Little League Opening Ceremony Held Saturday

GETTING READY TO BEGIN LITTLE LEAGUE--Saturday afternoon, after all the 1987 Little League Baseball teams were introduced at Roger Miller Park, coaches took to the field to do necessary work to get ready for opening night on Monday. Here, several coaches are working on the pitcher's mound, raking, smoothing and getting it ready to 'Play Ball.' Muleshoe Co-Op Gin's Annual Meeting Tonight

Although gray, leaden skies threatened the area all day on Tuesday, little moisture was recorded.

Officially, .12 was recorded in the National Weather Service gauge in the City of Muleshoe, and little more fell in surrounding areas.

Mrs. Ernest Ramm, who resides two miles east of Lariat, reported three or four nice, light showers, and very little moisture recorded.

From the Maple area, where unconfirmed reports of a tornado on the ground were received, Maple Co-op Gin reported "rain in spots, with the heaviest rain to the west and south in Cochran County."

East of Lazbuddie, at Foster Fertilizer, Demp Foster said they had received just a little rain, from .3 to one half inch.

To the west of Lazbuddie, Harrol Redwine said he had received around one-half inch of rain, and that appeared to be fairly general in the entire Lazbuddie community.

Lazbuddie Duo Chosen To Attend Girls', Boys' State

Steve Bradshaw, son of Donnie Mae Bradshaw of Abilene and nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bradshaw of Lazbuddie, was selected by his teachers to attend the American Legion Boys State Seminar to be held on the campus of the University of Texas on June 6-12. Chosen as alternate for the honor is Pat McBroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orin McBroom.

Amy Daniel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Roy Daniel of Lazbuddie, was chosen by her teachers to attend the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State Seminar to be held at the Texas Lutheran College at Seguin, June 16-26. Alternate for the honor is Tammie Vise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Vise.

City Opens, Approve Local Bid For General Purpose Tractor

Only three members of the Muleshoe City Council were present for a meeting of the council Tuesday at 8 a.m. Mayor Pro-tem A.V. Wood presided in the absence of Mayor Darrell Turner, and councilman Paul Wilbanks was not at the meeting.

Despite the earlier meeting, Frank Goodman of General

Telephone Exchange met with council members with 'nothing to report specifically to report.' He also said there was nothing new on the rate case.

Goodman said they have found, identified and corrected problems in the cable in the city, and have corrected bad spots in the country. At this time, there was no new construction to report, and parking was being changed at the front and sides of the telephone company to facilitate easier traffic flows from the drive-in banking facilities at First Bank.

The GET spokesman was followed by a delay, waiting for the 8:30 a.m. time as specified to open bids on a new general purpose tractor for the city.

Bids opened included bids from Fry & Cox, Inc. for $21,700 for a two-wheel drive and $23,290 for a four-wheel drive tractor.

Also, $19,999 for a two wheel, $26,708 for a four wheel and $24,780 for a two wheel and $27,389 for a four wheel from Dent and Co.

Bidding also was Earl Ladd Equipment, with $20,550 on a two-wheel and $25,000 on a four wheel Allis-Chalmers.

Receiving the bid was C&H Equipment, with $20,550 on a two-wheel and $25,000 on a four wheel tractor.

ARE YOU MISSING YOUR FLOOR?--Sunday morning, following a wind and sandstorm Saturday evening, Kenneth Precure found this intact floor, approximately 14'x18', leaning up against his hay barn in the Y-L community. It doesn't belong to the Precures, and they have no idea where it came from. The only damage is to the corner where the floor landed at the barn, and the corner when it toppled from the post that supported it for several hours after it apparently came flying through the air to the Precure farm.

CofC President Gives Rotary Activity Update

A Mulshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture update was presented by Ron Montgomery, president of the CofC, for the Mulshoe Rotary Club Tuesday at noon. The program was arranged by Leon Watson.

Montgomery told Rotarians that apparently all board members of the CofC, with the exception of female board members, appeared to be members of the Rotary Club.

Activities he outlined included the RV Park -- and said it is beginning to take hold. It will be located to the west of Five Area Telephone Cooperative, and will include 8-10 hook-ups for RV-type vehicles. No charge will be made to stay overnight, but the limit is three days, except in the instance of emergencies, when longer stays can be arranged.

Montgomery said they presently have approximately 60 percent of the materials necessary to complete the free overnight camping facility for travelers, adding that it is hoped the park will generate more dollars being spent locally.

He spoke about the Mulshoe Activities Committee, saying it was going strong, and continues to be strong. Also, during the July 4 drawing, one-half of the money accumulated will be given away, and at Christmas, all money held by MAC at this time will be given away. At this time, the account shows some $1,200 which will grow some more before the July drawing, and will grow a lot more before the Christmas drawing.

Right now, the "What's Good About Mulshoe" contest is over, and results will be released next week. Students in the Mulshoe schools are eligible for scholarships and prizes.

Montgomery reminded Rotarians that Hellen Adrian's art classes from Mulshoe High Schools are designing and painting more than 60 fire plugs. After the plugs are judged, winning students will receive cash awards, as well as a $100 check to be presented to the art class.

The CofC president also discussed the clean-up campaign, and praised the fourth graders from De Shazo, who worked all day last Friday.

He also said the city and state are working with the clean-up committee, and are spraying weeds and taking down dead trees; the city is picking up trash around abandoned buildings and owners of abandoned buildings are being contacted about the possibility of tearing them down.

Montgomery said the plans for the CofC Pheasant Hunt are being finalized, and said farmers will be control of their own land for the hunt.

All area Chambers of Commerce will be invited to an upcoming golf tournament said Montgomery.

He concluded by expressing his appreciation for everyone who is helping to make Mulshoe a better place to live.

Tommy Gunstream, said the RYLA committee has chosen Shawn Nieman and Kevin King to attend Camp Ryla this summer, and two girls will also be chosen.

Bob Capp of Lubbock spoke briefly of the youth exchange program, and suggested the Mulshoe Rotary Club consider a summer exchange student, perhaps one applicant from North Italy, or another from West Germany.

Guests at the meeting included Ron Montgomery, Charles Aycock, Johnny Atkinson, Hugh Moseley, Bob Capp and Cleta Williams

It's a smart child who understands its parents.

Creative Living

by Sheryl Borden

Three interesting topics will be presented on "Creative Living" on Saturday, May 23 at 2:00 pm on KENW-TV.

For many people, celebration means entertaining. Beth Kath-an, Public Relations Manager for the Oster Co. in Milwaukee, WI will share several non-alcoholic drinks for your next gathering. These drinks can be pleasing no-alcohol versions of the old favorites, or they can be something new that will soon become an "old favorite." Guests will appreciate your thoughtfulness in offering them this choice.

Leather garments are very popular now -- both in ready-to-wear, and in garment leather to create your own designs to wear. Suzi Holder is with the State 4-H Office in Las Cruces, and she's going to discuss purchasing and selecting garment leather.

Most of us have heard about the importance of increasing calcium in the diet to help prevent the bone disease, osteoporosis. Helen Hattan is a home economist with the National Dairy Board, and she will demonstrate how to use cheese to get this important mineral into our diet. Helen is from Toronto, Canada.

Whether you like to knit or just like the look of knitted garments, the new Singer Knitting Machine is a product to take a second look at. Beverly Siefert, owner of The Sewing Center in Arkansas City, Kansas will demonstrate this machine and show how to make a knitted sweater.

Information on furniture refinishing and a discussion on selecting and working with an interior designer will be presented on "Creative Living" on Thursday, May 21 at 12 noon.

Lynn Gerhart is an expert in the area of furniture refinishing.

ing. Her father, Ron Hack, was her teacher, and he has created a unique product that makes the job much easier. Lynn travels around the country demonstrating this product, called ORB, which means Quickly Restores Beauty. She will present a mini-course in refinishing. Lynn's from Boynton Beach, FL.

Another guest is the current president of the American Society of Interior Designers. Janet Schirn is from New York, and she's going to talk about how to select and work with an interior designer. We'll find out what to look for in a designer's portfolio to help determine if the particular designer is the one for you. Janet will also explain the basic design process and tell how most designers get the job done.

IRRIGATION IN VALLEY ACTIVE AND PUMPS ARE PUT IN ACTION

Dry weather is influencing farmers in the Muleshoe country to start up their irrigation plants. Many Muleshoe plants are in operation now, and others, which have not been in operation in years, are being fitted up for duty.

Not less than a week ago an old timer of the plains stated his opinion that it would not be many years before this section of country would be cut up into small irrigated acreages. Today a successful stock farmer who lives north of Muleshoe, expressed his opinion that irrigated farming was the coming thing in Muleshoe country.

Through a series of years enough has been learned about irrigation here to remove the speculative element from irrigated farming if one will only avail himself of the experience of those who have operated various kinds of irrigation plants.

TECH COLLEGE GETS LIBRARY
A ten year dream came true last Saturday when Tech College, Lubbock received an authorized appropriation from the Legislature of $275,000 for a library building, half the sum to be available this year.

Tech also was given an appropriation of $1,335,000 or approximately $400,000 higher than two years ago for the 1937-39 biennium, which will enable that institution to keep its present faculty and make some needed additions to the educational staff. The appropriation bill also ordered restoration of 90 percent of the salary cuts made in 1933, when the depression hit the state the hardest.

ROAD PAVING IS UNDERWAY
Rapid progress is reported on Bailey County's first stretch of the recently authorized farm to market road paving project, it is reported.

The contractor began work at the county line in the north west part of the county and is rapidly getting the dirt moved. A recent rain in the neighborhood made the ground easier to work and the crews are taking every advantage of this condition.

Bailey County will have this 26 miles of farm to market roads completed for this fall harvest.

MULESHOE MADE TORTILLAS ARE NOW ON MARKET

Tortillas made in the Muleshoe Tortillas Factory are now on the market in local grocery stores. The factory, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Leal, is located in a spacious building just erected on the Sudan highway.

The Leals, residents of Muleshoe for several years, will establish delivery routes to out-laying towns as soon as they can arrange for refrigerated transportation. Tortillas must be kept in refrigerators until ready for use.

The Leals have made a complete study of manufacture and handling of tortillas and have installed modern machinery.

At present the tortillas are wrapped by hand and placed in a specially printed sack, 18 to the pack. Later an automatic wrapper will be added by the Leals.

HAIL: WATER DAMAGE WIDESPREAD: BOON TO DRYLAND FARMERS

Young crops were wiped out in many places—others damaged and some spared during Thursday afternoon's heavy downpour over the plains with Bailey County's rain gages over flowing in some places and ranging on down to one and half inches in others.

Coming on the heels of the afternoon was an additional torrent which hit the city proper about 7:45 and covered the area with another blanket of water and turned the ground white with marble sized hail.

By noon Friday Blackwater Draw running along the southern city limits was flooding homes and businesses on lower south Main Street. Residents were evacuated from six homes in that sector as city employees with graders and shovels cut trenches across the pavement on Main Street to speed the flow of water into the open land in effort to save other home damage from rising water.

TORNADO DAMAGES THREE WAY SCHOOL

Mike Sowder, a teacher at the Three Way School, was sitting in his apartment south of the school complex grading papers. His telephone rang, and his mother, who lives a few miles down the road, told him they were watching a tornado which appeared to be nearing the location of the school.

He told his mother perhaps he had better go outside and look. Mike Sowder didn't have time to look, at approximately 8:29 p.m. Tuesday night the tornado slammed into the apartment complex. Sowder, who was alone in his apartment was not injured although the apartment received heavy damage, including tires from a mobile home slamming through his back door.

The mobile home was flung over a wide area. However a dog house near the mobile home was untouched. No one was at home at the time the tornado blasted the mobile home. The fast moving tornado had already taken out the football field clock and restrooms adjacent to the football field before it hit the mobile home, and then the barracks-apartment complex.

Two apartments east of the Sowder apartment were demolished in the storm which then totally destroyed the ag building, to the south of the main school building. Scattered debris bore mute testimony to the fury of the storm. Huge steel beams from the ag building were scattered across a field across from the school, and initial reports indicated a five mile long debris trail from where the tornado first struck down.

The main building was apparently undamaged in the storm and no injuries were logged.

Nutritious Snacks For Children

Children always seem hungry and ready for a snack. When their hunger strikes, don't panic. Snacks are a perfect way to give them a little extra nutrition.

"Fresh fruits, celery, carrot sticks, and cheese are just a few ideas for some good nutritious snacks," says Marilyn Haggard, a nutritionist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service. "They don't take much more time to prepare than other types of snacks and they're much better for children."

Other good ideas for nutritious snacks are popcorn, dairy products, small sandwiches, and any of the variety of crackers, muffins, and breads.

Since as much as one-fourth of their day's calories come from snacks, it's important to watch what children eat.

"Children will eat whatever food is around. The best way to keep them from eating junk foods is to keep more nutritious snacks in the house," the specialist says.

"A bit of dip on vegetables and fruits may make them more attractive. Just be careful not to give the child too much because dips often are high in fat and salt content," says Haggard.

When feeding small children, be careful about the size of the portion served. The specialist says they need snacks make to a size they can handle, and shouldn't be given round, hard or slippery pieces of food that they can choke on. Peanut butter may also be a little too difficult for small children to eat.

"Snack times may be hard to enforce, especially if a parent isn't around, but they can be a good idea. Appointing a certain time as a snack time may keep children from eating too close to meal time," she says.

Haggard adds, "It's important to set good eating habits early on. If children are encouraged to eat nutritious snacks they will learn to like those tastes and are more likely to continue to enjoy those foods throughout their lives."

SCAC Students

Involved In

Community Projects

The Student Community Action Club (SCAC) has been industriously trying to make the constitution of their organization a living and vital part of the club. SCAC works with the Muleshoe Heritage Foundation helping to preserve some of the area's heritage and culture and were very active recently in the Muleshoe Heritage Celebrity Auction. This was the second celebrity auction and was conducted at the Bailey County Civic Center on Saturday, May 2, from 7:00 A.M. until 10:30 P.M.

All proceeds from the auction are used at the Muleshoe Heritage Center to help restore the Muleshoe depot and on the Old James' Ranch house, which will be used by the whole community as well as being a unique tourist attraction.

It took much cooperation among all of those who worked so diligently to make this event the tremendous success that it was. The SCAC group was responsible for planning, providing and coordinating all the entertainment presented on this day. SCAC was very proud of the unusual talent presented all day at the Civic Center and they extended sincere thanks to all of those who so generously gave their time and talent to make the day a very enjoyable one.

SCAC members not only got together the talent, but members worked on both Friday and Saturday as engineers with the sound and TV presentation, acting as auctioneers, runners, host and hostesses, and any other job which needed to be done. Other members appeared as a part of the program and all SCAC members who worked so hard can have a feeling of accomplishment. They helped make the goal of the club a reality - to help make Muleshoe a better place in which to live.

SCAC will be having a meeting on May 19, which will be a party to welcome new members who have been asked to join the group. Those who will be juniors or seniors solicit membership by completing a form designed by SCAC members and from this group, new members were chosen. This meeting will be held at Beth Sanders' home and officers from the coming year will be elected and next year's agenda will be outlined. The last meeting of the year will be elected a short one for installation of officers, conducted by old officers. The 1986-87 year has been one SCAC members believe to be a complete success.

Student Council

Officers Travel

To Austin Meet

The new M.H.S. Student Council Officers and Mrs. Pylant traveled to the 51st Annual Conference of the Texas Association of Student Councils at Austin of May 1-2. The officers present included: President - Johnny Garcia; Vice-President - Norma Jean Del Toro; Secretary - Selina Gonzalez; Reporter - Armando Del Toro; and Historian - Esther Acosta. The theme of the meeting was "Piecing Together a Better Tomorrow." At this meeting, the officers attended various workshops which will ameliorate their leadership abilities and fund-raising activities.

The small group took time out to water ski and sun at a beautiful lake on the way home. Here, Mrs. Pylant exhibited skills that most students believe their teachers are incapable of possessing. All in all, the trip proved to be a fun-filled learning experience.

UMPIRE AND PLAYER-Two of the participants at the Little League Opening Ceremonies last Saturday were David Gray, left, head umpire for the Bronco League and his son, Scott Gray, player for the Bronco League Sox. They both indicated they were ready to "kick off" the 1987 Little League season.

Deworming Pays For Cattlemen

Preliminary results of deworming trials conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in cow-calf and stock calf herds show that deworming is a profitable practice for beef producers, points out Spencer Tanksley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Production benefits of strategically timed deworming programs in Texas showed an average 28-pound advantage in weaning weights for spring-born calves from dewormed cows and a 16-pound gain advantage for stocker heifers dewormed in the spring.

The 28-pound advantage represents an increase of 7.3

percent in calf weaning weights over the control group, notes Tanksley, and a return of about $16—almost a 6 to 1 return for dollar invested. In one trial, treated cows gained an additional 43 pounds per head over those in a control group.

The 16-pound gain in the stocker heifers was a return of $8.25 per head to the producer.

The trials are aimed at evaluating deworming programs and the economics of internal parasite control for beef cow-calf and stocker calf herds in distinctly different environmental areas of Texas, says Tanksley. He Hoechst-Roussel Agri-Vet Co., which manufactures the dewormer SAFE-GUARD (fenbendazole), cooperated in the study.

A total of 195 spring calving cow-calf pairs were involved in the statewide study. One group received the recommended dosage of SAFE-Guard TM the last week of February for control of internal parasites while the control group received no deworming treatment. Both treated and control groups were pastured separately in areas not previously grazed that year and kept there until calves were weaned. Calves in the treatment group also were treated with the recommended dosage of SAFE-Guard TM about 3 months of age.

According to Tanksley, the deworming studies are a part of the on-going Extension beef program focusing on "Integrated Resource Management." Additional studies are planned over the state this year and into 1988 to evaluate more accurately the strategic timing of deworming both spring and fall calving herds, the county agent points out.

Based on preliminary results, Tanksley outlines these cost-effective, seasonal control practices for producers regarding deworming:

COW/CALF
 --Deworm cows between March 1 and April 15 (before extended grass growth).
 --Deworm the calves by June 1. Calves should weigh at least 200 pounds at deworming.
 --Depending on the length of the grazing season, treating the cow in late fall or early winter may be beneficial.
COW/CALF
STOCKER CATTLE AND BRED HEIFERS ON PERMANENT PASTURES
 --Deworm when spring grass growth begins, followed by a second treatment three to four weeks later, and a third treatment three weeks after the second treatment.

Horticulture Offers Enterprise Diversity

Horticultural crops have made inroads in Texas agriculture over the past five years due to declining revenues from traditional agricultural enterprises.

And further information on horticultural crops for agricultural diversification will be discussed at a statewide conference May 26 which will be presented via satellite.

Because of economic conditions, many producers have had to diversify their operations to maintain profitability, points out Dr. Calvin Lyons, horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. During this time horticultural crops such as blueberries, grapes and vegetables have played a significant role in the diversification process. As a result, Texas horticultural industries have experienced rapid growth.

"Horticulture consists of many factors which make it unique to other types of agricultural production," says Lyons. "Perhaps the most obvious of these is the diversity of horticultural products, including vegetables, ornamental plants, and fruits and nuts."

All of these commodities are produced under intensive cropping systems that usually require high capital investments and labor inputs. Intensive management is another key element associated with producing horticultural crops, says the horticulturist.

"Marketing is perhaps the most critical element in the profitable production of horticultural crops," emphasizes Lyons. "Unlike traditional agricultural enterprises, horticulture does not have established buyers and accumulators, such as livestock auctions, gins and elevators. Successful horticultural production relies heavily on the producers' ability to identify appropriate market outlets."

Most markets will not absorb an increased volume of a product without a corresponding price reduction. Often small crop acreages will be quite profitable in an area, but if over-planting occurs, no one makes money. Lyons advises potential producers to study markets carefully and to select these crops or marketing seasons that are not oversupplied.

In selecting a crop to grow, potential producers must consider a number of things, including crops adapted to the area, market outlets, labor availability, soil and water suitability, and capital outlay.

"When producing horticultural crops, it is wise to remember both size and diversity," says Lyons. "Often it is the small-to-medium-sized producer who is making a profit by doing much of the labor and marketing himself. When the size of the operation reaches the point that additional labor and management have to be hired, profitability often goes down."

"On the same note, it is probably best not to put all your eggs in one horticultural 'basket,'" adds Lyons. "Producing more than one crop gives you a better opportunity to weather the times when a particular crop does not do well."

County Extension agents can assist growers in selecting the best crop for a particular area, notes the horticulturist. County Extension offices also have details on the upcoming satellite program on May 26.
