LOAN PLAN FOR COTTON EXPLAINED

Detail Plan Announced by C. A. Cobb; A Cotton Reduction Plan Worked Out; Tax Exemption Certificates Given Out.

The cotton loan plan was explained in detail in a lengthy telegram received by G. R. Quisenberry, director of extension, from C. A. Cobb. This plan offers a government loan of 10¢ a pound at the farm without recourse on the borrower, on 13/16 inch middling cotton or better. This offer will apply only to cotton producers who are cooperating in the 1935 adjustment program, and only on the amount of cotton that they are allowed under their Bankhead allotment. In addition the producers will receive the difference between 10¢ and 12¢ on the average price of 7/8 inch middling cotton as will be reflected in the ten spot markets during the period between September 1 to January 1st.

This will permit all producers either to sell their cotton and receive the difference or secure a loan. Forms with detailed announcements should be received in County Agent Wunsch's office within a short time and will be immediately distributed to all persons interested.

Hamilton Ralls, district cotton supervisor, announced that plans for cotton reduction program for 1936 are now being outlined, and he expects that contracts should be prepared and ready for signature this fall. As soon as outlined plans are received, they will be sent to all cotton producers in the county.

The tax exemption certificates for the Eddy county producers coming out of the county allotment have been received and are being distributed to the producers. The county allotment is for 8,338,636 pounds of lint cotton. There are six contract signers who will not (Continued on last page, column 1)

Melvin Jernigan left Sunday for Washington, D. C., where he has accepted a position with the department of agriculture. He accompanied Lewis Walker, who has been here looking after property interests, as far as Wichita, Kansas, going from there by train to the national capital.

Light Rains Fall In This Area On Sunday And Monday Nights

Light rains fell here Sunday and Monday nights and added slightly over a quarter of an inch of moisture. The precipitation at the government station measured .18 of an inch on Sunday night and .10 of an inch Monday night. Sunday night's rain was general over the greater part of the Cottonwood area and measured approximately a quarter of an inch. While the Upper Cottonwood residents received only a sprinkle, the fall was general from the Hill farm east. The Roswell vicinity received a quarter of an inch of rain Monday night and the Cap Rock section east of Roswell got a half inch.

Fire Destroys Tosh Hatchery Friday Evening

Fire destroyed the Tosh Hatchery building and equipment, located just west of the city limits Friday evening shortly after 8:00 p. m. The origin of the blaze has not been determined. Austin Stuart, a neighbor, first sighted the fire and turned in the alarm. When first discovered the fire was coming up through the roof of the building. The truck of the Artesia fire department responded to the call, but owing to the headway gained by the fire and to the lack of water, the department's efforts were of little avail.

John Brown, owner of the hatchery, was attending the picture show at the time of the fire. He said he was unable to account for the fire as the hatchery had been closed for several months. The loss, estimated at $2,300 was partly insured.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bartlett and family left Monday for a vacation on the west coast and to visit the San Diego exposition.

Hope Schools To Start September 3

One New Teacher Hired And One Vacancy Yet To Be Filled.

The Hope schools will open on Tuesday morning, September 3rd, Supt. Edwin Hawkins announced. Supt. Hawkins expects an increase in enrollment over last year. Students will enroll Tuesday and will start class Wednesday. Two new sixty-passenger buses which were purchased recently by Claborn Buckner and John Teel will cover the routes covered last year by the four buses.

Miss Alma Lane, Lake Arthur, is the only new grade teacher employed. She will teach the fifth and sixth grades. The other grade teachers are Marjorie Johnson, primary; Edna Bullock of Artesia, second; Edna Puckett of Carlsbad, third and fourth; Hilda Kletke of Altus, Oklahoma, seventh and eighth.

Dorothy Clark of Pampa, Texas, will be new in the system, teaching Spanish and English; Frank Curry of Hagerman will continue in the vocational agriculture, which is connected with the federal Smith Hughes department. Merle Ogle of Greeley, Colorado, will continue as coach and mathematics teacher, and Supt. Hawkins will teach music. The commercial department vacancy has not been filled.

Congress Ends Stormy Session Monday Night

WASHINGTON—Congress adjourned a session of gigantic legislative labors Monday night, but left buried under a filibuster by Senator Long (D-La) the money for major new deal projects.

The senate quit at midnight Monday under the lash of an administration warning that President Roosevelt has constitutional powers to order adjournment.

The house closed its first session of the 74th congress at 12:09 a. m. (EST) after turning back the clock while waiting to learn what course the senate would pursue. When Speaker Byrns rapped the final gavel, the clock in the house chamber read only 11:57 p. m., or 12 minutes behind the real time.

But a tumultuous day of conference and compromises which maneuvered the administration in to rewriting its cotton loan plans as the price for mollifying southern senators and winning $76,000,000 in cash for the vast social security program was nullified by the Louisiana's five and a half hour talk-fest.

Bluntly, he was charged by Senator Robinson, the democratic leader, Senator Black (D-Ala) and others with "deliberately killing" the third deficiency bill "carrying funds for the aged and crippled by his filibuster."

"No I ain't," Long retorted, as he talked on.

At the other end of the capitol during Long's filibuster, representatives sang and performed to navy band tunes in the customary session end frolic. Crowded galleries echoed the fun-making.

Wrapped in the $100,000,000 deficiency bill Long talked to death was money not only to start the social security program, but also for the neutrality arms embargo, the national labor board, the utilities and Guffey coal bills and other outstanding measures.

Though some had contended Mr. Roosevelt could get the money from work relief funds, Robinson said Comptroller General J. R. McCarl had held otherwise and in repeated rulings the senate chair said the appropriations for "the aged" would be lost if the senate could not vote by midnight.

But Chairman Buchanan (D-T) of the house appropriations committee said Mr. Roosevelt could finance "everything necessary between now and January" through executive orders. Representative Taylor, the acting floor leader, added:

"The president told a bunch of us down at the white house this morning, and I suppose it's no secret, that he could take care of things even if the deficiency bill didn't pass."

Miss Helen Grace Gray of Cross Plains, Texas, niece of Mrs. Hiley Johnson and cousin of Mrs. Leslie Martin, accompanied Mr. Martin home Monday and will visit here for a week or two.

Rural Teachers Hold Institute At Carlsbad Fri.

The rural teacher's institute held at Carlsbad Friday for the rural teachers of the county was well attended. Discussions for the day were centered on the school work for the coming term and of the various problems to be met and solved. Donald W. MacKay of Portales, president of the Eastern New Mexico Junior College, was the principal speaker and addressed the teachers assembled on the subject of "Progressive Education."

A resolution committee, composed of N. M. Campbell, R. N. Thomas, F. R. Zumwalt and Mrs. Sadie Wilson, submitted resolutions thanking President MacKay for his address, extended sympathy to Mrs. Inez Beeman, a teacher who is ill in the St. Francis hospital at Carlsbad and also extended a welcome to the new teachers in the rural schools and thanked the county board and the county superintendent for providing testing material for the schools, the ensuing year.

Heavy Rain Falls In Sacramento Mountain Area Last Friday

One of the heaviest rains of the season fell over the Sacramento mountain area as far west as Cloudcroft Friday and did some damage to a portion of Highway 83 in the vicinity of Walnut Grove. The rainfall measuring over an inch in the Lower Penasco community made travel hazardous on the detour just west of Reeves Hill. Travelers coming in from Weed were held up by high waters for several hours at the draw just beyond Mayhill.

FARLEY MAY RESIGN

WASHINGTON—The imminent return of James A. Farley after a vacation in Hawaii led to a renewal of reports yesterday that he will relinquish the postmaster generalship during the autumn.

Farley, now in California, is to reach the capital next week to resume with full vigor the chairmanship of the Democratic National Committee.

Party officers said that the adjournment of congress opened the way for an acceleration of party activity and that possibly a decision might be reached for Farley to devote himself completely to getting the organization ready for 1936.

A name frequently mentioned as a successor to Farley is that of Frank C. Walker of Montana and New York.

Charlie Floore and Mrs. R. M. McDonald left Sunday for Gallup for a visit with Mrs. Floy Hartsfield, and to attend the Indian Ceremonial this week. Master John Hartsfield, who has spent the summer here with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Floore, returned home with them.

Major Companies Profit From Oil Held In Storage

WASHINGTON—An apparent effort to show by indirection that the larger companies are the only ones in a position to profit from oil in storage was wrapped up today in a new wrinkle put in the weekly report of the Bureau of Mines covering crude oil stocks and production.

The bureau report differed from its usual weekly reports in that it included for the first time the following data:

"Fifty-five companies hold 96 per cent of total stocks (334,757,000 barrels on June 3, 1935).

"Ten companies hold 76 per cent of the total stocks.

"Weighted average days' supply exclusive of line fill (that usually in pipe lines all the time) of 25 leading companies as of June 30, 1935, was 157.

"Weighted average days' supply of five important companies with relatively large stocks was 189.

"Weighted average days' supply of five important companies with relatively little storage was 45."

The report further included for the first time the statement that the proper working stocks level for all companies would appear to be about 175,000,000 barrels, which would be "about 150,000,000 barrels below the present level," all of which was an indirect way the bureau chose to say:

That stocks on hand are only about twice the minimum operating necessities.

Court House Bond Election Set For 17th

Commissioners Court Has Meeting Monday and Orders Bond Election For Addition to Present Court House.

A call for a special election to vote on bonds for the construction on a new court house and jail in Carlsbad was issued Monday following a special meeting of the board of county commissioners at Carlsbad.

The election will be held in connection with the special state election when five state amendments will be voted on September 17.

Petitions signed by more than 200 voters were presented to the commissioners asking for the special bond election.

Plans call for the issuance of bonds up to $75,000 if the election carries.

The $75,000 would only be a little more than half of the money needed to construct the building, but the remainder would be secured in the form of an outright grant from the federal government from the PWA.

Only a short time remains for the filing of applications for the construction of public buildings under which the federal government bears 45 percent of the cost.

P. V. GINNERS HAVE SAME GIN CHARGE AS 1934

Charges Will Run Forty-Three Cents A Hundred and Five Cents Extra For Ginning Snaps; Discuss Bankhead Act.

Representatives of Pecos valley gins, meeting here Monday afternoon, agreed to adopt the same ginning charges as were used last year.

The following items were the basis of last year's charge: Ginning, 35 cents per hundred; sterilizing, 5 cents per hundred; administering Bankhead act, 3 cents per hundred, and 5 cents per hundred extra for ginning snaps; $1.25 per bale for bagging and ties, and 25 cents per bale per month for insurance.

W. R. Hornbaker, manager of the Artesia Alfalfa Growers association, acted as temporary chairman of the meeting in the absence of F. L. Mehloph of Dexter, chairman. J. P. White, Jr., of Roswell served as secretary. There was some discussion with reference to placing the Bankhead tags on the bales as the bales are ginned. Some ginners last year tagged the bales as ginned while others waited until the cotton was shipped. Under the new regulations, however, the time limit for making the report on the ginnings has been shortened, which may cause some confusion, according to those attending the session here.

Eleven ginners attended the meeting here, representing practically every gin in the Pecos valley. Among those present were: W. D. Bales, O. O. Stewart and C. P. Pardue of south Eddy county, Chas. Rogers, W. R. Hornbaker, Oscar Pearson and R. E. Coleman of this area, Messrs. Curry of Hagerman, Martin of Dexter, W. A. Aiken of Hagerman and Dexter, and J. P. White, Jr., of Roswell.

Stores To Close In Observance of Labor Monday, Sept. 2nd

A petition circulated here yesterday among the business houses, agreeing to close on Monday, September 2nd, in observance of Labor Day, was signed by twenty-one firms. Drug stores, garages and filling stations were not asked to sign the petition and it is presumed they will remain open as usual.

Shoppers will do well to hold this fact in mind and make purchases for both Sunday and Monday.

Next District Rotary Meeting To Be Held Here

Artesia was selected as the host city for the 1936 district conference of the Rotary clubs of the 42nd district, at the closing session of the district assembly at Cloudcroft Saturday. The Rotary district convention is usually held the latter part of April or the first part of May and is expected to attract more than 300 visitors from the nineteen clubs of the district.

Thirty-eight Rotarians were registered at the district assembly held at Cloudcroft Friday and Saturday. The assembly was held primarily for the presidents and secretaries. Included among those who appeared on the two-day program were three past district governors.

Attending from the local club were: W. E. Kerr, president, and D. I. Clowe, secretary, J. K. Wallingford, W. C. Martin and Chas. Gaskins. Willis Morgan, member of the Albuquerque club, drove over last Thursday and went on to Cloudcroft with part of the Artesia delegation.

City To Make Park Out of Vacant Block Near Junior High

The City of Artesia has acquired the block immediately west of the Junior high school building, from the Blackmore estate, it was announced this week. Plans have been made to buy some additional land and convert the property into a park. According to present plans the city hopes to acquire a plot of ground equal to at least two ordinary blocks and improve it as a park site as rapidly as funds are available.

CLOUDCROFT ASSEMBLY REVIEWED AT LUNCHEON

The luncheon program of the Artesia Rotary club Tuesday was largely taken up with the discussion of the district assembly at Cloudcroft, Friday and Saturday. Chas. Gaskins, the newest member of the Artesia club, told of the impressions gained by attending the Cloudcroft assembly and of how he thought the influence of Rotary might be extended.

W. E. Kerr, president, was the principal speaker and reviewed briefly the two-day session. Mr. Kerr said he felt the district assembly which is held primarily for the club presidents and secretaries, should be held before the new club presidents and secretaries take office. Mr. Kerr took occasion at this time to change some of the committees and to ask for a closer cooperation between the club members and the officers.

Donald Mausley, new high school coach, was the only visitor present. Messrs. W. A. Wunsch, county agent, and W. Leslie Martin are attending a meeting of the state cotton control board at Roswell today.

Hunters Should Observe Federal Season On Doves

"The conflict between state and federal seasons on doves does not mean that the State Department of Game and Fish is advising anyone to break the federal law," Elliott S. Barker, state game warden, said yesterday.

"The season on doves has been September 1st to December 15th for several years and was set at the same dates by the State Game Commission March 4, 1935. Law digests and licenses, many of which have been sold, were issued on the basis of these dates," said Mr. Barker.

Recently the federal government through the biological survey set the dove season as October 1st to January 15th. After giving the matter careful consideration, the game commission decided that it could not logically prosecute persons for hunting doves in September in view of the fact that the licenses already sold carried the dates as September 1st to December 15th, according to Mr. Barker's statement. However, he further emphasized that the game department is strongly advising every one to observe the federal season.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Black of Albuquerque, accompanied by Mrs. Black's mother and sisters, Mrs. Bryant Williams and Misses Margaret and Alice Ruth Williams, all of Hope, were shopping and visiting friends here Tuesday.

$934,110 WPA Fund Allotted To State

Funds Allotted Thirty-One Counties For Community Sanitation.

Telegrams from the New Mexico congressional representatives at Washington Tuesday conveyed the information that the president had signed an allotment of $934,110 for Works Progress Administration projects in thirty-one counties of the state for community sanitation and in eleven counties of the state for malaria control, it was announced at Santa Fe.

Eddy county was not included in the eleven counties which had been allotted malaria control. The malaria control projects include drainage and filling of swamps and ponds which are breeding places for mosquitoes that transmit malaria and are in the following counties: Bernalillo, Dona Ana, Santa Fe, Sierra, Socorro, Valencia, Sandoval, Rio Arriba, Taos, San Juan and Mora.

TRAFFIC TO BE STOPPED AT PORT OF ENTRY

All traffic is being stopped at the Carlsbad port of entry this week, beginning August 24 and ending August 31. The travel bureau at Santa Fe has asked for information on tourist travel and all cars are being stopped to obtain the desired information.

The Sept. Dole Fund Slashed To 75 Million

WASHINGTON—Funds for the September dole were slashed to $75,000,000 late Tuesday as Harry L. Hopkins prepared to give work relief jobs—mostly of the old CWA type—to hundreds of thousands during the coming months.

The dole-cutting recommendation by the work relief allotment committee coincided with signs that President Roosevelt's demand for speed had endangered PWA non-federal and housing programs, besides many other heavy construction projects.

Earlier, Secretary Ickes, who apparently was not consulted in the president's decision to fix a series of deadlines for winding up allotment of the $4,000,000,000 fund, made no attempt to minimize difficulties in his end of the program. The allotment committee will hold its final meeting on September 17, only a day after Ickes' own deadline for the preliminary step of submitting PWA applications.

The committee's $75,000,000 recommendation compared with $93,000,000 allotted for August relief. Although only 200,000 have been given jobs besides members of the Civilian Conservation Corps, Hopkins recently said he would end direct relief for two states on September 1 and cut off a number of others late in the month.

Neither Ickes nor Hopkins would comment on whether WPA would return to the Civil Works Administration practice of allotting states lump sums to be spent at local discretion in the drive to provide 3,500,000 jobs by November 1.

Some quarters saw no way of getting in sufficient applications by the September 12 deadline.

The move was forced by the large sums already allotted to high cost projects, leaving an average of only $90 for each job created.

TWO PROJECTS TO BE SUBMITTED

Two WPA projects were being worked up here yesterday, one calling for fifteen blocks additional on the curb and guttering project, a playground project, calling for the establishment of a playground and ball park on the property recently acquired by the city, just west of the Junior high school building.

LEA CO., OIL POOLS MAY BE JOINED

Operators Playing Northwest Trend. Eventually May Connect the Major Pools With Eddy County, Is Theory Now.

Some interest is centered in the possibilities of connecting the five principal oil pools of central and southern Lea county with the Maljamar area in western Lea county and the eastern Eddy county sector as development continues at a normal pace.

The Monument district, Lea county's newest field, is also commanding some attention with the possibilities good for a western extension at the present time. Apparently the formation is softening, which is a favorable indication for major production in the sector.

Also prospects are good for the development of a northern trend from the Cooper pool. The Skelly Oil Co., Coates No. 1, in sec. 3-24-36, a north edge well completed last week for approximately 100 barrels an hour will bring more development to the northern part of the district, since many operators believe now that the best major production lies in this direction.

A summary of the week's activities in the southeastern reveals two locations made for new wells and four wells completed.

New locations staked include the Woolworth Block No. 2, well No. 1 of the Phillips Petroleum Corp., sec. 33-24-37, and the Coates No. 3 of the Skelly Oil Co., sec. 3-24-36.

Wells ready to add to the production column include two for the Continental Oil Co., one being the Meyers B-9 No. 4, sec. 9-21-36, which was drilled to 3884 feet and on a test flowed at the rate of 144 barrels of oil a day with 10,000,000 feet of gas. The other completion being the Wells A-12 No. 2, sec. 12-25-36, which was drilled to 3447 feet and flowed at the rate of 1020 barrels of fluid in twenty-eight hours, less 505 barrels of water.

The Gypsy Oil Co. has also completed its Houston No. 2, sec. 7-21-36, at the total depth of 3886 feet for an initial production of 368 barrels of oil with 2,500,000 feet of gas.

The fourth well completed was the Repollo Oil Co., Adkins No. 3, sec. 9-21-36, which was drilled to 3915 feet and on an initial production test made 441 barrels of oil in eight hours through tubing and a small amount of gas.

Three Are Held For Moving Cattle Out Without Inspection

Three pleaded not guilty to charges of removing five cattle from New Mexico to Texas without having them inspected when they were arraigned before Frank H. Richards, Carlsbad justice of the peace, Friday.

Two were still held in jail awaiting the making of bonds of $1,000. One man was released.

The three were Roy Hepler, J. L. Williams and Andreas Garcia. Hepler and Williams also were charged with theft of five cattle. Hepler is out under bond.

The Williams named is not the J. L. Williams of Malaga.

Much Activity Is Reported At Potash Mine

Construction of the refinery of the Potash Company of America, thirty-two miles southeast of here is progressing at a satisfactory rate. The mine site has been the scene of much building activity for the past six days. A new office building and several residences for the workmen have been completed in addition to the refinery construction. A new steel tippie or elevator has recently been installed as well as a new Deisel engine to supply power for the mine and refinery.

The refinery is said to be about sixty percent complete and will be ready for operation within the next sixty to ninety days. The mine is not being operated at the present time and will not likely be in operation until a second shaft is completed. The second shaft, located about 450 feet northwest of the original shaft, is down 250 feet.

The road from here to the mine is said to be in fair condition.

TWO DAYS—115 NEEDLESS DEATHS

Newspaper headlines show that little if any progress has been made in cutting down America's horrible automobile accident toll—a toll that took 35,000 lives last year.

Over the single week-end of August third and fourth, 115 people were killed in automobile crashes. Thousands were injured seriously. Property damage ran to a vast total. And that week-end was simply an average one—the same thing happens week after week.

The nation must take a more aggressive stand than it ever has in pursuing and prosecuting reckless and incompetent drivers, if innocent lives are to be saved. If the chance-taking motorist risked no neck but his own, it would be possible to overlook him—but, under present conditions, he menaces us all.

The drunken driver becomes more and more prevalent—and it is an unhappy fact that few states have shown any real success in punishing him. The speed demon still rules a thousand highways. And the drivers who cut corners, weave in and out of traffic, drive on the wrong side of the road and pass on hills and curves continue to take their toll of life, health and property.

Efforts to educate motorists must be vigorously pursued—they have unquestionably produced results, and have kept the annual death list from becoming even greater than it is. And these efforts must be backed up with modern, adequate traffic codes that are enforced to the limit. In the average state, traffic law enforcement is weak and inadequate—it spurs, rather than hinders, the dangerous driver.

Every motorist should regard the war on the reckless and incompetent driver as a public duty, in which all should participate so far as they can.

THE MOSQUITO NUISANCE

For more than two weeks, this locality as well as others in the Pecos valley has been subjected to a vicious mosquito invasion, so vicious in fact that people are compelled to seek the protection of the screens rather than to occupy the lawns as they are wont to do at this season of the year.

It is a comparatively easy matter to provide breeding places for the mosquito. According to the health department, mosquitoes may breed in any stagnant water, including the rain barrel used for its soft water, the stopped-up gutter, where the water is permitted to remain until it dries up, the lily or fish pond where no fish are kept and the irrigation ditch or pond where stagnant water is never drained.

There may be mosquito breeding places right in the city limits, and if so these should be cleaned up for the general health and comfort of the citizenship. We have a strong suspicion that the bogs southeast of town, the game department insists on keeping, have provided the chief source of our troubles from mosquitoes and if the nuisance increases as the years go by we won't have anything on the Florida swamps from a health standpoint. And if the malaria menace exists here as we are told it does, the opportunity is wide open to develop a few cases or many cases if the number of malaria bearing mosquitoes increases.

There are control measures that may be applied at a small cost, at least until it is determined whether the out-of-town sportsmen will permit the draining of the bogs. So why invite disaster with inactivity?

THE SCOTCH WAY

A Scotchman started to file a telegram containing twenty words at the Western Union office at Medford, Oregon. Informed that he would be charged for the ten extra words, the Scotchman took the message back and worked over it for a long time, mulling to himself as he wrote. Finally, with a sigh of satisfaction, he filed the following message:

"Bruises hurt erased afford and erector analysis hurt too infectious dead."

Unable to curb his curiosity the sales clerk asked what kind of code it was. The Scotchman declared it was not code at all, and read it aloud:

"Bruce is hurt. He raced a Ford and he wrecked her. And Alice is hurt too. In fact she's dead."

Another Scotch customer of Western Union, at Tulsa, Oklahoma, is said to have filed the following telegram: "Disguise soldier carton horses Egyptian beaded hound deduce ditty doodad." He explained to the dumfounded clerk that it meant: "This guy's sold your cart and horses. He gyped you and beat it. How in the deuce did he do that."—Santa Fe New Mexican.

The socialistic theory that all should strive for the common good, not for individual gain may be a beautiful theory, but is not practical in every respect. Under the present development of the human race, this theory tends to break down character rather than elevate it.

A southern evangelist says the road hog is a sinner. There's one thing about that, he don't have to wait for the hereafter to be pretty thoroughly damned.

The Sage or Three Rivers declares that woman can never claim equality with man until she wears shoes that don't hurt her feet.

Chislings

N. M. Baird, who reads the Chislings column religiously, often finds statements he can't agree with. Reading the statement last week where the ladies were alleged to have suffered whelps on their necks from mosquitoes, he says he has heard of whelps being raised on the back porch, but not on the neck. Well, we have heard of whelps being raised in the woodshed, but now, of course, the woodshed is obsolete.

Whatever cultural background the late Will Rogers lacked he made it up in his knowledge of current events thru reading the newspapers. Rogers was one of the best informed men of America and this is one reason he never had any difficulty in addressing a small or large town audience.

We see where the republicans have threatened to start the chain letter idea against the renomination of Roosevelt. Now that's a worthy thought for the aspiring young politician. If, for instance, you wanted to be nominated governor, you might inaugurate the chain letter and of course carry the usual threat of some dire calamity in case the letter hit the waste basket.

A drunk at a valley convention is said to have insisted on carrying a hotel elevator chair to his room to do his early morning milking.

Heard in police court: "Did you see the defendant strike the plaintiff?" "I did." "What time was it?" "Two and a half minutes after 8:00 p. m."

"How does it come you know the exact time of the assault?" "While I was watching the fight I thought some fool would ask about the time, so I pulled out my watch."

"So you want to be my son-in-law?" "No, no. All I want to do is marry your daughter."

"What are the ten best years of a woman's life?" "From 28 to 30."

The following items were swiped: Somebody wishes to know the qualifications of an ideal newspaperman. There isn't any such individual, but if there were, he would be as fast in action as an electric fan and as patient as Job; he would have the endurance of 20 and the vision of 70; he would have the memory of an encyclopedia and the infallibility of an adding machine; he would have an eye like an eagle and the nose of a bloodhound; he would be as tactful as an expectant heir before a rich uncle, and as firm as granite; he would be as discerning as a shaft of light and have the analysis of a supreme court jurist; he would be able to at one and the same time: answer two telephones, place a call of his own, check a proof sheet and add the middle name of the third assistant secretary of the Navy; and remember whatever it was he was told to bring home from the drug store.

The demure young bride, a bride of this modern age, her lips in a tremulous smile, slowly stepped down the long church aisle, clinging to the arm of her father. As she reached the low platform before the altar, her slipped foot brushed a potted flower, upsetting it. She looked at the dirt gravely and then lifted her child-like eyes to the sedate face of the old minister.

"That's a hell of a place to put a lily," she said softly.

A preacher, at the close of one of his sermons said: "Let all who are paying their debts stand up." Instantly every man, woman and child, with one exception, rose. The preacher seated them, and said: "Now, every man not paying his debts, stand up." The exception noted, a careworn, hungry-looking individual, clothed in last summer's suit, slowly assumed a perpendicular position.

"How is it, my friend," asked the minister, "that you are the only man not to meet his obligations?"

"I run a weekly newspaper," he meekly answered, "and the brethren who stood up are my subscribers, and . . ."

"Let us pray," exclaimed the minister.

Tingley-Kane Asked To Stage Hay Derby Here

Artesia may be selected as the site of a hay pitching duel, or hay pitching derby between Governor Clyde Tingley of Santa Fe and Hub Kane, publisher and editor of the Las Vegas Optic. Invitation to stage the derby in the center of the hay growing section of New Mexico has been extended both Governor Tingley and Mr. Kane by The Advocate.

The hay pitching derby idea grew out of a speech by Governor Clyde Tingley at Las Cruces recently, in which Governor Tingley stated that he could not throw big words around like some of the newspaper men of New Mexico but that he would challenge any newspaper man to a hay pitching contest. The challenge was immediately accepted by Hub Kane and mailed to the governor. Governor Tingley asked Kane to name the date and place.

In writing Governor Tingley and Mr. Kane an Advocate representative expressed a fear that the derby might develop into a bull throwing contest and suggested that if the boys were really in earnest about throwing the bull that an animal could be arranged for.

GOVERNOR WANTS WILL ROGERS IN BOOK FORM

SANTA FE—Gov. Clyde Tingley Tuesday wrote Mrs. Will Rogers and urged her to have all her husband's writings collected in book form. "Since most of Will's writings have been in newspapers and magazines, it would be a shame if they were not preserved in a more permanent form," he wrote.

Banks Believe

—in finding reasons for trusting people.

The banks of this country are now lending some seven billion dollars to borrowers in what are generally classed as "unsecured loans" for business purposes.

This means that no tangible form of wealth such as real estate, stocks, bonds, or commodities have been pledged by the borrowers to secure repayment of these loans. They are, however, secured by a far more valuable pledge than tangible wealth. Back of each loan is the proven integrity, the good faith and determination of the borrowers to carry through to a successful conclusion the purposes for which they made these loans.

This bank is always seeking new business friendships with men whose character and abilities entitle them to credit.

Texas Votes Wet By Over 250,000

DALLAS, Texas—John Barleycorn, a furtive fellow in the Lone Star State for the last sixteen years, was returned to citizenship Sunday by a quarter million Texans.

Dry leaders who contested the amendment repealing constitutional liquor prohibition admitted defeat as the majority of wet votes cast in Saturday's referendum passed the 50,000 mark.

A constitutional amendment for old age pensions also was adopted by an overwhelming margin.

"Our next battle will be for law enforcement," said Dr. L. D. Young, Dallas minister and executive secretary of the United Texas Drys. "We shall make an appeal for all law-abiding citizens to join with us in fighting for law observance and enforcement."

Cotton Growers To Get 12 Cents

The secretary of agriculture and the Commodity Credit Corporation have announced with the full approval of the president, that a cotton loan plan would be put into immediate operation on the 1935 crop which would assure cotton producers an average return of no less than 12 cents a pound on cotton grown in 1935. The AAA will make payments to cotton farmers to equal such difference, if any, as may exist between 12 cents and the average price of 7/8 inch middling cotton as reflected in the ten spot markets during the period September 1 to January 1. This period is chosen as covering the harvest months. Such payments as may be made will be limited to the individual producer's actual production, up to the amount of his Bankhead allotment.

The Commodity Credit Corporation will offer a loan of 9 cents per pound at the farm, without recourse on the borrower, on 13/16 inch low middling cotton or better. His loan will enable any grower cooperating in the adjustment program to obtain a loan at once and will permit him to market his cotton in an orderly manner throughout the year. These offers will apply only to those producers who are cooperating in the 1935 program and who agree to cooperate in the 1936 program.

The plan, as announced, will permit the free movement of the cotton crop into consumptive channels and at the same time protect the producers' income from the crop. Stocks of cotton held by producers under the 1934-35 twelve cent cotton loan, are not available at present price levels. Producers cannot close out these stocks until the price goes high enough to cover the loan, plus carrying costs and they probably will not sell unless prices exceed 13 cents. Prospects for cotton consumption are much improved as compared with last season.

The AAA emphasized that one important objective of this plan was to produce orderly marketing of the crop and that, with the free movement of the new crop into consumption, together with the certainty of a strong control program for 1936, the cotton situation appeared more hopeful than at any time during the past five seasons.

TRIBUTE TO WEEKLIES WAS ONE OF WILL ROGERS' BEST

CHICAGO—Some of the late Will Rogers' philosophic and humorous paragraphs will go down in literary history as masterpieces. And perhaps one of the finest of these is his tribute to the "home town paper," one of his last writings.

"Take away my ham, take away my eggs, even chili," said Will, "but leave me my newspaper. Even if it has such purely local news as 'Jim Jones came home last night unexpectedly, and bloodshed ensued' or 'Jesse Bushyhead, our local M. D., is having one of the best years of his career, practically speaking—but they just won't pay him when they get well,' the county seat was packed yesterday with prominent people from out of town, attempting to renew their notes' and 'election ain't far off and everybody is up for office that can sign an application blank.'"

"Now all that don't seem much news to you. But it is news to you, especially when you know the people and they are your own folks. So no matter how punk you may think your local newspaper is getting, why just take it away from you and see how you feel. The old newspaper, I think, is just about our biggest blessing."

"So let's all read and be merry, for tomorrow the paper may not have enough ads to come out."

CCC CAMP ORGANIZED

Tri-State Fair To Be Bigger - Better

AMARILLO, Texas—When the Tri-State Fair opens, Saturday, September 14, in Amarillo, it will be the largest exposition in Texas.

For several years the fair has ranked second only to the Dallas fair, which this year was postponed on account of the Texas Centennial.

Long ago the Tri-State Fair became more than its name implies. Primarily it serves the Panhandle-Plains of Texas, parts of New Mexico and Oklahoma. But the exposition is recognized by major circuits and exhibitors are attracted from many other states.

Foremost breeders of livestock enter herds each year for Tri-State Fair prizes. Some of these herds come from Oregon, Wisconsin, Illinois and other distant states.

The herdford show of last year was the third largest in the United States.

The Fair association, headed by Wilbur C. Hawk, for the second consecutive year since 1931, offers and guarantees payment in full of more than $15,000 in cash premiums for exhibits.

In addition to livestock, agriculture, art and industry will have complete entries.

Each year cities in the Tri-State Fair territory send large delegations and bands to the exposition.

General admission is free and all exhibits are open to the public.

Entertainment features this year will be varied enough to suit every amusement taste.

Fairs are education, but men, women and children go to have a good time, too, and so the fair management has made arrangements for two daily circus performances, for the largest midway attraction in the United States, for daily horse racing with legalized wagering and for many other entertainment enterprises.

The Bailey Bros. and Harley Sadler three-ring circus, purchased just recently by the well known West Texan, will stage a mile long street parade every other day during the fair.

The Beckmann & Gerety Shows will come to Amarillo direct from Detroit for the midway engagement.

Mason King, racing director, reports more and better entries for the fall race meet, which starts Friday, September 13—one day before the fair. O. L. Taylor again this year is secretary-manager of the fair. The 1935 exposition will continue to and including Saturday, September 21.

COX CANYON ROAD TO BE IMPROVED

Otero county commissioners were in special session Tuesday primarily for the writing of an application for Works Progress Administration improvement of the Cox Canyon road. The project, as prepared by the commissioners, with the assistance of Craig Baker, Roswell, WPA engineer for Lincoln and Otero counties, calls for improvement of the Cox Canyon road from the head of the canyon to Denney bridge, a distance of about fifteen miles. Included in the improvement will be widening of the road, cutting off the "blind" corners, dressing back slopes of the entire project, removing and re-laying approximately 1400 lineal feet of drainage pipe, construction of three cattle guards, and 200 feet of channel change.—Alamogordo News.

FIVE CASES TYPHOID FEVER

Dr. O. E. Puckett, district health officer, was up Tuesday aiding Carl Henderson, county sanitarian, in the mapping out of a pit toilet project to serve rural residents southeast and northeast of town. According to Dr. Puckett, five cases of typhoid fever have been reported in two Mexican families. Two cases northeast of Artesia are practically well while three additional cases have been reported southeast of Artesia. The pit toilet program will aid in combating this disease.

ARMY WORMS ARE BAD AT ESTANCIA

Cotton farmers have fought the army worm practically throughout the growing season in the valley, but the pestilence here has been light compared with the Estancia valley, where bean growers face ruin from the ravages of the worm, according to reports. Old timers here have commented on the report the presence of the worms there has created a traffic hazard for the railroads, in crawling on the rails. The railroads have tried to solve the problem of spinning wheels by keeping crews at work sweeping the insects from the rails. It will be recalled that grasshoppers have given the railroads the same trouble in years past. Older residents say when the worms become bad enough to stop trains, they are bad enough to sweep the country clean of all vegetation.

The ideal cake was never made And never will be, I'm afraid! The kind of cake I'd like to see Is thin as thin can ever be, With frosting piled three inches thick Besides a bowl and spoon to lick!

ICING PRESERVES CAKE

CAKE with more frosting than batter would obviously be doomed to extinction, with the extinction of the eater as a possible sequel! But most frostings have quite an opposite mission in life: that is, to make the cake keep longer and better.

On the day after it is baked, the finest cake is no better than its keeping qualities. And its keeping qualities depend a great deal on its icing. An icing that holds its own moisture helps to keep moisture in the cake, besides staying tender and fresh on its own account.

Girl Scout News

Sunday, August 25th, when Camp Mary White, Girl Scout camp in the Sacramento mountains, began its sixth annual Camp to Cavern Pack Trip, seventeen young women started on one of the most exciting pioneer trips of today.

For two weeks they will ride twelve hours a day, exploring, adventuring and following faint cow trails through the wilds of the mountains of New Mexico between the camp and the Carlsbad Caverns.

A chuck wagon, which has to detour for most of the trip, will meet them at meal time, to serve sourdough bread, biscuits, and other cow camp cookery prepared entirely in Dutch ovens.

The girls, for the most part campers unfamiliar with the west, will saddle, bridle, and care for their own mounts. At night they hobble the horses out on the plain, and in the morning search for them before beginning the day's ride.

Ranchers along the way provide entertainment in the form of round-ups, rodeos, and barbecues. Pack trippers all try their hands at roping, bulldozing, and branding. They have a taste of driving, cutting and herding.

They sleep cowboy style in tarps on the ground, bath in cow tanks along the way, and can put on a saddle slicker without frightening a horse.

Caves of the prehistoric basket weavers are explored, and there is a day through Last Chance canyon, where early-day badmen tried to escape from pursuing possees. Its sides are so precipitous that only the very bravest will attempt to go through it, so tradition goes. Sitting Bull Falls is another sight visited by the trippers. A day thru Carlsbad Caverns completes the trip.

Girl Scouts in camp from Artesia the last session which closed the day the Pack Trip began were: Helen Gates, Irene Gillispie and Margaret Mahone.

J. H. Bridgman returned to his home at Moore Park, California, Tuesday after spending a few days here and at Hope attending to business matters and visiting with friends. He was accompanied on his return by Russell Floore, who will resume his studies at Woodbury College in Los Angeles, and by Miss Wilhelmina Wilburn of Hope, who will attend Taft Junior College at Taft, California.

GOLDEN PHANTOMS

Fascinating Tales of Lost Mines by Editha L. Watson ©W.N.U.

SPANISH BULLION

ONCE upon a time there were two young prospectors. They had been tramping the New Mexico mountains for some time, and as winter was drawing near they were short-cutting across the ranges toward home.

Late one afternoon snow began to fall. "We'll have to hole up for the night, George," said one of the men to the other. "First likely-looking cave we come to, we'll call it a day."

"Looks like one ahead, there," said the other, and they quickened their steps. The cave proved to be a fair-sized cavern.

After supper, relaxed before the fire, they looked about them. At the far end of the cave a second, smaller hole appeared, some 10 feet up the rocky wall.

"Well, we didn't find any hidden treasure this trip," said the man called George.

"No, and we never will. There isn't any, that's why."

"Oh, I don't know. I've heard—listen, Bill, did anyone ever tell you about the lost treasure of the Golden Giant?"

"Nope; sounds like a fairy tale. I suppose the giants ate up all the—"

"No, this Golden Giant is a mine at Pinos Altos, south of here. It has been gophered just under the surface, and from the extent of the workings I'd say that a lot of ore was taken out of that mine, one time and another. It's supposed to have been worked by the Spaniards who lived at Santa Rita. The local legend says that the Spaniards got a fabulous fortune, whatever that means, and the next thing to do was to take it over to Santa Rita, where the fort was. So they loaded it on burros and set out."

"Santa Rita is about 25 miles southeast of Pinos Altos as the crow flies—but burros don't fly, and they had to go around. They got up above where Hurley now stands, and I suppose they were congratulating themselves that they were on the last lap, when—"

"When the Golden Giant woke up and came after them?" politely inquired Bill.

"No, you dummy! Nothing like that. It was Indians that showed up about then, good old boss-till-Apaches. The priest in charge of the pack-train just had time to get them up on the mesa and hastily bury the gold. Then the Apaches got too near for comfort, and although the Spaniards put up a brave fight, they were all killed."

"I'll bet that right in these very mountains there's treasure cached away, if a person could know where to look."

"That's a big 'if,'" moralized Bill. "What do you say if we get some sleep?"

The next morning Bill, looking about him with a practiced eye for traces of ore, noticed again the small cave in the rear of their lodging.

"I'm going to look and see what's in that little cave," he told his partner, who was ready to start on.

"Now who's got funny ideas about hidden treasure?" jeered George. "Come on; no use climbing up in that hole."

"I'm going to look, anyway," replied Bill. "Here goes!"

He managed to scramble up the rocky wall, and landed safely in the darkness of the little cave. It was hard to see anything; he lit a match . . . another . . . "Hey, George!" he called urgently.

George, who had started on, heard the summons and came back. "Give me a flashlight, and hurry up!"

"What's the matter now?" He unpacked the flashlight and handed it to Bill, whose hand trembled a little. "What have you got?"

For answer Bill threw down a dusty, heavy, small oblong that fell with a thud to the floor of the cave. George bent over it to pick it up, but he straightened up again and looked at Bill as if he were a ghost.

"G-gold!" he stammered, weakly. "G-gold b-bars!"

"You will talk about Golden Giants, will you?" roared Bill. "Well, here's hidden treasure for you—more than you and I can carry!" He jumped down, went over to the door of the cave and looked out. Then he turned back.

"Or am I going crazy?" he mumbled.

No, he was not crazy, though the two behaved like idiots for a while in the exuberance of their emotions. Finally they calmed down long enough to plan that they would take the gold home, then return in the spring and hunt for the mine from which it came.

And here "Bill" and "George" pass into the valhalla of legendary heroes. No one knows anything further about them. And whether they ever returned and found the mine remains a secret. Not even a legend remains to explain the source of that hidden treasure.

Water Level Still Above 1934 Period

The district owned well plugging equipment is at work on the second well in the Cottonwood community, Clifford Smith, artesian well supervisor, of Roswell, announced yesterday. The first well started by the crew on the "Figgie place" has been finished by the crew after using approximately 150 tons of clay. The equipment is being moved about a mile north in the Jess Funk neighborhood for the plugging of a second well. The plugging operations will be gradually moved in this direction and will eventually work out the Lake-wood area, according to the present plans.

One of the best clay deposits discovered in the district has been opened up in the Walnut draw and will be used for wells in the Cottonwood area.

The water gauge south of town registered 24.38 feet when read yesterday, Mr. Smith stated. This reading shows the water table to be about a foot and a half higher than at the corresponding period of last year.

In the north part of the basin the water level is about two feet lower than normal. This condition is due to the fact that most of the water is coming in from the north part of the basin and to the fact that there have been few rains in the mountains to recharge the area, Mr. Smith said.

Oil Control Bill Signed

WASHINGTON—Oil states were given free rein today to seek conservation of their petroleum and gas resources through interstate agreements.

President Roosevelt signed into law congressional approval of this procedure which came quickly and quietly last Saturday, and with other government officials, sat back to await results.

Gov. E. W. Marland of Oklahoma, who sponsored the compact in Dallas, Texas, last February with Gov. James V. Allred of Texas, said recently the oil states would be called together soon to put the new machinery in motion.

The agreement seeks prevention of physical waste especially in production and creates an interstate compact commission to study conditions and report to the signers, presumably making recommendations for the production totals.

Cattle Shipments Plan To Vote On To Be Smaller Five Amendments

DENVER, Colorado—Shipments of cattle and calves from the seventeen states in the western cattle area extending from North Dakota to Texas and westward during the five months, August to December, 1935, will be only about half as large as the total shipments from these states during the corresponding months of 1934 but not greatly different from the shipments in the corresponding months in 1933 and 1932, according to the report issued by the Department of Agriculture. Shipments in 1934 include commercial shipments and shipments of cattle and calves bought by the government for drought relief, but do not include government cattle condemned and killed, or cattle turned over to state relief or other organizations.

On the basis of reports received early in August as to probable marketings from the different states and of feed conditions and cattle number in the different states during the five months this year will be about 4,000,000 head. The extent to which actual shipments this year will be larger or smaller than now seems probable will depend largely upon the policy followed in the marketing of dry cows. The percentage calf crop in nearly all of these states was relatively small and the number of dry cows relatively large. If a large part of these cows are shipped, total shipments may be larger than now indicated, but if they are largely held, either by present owners or bought locally for re-stocking, total shipments may be even smaller than now indicated.

The number of calves in these states on January 1, 1935, was the smallest since 1929 and the number of steers the smallest in over 15 years, and shipments of yearling and other steers will be relatively small. A much smaller than usual proportion of yearling heifers will be shipped. Because of the small calf crop this year, the number of feeder calves available for shipment will be the smallest in many years. With range conditions in August the best in a number of years and prospective grain and hay production much larger than last year, a considerable tendency to increase cattle numbers in these states might be expected. On the other hand, greatly improved prices for all kinds of cattle and the heavy costs incurred for feed last year may cause many cattlemen to ship rather heavily.

NEW U. S. BUDGET TO BE OUT SEPTEMBER 15

WASHINGTON—Daniel Bell, director of the budget, said Tuesday a new and revised budget, giving the government's financial rating "up to the minute," will be made public about September 15. The work was ordered by President Roosevelt in his last budget message to congress, and will offer a new departure in fiscal control.

"In order to promote more satisfactory methods of budgetary control in the government," Mr. Roosevelt said, "I propose this year to inaugurate the policy of having a summation of the budget prepared for publication immediately after the congress has acted on all financial matters."

complaint. You and each of you are further notified that James W. Stagner and Don G. McCormick, whose postoffice addresses are Carlsbad, New Mexico, are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my official seal on this 27th day of August, 1935. R. A. WILCOX, County Clerk and Clerk of the District Court of Eddy County, New Mexico. 35-4t

AAA Offers A Compromise Plan For Cotton Loans

WASHINGTON—A substitute compromise plan to provide a loan of ten cents a pound and a subsidy to increase the final producer return of the 1935 cotton crop to 12 cents was announced late Monday by the AAA.

Loan forms will be available to farmers the week beginning Monday, September 2.

The new plan, differing in several important respects from the first loan-subsidy arrangement announced last week, was approved at a conference of farm and treasury officials at the white house Monday afternoon, in an effort to pacify southern senators who had blocked adjournment of congress.

Under the compromise plan, loans of ten cents will be advanced on cotton of 7/8 inch low middling grade or better. The subsidy payments will be based upon daily average prices at the ten spot markets.

Here are the salient differences between the nine cent plan and the ten cent compromise announced Monday:
Loans will be made only on 7/8 inch low middling cotton or better, instead of on 13/16 inch low middling or better as in the nine cent plan. This reduces by about 200,000 bales the number eligible for loans.

The subsidy payments will be made on the basis of the average price at the ten spot markets on the day the cotton is sold, rather than upon the four month average. Loan and payment will be restricted to actual production not in excess of the Bankhead allotment. Formerly, each of the 1,004,000 contract signers was eligible to obtain a loan on all his cotton, but subsidy payments would only be made upon the Bankhead allotments.

The subsidy payments will apply to all sales of 1935 cotton, including those already made.

Health Column

Conducted by Dr. J. R. Earp, Director, New Mexico Bureau of Public Health.

Vincent's Angina
Vincent's angina, or trench mouth, is an infectious disease. It begins with a dryness and burning of the gums or with a sore throat. If the infection is in the gums they become swollen, tender, an angry red and frequently show raw bleeding surfaces round the teeth. In the acute stage there is fever with headache and listlessness.

The infection may be conveyed directly by kissing, by droplets coughed or spoken into the air or by the use of cups and eating utensils that have been already used by an infected person and have not been properly sterilized. The infection is especially liable to take hold in a mouth that has been neglected. Jagged teeth, overhanging fillings, pyorrhea pockets create ideal conditions for the germs. It is very probable too that the gums are made more susceptible to this infection by a diet deficient in Vitamin C.

It would be more easy to prevent the spread of infection if we knew more about the relative importance of the causes of infection. Some people believe that the disease is mainly spread by the cups and glasses used in soda water fountains, lunch counters and restaurants. Others, knowing how very numerous are the places where glasses are improperly washed and never sterilized at all, argue that if this method of spreading the disease were important everyone would have it by now.

Research is badly needed. In the meantime the glass rinsed in warm dirty water should be regarded as dangerous. The public could do a great deal to improve conditions if every customer would ask, before ordering a drink: "How has that glass been sterilized?" Write for a copy of the state regulations governing the sanitation of foods and food handling establishments which will tell you what our law requires. Until we feel able to afford sanitarians to do our inspecting for us, we must do our own—or take the consequences.

President Signs New Bank Bill

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt Friday signed the banking bill giving the federal reserve board greater control over national credit.

Under the new law, credit control powers will rest in a committee comprising the seven members of a reorganized reserve board and five representatives of the twelve regional federal reserve banks.

To prevent severe fluctuations in the ebb and flow of credit, this committee may order the purchase or sale of government securities by the twelve reserve banks. These operations will be confined to the open market, purchases direct from the treasury being prohibited.

The open market policies will be mandatory on the banks but the committee is given power to exempt any it desires. Under existing law a bank may stay out of open market operations.

Alleged Robber of A Local Farmer Caught At Cloudcroft Friday

N. F. Walker was turned over to sheriff's officers at Carlsbad Saturday night by state police, for questioning in connection with the robbery of Alujanero Medrano, Artesia farmer, of $500 in cash on March 15th, in a Carlsbad hotel.

Walker was arrested at Cloudcroft Friday and brought here late Saturday.

The Harvey & Calentine Silver Fox Farm in James Canyon, east of Cloudcroft, which six years ago was started with a stock of twelve pairs, now has grown to a furred population of 718, according to Ed Calentine, manager, who was here this week.

Mr. Calentine announces that a new farm, about one and a half miles west of the present farm, has been built, with 135 pens, and will be stocked within a month from stock from the original pens. Since the beginning of operations, Mr. Calentine has "pelted" 511 foxes, all of which yielded superior furs, with a highly desirable content of silver. Mr. Calentine states that for the past two years, furs from the local farm have brought prices averaging $20 per pelt in excess of prices for which the Canadian furs have sold.—Alamogordo News.

McGhee Puts Ban On Propaganda In Gallup Riot Case

SANTA FE—Judge James B. McGhee, putting a ban on propaganda, pictures, radio broadcasts and other "side-show" features of the trial, fixed hearing on first degree murder charges of ten defendants in the Gallup riot cases for September 30, to be held at Aztec.

The judge cautioned attorneys in the case to refrain from any forecasts, or announcements of what they intended to show or prove, and otherwise to conduct themselves strictly in accordance with the ethics of the bar in New Mexico. Any departure from the ethical procedure will result in action by the judge, he said, and he will order an immediate investigation of any effort to distribute propaganda tending to influence opinion. He said he wanted the accused men to have a fair trial, and would bend every effort to see that they did have such a trial.

He fixed the trial date after denying a motion for another change of venue, offered by the defense.

The case is another step in the fatal April 4 riot in Gallup in which Sheriff M. R. Carmichael and two others were killed. Testimony at a preliminary hearing tended to show there was a congregation of some 100 persons during hearing of an eviction charge against an occupant of a property now owned by Clarence F. Vogel. The eviction hearing was postponed, and officers said because of the crowd in front of the office of the justice of the peace, they tried to remove three defendants in the case from the office by a back door.

receive any Bankhead certificates due to the fact that they did not plant any cotton, and there are thirty-six producers who did not receive their exemption certificates as their allotment basis will come out of the state reserve. These producers did not have a five-year basis to qualify them for a county allotment. In addition, a few producers may receive certificates for hail or other damage, from the state allotment.

Notices have been sent to all producers who have tax exemption certificates, and these will be distributed by the county extension agent's office at Artesia at the old bank building on Thursday, August 29th, and on Saturday, August 31st.

Archie Vance, the assistant in cotton, will be in charge of the distribution of these certificates. Every producer must appear in person to sign for his allotment. This includes all share tenants, or he must have a proper power of attorney signed by the original applicant.

No returns have been received from the national pool office on the tickets sent in for exchange. It is expected that these will be out in the near future.

The agent wishes to call to the attention of those farmers who have 1934 certificates on hand, that these must be exchanged for new ones and the expiration date is September 1st.

OSWEGO, Illinois—The ghostly career of John Hamilton, machine gunner and one of the most vicious of the Dillinger gang in life, ended yesterday with the finding of his body in a shallow grave bordering a gravel pit near here.

Three federal agents found the outlaw's mouldering remains, concluding a hunt which had been intensified after Hamilton with John Dillinger and other members of the mob, shot their way out of a government trap at Little Bohemia resort in Wisconsin, April 23, 1934, killing two men, one a federal agent.

To Washington the agents sent their report and there J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal bureau of investigation, made the first announcement, to set at rest forever many conflicting rumors as to the fate of the accused slayer of three officers.

Hoover's statement said the body was found at 4 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time) and was the first word that authorities of this little community 50 miles from Chicago, had that strangers who came here a few days ago were the Hamilton grave hunting detail.

Coroner F. M. Groner of Kendall county was notified soon after discovery of the body and at his orders the remains were brought to an Oswego undertaking establishment to await an inquest today.

Participant in half a dozen rich bank robberies with the Dillinger gang, Hamilton was believed to have been fatally wounded April 23, 1934, near South St. Paul, Minnesota, by officers attempting to track down the gang after the Little Bohemia foray.

No bullet wounds were apparent in a cursory examination of the body. The federal agents said they identified the corpse as Hamilton's from the teeth.

Grazing Board Hears A Total of 601 Applications

The advisory board of the South-eastern New Mexico Grazing District, which met at Roswell, entered the last stage of passing on applications to lease "public domain" grazing lands in this portion of the state Thursday afternoon.

Members of the board, including eleven sheep and cattle raisers and "free" users, and A. D. Molohon, assistant supervisor of grazing under the Taylor grazing act, were in session at Roswell from Monday through Thursday and considered applications, appeals, and sought further information before licensing some of the applicants or rejecting them.

At the completion of Thursday's labors the board had considered a total of 601 applications, rejected a total of 112 outright and 29 following hearings of appeals on former decisions, and granted fifteen changes of rejections to approvals. It was stated that of all the action taken by the board and passed on by the district division grazing officials representing the government, not a single second decision on appeals considered and acted upon by the board had been reversed by the division officials.

This grazing district is comprised of the full counties of Eddy, Chaves and Lea and parts of Lincoln, De Baca and Roosevelt, with a cattleman and sheepman from each of the first four mentioned and a cattleman and sheepman from the combined latter two as well as a representative of the "free" users.

On Canning

Extension Agent Wunsch is receiving many requests for information on canning. There are two important factors that all people should remember in canning fruits and vegetables. Freshness is particularly important because after fruits and vegetables are gathered changes take place which alter both flavor and texture, and sometimes leads to spoilage in the can. The bacteria multiply as the raw foods stand and thus increase the difficulty of processing them later in the cans. It at all possible, two hours from the garden to the can should be the limit of time. The second important thing to remember is that such vegetables as corn, beans, and peas lose their sweetness and cause the sugar to change to starch if they are held in the raw state after picking.

The Bureau of Home Economics have always recommended the use of the thermometer in food preservation; however, judging from various tests, the bureau finds that in making jellies the temperature test is not as dependable as the two-drop or sheeting off test. The temperature may vary with the kind of fruit or its condition. The two-drop test is simple, when the rapidly boiling syrup reaches the point where it no longer runs out of a large spoon in a steady stream, but separates in two lines of drops which sheet together, it is time to stop cooking. As all housewives know, it is a combination of pectin and acid of the fruit combined with the sugar that makes the jelly. A mixture of under-ripe and ripe fruit will make the best jelly, as the under-ripe fruit has more acid and pectin and the ripe fruit furnishes the sugar and flavor. Over-ripe fruit should not be used.

Your Lighting Equipment

May Be the Same, But Your Eyes May Change

The lighting equipment considered modern five or ten years ago has been outmoded by scientific lighting of the home; lights where the glare has been eliminated in equipment that provides a steady flow of soft light, designed especially for better sight. Modern lighting may not only be fashionable but practical for the adults as well as the child in school.

If children are to do well in school, they must have normal eyes, therefore, it goes without saying that good light is of prime importance to the school child. It is possible to have vision much above normal and at the same time have sufficient eye-strain to cause nervousness, indigestion, headaches, inability to concentrate on reading or other near work.

An Eye Examination Costs Little . . . It May Mean Much To Happiness, Future Welfare And Progress of Your Children.
