Revolt In Greece Ended Yesterday

ATHENS—The government announced wholesale court-martials of rebel army and navy officers began yesterday at Athens and Salonika.

Fiery Eleutherios Venizelos, his 12-day insurrection against Premier Panayoti Tsaldaris' government at an end, had fled from his native Crete to gain haven on the little Italian island of Cassos.

The cruiser Averoff, "flagship" of the rebel fleet, conveyed Venizelos, his wife and several other revolt chieftains to the 25-mile square islet, and afterward radioed the government that it was continuing to Greece.

PLAN BOARD MAKES SURVEY OF THE PECOS

A survey of the Pecos river basin, now completed preliminary to submission to the state planning board, is only one of the many enterprises and projects before the new state commission. The Pecos valley study is a compilation of reports on water resources, mostly from data of the state engineer's office, and land utilization from the agricultural college, together with population data and transportation needs worked up by the staff of the board.

Final items of the inventory of proposed work projects have been received by the public works administration and are being classified and studied by the board. Included are several courthouses and other public buildings, auditoriums, highways, a long list of reservoirs, irrigation canals, city water and sewer systems, erosion control projects, park projects and others.

With his head bowed, Lester Sheenan, 44, appeared in court in New York City and admitted that he beat his mother because he did not like the meal she had prepared for him. He was sentenced to the work-house.

Number Cattle Sheep Provoke A Controversy

SANTA FE—Byron O. Beall, chief tax commissioner, issued a compilation yesterday which he said showed that in addition to 1,818,069 cattle being offered for sale to the federal government as compared with 957,843 listed on county tax rolls, there also were 2,525,551 sheep offered for sale to Uncle Sam with only 1,389,146 listed on the tax rolls.

Beall addressed a letter to county assessors of the state enclosing his figures and added the compilation "discloses a very interesting comparison and we trust that the figures shown in your county may be of interest in securing a proper assessment of livestock in your county as of January 1, 1935."

Beall supplied figures by counties, showing the number of cattle listed on the tax rolls and the number offered to the government in the drought relief campaign; which included the following, in this vicinity:

Chaves 77,478 and 154,095.
Eddy 28,307 and 80,793.
Lea 56,842 and 153,956.

State Allotment Is 67,011 Bales Cotton

The allotment of tax free cotton for New Mexico under the Bankhead act is 32,031,400 pounds or 67,011 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

Announcement has been received from the Agricultural Adjustment Administration that all forms to be used in the 1935 cotton program under the Agricultural Adjustment Act have been sent to the field and within a fortnight the forms necessary for producers to apply for tax-exemption certificates under the Bankhead act will be available.

State allotments of the number of bales of cotton of the 1935-36 crop which may be marketed tax-free under the Bankhead act, were also announced. The total Bankhead act allotment, as recently announced by Secretary of Agriculture, is 10,500,000 bales of 500 pounds lint net weight each, or the equivalent of 10,983,264 bales of 500 pounds gross weight each.

Several important changes in the rulings governing the cotton adjustment contracts in 1935 have been made. Provisions of a one-year contract to be offered producers who did not sign the original 1934-35 contract have also been announced. These one-year contracts will call for payments for a reduction of not less than 25 percent and not more than 35 percent of the base cotton acreage. In addition, producers who signed contracts in 1934 and who desire to reduce their acreage up to 35 percent and receive payment therefor, will be offered amendments to the 1934-35 contracts covering this increased rate of reduction.

Persons operating farms on which cotton was produced in 1933 and 1934 are eligible to sign the 1935 one-year contracts. Persons operating farms upon which cotton was produced in 1934 for the first time only are eligible to sign the one-year contract under certain conditions. The one-year contract contains all the essential provisions of the 1934-35 contract.

County allotments under the Bankhead act are now being completed and will be announced soon.

World Wool Crop Is Lower For 1934

The production of wool in the United States in 1934 amounted to 418,158,000 pounds of which 357,658,000 pounds was shorn wool and 60,500,000 was pulled wool, according to the estimate of the division of crop and livestock estimates. This compares with a total production of 428,921,000 pounds in 1933, and 412,540,000 pounds in 1932 and 438,328,000 pounds in 1931.

The estimated number of sheep shorn in 1934 was 45,192,000 head compared with 44,769,000 head shorn in 1933 and 44,431,000 head in 1932. The weight of wool per sheep shorn was 7.91 pounds in 1934, 8.15 pounds in 1933, and 7.77 pounds in 1932.

The estimated production in 1934 does not include wool from the skins of the 3,607,000 ewes that were bought by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and slaughtered for food or condemned and killed. The amount of wool shorn in the fall of 1934 in Texas is estimated at 6,045,000 pounds, compared with 14,850,000 pounds in 1933 and 5,050,000 pounds in 1932. In California fall shorn wool in 1934 is estimated at 2,309,000 pounds compared with 3,389,000 pounds in 1933. The amount of wool shorn at commercial feeding stations in 1934 was much smaller than in 1933. The amount reported by these stations was 1,731,000 pounds in 1934 and 3,834,000 pounds in 1933.

Oil & Gas Permits To Be Protected

WASHINGTON—Secretary H. L. Ickes assured Senator Cutting (R-N M) Saturday that the rights of holders of oil and gas permits will be adequately protected regardless of proposed changes in the oil and gas provisions.

The question of the extension of oil and gas prospecting permits beyond May 1 has been raised in oil producing regions. Ickes told the senator extensions of permits are granted under the act of June 30, 1932, and the time granted is for compliance, with all the conditions of the permit.

"You may be assured, however," Ickes told Cutting, "that where any permit has begun drilling operations in his state and has been unable to complete the same when his extension expires, or has otherwise acquired rights which in equity and justice should be recognized, his permit will not be summarily cancelled and such rights destroyed."

"Baby Doe" Tabor Buried Yesterday

Roughly clad but kindly mining folk, some of whom worked side by side with her in the dank chambers of the Matchless mine, paid humble homage at Leadville, Colorado, Wednesday at the bier of neighbor "Lizzie" Tabor.

The body of "Baby Doe," clad in a plain brown crepe dress and in a woad casket, was sent to a Denver vault to await burial beside her husband. His body is to be removed from abandoned Calvary cemetery to a plot in Mount Olive. At Denver, Willard McCourt, brother of Mrs. Tabor, announced he has declined offers of wealthy friends to pay the funeral expenses and to erect a tall, granite shaft in memory of the Tabor name. He said the McCourt family will pay for the funeral of the widow, who was found frozen to death last week in her shack at the Tabor Matchless mine, now unproductive.

His attempts to rescue the family cat from a tree proved fatal to Nickey Sheheen of Ithaca, New York. He fell from the tree and was fatally injured.

Influenced by the statement from Sen. Smith that the government would not make loans to support the new crop market (1935) as it had done this past year, cotton broke nearly the limit for one day's trading Monday, but rallied before the close to 11.10 for May. The market was very top-heavy with longs waiting for an advance on which to take profits, both actual and spot cotton, and additional buyers were scarce. An over-bought condition inevitably results in a decline just as an over-sold market rallies readily and easily. With the government (or any senator connected therewith) liable to make unforeseen statements such as Senator Smith made on this occasion, it is impossible to anticipate what a market will do, because it is impossible to anticipate what a man will say, unmuzzled. Therefore, while government influences direct the cotton market activities it is anybody's guess. Cotton seems too low, but it has demonstrated its ability to do what seems impossible.
