clovis Budweisers.

Rocky Flores, who has Lou Gehrig's disease, and his family expressed their appreciation to those who helped. Sam Gonzales said he expressed his appreciation to the work by Evaristo Sanchez, Edward Orozco, Frank Torres, Jose Triana, Dora Triana, Anita a Mario Flores, the Bailey County Ambulance Service, Alice Gonzales, Amelia Gonzales, and everyone in the community who helped with the tournament in any way.

Jennyslipper Walkathon Slated Here Saturday

Get out your comfortable walking shoes -- and get ready! It's almost time for the Jennyslipper's Walkathon -- the popular event designed to obtain funds for the Fourth of July fireworks and other community projects.

Again this year, for participating in the Saturday, March 28 Walkathon, a number of outstanding prizes are ready to be awarded.

For pledges of $25, you will receive a digital watch, electronic calculator or Inhumanoid; $50, E-Z Rider Hi-Top roller skates (child or adult size); $75, AM/FM Radio with headphones; $100, $25 gift certificate from Ben Franklin; $125, Graphite skateboard or baseball bat and leather fielder's glove; $150, Kodak disc camera; $200, 12" black and white television; $250, 20" BMX bicycle or 26" 10-speed bicycle; and $275, jam box speaker, stereo.

Each participant in the Walkathon will receive an "I Love Muleshoe" badge.

Walkathon sponsors are reminded they may make a 'pledge by the mile' -- for instance, $1 per mile, which would be $10 if the walker completes the 10 miles -- or may make a flat donation, which may be paid at the time, or paid by the time the pledge sheets are to be turned in to the Muleshoe Public Library by Wednesday, April 8. Prizes will be awarded at 10 a.m. on Saturday, April 25, in the parking lot of the Bailey County courthouse.

Participants are asked to set a goal, then seek pledges and donations to bring the pledges up to what you wish to win. Additional sponsor sheets are available at the Muleshoe Public Library.

Each participant will be given a map of the walkathon route, along with a checklist. The checklist must be signed periodically by a Jennyslipper member along the route. On completion of the walk, participants will be given an envelope to collect pledge money. Tell pledges to make checks payable to "Jennyslipper."

THERE FOR THE TOURNAMENT--A nurse makes Rocky Flores comfortable at the Third Annual Rocky Flores Softball Tournament on Saturday afternoon. Despite a wind blowing, Flores was able to attend the tournament held in his honor. He suffers from Lou Gehrig disease, and was formerly very active in softball in and around Muleshoe.

MISD Improvements Make School Here 'Best'

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of three articles outlining the role the Muleshoe Independent School District plays in the survival of Muleshoe. The information was compiled by the superintendent, H. John Fuller.)

Muleshoe I.S.D. began its current academic school improvement efforts in 1983. The improvement efforts began with a commitment from the trustees and from the school administration to become goal and data driven. By becoming goal driven, the district set out to achieve "what is possible" rather than being content with "what is." Becoming data driven meant that the school district would align its school practices with the most current, appropriate professional literature and successful practices. The entire staff is now headed in a direction that will produce the organization and delivery of an instructional program in the elementary and in the secondary schools which assures success for every student. The administration and staff in Muleshoe I.S.D. know that if they organize the schools properly, and offer high-quality instruction, "ALL STUDENTS WILL SUCCEED".

The school district now expects "ALL STUDENTS TO LEARN WELL WHAT IT IS SCHOOLS HAVE FOR THEM TO LEARN".

The school improvement program in Muleshoe is based on three simple premises which guide the thinking and the actions of professionals in the system: (a) all students can learn and succeed; (b) in schooling, success breeds success; and (c) the schools can cause every student to be successful, and the school will not evade the responsibility for doing so.

In the world of pre-school children, there are no failures. Young children differ in learn-

There will be a meeting on Monday, March 30, at 7:30 p.m. in the Muleshoe High School cafeteria for all members of the Muleshoe Athletic Booster Club. All members are encouraged to attend, as plans will be made for the All-Sports Banquet for Muleshoe High School.

James B. Glaze, chairman of the Board of the Federal Land Bank Association of Muleshoe, announced that the annual meeting for the Association will be held in Muleshoe, Tuesday, March 31, at 7:30 p.m. at the Bailey County Civic Center. There will be an election of directors with two positions to be filled. Other members of the board in addition to the chairman, are William Gromowsky, Bovina; Donald Christian, Farwell, Jim Claunch, Bula and Gorden Duncan, Muleshoe. A meal will be served and the annual report from the Association will be presented.

Charlie Vela, son of Joe and Susie Vela, of Muleshoe, has been promoted to the rank of Captain in the U.S. Army. He is stationed at Ft. Bliss, El Paso, and is a member of the Air Defense Artillery Branch. At this time, Capt. Vela is enrolled in the Air Defense Advanced courses. He graduated from Muleshoe High School in 1973 and West Texas State University in 1983. After completion of his courses, he and his family, Teresa, and two children, will be transferred to Germany.

Anchor Bros. Will Perform On Saturday

This Saturday night, March 28, the ever-popular Anchor Brothers, a gospel singing group from Sudan, will be in concert at the old Lyceum Theatre in Clovis.

Members of the group, including Kenneth Richards, Reynon Stanford, Dean Richards, Lanny Hill, W.T. Watson, and Jerry Howard, said they would like to encourage all of their friends, and anyone who enjoys great gospel music to attend the concert at 8:30 p.m. (Central Time) at the Lyceum, which has been turned into a cultural center on Main Street in Clovis.

Located in the 400-block of Main Street, the Lyceum has been renovated and will be providing a very comfortable setting for the Anchor Brothers.

Tickets are available at $4, for adults; and children will be admitted at no charge.

Mark your calendar now, and plan to be in Clovis on Saturday night.

The Anchor Brothers have performed widely over Texas and in Oklahoma, and have eight albums and cassettes available.

Candidate Trio Guest Speakers For Rotarians

A number of visitors were at the Tuesday meeting of the Muleshoe Rotary Club, and those present heard three of the school board candidates speak on behalf of their candidacy.

President Bill Liles said he contacted as many of the school board candidates as he could on Tuesday morning, and three of them were located and agreed to introduce themselves to Rotarians and make brief remarks concerning their candidacy.

Speaking were incumbent Howard Watson, and candidates Cindy Purdy and Sam Herlan. Not present for the luncheon meeting were incumbent Ben Roming and candidates Terry Field and Sandy Noble.

Watson spoke of his experiences with the U.S. Military, and the schools he had attended himself. He said he had two sons in the Muleshoe Public Schools, Troy, a freshman and Neal, a fifth grader.

He said he has spent the past three years on the school board, and spoke of the excellent financial condition of the school; its computer program; the curriculum; personnel and current renovations.

Candidate Cindy Purdy said she has been a resident of Muleshoe for the past 11 years. She and her husband, Dr. Bruce Purdy, have three sons, who shortly will be students in the Muleshoe schools.

She is an educator, and has

Muleshoe Motor Company became another new business in the flourishing town of Muleshoe in 1927 when they opened their doors to sell the popular Ford automobile. Robert and Maurine Hooten purchased Muleshoe Motor Company in 1964. They built new facilities and moved into them at their present location in January, 1973, where they continued to offer sales and services on all Ford and Mercury automobiles, pickups and trucks. In 1983 Robert and Maurine purchases the Plymouth-Dodge-Chrysler franchise, adding it to the present Ford and Mercury series. This made it possible to offer their customers a wider selection of makes and models. For many years Muleshoe Motor Company has offered sales and service of irrigation engines. Today, Muleshoe Motor Company continues to serve the Muleshoe area with complete sales, parts, and service facilities.

KIDS' FOOD CHOICES INFLUENCED BY OTHERS

"Parents often control the food choices of children, and to a lesser extent, those of younger teenagers," says Dr. Dymple Cooksey, a nutritionist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service. "Food choices of older teenagers, however, probably are more influenced by people outside the home," she says. "A USDA study shows that the percentage of eating occasions shared with other household members declines with increasing age through the teen years, and the percentage eaten alone increases." The survey also indicates that youngsters are getting more and more of their nutrients from snacks rather than meals, Cooksey remarks.

"On the average, children aged 6 to 11 get about 18 percent of their calories from snacks, for teenagers this figure rises to 21 percent."

 Burglars worked long and hard most of Wednesday night to knock a hole through a wall and into the vault at E.R. Hart Co. here to steal an estimated $350, sheriff's officers reported Thursday.
 A 16 inch hole was chipped in the wall leading into the store vault. Tools were taken from the store counters, the burglars obviously bringing nothing to the job except the idea. A revolver also from the store stock, was left at the scene.

 Store personnel reported that the burglars overlooked a cache of $2400 in the vault. Files were overturned, papers strewn and the vault left in a mess.

Natural' Meat A Matter Of Definition

From cereal to fruit juice drinks, there are plenty of products labeled "natural" in the supermarket. Now we can add meat and poultry to that list.

What is "natural" meat and poultry?

According to Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist Marilyn Haggard, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has three rules for using the term "natural" on a meat or poultry product.

"To wear the natural label, meat or poultry must have no coloring or artificial ingredients," she says.

"The second requirement is that it have only minimal processing," the nutritionist says. "Examples of minimal processing include cutting, grinding, canning, drying or freezing."

"The label must also explain use of the term," Haggard reports. "For instance, a label might state 'Natural beef -- no added coloring or artificial ingredients; minimally processed.'"

Meat and poultry labels may also carry animal production claims, such as "fed grain grown without the use of pesticides," reports the nutritionist.

Vague terms like "chemical-free" and "organic" are not allowed according to USDA regulations, she emphasizes.

In addition, Haggard says any company using animal production claims on a label will have to document that the claims are accurate. Those animals would have to be raised and transported separately from other livestock or poultry to assure that the two groups of animals don't get mixed together.

The nutritionist points out that consumers will probably wind up paying more for meat or poultry with a natural label or a production claim.

"The natural label meat and poultry products are likely to be safe, wholesome and nutritious, but so are the regular products, which meet rigid production and labeling standards of their own," notes Haggard.

Muleshoe Study Club Hears Program On Foster Parenting

Muleshoe Study Club met Thursday, Feb. 26 in the home of Mrs. Barry Lewis with 12 members and a guest present. Mrs. Bary Moynihan was guest speaker for the day and brought a program on Foster Parenting.

She explained that to get to be a foster parent, you have to attend meetings for 15 hours study and have visits in your home by a welfare worker. To maintain these license you must have at least 15 hours study and instruction.

At the present time, there are five foster homes in Bailey County and one emergency foster home. The Moynihan's are foster parents and have a 16 year old girl in their home at this time.

She stated that usually a period of six months in one home is the limit for one child to stay, but in certain circumstances this can be longer.

Mrs. Moynihan said "there have been some cases of child abuse in Bailey County this year. If you know of a case of child abuse, you are required by law to report this. There is strict confidence in who called about the abuse and you will not be identified."

Those attending the meeting were: Mrs. R.O. Gregory, Mrs. Rufus Gilbreath, Mrs. T.R. White, Mrs. Joe Costen, Mrs. J.G. Ann, Mrs. Wilson Witherpoon, Mrs. Melvin Wilterding, Mrs. Wilma Thompson, Mrs. Betty Jo Carpenter, Mrs. Doyle Turner, Mrs. H.S. Sanders and the hostess, Mrs. Lewis.

Following the program, Mrs. Witherpoon read correspondence and the group learned that the girl from Girlstown, that the club sponsored, had been able to return home. There will probably be another girl to sponsor at another time.

The Girlstown at Whiteface has merged with the Cal Farley's Boy's Ranch, but will still be a separate unit for the girls. This was brought about by financial problems.

The Study Club met in the Santa Fe Depot on March 12 with Mrs. Joe Costen as hostess. Mrs. Marketa Adams' FHA class cooked and served several different food items and punch for the club members.

The program of the day was a group of Young Homemakers from Littlefield giving a flag drill of "Six Flags Over Texas." This was reported to be an informative and patriotic display and enjoyed by all attending.

Betty Jo Carpenter finished up the program by reading some of the flag ediquate of the United States Flag and a reading of "Red Skeleton's Pledge to the Flag."

A short business meeting was held and the club voted to buy a table and chairs for the meeting room at the Santa Fe meeting room. A tour of the building was led by Mrs. Roland McCormick.

The Heritage Foundation will be holding an auction to raise money for the finishing work on the Santa Fe Depot building and also for the Janes Ranch House. This will be held on May 2 at the Bailey County Civic Center. Everyone is encouraged to come out and make this a successful event.

Decline Of A Small Town

(Editor's Note: With a lot of emphasis centering on 'Shopping at Home,' this poem is being re-produced--just to think about. It has previously run in the Bovina and Groom newspapers.)

DECLINE OF A SMALL TOWN

By Marg Calder
The men were quite cocky as they stood in the sun.
Let's go to the city, stock up and have fun.
We'll buy by the case all under one roof.
And save lots, too, of that we have proof."
So they did just that for many a year.
And from the results never took any fear
Until one day they met once again
Standing uptown just out of the rain
"What's happening here!" cried one in dismay.
Their faces were ashen, they had much to say.
Then one scratched his head. The other said loud,
"There's no beer and no coffee,
not even a crowd.
My wife is real sick and right off her feet
I came for some drugs, some milk and some meat
The hospital is closed, the grocery store's too.
What in the world are we going to do?"
My furnace is shot and the plumbing all broken."
The other one gasped, I thought he was chokin'
"My car's a near wreck and my tires are low
I need nails and lumber, and there's no place to go."
His friend had his head right down to his chest

Sheriffs Office Report

According to the jail log at the Bailey County Sheriff's office, the following arrests were shown:
Two for disorderly conduct; and one each for city warrants, public intoxication and theft sentencing.
Charges for driving while intoxicated were filed on Herbert Lynn Day, 58, $750 bond and Alfonso, Irigoyen, 22, released to Border Patrol.
In other activity, the sheriff's office investigated burglaries at Buster Kittrell's where a utility trailer had been stolen and the theft from Jim Pat Claunch of a cassette, drill bits and electric drill, with a total value of $90.

"We're to blame," he murmured,
"On our heads it does rest,
"We passed this town for the glimmer of lights,
Buy stuff by the car load and took in the sights.
The city is bustling and bursting with pride.
While all our own merchants just up and died.
The houses are empty, the bank's repossessed.
I'll tell you old boy we're in for a test."
"We should have been smarter and wiser," they said.
"Then the town would be bustling, not half so dead."
"It's never too late, we've learned," someone did say.
But for the foolishness of many they'd all have to pay.
They parted at last as the wind turned cold.
And muttered, "Buy locally as his story is told."

taught in the Muleshoe Schools for one year. She spent 10 years as a teacher, and has a Master's degree in education. Mrs. Purdy also said she has 15 hours toward an administrator's certificate, leaning toward curriculum.

She said she believes in a well-balanced curriculum, improvements in the work climate of the school, extra curricular activities and public relations.

Mrs. Purdy said she had the time and the interest to devote necessary time to the schools.

Sam Harlan, who previously spent six months as a school board member, is again a candidate. He explained that he had resigned after six months because his sister had moved to Muleshoe and was qualified for a position with the schools.

He is a native of this area, and attended school in Lazbuddie, before attending South Plains College at Levelland where he received a junior college degree, then received a bachelor of agricultural engineering from Texas Tech.

He spent several years with Halliburton, then has farmed just northwest of Muleshoe for the last 12 years.

He said he believed the responsibility of the school as a "Trustee" was for the welfare of the children, and that he would be available to listen to anyone.

Tommy Gunstream reported briefly on a Rotary Workshop he attended in San Antonio and presented several ideas for fund-raising that he had been taught during the workshop. Some of the ideas presented were very well-received by his fellow Rotarians.

Gunstream said 235 of the 412 Rotary Clubs in the state were represented at the workshop.

President Bill Liles had a petition with him for Rotarians to sign. It had been left with him by a member of the Muleshoe Police Department and the petition asked for Wayne Holmes to be named the Muleshoe Chief of Police.

INDIAN WEATHER FORECAST--Moisture will be 'poor,' says Weldom Crim, who took over the Indian Weather forecast after his father, the late J.W. Crim, died a few years ago. Every year, at sunrise on March 22, the forecast is made. Crim said the wind was blowing south to north, denoting poor moisture this spring. He said his father started the forecast in the 1920's, the process from his own father, the late Taylor Crim. Taylor Crim learned to do the forecast from Indians who lived near El Paso at the turn of the century, says Weldom Crim.

ing speed, but in the home environment, all children learn a great deal. Pre-school children are effective and efficient learners, and this is what everyone expects them to be.

When the same children enter school, they often enter a world of very different expectations. In this new world, some of the most important people in their lives expect some of them to fail, not so in Muleshoe. Muleshoe is committed to aligning its practices to bring about success for all students. The public commitment made by the school district will bring about even more success.

Where some school districts believe that factors such as socio-economic status, race, or family background predict success and failure, the administration in the Muleshoe Independent School District believes that the school district should accept the responsibility for the success of every student regardless of socio-economic status, race, or family background.

The school improvements efforts now under way in Muleshoe are not revolutionary, they are evolutionary and will make a significant difference in the quality of education being received by the students now enrolled in the school system. This quality education is different from past experiences in three ways.

First, the quality of instruction has been dramatically improved. This has come about as a result of increased training using the latest research in effective instructional processes.

Secondly, the curriculum has evolved to the point that prerequisite skills are now identified before a student is allowed to proceed through the instructional process. Again, research has shown that learning is more effective when one has the skills necessary to learn something new rather than trying to learn something without the proper background. And, finally, the third element is a concentrated effort by all members of the staff to make school more enjoyable. Students are, just as adults are, DRIVEN BY SUCCESS not failure. The school district hopes to join hands with the community in letting every student know that they are expected to learn and to learn well in the Muleshoe Public Schools.

Farmers welcomed the additional moisture, slight as it was, as planting time nears for those planting spring vegetables and corn. Winter wheat also benefited from the additional ground moisture, amid reports of a "very scant" moisture pattern for the spring this year.

MHS Mock Trial Team Gave Presentation

The Muleshoe High School Mock Trial Team gave a public presentation of the statewide Mock Trial case on Monday, March 16 at 8:00 p.m. in the Bailey County Courtroom. The public was encouraged to come to this presentation and show support for these young people who spent many hours preparing the case.

The Mock Trial team was chosen from the Muleshoe High School U.S. Government classes and was sponsored by Mrs. Jean Allison, their teacher. Mrs. Linda Elder, local county attorney gave freely to help coach these students in correct legal procedures.

The team recently competed in the regional Mock Trial Competition beating Denver City in the first round but losing out to Lubbock Monterrey in the final round. This is a tremendous learning experience but one which places the smaller school, such as Denver City and Muleshoe, at a disadvantage. Lubbock, before meeting these schools, has been through several contests with the benefits of being critiqued at the end of each competition. The Lubbock schools always maintain that the Muleshoe teams are some of the hardest they encounter.

Team members this year were Debbie Isaac and Mark Mata, prosecuting attorneys; Nathan Lloyd and Scott Williams, defense attorneys; Jana Brown and Darren Albertson, witnesses for the prosecution and the defense; Leah Bell and Paul Chamberlain, alternates.

This case was a very interesting one; a young man was accused of selling marijuana to an undercover police woman. A very special invitation was given to the public to come to the Bailey County Courtroom, Monday, March 16.

Creative Writing Classes Doing 'Characterizations'

A Friend Who Made a Difference

by: Jennifer Green

Why she chose me as a friend back in the eighth grade is still a mystery to me. I was quiet, shy, and studious-not like most of her other friends who were pretty, popular, and outgoing. She and I became friendly as we walked to our classes together that first week of school; I remember thinking that it would never last, that our different interests would drive us apart. Little did I know that Ali Cage would become a close confidante whose influence would change my outlook on life.

Physically, Ali has changed very little since that year, or so it seems to me. She still wears her light brown hair short and neat. Clear blue eyes shine from beneath dark brows and a ready smile accentuates her squarish face. She is medium height and large-boned, and she possesses a sort of girlish glamour that comes from being well bred.

This is especially evident in her amiable manner, for Ali is one of the friendliest people I have ever known.

Yes, friendly and polite, but hard to really get to know. Through some of our shared interests and even our differing views, however, I gradually got an idea of what Ali was like. I found that we had many things in common-the most memorable one to me is our passion for books. That year we discovered a prairie romance series that swept us away to a land of the past. How I loved those books! Today I own a whole set of them and have even given a set to each of my grandmothers. I never fail to think of Ali whenever I get them out and reread them, either.

It isn't only good books that Ali and I share, however, because we also have similar beliefs and values. This became evident to me the day a local family was involved in a tragic automobile accident. Ali's parents visited the family that evening to offer their help: she

The Man Behind The Humor

SCAC Chooses Citizen Of The Month

The Student Community Action Club held a meeting in the home of Shawn Bussey Friday, March 20. Leah Bell, the club's vice-president, conducted the meeting in place of Debbie Isaac who was not present. Elizabeth Posadas opened the meeting with a prayer and Jana Brown read the minutes from the last meeting.

Before the general business on the club's agenda was discussed, the citizen-of-the-month for February and March were presented with their awards. Shawn Bussey introduced Jim Young, February's Citizen-of-the-Month, who spoke on community activities. Next, Leah Bell introduced the Citizen-of-the-Month for March, Charles Hamilton, who gave a short talk about the importance of the involvement of people in community organizations. These men were recognized for their many contributions to the community.

SCAC's general business included appointing a committee to contact entertainment for the upcoming Celebrity Auction and appointing a committee to set up an SCAC money-making project. Also, members voted on a new Citizen-of-the-Month. It was decided that next month's Student Community Action Clubs meeting will be held at Jana Brown's house with the time and date to be announced. Leah Bell adjourned the meeting and the members were invited to enjoy refreshments.

Tennis Team Travels To Brownfield

The tennis team travelled to Brownfield Friday and Saturday for the Brownfield tournament. The team did very well in the opening rounds with most of the players advancing into the quarter-finals. As a team the mules finished fifth overall and freshmen Lisa Triana and Stacey McElroy finished third. Johnny Beavers, Chaun Gunstream, and Jerry Bob Graves all placed fourth in the tournament. The team matched up very well with the bigger schools such as Lamesa and Lubbock Dunbar. This will probably be the largest tournament the team will be in this year. There were 189 individuals in the draw and a total of 18 teams present.

The tennis team had a dual match at Hart on Monday and another one at Friona on Tuesday. The team has an open weekend this week but will play in the Plainview Open next weekend.

When I opened the door I received an unexpected surprise. My uncle greeted me in a Santa Claus suit, dancing and singing "Jingle Bells." To a six year old, this was a very humorous and unforgettable experience. Humor was only a small part of the complex man to whom I could always turn to for guidance and support.

Uncle Ramon was a tall, stocky man with a large, thick mustache. His eyes were small and seemed out of place on his ample face. He had a broad forehead covered with age lines that resembled dried up rivers. Whenever he smiled, deep valleys that ran from the end of his mouth up to his nose were formed. He used to tell me that a person's face told quite a bit about his personality and I think this was true for him.

I have never know any one like my uncle. Family and religion always came first with him. He was unconcerned with the future and lived life in the present, unlike many people today. He despises gossiping and would get very upset when he would catch my aunt doing it. Although humor was one of his greatest assets, he could also be very serious, and it was then that I could come to him with my problems.

My uncle was one of the few people to whom I could really talk to. I didn't have to worry about being judged unfairly. He would just listen to me and when I was through, he would give me his unbiased opinion. He didn't give me any lectures and this made me feel like he trusted me and knew that I would make the right decision. Since my uncle was always there for me, I was not prepared for the day that I would lose him.

I woke up one morning and found my mother crying in the kitchen. I asked her what was wrong and she told me that my aunt had just informed her that Uncle Ramon had just died. I felt a burning sensation in my heart as the tears started coming out of my eyes. It took me a long time to get over the pain of losing someone so dear to me. He was more than just another relative. To me he was part brother, part friend, and part father, and I will never forget him.

English Students Explore ENMU Campus

The yellow bus lunged forward loaded with twenty-six English students anxious to arrive at the Eastern New Mexico University campus. The purpose of this field trip to Portales was for everyone to find a source for his research paper.

Soon after their early arrival, the librarian of the Golden Library escorted the small group on a tour through the library. She carefully identified the areas where necessary information was located and graciously offered her assistance if needed. After the introduction to the prodigious, two-story library, the students rapidly gathered books to aid in writing their research papers. Thanks to the assistance of Mrs. Wrinkle the essential materials were located in plenty of time for lunch.

Everyone was given the choice of the cafeteria or a coffee shop for lunch. Most people chose the cafeteria which had a variety of entrees, a salad bar, and several desserts (even ice cream!) The size of the room, not to mention its occupants, reminded the students that they were on a college campus.

After the better-than-usual lunch, the students were divided into smaller groups and were given a tour of the campus by the Chapparals. Seeing different parts of the college was fun and interesting. When the tours were completed, the students loaded the bus and headed for home. The day had been advantageous for research papers and for senior spirits.

A well of water...

Many important events have taken place at the well. In days long ago it was a meeting place, where all came because of the necessity to obtain life-sustaining water.

Job met his beloved Rachel at the well. Moses met the daughters of his future father-in-law at the well in Midian. Much later Jesus Christ met a woman of Samaria at the well and said, "Whoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life."

The church of God today is a meeting place where many come to obtain this life-giving and life-sustaining water of which Jesus spoke

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedom which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, we should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Easy Credit

Periodically, warnings are issued by concerned economists about the huge credit debt being amassed by credit card holders.

Yet in the past year efforts to pass out credit cards to more and more individuals have become even more intense.

Though most banks are still charging exorbitant interest rates (18 percent or more), card holders seem willing to pay such rates. New credit cards are being offered and mailed unrequested in promotional campaigns.

The biggies, like VISA, have policies that make one wonder. A card holder whose credit limit is $4400 can owe $4200 and be informed on his monthly statement that his account is paid up and that no payment is due!

Also, many banks are eagerly promoting the scheme that all members of the family be issued credit cards. (This results in more and more debt.)

Credit card companies pursuing such irresponsible and short-sighted policies have only themselves to blame, if and when an economic crunch results in much of this easy credit going unpaid.

Child Care

One of the better ideas of recent years is employer-supported child care centers.

Working mothers find such facilities highly convenient. They can often visit these centers at lunchtime. Delivery and pickup of children is simplified.

More and more corporations and businesses are finding that support of nearby child care centers, sometimes on the employer's property, is good business. It makes for contented and appreciative workers, which in turn aids productivity and efficiency.

The current popularity and success of these child care centers indicates this trend will be a rapid one, that in future years employer-supported child care centers may be almost taken for granted.

More and more mothers are finding it necessary to work; employer-supported child care centers are a logical, inevitable and beneficial corollary.

In Fashion

Denim has moved to the forefront of the fashion scene. The quality in jackets and coats never looked better. Stone-washed denim is definitely making its impact. Denim, also featured in footwear, belts and handbags, is decorated with embroidery, studs, chains and leather.

Lacy collars on new spring sweaters are another sign of softness in today's fashions. Detachable lace collars are available and can be attached to last year's sweaters.

Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Acres looks at the college football scandal this week.

Dear editor:
Timing is said to be the key to success in acting, after-dinner speaking, slam-dunking, announcing for President, playing the stock market, planting in the moon, etc.

Hence there was bad timing when college recruiting scandals came right in the middle of the Iran-Contra scandal. For best results, you need one scandal at a time.

Even so, in some areas the college scandal has risen above the other scandal on front pages.

As sports followers know, shock waves went through the athletic departments of major colleges across the country when the NCAA threw the book at S.M.U. in Dallas for buying football players. As punishment, the school can't field a team this fall and students will have little to do on fall afternoons.

The shock waves were so strong that I have a notion star football players at nearly every major college in the country were told to keep their new cars out of sight for a while.

You see, paying college football players is not against the rule. Paying them too much is. They can get free room, board, tuition and laundry money, which these days is a large sum, but anything beyond that is against the rule, and is especially against the rule if you get caught.

Abolishing football for a year at S.M.U. is calculated to send a strong message to coaches and athletic boosters around the country, and the message is: we've got to be a lot more careful about how we pay our football players.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

NOTES... COMMENTS

The way to have good government is to have honest voters, as well as honest officials.

A government, administered for the good of all citizens, should recognize no privileged class.
