Carlsbad and Roswell Speakers to Address Local Gathering Friday Night on the Lawn of the Artesia Hotel

The Artesia NRA organization is operating. Practically all committeemen were named at the first meeting Monday night at which time it was agreed to start the functions of the organization at once. The local NRA is known as the President's Emergency Re-employment Campaign of Artesia and the following committeemen have been named: Chairman of Committee, J. L. Truett; Lt. General, Mrs. W. E. Flint; Colonel of Volunteer Sales Army, C. J. Dexter; Colonel of Publicity Committee, W. C. Martin; Colonel of Educational Committee, Col. A. T. Woods. A number of other positions are to be filled under these various heads. The organization will also have an advisory board, the appointment of which is complete and is as follows: Representative of the Rotary Club, H. S. Williams; Chamber of Commerce, Hollis Watson; American Legion, C. R. Vandagriff; Women's club, Mrs. J. B. Atkeson; fraternities, E. A. Hannah; American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. P. V. Morris; churches, D. I. Clowe; City, S. E. Ferree, schools, T. C. Bird; Artesia Alfalfa Growers, W. R. Hornbaker. I. C. Keller of the Chamber of Commerce was named as the correspondent agent to look after the general correspondence from the NRA headquarters.

Chairman J. L. Truett has called another meeting of the NRA committeemen Tuesday evening. At this time a report will be made of the progress made during the past week.

Co-operation Important
The NRA move rests on the co-operation of the entire nation. It is especially important that all business establishments affiliate with the organization, not only in Artesia, but in the surrounding communities. Every consumer will be asked to sign a pledge agreeing to support those who support the NRA. Under the present plans Mrs. W. E. Flint and her workers will make a house to house canvass and will solicit the support of the NRA.

OPERATORS ANXIOUS ABOUT PRICE FIXING IN NAT'L OIL CODE
New Price May Boost Local Crude to 91 Cents Barrel—Test is Started in Upper Cottonwood—Locate 2 New Wells

Waiting beneficial results from the national oil code, oil activity has been more or less of a routine nature over the southeastern area the past week. The price schedule, effective soon will bring higher prices for the sector and while little is known as to the basis of how the new price may be figured, operators here are guessing the new posted price will range around 91 cents.

Complete reports from Lea county are not available, but there has been little or no noteworthy developments in that sector the past week. Two new locations and the spudding of a test well of the river will serve to keep up interest in Eddy county. The F. W. and Y. Oil Co. has staked locations for two tests, their State 67 and 68. State No. 67 is located in the SW NW sec. 10-19-28 and State 68 in SW NE sec. 27-18-28. R. D. Compton has taken over the oil acreage formerly owned by Price and Son on the Upper Cottonwood and has spudded a 1,500 foot hole, known as the R. D. Compton Oil Co., State No. 6, in the SW sec. 15-16-23. According to geological reports of this area, commercial oil should be found at a shallow depth.

The Burch No. 4 of the Grayburg Oil Co., sec. 19-17-30, is drilling below 2600 feet and is logging with the other wells of this area. Lockhart et al., Root No. 2, sec. 7-17-30, is running casing to 2830 feet.

It was understood here that a tentative location has been made near the Getty pool, some eighteen or twenty miles southeast of here. Plans have also been made to drill another test in the gas area northeast of here, but the location has not yet been made.

SCHOOL FACULTY IS COMPLETED

The faculty for the Artesia schools has been completed and announced by Supt. W. E. Kerr as follows:

CALL FOR YOUR BANK STATEMENTS

Officials of the First National bank have requested bank patrons to call for their monthly statements at the bank windows. Due to the heavy expense, the bank has decided to discontinue mailing out the statements as heretofore.

PINON AVIS SPRING MOHAIR CLIP TOPS SOUTHWEST MARKET

J. L. Kintz of Dunken informed us Thursday just after The Advocate had gone to press about the sale of the spring clip of the Pinon-Avis mohair. The spring clip was sold Thursday at Roswell to Draper and Company of Boston and netted the growers 40 cents per pound for kid hair and 30 cents per pound for adult hair. The growers will realize approximately $45,195.00 from this sale, eleven per cent of the total clip of 145,000 pounds was kid hair. The clip stored last fall will probably be sold shortly. Thursday's sale topped the southwestern mohair market for the season.

Growers have made preparations to start the fall shearing operations. The fall clip to be sheared will probably be better in both quantity and quality than the spring clip. Estimates place the fall clip at 150,000 pounds.

BUS MAIL CLOSURES EARLY

Post office patrons are advised that the bus mail going north will be closed at 5:30 p. m. instead of 6:00 p. m. as under the former arrangement.

CRACK PASSENGER TRAIN IS WRECKED

TUCUMCARI—A storm in the rugged land of lava cliffs, dry arroyos and colorful vistas Tuesday destroyed two of man's most modern vehicles of transportation a crack train and a transport airplane, killing at least 13 persons and injuring 42.

The Golden State Limited, passenger train carried eight to death and injured more than two score when it plunged through a weakened bridge into a flooded arroyo five miles east of here.

Mrs. Edder Benson of Nashville, Tennessee. Two unidentified women. Of the injured, Sister Mary Rose of Tucson, Arizona was not expected to live.

A. D. Chambers of Los Angeles, a survivor of the wreck, said "the engine and several of the five cars went off the bridge on the north side and piled up. The engine," he said, "was buried deep in mud and water."

"I don't think any bodies washed away."

Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Morris and family returned Friday from a visit to the Century of Progress at Chicago, Illinois.

ARTESIA STORES TO OBSERVE A HOLIDAY MONDAY, SEPT. 4TH

In a petition circulated yesterday by Messrs. John Richards and Walter Douglas, the Artesia mercantile establishments with the exception of the drug stores and filling stations agreed to close all day Monday, for Labor Day. Shoppers will do well to hold this fact in mind and do shopping for two days Saturday.

The drug stores will remain open for the accommodation of the school patrons.

MISS BULLOCK TO OPEN KINDERGARTEN STUDIO
Miss Helen Bullock will open a piano and kindergarten studio at her home 501 Missouri, Monday. Miss Bullock who has studied music at the Texas Women's College in Fort Worth, Texas, has also taught piano and kindergarten in a private school in Fort Worth for six years and according to reports has had unusual success in guiding the younger children in both piano and kindergarten.

Miss Bullock will be glad to have prospective patrons visit her studio Monday.

Haldeman Gets First Bale Grown In Vicinity

W. T. Haldeman, farmer living two miles east of town brought in the season's first bale of cotton yesterday. The first bale of Mr. Haldeman's is also the first produced in the state so far as known. Its appearance here was quite a surprise to those who had kept in touch with the development of cotton this summer. According to earlier estimates no cotton was anticipated for at least another week.

The bale was ginned at the Espulla gin of the Artesia Alfalfa Association yesterday morning and a good turn out secured. From 1-170 pounds of seed cotton, 460 pounds of lint was ginned. The length of the staple measured 1 3/32 inches and graded good middling. The bale was estimated to be worth approximately ten cents per pound on yesterday's market, however the Association offered Mr. Haldeman a two cent premium on the bale.

The conditions under which the first bale was produced this year differs radically from the usual early cotton, which is ordinarily produced on high ground and with little water. The patch of Mr. Haldeman from which the first bale was picked is estimated good for a yield of a bale and a half to two bales per acre.

Cotton ginning and cotton picking is expected to be well underway by the middle of September. Much of the cotton, however was planted late and will not be ready for picking before another month.

BIRD GOES INTO THE SEMI FINALS IN N. M. GOLF TOURNAMENT

T. C. Bird, only representative of the Artesia golf club at the New Mexico State Tournament at Roswell last week gave the golf experts a run for their money before being eliminated in the semifinals. Bill Sconce, Roswell flash and caddy, disposed of Bird four up and three to go Saturday afternoon. Verne Stewart, 1932 champion, and Bill Sconce battled thru the toughest part of the meet Saturday afternoon to claim the right to meet in the finals. Sconce missed a six foot putt on the 34th hole which cost the championship to Stewart, whose previous experience stood him in good stead when battling with Stewart Sunday. H. H. McGee of Roswell won the second flight of the championship defeating Jess Mitchell of Raton. Buddy Mitchell of Roswell won the third championship flight against V. Carnahan of Hobbs. Dave Connell of Raton defeated Red Gober of Clovis in the first flight consolation finals. W. McNight of Picacho was victor over W. Prager of Roswell in the second flight consolation finals and Guy Nickson of Roswell defeated J. R. Nelson of Clovis for third flight consolation title.

ARIZONA GINNERS DECLINE NRA RATE

Cotton growers of the irrigated districts of west Texas, New Mexico and Arizona at Phoenix, Arizona Saturday decided to propose to the national recovery administration cotton ginning rates of 30 cents a hundred pounds for short staple and 60 cents a hundred for long staple for inclusion in the ginner's code.

The meeting, attended by more than 100 growers or their representatives, was called by the Arizona state farm bureau federation after officials of that organization said they had learned the ginner's code had set up prices of 40 and 80 cents a hundred pounds for short and long staple cotton respectively.

UNEMPLOYED MAY REACH 400 NORTH EDDY SAYS ESTIMATE

Two Hundred and Fifty Registered at Office of William Dooley Up to Yesterday Afternoon Late

William Dooley, chairman of the Eddy county United States re-employment service announced on Saturday morning that registration of the local unemployed had started and that more than thirty had been registered. The form to fill out in the registration of each individual is much heavier than last year, which has slowed down the process to some extent.

The following article prepared for the Advocate by William Dooley, Eddy county chairman of the national reemployment service, relative to the purpose of the organization will be of interest to many:

"The National Industrial Recovery Act provides for the expenditure of large sums of money on highways and other public works with the object of hastening business improvement by giving jobs to those who would otherwise be unemployed.

To aid in the fulfillment of this purpose, the United States Employment Service, within the U. S. Department of Labor, is organizing and directing the National Reemployment Service, which will operate in geographical units, in most instances by counties.

The committee of the National Reemployment Service for Eddy county is now registering the qualified applicants of said county for reemployment.

Registration headquarters for the north half of Eddy county is at the office of William Dooley at Artesia and is in charge of William Dooley and Mrs. M. A. Corbin.

CO-OPERATION IN HIGHWAY MATTERS

It is interesting to note the number of times smaller Pecos valley communities have been approached by our northern and southern neighbors with proposals to co-operate in matters of highway building and how many times these proposals have terminated to the detriment of the smaller community. It has not been one or two instances in the past few years, it has been many and developments in recent weeks has only served to remind us that promises are like pie crust; they can be broken.

Only a few months ago Artesia business men were approached with a co-operative proposition, a proposal, vital to our neighbor. Amid many a back slap we were promised co-operation in a road project, but the promise has evidently been forgotten and we are left only the memory of what the co-operation might have been.

Double crossings have been frequent in the past, much more frequent than they will be in the future, if our memory does not collapse and we can still write to serve as a reminder that most of the time a promise is only a promise, regarded lightly.

THE FOUR AMENDMENTS

Four amendments will be submitted to the voters on September 19th for their approval or rejection. Enacting or repealing a law or changing the state constitution is a slow process and takes time. Much harm can be done once an impractical constitutional amendment is accepted. Voters should study each proposed amendment carefully before casting a ballot. The context of these amendments can be found elsewhere in this issue.

The storm center at the present time is the amendment with reference to the twenty mill limit. A number of taxpayers over the state will support the twenty mill levy for their own protection. The state administration and a number of school men on the other hand charge that the amendment is sponsored by the corporations over the state, who hope to place the burden of taxation on the little taxpayer. School men further charge that if the twenty-mill limit is passed, it will cut the schools short unless other sources of revenue are sought.

This amendment of course has its good and bad features. While the writer is not prophet enough to predict what may happen if the amendment is approved or rejected, it appears like a strong probability that a revision of the state revenue will be necessary if the amendment is approved.

RESPONSIBILITY

Among your acquaintances you know the go easy type who apparently never let anything worry them. Its nice to keep company, occasionally at least, with the philosopher or the man who analyzes his difficulties and troubles and never bothers anybody with his personal difficulties.

And too, most of us appreciate the good natured children, the child who plays and enjoys life, but when a child matures we naturally expect him to act as an adult. There isn't much connection with the antics of children and what we are about to say except from all our observations some people never grow up enough to assume any responsibility.

Occasionally you will find men who apparently do not even take an interest in their immediate family, their friends mean little except to promote their own personal welfare. The community in which they live is uninteresting, they don't find much of anything worthwhile to say about their place of residence when talking to strangers. Normally important occurrences are usually regarded as rather common place. In short these men exist mostly for themselves. What occurs to their neighbors doesn't interest them. They disparage efforts of the leaders in the community to improve conditions. If community projects prove beneficial they accept the resultant benefits as a matter of course, if not they never hesitate to criticize.

Did you ever stop to think what an easy task to count the men in any community who are really taking their responsibility seriously. We owe these men much. They have been chiefly responsible for the advance in civilization. They have pioneered in both thought and action. They have been leaders, the remainder followers.

PROBABLY CONTINUE TO IGNORE THE HAZARD

Besides all the germs which scientists have said may be transmitted by kissing, cosmeticians were told of a new peril in osculation a press dispatch from Chicago says. It's hay fever. The danger lies in some of the face powders which women use. But the belief was expressed that strong men would continue to ignore danger—as before.

YUCCA IS PROTECTED

Out in southern California the yuccas are bursting into yellow bloom, and are more abundant than ever by reason of a state law forbidding anyone to pick the blossoms. These shrubs were called by the early Spanish explorers "candies of the Lord."

PICKED UP ON MAIN

A news story tells of the arrest of two men for sleeping in a Los Angeles theater. If they ever go so far as to arrest people for sleeping in church, we'll have a big public works program build-enough jail houses.

A lot of people think there'll be a mint in selling beer if beer comes back. They figure strong on the fellow who likes to see his personal liberty returned, but some fellows so strong on personal liberty may be like the guy who wants a wife mighty bad until he gets one.

And here's the story of a colored preacher's picture of eternity in hell, that has been going the rounds. Our readers ought to know more about what eternity means when they read this:

The colored evangelist was warming to his exhortation. He was holding the penalty of unrepentant sin before the minds of his congregation. Eternity in hell! he had pictured hell, plenty. The leaping flames. The stench of brimstone. The tortures of the writhing, condemned souls.

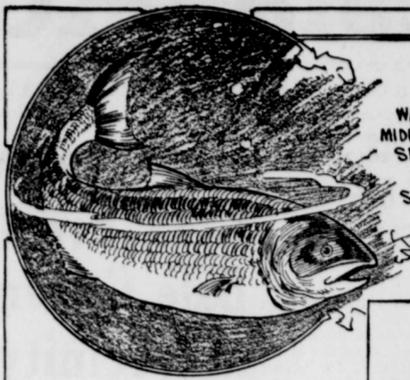

"But now, sistern an' brethern, does yo' know wha's eternity? Kin yo' sinful minds picture ETERNITY? Eternity in HELL? Lemme give yo a idea wath eternity in hell IS. Ovah yondah to de east is de Atlantic ocean. An' ovah yondah to de west is de Pacific ocean. Hit's three thousand miles of dis United States of America, solid land, between dem two oceans. Three thousand miles of land between dem two oceans whut's got so much watah in 'em dat de Mississippi rivah don't mount no mo' to 'em dan one spit in hell.

"Heah comes a li'l jaybird. Dis jay bird he stan's on de beach of de Pacific ocean. He pick up jus' ONE li'l drap o' watah in he beak. Den he start back east. He don't fly. He don't run. He don't hop. Dat li'l jaybird he jus' walk slow lak an' easy, wif dat drap o' watah in he beak. He walk plumb fum San Francisco to New York. Three thousand miles he walk. When he gits to New York, he drap dat drap o' watah fum de Pacific ocean into de Atlantic ocean.

"Den he walk back dem three thousand miles to San Francisco, agin. He don't fly, He don't run. He don't hop. He jus' walk, slow lak an' easy. When he git to San Francisco he pick up one mo' drap o' watah out'n de Pacific ocean, an' he start back fo' New York. Drap by drap sistern an' brethern, dat li'l jaybird finish de job he done start. He don't fly. He don't run. He don't hop. He jus' walk, back an' fo'th, slow lak an' easy. He ca'y dat watah fum de west to de east, fum de Pacific to de Atlantic, drap by drap, in he li'l beak. He ca'y hit fum de Pacific ocean, an' he drap hit into de Atlantic ocean.

"Dat li'l jaybird he empty de hull Pacific ocean inter de Atlantic ocean. Drap by drap, he walk three thousand miles an' he empty a ocean so big dat if'n you wuz to empty de hull Mississippi rivah inter it, hit would be jus' lak you or me spittin' in hit. He did'n fly. He did'n run. He did'n hop. He jus' walk, easy lak, till he empty de Pacific ocean drap by drap.

AMERICA FLIES AHEAD

There's a real thrill for Americans in the survey of world aviation just completed by W. B. Courtney, aviation editor of Collier's Weekly. Mr. Courtney spent ten weeks in Europe, flying over the leading commercial air routes there, and comparing them with similar American air routes. He found nothing in Europe to compare with the fast regular schedules which are now in constant use all over the United States.

"The airways of America have caught up with and passed all foreign rivals," he reports. "They are now the most efficient and reliable in the world."

American airports are superior to anything in Europe; American airway schedules are faster, more reliable, safer; Americans fly more miles per day than all the rest of the world put together. These are Mr. Courtney's conclusions, and he has the figures to back them up. Air mail is still in its infancy in Europe; there are many air mail routes, but they are very slightly used, and are regarded by the governments as instruments of propaganda rather than practical everyday matters of general convenience. American mail pilots carry more air mail in a day than the average European country does in a year.

Night flying is almost unknown in Europe. No more than four commercial planes are in the air at night on the whole continent. In America nearly 100 commercial planes are flying on regular schedules every night of the year.

Some of Mr. Courtney's findings, even in minor matters, are an interesting commentary on European conservatism. "In boxing air freight," he says, "the Europeans use lumber where we use light paper cartons. European packers are thorough, and they have a droll faith that lumber will protect the good in case of crackups."

Mr. Courtney's report, the most authentic and complete of its kind which has yet been made, will have a wide technical and popular interest, and will probably be read with considerable care in Europe, where a realization of their comparative inferiority does not yet seem to have completely penetrated.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Waltrip and small son, who have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Waltrip's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Flint will leave the latter part of this week for their home in Houston, Texas. While here Mr. and Mrs. Waltrip visited Albuquerque, Santa Fe and other points in the northern part of the state.

HEALTH COLUMN

STATE HEALTH SURVEY

A program to raise money for a health survey of New Mexico gets actively underway today with the arrival from New York of Arthur J. Strawson of the National Tuberculosis Association.

The project of making a survey of tuberculosis and of health generally in the state was proposed nearly a year ago at the annual meeting of the New Mexico Tuberculosis Association. With the object of conserving existing funds for this purpose the state association has practically eliminated all overhead expense. The central office has been closed to save rent and the paid services of a secretary discontinued. Mr. Strawson's salary and expenses are to be contributed by the national association. Thus purchasers of seals in 1933 will have a most unusual opportunity of giving directly to the work of controlling tuberculosis in the state with practically no loss of the contributions in organization expenses.

We do not know how many of the cases of tuberculosis reported to the state office are health seekers from outside the state, how many are citizens of New Mexico. We do not know how many of our own citizens suffer without financial means to secure treatment. We do not know how many children have become infected and are in danger of developing active disease.

We must have such knowledge before we can make rational plans for the control of this important disease—the first cause of death in New Mexico.

Co-operation has been assured by three national associations whose representatives have already

SMART MULE

HEMPHILL, Texas—Pole Mason, farmer near Hemphill, has a mule with a disposition extraordinary docile. For seven years he has walked between the cotton rows, careful not to trample the growing staple.

Last week, Mason had planned to start plowing up his cotton. The old mule refused to lean against the collar and pull the plow. No amount of persuasion, either gentle words or punishment could move him. Mason and his sons tried all day to force the animal to work. When the struggle was over they conceded his strength of purpose.

visited New Mexico to consult with officers of the New Mexico Tuberculosis Association and with the State Bureau of Public Health. These are the National Tuberculosis Association, the American Public Health Association and the American Social Hygiene Association. Subsequent articles will deal with the aid that has been promised by these bodies.

Today I appeal to all who care for the welfare of this state to get behind the drive to organize a sale of tuberculosis seals such as this state has never known before.

TASTY SANDWICHES FOR SCHOOL LUNCHES

School lunches can be better balanced and more attractive if time and effort are put on them. Many of the canned meats can be used for sandwiches. During the canning season, some products can be canned which are especially planned for school lunches, suggests W. A. Wunsch, county extension agent.

Sandwich Spread No. 1
Grind 14 medium sized cucumbers, 1 quart onions (after they are ground), 3 red peppers and 3 green peppers, through fine knife of vegetable grinder. Add ¾ cup salt. Let stand over night. Drain off brine. Cover with weakened vinegar and 4 well beaten eggs. Cook these ingredients until smooth and thick, then add 1 cup sweet cream and 1 teaspoon each of celery and mustard seed. Pour the dressing over the vegetables, mix well, pack in jars and seal. (If cucumbers are gone, substitute chopped pickles, adding them last).

Sandwich Spread No. 2
Mix together 1 quart ground green tomatoes, 1 quart ground cucumbers, 1 quart ground sweet peppers. Soak overnight in salt water made by adding 4 table-spoons of salt to 1 gallon of water. Drain off salt water. The next morning, grind or chop, 1 bunch of celery and 2 onions and add to first mixture. Mix together 2 cups of sugar and 1 cup flour. Add ½ cup butter, 1 cup prepared mustard, 1 quart of mild vinegar and ½ teaspoon of celery seed and mix thoroughly. Add vegetables and cook for 30 minutes, stirring to prevent burning. Push to back of stove and simmer for 30 to 50 minutes longer. Pack boiling hot and seal.

Sandwich Spread No. 3
Cook meat until it comes off the bones readily. Run through a food chopper. To each gallon of ground meat add the following:

CONFERENCE AT STATE COLLEGE LAST WEEK

The annual vocational home economics conference for New Mexico was held at State College August 22-25. The four day conference was attended by home economics teachers from all over the state. Mrs. Mildred Weigley Wood, supervisor of home economics, Phoenix, Arizona was the conference leader on the teaching of child development and human relationships.

Mrs. Wood is doing most outstanding work in home economics and parent education in connection with the federal board of vocational education and the American home economics association. Plans were formulated for further co-operation between home economics departments in the schools with relief and welfare agencies. Vocational home economics departments have already been very active in meeting present economic emergency through programs of food preservation and clothing renovation and have done much to relieve distress.

Other speakers at the conference were Miss Margaret Reeves, state welfare director, and Mrs. Georgia L. Lusk, state superintendent of public instruction. The conference was in charge of Miss Zelpha Bates, state supervisor of home economics education.

New Woodstocks, Coronas, and Remingtons, Rebuilt in all other makes at The Advocate.

1 quart of soup stock, 2 medium sized onions (ground), 1 cup prepared mustard, 1 teaspoon cinnamom, ½ teaspoon cloves, 1 table-spoon celery salt, 1 teaspoon pepper, 2 table-spoons salt, 4 table-spoons vinegar and 1 teaspoon chile powder. Mix well, put in can and process quart jars 55 minutes at 15 pounds pressure.

If you want additional information on school lunches, secure the circular "School Lunches" from W. A. Wunsch, county extension agent at Carlsbad.

HOW TO PLAN FOR LOW COST MEALS

Low cost meals can be well balanced and palatable if they are carefully planned in advance, says Veda A. Strong of the New Mexico State College. Such meals do require careful planning, however, as a large amount of starchy foods is necessarily used and often only a small amount of meat is available. Authorities urge that in addition to the large amount of starchy goods used as a cheap source of energy, milk and its productions and fruit and/or vegetables must also be included.

When planning low cost dinners for a week, the following may prove helpful:

Serve meat for four dinners, using the cheaper cuts of meat in soups, stew, and meat and vegetable pie. A small amount of meat may make a large amount of vegetable and cereal combination very appetizing. The skillful use of onions, carrots and tomatoes in small amounts makes stews and soups more appetizing as well as adds to the attractiveness of the meals.

Use fish for dinner, such as an inexpensive brand of canned salmon. This can be served as it is or made into salad, salmon loaf or scalloped salmon.

Dried beans, peas, or lentils can be served as the main dish for one dinner, and no meat will be necessary.

For one dinner, macaroni and cheese, rice and cheese or other cheese dish as the meat like dish, can be used.

With the above dinners, potatoes may be served with the meat and fish dishes. One other vegetable or fruit should be served each day. Several times a week the vegetables, such as cabbage, carrots, onions, turnips and spinach, may be served raw as a salad.

A dessert is not absolutely necessary but adds interest and flavor to the meals. Some inexpensive and very good ones include bread, rice and Indian pudding, but this type should not be served on the day that the macaroni or rice dish is used.

For additional information, write to the extension service, State College, New Mexico.

SELIGMAN WANTS N. M. OIL ALLOWABLE SET 150,000 BBLs.

SANTA FE—Request that New Mexico be allowed a daily production of 150,000 barrels of oil will be made by Gov. Arthur Seligman to the federal agency which will control oil production under the new oil code.

This request is considerably more than the state is now producing, but the governor feels that since New Mexico has produced her oil in a scientific manner during the past few years when some other states were glutting the market with cheap oil, consideration should be received from the federal agency and the local allowable increased.

Texas, California and Oklahoma according to information reaching oil men here, want the federal agency, which will probably be headed by President Roosevelt himself, to base the new allowables on present production.

The governor believes this will be unjust to New Mexico and will fight to have the New Mexico allotment fixed at 150,000 barrels daily.

Under the new code, price of crude oil will probably materially increase, which is another reason the governor is anxious for the New Mexico allowable to be boosted. Royalties to schools and institutions will be hiked, it is believed, as well as royalties to owners of land in fee.

If the oil severance tax, passed by the last legislature, is held not subject to the referendum, due to its emergency clause, then the increased production will mean a considerable increase in tax revenue, which will be applied to reduction of the property tax.

Production of 150,000 barrels daily will not harm the ultimate recovery from the Hobbs pool, since this amount is still far below the pool's daily capacity of over a million barrels.

Price control by the federal government is certain to increase the price of crude oil, operators believe. The code, according to information reaching Santa Fe, takes the years 1928 to 1932 as the basis for fixing the price of crude. It was found during this period that a price of crude oil brought 18.5 times as much as a gallon of gasoline at the refinery.

T. POSEY RETURNS HOME SURRENDERS TO OTERO OFFICERS

Tony Posey, who is alleged to have shot and killed his father-in-law, Newt Pendergrass at Mayhill on August 22nd, surrendered to officers at Eight Mile canyon the following day, while eastern New Mexico officers continued their search for him. A coroner's jury empaneled at Mayhill held him responsible for the death of his father-in-law. He pleaded not guilty to a charge of first degree murder Thursday and was held over without bond pending a preliminary hearing held Tuesday.

Posey was positively identified after he was seen here at midnight on August 22nd. It was believed that he first intended to flee to Texas and later changed his mind, returning to the home of relatives near Mayhill, who persuaded him to surrender.

1,500,000 NOW ENLISTED IN NRA CAMPAIGN

WASHINGTON, D. C. — NRA volunteers — 1,500,000 strong — opened Monday, under Hugh S. Johnson's mandate "we cannot afford to fail," a campaign to implant the blue eagle in every business house and in millions of homes.

Speeding this "greatest corps of volunteers in the country's history," on its door to door canvass, Johnson told his workers and the country that "either through codes or agreements we enter this drive with between 70 and 80 per cent of the employers in trade and industry already under the blue eagle."

The recovery administrator described the drive as "a milestone in human progress, explaining: "For the first time the American people has a chance to test in business a principle that they long ago proved in government. That principle is the trite old slogan — 'In union there is strength.'"

"Buy under the blue eagle" was the watchword set by Johnson for his volunteers after warning that "even a shadow" of "boycott, intimidation and violence" would spoil this whole endeavor." He added:

"But there must not be the slightest misunderstanding. It is not a boycott for the people of a distressed country to say they are going to stick to those who do their part to cure a common evil and to ignore those who refuse to do so. To do otherwise would be to frustrate the national purpose."

GOVERNOR WANTS 20 C. C. C. CAMPS

Governor Seligman Tuesday announced his intention of applying for 20 C. C. C. winter camps, after a conference with Supervisor Elwood, Washington, of the national park service, to work on mountain parks and for flood control work in several cities and towns.

In the meantime, he is appointing State Highway Engineer G. D. Macy and Jesse Nusbaum, director of the Laboratory of Anthropology, as a state park commission to plan a program. Nusbaum was formerly superintendent of Mesa Verde.

Elwood told the governor he might be able to get 12 camps. Governor Seligman has four parks in mind, one in Santa Fe canyon, one on the Lincoln forest, one on the Datil and one in the Mogollon range. He is continuing to press for the scenic highway from the Capital City, up Santa Fe canyon, over the Sangre de Cristos and down into Las Vegas he said.

These are already natural parks; but, said the governor, they are hard to reach. He would have the C. C. C. boys put to work building roads, putting up shelter huts and making other improvements to attract visitors.

ATTENDANCE AT WORLD'S FAIR WILL SMASH ALL RECORDS

CHICAGO, Illinois—The race is half over, A Century of Progress — the Chicago World's Fair — leads, and is steadily pulling away from the field.

That is how the 1933 fair stands in its attendance race with all other American expositions in history.

At midnight Sunday, August 13th, the fair passed its seventy-ninth day, with seventy-nine more to go before closing time November 1. The total number of visitors who paid for admission tickets was just a whisper away from the 9,000,000 mark.

The attendance for the first half was just a few million shy of the total attendance at the St. Louis exposition and at the San Francisco exposition.

Only one previous American exposition looms to challenge the 1933 record. That is the World's Columbian of 1893, generally considered the most successful of all fairs.

A Century of Progress at the close of its seventy-ninth day had been host to nearly 9,000,000; the 1893 fair, which passed its eighty-ninth day on August 13, drew a total of 6,346,954 during that span of time. More than 15,000,000 came through the gates during the second half of the Columbian exposition to swell the final figure to 21,480,000.

If the 1933 fair maintains its present attendance ratio to the 1893 fair until closing day, the total attendance will reach 30,480,000.

"The attendance record for the first half of A Century of Progress is highly encouraging," was General Manager Lenox R. Lohr's comment. "With the first half of the exposition over, we have received about one-third of our total paid attendance, if the experience of past expositions is any criterion."

"Should our attendance continue in the present ratio to the attendance at the World's Columbian exposition of 1893, we shall reach the 30,000,000 mark."

One of the most substantial reasons advanced for the great crowds is that A Century of Progress offers the visitor such a great number of free exhibits. There are eighty-two miles of free exhibits in the 1933 fair. Eighty-five per cent of the exposition may be seen for the price of a general admission ticket.

FURTHER STEPS AGAINST UNDUE PRICE ADVANCES

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Representatives of the National Consumers' Advisory Board are present at all hearings on codes, as are those of the National Labor Advisory Board and the National Industrial Advisory Board and of the research and planning and legal bureaus of NRA. Yet a further step has been taken by the cabinet advisory board of NRA to protect the public against profiteering after employers secure the blue eagle. Request will be made of all operating under codes of fair competition or under the President's Re-employment Agreement to submit information on recent price increases. In addition, at the suggestion of the recently created central statistical board of the government, each code approved would include provisions requiring submission of such statistical information as may be desired. The purpose is to prevent prices soaring faster than purchasing power can be stimulated.

PAUL ARES SHOOTS SELF AT HOME OF SON IN EL PASO FRIDAY

Paul N. Ares, 64, pioneer west Texas and New Mexico rancher and cattleman, died a few minutes after he was found late Friday with a bullet wound in the head, at the home of a son, Calvin T. Ares in El Paso, Texas. He was found by his ten year old grandson, George Ares.

Calvin Ares told detectives his father had been despondent over the loss of his large estate and feared he would become a burden to his children. The elder Ares had made his home with his son in El Paso since coming from Carlsbad.

Survivors were four sons: Calvin T., F. N. Ares of Las Cruces, L. M. Ares of Slaton, Texas; A. E. Ares of Carlsbad and a brother, Albert Ares of Maricopa, Arizona. Mr. Ares operated a ranch for a number of years in the Guadalupe mountains southwest of here and was well known to many of the older cattlemen of this section.

TO ORGANIZE SOUTHERN HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION

LAS CRUCES — A move has been started at Las Cruces to organize a Southern New Mexico Transcontinental Highway Association.

The organization would include representatives from Clovis Roswell, Deming, Artesia, Alamogordo, Las Cruces, Carlsbad, Lordsburg and other towns across the southern part of the state. The purpose of the association would be to further the completion of an all year highway across the state of New Mexico.

It also would seek to keep tourist cars within the borders of the state as long as possible by keeping them on all-New Mexico roads and by inducing tourists to visit the state's scenic wonders.

TAXES SHOW DROP

Property taxes remitted to the state treasurer's office during the last fiscal year totalled $1,991,275.15, says a statement given out by Deputy State Treasurer R. L. Ormsbee at Santa Fe. For the year ended June 30, 1932, they were $2,116,949.17; for that ended on the same date, 1931, $2,254,410.27.

All receipts coming into the treasurer's hands in the last year amounted to $12,400,792.61. For the preceding year they were $12,416,992.21; the year before that $15,115,940.99. Of this $12,400,792.61, Ormsbee classifies $1,549,837.86 as non-revenue receipts and $10,850,954.75 as revenue receipts. The former include debt obligations, such as highway debentures; monies collected for other civil divisions; from the sale of investments or from miscellaneous sources.

The revenue receipts for the preceding year were $10,273,213.93.

Among the revenue receipts, a noticeable feature is that fines collected by the district and justice of the peace courts dropped to $5,694.66 for the last year, from $10,997.56 for the preceding year. For the fiscal year ended in 1931 fines totalled $21,843.21. The gasoline tax declined to $2,354,557.55 for the year, from $2,534,066.19 for the year before. This tax brought in $2,722,131.13 for the fiscal year ended in 1931.

TRUETT URGES THE VOTERS TO DEFEAT AMENDMENT NO. 4

Eddy county democratic Chair-Jess L. Truett urges all voters to study carefully constitutional amendment No. 4 before casting their vote in the September 19th election limiting the property tax levy to twenty mills.

If this amendment is adopted it will mean that the present tax revenue, totaling $10,800,000 a year in the state will be cut to approximately $5,000,000 a year. This reduction will be felt by schools, county and municipal governments since the revenue that goes to the state will not be affected.

Last year our levy in Eddy county was less than 40 mills. Our schools required a fraction more than 12 mills to operate and if you remember our school year was cut one month short in this county. If the twenty mill limit is voted, the schools will have left on which to operate approximately six mills compared to the required twelve mills last year.

Constitutional right grant the state the privilege to take its prorata first to maintain the state government therefore the state will not be affected by this limitation, but the schools, counties and municipalities will be seriously affected by the passage of this amendment.

The democratic organization of the state is on record as opposed to the passage of this amendment and the democrats of this county should oppose the adoption of the limitation for such reasons that if adopted, corporations in the state will save approximately $2,500,000 a year forcing the home owners and wage earners to raise the difference caused by the reduction of property tax, either through a raise in valuation of their property or the adoption of a sales tax. A properly constructed sales tax not placing all the burden of hardship on the wage earner and small home owner may meet favorably but it is apparent that the sponsors of the passage of amendment No. 4 limiting the tax levy to twenty mills, expect exemption in event a sales tax is adopted and to date no constructive systems of taxation has been presented to raise new revenue in event this limitation is adopted.

In the interest of the continuance of good government and good schools, the democrats of Eddy county are urged to take the lead and co-operate with every individual and all organizations in the county exercising every effort to defeat amendment No. 4 and not take on new experiments

SPOTTED RAINS FALL OVER AREA WASHOUT ROADS AND HIWAYS

Spotted showers continue to fall in the eastern section of the state. The showers, heavy in sections have been interspersed with hail. Reports reaching here say that a heavy hail fell in the region about twelve miles southwest of Hope and cut down and destroyed all vegetation. An upland tank was filled to a depth of two or three feet with hailstones after the storm had passed, it was reported. During the same night a good rain fell from the Beckett ranch to Eagle Draw bridge.

Monday night also, a torrential rain fell at the edge of the Cap Rock, forty-five miles east of here and washed great holes along highway 83, it was said. A highway maintenance crew was called to make repairs before travel could be resumed over the highway.

Scattering rains have fallen over the greater part of the state and west Texas during the past two weeks. The moisture has brought relief from the summer heat and run the thermometer down to an average of 90 degrees for the maximum. Up to Tuesday the moisture received here had been negligible, amounting to about .15 inches. Roswell received another heavy rain Sunday night, which extended north to Vaughn, Clovis and Lovington on the east. Passenger traffic was delayed for several hours Sunday night due to high waters in the Roswell area.

Ranges in the eastern section of the state are in good condition for this season of the year. The range west and extending into the hills is getting dry, but there is still stock water in the water holes and creeks. A general rain now would practically insure winter range.

The Santa Fe spur from the refinery of the United States Potash Co., to Lovington suffered several wash outs and blocked traffic at several points Friday.

PASS--CAVERN ROAD TO BE COMPLETED

ALBUQUERQUE—Frank Butt, chairman of the state highway commission indicated Friday that plans for the Alamogordo-El Paso highway, will be carried out despite the protests of Las Cruces residents against the road.

The commission chairman said that plans for the much discussed road will be carried out in order to protect revenue now received by Otero county from El Paso vacationists.

Discussing the recent conference of New Mexico and Texas highway officials at El Paso, Butt praised the co-operative plans agreed upon or an improved highway from the Carlsbad Caverns to El Paso. The new route from Carlsbad, he said, will make the rare potash fields easily accessible and will go between New Hobbs and Old Hobbs.

An all-paved road between the Caverns and El Paso, he added should attract many tourists into New Mexico from the transcontinental highway between Fort Worth and Los Angeles, and allow them to continue on by way of Roswell, Alamogordo and Las Cruces to U. S. 80. They could thus visit the White Sands national monument near Alamogordo.

"It looks like New Mexico gets another cut-off in the southern part of the state," he commented "but I am against cut-offs unless I can see where we benefit from it, and I believe we can. The bankhead highway from Ft. Worth to the coast is reported to have an average of 1,800 cars a day. If we can connect it, we may attract several hundred cars a day into New Mexico for visits to the Carlsbad Caverns."

CRIME ANNUALLY COSTS 13 BILLION

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Crime is costing the nation 13 billion dollars annually says the National Council of '76. Every year, on an average 12,000,000 persons are murdered in the United States; 3,000 are kidnaped, 100,000 assaulted and 50,000 robbed. The annual murder rate has increased 350 per cent since 1890.

REESE SAYS SEPT. 9 IS DEADLINE FOR THE VOTERS TO REGISTER

The following opinion from District Attorney George Reese with reference to who may vote in the special election September 19, may be of interest to our readers. Mr. Reese gave out the opinion to valley newspapers after the publication at Roswell of an item stating that it was too late to add names to the registration list:

"I refer you to Chapter 135 of the session laws of 1923, which is an act calling the election for September 19th, 1933, for the purpose of election delegates to a convention which shall approve or reject the proposed amendment relating to the repeal of the eighteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States and in said act it is provided that at the same time an election shall be held for the purpose of approving or rejecting all amendments to the constitution of the state of New Mexico proposed by the last legislature.

Section 5 of said act provides as follows: "The persons in each voting precinct qualified to vote at such special election shall be qualified voters of such precinct as shown by the final registration book of the precinct for the last preceding general election;

"Provided, however, that registration list may be corrected by being purged of names of all persons who since the date of such general election have died or for any reason have become disqualified to vote, and by adding to such registration the names of electors who have become qualified to vote since such last preceding general election. Any qualified voter may, at any time not later than ten days prior to the holding of said special election, apply to the district court of the county in which he is a qualified voter to correct or purge said registration book as herein provided. The district court shall immediately consider any such petition and if it appears that any names should be stricken or added shall order the clerk to correct, add to, or purge the same accordingly and the clerk shall make final corrected copies of said registration list available to the proper election officials on the day of the election."

The above statute is self explanatory and needs no comment, as by its expressed terms, the district court is required upon the filing of a proper petition to purge the registration list at any time within ten days prior to the 19th of September.

Yours very truly,
G. L. REESE, JR.,
Dist. Attorney.

ROOSEVELT RELAXES GOLD EMBARGO

HYDE PARK, N. Y.—Acting with dramatic suddenness, President Roosevelt late Tuesday relaxed the gold embargo to permit sales of the newly minted metal in foreign markets, where prices are higher. At the same time the president tightened the prevailing restrictions against hoarding by requiring all persons holding gold coin, gold bullion or gold certificates in excess of $100 to file statements of their holdings within 15 days.

After 30 days all private gold holdings of more than $100 will be prohibited unless valid reasons are shown why the metal cannot be replaced by currency. Treasury department officials foresaw a quickening of activity in the gold mines of the west, with profits increasing by more than $15,000,000 a year, as the president reopened the export trade to American miners.

Under the president's order, sales of newly-mined gold in foreign markets will be under the direct supervision of the secretary of the treasury, William Woodin.

600 persons are murdered in the United States; 3,000 are kidnaped, 100,000 assaulted and 50,000 robbed. The annual murder rate has increased 350 per cent since 1890.

FIVE KILLED IN AN AIRPLANE CRASH NEAR TUCUMCARI

Clovis—Down treacherous lava cliffs and over slippery hill, five bodies Tuesday night were carried on horseback from the wreck of a Transcontinental Western air express plane to Clovis.

Deep in the Malpais, or bad land, where mesa show grass topped levels but hide sheer lava cliffs, a silvery metal plane lay crumpled with only slight evidence of fire. The wings and fuselage of the multimotor monoplane were driven into the west end of one plateau, called Mesa Redondo, where a promontary juts out from the rest.

Two miles over the almost inaccessible laval beds there was a semblance of a road where ambulances awaited the bodies. From there is was nearly 60 miles to Clovis over what had been roads but now were pools and puddles and slick mud, due to heavy rains and cloudbursts.

The dead in the wreck had been identified as Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gore of Albuquerque and their granddaughter, Evelyn Gore, aged 3, Pilot Howard Morgan and Pilot C. W. Barcus, both of Kansas City. Their bodies were buried when the plane crashed to its fiery end, but not badly according to early reports.

The Gores had just started home from a vacation in Amarillo taking the grandchild back with them for a visit at their home. The picture of the accident from the air indicated the plane was flying due south when it crashed into the point.

The accident occurred only 20 miles from where a transcontinental train plunged into an arroyo and at least seven persons were killed. While Tucumcari was closer than Clovis, there were no roads to Tucumcari, necessitating the longer drive to Clovis.

Unemployed May—

When registration work is completed the National Reemployment Service for this county will be combined in one office, the present temporary arrangement being for the convenience of the applicants.

Partial registration of the unemployed in the north half of Eddy county indicates at least 400 unemployed persons, with about 250 registered to date. Partial registration in the south half of the county is also heavy.

The large unemployed list in Eddy county presents a serious unemployment problem, which will be especially critical during the winter months, following the completion of cotton picking.

We trust our cotton farmers will give preference to the unemployed of Eddy county and that in turn our unemployed will promptly co-operate by contracting the local cotton growers, relative to arranging in advance for cotton picking.

The National Reemployment Service for Eddy county stands ready at all times to give all possible service to both the employer and the unemployed. We sincerely trust that everybody concerned will comply with both the spirit and letter of the National Recovery Program.

In conclusion, please remember that to secure employment on any public works project in this county, the applicant must be registered with the National Reemployment Service.

WILLIAM DOOLEY,
Chairman, National Reemployment Service for Eddy County.

TEXAS GOES WET

DALLAS, Texas—The final unofficial tabulation announced at 6 p. m. Sunday by the Texas Election Bureau on results of Texas' referendum Monday on repeal of the 18th amendment and legalization of 3.2 per cent beer showed repeal leading by 111,502 votes and beer legislation by 124,600 votes, out of a total of 435,658 tabulated. The Election Bureau, a semi-official organization maintained by Texas newspapers, estimated that less than 100,000 votes were outstanding—these so widely scattered as not likely to affect the final vote.

The vote for repeal represented 62.78 per cent of the total tabulated and the vote against 37.22 per cent. The vote favoring beer represented 64.47 per cent of the total and the contrary vote 35.53 per cent.

Returns from 239 out of the state's 254 counties, including 35 complete and more than 150 substantially complete, showed: For repeal 273,580. Against 162,078. For beer 277,440. Against 152,840.

During the week under review the market has fluctuated over a range of sixty points or three dollars a bale.

Fisdick points out a rather bullish feature that should not be overlooked. He says "seventy five per cent of the farmers signing up to reduce acreage have discovered that they are having to plow under 10 to 25 per cent more of their cotton than they had supposed." In a few instances 50 per cent of their crop, when the acreage signed was plowed under has taken all their crop. These considerations will amount to approximately two million bales and needs to be carefully considered as the season advances.

Aside from this there is little bullish news for consideration. There is still a rather strong belief that the administration cannot afford to enforce the completed N. R. A. program with cotton at present levels and some sort of inflation seems certain about the last days of September or early October.

We are of the opinion that commodity prices have much better chances to advance from here than to decline drastically. Government report due October 8th may show a slight increase but other factors are now of greater moment than these officials' guess.
