STATESMEN VS. HYPOCRITES

Every national or economic crisis develops both statesmen and hypocrites.

It takes much less brains or courage to be a hypocrite than to be a statesman.

It takes nerve to tell the truth to people who have been misled or misinformed.

The state of Oregon is fortunate in having a governor, General Charles H. Martin, who sticks by his oath of office and says, "When I was inaugurated I became governor of the whole people, and that is what I intend to be throughout my term."

In dealing with the lumber strike in Oregon and Washington, Governor Martin sets an example for all public officials in handling labor disputes. He says:

"Men have a right to picket and the right by moral suasion to try to get other men to stay away, but when thugs and scoundrels try to do what fifty men from Portland tried to do to a mill in Forest Grove, that's intimidation.

"Everyone has the same rights under the Constitution—man or woman, rich or poor, white or colored.

"If a man wants work and an employer wants to hire him, that man should be guaranteed the right to work. No one questions the right of a working man to collective bargaining. If he wants to improve his working conditions, he has a perfect right to quit."

That is sound Americanism and Governor Martin has made it clear that no labor group or industrial group is going to infringe upon the laws that were drawn to protect all the people—union man or non-union, small employer or large employer.

It is good tonic to find a governor making such straightforward statements and backing them up with the police power of the state to protect the life, property and jobs of "all" the people. That is courage, not hypocrisy.—Republican, Rushville, Indiana.

A PROGRESSIVE STEP

The state health department is to be congratulated on its first step to rid the state of the malaria mosquito. It is understood that a federal fund of $2,200,000 will soon be available for this work. While the mosquito has never proved the same menace here as it has in the warmer climates, there are places in the state where positive evidence of malaria has been found and suspicious looking insects have been found in this vicinity, probably the products of the bogs southeast of town. Dr. O. E. Puckett, district health officer, last week sent in a specimen to be examined by the state health department, but no report has been received from Santa Fe as this is written.

A survey of the local bogs has been made, but this is as far as the project has proceeded. So long as the bogs are allowed to remain in their present state, just this long will the menace exist, not only from the standpoint of spreading disease, but a light southeast wind will sometimes bring a horde of mosquitoes here and make it uncomfortable.

Not only will some draining be done under the present plan of the health department, but workers will use traps and tricks to lure the mosquitoes into a death trap. One of the most common methods is the use of Paris green, mixed with fifty pounds of sand. The mixture is spread over the infested waters, the sand sinks, but the poison floats on the water, resembling green vegetable matter. Paris green is deadly poisonous to the mosquitoes as well as many other insects.

GRIT

If an individual entering the eve of life has met successive reverses, it is but natural that he will become discouraged in the course of time. It takes grit to face adversities after one has passed the productive period of his life, but we still have these people with us even though younger men have despair of lesser obstacles and have found it easier to accept relief.

We know a man past sixty years of age. The depression and a three-year drought in another state swept away his life earnings on the farm. He came to the Pecos valley to make a fresh start and last year made a fair beginning for a comeback. A few weeks ago hail wiped out his entire cotton crop, leaving only an occasional stub of a cotton stalk to indicate where a once promising field of cotton stood. When he surveyed his loss he realized that it was too late to re-plant cotton. He did not throw up his hands and quit as most people would have done, instead he planted the cotton field to fall feed, taking his chance that the feed crop will bring him enough money to supply his table with common "every-day grub" and buy a few clothes needed for his family.

He is still hopeful of staging a "comeback" and is willing to stay on the farm for another trial next year.

MORATORIUM

The New Mexico Farm Holiday association wants Governor Clyde Tingley to call a special session of the state legislature to declare a moratorium on farm mortgages. If the politicians listen to the association, we will have a continuous moratorium on practically every thing from now on. Those birds want all kinds of social security legislation, but when pay day comes, they want to shove it off with a moratorium. Private individuals, trust companies, life insurance companies and even the federal government expects some recompense when loans are made just as the farmer expects to profit when he gathers his crop. Continuous disappointment year after year such as the moratorium exponents urge will demoralize and ruin any company or industry engaged in making loans in the course of time.

The threatened conflict between Italy and Ethiopia is a plain war of conquest, where the big dog swallows the little one just like they did 2,000 years ago. Still we sometimes pause to boast how civilized we are and Mussolini is probably feeding the Italian populace a lot of "boloney," on the glory and honor involved in the coming war, which will probably sound patriotic now, but will be recognized as plain propaganda by the children of the soldiers in the present conflict.

We have finally found two men who agree on the name of the desert plant placed in our show window a few days ago. It has been called Century plant, Sotol and Mesal (the plant Indians make whoopee with). Joe Shuff and Doc Doss say it's the Mesal plant and a very unusual one at that.

A little ditty on the spring song of the physicians has been prescribed for this column by the three local doctors and here it is: Spring is here—oh, spring is here—with sickness in its train. The doctor grabs his little bag and works with might and main; No time to eat, no time to sleep, he works with weary brain. His patients say, "Just charge this, Doc, until I come again."

Growing pains and stomach aches and every ill that kills, Colic pains and chronic aches the doctor's work day fills. Crowded are the waiting rooms, but empty are the tills, Heaven send us patients WHO PAY THEIR BILLS!

THE REV. A. C. DOUGLAS TELLS THE CHAMPION HARD LUCK FISHING STORY OF THE WEEK. Douglas accepted an invitation to go fishing with C. Baldwin of Lamesa, with the understanding that he was to be delivered back in town by 10:00 o'clock Monday morning and it was agreed to start at 4:30 a. m. the same day. The start was made and the fishermen arrived at Kaiser lake on scheduled time. After a rather poor catch, the fishermen began their return journey only to develop car trouble with a new car. Examination revealed there was no gasoline in the gasoline tank so Douglas hot-footed it over to the Pecos Diamond Refining Co., a distance of six miles. The gasoline was duly delivered by a refinery employe, but with a tank full of gasoline, the car would not start, so after working on the car for a couple of hours, it was decided there was nothing left to be done but to pull the car over to the refinery. But pulling the car over to the refinery did not relieve the fishermen of their difficulties. They had a car that would not run and were farther away from town than at the lake, so it was finally decided to drive into Artesia with a borrowed car and the two arrived at 4:30 p. m. Douglas had had nothing to eat since Sunday night and naturally felt a little discouraged over the adventure, but if we remember correctly some of the best preachers among the original disciples were fishermen and no doubt had similar experiences. Now if this same fishing expedition had been undertaken on Sunday, we would not have been surprised at the outcome. As it is, we are at a loss to fathom the hard luck of these two men unless Douglas went fishing some time when he shouldn't have or maybe went fishing some time on Sunday and was just being punished for this act.

Milk In Disguise

"Doctor," began a worried mother, "Betty is complaining again about drinking milk. Does she really need so much?"

"Yes, she does," the doctor replied "and that isn't just my opinion. We know it is true from countless scientific experiments. The findings have been checked and tested over and over again. Betty is growing. She needs the minerals of milk for her bones. She needs the vitamins to keep her healthy and growing. And we know that most children need the full quart to get their share."

"I know you're right," the mother said, "I'll keep after her."

"No, don't keep after her. That may give her a real dislike for milk. Try some disguise instead. Let's see now. There's ice cream and junket; custards and puddings; milk on berries; crackers and milk, cereals; egg-nogg. I'm sure you know of many other ways."

"How about cheese? Have you tried that? And perhaps Betty won't notice the change if you offer her a glass of cool milk in the middle of the morning and the afternoon instead of at meals."

"I see what you mean, doctor. Thanks, I'll try it."

Many View Eclipse of the Moon Visible Here

Between 9:00 and 9:30

Pecos valley residents got what was described as a perfect view of the eclipse of the moon, which began at 8:15 p. m., mountain time, Monday night. Clouds, however, obscured the view here until about 9:00 o'clock and shortly after 9:00 the total eclipse was visible, although the phenomenon was never actually total. Over the nation the period of total shadow was the longest in a century or one hour and forty-one minutes. Here the eclipse was visible in two different intervals, the longest was between 9:00 and 9:30 p. m. After that time a cloud passed over the moon and it was not seen for forty or fifty minutes.

The eclipse was the first witnessed here since 1927.

Culinary Jingles by Marcia Camp

When summer comes, I like to lie
And watch the snowy clouds float by—
Especially ones that really seem Like heaped-up piles of rich whipped cream.
Because I know that down on earth
Of this I'll always have a dearth!

the insufficiency of whipped cream which most people feel. For some it is entirely too fattening. For others it is too rich for their comfort. And for many it is prohibitively expensive. But if all these reasons could be removed at one sweep, how many dinner tables all over the land would blossom out this very night with strawberry shortcake and whipped cream, fruit gelatine and whipped cream, upside-down-cake and whipped cream, gingerbread and whipped cream?

In fact, all those objections are removed, and by a staple which should be found in every well-stocked pantry—marshmallows. For marshmallows make even thin cream whipple, fluffy, rich-tasting, without being actually any richer. And because they sweeten it at the same time, they make it into an ideal dessert sauce for fruits and gelatine.

Cut marshmallows into small pieces (eighths or smaller) with scissors dipped frequently in hot water. Place them in a bowl and pour the cream over them. Allow to stand, covered with paraffin paper, for several hours in the refrigerator. Just before serving, dice, whip like ordinary whipping cream. DROUTH AREA CATTLE HIDES WILL NOT BE USED IN COMPETITION

WASHINGTON—Senator Hatch (D-NM) was advised by the department of agriculture yesterday that hides from New Mexico drought area cattle would not be used henceforth in competition with the supply from existing markets.

In answer to a complaint Hatch received from Lee E. Evans, president of the New Mexico Cattle Growers' association, Rexford G. Tugwell, acting secretary of agriculture, said he was calling attention of New Mexico relief officials to regulations that drought cattle were to be used only for relief purposes.

E. R. King of the Cottonwood community underwent an operation for appendicitis Thursday night at the St. Mary's hospital in Roswell. Mr. King's condition was critical, according to an early report. He was suffering from a ruptured appendix.

Increased Yield Is Forecast For The Crops In New Mex.

The acreage on July 1 of New Mexico's important crops shows an increase of about fifty percent over the 1934 harvested acreage of the same crops, according to the monthly crop report issued by Fred Daniels, agricultural statistician, for the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The same or increased acreages are shown for all crops except winter wheat which has had an unusually heavy abandonment. The bean acreage is one of the largest on record. Heavy rains during May made it possible to plant near normal size crops this year.

WHEAT: On July 1, 100,000 acres of winter wheat were estimated left for harvest from which an estimated production of 700,000 bushels is forecast with a yield per acre of 7 bushels. The condition on July 1 was 42 percent of normal compared with 56 percent for the 10-year average (1923-32). In 1934 the harvested production was 561,000 bushels from 110,000 acres. Rains during May aided materially in saving a large acreage from total abandonment. A spring wheat crop of 312,000 bushels is forecast from 24,000 acres.

CORN: The acreage of corn on July 1 is estimated at 286,000 acres compared with 136,000 acres harvested in 1934. A production of 3,713,000 bushels is forecast from conditions prevailing about July 1 as compared with 1,088,000 bushels harvested in 1934. The crop in some eastern counties is in need of rain.

HAY: The all tame hay crop has 161,000 acres compared with 156,000 acres in 1934. From a condition of 75 percent of normal on July 1 a total production of 322,000 tons is forecast compared with 283,000 tons in 1934. The alfalfa hay crop which is included in the all tame hay crop has an acreage the same as in 1934 with a production of 250,000 tons.

BEANS: The July 1 acreage of beans is estimated at 180,000 acres, one of the largest areas in beans in years. The acreage of beans harvested in 1934 was estimated at 44,000 acres. The production on July 1 was estimated at 486,000 bags of 100 pounds each compared with 66,000 bags in 1934.

FRUIT: The apple and pear crops are about normal crops while the peach and grape production are estimated at a little above normal. The apple production is estimated at 838,000 bushels compared with

JEWS TARGET OF CAMPAIGN IN GERMANY

BERLIN—Nazis yesterday continued their anti-semitic campaign despite warnings from higher-ups, and pushed their sterilization program, despite Catholic protests, while the controlled press cried out bitterly against "atrocities" reports abroad.

Though order had been reestablished along the Kurfurstendamm, Berlin's White Way, and recurrence of Monday's anti-Jewish riot seemed unlikely, Julius Streicher and fellow Jew baiters had other methods to employ.

BURNED IN GAS EXPLOSION

R. C. Helbert, employe of the Sunshine Valley Creamery, was painfully burned about the arm and hand in a gasoline explosion Monday morning. The burns were not serious. Details of the accident were not learned further than that Mr. Helbert was attempting to light some sort of a gasoline stove.

1,240,000 bushels in 1934 and 843,000 bushels for the 5-year average. The peach crop is forecast at 129,000 bushels, while the 1934 crop was 123,000 bushels and the 5-year average was 78,000 bushels. The pear crop is estimated at 43,000 bushels, the same as the 5-year average. The grape production is forecast at 1,496 tons.

United States

Crops are off to about an average start on an acreage that is well above the acreage standing at this time last year but below the acreages of other recent years. However, as less of the country has been suffering from lack of rain than in any summer since 1927 the acreage of spring crops abandoned is expected to be much less than in recent drought seasons. Since the breaking of the drought in April and May, there has been a great improvement in general conditions in the drought areas and a widespread and substantial improvement in pastures, ranges and hay crops. Livestock that was on short rations is again feeding on green pastures. Milk production per cow on July 1 was about 12 percent above production at that time last year, this increase much more than offsetting the decrease in cows and giving the highest total milk production for that date on record. Egg production, while still low owing to the downward trend in the number of hens, was above production on July 1 in either of the last two years, the decreases in the number of hens being more than offset by the highest July production per hen that has been reported during the ten years of record.

Health Column

Wisdom Teeth

The third molars, or wisdom teeth, are particularly liable to cause serious illness and even death because of the frequency with which we have trouble in "cutting" them. The complications most often arise between the ages of twenty and thirty but may occur at any time after adolescence even into advanced old age. Men and women suffer equally but in both sexes the trouble is more often in the lower than in the upper jaw. The most common mishap is that only the front half of the wisdom tooth comes through and the gum forms a hood over the back half of the crown. Infection creeps under this hood and dangerous germs thrive in this little cavern. Attempts to remove a wisdom tooth while the gum around it is infected may result in a fatal spread of the infection.

Extraction of wisdom teeth is, however, an easy matter if taken in time. Abnormalities in the development of the third molars can be recognized by X-ray examination by the age of eleven years; that is to say several years before they are likely to cause any trouble. The time will probably come when careful parents seek a dental X-ray of their children at this age to be sure that all is well and in order to forestall dangerous maldevelopment. The dental surgeon who recognizes abnormality at the age of eleven will continue to make X-ray observations of the tooth until its growth reaches a stage when preventive surgery can be undertaken with safety and a minimum of inconvenience to the patient.

Electricity

Has Made Possible Countless Conveniences

In even the modest homes of today, it has brought illumination at the touch of a switch and put the old coal oil lamp out of general use. Years ago, electric lights were considered a miracle. Today we accept it as calmly as we do buying of groceries.

It is electricity that has made possible your electric refrigerator that gives you positive food protection, plenty of ice cubes, frozen desserts. It is electricity that makes your vacuum cleaner run, your toaster work, your electric fan circulate cooling air.

And yet, all of this electrical convenience is one of the cheapest items in your monthly budget. Use it generously to bring household comforts to your home.

An Interesting Fact to be Remembered

It is not generally known that the banks outside the larger cities of the country have granted, all through the depression, far more loans, proportionately, than the banks from which "loan statistics" are usually gathered.

In fact, had it not been for the splendid cooperation of the independent, home-owned, home-managed banks in the smaller cities and communities, local enterprise would have suffered more than it did.

The so-called "country banker" by his knowledge of local conditions, his intimate acquaintance with his customers and his willingness to "go along" with worthy borrowers, helped far more than is generally known to cushion the heaviest blow ever felt by the American people.

Tri-State Fair Catalogs Ready

AMARILLO, Texas—Catalogues for the Tri-State Fair here September 13-21, listing more than $15,000 in cash premiums, are available now. Copies will be furnished upon request of O. L. "Ted" Taylor, secretary-manager. The catalogues set forth all the entry rules. This year the Tri-State Fair will be the largest exposition in Texas and complete in every department. Racing, with more and better entries than ever, again will be the feature attraction, but there will be plenty of other amusement, including Backmann and Gerety, largest midway shows in the United States. These "world's best shows" will come direct from Detroit, Michigan. Concessionaires already are applying for space at the 1935 fair, which in recent years has developed into an elaborate show window of the southwest, daily attracting thousands upon thousands of men, women and children through its free gates from several states. Applications for concession space should be sent to Secretary-Manager Taylor. Wilbur C. Hawk, president of the fair association, said today community and county fairs thru-out the tri-state territory probably would be held during the week just preceding the exposition here. "These will provide elimination contests so only the best of exhibits will be concentrated for the Tri-State Fair," he said. The fall racing meet of the Tri-State Fair will begin Friday, September 13. The fair proper will open Monday, September 16, and continue throughout the week, including Saturday, September 21. GOP Lambast New Deal in State Meeting At Santa Fe On Monday

SANTA FE—The New Mexico Republican Central committee called to Santa Fe to draft rules and regulations for party conduct, adjourned late Monday afternoon after hearing the New Deal denounced by Fred Nicholas, district attorney of Valencia county and keynote speaker of the meeting, as a "black widow spider of despotism." Nicholas referred to one of the last speeches of the late Senator Bronson M. Cutting, wherein he warned that honesty and sincerity should be the attitude toward every question raised by the Roosevelt New Deal. Jaffa Miller, Santa Fe, and M. F. Miera, Magdalena, delivered short addresses during a wait for the report of the rules committee at the afternoon session, each assailing the present administration. Need of a program also was expressed by Miera. "The republican party has no quarrel," he said, "except with the democratic corrupt administration in the nation and in the state of New Mexico. We must have a program and a set of principles by which we will return this government from its present autocratic form back to the people in the precincts and in the counties." A message from State Chairman P. L. Rapkoeh, in a hospital in El Paso recuperating from an appendix operation, was read at the morning session by George Craig of Albuquerque, former state chairman. Carolyn Pyle of Albuquerque served as chairman early in the meeting, being relieved later by Nicholas. A committee of nine, one from each judicial district, was named to draft rules and regulations. Of 191 committee members, 135 were registered with 28 of the total represented by proxy. A resolution of condolence on the death of United States Senator Bronson M. Cutting was adopted unanimously by the delegates. The report of the rules committee, read by Judge Reed Holloman of Santa Fe, chairman of the committee, also was adopted without dissent and after only a little discussion. The major change in the new rules, it was explained, is in the apportionment of members of the state central committee. Each county, under the new rules, will have two members-at-large, a county chairman who also will serve as a member, and one member for each 1,000 republican votes cast at the last election, or for each major fraction of 1,000 such votes. Formerly one member was allowed for each 500 votes. The change will decrease the membership by between 20 and 25 members, where an increase of between 50 and 60 would have resulted if it had been left as formerly. Chairman Holloman explained. It also was added that under the new rule, state committee membership will be reduced more in the larger counties than in the smaller populated counties.

My Favorite Recipes

Frances Lee Barton says:

EVEN if you do buy the Sunday ice cream at the store, you can give it a genuine homemade touch by making a generous supply of Hot Fudge Sauce. And if you accompany this dessert with a plateful of crisp, homemade cookies, your Sunday dinner will be voted an unqualified success.

Hot Fudge Sauce 1 1/2 squares unsweetened chocolate; 1 cup milk; 1 cup sugar; dash of salt; 2 tablespoons light corn syrup; 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Add chocolate to milk and place over low flame. Bring to a boil and cook until mixture is smooth and blended, stirring constantly. Add sugar, salt, and syrup, and stir until sugar is dissolved and mixture boils; continue boiling, without stirring, until a small amount of sauce forms a jellied mass in cold water (220° F.). Add vanilla. Serve hot on ice cream or other desserts. Makes 1 1/2 cups sauce.

Revolt Threatened In Cotton Confab

Revolt threatened late Monday in the Southern Cotton Conference at New Orleans, Louisiana, over the refusal of Joseph Haspel, chairman of the conference, to accept a resolution indorsing the present cotton control program of the government in full. Haspel explained that the New Orleans Association of Commerce which is sponsoring the meeting had decided that no resolution should be accepted from the floor. Immediately several cotton farmers jumped to their feet and demanded that the resolution be acted upon. During the controversy Walter Randolph, a cotton farmer of Orville, Alabama, moved that the meeting be adjourned. The chair refused to recognize him. Earlier in the day farmers, bankers and industrialists attending the convention thundered applause when Henry W. Robertson of Loachapoka, Alabama, declared the government's intervention in 1933 with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration program had accomplished great good for the cotton farmer and said that the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt as president was a "divine act." Other speakers urged AAA modification by amendments to prevent "harmful effects."

OUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

The Swimming Hole Children should never be deprived of the pleasure, the exercise, or the safeguard which swimming affords. Although the familiar plea, "May I go swimming?" makes us a little squeamish, there are a few parents who don't see the importance of granting that wish. It's folly to be always saying "No." And it's worse to scare the child. Probably the sensible move is to get acquainted with the swimming hole. Enlist the aid of other parents. Call upon the health department to test a sample of the water. There may be other departments that will help you rid the bottom of old tin cans, broken glass, and rocks. If not, organize a group of fathers to tackle the job. But if the hole can't be made healthful and safe, petition the police or town council to close it. There are many instances where that "ole swimmin' hole" has been transformed into a place of beauty and a cause of community pride. Some of the worst places are now public parks where the whole family may enjoy a daily frolic in the water and a picnic supper. No one believes it can be done, until they try it. Many believe there is no such place near their town, until they look around. The effort will more than repay you.

Presbyterians Are Still At Top of the Soft Ball League

Presbyterians soundly whipped Fred Cole and his Baptists to remain the unbeaten team. Brown's team is also undefeated.

Presbyterians and Brown's club came through a week of play undefeated and are leading the Artesia Soft Ball League, each with a rating of 1.000.

Presbyterians kept in the victory column Monday night by trimming the Baptists 9-5. They spoiled the re-vamped team of Cole's in the first half of the first inning by running in six runs. This made three straight victories for the Presbyterians.

Brown's team took a hard-fought game from the Baptists last Friday 13-2. The Baptists had a two-run lead on Brown up to the fifth inning.

Last Wednesday afternoon the Oilers from east of town tangled with the Browns, but were unable to hold the younger fellows. The Oilers lost 15-3. They will return this Friday to try their luck against the Barbers. Come out and see these games.

Wednesday will find two well-matched teams playing, the Merchants vs. Barbers.

Oilers Win Over Dexter Sunday In Easy Go 10 To 5

The Artesia Oilers, playing good baseball behind the effective pitching of Pashea, downed the Dexter nine at Dexter Sunday by a score of 10 to 5. While the contest at Dexter was a comparatively easy victory, the Oilers were aided by the addition of two new players, Donald Burch at short stop and Grayson at center field. Grayson made a fine showing in the Dexter game, getting two hits in four trips to the plate.

Sunday the Oilers will go to Lovington to play a return game there. All games for the remainder of July will be played away from home, unless the schedule is changed. However, several strong teams will be brought here in August, including the Clovis nine, the Roswell Redbirds and two teams from Carlsbad.

Trench Mouth

Vincent's angina, or as it is popularly known, trench mouth, is not a recent bacteriological classification, the bacteriological facts of trench mouth having been worked out at about the same time that the cause of diphtheria was isolated and proved more than fifty years ago. The widespread prevalence of the disease as well as its name of trench mouth, are due to the fact that such a large percentage of soldiers were affected by it, and these boys at the demobilization of the armed forces carried the germs to all parts of the United States. Another factor in the widespread prevalence of the disease is the increased exposure to infection by using improperly cleaned eating utensils at hotels, restaurants and especially road side stands.

Due to improper cleansing of eating and drinking utensils at many public places, our lips come in contact and our mouths become contaminated with germs from the salivary secretions of former patrons of the roadside stand or restaurant. Each of us should show an intelligent interest in the cleanliness of our restaurants and fountains by inquiring of the proprietor as to his methods of cleaning his dishes. Such a campaign on the part of the public, or even by the nurses and physicians of this country, will do more to stop the spread of trench mouth and other nose and throat diseases than all the laws and inspections that the body politic can institute and carry on. Most of the eating houses in Eddy county have a fairly effective method of sterilizing their dishes.

O. E. PUCKETT, District Health Officer.

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life." (John 5:24).

Prospects For Fruit Crop In Mountains Only Fair, Is Report

A poor to good fruit crop is in prospect in the mountain district, reports say. A fair apple and late fruit crop will be harvested in the Hope community, under favorable weather conditions, but there is little or no fruit in prospect between Hope and Elk. The Weed section will likely harvest a partial crop, as well as the High Rolls district on the west of the Sacramentos. Farther to the west the crop is better and a good crop is reported at Tularosa.

SIR MALCOLM CAMPBELL RETURNING FOR NEW LAURELS

RIGHT— Sir Malcolm Campbell standing beside the Hudson Sedan with which he set a number of stock car records at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Will Drive Blue Bird on Salt Beds of Utah in Attempt to Make 300 Miles per Hour. May also Drive Hudson to Set New Stock Car Records

Sir Malcolm Campbell, British speed king and holder of the present flying mile record of 276.82 miles per hour made at Daytona Beach, Fla., last February is coming back. His determination to push the speed record up to 300 miles an hour is unshaken and he believes that on the faster and firmer surface of the saltbeds at Salduro, Utah, he has a better chance of doing it.

be laid out over the firm encrusted salt, sufficient in length for him to get the Blue Bird up to its maximum speed with plenty of room to start and to stop after the run over the measured course has been completed. This has been one of the objections to the sand at Daytona. The distances to "get going" and to stop are not quite as long as they might be. It is also necessary to make a slight bend in order to follow the contour of the beach.

It is very likely also that Sir Malcolm will drive a stock car again while here. If he does it will probably be a Hudson again. His selection of a Hudson sedan for his stock car runs last February gave him several covered marks. These have been bettered by another Hudson at Muroc Lake, Cal., which established 36 AAA records last April, piloted by Babe Stapp, Wilbur Shaw and Al Gordon, all well known Indianapolis Speedway Stars.
