Regulations Make Farm Loans Worthless To Area

Drainage Districts and Lands Watered by Old Wells Excluded From Benefits—Matter Referred Back to Chaves.

Farmers and others who hoped to get early action on the emergency farm loan situation in the Pecos valley have apparently lost in the first skirmish. Machinery has been set up to make these loans, but with so many restrictions as to be practically worthless to any of the artesian basin except the shallow water area. Dr. A. D. Crile of Roswell, who has been named loan commissioner for the valley, said yesterday the drainage districts would be excluded as well as lands watered by artesian wells drilled prior to 1912.

W. R. Hornbaker, T. H. Flint and others who have made efforts to get the federal emergency loans in the district since the passage of the measure last spring, said last night that these loans under the present restrictions were worth nothing to the lower area of the basin and they are preparing to carry the fight for these loans back to Congressman Dennis Chaves, who has done some very commendable work in bringing the matter to the attention of the federal farm loan officials.

Our readers are no doubt familiar with the efforts to get short term emergency loans for this section. Congressman Dennis Chaves and Senators Bronson Cutting and Sam Bratton were influential in getting irrigated lands included in the emergency bill. When the matter passed to the federal land bank at Wichita, Kansas, and an adverse decision was made by this bank, then a committee consisting of Messrs. W. R. Hornbaker and J. E. Robertson conferred with Congress-

OIL MARKETERS OF ZONE 1 HAVE MEET HERE MONDAY EVE.

Members of zone 1 of the oil marketing committee of eastern New Mexico perfected an organization here Monday evening. The meeting attended by oil marketers from Chaves, Eddy and Lea counties discussed the NRA code as applied to the organization. M. E. Baish of the Malco Refineries is supervisor of the zone. Grant Keyes of Roswell is district chairman. Mr. Powers with the Phillips Petroleum Co. of Roswell, was chosen secretary-treasurer. State officers attending Monday's meeting included J. P. Anthony of Albuquerque, state chairman, M. McCollum, vice-chairman, and Dudley Cornell, also of Albuquerque, secretary-treasurer.

HALLOWE'EN PRANKS COST ABOUT $500

Halloween pranks played here Tuesday evening cost Artesia citizens approximately $500.00, one conservative estimate states. In addition to moving a lot of trash and junk over town, several window lights were broken, including two plate glass windows, a stone was thrown through a resident window and several water meter boxes belonging to the city were smashed. Little attempt was made to hold the mischief makers in check and no arrests were made so far as known at this time. Quite a number of the citizens feel that pranks were carried too far in Tuesday night's episode and that steps should be taken to prohibit such practice in the future.

TO START POTASH SHAFT

Construction of a shaft over the hole of the "Golden Grimes," a potash property belonging to Dallas, Texas, interests in the southeastern portion of the county will be started within the next thirty days, it was stated from unofficial sources this week. A refinery and other buildings will likely be erected on the property after the shaft is in operation, it was said.

Pay Your Taxes Before January 1

Because of delay in certification by levies by the state board of equalization, Eddy county tax collections will not be started until December 1, Richard Westaway, county assessor, stated recently at Carlsbad.

With levies certified by the state and county, Westaway is at work preparing tax rolls. They will be turned over to the county treasurer by the last of this month. First half taxes must be paid before January 1 to avoid penalty.

ROUND TABLE DISCUSSION AT ROTARY CLUB

Members of the Artesia Rotary club enjoyed a round table discussion at the luncheon program Tuesday. Each member talked for one minute on the subject of his own choosing. Visitors present from Roswell included John Beers, John Tweedy, Thornton Boswell, Ed Williams and Herb Smyrl. The Rev. A. C. Douglas of Artesia was also a visitor.

ROBINSON ESTABLISHES OFFICE AT ROSWELL

Will Robinson, supervisor of the liquor control district No. 2, a former resident of Carlsbad and a former newspaper man of that city, has established headquarters in Roswell, it was announced yesterday.

ARTESIA--ROSWELL PLAY SCORELESS TIE HERE LAST FRIDAY

Artesia played a scoreless tie with Roswell here Friday in the first high school football conference game of the season. The Bulldogs excelled in practically every department, but lack the punch to score when a real punch was necessary in the fourth quarter. Roswell threatened to score on passes in the first quarter, but was stopped before the threat materialized.

Chambers and Champion were the outstanding men for Artesia, while Hoffman starred for Roswell. Artesia made gains principally from line bucks, while Roswell made more yardage from running plays.

Summary: First downs, Artesia 9, Roswell 6. Passes: Artesia completed three for fifty-eight yards and failed to complete two; Roswell completed four for fifty-eight yards, tried seven which were incomplete and had one intercepted. Penalties: Roswell fifteen yards, Artesia none. Punts: Artesia punted seven times for 249 yards; Roswell punted six times for 213 yards.

PLAN REBUILD NEW MEXICO ROAD OIL CO. PLANT AT DAYTON

Preliminary plans have been made to rebuild the refinery of the New Mexico Road Oil Co., at Dayton, it was announced here last week. The plan to build on the potash spur of the Santa Fe, announced shortly after the fire on October 15th, has been abandoned if it is understood. The part of the plant damaged by fire will be replaced to eliminate so much of the fire hazard.

Officials of the New Mexico Road Oil Co. said they hoped to have the plant in operation shortly.

FULL N R A CODE IS ENDORSED AT MEET TUESDAY EVENING

Committee and Business Men Vote Unanimously to Continue Move—Will Explain High Points to Consumers.

Artesia will continue to operate under the full provisions of the NRA. Whether to abandon the movement or whether to go on with it has been a mooted question here since last week, after administration officials announced communities of 2,500 and under would be exempted from certain provisions of the general code and since Artesia is on the border line of the required population.

At an NRA committee meeting called Tuesday night at the Artesia hotel by Jess Truett, chairman, and attended by a number of business men, it was unanimously voted to continue the full provisions of the NRA here. Mr. Truett read a letter from the NRA administration officials, in answer to a telegram sent by him last week. Information contained in the letter stated Artesia might continue to enforce the general provisions of the blanket code, if the population warranted such procedure in the opinion of the committee. When the question was placed before the house by Mr. Truett, it was given unanimous support.

Consumers Enlisted
The necessity of cooperation among the consumers was stressed at the meeting. In fact locally the NRA has reached a point where it will fail unless the consumers do their part. It was pointed out also that the business men here have shouldered as much of the unemployment load as they can afford and unless supported by the consumers, they can not even continue to carry on. Looking to a full enlistment of the support of the consumers, the speakers bureau has arranged to have a speaker explain the high points of the NRA to the consumers at the Majestic theatre each evening for the next two weeks. Addresses at the theatre will be brief and to the point.

SWOPE PRESENTS A PLAN TO AID N R A

WASHINGTON—Substitution of permanent self government of business and industry for the temporary work of the national recovery administration was proposed yesterday by Gerard Swope and drew immediate agreement from Hugh S. Johnson.

The New York industrialist outlined the plan at a meeting of the business advisory and planning council of the commerce department. A few hours later Johnson, the industrial administrator, indicated his agreement in a press conference.

At about the same time, Henry I. Harriman, president of the chamber of commerce of the United States, was telling reporters that he favored the principle of the plan. Harriman said there had been a great deal of dissatisfaction among business men over the NRA program and that "very little of the present NRA" would be retained under the Swope proposal. Action on the Swope plan was postponed for committee study at the suggestion of Harriman in the council meeting. The plan would merge the chamber of commerce with various other groups there are representatives of business and of the new organization would be named a board of appeals that would arbitrate all questions that arise in the application of codes.

1250 LAMBS SOLD

Twelve hundred and fifty lambs were weighed out Tuesday at the Bullock feed pens and sold to F. W. Waller of Roswell. Most of the lambs purchased by Mr. Waller will be moved to other sections of the country, while 299 will be fed by Roger Duran on the Woods farm to be delivered later. Growers who sold Tuesday were: George Williams, 116; T. E. Young, 54; Buck Willburn, 699; J. O. Young, 82; T. J. Terry, 299. The lambs averaged from 67 to 72 pounds in weight.

Transient Camps

A gift of $25,000 from the federal government will operate the four transient work camps to be established in New Mexico as a winter relief measure, according to Miss Margaret Reeves, state director of child welfare.

The camps will be at Albuquerque, Gallup, Tucumcari and Las Cruces, she said, with Gallup getting a camp and not Raton as first planned.

These camps will care for the estimated 500 daily transients in the state. The youth of the itinerants will be put to constructive work or sent home. The older men will be given work to earn their keep and the women and girls will have different work and plans.

State Board Wants Funds

The state board of education plans to go into the problem of raising revenue to offset the loss to school funds that will be brought about by ratification of the 20-mill limit on property taxes, said Mrs. Georgia L. Lusk, state school superintendent.

Vernon O. Tolle, secretary of the N. M. E. A. has been asked by the board to get into touch with the taxpayers associations and other groups interested in the matter and find out what suggestions they have to offer.

Library Books

About 6,000 books were placed in rural high school libraries at the beginning of the term, Mrs. Mariamne Geyer, state high school inspector, said recently in a report to the state board of education. The books were purchased by the state department of education out of the rural aid fund before it was transferred to the free texts fund.

Call for a meeting of the democratic state central committee at Santa Fe November 20 was the signal for friends of the various candidates for national committee to begin active campaigning for their favorites.

STORES WILL CLOSE MONDAY, ON NOV. 13 FOR ARMISTICE DAY

The Artesia business houses will close in observance of Armistice day on Monday, November 13th. A petition circulated yesterday by M. G. Schulz asked the business houses to close on Monday the 13th since the 11th fell on Saturday. Thirty-six business houses signed to close on that date. No Armistice program has been planned at this time so far as known.

BANK STATEMENT REFLECTS IMPROVED FINANCIAL CONDITION

How strength has been added to the position of the First National Bank is reflected in a financial statement as of October 25th, published in this issue. A comparison of the condition of the First National as of the above date with a statement published September 30th of last year, the only call made before the first of the year, is gratifying because it shows that not only has the condition of the bank improved, but the financial condition of the community as well. Since September 30, 1932, the loans have been reduced $52,578.00; the bills payable $165,083.76 and of the $55,787.32 remaining bills payable shown on October 25th, the amount has been reduced to approximately $50,000. The deposits increased $84,063.19 from September 30, 1932, to October 25, 1933, and have since increased about $20,000.

PRODUCER COMPLETE LOCATION STAKED IN LEA CO. PAST WEEK

Continental Completes a Well—New Location is Staked—Gasser is Still Blowing Wild—Eddy Co. Drilling Routine.

Except for the completion of a Lea county producer, a new location staked and a gasser still blowing wild, oil activity in the southeastern oil sector is more or less routine. The Continental Oil Co. has completed a producer in its McCallister No. 1, sec. 24-26-36, in southeastern Lea county. Drilled to a total depth of 3237 feet, the McCallister made 282 barrels on a casing flow in twelve hours. The Conduit No. 1 of E. B. Guess et al., sec. 12-25-35, in the same general sector, is still blowing wild from 3349 feet and is now estimated to be making 15,000,000 feet. The first report last week that this test was making 5,000,000 feet was evidently an error. The gas flow is running wild on account of a split casing, but workmen are running tubing in an effort to kill the gasser.

The Southern Exploration Co. has staked a new location in the Jal area. This test to be drilled is known as the Ascarte No. 1, in the NW sec. 24-25-36.

In Eddy county, there is routine drilling only. Leonard Barnsdall, State No. 9, sec. 22-17-29, drilling below 2307 feet. Lockhart et al, Root No. 2, sec. 7-17-30, drilling below 3415 feet, a small show of salt water 3386 feet. New Mexico Oil Syndicate, McClelland No. 1, sec. 22-22-23, drilling below 4175 feet. Spearow et al, McIntyre No. 1, sec. 35-23-25, drilling below 925 feet. Stovall and Marshall, Mock No. 1, sec. 29-24-27, drilling below 900 feet. Western Drilling Co., Green No. 2, sec. 29-17-29, drilling below 2530 feet. Compton Oil Co., State No. 9, sec. 15-16-23, preparing to run 8 1/4 casing. F. W. & Y. Oil Co., State 67, sec. 10-19-28, spudded and shut down.

In Lea county, the Humble Oil and Refining Co., Lindley 7-A, sec. 13-25-36, is drilling below 1430. The Shell Petroleum Corp., Grimes No. 1, sec. 28-18-38, drilling casing plug at 3955 feet.

MANN IS APPOINTED BANK EXAMINER

E. C. Mann, Artesia druggist and former active vice-president of the First National bank has been notified of his appointment as federal deposit insurance corporation examiner, which is the same as bank examiner as federal banks are operated now. Information of the appointment came by wire Sunday from the comptroller of currency. Mr. Mann wired his acceptance Monday and is waiting on instructions as to where to report. He said yesterday he had not received further details and did not know where his headquarters would be located.

Mr. Mann has been a resident of Artesia for twenty-seven years. Starting in as a druggist he served as cashier of the Citizens State Bank for several years until the merger of the two banks, later becoming active vice-president. During the time he has lived here he was chosen county commissioner for four terms, served as mayor for several years and was also a member of the school board for two or three terms.

WORKING ON DEEPEST WELL

C. J. Dexter, local oil man, has a brother, R. B. Dexter, who is working on and has a working interest in the world's deepest drilling oil well. The well, an extension of the Kettleman Hills field on the California coast, is known as the Lillis Welsh No. 1, and is drilling below 10,668 feet and making a 5 5/8 inch hole. Plans have been made to drill to 11,000 feet unless production is obtained sooner. The depth of the well is not remarkable to Mr. Dexter, but the fact that his brother has gone to manual labor.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Eaton of Sonora, Texas, arrived last Thursday for a visit with their daughter Mrs. Paul Otts and family. They expect to leave for home today.

State Wants Some Cavern Revenue

SANTA FE—An active attempt to recover title to a school section in the heart of the Carlsbad Caverns National park, or to secure reimbursement to the state for this section of land, is to be launched soon, Frank Vesley, state land commissioner, announced Tuesday.

Vesley declared that despite the action of the legislature in giving the government a deed to this section, the government does not have title to this land.

"The legislature had no more authority," he said, "to give the government a deed to this section, than it has to give a deed on the Empire State building. The state of New Mexico still has title to this section."

"I am interested chiefly in securing adequate reimbursement to the state for this section. The government, I understand, received approximately $168,000 from visitors to the caverns last year. The state should be allowed some portion of the revenue or else granted sufficient public domain to reimburse it for this valuable section so lost."

Vesley indicated that a million acres of public domain would be somewhere near a fair reimbursement since if all of the land could be leased at the 3 cent minimum per acre it would return $30,000 annually to the public schools.

SPECIAL SESSION OF STATE LEGISLATURE LIKELY IN JANUARY

There is a growing feeling over the state that Governor A. W. Hockenbush will call a special session of the state legislature shortly after the first of the year. Those in close touch with state affairs say the governor has intimated a special session is likely although he has remained non-committal about the matter. The opinion of a special session is based on the taxation crisis, which must be faced sooner or later. The supreme court's decision on the referendum, now up for hearing may have some influence on the prospects, depending on whether the court holds the new revenue measures immune from referendum and then effective. Even with a favorable court decision, a special legislative session may still be necessary because of the fact that the present tax laws are largely innovations in the state. School authorities are worried over the ratification of the 20 mill levy. They say schools will suffer unless something is done to replace revenue lost through the enforcement of the 20 mill measure. Some new form of revenue will be necessary before the budget making period in the spring, if schools are to operate in normal months.

BULLDOGS TO PLAY PORTALES

The Artesia Bulldogs will journey to Portales Friday to play the Portales Rams. The squad is in good condition and should win handily according to current dope. So far Artesia has a much better season record than the Portales lads. Only a small delegation will accompany the team unless present plans are changed.

NEW MEXICO LEGION DEPT. CHARGED WITH PLAYING POLITICS

Accusation that the New Mexico department of the American Legion is a political organization and is dominated by Bronson Cutting are contained in a report before the sub-committee of the national executive committee under authority of the national executive committee as of October 1, a copy of which charges was received at Santa Fe yesterday.

The report has 38 paragraphs of charges, nearly all of which allege that officers of the Legion hold remunerative positions in public office.

Draws Knife and Slashes Conductor Six Times After Third Attempt to Put Him Off Train—Hearing to be Here.

W. W. Nichols, Santa Fe freight conductor, was painfully hurt Sunday noon when he attempted to put Fred Freeman from the train and was slashed about the face and body six times. The story told of the cutting said Nichols had attempted to get Freeman off of the train twice and on the third time Freeman drew his knife and slashed the conductor six times, cutting him on the neck and neck once, once on his head through a cap, twice on the arm and once on the body. Freeman, who is said to have been recently from Alabama was riding through town on the freight. He was arrested by local officers and lodged in the city jail. Later he was taken to the county jail at Carlsbad. Officers will await developments in Nichols' condition before filing charges. Nichols was rushed to a Clovis hospital after receiving first aid treatment here.

Information from Clovis Tuesday indicated that Nichols was resting well and was expected to recover. Dee Robinson of Clovis, special agent of the Santa Fe, assisted in handling the case here. Freeman will likely be given a preliminary trial as soon as the condition of Mr. Nichols can be definitely determined according to W. H. Ballard, justice of the peace. Freeman gave his home as Ronoak, Alabama.

Miss Kitty Gayle Flint drove to Albuquerque Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Kerr. She will visit her sister, Miss Sue Flint, who is a student at the University, while the Kerrs attend teachers convention.

NUMBER OF CABINS TO BE BUILT ON THE ASSEMBLY SITE

Work is expected to start soon on a number of cabins at the Sacramento Methodist assembly site, four miles west of Weed. At the recent Methodist conference at Carlsbad, the conference passed a resolution asking each charge or church in the district to erect a cabin. There are some sixty-five or seventy charges in the district and at least sixty-five churches plan to erect a cabin before the assembly opens next summer, according to the Rev. A. C. Douglas, local pastor of the First Methodist church. Five churches signified their willingness to start construction immediately.

Plans have also been made to do some improvement in the business district of the assembly site.

A NUMBER HUNTERS RETURN WITH BUCK

Numbers of big game hunters have been trekking in since Friday. Deer in some areas are apparently scarcer this year than last, although hunters coming in from the Queen section have had fair success. Among the successful sportsmen to bag the limit include: Owen Campbell, Merwin Campbell, Roy Vermillion, Joe Hamann, H. A. Watson, A. B. Coll, Buford Gray, A. G. Glasser, W. N. Waldrip, John Richards, Stanley Carper, Van Welch, Sr., J. K. Wallingford, who secured a cactus buck, Bill Cheney, Fred Knowles, Howard Stroup, Glenn Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Evans, Glen Evans, John Boren, Lynn Buford, Chas. Bullock, Ed Shockley, Howard Williams, J. A. Patton, D. I. Clowe, Joe Bill Funk, James Felton, Douglas O'Bannon, Truman Howard, I. H. Burgess.

Four hunters returned yesterday from the Sheldon range bringing in three bucks and five does. These hunters were O. D. Marrs, R. H. Marrs, D. C. Miller and Woodrow Money. Albert Richards also returned yesterday with his buck.

Mr. Albert Richards bagged a turkey, the only woman to secure a turkey this season so far as known.

IMPATIENCE

Modern methods of our mechanical civilization has made us a nation of impatient people. When we get in a car we want to see the speedometer at sixty miles per hour, although we are going nowhere in particular. We have grown impatient at efforts to restore normal financial conditions. In the rich middle western farming belt, where people drive expensive automobiles, live in fine homes and probably owe more money than in any section of the United States, the people have become impatient with the efforts of the present administration in bringing about better times and have declared a nation-wide farm strike. The strike is on even though conditions have shown a gradual improvement. The trouble is a good many people think heads of the nation ought to bring back normal times at sixty miles per hour. They never stop to think the present situation was not brought about in a day and consequently can not be restored to normal in a day.

It is but natural when adversity arrives to blame ourselves as little as possible. If there is a possible chance the other fellow always gets the full benefit of the blame. There is also an unnatural tendency springing up, which involves a theory adverse to the old spirit of individual initiative and this is the thought that "the world owes me a living."

NEWSPAPERS VERSUS POLITICS

You frequently hear that the old time spirit of a newspaper has disappeared and that its editorial policy is subservient to the business end of the plant. Successful newspapers now have adopted modern business methods in operating the plant, which means they are usually free from any burdensome debt, which might tie the hands of the newspaper so to speak on some community issues. Another thing is that newspapers now days steer clear of political alliances, by keeping their employees out of politics. There are temptations to run for some office at times, but this policy might react unfavorably on many papers now struggling to keep their obligations paid.

A well managed newspaper is free to take up any community problem just as any good citizen ought to be. Lots of times a careful analysis of an invitation to enter a political discussion reveals selfishness at the bottom. It might help the community, but the chances are the politician would be the principal beneficiary. And again a so-called evil may be just a boggy man when an investigation is completed.

RECOGNITION OF RUSSIA

The private individual does not conduct an investigation into the affairs of his customers, except as it may concern his honesty or ability to pay. What the customers do or what kind of a home life they live are not ordinarily considered in the every day transactions among the people of any community.

How the people of Russia live, what they believe and what they do have been advanced recently in the proposed recognition of Russia, as commercial trade barriers. It is true that American people as a whole do not approve of the soviet form of government because it is contrary to the principles of individual initiative, but this particular form of government should not serve as a barrier against trade relations, if the Russia government is capable of taking care of its obligations.

The higher men climb, the longer their working day. And any young man with a streak of idleness in him may better make up his mind at the beginning that mediocrity will be his lot. Without immense, sustained effort, he will not climb high. And even though fortune or chance were to lift him high, he would not stay there. For to keep at the top is harder almost than to get there. There are no office hours for leaders.—Cardinal Gibbons.

This maudlin "crooning" could hardly keep up forever unless a large percentage of the millions who listen to it want it. In which case there isn't a particle of use going any further to find out what is the matter with the United States. . . . A nation with that type of intelligence prevailing is doomed to start with.—Solar Plexus in New Mexican.

In the "gay '90's" husbands played poker while their wives attended missionary society, says an exchange, but a few nights ago a woman went to her bridge party and won the prize of the evening while her husband attended a church brotherhood meeting. Now, who dares answer the question, "Is the world getting better or worse?"—Santa Fe New Mexican.

Tell ten men something worth while a neighbor has accomplished and probably two will believe it. On the other hand tell the same ten of some neighborhood scandal and they'll all believe it.

According to the reports of the census takers, the women at the seaside this summer are but in a bare majority.

PICKED UP ON MAIN

Boys, here's a sure fired high powered method of proposal, which has led many women to the altar. Write out your proposal and then perhaps rewrite it to make it sound as nice and flowery as possible. Then get off and call your lady friend over the telephone, intimating that it is a long distance call made simply because you think so much of her. Recite this proposal and watch for results. The chances are she'll say yes before she thinks of herself, but if she doesn't gently insist, telling her of all the trouble you have gone to and then tell her it's like an editorial in a newspaper. This is the way some people sell advertising with results (?) and since the two are alike one ought to be as successful as the other. And to the merchants who purchased ads either on the NRA page or an editorial on the new free thrown sheet: Cold weather will soon be here and in order to be spared the misery of seeing humanity suffer, the writer hereby offers you use of his Indian blanket, worn recently at the carnival. A little reflection on what you have done may make the cold chills run up and down your spine, but a good warm blanket should be comforting. So far as we know only two business men really need to be wrapped in the blanket, but an Indian blanket is bigger than just the ordinary coverlid, so we probably can accommodate you. And if you want to stage a little post Hallow'e'en parade that will be all right too. We'll just tell the folks the Indians have come to town. Or would you prefer to be called another name?

Some people who make the loudest noise because they can't get a better price for what they have to sell, will spend thirty minutes trying to beat the price down when they buy anything.

These new trains are being built for speed and wind resistance. The big heavy lumbering trains will be discarded. Besides just think of the chances you are taking of being discarded.

HEALTH COLUMN

Conducted by Dr. J. R. Earp, Director, New Mexico Bureau of Public Health.

Fall Typhoid

Typhoid fever which is always too prevalent in New Mexico has been unusually prevalent this fall. Many of the cases have occurred too late in the season for us to suspect flies. An investigation in Mora county indicates that a more probable medium of infection there is water. Of 217 families investigated in that county 112 were found to be drawing water from wells, 76 from river or ditch and 29 from springs. Many of the "wells" are simply holes in the ground which are filled with water carried from the ditches in barrels.

Supposing that some of this water has been contaminated it must have been contaminated by the stools or urine of a person who had typhoid fever at the time or had had it in the past. One third of the patients with typhoid fever discharge bacilli in their stools for three weeks from the beginning of the illness. Eleven per cent of patients discharge bacilli for from eight to ten weeks; these are called convalescent carriers. About three per cent of patients discharge bacilli for years after they have had the disease; these are called chronic or permanent carriers. Women carriers are four times more numerous than men carriers.

It is important that the safety of the public health that these carriers should be known so that they may be prevented from handling food and may be taught to take great care in the disposal of their excreta. New Mexico health authorities know how to find carriers but they lack the necessary personnel and equipment.

Individuals who are obliged to drink water from ditches, rivers or shallow wells may protect themselves (1) by making sure that all water is boiled before it is drunk and (2) by inoculation with typhoid vaccine.

BLOTTING PAPER

Whenever you use a blotter on your letter do you ever wonder how it was discovered? It seems a careless workman forgot to put the sizing into a certain lot of paper and the result was thought to be an entire waste. The proprietor of the mill was very angry and sat down to write a cross note on the ruined paper to the workman. He was still more annoyed when he found the ink spread and was absorbed by the paper. The idea then occurred to him that the paper might be used instead of sand for drying ink.

At first all blotting paper was pink, because red rags were used to make it. These rags were hard to bleach and could not be used for the fine writing paper. Now blotting paper is every hue.

CLARENCE E. TROTTER GETS WAR CITATION

Clarence E. Trotter, 4528 Cedar avenue, captain of the Field Artillery reserve, United States Army, waited 15 years to get recognition for his services in the Champagne-Marne sector in the World war, but he had it last week, according to a dispatch from Washington. He received a silver star citation from the war department, according to the dispatch, for "gallantry in action July 15, 1918."

The announcement said Trotter, then a captain in Battery A, 150th Field Artillery, Forty-second division, restored a battery observation post which was destroyed by enemy shells and in "utter disregard for his own danger" continued to direct fire of his battery and report progress of the attack. —Minneapolis Journal.

LAMB FEEDING LIGHT

Only a small number of lambs will be fed for market in the valley this year as compared with 25,000 to 30,000 at the corresponding period of last year. So far as known only two local men are feeding lambs at this time, these men being W. Leslie Martin and E. P. Malone of the Upper Cottonwood. The number to be fed is approximately 4,000. Unfavorable market outlook has discouraged the farmers from entering the feeding project.

FORECLOSURES PREVENTED

WASHINGTON—A large percentage of the 2,589 foreclosures averted by the home owners' loan corporation during the week ending October 29 were in western states.

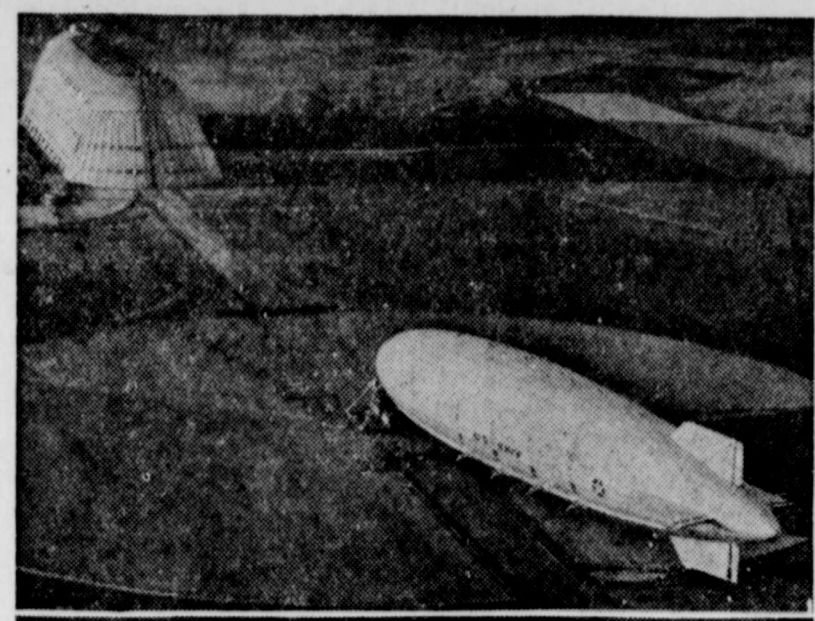

A breakdown by states of the corporation's activities Sunday gave the following on New Mexico: Sixteen foreclosures were averted in New Mexico, while 26 loans were approved, two with reductions. Sixteen applications were rejected before appraisal and one after appraisal. Eight loans were closed by exchange of bonds.

A TRIBUTE TO THE DOG

(Since several dogs have been poisoned and killed in Artesia recently, we are reproducing by request a plea to the jury by the late Senator Vest in the trial of a man who wantonly shot a dog belonging to a neighbor).

"Gentlemen of the Jury: The best friend a man has in this world may turn against him and become his enemy. His son or daughter that he has reared with loving care may prove ungrateful. Those who are nearest and dearest to us, those whom we trust with our happiness and our good name, may become traitors to their faith. The money that a man has, he may lose. It flies away from him, perhaps when he needs it the most. A man's reputation may be sacrificed in a moment of ill-considered action. The people who are prone to fall on their knees to do us honor when success is with us may be the first to throw the stone of malice when failure settles its cloud upon our heads. The one absolutely unselfish friend that a man can have in this selfish world, the one that never deserts him and the one that never proves ungrateful or treacherous, is his dog.

"Gentlemen of the jury, a man's dog stands by him in prosperity and poverty, in health and sickness. He will sleep on the cold ground, where the wintry winds blow and the snow drives fiercely, if only he may be near his master's side. He will lick the hand that has no food to offer, he will lick the wounds and sores that come in encounters with the roughness of the world. He guards the sleep of his pauper master as if he were a prince. When all other friends desert he remains. When riches take wings and reputation falls to pieces, he is as constant in his love as the sun in its journey through the heavens. If fortune drives the master forth an outcast in the world, friendless and homeless, the faithful dog asks no higher privilege than that of accompanying him to guard against danger, to fight against his enemies, and when the last scene of all comes, and death takes the master in his embrace and his body is laid away in the cold ground, no matter if all other friends pursue their way, there by his graveside will the noble dog be found, his head between his paws, his eyes sad but open in alert watchfulness, faithful and true even to death."

SEEKS UNDERSTANDING ON GOLD WITH ENGLAND

WASHINGTON — Anxious to avoid an unrestrained monetary war, the administration Monday sought an understanding with Great Britain on the application of President Roosevelt's plan to steady exchanges and increase prices by buying foreign gold.

For the London government, Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, treasury expert on international finances, interrupted his conferences on war debts to talk with American fiscal officials of the economic possibilities behind the presidential plan.

Meanwhile, exponents of varied schools of economic thought shook their heads and predicted disappointing results. Slumping markets spoke the opinion of the nation's stock and grain traders.

MILD OCTOBER

The past October has been one of the mildest fall months on record in the history of the local weather bureau. The highest temperature has averaged from 80 to 85 degrees while the lowest has averaged from 40 to 45 degrees. No moisture fell during the thirty one day period. Continued warm dry weather has been very favorable to the cotton grower and has enabled him to get not only a good grade and staple, but the weather condition has aided in the development of late cotton, probably accounting for at least 500 bales in this trade area.

A. BLACK APPOINTED IRRIGATION ENGINEER

The appointment of an irrigation engineer in New Mexico is announced by the Federal Land Bank of Wichita. He is R. F. Black of Santa Fe. This is the only state of the four it serves, according to the bank, that has such an engineer.

The bank states that its new engineer is working now in connection with the classification of water rights in New Mexico which have been recently adjudicated.

Mr. Black has had experience in irrigation work since 1923, when he was an assistant engineer for the United States reclamation service. Later, he did special irrigation work for the State Engineer of New Mexico. He was assistant state engineer from 1929 to 1931.

In 1931 he opened a consulting office in connection with George M. Neal, who has just recently been transferred as state engineer of New Mexico to engineer of the public works administration.

Mr. Black is thoroughly familiar with irrigation in New Mexico, and with his experience will be of much assistance to the Wichita, Kansas, Land Bank in the classification of New Mexico water rights.

Social Activities

B I L PARTY

Mystery, darkness, witches, black cats and jack-o-lanterns, all had their place in producing a proper setting for the initiation ceremonies of seven candidates into the mystic order of the B I L, associate order of the P. E. O. The candidates Messrs. Fred Cole, W. E. Kerr, V. L. Gates, Rex Wheatley, M. A. Corbin, Willis Morgan and G. R. Brainard, passed brilliantly the arduous ordeals set for them by the initiation committee, Mrs. Fred Cole, Miss Merrill Bradley, Mrs. Willis Morgan, and Mrs. Kerr, chief potentate, herald, keeper of the portal and register, respectively, in weird and grotesque costumes and were duly permitted to inscribe their names in the book of doom. They were well fortified for this strenuous experience, however, by a bountiful covered dish supper of the traditional Halloween favorites, baked beans, pumpkin pie and coffee, to say nothing of other sumptuous dishes, planned by the committee of which Mrs. Corbin was chairman.

The ludicrous performance of the hapless candidates was enjoyed by former initiates: S. W. Gilbert, Dr. Russell, Dr. Stroup, Ralph Shugart and W. C. Martin, also Miss Linna McCaw and the following members of Chapter J: Miss Emma Clark and the Meses Shugart, R. L. Paris, Gilbert, Alethea Phillips, Russell, Gates, Martin, Stroup and the hostess Mrs. Brainard, in addition to those already mentioned.

The party was one of the cleverest and most successful social affairs ever given by Chapter J.

RECEPTION FOR METHODIST PASTOR AND FAMILY

A reception was held at the Methodist church Friday evening to welcome the pastor Rev. A. C. Douglas and family.

The Rev. Douglas was returned to this charge for the third year, and a hearty welcome was extended to him by his congregation on this occasion. Martin Yates, superintendent of the Sunday school, extended a welcome in their behalf, George Frisch in his own clever way, spoke for the board of stewards, and Mrs. George Dixon spoke for the missionary society. Rev. Douglas responded and expressed appreciation by himself and his family, and renewed his pledge for service to his church and community.

Old time songs sung by Mrs. Martin Yates were enjoyed by all present. A few games were played during the social hour which was followed by light refreshments.

A generous supply of foods brought by the members were presented to the pastor and his family.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY FOR GIRL SCOUTS

The number two patrol of the T. N. T. Girl Scouts troop, entertained the number one patrol with a Halloween party Friday night at the home of Avis Clowe.

A hilarious time was had bobbing for apples, telling spook stories and visiting the witches' hut where fortunes were told. Only one incident broke into the good time of the Scouts and it was most unfortunate. A car accident took place in front of the Clowe home about nine o'clock and an unidentified man was killed. Mrs. Clowe took a platter and gathered up the remains. The Scouts seated in a circle very reverently received the remains into their hands, but were unable to tell who they belonged to. About fifteen pieces were recovered and are still unclaimed.

Refreshments of hot chocolate and doughnuts were served from a witches cauldron that hung over a camp fire. Those present were Jane Shugart, Sybil Pior, Wanda Story, Betty Nell Lanning, Edna Carder, Janice Mann, Minnie John Kile, Phyllis Bartlett, Elizabeth Stevens, Catherine Louise Williams, and Mary Baird.

HALLOWE'EN BRIDGE WITH MRS. FLINT

Mrs. W. E. Flint entertained her club the Bridge of the Month at her apartment home Friday afternoon with a Halloween party. At one o'clock luncheon was served at quartet tables bearing Halloween decorations with the Halloween motif being carried out in the appointments and menu. Locally the basis is unchanged to slightly better, all cotton thus far ginned in this section being of such high grade and staple that buyers are willingly taking it at from forty-five to fifty "on" December. The price for the week under review has moved within a range of about 35 points, influenced largely by the hopes or fears regarding the new gold policy of the administration.

We are to have a compensated dollar. One redeemable in gold but the weight of the gold for which the dollar would exchange will vary with the average of all commodity prices.

This is a rubber dollar but dollars are all rubber either as to weight or as to value. A dollar cannot have a fixed weight and also a fixed value. The administration's proposal for a managed currency is destined to raise commodity prices and then keep them there.

We have faith in this being done. It will take time; and patience should be exercised, but President Roosevelt says "it will be done."

Locally we cannot recommend the 10c loan feature to many farmers. It will not fit into the southwest irrigated sections as well as the old south because of acreage reduction features, yet there are quite a number of farmers who can cooperate without seriously interfering with their crop rotation plans.

The Loan Plan Briefly

Loans can be made only to actual producers, landlords or tenants, on the identical cotton produced this year.

The cotton may be stored in any approved warehouse, either locally or at port, but legal ownership must not have passed from the producer.

Loans will be made through cotton dealers, brokers, merchants, banks, warehousemen, cooperatives, or other lending agencies.

Notes will be made to mature July 31, 1934, and will draw 4% interest. No difference in value will be allowed because of the location of the cotton; and no allowance will be made to the owner for freight. Warehouses advancing freight will hold a first lien on the cotton freight and storage charges will take precedence over the government loans when the cotton is finally sold and these charges plus accrued interest and insurance will be deducted from the sale value of the cotton.

The grower to obtain the loan must commit himself to the 1934 acreage reduction campaign. Cotton production control associations of producers will have charge of the acreage control campaign in every county and will see that the plan is made effective, upon those cooperating.

Those signing up will receive from $3.00 to $11.00 an acre for the acreage thus held out of cotton must be in accordance with the government's plan.

WOMAN'S CLUB

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Artesia Woman's club was held at the Central School Wednesday afternoon.

A business session was held first with Mrs. Martin Yates, president, presiding. The new club home which is to be built, took up much of the time for discussion. Mrs. Yates is urging the women of the town to refrain from entertaining in any form on the evening which The Gost Bird will be presented by a cast of locals. The play is being sponsored by the club, the proceeds to go to the building fund.

The program for the day was rendered by the Girl Scouts. A little play written by one of the leaders, Mrs. Mary Stillwaugh, was presented by the girls, entitled "Poor Babes in the Woods." A first aid demonstration was very efficiently given, the program was interesting from beginning to the finish and was enjoyed by a large number of the club members and mothers of the Scouts.

Following the program the girls in Scout uniforms acted as hostesses to those present when they served tea and cookies, which were prepared by the Scouts themselves.

This was one of the important days in the National Girl Scout week program. The Woman's club is very thankful that they received the inspiration to introduce scouting in Artesia. Only a few years have passed but the progress is beyond expectations.

Cotton Grade and Staple . . .

Careful selection of your seed and careful cultivation of your cotton is essential to the grade and staple of your cotton, but how your cotton is ginned is another important feature. For more than three years now, samples of cotton sent from our gin to the bureau of economics, department of agriculture, have graded high. Here are the results on the last 300 bales sent in:

Grade: Good middling 255 bales; strict middling 45 bales.

Staple: One inch, five bales; 1 1-32 inches, 27 bales; 1 1-16, 114 bales; 1 3-32, 123 bales; 1 1-8, 31 bales.

When you gin cotton here you lessen the chances of a poor grade and poor staple.

Ramirez Refuses Pardons Does Not Want To Swell Ranks Of The Idle

The state penitentiary is the only home "Tutti Frutti" has and he intends to stay there, says the Santa Fe New Mexican.

Offered commutations, which would make his a free man, he has declined with thanks. Former Governor R. C. Dillon was the first chief executive to offer him liberty, but he refused, hoping the governor would not insist. He was eligible for clemency under the late Governor Arthur Seligman's pardon policy, but again he signified his preference to remain in his cell.

"Tutti Frutti" is Jesus Ramirez, sent up from Dona Ana county to serve from 40 to 50 years for rape. He began his sentence February 8, 1924. He is 77 years old.

Governor Seligman's policy was to pardon on each holiday the prisoner who had the most seniority, in point of "service," and who had a clear record—that is, who had violated none of the prison rules. Ramirez was one of the first to meet his requirement, but he waived his right.

Ramirez says he is an old man and if he were cast out upon the world, especially in this time of unemployment, he would be unable to get a job—at least, not a job that would enable him to live in the comfort that he enjoys in his present station in life, according to Warden E. B. Swope. "He said something, too, about wishing to pay his debt to society," said Swope.

Ramirez isn't entirely excluded from the world beyond the walls, however. He is a gardener.

Prison officials believe, however, he has not entirely forgotten the "great outside" despite his self-imposed imprisonment. It is said he has painted windows on the wall of his cell. Warden Swope was not prepared to say whether there was anything in this story, however. Ramirez has tastefully decorated his cell, he said, but all the warden could remember about the decorations was that there were some pictures of "santos."

If there is any reason for his nickname, Swope didn't know it.

"That is a common practice among the 'boys,'" said Swope. "Almost every man here is known by a nom de pen. In addition to his number. Sometimes there is a reason; just as often there is not."

"Tutti Frutti" was a school teacher. He continues to study and it is said knows three or four languages, including Chinese.

FORD V-8 WINS A GRUELING SWISS RACE

Six Ford V-8 cars piloted by Dutch drivers triumphed conclusively over five European and two other American entrants in the fifth annual running of the gruelling 5-day International Alpine Trail over 1,165 miles of Swiss, Italian and French mountain roads, according to official reports of the race received.

Three of the winning Fords driven by a Dutch team captained by Dr. J. J. Spenger van Eyck captured the coveted Coupe des Alpes, while the three other Fords won the first three places in the individual competition for the Coupe des Glaciers. The first two tied for first place with the best score of any of the dozens of contestants in the five classes competing.

The annual Alpine contest is probably the most severe test of motor car endurance and performance conducted in Europe. It is open only to stock cars as sold to the public. Its route from Merano, via St. Moritz, Turin and Grenoble to Nice, includes the ascent and descent of 12 major passes, with steep winding roads, scores of dangerous "hair-pin" turns and a never-ending variety of road surfaces, which test alike the stamina of the cars and the skill of the drivers.

Most difficult of all the passes is the Stelvio, in the Orler Alps between Italy and Switzerland. It rises to 9,150 feet above sea level. In the course of the 11-mile climb from the valley, the drivers were forced to negotiate 52 "hair-pin" bends before reaching the snow-capped top of the mountain.

The Ford cars and other competitors in the principal class were required to make the ascent of this difficult pass at an average of 28 miles an hour. Many were forced to stop along the way to replenish the water in their violently steaming radiators but the Ford cars came up the pass in formation without a halt and continued their journey without adding water.

At the final inspection of the competing cars at the finish in Nice where penalties were imposed for faults in condition, the Ford cars were passed without penalty and the drivers complimented by the judges upon the condition of the cars, both mechanically and in appearance.

Tornado Is Most Frequent Disaster; Causes Heavy Loss of Lives

What type of disaster occurs most frequently in the United States?

This question is answered from the relief annals of the American Red Cross, which show over a period of years that the tornado, or cyclone as it is called in some sections, is the most frequent and claims a heavy toll of life. It swoops almost without warning, and in the terrific whirlpool of its fierce winds it destroys all in its path.

The Red Cross gave relief in 44 tornadoes in eighteen states last year. The tornadoes killed 326 persons, injured 2,755 and the Red Cross gave aid to 21,738 who were homeless, injured or otherwise victims of the storms.

Prepared to Save Lives

One of the most valuable services given to the American public by the Red Cross is through its Life Saving and First Aid courses. Virtually all of the life guards at beaches and pools in the nation are Red Cross life savers. Nearly every industry in America supports the First Aid work of the Red Cross because it annually saves lives of thousands of injured persons. These courses are taught by Red Cross experts in both lines. Last year 66,354 certificates were issued to persons completing the First Aid course and 78,795 certificates for completing Life Saving instruction.

SECONDARY ROAD WORK SPEEDED UP

SANTA FE—Swift action to speed up highway construction work in New Mexico, especially approval of secondary road projects by the bureau of public roads, has been obtained by the democratic administration, through Senator Carl Hatch, Congressman Dennis Chavez and Mauldin, highway commissioner, who personally called on the commissioner of public roads in Washington.

Governor A. W. Hockenull has been in constant touch with the democratic representatives in congress assisting in securing speedy approval of these projects in order to get the work under way before winter sets in.

As result of the conference with the bureau chief, instructions have been issued for the field inspector to wire in his recommendations after each project has been inspected, and immediate approval by the bureau will follow. The bureau, Governor Hockenull was advised, favors immediate approval of highway projects in the drought stricken eastern counties.

DESTROYING FIELDS

EXISTENCE OF A LEMON

The lemon is native of the north of India. It is supposed to have been introduced into Europe during the Crusades. The wild state of the orange is not certainly known. Botanists find much reason to believe that all the kinds of orange trees have spread over the world from the warmer central and eastern parts of Asia. It has been alleged that the orange is a native of North America, near the Gulf of Mexico, but the probability rather seems to be that it has been introduced, and has become naturalized.

Regardless of what policy a bank pursues, whether it loans or whether it doesn't there are those who are ready to criticize. We welcome constructive criticism. We have learned by experience, just as you have learned many things and one of the things we have learned is that a bank can not gamble with depositors' money and still operate a safe bank. THE COTTON GRADE SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Cotton classed this week from Arizona, New Mexico, California and Texas, district 1, showed an increase in the proportion of extra white good middling and better, and from Arizona and California a decrease in spotted cotton.

Staple lengths declined slightly the past week, especially in lengths of 1-1/8 inches and longer, the predominating lengths being 1-1/16 and 1-3/32 inches.

New Mexico shows an increase in extra white good middling and better from 29 percent last week to 38 percent this week, a decrease in strict middling from 58 percent to 45 percent, and an increase in spotted cotton from 10 percent to 15 percent. Of the staple lengths 1-1/16 and 1-3/32 inches, an increase from 40 percent last week to 60 percent this week is reported. Very little change was noted in the 1 inch and 1-1/32 inches group. The proportion of cotton classed as 1-1/8 inches decreased. To date 83 percent of the cotton has been classed as extra white strict middling and better, and 76 percent 1-1/16 inches and longer.

War Veterans' Problems

Not since the period of the World War has the Red Cross faced a greater problem in handling the claims of World War and other veterans. Due to the changes in the regulations covering veterans' claims, chapters all over the nation have been crowded with veteran applicants for relief and for service in preparing appeals. During last year Red Cross home service workers in 3,268 chapters dealt with the problems of 411,124 ex-service men or their families. The chapters also aided 7,346 men still in the regular army, navy and marine corps.

Safeguarding Public Health

The Red Cross reports that 693 nurses are employed by 423 of its chapters in public health nursing. During the past year Red Cross nurses made 1,234,000 nursing visits, other than to schools, and also inspected 633,000 children in schools. Nursing at the bedside of the sick, unemployed, or other needy is a major part of their work. The Public Health Nursing Service of the Red Cross also directs the teaching of classes in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick. This course was taught to 53,000 persons during last year.

An Army of Children

The membership in the Junior Red Cross last year was 6,629,866 boys and girls in schools, private, public and parochial. They enjoyed volunteer work in hospitals and for orphans, the aged and crippled, and also aided their schoolfellows by providing attention for their eyes, purchasing their glasses, and giving many other types of service to them. The Juniors aid their school work by carrying on correspondence and the exchange of portfolios with school children in other nations.

RETAIL N R A CODE EFFECTIVE MONDAY

WASHINGTON—Most of the country's retail stores, with millions of employes, began putting into operation Monday the single compact applying equal standards of trade, honesty and fair competition to all.

Officials regarded the NRA retail code as the greatest experiment in the industrial recovery program and the start of its operation shared attention with the big problems of the day.

Digests of the master retail code, which went into effect Monday and expires June 16, 1935, and affects more than 1,000,000 stores and 5,000,000 employes, show that it accomplishes the double purpose of protecting the consuming public against unauthorized price increases and misleading advertising, as well as merchants against unfair trade practices.

LIABILITY CLAUSE WAIVED

SANTA FE—The liability clause in the state banking law of 1923 was waived Monday by a gubernatorial proclamation. Acting under authority in him vested by the 1933 legislature, Gov. A. W. Hockenull proclaimed suspension of the law to permit banks to issue new preferred stock without the liability clause so it could be sold to the reconstruction finance corporation in Washington if the banks so desired and had to.

Recommendation for the proclamation was contained in a letter from State Bank Examiner John Bingham who said that for the banks of the state to "properly benefit by the provisions of the several acts of the last congress, looking to extension of government aid to banking institutions, it is necessary."

Indians Want Oil Leases Cancelled

TUBA CITY, Arizona—Balked in its expressed desire for immediate cancellation of reservation oil leases, the Navajo Indian council, seeking possible means for eventual tribal control of petroleum resources, withdrew Tuesday from the United States secretary of the interior the power of attorney that official has held for many years.

Protesting they are "not getting a square deal" from the lessees, the Navajo headmen sought to terminate the leases outright, as previously they summarily had terminated reservation timber contracts.

John Collier, commissioner of Indian affairs, advised the chiefs that in his opinion the oil leases, although negotiated originally without formal tribal consent, and renewed indefinitely in

HUNTERS ARRESTED FOR TRESPASSING IN OLIVER LEE PASTURE

Several big game hunters, including two from the Cottonwood section have been arrested in the Oliver Lee pasture near the Pinon section, on charge of trespassing. According to the story told here, the hunters were approached by riders and ordered to appear in camp. The men refused unless the man on horseback could show his authority which he could not do. The two Cottonwood hunters were then ordered to appear in the Alamogordo justice of the peace court on November 15th.

Whether or not the hunters can be prosecuted and fined will depend on whether the land they were hunting on was private property or public domain. One legal opinion here says a person may not be fined for hunting on public lands. If there is privately owned lands in the Lee pasture, it would be well for the hunters to acquaint themselves with the fact in the future.

Regulations Make—

man Dennis Chaves in Albuquerque, which is mentioned in the letter reproduced below.

On September 30th, C. W. Carson, of Amarillo, Texas, then deputy land commissioner, visited Artesia and expressed a willingness to submit a sympathetic report. He never requested any information with reference to wells drilled prior to 1912.

In the light of the recent developments, those in close touch with the situation are convinced that the recent regulations are a deliberate attempt on the part of the Wichita bank to exclude this area from any benefits to be derived under the emergency act.

A letter from Congressman Dennis Chaves in which a letter from Henry Morgenthau, is copied, is reproduced herewith:

Washington, D. C., October 20, 1933.

Mr. W. R. Hornbaker, Artesia, New Mexico.

My Dear Mr. Hornbaker:

I have the following letter from Henry Morgenthau, Jr., regarding the Emergency Loan which you and Mr. Robertson had up with me in Albuquerque some weeks ago. The letter is self explanatory.

Yours truly,
DENNIS CHAVES.

Dear Mr. Chaves:

You will be interested to know that I recently requested Mr. C. W. Carson, Jr., Deputy Land Bank Commissioner, to visit the Artesia District about which you have written me and report upon conditions existing there so that we might determine how far we can go in rendering assistance to farmers in that district. Mr. Carson made his inspection in company with Mr. T. H. Flint, President of the First National Bank of Artesia and Mr. W. R. Hornbaker, Manager of the Artesia Valley Alfalfa Growers Association. As a result of this inspection and further consideration by our appraisal divisions of progress in steps toward control of the water supply used in that section, the Federal Land Bank of Wichita, as agent of the Land Bank Commissioner, is now being advised that applications for Commissioner loans, not to exceed $5,000 to any one borrower, will be received and loans made on a short term basis where conditions are found sufficiently favorable on appraisal.

The area from which applications will be accepted does not include the districts covered by issues of drainage tax bonds. The Federal Land Bank of Wichita is being advised that loans from this area should be carefully selected and that the experience of the bank in regard to these Commissioner loans will be useful in a later determination of the question of whether or not the Federal Land Bank itself should make loans there. It was the feeling of both Mr. Hornbaker and Mr. Flint that a thirteen year Commissioner loan would meet their requirements in a very satisfactory way.

Sincerely yours,
HENRY MORGENTHAU, JR.,
Governor.

Emergency farm loans in the artesian basin of the Pecos valley will be available according to information received yesterday by Fred Brainard, manager of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce, from Dr. A. D. Crile of Roswell. Restrictions will be placed on certain areas in the basin. The local area on which loans will be available include the Artesia sector south to Dayton and north including the Cottonwood. Loans up to $5,000 will be granted on irrigated farms except where the land is located in a drainage district and except on lands where the artesian well was drilled prior to 1912.

Data and full information regarding these loans may be secured from Dr. A. D. Crile, who will serve as agent. Dr. Crile will be located in the Roswell Chamber of Commerce office from 9:00 a. m. to 12:00 m. on and after November 6th.

SQUIRES EXPLAINS TEN CENT COTTON LOAN PLAN FRIDAY

W. R. Squires of El Paso, Texas, manager of the Southwestern Cotton Growers association, met here with about fifty or sixty cotton growers Friday and explained the ten cent loan plan of the government, the provisions of which are no doubt known to many farmers. The association of which Mr. Squires is manager is offering to advance ten cents per pound to growers FOB Galveston, Texas. Loans may be placed through banks and other associations, but there is a charge of about fifteen cents per bale for handling as we understand the explanation. Loans are of course conditional on whether the grower will reduce his acreage in accordance with the government's 1934 provisions. Mr. Squires explained that by placing loans through his association, growers would get the benefit of a rise in market if any and also the benefit of the grade and staple classification.

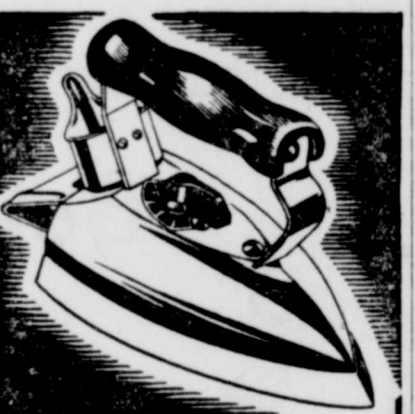

If loans are not made before July 1, 1934, the cotton will not be classed for grade or staple and will be pooled by the government to be sold at a flat rate of ten cents.

RAIN SNOW FALLING OVER STATE IN 1ST TOUCH OF WINTER

New Mexico got its first real touch of winter yesterday. While a high northwest wind was sweeping the valley, snow was falling in the western part of the state, on the mountains and on the high plateaus. The fall in some instances amounted to four inches. A slow rain began falling here about eight o'clock this morning and continued at intervals during the morning. A north wind and a blowing rain made wraps feel comfortable. The low temperature registered last night was only 40 degrees.

PROPERTY OWNER'S LOSS

It has been said there are numerous ways to lose money, but few ways to earn it. A man for instance may lose money thru speculation or he may lose money thru depreciation of his property. The latter is just as costly in the long run as the former.

For years many buildings have been gradually depreciating without any attention. They will finally reach the point where it is not economical to make repairs. "A stitch in time saves nine," applies to keeping your buildings painted and properly repaired just as it applies to other things.

We are always glad to have you avail yourself of timely suggestions on any problem connected with painting or repairing.
