AIR POCKET IS FOUND IN A NEW WELL

Giant Air Pressure Struck In A Monument Well While Drilling In Salt; Six New Locations Are Staked Past Week.

A most unusual phenomenon was developed in the Monument district of Lea county the past week, when a test drilled into the salt blew out and started blowing air at the rate of 200,000,000 feet per day. This being the State 1-E of the Texas Company, sec. 1-20-36, which was drilled to 1850 feet in the salt when an air pocket was encountered. The pocket was developed Sunday and gauged 200,000,000 feet of air. By Tuesday the pressure had decreased to 100,000,000 feet. The only similar occurrence on record in recent years was when a test drilled just east of the Pecos river and northeast of here started blowing air and a yellow dust.

Activity in the oil sector was more or less routine otherwise with five completions and locations made for six new tests. Producers completed during the week were mostly small. Completed wells included the Empire Gas and Fuel Co., State 1-D, sec. 32-21-36, drilled to 3890 feet and when tested thru tubing flowed at the rate of fifty-five barrels per hour and 500,000 feet of gas. R. Olsen et al., State No. 2, sec. 5-21-36, drilled to 3890 feet and flowed at the rate of twenty barrels per hour through tubing with 500,000 feet of gas. Phillips Petroleum Co., Woolworth No. 1, Block 3, sec. 6-25-37, was finished for a small well and gauged forty-two barrels of fluid per day thru a 3/4-inch choke on tubing with thirty-two percent of water. Shell Petroleum Corp., Coleman No. 2, sec. 17-21-36, was completed at an initial production of 102 barrels per hour and 1,200,000 feet of gas at 3961 feet, flowing open. Skelly Oil Co., Coates No. 2, sec. 3-24-36, drilled to 3550 feet made seventy barrels of oil per hour and 2,500,000 feet of gas thru a 3/4-inch choke on tubing.

New wells staked include the Skelly Oil Co., Mon-State, sec. 13-19-36; Humble Oil and Refining Co., J. M. Cooper No. 2, sec. 14-24-36; Atlantic Oil Co., State 2-H, sec. 5-21-36; Gypsy Oil Co., Janada No. 2, sec. 20-21-36; Shell Petroleum Corp., Rice No. 3, sec. 13-18-37; Gypsy Oil Co., Arnett No. 1-C, sec. 21-21-36.

Cleanup Day Is Observed Here On October 9th

Association Formed At A Meeting Last Thursday Evening; Response Said To Be Gratifying With Good Results.

There was a hearty response to Cleanup Day over town, officially designated last week as Wednesday, Oct. 9th. Cleanup day was set as October 9th by a committee from six civic organizations meeting at the Artesia hotel last Thursday evening. The initial name given this committee is the "Better Artesia Association" and the sponsors hope to make it into a permanent organization.

Following the meeting Thursday evening, dodgers were printed and distributed over Artesia calling on the people to observe October 9th as cleanup day. In addition several signs were painted calling attention to the fact that yesterday was cleanup day. And yesterday morning C. J. Dexter, president of the Chamber of Commerce, took his car and with Clarence Hurt as trumpeter and Robert French as announcer, official inaugurated the cleanup campaign.

Brooms, hoes and rakes were being used over town yesterday morning and the results were very gratifying. Some especially commendable work has been done around the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Baird on West Main street. This home and grounds surrounding the home "is all spic and span." The state health department has voiced its approval of the local cleanup campaign through Dr. O. E. Puckett, district health officer. Dr. Puckett says: "We know cleanliness is conducive to good health. Clean premises aids in removing the menace of spreading diseases. Mosquitoes do not breed in weeds, but weeds harbor the malaria-carrying mosquito."

All this week is being observed as fire prevention and cleanup week. Those who found it impossible to join the movement on the official cleanup day, which was yesterday, are asked to clean their premises before the close of the week.

Two Sentenced In Court At Carlsbad

McBride Draws Sentence Of Eight Months To One Year In State Pen.

Judge Harry Owen of Las Lunas, who presided over a short term of the Eddy county district court at Carlsbad Monday in the absence of Judge J. B. McGhee, who is at Aztec hearing the Gallup riot case, passed two prison sentences and revoked one parole. Judge Owen left at noon Tuesday after hearing several minor civil cases and one divorce case.

Will McBride was sentenced to serve from eight months to one year in prison on a charge of having in his possession for evil purposes a girl under the age of twenty-one.

Jack Pope was sentenced to a year in prison and ordered to pay a fine of $500 and costs of the action, on a charge of theft of three horses. Both pleaded guilty. The twenty-year-old boy was ordered returned to the state reform school at Springer following an admission of the theft of money from the Phillips filling station and from the Kindel filling station at Carlsbad.

L. L. Manley Has Narrow Escape In Explosion Oct. 6

L. L. Manley, who operates the D. & R. Motor Company repair shop, had a miraculous escape from serious injury Sunday morning when an explosion of a generator of an acetylene welding machine exploded. The generator was located in the building and the force of the explosion went upward, tearing out a hole in the ceiling of the building. Mr. Manley, who was working with the welding torch just outside of the building was knocked down by the force of the explosion and suffered bruises and a severe shock. No one else was near the generator at the time of the accident, although another workman was said to have been in the building.

Flames were also spread over the building as result of the explosion but the scattering flames were soon brought under control. The Artesia fire truck answered the call and local firemen assisted in extinguishing the flames.

The cause of the explosion was said to have been due to a back-fire in the generator.

Third of Cotton Crop Is Ginned

WASHINGTON — Forecasting cotton production for 1935 of 11,464,000 bales, the Agriculture Department Tuesday reported that more than a third of the crop already has been ginned.

The forecast, based on October 1 conditions, was a decrease of 25,000 bales from the September 1 estimate, with most of the decline attributed to weather conditions in Oklahoma and Texas.

The indicated production this year was 1,828,000 bales more than the 1934 crop but 3,202,000 bales less than the average for the 1928 through 1932.

Ginnings to October 1 were 4,230,367 bales, an increase from 1,320,739 bales ginned on September 1. The ginnings compared to a total of 4,962,384 bales ginned at the same date last year, and 5,908,071 on October 1, 1933.

Condition of the crop on October 1 was reported at 64.0 percent of normal and the indicated yield of lint cotton per acre 191.5 pounds, a reduction from 192.0 pounds on September 1.

Texas crop prospects declined 192,000 bales during September and in Oklahoma the drop was 18,000 bales. But the department said these losses almost were offset by increases in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas. Only slight changes were shown elsewhere.

CARLSBAD YOUTH HELD

A twelve-year-old Carlsbad boy is being held in the county jail in connection with the robbery of a Carlsbad Phillips filling station.

Future Policies of the Corn-Hog Program Discussed At Roswell

The Eddy County Corn-Hog Control association sent its committeemen to Roswell to the district meeting on October 9th for a discussion of the future policies of the corn-hog program. R. R. Will, assistant state extension director, in charge of the AAA program, discussed the value of the corn-hog control program and stated that a referendum would be held on October 28th at which time all producers interested in this program would be permitted to vote as to whether or not they desire to have the program continued. ## GRAZING ASS'N. OFFICERS ARE ALL REELECTED

Old Officers Re-Elected; Association Favors the Patrol System For the Supervision of Range Safety.

The annual election of officers of the Southeastern New Mexico Grazing district was held Monday at Roswell and Captain B. C. Mossman of Roswell was chosen as the president, being re-elected to that post.

Other officers, also re-elected, were: Vice-president, J. F. Joyce of Carlsbad, and secretary-treasurer, Thornton H. Boswell, Jr., elected by the board of directors.

In the Monday afternoon session, talks were made including one by the assistant director of the Taylor Grazing administration in New Mexico, A. D. Molohon, on the new set-up of the board of advisors and their work; a talk by W. A. Naylor, state sanitary board president, on unrecorded brands and the drive to have them checked and ranges patrolled and a talk by Lon Merchant, chairman of the advisory board of the association.

A resolution was adopted by the board of the grazing district favoring the creation of a patrol group for supervision of range safety, and suppressing of "mavericking" and stealing.

The advisors also voted to assess a special levy or tax on livestock of this district for the purpose of establishing an administration office and to pay the expenses of that office. A clerk will be employed to aid Thornton H. Boswell, Jr., who has been appointed to act as secretary-treasurer of the association.

It was said the board was considering the employment of a range inspector to superintend the proper range rules and practices.

Sam Williams of the Caprock, Hal Hamill of Hope, members of the board of directors, and Ed Watts of Dunken, were among the stockmen of this section in attendance at the meeting Monday.

Lordsburg Crash Fatal To Officer

A U. S. Marine Corps officer was killed and a mechanic severely burned when their two-seated bombing plane crashed and burst into flames on a takeoff at Lordsburg late Monday afternoon.

The officer, identified as Lieut. Col. P. E. Davis, who was at the controls, was caught in the ship as it crashed and his body was burned beyond recognition.

I. M. Owens, a mechanic, was thrown from the ship.

Joe Bostko, an oil company employe, who witnessed the tragedy, said for some unaccountable reason the ship left the port runway on which it started its takeoff and struck an old railroad grade. After bouncing in the air the plane crashed to the ground.

Bostko said the plane was afire when it hit the embankment and was enveloped by flames when it crashed to the ground preventing any attempts to save the officer.

Death Is Verdict For B. Hauptmann Upheld Oct. 9th

N. J. Court of Errors and Appeals Upholds Death Sentence and Leaves the Condemned Man Only 3 Ways To Escape.

TRENTON, New Jersey—The death sentence, imposed on Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the kidnap-murder of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., was unanimously upheld yesterday by the court of errors and appeals, leaving him only three very doubtful avenues of escape from the electric chair.

Supreme Court Justice Thomas W. Trenchard will fix a new execution date for Hauptmann and unless his lawyers successfully pursue one of the three courses open, the stoical German carpenter will pay the penalty decreed at Flemington by a jury of eight men and four women.

The thirteen members of the court who voted to sustain the Flemington verdict swept aside every one of the legal points raised by Hauptmann's counsel, held that the trial was legally proper in every respect, and concluded that the verdict was "one to which the evidence inescapably led."

For the first time since he was arrested in the Bronx on September 19, 1934, Hauptmann yesterday manifested anything approximating despair. His present chief of counsel, C. Lloyd Fisher, broke the news to him in the death house.

"I never did this and surely they will find that out before it is too late," Hauptmann told Fisher. His first words though, indicated a regard for his wife, Anna's feelings.

"My God, what a fine anniversary, present for Anna," he exclaimed. The Hauptmanns have been married ten years today.

J. L. (Dad) Taylor Dies At Tatum

Heart Attack Fatal To Old Timer, Who Is Well Known Here.

News was received here Tuesday morning of the death of J. L. (Dad) Taylor, aged 84, at his home in the Tatum community, Monday evening. Mr. Taylor had been in feeble health for several months and had suffered a heart attack from which he never fully recovered.

Dad Taylor was one of the old timers of southeastern New Mexico. He came to this section in 1885 and has made his home here since that time. He had engaged in the ranching business in Lea county during his residence in New Mexico and up until the time he moved to the Tatum community a few years ago, he was a frequent visitor to Artesia and was well acquainted with all of the older residents here.

Dad typified the hospitality of the western cowman. He was not only hospitable about his home, but was liberal with gifts to schools and churches. It was said that he has aided financially practically every pioneer school and church in this section.

Surviving the deceased are a widow, four sons: J. Will Taylor and Drew Taylor of Maljamar, Zack Taylor of Tatum and Steve Taylor of Hobbs, and five daughters: Mrs. Ray Howell of Tempe, Arizona, Mrs. Tom Vowell of Sweetwater, Texas, Mrs. Carl Pinson of Dexter, Mrs. John Townsend of Lovington, and Mrs. Ben Graham of Lovington.

Funeral services were held here yesterday afternoon at the Methodist church with the Rev. Beecham, officiating. Six grandsons of the deceased served as active pall bearers and were: Son Taylor, Luke Taylor, Buzz Taylor, Dick Taylor, Zip Franklin and Larry Pinson, all of Lovington. Honorary pall bearers were: A. D. Hill, Sr., Mark Corbin, Farmer Jones, Harry Carder, Fred Knowles and Preston Dunn.

NEW COTTON RAISERS TO GET PAPERS

Certificates At County Agent's Office For the Producers With Short History; No 2nd Rental Checks Received Yet.

The county agent's office has received tax exemption certificates for all producers who had a short history on their farm and who were not issued certificates in the regular county allotment. These certificates may be received by the producers by applying for them at the office of A. M. Vance in Carlsbad. Those producers who have planted cotton in 1935 for the first time since 1927 will receive ten percent of the total lint applied for in their Bankhead application. Those producers who had cotton in 1934 for the first time since 1927 have been issued certificates on the basis of thirty-five percent of their total allotment. Producers having cotton in 1935 for the first time since 1927 have been issued fifty percent of the total allotment applied for on their Bankhead applications. Those producers who had a history in the base period of 1928 to 1932 were issued certificates from the regular county allotment on the basis of sixty-two percent of the total lint applied for in their Bankhead application.

The Washington office has recently informed us that they will accept for a limited time 1934 certificates to be replaced by certificates in 1935 form. Anyone who has any of these 1934 certificates should immediately bring them to the office of the county agent where they will be sent to Washington for exchange.

No second rental checks have been received on the 1935 cotton reduction contracts but since all compliance forms have been submitted to Washington, it is expected that these second rental checks will be distributed to the producers in the near future.

UNSELFISH SERVICE

You hear lots about unselfish service nowadays, whereas only a few years ago the individual was harping on his own virtues. Most of the sensible individuals have come to the conclusion that to extol their virtues is in reality a wasted effort since their neighbors and friends who have known them have long ago reached a positive conclusion as to their honesty and commendable virtues, etc. Now we take it as a matter of course the respectable citizens ought to possess these commendable human traits.

This unselfish service business, however, is a rather new idea; new to the laymen, but not the politician. Every two years we have a new crop of individuals springing up, anxious and willing to render an unselfish service to the public. These individuals if they are to be taken seriously are anxious to render most any kind of a sacrifice to the end that those who cast their votes may be served.

In recent years individuals (who disclaimed any political affiliation) have come forward with various and sundry panaceas to help the unfortunate people. Two years ago when the sales tax measure was being fought out, an individual we know strongly championed the sales tax because he had a burning desire to serve the taxpayers. Now there isn't any doubt but that the taxpayers need help, but this individual did not care so about the taxpayer. He was looking out for self. He knew if the ad valorem tax rate was cut he would be on easy street because $15.00 or $20.00 would cover his monthly expenses and that the other fellow would pay the sales tax bill.

Another organization wants to help unfortunate individuals by promoting the taxpayers and they can't understand why people not eligible for the promotion are not for the scheme.

There are very few efforts put forth without a selfish motive back of them, all claims to the contrary notwithstanding. When you see an individual so anxious to sacrifice himself for the public good, you had better think twice before you tie into the apparent unselfish scheme. It just isn't in the cards.

WHO OWES YOU A LIVING?

Millions of people are being educated in our country today to believe that someone owes them a living. The laws of nature do not seem to recognize this doctrine.

Just go out into primitive country and see who owes who a living—you will soon find that your existence depends on your ingenuity and initiative.

Governments were organized to go nature one better and make it a little easier to live and to take care of the helpless whom nature would otherwise unceremoniously remove.

But today millions of perfectly healthy, able-bodied people are being taught to loaf at the expense of the savings of others, instead of to rustle for themselves.

Such a system can endure only so long as there are stored-up savings to confiscate, then the inexorable laws of nature will prevail. An epidemic of pests completely devours a tree or a field of grain, and then the pests die. Nature does not owe them a living.

The same thing can happen to governments and to the human beings who make the governments—if they eat up their capital to maintain idleness, they will eventually find that nature refuses to hear their demands that "someone owes them a living."

This may not be a pleasant-sounding philosophy, but it is a fact which honey-coated, political cure-alls try to hide.

"CREDIT" INJURIES

The average human is most unfair to the merchant who has given him credit, for when he finds difficulty in paying his bill he almost invariably deserts that merchant and deals (usually for cash) elsewhere. The merchant who has been kind enough to give you credit certainly deserves your cash business. If you have a bill that you can't meet in full, the decent thing to do is to talk to the merchant whom you owe, explain your position, and make such arrangements as you can for the payment of the bill. Meanwhile your cash business ought to be going to the merchant who "carried you."

Another phase of "credit" places an entirely unfair burden upon the merchant who meets his bills promptly. You have sold, as an example, three merchants bills of goods. Two of that number pay their bills promptly, the bill of the third drags along and you, fearful that you will never be paid, accept merchandise from that merchant in lieu of cash. And in so doing you penalize the merchants who paid their bills. By paying their bills they placed themselves in a position to deserve your patronage. Yet to protect yourself you had to deal with the man who had no claim upon you.—Spirit, Punksutawney, Pa.

HE FORGOT

He brushed his teeth twice a day with a nationally advertised tooth brush.

The doctor examined him twice a year.
He wore rubbers when it rained.
He slept with the windows open.
He stuck to a diet with plenty of vegetables.
He relinquished his tonsils and traded in several worn-out glands.
He golfed, but never more than eighteen holes.
He never smoked, drank or lost his temper.
He did his daily dozen daily.
He got at least eight hours sleep each night.
The funeral will be held next Wednesday. He is survived by eighteen specialists, four health institutes, six gymnasiums and numerous manufacturers of health foods and antiseptics.

HE HAD FORGOTTEN ABOUT TRAINS AT GRADE CROSSINGS.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

LET'S STAY CLEAN

The move on the part of six civic organizations to form a "Better Artesia" association is very commendable and means that if the united forces can arouse the proper public spirit that we can get somewhere. The people of Artesia, and other communities too far that matter, ought to be able to create a more desirable condition without working a hardship on anyone. But it will take more effort than we have put forth in the past.

The objective of cleaning up the city and keeping it clean is

Here's the difference between a politician and a lady: When a politician says "Yes" he means "Maybe." When he says "Maybe" he means "No." If he says "No" he's no politician.

When a woman says "No" she means "Maybe." When she says "Maybe" she means "Yes"—and if she says "Yes"—she's no lady.

A woman was entertaining the small son of her married friend.
"Are you sure you can cut your meat, Tommy?" she inquired after watching him a moment.
"Oh, yes, thank you," he replied without looking up from his plate.
"We often have it as tough as this at home."

When you go to town Saturday night and drive several blocks trying to find a parking place, just recite this little poem:

merely following the suggestion of an industrious mother who attempts not only to see that her son washes his face and keeps himself clean at stated intervals, but sees that the process is repeated often enough that the son looks presentable most any time. The idea of cleaning the town once every two or three years or only for a special occasion like a convention, is too much like the Saturday night bath or having a big dinner on Sunday and half starving the rest of the week.

The Italian-Ethiopian conflict has shown us that a formal declaration of war is unnecessary. In the present disagreement, neither side waited but started without the formal declaration of war.

League Brands Italy Aggressor

LONDON—The League of Nations stamped bellicose Italy with the stigma of war-maker Monday and thus prepared the full weight of economic sanctions for the shoulders of Benito Mussolini.

Accepting a committee report which held Italy flouted the league covenant by warring on little Ethiopia instead of waiting for arbitration, the league council solemnly proclaimed Il Duce's drive into Africa to be "an act of war against all other members of the league."

By their action the powers at Geneva made sanctions against the fascist state obligatory.

Article XVI, the punitive section of the league covenant, provides that members shall undertake to subject a violator of the covenant to "the severance of all trade or financial relations and the prohibition of all intercourse between their nations and nationals of the covenant-breaking state."

There are too many hot spots for a newspaper publisher to miss them all. If you get a name wrong or the facts wrong in a story, some people will say you never had anything right in the paper, regardless of how many times the names of the particular persons have appeared correct. Likewise a publisher is expected to take off with all the isms and hobbies of its patrons, otherwise the paper gets in bad, at least for a time.

Now Rufe Wallingford wants us to raise the devil about the operation of a Mexican pool hall on Main street, which has been run at intervals in various places on Main street for the past ten years. The only trouble with some Anglos is that they are giving their Latin brothers a good opening to take over the operation of more than one enterprise because these people practice the doctrine Mussolini preaches, unconsciously perhaps, but nevertheless effective, while the white brethren refuse to be bothered with anything running around the house, even a backyard fence. With a divergent racial increase and the Anglos doing little or nothing about it, how can you expect conditions to improve? Think this over and will you do nothings keep quiet?

ALAMOGORDO—A legal battle through which may re-echo the famous Teapot Dome scandal, saw its first skirmish Saturday as the ageing and feeble Albert B. Fall, interior secretary in the Harding cabinet, and his wife answered a suit of ejection in district court at Alamogordo Saturday.

The defendants, in a demurrer filed through their attorney, G. A. Shipley of Alamogordo, asked that the Petroleum Securities Company, who seek to oust them from their Tres Rios ranch home, make their complaint more specific and allege the plaintiff failed to state a cause of action.

1st Report Cotton Grade - Staple In From New Mexico

Sufficient cotton from all of the irrigated states has been classed during the week ending October 3 to warrant issuing reports. Grades are slightly lower than last week and considerably lower than for the same period one year ago. Intermittent rains and heavy dew throughout the area have resulted in the cotton being brought to the gins damp. Where this occurs the preparation is nearly always below normal and reduces the value of the cotton a full grade or more. Every care should be taken to keep pickers out of the field until the cotton has dried out sufficiently to allow the gins to do the best possible ginning.

NEW MEXICO: The first report on New Mexico cotton shows that 78 percent was classed as strict middling and better, and less than 2 percent as strict low middling.

About 98 percent of the cotton for the same period last year. A longer compared with 79 percent classed was 1-1/16 inches and larger proportion has been 1-1/16 and 1-3/32 inches and a smaller proportion has been 1-1/8 inches than last year.

Lt. Whetmore Explains How CCC Organization Aids The Worthy Boys

Lt. S. B. Whetmore of the local CCC camp explained some of the workings of the CCC camp organization at the luncheon program of the Artesia Rotary club Tuesday. He told of the purpose of the CCC organization which was primarily to serve the underprivileged boys and at the same time to provide wholesome surroundings for the enrollees. While the health and educational facilities are in charge of army officers, army discipline is not permitted. An enrollee may be discharged from the camp when he finds employment although all applications are signed up for a period of six months.

The boys are turned over to the work director of the camp for a specified period of the day. Recreational facilities are usually provided for the boys as well as educational facilities, but these activities are carried on by the boys on their own time.

An educational director will be employed for the local camp shortly. Lt. Whetmore said, as well as additional recreational facilities.

Dr. D. Loucks, who was recently admitted to the Rotary club, was introduced on this occasion as the baby member. Visitors present besides Lt. Whetmore were Lt. Stacey of the CCC camp, J. R. Ordgen and Dr. O. E. Puckett of Carlsbad.

SANCTIONS EXPLAINED

What are sanctions? A good many people are asking that question these days as the League of Nations council considered their use in an effort to halt the Italo-Ethiopian.

Here is the way the British royal institute of international affairs defines the word:

"A 'sanction' is the name which legal writers give to measures for securing obedience to law. Sanctions can take the form of the infliction of penalties for a breach of law that has been committed, or they may consist in measures taken for the actual prevention of a threatened breach.

"Sanctions operate in two ways: Negatively, in that knowledge of the will and power to apply them may deter a would-be wrongdoer from transgressing the law; positively, in that their application checks a wrongdoer in the act of transgression or compels him, after a transgression has been committed, to submit to law and deprives him of the fruits of his transgression."

5,257 EMPLOYED

More Than 10,000 Tourists A Day Entered State Last Week In August

More than ten thousand tourists a day entered New Mexico during the last week in August, Governor Clyde Tingley announced last week. They came from every state in the union.

The governor's statement was based on an actual count of incoming cars and passengers through twelve ports of entry. The count was made by the port of entry crews for the New Mexico Tourist Bureau.

"During the seven-day period, August 25 to August 31, inclusive, a total of 37,685 motor vehicles bearing 109,890 passengers entered the state through the twelve ports," the governor said.

"Of this number, 22,045 cars and 69,582 passengers were from other states. The number of visitors actually entering New Mexico during this period probably approximately 80,000, since a check was kept on only twelve highways. There was no count of incoming cars over U. S. 54, U. S. 64, through Lovington, Hobbs, Newman, Reserve, Aztec nor over the roads leading from Colorado into Rio Arriba county.

"I believe it is conservative to say that at least 11,000 tourists came into New Mexico by these various routes during the count period.

The following table submitted by Joseph A. Bursey, showing the total number of vehicles, passengers, etc., from August 25 to August 31, may interest our readers:

Oil Found In A Yoakum Co. Test

What is thought to be oil in paying quantities has been found in the Yoakum county, Texas, test approximately twenty miles east of the Texas-New Mexico state line. The pay was encountered Sunday and the operations have been suspended since that time.

The pay was struck at 5,089 feet and operations ceased when the bit had penetrated the one foot into the pay structure. Oil rose rapidly in the open hole and soon 700 feet was registered. It is thought that there is a considerable amount of caving which retards the accumulation of oil. It is estimated that approximately one million to one and a half million feet of gas is being produced.

The new producer is located on the Bennett ranch in Yoakum county, about sixty miles north of the Humble Means pool in Andrews county, and forty-five miles northeast of the Hobbs pool. It is being drilled by C. J. (Red) Davidson and Honolula Oil Company on a large block of acreage originally held by the Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company. Part of the original block was turned to Davidson for drilling the test. The contract depth was 5,000 feet. It was drilled to 5,050 feet and drilling was suspended awaiting for a new contract. Last week this contract was signed for an additional 200 feet and drilling was resumed and the pay was encountered when thirty-nine feet of the new contract had been drilled.

Honolula Oil Company purchased a half interest in the deal and a limited number of spreads were sold out of the original drilling block.—Lovington Leader.

Oil Well Saves Yoakum Ranch

Another case has come to light where the discovery of oil has apparently saved a west Texas rancher from financial ruin, according to a report in the Lovington Leader. The incident happened in Yoakum county when the bit penetrated the oil sand in a deep test on the ranch of M. P. Bennett. Mr. Bennett owns an 8,000-acre ranch. During the past few years with low priced cattle and a severe drought he fell into hard lines.

During the financial crisis Mr. Bennett found himself hard pressed. His ranch had been mortgaged and creditors were clamoring for money. The mortgage foreclosure proceedings had been instituted in court when a ray of hope came in the form of a drilling contract for oil. From the time the contract was signed it was a race between the oil drill and the time the sheriff would foreclose on the ranch.

The drilling was begun and the bit went deeper and deeper with little or no indication of oil. The contract depth of 5,000 feet was reached and the drillers went an additional fifty feet for good measure and still no oil. Then a new contract was made and when the drill went thirty-nine feet deeper, an oil pay was found.

It was found that prospects were good for a commercial well and Mr. Bennett took advantage of an opportunity to sell part of his oil and gas royalty for money enough to satisfy the mortgage when the ranch was offered for sale last week.

RABIES OUTBREAK NEAR JAL

AMATEUR HOUR IS FEATURE COMEDY

The current national popularity of radio amateur nights is presented for the first time on the screen in "Every Night At Eight," the Walter Wanger-Paramount musical comedy showing at the Ocotillo Theater Sunday and Monday, October 13th and 14th, with George Raft, Alice Faye, Frances Langford and Patsy Kelly.

Directed by Raoul Walsh, the film pictures the hectic adventures of a feminine singing trio who fight their way from amateur night tryouts to national radio fame. Frances Langford is a former N. B. C. singing star. Audiences are taken back of the scenes to the inside of a radio studio during an amateur hour. A major portion of the fun in the film is furnished by the Three Radio Rogues, popular airways' funsters.

Miss Langford, diminutive singing star of the air waves, plays one of the singing trio who rises to fame on the radio with Alice Faye and Patsy Kelly. George Raft is cast as an orchestra leader who manages the girls careers, lives and romances. The production boasts six popular song numbers, including "I'm In the Mood for Love," "Take It Easy," "Speaking Confidentially," "Then You've Never Been Blue," written by Dorothy Fields, James McHugh and Ted Fio Rito.

Values are strange things, anyway, and depend largely upon the appreciation of their owners. And, if to their owners they are riches, then those owners are rich. Why not? They used to tell about the Ozark mountain man who proudly remarked that when he came to Arkansas twenty years ago he was "pore as Job's turkey, an' look at me now; I own eleven of the finest hounds in Arkansas."

MISSIONARY SOCIETIES MEET

The business meeting of the Methodist Missionary society was held at the church parlor Thursday afternoon.

Envelopes were passed out by the president, Mrs. George Frisch, for the contributions of the Week of Prayer. This offering is used in both home and foreign mission work.

Devotionals were led by Mrs. E. B. Bullock. A nominating committee, composed of the following: Mmes. Roger Durand, T. S. Cox, S. S. Ward and A. C. Douglas, was appointed by the president. They were asked to submit names for the annual election of officers at the next regular meeting.

"That Other American," the book selected for the next study course, will be completed in one day study. Mrs. C. R. Blocker will conduct the study course instead of Mrs. R. O. Cowan, who is not able to do so at this time. All those who wish to take the course should get in touch with someone who has a book and begin their study.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. S. French.

The Christian Woman's Association held their monthly all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. Albert Richards Thursday.

There were forty present for the noon-day luncheon, including members and a number of the husbands.

The business session was presided over by Mrs. Richards, president, during the afternoon. Devotionals were led by Mrs. Will Ballard.

Thursday evening the Christian church group surprised their pastor, the Rev. Thomas Massie and bride with an old-fashioned pounding. They were called from their practice early and upon turning on the lights at the parsonage found the group assembled inside which was quite a surprise inasmuch as they had entered by using a pass key. Many delicious packages of food were left for the parsonage pantry shelves.

This evening the Rev. and Mrs. Massie are being entertained by their church people with a party at the home of Mrs. John Lanning. The next meeting of the association will be held at the home of Mrs. Will Ballard.

The Presbyterian Ladies Aid met at the home of Mrs. Effie Wingfield Thursday afternoon.

The attendance was rather small on account of illness and conflicting programs. Activities for the purpose of adding funds to the treasury of the organization were discussed and planned at this meeting.

The hostess, Mrs. Wingfield, served light refreshments at the close of the meeting.

It is an old saying that has always proven to be very sound that cotton should be sold on bullish news. Those who are seeking to dispose of their crop in the very best market, and are disregarding for the time being at least, the government benefit payments, should keep in mind that the effect of the war news on the market has already been discounted a large carry-over still stands above the market, and the heavy crop movement is now on.

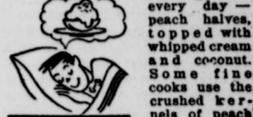

Without further unforeseen influences, it appears reasonably sure that the market is sagging some during the heavy movement due to hedge sales.

Scout News

Home-Centered Cub Program
Cubbing is not a scheme which calls boys away from home, rather it is a program of natural things to be done in and around the home. It pulls toward the home. Cubbing offers activities which center in the neighborhood and are aimed at the boy's own free time. Home and the "boy gang" are the two greatest influences of character, hence Cubbing is centered there. In Scouting a boy is brought, and properly so, from home to a central meeting and thence out to serve beyond the home circle; in Cubbing the trend is reversed to permit the Cub to grow to the full in his natural neighborhood setting until nature, with the onset of physiological changes in Scout years, tends to push him out. The movement wants to do nothing to sever these determining home relations before nature's time. Do not take away from the home its functions, rather must we encourage it to perform them.

A Day-Time Program
Cubbing's activities are day-time activities except those that the boy may carry on at home in the early evening, alone, or with his dad or mother. Den meetings, both formal and informal, take place in the daylight hours. Pack meetings are also daytime meetings.

Boys and Their Dads
The operation of the Cub program in and around the home at once involves the dad. The handicrafts, the stamp collection, the back-yard den, the infrequent outings—all these open the door to dad association. Probably two-thirds of our adult leaders in Cubbing are father of Cubs. This is the age for the dad who wants to have influence with his boy in the later 'teens, to start the "doing things together" which makes that later influence possible.

Some activities of the Cubs are as follows: Secret codes, make-believe, other handicrafts, radio, electricity, model boats, air crafts, farm and home tools, things that go, simple machines, craft gifts, Indian crafts, music, drawing, reading, nature, animals and pets, garden, soils, bachelor cooking, camping, and know your city.

This is the second of three articles on the new Cub movement for boys 9, 10 and 11 years old. There are now five Cub Packs in eastern New Mexico, located at the following places: Clovis, McRose, Hope, Vaughn and Roswell. Any institutions desiring to include Cubbing in its boy's work program may secure information and cooperation from Ivan G. Bridges, Clovis, New Mexico, or from Boy Scout Headquarters, Roswell. The next and last article will tell how to start a Cub Pack.

VERMILLION PRAISED FOR HIS WORK

Praise for the work of State Policemen Ben Martinez and Roy Vermillion in capturing two holders of counterfeit currency was received at Santa Fe Tuesday by Chief E. J. House, Jr., from R. K. Goddard, head of the United States Secret Service at Denver.

A Sudden Burst Of Affection

Eddy County Farm News

As the winter approaches and all crops are harvested, the farmers will notice that the English sparrow will become a greater menace around the barnyard. Since his food supply in the field becomes diminished he will return to the barnyard to feast with the chickens. These birds may be very effectively controlled by the use of sulphate of strychnine and small wheat grains. For the preparation of this bait obtain 1/4 of an ounce of solution of sulphate of strychnine which will be dissolved in a cup full of boiling water; this solution is then poured over one quart of small kernel wheat, which previously has been thoroughly dried by being kept over night thinly spread beneath a stove or radiator, or in a somewhat warm dry place. Place one quart of wheat in a two quart jar and pour the fluid over the wheat. Place a tight fitting top on the jar, then shake it at intervals until all of the solution has been absorbed. The bait should then be spread out to dry. Extreme precaution should be used to distribute this bait in order to protect chickens, pigeons, or other fowls that may come in contact with it. It may be placed in unused poultry pens, or on the roof of poultry houses, or in the fields where chickens are not present.

How America Answers Her Critics

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

We have been hearing a lot of criticism lately concerning our American methods and principles. For a while the detractors were content to sneer at our art, our literature, our simple recreations and pleasures. More recently, however, they have broadened their scope. Today their hardest attacks are directed—often from within—at our democratic form of government, with its effective guaranties of freedom and opportunity for all. They favor, instead, certain European patterns which vest all power in a highly centralized government rather than in the people.

Such criticism has not gone unheeded. It is bearing greater fruit than many of us realize. Its arguments resound from the stump. Its influence appears in much of our recent legislation.

How can we combat it? One method is to apply the acid test of realism. Why not turn to such critics and ask:

"Under what other form of government have a free people developed the wilderness into a nation as great as wealthy, as productive as our United States?"

"Under what other form of government have citizens attained as high a standard of income, of living, and of general well-being as has been enjoyed by successive generations of Americans?"

"What other government has offered to its poorest boys such opportunities to rise to the height of their capacity as are illustrated by the careers of Lincoln and Edison?"

"What other government has accorded to all its citizens—to the least as well as to the greatest—the political power guaranteed under our American Constitution?"

And finally:

"How many of these advantages are offered to the average man by the modern European forms of government—with all their planned economy, their regimentation and their strong central authorities dictating to every citizen how he shall labor, how he shall live, how he shall think?"

When—and only when—the critics can answer these questions to our satisfaction should we take their proposals seriously.

When—and only when—they can prove that the men who work and earn are better off in other lands than in our own, should we consider scrapping our constitutional guaranties for their un-American theories and projects.

Our heritage of freedom and opportunity is far too precious to swap for a mess of foreign pottage.

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches and Societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 13th.

The golden text is: "The prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him." (James 5:15).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then was brought unto him one possessed with a devil, blind, and dumb; and he healed him, insomuch that the blind and dumb both spake and saw." (Matt. 12:22).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text book: "The humble Nazarene overthrew the supposition that sin, sickness, and death have power. He proved them powerless."

Pot Luck Is Good Luck For You

You are in luck when you "take pot luck" if it really deserves the name! For oven cooking is good cooking and a baking-pot is the housewife's good, 'though homely, friend.

When autumn leaves are falling down a hot baked dish is exactly for what your mouth has been watering. Something good in the pot—or call it a casserole, baking-dish or ramekin if you prefer—makes it possible to have a one-piece meal (which saves on dish-washing) and enables the thrifty to use up leftovers with skill and imagination.

Oven-cooking is really a combination of roasting and stewing, and as every cook knows, this long slow type of cooking tends to bring out flavor and improve tenderness. Of course you may "bake" on top the stove nowadays, with the new equipment, but the results are the same delicious ones.

Potfalls of Goodness From good southern cooks we get two tips on oven main-course dishes. They advise that care should be taken to keep casserole contents moist and savory, and suggest a little bacon or oil be added during cooking if contents look dry. They also recommend that rice be used as the "binder" for meat or vegetables in casserole dishes, because it gives body to the dish but being bland, does not inject a flavor of its own. Keep a bowl of cooked rice on hand, and watch it make a little into a lot!

From New England (land of the bean pot) comes another tip: to keep contents of a baking dish from sticking, brush the sides and rim with a pastry brush or soft cloth dipped in grease; drip a little to top, when you want to keep the "middle" moist. And now for some new good things to go into your favorite pot!

Sausage Surprise 3 cups boiled rice 1 sweet pepper 1 small onion 1 lb. tiny sausages 1 cup milk Butter

Remove the seeds from the pepper, chop and parboil. Add pepper and onion, chopped fine, to the rice. Mix thoroughly and put a layer in a buttered baking dish. Add a layer of the sausages (which have been partially cooked) and cover with rice. Pour milk over it all and dot with butter. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350°F.) for 1/2 hour, then uncover and bake 1/2 hour longer. Eight servings.

Rice-Vegetable Casserole 2 cups cooked rice 1 cup peas 1 cup corn 2 strips bacon 1 1/2 cups milk 1/4 teasp. pepper 1 teasp. salt

Place in layers in greased baking dish; when casserole is filled, add milk. Place bacon strips on top and bake in moderate oven (350°F.).

Ham and Apple Pot 1 cup cooked ham, sliced thin 2 cups thin-sliced apple 1 1/2 cups soft bread crumbs 1 cup water 1 cup dark karo 1 tsp. vinegar 2 tbsps. butter Salt, pepper, mustard to taste

Arrange the ham, apples and bread crumbs in alternate layers in an oiled baking dish. Mix together remaining ingredients in a saucepan, bring to a boil and pour over mixture in making dish. Bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) for about 45 minutes.

Fancy Baked Apples 1 1/2 cups sugar 1/4 cup water 6 apples 1 or 2 bananas 1 tsp. butter 6 marshmallows

Make a syrup by boiling the sugar and water together three minutes. Core apples wide enough to hold banana slices and pare tops of apples. Fill cavities with thinly sliced bananas and arrange in a baking dish. Pour the syrup over them and bake about half an hour until tender, in moderate hot oven (375°F.). When done, dot each apple with a little butter and baste well with remaining syrup; then place a marshmallow on each and put back into the oven to brown.

Baked Date Delicious 4 tbsps. butter 5 tbsps. flour 1/4 teasp. salt 1 cup milk

3 eggs 1/3 cup sugar 1 tbsp. lemon juice 1/2 pkg. pasteurized dates, sliced Melt the butter, add the flour and salt. Mix thoroughly. Add the milk slowly, stirring while adding. Cook until smooth and thick stirring constantly. Cool. Then add the beaten egg yolks, sugar, lemon juice, and dates. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a well greased baking dish. Place the dish, uncovered, in a pan which contains about one inch of hot water. Bake for one hour in a moderate oven (325°F.). Serve warm with cream. Six to eight servings.

Outplayed and outweighed by a heavier, more experienced football squad, the Artesia high school eleven failed to turn back the invading Tularosa team Friday and took a 20 to 0 drubbing as result. The Bulldogs started as aerial attack in the fourth quarter and made a touchdown via the aerial route, but were called back after the last play was ruled out. Had the lighter Bulldogs started the fireworks sooner the results might have been different.

The Tularosa squad outweighed the local team an average of about ten pounds per man. It was the weight and experience of the visiting team that enabled them to gain the advantage in straight football and score a touchdown in the second quarter and two touchdowns with the extra points in the third quarter for the only scoring of the game. D. Haines was the outstanding star for the locals.

Officials: H. Deaton, Roswell, referee; Jas. Allen, umpire; Ogle, head linesman.

Saturday morning the Bulldogs will meet the Institute Colts at Roswell and remain to witness a game between the Institute regulars and a visiting team in the afternoon.

Cultivate and Care For Your Orchard During the Winter

Irrigation and cultivation of the orchard should not be neglected during the winter, according to A. B. Fite, of the New Mexico State College. In late fall and winter there is a tendency to forget the orchard, thinking it has become dormant and needs no further attention until spring.

However, a close study of the trees will show that they are not entirely dormant, that a certain amount of transpiration and growth continue thru the winter and, if the soil becomes dry, the trees are sure to suffer.

In practically all parts of the state fruit trees should be given one or two winter irrigations. In many instances the supply of water in summer is limited and trees suffer from drought, resulting in stunted trees and undersized fruit. Many orchardists are overcoming this difficulty by soaking their orchards thoroughly during the winter and spring while there is plenty of water. They will retain the water until well into the summer, reducing water requirements during the summer.

Summer cultivation of the orchard is confined largely to discing, as plowing, when the trees are growing actively would cut many of the small feeding roots and check the growth of the tree. However, if the orchard is never plowed, the soil gradually runs together and becomes so hard that it takes up and retains moisture very poorly. Aeration is limited, soil bacteria do not function properly and the soil soon becomes deficient in available plant food. Early winter plowing avoids these difficulties, besides turning under much organic matter in the form of leaves, grass, weeds, and the cover crops which have been found so important in the maintenance of profitable orchards.

Big Attendance At Roswell Fair

Attendance at the fair grounds during the four days of the Eastern New Mexico State Fair at Roswell was estimated at over 60,000.

The attendance on the last day of the fair, Saturday, and Saturday night, was estimated at over 20,000, breaking all records for a single day's attendance at any fair ever held here.

There were 16,205 paid admissions to the fair grounds during the four days of the fair, as compared with 15,721 paid admissions last year.

Admission is not charged until after 5 p. m., and checks have revealed that the total attendance during the day and evening is at least four times the number of paid admissions.

The crowd at the fair grounds Saturday night was immense—the largest number of people ever on the grounds at the same time.

The White House Has An Electric Kitchen

With the installation of electrical cooking equipment in the kitchen of the White House at Washington, the final stamp of approval upon the electric range and other appliances has been placed for economical food preparation, in the opinion of many home economists.

The decision to install electrical equipment, it was stated, was made only after opinions from leading authorities were obtained that the electric range is efficient, clean, economical and modern, in the same sense that the electric vacuum cleaner, refrigerator, iron and other appliances are modern, efficient and economical.

Continually, electricity is becoming more and more a time and labor saving service for the modern home.

DEATH ENDS LAST MAN'S CLUB AS C. M. LOCKWOOD PASSES AT AGE OF 93

MINNEAPOLIS—A memory was all that was left Saturday of the Last Man's club of Company B, First Minnesota Volunteer Infantry, with the death of Capt. Chas. M. Lockwood, 93, of Chamberlain, South Dakota.

Capt. Lockwood was the last surviving member of the famous Civil War organization. He died late Friday night at the Minnesota Soldier's Home Hospital, where he had spent the last three winters.

One of the first to answer the call to war in 1860, Lockwood with thirty-four other veterans of the war former a club in Stillwater, Minnesota, July 21, 1885, anniversary of the battle of Bull Run.

At the first reunion a bottle of wine was set aside to be opened by the last surviving member. He was to drink a toast to his dead comrades and formally dissolve the "Last Man's Club."

On July 21, 1930, Capt. Lockwood carried out that ceremony at the old Sawyer house in Stillwater, scene of the first meeting. Thirty-four chairs, all but one draped in black, were placed around the reunion table.

Lockwood took one sip of the wine—long since turned to vinegar—and recited a toast to his departed comrades.

He was born at Prairie du Chien, Wisconsin, August 16, 1842, and enlisted when he was eighteen.

Eddy Rural School Enrollment For September Shows Gain of 228 Pupils

Health Column

Conducted by Dr. J. R. Earp, Director, New Mexico Bureau of Public Health.

The Unknown Servant

Some of the most important work done in the health department is routine and not at all dramatic. It is not "news." If it is being done properly nobody knows. If it is neglected still no one may know for months or even for years until a sudden epidemic takes the headlines. In this class of work is the supervision of water supply and milk supply and the supervision of the disposal of human waste. These are the most basic of the duties of the health officer for which he gets least credit when he does them well and most blame when some accident occurs.

The health officer must keep himself informed of the new methods of preventing disease, he must learn and perfect himself in the new techniques of vaccination and inoculation and the new skin tests of immunity. He must know about every case of contagious disease in his community and what are the appropriate steps in each disease and under each set of circumstances to limit the contagion. He must be a specialist not only in the science of controlling contagion but also in the law. And he must understand the system by which the United States Public Health Service in Washington receives accurate and rapid reports of the presence of each contagious disease from every part of the country.

If there are mosquitoes in his district the health officer must know which variety they belong to and how rapidly they are breeding in each breeding place. He must see that every birth and every death is properly registered. If no doctor has been present at death it becomes the responsibility of the health officer to certify that death was not due to malice or neglect.

No good health officer is content merely to build barriers against infectious disease; he wants to carry the war into the enemy's camp. No doubt your health officer has plans for health promotion in the schools and in the homes. Would anyone like to lend him a hand?

EXEMPTIONS ANNOUNCED

WASHINGTON — The public works administration announced Friday that Harry L. Hopkins had exempted its $330,000,000 non-federal program from the requirement that ninety per cent of its labor be taken from relief rolls.

The order followed Hopkins' earlier decision that employees on the $100,000,000 PWA slum clearance program also need not come from relief lists.

Simultaneously, PWA make public an order by Secretary Ickes extending local option on PWA project wages to those financed from the old appropriation on which contracts are let after October 9th.

Officials said contractors had requested modification of the 90 per cent relief rule because they contended there was not a sufficient supply of skilled workmen on relief.

Local Chamber Can Be Of Service

Mr. Walter C. Martin, Editor, Artesia Advocate, Artesia.

Dear Mr. Martin: My attention has been called to your editorial in last week's issue of THE ADVOCATE entitled "Worthy Donations."

The impression seems to prevail in the minds of some that in this editorial you were censuring the Chamber of Commerce for not functioning to the benefit of the merchants which make possible a Chamber of Commerce in Artesia. I personally do not believe that this is what you had in mind but to correct this impression I want to set forth some facts.

First: The Chamber of Commerce on several occasions, thru the medium of the Artesia Advocate, has urgently asked all merchants and citizens to refrain from making any donation to any organization UNLESS THAT ORGANIZATION HAD THE WRITTEN APPROVAL OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Second: The manager of the Chamber of Commerce has gone to the industrial merchants and asked them as a kindness to themselves and other merchants to refuse to donate to unapproved organizations.

I do not see how our local Chamber could cooperate with the merchants to a greater extent than this. If there is anything more that we can do we will be glad to learn of it and will be happy to act accordingly.

I am sure Mr. Martin that you did not in this editorial intend any "dig" to the chamber for to my certain knowledge The Advocate has within the recent past contributed to movements that they knew did not have the approval of the Chamber of Commerce.

If this editorial and this letter will help win the cooperation of the merchants in this matter it will not be in vain. No merchant is excusable for contributing to any movement or subscribe to any donation for an outside organization until he sees that this object has the written approval of the Chamber of Commerce. If they would all do this the merchants would be saved many thousands of dollars and be better able to support our own local worthy institutions.

Sincerely yours, W. B. McCrory, Manager.

Editor's note: The editorial was an attempt to point the way for business men to save money and thus have more to spend for local advertising. However, the misinterpretation on the part of the Chamber of Commerce officials was probably due to poor vision. The CC president often reads by looking over his glasses and has the Scotch impression if he does not look thru his glasses they will last longer. And the manager ought not to try to read ten point type at a distance in excess of 36 inches. Consult your optician, boys!

YOUR CAR'S COLD TOO . . . SO MAKE SURE YOUR ENGINE stays oiled

And please don't think you are going to read this same sort of thing about a "whole raft" of winter oils.

The clean-cut difference in favor of Conoco Germ Processed Oil is this: when the thermometer goes down there is a Hidden Quart of Conoco that doesn't. It can't. It stays and stays—becomes a lasting part of every surface in your engine.

The Germ Process . . . fully patented . . . makes this alloyed oil blend with metal remarkably, forming your Hidden Quart. Then no matter how long your car is parked or garaged in the coldest cold, you come out to a well-oiled start . . . not merely because fine paraffin-base Conoco Germ Processed Oil is free-flowing, but because the Hidden Quart is up on guard before any oil could even begin to flow.

Gone are the warm-ups that chew up your engine. Nor need you fear highest speeds, or hardest winter pulls. That's when Germ Processed Oil puts its high-durability film between you and repair men. It's not only light-bodied enough for winter, but tougher, too.

AND . . . road tests of cars with conventional babbitt bearings, and with the new copper-lead, high-lead, and cadmium-alloy bearings, prove Germ Processed Oil far better than plain mineral oils for all bearings!

Whether you're driving a '35 model or a "veteran," drive it in today for your Conoco man's winter help. Continental Oil Company, Established 1875.

STORY OF LAS PLACITAS

THEY were sitting on their heels in the shade of a corral fence, these two southwesterners, one day in the spring of 1880. It was at a place not far from Santa Fe, that center of romance and excitement for the whole western country. As they talked about things old and new, never dreaming what madness was in store for them, old Jesse Martin came riding up, all steamed up over something.

"Look at this, boys," he said, fairly stuttering. "I've got the richest thing on top of this here earth."
"This" was a handful of ore—ore so rich that the two friends caught the contagion and grew as excited as Martin.
"Where'd you get it, Jess?" they asked, eagerly.
"I ain't a-goin' to tell you," was the answer. "Not now, boys. I ain't. I got a partner in Santa Fe, and I'm goin' to tell him first. Then when we get everything filed, I'll tell you in on it."

All the pleading they could do would not move Martin from this decision. He rode off finally toward Santa Fe with his ore and his news, leaving them to wonder where in the world he had found such a bonanza. Had he run across the Adams diggings, or the Hatchet mine? Pahaw, those places were too far south for Martin to find. This must be something a lot nearer home.

Nearer home—why, perhaps they could ask some questions of the Mexicans and Indians thereabouts, and find out where old Martin had been. That was the idea! Hastily they caught up their horses and rode forth, and began to take up Martin's trail. They finally came to a claim, all regularly staked. In the prospect hole was ore—ore like that he had showed them—very rich ore.

The two men were greatly pleased with their forethought in tracing down the location. With businesslike promptness, they staked their claims alongside Martin's. From these new mines-in-the-making they gathered a few samples, and then they raced back to the assayer.

The assayer grew excited with them. Hastily he prepared for the business of extracting gold, as they watched the process with eager eyes. At last—

Local Ginnings

Cotton gathering operations were checked again this week after getting underway for a slow start. Scattering showers have stopped pickers over practically all of the district. Up to yesterday morning 564 bales had been ginned by the five gins of the district as against 5,469 bales for the corresponding period of last year. Ginner reports both the grade and staple of the cotton improved during the week.

for the past two years. Feed is available in the usual feeding areas and prospects in the winter wheat section north of Clovis are good for wheat pasture. Lack of feed last year prevented the usual number of lambs to be fed out. The condition of sheep and lambs is reported at 90 percent of normal compared with 88 percent last month and 88.3 percent for the 10-year average.

Dougle Downs has returned home from the Santa Fe hospital at Clovis where he has been seriously ill.

In the bottom of the crucible lay a button of something. Now for the acid test—would it prove to be gold? With trembling hands the assayer poured in the acid—and the button was not cut! Eureka! They were worth fortunes!

They rushed back to their claims. The news had already spread, in that strange manner with which the word of new-found gold always has spread, and men were coming in to stake claims as near to theirs as possible.

Then came a crowd from Santa Fe. At its head were Jesse Martin and—Governor Lew Wallace! So that was the partner! The news ran ahead of them—Jesse's samples had assayed $75 to $100 to the ton. Everyone laughed with glee—everyone cheered.

In three days Las Placitas accumulated a population of 10,000 souls. Everyone was gold-crazy—the golden phantom had led them to fortune and they had left their wits behind when they set out to follow her. And yet—

Some of the more sober souls began to quiet down. It was time to make more assays, to see just how far the gold spread out, to learn just how rich it would run.

The assays were made. They showed no value at all.
The shock was tremendous. Men at first refused to believe it. They argued angrily that there was some mistake. They knew they had found gold. The assayer must be a fool, not to know his business. He could not find gold when it was right under his nose.

Then someone thought of looking for Jesse Martin. He had "the richest thing on top of this here earth," did he? Well, he'd better explain himself.

But Martin had vanished from sight—and with him disappeared about $4,000 in real money—money that he had obtained from Lew Wallace and other prominent men of Santa Fe. He had "lit out" for parts unknown as soon as the rust set in. He was too keen an odd-coder to risk discovery and retribution.

But the mine—that was still there, and the rich ore had most certainly come from his claim! It had—but not originally. Martin had salted the hole with high-grade from another mine.

And the assay—the outton of gold which acid would not cut! It was merely a crystallization, and no gold at all.

Ten days later Las Placitas again became a desolate spot in the hills. Only thousands of tin snappers and glittered in the New Mexican sun—just as shining a had been the hopes of the ten thousand, just as worthless as the claims they staked.

Ranges Show Improvement In All Districts of the State

RANGES: There was an improvement in ranges in all districts of the state during September. Fall rains were received in all localities improving soil moisture on ranges. There was an improvement of grass on fall and winter ranges and prospects of range feed for the coming winter are the best in two or three years. Some localities in southwestern counties that have been dry all summer have received sufficient rainfall to insure development of grass for fall and winter grazing. There has been an improvement in the ranges in dry sections of eastern counties during the past month. Grass in parts of these counties will be short for late fall and winter grazing. There is an ample supply of stock water in all localities. Recent rains have improved the supply of water in wells, streams and water holes. The supply of hay and grain feeds from this year's crop will be ample to carry livestock through the coming winter if normal in temperatures and storms without the necessity of importations. There was practically no carryover of livestock feed this spring, the smallest in years. The condition of ranges is reported at 86 percent of normal compared to 82 percent last month and 84.1 percent for the 10-year average.

CATTLE & CALVES: There has been a general improvement in the condition of all classes of cattle during September. Improved range conditions have aided materially in increasing weights of cattle that will be shipped during the next sixty days. The usual fall shipment of cattle has only been started in a few sections, but will be general over the state in another week or two. Movement of cattle this fall will be small because of the very small calf crop and will be much smaller than shipments in normal years. Cattle movement during 1934 was exceptionally large due to purchases of cattle by the government on account of the drought. There is a general tendency to sell only a small number of cows and retain all heifer calves where financial conditions permit. Steers and steer calves will be sold rather close. With prices higher than for several months there may be some instances where stockmen will sell rather close to meet financial obligations, thereby making it difficult to maintain present numbers. The condition of cattle is reported at 88 percent of normal compared with 85 percent last month and 88.4 percent for the 10-year average.

SHEEP & LAMBS: Sheep have maintained the same good condition that was reported last month and are now a little above the average condition for the past ten years. Ewes are generally strong and in good flesh to enter winter. Losses have been only nominal. Lambs are gaining weight and will be moved at possible a little above normal weights. Most lambs have been contracted for fall delivery. Shipments of most lambs will be made during October and November, the normal shipping time. There is very little demand for old ewes, but the tendency is to sell as many as possible of the older ewes. There is a fair demand for young ewes but sheepmen will be reluctant to dispose of these. A larger than usual percentage of ewe lambs will be held for replacement to maintain numbers and also to increase holdings where finances permit. There will be a much larger number of lambs put on feed for winter markets than
